CHAPTER I—FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION

[Docket No. 75-GL-12 Amdt. 39-2309]

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Bellanca Models 7 and 8 Series

Amendment 39-2173, 40 F.R. 17138, AD 75-09-02, as amended by Amendment 39-2243, and Amendment 39-2261, requires installation of Bellanca Service Kit #251 on the Bellanca Models 7ECA, 7GCAA, 7GCBC, 7KCAB, and 8KCAB airplanes. Amendment 39-2261 relieved a restriction due to adverse service experience with the replacement carburetor alternate air valve required by Amendment 39-2173. Further investigation into the sources of fatigue associated with the alternate air valve furnished with Bellanca Service Kit #248 has resulted in satisfactory resolution of the problem. Therefore, the AD is being superseded by a new AD that requires installation of Bellanca Kit #248A on those airplanes exempted by Amendment 39-2261.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (31 F.R. 13967), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directives:

BELLANCA. Applies to the Bellanca models 7ECA, 7GCAA, 7GCBC, 7KCAB, 8KCAB, and 8GCBC airplanes as set forth below.

Compliance required as indicated, unless previously accomplished. A special flight permit pursuant to FAR 21.197 may be issued to allow ferrying of the aircraft to a facility where the required mainteance can be performed.

To prevent possible engine power loss due to fatigue failure of the carburetor alternate air valves, accomplish the following:

(A) Within the next 10 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD on Models 7ECA (S/N 985-74 thru 1106-75), 7GCAA (S/N 280-74 thru 319-75), 7GCBC (S/N 604-74 thru 859-75), 7KCAB (S/N 405-74 thru 532-75), 8KCAB (S/N 120-74 thru 204-75), 8GCBC (S/N 1-74 thru 181-75), install Bellanca Service Kit No. 248A. Bellanca Service Letter No. 118A pertains to this subject.

(B) Within the next 10 hours time in service after June 25, 1975, on the Models 7ECA (S/N 723-70 thru 964-73), 7GCAA (S/N 205-70 thru 279-73), 7GCBC (S/N 202-70 thru 603-73), 7KCAB (S/N 209-70 thru 404-73), 8KCAB (S/N 4-71 thru 119-73), install Bellanca Service Kit No. 251. Bellanca Service Letter No. 120 applies to this subject.

(C) At each annual, progressive, or 100-hour inspection as required by Federal Aviation Regulation 91.169, on the Models covered by paragraphs A and B and all subsequent serials of those same models, inspect the alternate air valve for cracks. If any cracks are noted, replace the alternate air valve by installing Bellanca Service Kit 251 on Models 7ECA (S/N 723-70 thru 964-73), 7GCAA (S/N 205-70 thru 279-73), 7GCBC (S/N 202-70 thru 603-73) 7ECAB (S/N 209-70 thru 404-73), 8KCAB (S/N 4-71 thru 119-73); Bellanca Service Kit #248A on Models 7ECA (S/N 965-74 and up), 7GCAA (S/N 280-74 and up), 7GCBC (604-74 and up), 7KCAB (405-74 and up), 8KCAB (S/N 120-74 and up), 8GCBC (S/N 1-74 and up).

Any equivalent method of compliance with this AD must be approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, Great Lakes Region, 2300 E. Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois, 60018.

This Amendment supersedes Amendment 39-2173, 40 F. R. 17138, AD 75-09-02 as amended by Amendment 39-2243, and Amendment 39-2261.

This amendment becomes effective August 12, 1975.

(Sections 313(a), 601 and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).)

Issued in Des Plaines, Illinois on July 29, 1975.

Dehavilland DH-114 Series Airplanes

There has been a propeller failure which resulted in separation of a blade on a DeHavilland DH-114 airplane, modified in accordance with STC SA1685WE, that caused extensive aircraft damage. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes modified in accordance with the above STC, an airworthiness directive is being issued to require inspection and replacement, if necessary, of the counterweight dampers on the Teledyne Continental IO-520-E engines installed on DH-114 airplanes, as modified above.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (31 F. R. 13697), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

DEHAVILLAND DH-114. Applies to all DeHavilland model DH-114 airplanes modified in accordance with supplemental type certificate (STC) SA1685WE.

Compliance required within the next 200 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished within the last 1500 hours' time in service, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 1500 hours' time in service from the last inspection.

To prevent excessive wear of the counterweight bushings and subsequent ineffectiveness of the counterweight function, accomplish the following:

Inspect and replace, if required, crankshaft counterweight pins and bushings in accordance with Teledyne Continental Overhaul Manual X-30030 or an equivalent procedure approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, ASO-210, P.O. Box 20636, Atlanta, Georgia 30320.

This amendment becomes effective August 8, 1975.

(Sections 313(a), 601 and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)))

Issued in East Point, Georgia on July 25, 1975.

LET N.P. Blanik 13 Gliders

There has been cracking of the fin rib carrying the upper rudder hinge mount on Blanik 13 gliders that could result in loss of rudder control. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other gliders of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued to require repetitive inspections, repair and replacement of fin top rib on Blanik 13 gliders.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.-89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

LET N.P. Applies to Blanik 13 gliders, certificated in all categories, serial numbers 174230 and below.

Compliance is required as indicated.

To prevent structural failure of the fin top rib, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 10 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished within the last 90 hours' time in service, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 100 hours' time in service from the last inspection, visually inspect the fin top rib and central stiffener (fuselage stiffener) with a 5 power magnifying glass in accordance with the accomplishment instructions set forth in paragraph A of LET N.P UH HRADITSTE-KUNOVICE Mandatory Service Bulletin No. L 13/040, undated, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(b) If cracks are found in the fin top rib of less than 5 mm in length, or of any length in the central stiffener, before further flight, either—

(1) Repair the fin top rib or central stiffener as necessary, in accordance with the accomplishment instructions set forth in paragraph B of LET N.P. Mandatory Service Bulletin No. L 13/040, undated, or an FAA-approved equivalent; or

(2) Comply with paragraph (e) of this AD.

(c) If any cracks are found in the fin top rib which exceed 5 mm in length, before further flight comply with paragraph (e) of this AD.

(d) If no cracks are found, within the next 200 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, comply with paragraph (e) of this AD.

(e) Replace both the fin top rib and central stiffener in accordance with the accomplishment instructions set forth in paragraphs C and D of LET N.P. Mandatory Service Bulletin No. L 13/040, undated, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(f) The inspections required by paragraph (a) of this AD may be discontinued when the fin top rib and central stiffener have been replaced in accordance with paragraph (e) of this AD.

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C. on July 30, 1975.

Messerschmitt-Bolkow-Blohm (MBB) Model BO-105 Helicopters

There have been incidents in service of incipient cracks, corrosion, and excessive wear of certain bolts of MBB Model BO-105 main rotor heads that could jeopardize safe operation. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other helicopters of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires replacement of the affected bolts with new bolts of improved design.

Since this situation requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable, and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

MESSERSCHMITT-BOLKOW-BLOHM. Applies to Messerschmitt-Bolkow-Blohm (MBB) models BO-105A and BO-105C helicopters, certificated in all categories, incorporating main rotor head assembly No. 105-14101.

Compliance is required within the next 100 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished in accordance with MBB BO-105 Alert Service Bulletin No. 4 and Service Bulletin No. 10-11.

To prevent development of incipient cracks, corrosion, and excessive wear on bolts of the main rotor head, accomplish the following:

(a) For all Main Rotor Head Assemblies, P/N 105-14101, determines part number of Blade Mounting Bolts. If bolt P/N 105-14101.31 is found, replace with serviceable bolt of P/N 105-14101.29.

(b) For Main Rotor Head Assemblies 105-14101 having Serial Number 50 or lower, determine part number revision letter of Main Rotor Bolts P/N 105-14101.22 and .23. If any bolt with revision letter "a" through "f" is found, replace with serviceable bolt of the same part number having revision letter "g" or subsequent.

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Scheibe Bergfalke II/55 and III Gliders

The design of the elevator control connection safety pin (Fokker needle) permits the connection to open and the pin to fall out during elevator control operation on Scheibe Bergfalke II/55 and III gliders which would result in loss of elevator control. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other gliders of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires replacement of the Fokker needle with a washer and cotter pin on Scheibe Bergfalke II/55 and III gliders.

Since this situation requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR 11.89) § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness direotive:

SCHEIBE FLUGZEUGBAU GMBH. Applies to Bergfalke II/55 and III gliders, certificated in all categories, equipped with loose connecting bolt between the elevator push-pull rod and elevator control level.

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To ensure a reliable elevator control connection, within the next 10 hours' times in service after the effective date of this AD, replace the safety pin (Fokker needle) with an aviation quality washer and cotter pin in accordance with the accomplishment instructions of Scheibe Flugzeugbau GmbH Service Bulletin 71-87, dated September 21, 1971, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

SIAI Marchetti S. 205 and S. 208 Airplanes

There have been cracks of the left and right internal wing rib brackets, located in the area of rib No. 2 due to interference with the connecting bolt washers on SIAI Marchetti S. 205 and S. 208 airplanes that could result in failure of the landing gear to function properly. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued to require periodic inspection and replacement of the brackets if necessary, and replacement of washers, with countersunk washers, of new design on SIAI Marchetti S. 205 and S. 208 airplanes.

Since this situation requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SIAI MARCHETTI. Applies to S.205 (all models), serial numbers 001 through 003; 101 though 399; 4-101 through 4-282; 4-285; 4-292, 5-302, 5-303, and 5-406 certificated in all categories, and S.208 airplanes, serial numbers 001 through 003; 1-03 through 1-15; 2-16 through 2-25; 2-47 through 2-50; 4-51; 4-60; 4-62; 369; 3-100; 4-281; 4-233; 4-256; 4-257, and 4-258 certificated in all categories.

Compliance is required as indicated. To detect cracks which could result in the possible failure of the landing gear operating mechanism, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 25 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished within the last 75 hours time in service, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 100 hours time in service from the last inspection, inspect the internal wing rib brackets, P/Ns 205-3-033-18 and 205-3-034-18 for cracks in accordance with Instructions paragraph (a) of SIAI Marchetti Service Bulletin S.B. No. 205B37B, dated August 24, 1974, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(b) If cracks are found during an inspection required by paragraph (a) of this AD that are in excess of 10 mm (0.394 inch) in length, before further flight comply with the following:

(1) Replace the affected brackets with new brackets of the same part number.

(2) Unless already accomplished replace the associated washers, P/N AN960-516L, with new design countersunk washers, P/N 205-3-053-18 in accordance with Instructions paragraph (b) of SIAI Marchetti Service Bulletin S.B. No. 205373B, dated August 24, 1974, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(c) Following the work specified in paragraph (b) of this AD continue to inspect in accordance with paragraph (a) of this AD.

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C. on July 30, 1975.

SIAI Marchetti S. 205 and S. 208 Airplanes

Cracks have been found in the landing gear actuator bracket on SIAI Marchetti S. 205 and S. 208 airplanes, that could lead to structural failure of the bracket and malfunction of the landing gear. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires periodic inspections of landing gear actuator brackets for cracks and installation of bracket reinforcements on SIAI Marchetti S.205 and S.208 airplanes.

Since this situation requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.89), § 39.13 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SIAI MARCHETTI. Applies to model S.205-18/R, -20/R, and -22/R airplanes, serial numbers 001 through 003, 101 through 399, 4-101 through 4-282, 4-285, 4-292, 5-302, 5-303, and 5-406, certificated in all categories, and model S.208 airplanes, serial numbers 001 through 003, 1-03 through 1-15, 2-16 through 2-27, 2-47 through 2-50, 4-51, 4-60, 4-62, 369, 3-100, 4-231, 4-233, 4-256, 4-257, 4-258, certificated in all categories.

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To detect cracks in the landing gear actuator brackets and prevent bracket failure, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 10 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished within the last 90 hours' time in service, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 100 hours' time in service from the last inspection, until modified in accordance with paragraph (d) of this AD, visually inspect the landing gear actuator bracket P/N 205-6-209-03 installed on the rear side of the No. 5 frame for cracks, in accordance with Instruction a) of the SIAI Marchetti Service Bulletin No. 205B39, dated September 19, 1973, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(b) If cracks are found, before further flight, comply with paragraph (d) of this AD.

(c) If no cracks are found, within 300 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, comply with paragraph (d) of this AD.

(d) Install landing gear actuator bracket reinforcements, P/Ns U. T. 5270-11 and -13, to inside of the landing gear actuator bracket P/N 205-6-209-03 in accordance with Instruction b) of the SIAI Marchetti Service Bulletin No. 205B39, dated September 19, 1973, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale Model SA-341G "Gazelle" Helicopter

Instances have been reported of the swashplate upper bearing of certain Aerospatiale SA-341G helicopters rotating in its housing and thereby jeopardizing safe operation. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other helicopters of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires inspection of the bearing for evidence of rotation, and incorporation of additional measures to prevent rotation.

Since this situation requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable, and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603, of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SOCIETE NATIONALE INDUSTRIELLE AEROSPATIALE. Applies to model SA-341G "Gazelle" helicopters, certificated in all categories, with main rotor shaft P/N 341A.31.0001, dot number .05 and lower, in which Aerospatiale modification No. AMS 07.6072 has not been incorporated.

Compliance is required within the next 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished in accordance with Gazelle Service Bulletin No. 05.04.

To prevent possible rotation of the main rotor head swashplate upper bearing, accomplish the following:

(a) Inspect the spigot on upper bearing stop P/N 341A.31.4236.20 for evidence of rotation of the upper bearing in accordance with subparagraph 1C(1) of Gazelle Service Bulletin No. 05.04, dated March 9, 1973, or an equivalent approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, FAA, Europe, Africa, and Middle East Region, c/o American Embassy, APO New York 09667.

(b) If evidence of upper bearing rotation is found, remove the main rotor shaft P/N 341A.31.0001 and replace with a serviceable part of the same part number upon which Aerospatiale Modification No. AMS 07.6072 has been incorporated.

(c) If no evidence of upper bearing rotation is found, install a second upper bearing stop P/N 341A.31.4236.20 in accordance with subparagraph 1C(2) of Gazelle Service Bulletin No. 05.04, dated March 9, 1973, or an equivalent approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, FAA, Europe, Africa, and Middle East Region, c/o American Embassy, APO New York 09667.

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale Model SA-341G "Gazelle" Helicopter

It has been determined that full application of the tail rotor control under certain flight conditions causes excessive torque loading of the engine and thereby jeopardizes safe operation. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other helicopters of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires replacement of the tail rotor servo-control jack with a new jack that will reduce the operating pitch range and power requirement of the tail rotor.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable, and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SOCIETE NATIONALE INDUSTRIELLE AEROSPATIALE. Applies to Model SA-341G "Gazelle" helicopters, certificated in all categories, serial numbers 1031 and lower, incorporating tail rotor servo pack P/N 67.370.004.00 or P/N 67.370.006.00.

Compliance is required within the next 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished in accordance with Gazelle Service Bulletin No. 67.01, dated March 9, 1973.

To prevent over-torquing of engine by application of tail rotor control, replace tail rotor servo jack P/N 67.370.004.00 or P/N 67.370.006.00, with tail rotor servo jack P/N 67.370.008.00.

This amendment becomes effective on August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale "Alouette" Helicopters

It has been determined that inadequate supply of fluid to hydraulic dampers of the main rotor of Aerospatiale (formerly Sud Aviation) helicopter Models Alouette II, Alouette-Astazou, and Alouette III, may result in severe vibration or ground resonance which jeopardizes safety of operation. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other helicopters of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued which requires replacement of the hydraulic damper valve assembly with a valve assembly of new design, and which restricts altitude operation of certain helicopter models in the interim period prior to accomplishment of the required change.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

This amendment is made under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR § 11.89), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulation is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SOCIETE NATIONALE INDUSTRIELLE AEROSPATIALE. Applies to Alouette helicopters SE-3130, SE-313B, SA-315B, SE-3160, SA-316B, SA-36C, SA-3180, SA-318B, SA-318C, and SA-319B equipped with main rotor hydraulic dampers P/N 3130S.13.60.000.

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To prevent excessive vibration or ground resonance, accomplish the following:

(a) Prior to September 30, 1975 modify and reidentify main rotor hydraulic dampers P/N 3130S.13.60.000 in accordance with subparagraphs 2B(1), 2B(2), and 2(c) of Lama Service Bulletin No. 65.20 dated July 4, 1975, for Model SA-315B and Alouette Service Bulletin No. 65.107 dated July 4, 1975, for the other designated models, or equivalents approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, FAA, Europe, Africa, and Middle East Region, c/o American Embassy, APO New York, N.Y. 09667.

(b) Prior to further flight, for Models SA-3160, SA-316B, SA-316C, and SA-319B, install temporary placard on instrument panel, in full view of the pilot, reading as follows: "DO NOT CHANGE ALTITUDE MORE THAN 6600 FEET DURING ANY ONE FLIGHT." Temporary placard may be removed upon accomplishment of paragraph (a) of this AD. (Alouette Service Bulletin No. 01.39 also referts to paragaph (b) of this AD).

This amendment becomes effective August 20, 1975.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Control Zone

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to alter the Shreveport, La. (Downtown Airport), control zone.

The present Shreveport, La. (Downtown Airport), control zone description specifies, in part, that the control zone is effective from 0600 to 2200 hours, local time, daily. Since the Shreveport Flight Service Station has been moved to the Downtown Airport and provides weather on a 24-hour basis, the reference to specific hours of operation is unnecessary.

As this amendment poses no additional burden on any airspace user, notice and public procedures are unnecessary.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended effective August 6, 1975.

In Section 71.171 (40 F.R. 354), the Shreveport, La. (Downtown Airport), control zone is amended by deleting "This control zone is effective from 0600 to 2200 hours, local time, daily."

Title 24—Housing and Urban Development

CHAPTER X—FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

[Docket No. FI-645]

PART 1914—AREAS ELIGIBLE FOR THE SALE OF INSURANCE

Status of Participating Communities

● Purpose. The purpose of this notice is to list those communities wherein the sale of flood insurance is authorized under the National Flood Insurance Program (42 U.S.C. 4001–4128). ●

Insurance policies can be obtained from any licensed property insurance agent or broker serving the eligible community, or from the National Flood Insurers Association servicing company for the state (addresses are published at 39 FR 26186–93). A list of servicing companies is also available from the Federal Insurance Administration (FIA), HUD, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410.

The Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 requires the purchase of flood insurance as a condition of receiving any form of Federal or Federally related financial assistance for acquisition or construction purposes in a flood plain area having special hazards within any community identified by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

The requirement applies to all identified special flood hazard areas within the United States, and no such financial assistance can legally be provided for acquisition or construction in these areas unless the community has entered the program. Accordingly, for communities listed under this Part no such restriction exists, although insurance, if required, must be purchased.

The Federal Insurance Administrator finds that delayed effective dates would be contrary to the public interest. The Administrator also finds that notice and public procedure under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) are impracticable and unnecessary.

Section 1914.4 of Part 1914 of Subchapter B of Chapter X of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding in alphabetical sequence new entries to the table. In each entry, a complete chronology of effective dates appears for each listed community. The date that appears in the fourth column of the table is provided in order to designate the effective date of the authorization of the sale of flood insurance in the area under the emergency or the regular flood insurance program. These dates serve notice only for the purposes of granting relief, and not for the application of sanctions, within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. 551. The entry reads as follows:

§ 1914.4 List of eligible communities.

Title 50—Wildlife and Fisheries

CHAPTER I—U.S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

PART 20—MIGRATORY BIRD HUNTING

1975–76 Migratory Game Bird Hunting; Frameworks for Certain Migratory Game Birds; Horicon Zone Canada Goose Hunting

On page 20090 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 8, 1975 (40 FR 20090) there was published a Notice of Proposed Rule Making to amend Part 20 of Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations. These amendments would specify open seasons, shooting hours, and bag and possession limits for doves, pigeons, rails, gallinules, woodcock, common (Wilson's) snipe, coots, cranes, swans and waterfowl; coots, cranes, common (Wilson's) snipe and waterfowl in Alaska; and certain sea ducks in coastal waters of certain eastern States. Included in that proposed rule making were Proposed 1975–76 Migratory Game Bird Hunting Regulations (In Part) which consisted of general frameworks and guidelines which ordinarily do not depend on the results of spring and summer surveys.

A 30-day public comment period was allowed, ending June 7, 1975, and was extended to June 25, 1975, through publication in the June 9, 1975, FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 24527). Also, the Annual Regulations Conference for Migratory Shore and Upland Game Birds convened on June 24, 1975, in Washington, D.C., in accordance with the notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 6, 1975 (40 FR 24368). This meeting was open to the public and statements by interested persons were invited.

In this connection, the Final Environmental Statement for the Issuance of Annual Regulations Permitting the Sport Hunting of Migratory Birds (FES 75–54) was filed with the Council on Environmental Quality on June 6, 1975, and notice of availability was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 13, 1975 (40 FR 25241).

On July 2, 1975, the Service published in the FEDERAL REGISTER proposed regulations frameworks for 1975–76 hunting seasons on certain migratory game birds (40 FR 27943) with a 15-day comment period allowed for public comment, ending July 17, 1975. Those proposed frameworks contained more specific information than the earlier regulatory proposals (40 FR 20090; May 8, 1975).

Responses made between May 8 and June 25, 1975, to the Service proposals published on May 8, 1975 (40 FR 20090) are summarized as follows.

COMMENTS ON SERVICE PROPOSALS

Sixty-one letters and written communications were received in response to the Service's regulations proposals published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 8, 1975 (40 FR 20090). From these, comments have been summarized as follows:

Four comments favored the entire proposal published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 20090; May 8, 1975).

ITEM 1. SHOOTING HOURS

Nine comments in favor, seven against. All seven comments against the proposal advocated more restrictive shooting hours. One individual asked that the noon opening provision associated with the five additional days of waterfowl hunting in the Atlantic and Mississippi Flyways if the season is opened on Wednesday be removed because it discriminates against those who cannot go hunting during the midday because of work or school. Two organizations, in one letter, suggested that the shooting hours be changed to one-half hour after sunrise to one-half hour before sunset to facilitate species identification. One individual recommended that shooting hours be from sunrise to noon for the same purpose. One organization proposed that shooting hours extend from sunrise to a definite closing hour, such as 4 p.m. One individual recommended that no hunting occur before sunrise and that shooting commence at noon of the opening day and subsequent segments of the hunting season. Another individual opposed the one-half hour before sunrise shooting hour because he believes that few hunters can identify waterfowl species in hand or flight, particularly before sunrise. One individual proposed 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. shooting hours as a means of reducing hunting pressure.

ITEM 2. FRAMEWORK DATES FOR DUCKS AND GEESE

Five comments in favor, 27 opposed; of the latter, 19 stated that the proposals were too restrictive and 8 stated that they were too lenient. One State asked that the framework for sea ducks be set back to avoid the hunting of flightless eiders and to facilitate season selection in August. Ten comments requested later framework closing dates for waterfowl hunting and two advocated an earlier framework opening, all to permit greater harvest opportunity or harvest of waterfowl. Three persons requested longer goose seasons for the same reasons. One State asked that the goose season framework be modified to permit later goose seasons, enabling greater harvest of migrant birds. One individual suggested that season length be based upon the number of weekends rather than number of hunting days. One individual urged that duck and goose seasons open concurrently. One individual advocated a closure of the waterfowl season for one year to allow populations to rebuild. Another individual recommended that any splits in seasons be separated by at least two weeks. Two organizations in one letter recommended that the season be closed on black ducks, ring-necks, canvasbacks, redheads, certain snow geese, sea ducks, mergansers and goldeneyes and that the season be closed or severely restricted on buffleheads because of reduced population levels or inadequate information on population status. Fifteen organizations in one letter recommended a three-year closure on black ducks and proposed that information be gathered on the species, an educational program be implemented, the release of mallards prohibited, and habitat preservation efforts be accelerated.

Of the above comments, significant numbers did not provide any facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal. Comments regarding the status of certain species of waterfowl will be considered during the usual regulatory process for waterfowl hunting in the United States, excluding Alaska. By that time, current information on the status of many species, and the 1974 harvest, will be available for consideration.

ITEM 3. SEA DUCKS

No comments in favor; 4 against. Of the four, three opponents recommended a more restrictive proposal and one requested a relaxation. Of those requesting a more restrictive proposal, one comment was that the season for sea ducks was too long; two organizations in one letter expressed the view that the season should be closed because data were lacking on the status of the various species of sea ducks; and one individual stated that hunters could not identify the various species of waterfowl and that the proposal is unenforceable. One State requested that an exception be made to the one-mile limitation for that State and that hunters should be allowed to take sea ducks during the prescribed sea duck season in designated areas "• • • in any waters of the Atlantic Ocean and/or in any tidal waters of any bay which are separated by at least 800 yards of open water from any shore, island, and emergent vegetation • • •"

ITEM 4. SEPTEMBER TEAL SEASONS

Four comments in favor, 2 against. One comment in opposition was that special seasons should be eliminated because of abuse or lack of sufficient data for the involved species. One individual stated that hunters could not identify the various species of waterfowl and that the proposal is unenforceable.

ITEM 5. EXTRA BLUE-WINGED TEAL OPTION

One comment in favor, 2 against. One comment in opposition was that extra or bonus bag options should be eliminated because of abuse or lack of sufficient data for the involved species. One individual stated that hunters could not identify the various species of waterfowl and that the proposal is unenforceable.

ITEM 6. SPECIAL SCAUP SEASON

One comment in favor, 2 against. One comment in opposition was that special seasons should be eliminated because of abuse or lack of sufficient data for the involved species. One individual stated that hunters could not identify the various species of waterfowl and that the proposal is unenforceable.

ITEM 7. EXTRA SCAUP OPTION

No comments in favor, 2 against. One comment in opposition was that provisions for bonus ducks should be eliminated because of abuse or lack of sufficient data for the involved species. One individual stated that hunters could not identify the various species of waterfowl and that the proposal is unenforceable.

ITEM 8. MERGANSERS

No comments in favor, 3 against. One State opposed the inclusion of the mergansers in the basic daily bag for ducks because of lack of biological evidence that hunting pressure need be reduced on these species. Another State felt regulation simplification was not a justifiable reason to reduce the waterfowl hunters' total bag limit and hunting opportunity by eliminating the separate bag limit and indicated that mergansers are often taken by hunters in that State incidental to hunting for other species. One comment in a letter submitted on behalf of two organizations opposed special merganser bag limits because of an apparent population decline and recommended that the season be closed. The Service will establish merganser regulations later and all comments will be considered prior to that time.

ITEM 9. CANVASBACK/REDHEAD DUCKS

One comment in favor, 5 against. Three comments against the proposal advocated a more restrictive regulation and 2 favored a more lenient regulation. One individual recommended that these species be made part of the daily bag. Another individual proposed that at least one bird should be allowed in the daily bag. One individual and another commenting on behalf of two organizations recommended that the season be closed on the two species. One individual stated that hunters could not identify the various species of waterfowl and that the proposal is unenforceable. Canvasback/redhead duck regulation will be established later and all the comments will be considered prior to that time.

ITEM 10. GOOSE AND BRANT SEASONS

Five comments in favor, 10 against. Six individuals proposed that more liberal seasons or daily bag limits be permitted. One individual recommended lower daily bag limits on white-fronted geese and black brant. One comment on behalf of two organizations urged that hunting closures be enacted for the protection of lesser snow geese originating from Wrangel Island, USSR, and Aleutian Canada geese. One individual recommended that the season be opened on Atlantic brant if good production occurs this breeding season. One State proposed a more liberal bag limit on Canada geese, stating that the flywaywide Canada goose population seemed to remain stable or increased slightly and the increase in harvest resulting from an increase in the bag limit would not have a significant detrimental effect on the population. That State also requested a limited open snow goose season in certain delineated areas since the flywaywide snow goose population is increasing. Goose and brant regulations will be established later and all the comments will be considered prior to that time.

ITEM 11. ALASKA WATERFOWL, COOTS, CRANES AND GALLINULES

One comment in favor, 3 against; of the latter, all favored more restrictive changes. One individual representing an Alaskan native organization recommended that bag limits for white-fronted geese and Pacific brant be reduced because of apparent population declines in Alaska. Another individual urged that crane hunting be eliminated. One comment, on behalf of two organizations, proposed the elimination of sea duck seasons because of lack of information on the population status of these species.

Of the above comments, none provided any facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal at this time. Hunting regulations in the lower 48 States for migratory game birds which breed in Alaska will be set at a later date after information becomes available from population surveys.

ITEM 12. WHISTLING SWANS

No comments in favor, 1 against. One individual proposed that the hunting of whistling swans be eliminated.

ITEM 13. LESSER SANDHILL (LITTLE BROWN) CRANES

No comments in favor, 2 against. One individual proposed that the hunting of cranes be eliminated. This comment provided no information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal. One State recommends that the hunting seasons for cranes and geese not run concurrently. The dates for crane and goose seasons will be established at a later date and this request will be considered at that time.

ITEM 14. COOT BAG LIMIT

One comment in favor, none against.

ITEM 15. GALLINULES

One comment in favor, none against.

ITEM 16. RAILS

No comments in favor; one against. One State proposed that the hunting of king rails be permitted on a Statewide basis to provide biological information on the species, and because it is not thought that the population would be jeopardized by hunting. The Service believes that hunting should not be allowed at this time due to lack of information on which to base a determination in that State.

ITEM 17. COMMON (WILSON'S) SNIPE

Three comments in favor, none against.

ITEM 18. WOODCOCK

Two in favor; one against. One State recommended that the opening framework be set back to September 15 to prevent harvest of birds incompletely recovered from the post-breeding moult. The same State recommended that the season framework extend only to January 31 due to nesting in southern areas at that time. The Service believes that no action should be taken pending additional management information and evaluation.

ITEM 19. BAND-TAILED PIGEONS

Two in favor, one against. One State recommended an expansion of the framework closing date to November 9 to enable the selection of a later hunting season. The Service concurs that a later hunting season may be biologically advantageous.

ITEM 20. MOURNING DOVES

Three comments in favor, 6 against. Two opponents favored more lenient changes and four advocated more restrictive changes. One organization and one individual recommended that the hunting season framework be delayed until October 1 to reduce the harvest of doves which may still be nesting. The former alleges that no extenuating circumstances dictate that dove hunting commence on September 1, that considerable loss of eggs and young take place during September hunting season, that the harassment of nesting birds may lead to disease outbreaks, that September hunting results in the killing of immature birds which are discarded by hunters, and that the "discretionary" power in application of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act was not intended to violate the basic principles upon which the Act was based, namely, the "protection of the eggs and young of migratory birds." The comment did not provide any new facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal. The Service recognizes that some mourning doves are still nesting in September but, based on available information, the proportion of nesting birds is low and September hunting is not believed to jeopardize the population.

One State and one individual in that State requested that permissible shooting hours be changed from 12 noon until sunset to one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. The Service concurs with this recommendation inasmuch as it has appropriate Flyway Council approval and would simply allow uniform hunting hours throughout the mourning dove management unit. One State asked that it be permitted to change the boundary between its two hunting zones but this request was later withdrawn. One individual requested that mourning dove hunting be prohibited in the vicinity of Bermuda City, Arizona, in order to provide protection to the inhabitants. The Service believes that this matter can be more appropriately handled by local authorities.

ITEM 21. WHITE-WINGED DOVES

Two comments in favor, one against. The opposing comment requested that hunting be allowed to commence the Saturday or Sunday before Labor Day. In 1975 this would entail hunting in the continental United States prior to September 1 which is judged contrary to the provisions of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act.

OTHER

In addition to the above comments, 30 other comments were received on a number of miscellaneous items related to migratory game bird hunting.

Two comments indicated that the regulations proposals had been given insufficient publicity or that the comment period was too short.

One organization indicated that the interests of the nonhunting public should be taken into consideration in setting regulations and that organizations representing these interests should be involved in the decision-making process by participation in advisory groups.

Five States in the Atlantic Flyway that prohibit Sunday hunting requested that consideration be given to allowing extra hunting days or counting only actual hunting days as means for alleviating lost hunting opportunity.

Fourteen comments were received regarding the point system; 7 favored the system while 7 were opposed to it. Of the latter, 5 were opposed to point allocations for certain species whereas the other 2 simply did not favor the system.

One person favored an increase in the cost of the migratory bird hunting stamp, another complained that hunting regulations had not been adequately distributed, and a third stated that regulations should be modified to reduce crippling loss.

Five individuals expressed opposition to proposals requiring the use of a nontoxic shot for hunting migratory game birds.

Of the above comments, significant numbers did not provide any facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal (see Items 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, and 21). Comments that did present substantive information and the Service position thereon are as follows:

Item 3. Sea ducks. The Service had proposed no change in sea duck regulations from the 1974–75 season. These regulations restricted hunters in North Carolina to taking sea ducks during the prescribed sea duck season in designated areas in any waters of the Atlantic Ocean and, in addition, in any tidal waters of any bay which are separated by at least one mile of open water from any shore, island, and emergent vegetation.

The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission requested that hunters in North Carolina be allowed to take sea ducks during the prescribed sea duck season in designated areas ". . . in any waters of the Atlantic Ocean and/or in any tidal waters of any bay which are separated by at least 800 yards of open water from any shore, island, and emergent vegetation . . ." as is the case in the States of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia instead of the one-mile limitation which now applies to North Carolina. The Commission felt this would increase the sea duck hunting opportunity for hunters by allowing them to take advantage of large concentrations of sea ducks which frequent those areas between 800 yards and one mile from shore. Since this relaxation would conform to a body of water that is related to the Virginia system and is judged to be not detrimental to the resource, the Service sees no reason not to permit North Carolina to do this and therefore the request is adopted.

Item 19. Band-tailed pigeons. The Service had proposed that an open season of 30 consecutive days for band-tailed pigeons could be selected between September 1 and October 31, 1975, by the States of Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah. The Arizona Game and Fish Department recommended the framework dates be expanded to September 1 through November 9, 1975, in order to permit a generally later season designed to minimize the taking of band-tailed pigeons engaged in rearing activities. The Service concurs in the recommendation and therefore adopts the framework season dates for band-tailed pigeons in the above-mentioned States to read between September 1 and November 30, 1975. These expanded framework dates allow the States more latitude in selecting later band-tailed pigeon seasons and conform with the framework dates offered these States for the 1974–75 hunting season. This change is considered relatively minor since many band-tailed pigeons migrate in October and few would be available for harvest in November, thus resulting in little change in harvest.

The Service had also proposed that New Mexico have the option of dividing its State into two zones, with a season of 20 consecutive days in each zone. The framework dates proposed for the South Zone in New Mexico were October 12 to November 30, 1975. The New Mexico Department of Game and Fish proposed framework dates of October 11 to November 30, 1975, for the South Zone to allow a Saturday opening. The Service concurs in allowing the State more flexibility in setting season dates and therefore adopts a framework from October 1 to November 30, 1975, for the South Zone in New Mexico. This change does not represent a significant relaxation, as hunting could commence as early as September 1 if the State elected not to select shortened seasons by dividing the State into North and South Zones.

Item 20. Mourning doves. The Service had proposed no changes from last year's regulations but this was subject to modification pending receipt of data from ongoing surveys. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department requested the option to shoot mourning doves from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset daily, instead of from 12 noon to sunset as in the past, to bring the hunting hours in Texas into conformance with those offered to other States in the Central Management Unit. Texas advised it would continue its harvest surveys to ascertain to what extent, if any, the harvest is changed. Full-day shooting of mourning doves in Texas was endorsed by the Central Flyway Council, and no adverse comments on the proposed action were expressed at the Conference. The Service concurs in bringing shooting hours in Texas into conformity with those elsewhere in the Central Management Unit.

Item 21. White-winged doves. The Service proposed no changes from last year's regulations but this was subject to modification pending receipt of data from ongoing surveys. At the Annual Regulations Conference for Migratory Shore and Upland Game Birds held in Washington, D.C., on June 24, 1975, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department requested a white-winged dove season not to exceed seven half-days (12 noon to sunset) between September 1 and September 14 in those counties where white-winged doves may be hunted. Last year's regulations allowed a season of four half-days between September 1 and September 10. Population survey data supplied by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department indicates that the breeding population of white-winged doves in the Lower Rio Grande Valley this spring was approximately 675,000 birds, 28 percent greater than the number in 1973. Anticipated production is estimated at 925,000 birds. After allowance is made for natural mortality, it is believed that approximately 520,000 birds may be killed by hunters without detriment to the desired 1976 breeding population. During the past three seasons, the average daily harvest was 57,000 birds. The proposal was discussed at the Conference and no adverse comments were offered. The Service considers the change a minor one and concurs in allowing up to 7 half-days for hunting white-winged doves. The Service believes that the added hunting opportunity will not jeopardize the population of white-winged doves.

Responses made during the 15-day comment period from July 2 to July 17, 1975, to the proposed regulations frameworks for 1975–76 hunting seasons on certain migratory game birds and the proposed amendments to § 20.105 of subpart K, Title 50 CFR published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 2, 1975 (40 FR 27943) are summarized as follows.

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED FRAMEWORKS

Thirteen letters and written communications were received in response to the Service's proposed regulations frameworks published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 2, 1975 (40 FR 27943; 7/2/75).

From these letters, comments have been summarized as follows:

One comment favored the entire proposal as published.

MOURNING DOVES

One comment in favor, none against.

WHITE-WINGED DOVES

No comments received.

BAND-TAILED PIGEONS

No comments received.

RAILS (KING, CLAPPER, SORA, AND VIRGINIA)

One comment in favor; one against. One individual commenting for an organization said the rail data (particularly king rails) are insufficient to justify either a season length or bag limits.

WOODCOCK

Two comments in favor, two against. One individual is of the opinion that there are very few woodcock in his State and recommended that the species be added to the endangered species list. This comment provided no facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal. One organization recommended that the framework opening be set back to September 15 to prevent shooting of birds incompletely recovered from the post breeding moult and requested zoning and split season options that are more restrictive than the framework offered. This comment can be handled within the existing framework and the Service therefore believes that no changes are necessary.

COMMON (WILSON'S) SNIPE

One comment in favor, one against. One individual asked "what purpose is the slaughter of cranes or snipe?" and "why do you always wait until everything is nearly extinct and then put them on the endangered species list."

GALLINULES

One comment in favor.

SCOTER, EIDER, AND OLDSQUAW DUCKS (ATLANTIC FLYWAY)

One in favor, three against. One individual commenting in behalf of an organization felt information on populations of sea duck species does not support the season. He felt the proposed season is excessive in length and the bag limits too large; that a large proportion of the birds shot are not even used; and allowing a limit for point system States in the Atlantic Flyway during the regular duck season of 17 ducks is unconscionable. This comment provided no facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposal. One organization recommended the September 1 opening date be set back to October 1 to (1) help prevent shooting of flightless young elder ducks in September following a late or protracted breeding season and (2) to make it administratively feasible and desirable to set sea duck seasons at the same time and use the same meetings as for the regular duck seasons rather than at some earlier date. Another organization recommended that States be allowed to defer selection of their sea duck seasons until they selected their waterfowl seasons, like with snipe and gallinule seasons. These last two requests can be handled within the existing framework, and except for clarifying the option to defer selection of sea duck seasons until late August when other waterfowl seasons are selected, the Service believes that no changes are necessary.

SEPTEMBER TEAL SEASON

No comments in favor, two against. Two individuals in one letter felt there should not be a provision for an early teal season because of illegal kills of other duck species during this period which were left to rot and because they felt that shooting during the early teal season caused other ducks to migrate sooner than normal, resulting in poorer hunting during the regular season. Another individual commenting in behalf of an organization felt a special teal season is not needed and in view of the large numbers of other species shot, he felt it clearly cannot be justified.

MIGRATORY GAME BIRD SEASONS IN ALASKA

OTHER

In addition to the above comments, 9 other comments were received on a number of miscellaneous items related to migratory game bird hunting. One individual commenting in behalf of an organization felt the total coverage of the seasons should not exceed 4 months, and that in view of enforcement difficulties, it should probably be no more than three months. One individual felt September is too early and October 1 seems to be most desirable (especially mid-week opening) and he felt hunting seasons and bag limits should be more uniform throughout the United States. One individual commenting on behalf of an organization felt shooting hours should be changed to facilitate identification and enforcement and that at least they should not begin before sunrise. Another individual commented that the shooting hours were fine. None of the above comments specified what species their comments related to and none provided any facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestions that would substantiate a need to change the proposal.

Two individuals in one letter felt canvasback and redhead ducks should be protected in the entire Mississippi Flyway, that efforts should be made to preserve the present population while efforts continue to save habitat which is endangered. Two individuals in one letter favored lowering by one or two the daily bag limit on lesser snow geese. These comments on canvasback and redhead ducks and lesser snow geese relate back to the Service's earlier proposal for which the comment period already closed on June 25, 1975 (40 FR 20090; May 8, 1975, and 40 FR 24527; June 9, 1975).

One individual commenting on behalf of an organization felt that until lead shot is replaced, both season length and bag limits should be substantially reduced. That individual also felt that "in general the liberalization of regulations over recent years, represented in part by special seasons for teal, sea ducks, cranes, etc., is neither sound nor responsible in terms of the public interest. During the same period there has been a continuing increase in factors unfavorable to the health of the resource such as development, pollution and destruction of habitat. The margin for error allowed is insufficient. The current program, in effect, discounts the likelihood of unforeseen and substantial problems such as severe short term climate changes." The same individual also felt it would be desirable if notices informing the public of matters on which they may comment could be sent in sufficient time so that more than a day or two remains before the deadline.

Comments on Proposed Amendments to § 20.105 of Subpart K, Title 50 CFR (Seasons, limits and shooting hours for Canada geese in the Horicon Zone)

No comments in favor, 3 against. Three individuals felt the present quota system is unfair, discriminatory and too restrictive. All three favored a daily bag limit of 1 goose per day. Of these three, one favored increasing the quota to 40,000 geese, reducing the size of the Horicon Zone by 50 percent, eliminating the lottery-tag system and adopting "the on farm registration" used by southern Illinois hunters; another felt the quota for Horicon Zone was too low for the number of geese going to that area and felt that by increasing hunter pressure on the geese, the amount of crop damage would be cut down. The third suggested opening the season for a limited number of days and permitting the taking of 1 goose a day without a permit. Of the above comments, none provided any facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestions that would substantiate a need to change the proposal. Furthermore, the established quota system is per agreement with the State and cannot be changed at this late date.

None of the comments received on the proposed regulations frameworks for 1975–76 hunting seasons on certain migratory game birds and on proposed amendments to § 20.105 of Subpart K, Title 50 CFR (Seasons, limits and shooting hours for Canada geese in the Horicon Zone) provided any facts or information beyond bare opinion or suggestion that would substantiate a need to change the proposals. The only change the Service adopts in the final frameworks is a minor one which is a relaxation of the one-mile limit to 800 yards in the sea duck hunting areas in North Carolina as discussed above following the summary of comments received on the Service's Proposed 1975–76 Migratory Game Bird Hunting Regulations (Part).

Comments on the Service's regulations proposals, proposed frameworks for certain migratory game birds, and proposed amendments affecting the Horicon Zone Canada goose hunting seasons received by the Service are available for public inspection during normal business hours at the Service's Office of Migratory Bird Management, Fish and Wildlife Service, Room 2257, U.S. Department of the Interior, 18th and C Streets, Washington, D.C.

The Fish and Wildlife Service is of the view that, although the rulemaking process for migratory bird hunting must, by its nature, operate under severe time constraints, every attempt should be made to give the public the greatest possible opportunity to comment on the regulations; thus, when the above-mentioned proposed rulemaking was published, the Service established what it believed were the longest periods possible for public comment. In doing this, the Service recognized that at the end of the periods, time would be of the essence. That is, if there were a delay in the effective date of these regulations after this final rulemaking, the Service is of the opinion that the States would have insufficient time to select their season dates, shooting hours, and bag limits, to communicate those selections to the Service, and finally to establish and publicize the necessary regulations and procedures to implement their decisions. The Service therefore finds that "good cause" exists, within the terms of 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3) of the Administrative procedure Act; and these regulations will, therefore, take effect immediately upon publication.

After due consideration of the comments received, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, under authority of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended, 40 Stat. 755; 16 U.S.C. 703–711), prescribes final rulemaking on portions of the 1975–76 migratory game bird hunting regulations (40 FR 20090; May 8, 1975); prescribes the final regulations frameworks for 1975–76 hunting seasons on certain migratory game birds (40 FR 27943; July 2, 1975), and final rulemaking on amendments to § 20.105 of Subpart K, Title 50 CFR relating to Canada geese in the Horicon Zone.

Effective date: August 6, 1975.

FINAL 1975–76 MIGRATORY GAME BIRD HUNTING REGULATIONS (PARTIAL

Under authority of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended (40 Stat. 755; 16 U.S.C. 703–711), the Fish and Wildlife Service adopts the following general frameworks and guidelines for hunting certain waterfowl, swans, cranes, mourning doves, white-winged doves, band-tailed pigeons, gallinules, rails, coots, common (Wilson's) snipe and woodcock during the 1975–76 season:

1. Shooting hours. Basic shooting hours beginning one-half hour before sunrise and ending at sunset are adopted with the option that States may select more restrictive hours within this framework. Exceptions to these basic shooting hours will be noted in subsequent frameworks and finally adopted regulations to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

2. Framework dates for ducks and geese. To be generally the same as during the 1974–75 season. From October 1, 1975, to January 20, 1976, for the Atlantic and Mississippi Flyways, and from October 4, 1975, through January 18, 1976, for the Central and Pacific Flyways, with the following exceptions:

(a) Sea ducks: in designated sea duck hunting areas in the Atlantic Flyway—September 1, 1975, through January 20, 1976.

(b) September teal season framework: September 1 through September 30, 1975, in specified areas.

(c) Special scaup season framework: October 1, 1975, through January 31, 1976, in specified areas.

(d) Pacific Flyway brant season framework: October 30, 1975, through February 20, 1976.

(e) Alaska waterfowl: September 1, 1975, through January 26, 1976.

3. Sea ducks: (No change.) During the regular duck season in the Atlantic Flyway, States may set, in addition to the regular limits, a daily bag limit of 7 and a possession limit of 14 scoter, eider, and old-squaw ducks, singly or in the aggregate of these species. In addition, an open season for taking scoter, eider and oldsquaw ducks may be selected within the framework in 2(a) above in designated sea duck hunting areas desribed in the 1974–75 Regulatory Announcement No. 93, in the following States of the Atlantic Flyway: Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, provided, that such designated areas have been described and delineated as special sea duck hunting areas under the hunting regulations adopted by the respective States. The daily bag limit in these designated areas is 7 and the possession limit is 14, singly or in the aggregate of these species. In all other areas of these States and in all other States in the Atlantic Flyway, sea ducks may be taken only during the regular open season for ducks.

4. September teal season: (No change.) An open season for taking all species of teal may be designated within the framework in 2(b) by the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Texas in areas delineated by State regulations. The season may not exceed 9 consecutive days. A bag limit of 4 teal daily and 8 in possession is prescribed.

5. Extra blue-winged teal option: (No change.) States in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central Flyways not permitted or not selecting a September teal season may permit the taking of 2 blue-winged teal daily and 4 in possession as an addition to the regular duck bag limit for 9 consecutive days during the regular duck season, except that States selecting a point system limit may not take extra teal during the regular season. States selecting this option will identify the season dates when they select regular duck season dates.

6. Special scaup season: (No change.) An open season for taking scaup may be selected within the framework in 2(c) for all States in areas mutually agreed upon by the Service and the State and delineated by State hunting regulations. The season may not exceed 16 consecutive days and must not overlap with the regular duck season. In these delineated areas, bag limits are 5 scaup daily and 10 in possession. States must identify special scaup season dates when they select their regular duck seasons.

7. Extra scaup option: (No change.) States not selecting a special scaup season may permit the taking of 2 scaup daily and 4 in possession as an addition to the regular duck bag limits during the regular duck season in areas mutually agreed upon by the Service and the State and delineated by State hunting regulations, except States selecting a point system limit may not take extra scaup during the regular season. States selecting this option must do so at the time they select regular duck season dates. Unless otherwise specified, this addition to the regular bag limit may be taken throughout the regular duck season.

8. Mergansers: Deferred pending receipt of additional information and recommendations from the Flyway Councils. Merganser regulations will be established later and all the comments received will be considered prior to that time.

9. Canvasback/redhead ducks: Deferred pending receipt of additional information and recommendations from the Flyway Councils. Canvasback/redhead duck regulations will be established later and all the comments received will be considered prior to that time.

10. Goose and brant seasons: Atlantic Flyway (No change.) Seasons and bag limits are to be generally the same as last year pending receipt of additional information and recommendations from the Flyway Council. That is, an open season on geese not to exceed 70 days in Virginia (except Back Bay) and States to the north with bag limits on Canada geese of 3 daily and 6 in possession, and not to exceed 50 days in States to the south of Virginia and in Back Bay, Virginia, with bag limits on Canada geese of 1 daily and 2 in possession, except no open season on geese in Georgia and Florida. Continuation of a closed season for blue and snow geese and brant to be determined later pending further evaulation of the status of these species.

Mississippi Flyway: (No change.) Seasons and bag limits to be generally the same as last year for Canada geese; that is, not to exceed 70 days and bag limits not to exceed 2 daily and 4 in possession pending additional information and Flyway Council recommendations. Seasons and bag limits for specific populations of Canada geese and for blue, snow and white-fronted geese to be determined later when more information is available.

Central Flyway: (No change.) Seasons and bag limits to be generally the same as last year; that is, not to exceed 72 days with a daily bag and possession limit of 2 Canada and white-fronted geese singly or in the aggregate in the eastern tier of States (North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas), and not to exceed 93 days with bag limits of 2 daily and 4 in possession for Canada and white-fronted geese singly or in the aggregate in the remainder of the Flyway. In all States in the Flyway, the bag and possession limit may not include more than 1 Ross' goose. Seasons and bag limits for specific populations of Canada geese, and for blue and snow geese are deferred pending additional information and Council recommendations.

Pacific Flyway: (Change—bag limit for white geese.). Seasons and bag limits to be generally the same as last year. That is, not to exceed 93 days with bag limits not to exceed 6 daily and in possession, including no more than 3 dark geese daily nor more than 3 white geese daily, including not more than 1 Ross' goose daily and in possession. Seasons and bag limits for brant and specific populations of Canada geese are deferred pending additional information and Flyway Council recommendations. Pacific Flyway lesser snow geese are derived from two principal sources—Wrangel Island off the Siberian arctic coast and the islands and coast of the western Canadian arctic. On Wrangel Island, 1974 marked the fourth year of poor production and birds from the Canadian arctic colonies also experienced poor production last summer. A decrease in the daily bag limit for white geese is proposed to aid in permitting these populations to rebuild to more desirable numbers.

11. Alaska waterfowl, coots, lesser sandhill (little brown) cranes, and common (Wilson's) snipe: No changes are adopted in seasons, limits and shooting hours for these species.

12. Whistling swans: (No change.) An open season for taking a limited number of whistling swans in Utah, Nevada and Montana may be selected subject to the following conditions: (a) hunting by special permit only, authorizing each permittee to take one swan; (b) the swan season to run concurrently with the duck season; (c) no more than 2,500 permits to be issued in Utah, 500 in Nevada (for hunting in Churchill County only), and 500 in Montana (for hunting in Teton County only); (d) serially numbered permits and metal locking seals furnished by the Service to be issued free by the appropriate State game department on an equitable basis.

13. Lesser sandhill (little brown) cranes: (No change.) Seasons for hunting lesser sandhill cranes may be selected with similar dates and identical hunting areas in Colorado, New Mexico/Texas, Texas/Oklahoma, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, and Wyoming, as defined in the 1974–75 Regulatory Announcement No. 94, with a daily bag limit of 3 and a possession limit of 6 lesser sandhill cranes.

14. Coot bag limit: (No change.) Within the regular duck season, States in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central Flyways may permit a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 30 coots, and States in the Pacific Flyway may permit 25 coots daily and in possession, singly or in the aggregate with gallinules.

15. Gallinules. (No change.) States in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central Flyways may select a gallinule season of not more than 70 days from September 1, 1975, through the last day of the 1975–76 regular waterfowl season framework, with a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 30. Seasons may be split without penalty. They may be selected in July when dove seasons are selected or deferred until waterfowl seasons are selected. If the selection is deferred, shooting hours must conform with those for waterfowl, and the season length will be the same as for waterfowl or 70 days, whichever is the shorter period. A gallinule season selected by any State in the Pacific Flyway must conform to its waterfowl season, and the daily bag and possession limit will be 25 gallinules singly or in the aggregate with coots.

16. Rails: (No change.) From September 1, 1975, through the last day of the 1975–76 regular waterfowl season framework, an open season of not more than 70 consecutive days for taking sora and Virginia rails may be selected by States in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central Flyways. Daily bag and possession limits are 25 birds singly or in the aggregate of these species. In addition, king and clapper rails may be taken during the rail seasons in the following States: (a) Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and New York. Daily bag and possession limits for king and clapper rails in these States will be established in June. (b) In the States of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia, the daily bag limit may be 15 and the possession limit 30 king and clapper rails, singly or in the aggregate.

17. Common (Wilson's) snipe: (No change.) Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyway States, except Florida, may select an open season of 65 days from September 1, 1975, through February 28, 1976, except that in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, the season must close by January 31, 1976. Florida may select a snipe season of not more than 107 days within this framework. In the Pacific Flyway, snipe seasons must run concurrently with regular duck seasons. In all States, the daily bag limit is 8 and the possession limit is 16 snipe. States may select a snipe season at the time they select the waterfowl season, and the snipe season may be split without penalty.

18. Woodcock: No changes from last season's regulations. That is, between September 1, 1975, and February 28, 1976, States in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways may select a season of not more than 65 days with a daily bag limit of 5 and a possession limit of 10; Provided, That in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia the season must end by January 31. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Any State may split its woodcock season without penalty.

19. Band-tailed pigeons: An open season of 30 consecutive days from September 1, 1975, through January 15, 1976, may be selected in Washington, Oregon and in each of two areas in California described as (1) the counties of Butte, Del Norte, Glenn, Humboldt, Lassen, Mendocino, Modoc, Plumas, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Tehama and Trinity; and (2) the rest of California. In these three States, the daily bag and possession limit is 5 band-tailed pigeons.

The open season for band-tailed pigeons in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah is subject to the following conditions: between September 1 and November 30, 1975, each State may select an open season of 30 consecutive days with a daily bag limit of 5 and possession limit of 10 band-tailed pigeons, provided, that each hunter must have been issued and carry on his person while hunting band-tailed pigeons a valid band-tailed pigeon hunting permit issued by the respective State game department, and such permit will be valid in that State only; and provided further, that this season shall be open only in the areas delineated by the respective States in their hunting regulations. New Mexico may divide its State into two zones, along a line following U.S. Highway 60 from the Arizona State line east to Interstate Highway 25 at Socorro and thence south along Interstate Highway 25 to the Texas State line. Between September 1, 1975, and November 30, 1975, in the northern zone, and October 1, 1975, and November 30, 1975, in the southern zone, New Mexico may select open seasons of 30 consecutive days.

20. Mourning doves: No change from last season's regulations except that Texas may have full-day hunting (one-half hour before sunrise until sunset) as do the other States in the Central Flyway. However, during the periods that both mourning doves and white-winged doves are hunted, the shooting hours will then be 12 noon until sunset daily.

21. White-winged doves: No changes from last year's regulations except that Texas may select a season of no more than 7 half-days (12 noon until sunset) between September 1 and September 14.

The mourning dove is the only migratory game bird occurring in Hawaii in numbers to permit hunting. Mourning doves may be taken in Hawaii in accordance with regulations set by the State of Hawaii as has been done in the past and subject to the applicable provisions of Part 20 of Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations.

FINAL REGULATIONS FRAMEWORKS FOR 1975–76 HUNTING SEASONS ON CERTAIN MIGRATORY GAME BIRDS

Pursuant to the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, the Secretary of the Interior has approved proposed frameworks which prescribe season lengths, bag limits, shooting hours, and outside dates within which States may select seasons for mourning doves, white-winged doves, band-tailed pigeons, rails, woodcock, snipe, and gallinules; for September teal seasons; for sea ducks in certain defined areas of the Atlantic Flyway; and for waterfowl, coots, snipe, and cranes in Alaska. For the guidance of State game departments, these frameworks are summarized below.

NOTE: Those States desiring their gallinule or snipe season to open after September may make their selection at the time they select their regular waterfowl season. Those Atlantic Flyway coastal States desiring their season on sea ducks in certain defined areas to open after September may make their selection at the time they select their regular waterfowl season.

MOURNING DOVES

Between September 1, 1975, and January 15, 1976, except as noted, States may select seasons as follows:

Eastern Management Unit: (All States east of the Mississippi River and Louisiana)

1. Shooting hours are 12 noon until sunset daily.

2. The daily bag limit is 12 and the possession limit is 24.

3. An open season of not more than 70 half-days which may run consecutively or be split into not more than three periods.

4. As an option to the above, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, and Mississippi may elect to zone their States as follows:

A. Two zones per State having the following division lines:

Alabama—U.S. Highway 84.

Georgia—from west to east, U.S. Highway 80 from Columbus to Macon; State Highway 49 from Macon to Milledgeville; State Highway 22 from Milledgeville to Sparta; State Highway 16 from Sparta to Warrenton; and U.S. Highway 278 from Warrenton to Augusta.

Louisiana—U.S. Highway 190.

Mississippi—From west to east, State Highway 12 to Kosciusko, there joining State Highway 14 and continuing to the Alabama line.

B. Within each zone, these States may select an open season of not more than 70 half-days which may run consecutively or be split into not more than three periods.

C. The hunting seasons in the southern zones of these States may commence no earlier than September 20, 1975.

Central Management Unit: (Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, and Wyoming).

1. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily in all States except that in Texas during the white-winged dove season, the shooting hours are 12 noon until sunset in those counties where white-winged dove hunting is allowed.

2. The daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 in all States.

3. An open season in all States of not more than 60 full days which may run consecutively or be split into not more than three periods.

Texas may select an open season for each of two previously established geographical areas subject to the following conditions:

1. The open season may be split into not more than 2 periods.

2. The Northern Area may have an open season of not more than 60 days between September 1, 1975, and January 20, 1976. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily, except during the white-winged dove season when the shooting hours are noon until sunset in those counties in which white-winged doves are hunted.

3. The Southern Area may have an open season of not more than 60 days between September 20, 1975, and January 20, 1976. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Provided, That in the Counties of Cameron, Willacy, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Webb, and Maverick, the mourning dove season will be open concurrently with the white-winged dove season, with shooting hours to coincide with those for white-winged doves, and the remainder of the season (60 days less the number of days of the white-winged dove season) must be during September 20, 1975–January 20, 1976.

In New Mexico, the daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 mourning and white-winged doves, singly or in the aggregate of these species.

Western Management Unit: (Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington).

1. Shooting hours are half hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

2. The daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20.

3. An open season of not more than 50 full days which may run consecutively or be split into not more than three periods.

In Clark and Nye Counties, Nevada, and in Imperial, Riverside, and San Bernardino Counties, California, the daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 mourning and white-winged doves, singly or in the aggregate of these species.

WHITE-WINGED DOVES

Between September 1, 1975, and December 31, 1975, Arizona may select an open season for the entire State of not more than 25 consecutive days. Such a season shall run concurrently with the first period of the mourning dove season. The daily bag and possession limit is 10. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

California may select an open season only for the Counties of Imperial, Riverside, and San Bernardino. The daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 white-winged and mourning doves, singly or in the aggregate of these species. Shooting hours are from ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Dates, limits, and hours conform with those for mourning doves.

Nevada may select an open season only for the Counties of Clark and Nye. The daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 white-winged and mourning doves, singly or in the aggregate of these species. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Dates, limits, and hours conform with those for mourning doves.

New Mexico may select an open season for the entire State. The daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 white-winged and mourning doves, singly or in the aggregate of these species. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Dates, limits, and hours conform with those for mourning doves.

Texas may select an open season of not more than 7 half-days for the following Counties: Brewster, Cameron, Culberson, El Paso, Hidalgo, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Kinney, Maverick, Presidio, Starr, Terrell, Val Verde, Webb, Willacy, and Zapata. The daily bag is 10 and the possession limit is 20. Shooting hours are 12 noon until sunset daily. Season may be split. Dates: Between September 1 and September 14, 1975.

BAND-TAILED PIGEONS

Between September 1, 1975, and January 15, 1976, Washington and Oregon may select open seasons of not more than 30 consecutive days; California may select open seasons of not more than 30 consecutive days for each of the following two areas:

1. In the Counties of: Butte, Del Norte, Glenn, Humboldt, Lassen, Mendocino, Modoc, Plumas, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Tehama, and Trinity; and

2. The remainder of the State.

In all three States, the daily bag and possession limit is not more than 8 band-tailed pigeons and the shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

The open season for band-tailed pigeons in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, and Utah is subject to the following conditions: between September 1 and November 30, 1975, each State may select an open season of 30 consecutive days with a daily bag limit of 5 and possession limit of 10 band-tailed pigeons, Provided, That each hunter must have been issued and carry on his person while hunting band-tailed pigeons, a valid band-tailed pigeon hunting permit issued by the respective State game department, and such permit will be valid in that State only; and Provided further, That this season shall be open only in the areas delineated by the respective States in their hunting regulations. New Mexico may divide its State into two zones, along a line following U.S. Highway 60 from the Arizona State line east to Interstate Highway 25 at Socorro and thence south along Interstate Highway 25 to the Texas State line. Between September 1, 1975, and November 30, 1975, in the northern zone, and October 1, 1975, and November 30, 1975, in the southern zone, New Mexico may select open seasons of 20 consecutive days. The shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

RAILS (KING, CLAPPER, SORA, AND VIRGINIA)

Between September 1, 1975, and January 20, 1976, the States may select seasons on king, clapper, sora, and Virginia rails as follows: Shooting hours in all States for all species are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

The season length for all species of rails may not exceed 70 days.

In Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland, the daily bag limit is 10 and the possession limit is 20 king and clapper rails, singly or in the aggregate of these two species.

In Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia, the daily bag limit is 15 and possession limit is 30 king and clapper rails, singly or in the aggregate of these two species.

The season will remain closed on king and clapper rails in all other States.

In addition to the limits for king and clapper rails prescribed above, a daily bag and possession limit of 25, singly or in the aggregate of sora and Virginia rails is prescribed in States in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways.

No season is prescribed for rails in the Pacific Flyway.

WOODCOCK

Between September 1, 1975, and February 28, 1976, States in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways may select a season of not more than 65 days with a daily bag limit of 5 and a possession limit of 10; Provided, That in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia the season must end by January 31. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Any State may split its woodcock season without penalty.

COMMON SNIPE (WILSON'S)

Between September 1, 1975, and February 28, 1976, States in the Atlantic (except Florida), Mississippi, and Central Flyways may select a season of not more than 65 days with a daily bag limit of 8 and a possession limit of 16; Florida may select a snipe season within this framework of not more than 107 days; Provided, That in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia the season must end no later than January 31. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. Any State may split its snipe season without penalty.

All States and portions of States in the Pacific Flyway must select their snipe season to run concurrently with their regular duck season. In these Pacific Flyway States it will be unlawful to take snipe when it is unlawful to take ducks.

States in the three eastern Flyways (except Florida) may defer selecting their snipe season until the time they select their waterfowl season. In that event, the bag and possession limits will be 8 and 16, as above, but shooting hours must be the same as for waterfowl.

GALLINULES

Between September 1, 1975, and January 20, 1976, States may select a season of not more than 70 days with a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 30. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily. States may split their gallinule seasons without penalty.

States may select their seasons on gallinules at the time they select their waterfowl seasons. If the selection is deferred, bag limits will remain the same, but shooting hours must conform with those for waterfowl, and the season length will be the same as that for waterfowl, or 70 days, whichever is the shorter period. Except, That a gallinule season selected by any State in the Pacific Flyway must conform to its waterfowl season, and the daily bag and possession limits will be 25 coots and gallinules singly or in the aggregate of these species.

SCOTER, EIDER, AND OLDSQUAW DUCKS (ATLANTIC FLYWAY)

A maximum open season of 107 days for taking scoter, eider, and oldsquaw ducks is prescribed during the period between September 1, 1975, and January 20, 1976, in all coastal waters and all waters of rivers and streams seaward from the first upstream bridge in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut; in those coastal waters of the State of New York lying in Long Island and Block Island Sounds and associated bays eastward from a line running between Miamogue Point in the town of Riverhead to Red Cedar Point in the town of Southampton, including any ocean waters of New York lying south of Long Island; in any waters of the Atlantic Ocean and in any tidal waters of any bay which are separated by at least 1 mile of open water from any shore, island, and emergent vegetation in the States of New Jersey, South Carolina, and Georgia; and in any waters of the Atlantic Ocean and in any tidal waters of any bay which are separated by at least 800 yards of open water from any shore, island, and emergent vegetation in the States of Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia: Provided, That any such areas have been described, delineated, and designated as special sea duck hunting areas under the hunting regulations adopted by the respective States. In all other areas of these States and in all other States in the Atlantic Flyway, sea ducks may be taken only during the regular open season for ducks.

The daily bag limit is 7 and the possession limit is 14, singly or in the aggregate of these species. During the regular duck season in the Atlantic Flyway, States may set, in addition to the regular limits, a daily bag limit of 7 and a possession limit of 14 scoter, eider, and oldsquaw ducks, singly or in the aggregate of these species. Shooting hours are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

Those States desiring their sea duck season to open after September may make their selection at the time they select their waterfowl seasons.

SEPTEMBER TEAL SEASON

Between September 1 and September 30, 1975, an open season on all species of teal may be selected by the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Texas in areas delineated by State regulations.

Shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset daily. The season may not exceed 9 consecutive days with a bag limit of 4 teal daily and 8 in possession.

MIGRATORY GAME BIRD SEASONS IN ALASKA

Between September 1, 1975, and January 26, 1976, Alaska may select seasons on waterfowl, coots, snipe, and cranes, subject to the following limitations:

1. Shooting hours on all species are ½ hour before sunrise until sunset daily.

2. Season lengths:

(a) In the Pribilof, Kodiak, and Aleutian Islands, except Unimak Island, an open season of 107 consecutive days for ducks, geese, brant, and coots.

(b) Except: the season is closed on Canada geese from Unimak Pass westward in the Aleutian Island chain.

(c) In the remainder of Alaska including Unimak Island, an open season of 107 consecutive days for ducks, geese, brant, and coots.

(d) An open season of 65 days for snipe.

(e) An open season of 45 consecutive days for lesser sandhill (little brown) cranes.

3. Bag and Possession Limits:

(a) Ducks—A basic daily bag limit of 6 and a possession limit of 18 ducks. In addition to the basic limit, there is a daily bag limit of 15 and a possession limit of 30 scoter, eider, oldsquaw, harlequin, and American and red-breasted mergansers, singly or in the aggregate of these species.

(b) Geese—A basic daily bag limit of 6 and a possession limit of 12, of which not more than 4 daily and 8 in possession may be white-fronted or Canada geese, singly or in the aggregate of these species. In addition to the basic limit, there is a daily bag limit of 6 and a possession limit of 12 emperor geese.

(c) Brant—A daily bag limit of 4 and a possession limit of 8.

(d) Coots—A daily bag and possession limit of 15.

(e) Snipe—A daily bag limit of 8 and a possession limit of 16.

(f) Cranes—A daily bag limit of 2 and a possession limit of 4.

Section 20.105(d) is revised to read as follows:

§ 20.105 Seasons, limits, and shooting hours for waterfowl, coots, and gallinules.

* * * * *

(d) Canada geese in the Horicon Zone.

(1) In Wisconsin during the 1975–76 waterfowl season, the kill of Canada geese will be limited to 28,000 birds; 16,000 of which may be taken in the area designated as the Horicon Zone.

(2) The Horicon Zone includes portions of Columbia, Dodge, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Washington, and Winnebago Counties. It is bounded on the east by U.S. Highway 45 from Oshkosh to Fond du Lac, and then State Highway 175 to Addison; on the south by State Highway 33 from Addison to Beaver Dam, and then U.S. Highway 151 to Columbus; on the west by State Highway 73 from Columbus to its intersection with State Highway 23, east of Princeton; and on the north by State Highway 23 from the intersection with State Highway 73 to Ripon, then State Highway 44 to Oshkosh.

(3) Seasons and limits for Canada geese:

Daily bag limit: 1.
Possession limit: 1.
Season dates: October 9–October 26, inclusive.

(4) Each person hunting Canada geese in the Horicon Zone must have been issued in his name and carry on his person a valid Horicon Zone Canada goose tag hunting permit with correspondingly numbered report card and metal Canada goose tag. To be valid, the permit must remain attached to the report card until a Canada goose is reduced to possession.

(5) Immediately after a Canada goose is killed in the Horicon Zone and reduced to possession, the tag must be affixed and securely locked through the nostrils of the Canada goose. The goose may not be carried by hand or transported in any manner without the tag being attached. The tab must remain on the goose until it reaches the abode of the permit holder.

(6) Each person hunting Canada geese in the Horicon Zone must report on tag use or nonuse, using the report card provided, within 12 hours after the close of the Canada goose season in the Horicon Zone.

(7) Permit application procedure:

(i) Applications for Horicon Zone Canada Goose Hunting Permits must be submitted by mail and postmarked no later than September 12, 1975. Only holders of a current valid hunting license may apply. Each application must contain the applicant's first name, middle initial (if any) and last name. It shall be unlawful for any person to apply for or use more than one permit per year or to submit an application containing false information. Applications from persons in the military service on duty outside the State during the regular application period will be accepted if they are accompanied by a notarized statement attesting to such duty outside the State.

(ii) Application forms will be available from county clerks, State hunting and fishing license depots, and from Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources offices in Spooner, Rhinelander, Eau Claire, Green Bay, Madison and Milwaukee.

(iii) If the number of applicants exceeds the number of permits and tags authorized, successful applicants will be randomly selected. If two or more persons wish to hunt together in the Horicon Zone, each must fill out an application form and submit it together with the applications from other members of the group in one envelope marked "Group Application." Group applications will be considered in the selection as one application.

Trinity County. The entire county.

Tyler County. The entire county.

Upshur County. That portion of the county lying south of a line beginning at a point where the Upshur-Wood County line intersects Farm to Market Road 2911, thence easterly along said road to its junction with Texas Highway 155, thence northeasterly along said highway to its junction with Farm to Market Road 1404, thence southerly and easterly along said road to its junction with Farm to Market Road 2685, thence northerly along said road for a distance of 2.75 miles to its junction with an unnamed county road, thence east, southeast and east along said road to its junction with Farm to Market Road 726, thence northeasterly along said road to its junction with Texas Highway 154, thence northeasterly, easterly and southeasterly to its intersection with the Upshur-Harrison County line, and including all of the town of Big Sandy.

Victoria County. The entire county.

Walker County. The entire country.

Waller County. The entire county.

Washington County. The entire county.

Wharton County. The entire county.

Wilson County. That portion of the county bounded by a line beginning at a point where Farm to Market Road 536 intersects the meeting point of the Atascosa-Bexar-Wilson County lines, thence northeasterly along the Bexar-Wilson County line to its junction with Cibolo Creek, thence southerly along said creek to its intersection with Farm to Market Road 775, thence westerly along said road, to its junction with U.S. Highway 87, thence southeasterly along said highway to its junction with Texas Highway 97, thence southwesterly along said highway to its junction with Farm to Market Road 536, thence westerly along said road to the point of beginning, excluding the city of Floresville and the towns of LaVernia and Sutherland Springs.

Wood County. That portion of the county lying east of U.S. Highway 69 and south of Texas Highway 49, but excluding all of the city of Mineola.

(2) Suppressive areas.

Bowie County. That area within a circle having a radius of 3 miles with the center at the intersection of Interstate Highway 30 and Texas Highway 8.

FLORIDA

2. In § 301.81–2a relating to the State of Florida, under generally infested area, the entire description is changed as set forth below:

(1) Generally infested areas. The entire State.

(2) Suppressive areas. None.

(Secs. 8, 9, 37 Stat. 318, as amended, sec. 106, 71 Stat. 33 (7 U.S.C. 161, 162, 150ee); 37 FR 28464, 28477 as amended; 38 FR 19140; 7 CFR 301.81–2, 39 FR 21117)

The Deputy Administrator of the Plant Protection and Quarantine Programs has determined that the imported fire ant has been found or there is reason to believe it is present in the civil divisions and parts of civil divisions listed as regulated areas or that it is necessary to regulate such areas because of their proximity to imported fire ant infestation or their inseparability for quarantine enforcement purposes from imported fire ant infested localities. Further, he has also determined that the areas designated as suppressive and generally infested areas eligible for such designation under § 301.81–1.

The Deputy Administrator has also determined that each of the quarantined States, wherein only portions of the State are designated as regulated areas, has adopted and is enforcing a quarantine or regulation which imposes restrictions on the intrastate movement of the regulated articles which are substantially the same as those which are imposed with respect to the interstate movement of such articles under the quarantine and regulations in this subpart, and that the designation of less than the entire State as a regulated area will otherwise be adequate to prevent the interstate spread of the imported fire ant. Therefore, such civil divisions and parts of civil divisions listed above are designated as imported fire ant regulated areas.

This document imposes restrictions that are necessary in order to prevent the dissemination of the imported fire ant and should be made effective promptly to accomplish its purpose in the public interest. Also, it does not appear that additional information would be made available to the Department by public participation in rulemaking proceedings on this amendment. Accordingly, it is found upon good cause, under the administrative procedure provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553, that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing amendment are impracticable and unnecessary, and good cause is found for making it effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective August 6, 1975.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of August, 1975.

J. F. SPEARS,
Acting Deputy Administrator, Plant Protection and Quarantine Programs.

CHAPTER IX—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 923—SWEET CHERRIES GROWN IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN WASHINGTON

Expenses and Rate of Assessment

This document authorizes $25,698 of Washington Cherry Marketing Committee expenses, under Marketing Order No. 923, for the 1975–76 fiscal period and fixes the rate of assessment at $0.80 per ton of cherries shipped outside the production area. Such assessments are to be paid to the committee by each first handler as his pro rata share of program expenses.

On July 16, 1975, notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 29831) regarding proposed expenses and the related rate of assessment for the period April 1, 1975, through March 31, 1976, pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 923 (7 CFR Part 923) regulating the handling of sweet cherries grown in designated counties in Washington. The notice invited interested persons to submit written data, views, or arguments through July 31, 1975. No such material was submitted. This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in such notice which were submitted by the Washington Cherry Marketing Committee (established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order), it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 923.215 Expenses and rate of assessment.

(a) Expenses. Expenses that are reasonable and likely to be incurred by the Washington Cherry Marketing Committee during the period April 1, 1975, through March 31, 1976, will amount to $25,698.

(b) Rate of Assessment. The rate of assessment for said period, payable by each first handler in accordance with § 923.41, is fixed at $0.80 per ton of sweet cherries.

(c) Terms. Terms used in the marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective terms in said marketing agreement and order.

It is hereby further found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (1) shipments of the current crop of sweet cherries grown in the designated counties in Washington are now being made; (2) the relevant provisions of said marketing agreement and this part require that the rate of assessment herein fixed shall be applicable to all assessable cherries handled during the aforesaid period; and (3) such period began on April 1, 1975, and said rate of assessment will automatically apply to all such cherries beginning with such date.

Dated: August 1, 1975.

Title 10—Energy

CHAPTER I—NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

PART 20—STANDARDS FOR PROTECTION AGAINST RADIATION

PART 50—LICENSING OF PRODUCTION AND UTILIZATION FACILITIES

Change of Terminology for "as low as practicable" Limits

On May 5, 1975 the Nuclear Regulatory Commission published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 19439) its decision in the rule making proceeding concerning numerical guides for design objectives and limiting conditions for operation to meet the criterion "as low as practicable" for radioactive material in light-water-cooled nuclear power reactor effluents, including amendments of 10 CFR Part 50 to be effective June 4, 1975.

In its decision the Commission stated that:

> The Commission fully subscribes to the general principle that, within established radiation protection guides, radiation exposures to the public should be kept "as low as practicable." This precept has been a central one in the field of radiation protection for many years. The term "as low as practicable" is defined in the Commission's regulations [10 CFR 50.34a(a)] to mean "as low as is practicably achievable taking into account the state of technology, and the economics of improvements in relation to the benefits to the public health and safety and in relation to the utilization of atomic energy in the public interest.
> We note that during the pendency of this rule making the International Commission on Radiological Protection, in ICRP Publication No. 22, has replaced the phrase "as low as practicable" with "as low as is reasonably achievable" in its recommendation on dose limitation.
> Its recommendation has also been expanded to identify two specific considerations—economic and social—that are to be taken into account in determining a level of exposure that may be considered "as low as is reasonably achievable." Other considerations, such as ethical ones, are not excluded by this wording and may indeed be considered to be included by the adjective "social." The ICRP has clearly stated that the changed terminology does not reflect a change in the objectives of dose limitation, but rather a choice of language which "more closely describes its intentions." See ICRP Publication 22, paragraphs 6, 7, and 20.
> We endorse this attempt to make this basic concept of radiation protection more understandable. We are today directing the Commission's staff to prepare and issue for public comment a proposed rule that substitutes the currently accepted phrasing—"as low as is reasonably achievable"—for the older, less precise terminology in the many places throughout our regulations and regulatory guides where it appears.

In accordance with the Commission's directive the Commission's staff has prepared the following proposed amendments of 10 CFR Parts 20 and 50 which would substitute the term "as low as is reasonably achievable" for the term "as low as practicable."

Pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, and section 553 of Title 5 of the United States Code, notice is hereby given that adoption of the following amendments to 10 CFR Parts 20 and 50 is contemplated. All interested persons who desire to submit written comments or suggestions in connection with the proposed amendments should submit them by October 6, 1975, to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section. Copies of comments on the proposed amendments may be examined at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street, NW, Washington, D.C.

1. Section 20.1 of 10 CFR Part 20 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

. . . . . .

(c) In accordance with recommendations of the Federal Radiation Council, approved by the President, persons engaged in activities under licenses issued by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974 should, in addition to complying with the requirements set forth in this part, make every reasonable effort to maintain radiation exposures, and releases of radioactive materials in effluents to unrestricted areas, as low as is reasonably achievable. The term "as low as is reasonably achievable" means as low as is reasonably achievable taking into account the state of technology, and the economics of improvements in relation to benefits to the public health and safety, and other societal and socioeconomic considerations, and in relation to the utilization of atomic energy in the public interest.

2. Section 50.34a of 10 CFR Part 50 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 50.34a Design objectives for equipment to control releases of radioactive material in effluents—nuclear power reactors.

(a) An application for a permit to construct a nuclear power reactor shall include a description of the preliminary design of equipment to be installed to maintain control over radioactive materials in gaseous and liquid effluents produced during normal reactor operations, including expected operational occurrences. In the case of an application filed on or after January 2, 1971, the application shall also identify the design objectives, and the means to be employed, for keeping levels of radioactive material in effluents to unrestricted areas as low as is reasonably achievable. The term "as low as is reasonably achievable" as used in this part means as low as is reasonably achievable taking into account the state of technology, and the economics of improvements in relation to benefits to the public health and safety and other societal and socioeconomic considerations, and in relation to the utilization of atomic energy in the public interest. The guides set out in Appendix I provide numerical guidance on design objectives for light-water-cooled nuclear power reactors to meet the requirement that radioactive material in effluents released to unrestricted areas be kept as low as is reasonably achievable. These numerical guides for design objectives and limiting conditions for operation are not to be construed as radiation protection standards.

3. Section 50.36a and Appendix I of 10 CFR Part 50 are amended by changing the term "as low as practicable" to "as low as is reasonably achievable" wherever it appears.

(Sec. 161, Pub. L. 83–703, 68 Stat. 948 (42 U.S.C. 2201); Sec. 201(f), Pub. L. 93–438, 88 Stat. 1243 (42 U.S.C. 5841)).

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland this 2nd day of July 1975.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Title 12—Banks and Banking

CHAPTER V—FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD

PART 523—MEMBERS OF BANKS

Liquidity

JULY 30, 1975.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board considers it desirable to amend § 523.11 of the Regulations for the Federal Home Loan Bank System (12 CFR 523.11) for the purposes of increasing the overall liquidity requirement of each Federal Home Loan Bank member from 6 percent to 6½ percent of its liquidity base and of increasing each member's short-term liquidity requirement from 2 percent to 2½ percent of such base. Accordingly, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board hereby amends said § 523.11 by revising paragraph (a) thereof, to read as follows, effective September 1, 1975:

§ 523.11 Liquidity requirements.

(a) General. For each calendar month, each member, other than a mutual savings bank as to which there is in effect the election provided for in paragraph (e) of this section, shall maintain an average daily balance of liquid assets in an amount not less than 6½ percent of the average daily balance of the member's liquidity base during the preceding calendar month; except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section. For each calendar month, each member, other than a mutual savings bank or an insurance company, shall maintain an average daily balance of short-term liquid assets in an amount not less than 2½ percent of the average daily balance of the member's liquidity base during the preceding calendar month, except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section.

* * * * *

Since members' recent reports to the Board show a substantial increase in cash flow, making funds more available for lending and for other purposes, the Board determines that it is prudent to increase members' liquidity requirements without the delay that would result if notice and public procedure were provided with respect to this amendment. Therefore, the Board hereby finds that notice and public procedure as to this amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest under the provisions of 12 CFR 508.11 and 5 U.S.C. 553(b); and since publication of this amendment for the 30-day period specified in 12 CFR 508.14 and 5 U.S.C. 553(d) prior to the effective date of this amendment would in the opinion of the Board likewise be impracticable and contrary to the public interest for the same reason, the Board hereby provides that this amendment shall become effective as hereinbefore set forth.

(Sec. 5A, 47 Stat. 727, as added by sec. 1, 64 Stat. 256, as amended, sec. 17, 47 Stat. 736, as amended; 12 U.S.C. 1425a, 1437. Reorg. Plan No. 3 of 1947, 12 FR 4981, 3 CFR, 1943–48 Comp., p. 1071).

PART 564—SETTLEMENT OF INSURANCE

Deletion of Obsolete Regulations

JULY 30, 1975.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, as operating head of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, in Resolution No. 75–482, dated June 4, 1975, proposed to delete §§ 564.11 and 564.12 from the rules and regulations for Insurance of Accounts (12 CFR 564.11 and 564.12) as obsolete.

Notice of such proposed rulemaking was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 10, 1975 (40 FR 24755), with a invitation for interested persons to submit written comments by July 11, 1975. On the basis of its consideration of all relevant material presented by interested persons and otherwise available, the Board considers it desirable to adopt the proposed amendment. Accordingly, the Board hereby amends Part 564 by deleting §§ 564.11 and 564.12 thereof, to read as set forth below, effective September 8, 1975.

Sections 564.11 and 564.12 were adopted by Board Resolution No. 20,724 of July 7, 1967. Section 564.11 (12 CFR 564.11) continued until April 15, 1968, insurance of all accounts insured under the rules and interpretations theretofore in effect. Section 564.12 (12 CFR 564.12) required each insured institution to provide notice of such amendments to certain of its accountholders by mailing them prior to February 1, 1968, a brochure prepared by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. Section 564.12 also required insured institutions to make such brochures available to the public at each of their offices.

Sections 564.11 and 564.12 are rescinded as follows:

CHAPTER VI—FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

PART 612 PERSONNEL ADMINISTRATION

Conflicts of Interest

The Farm Credit Administration, by its Federal Farm Credit Board, took final action on amendments to its regulations and authorized their issuance effective July 29, 1975. These amendments would (1) clarify the handling of political activities of employees of Farm Credit institutions; (2) clarify that all employees of Farm Credit institutions are required to devote their full business time to the effective accomplishment of their duties; (3) clarify what acts are prohibited for salaried employees of Farm Credit institutions; (4) provide for a policy to be adopted by each district bank board requiring the bank to adopt a procedure for handling conflicts of interest cases; (5) restate the circumstances for reporting of conflicts of interest transactions by interested personnel; (6) clarify the procedure for enforcing the conflicts of interest prohibition; (7) clarify the reporting of conflicts of interest cases by associations; (8) reidentify the office to which reports shall be made of credit extended to financing institutions under certain circumstances; (9) clarify the reporting of conflicts of interest which may be involved in a loan transaction requiring prior approval or advice from the Farm Credit Administration.

By a notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 16, 1975, interested persons were afforded the opportunity to file written comments or suggestions on the proposed amendments not later than July 18, 1975. All comments were considered prior to the final action on the proposed amendments by the Federal Farm Credit Board. Copies of all communications received are available for examination by interested persons in the Office of Director, Information Division, Office of Administration, Farm Credit Administration.

Chapter VI of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by revising §§ 612.2060(a), 612.2150, 612.2160, 612.2170, 612.2230, 612.2240, 612.2250, 612.2260, and 612.2270. These amendments are as follows:

§ 612.2060 Political activity.

(a) No salaried officer, employee, or agent of a Farm Credit institution shall hold a public office or be a candidate for such office unless the bank by which he is employed or which supervises his employer has, after investigation and consideration of all facts involved, determined in writing that such candidacy or holding of public office would not bring justified criticism on the grounds of political activities or partialities or in any other manner adversely affect the best interests of the borrowers or the operations and public image of the System or any institutions thereof. All determinations made hereunder shall be reported to the board of directors of the bank concerned.

Salaried officers, employees, and agents of Farm Credit institutions are required to devote the full business time for which they are employed to the effective accomplishment of the duties assigned them by the institutions in which they are employed. They are also expected to refrain from accepting employment or compensation for activities, even for services rendered outside of the business hours for which they are employed, which might embarrass the Farm Credit institution or the Farm Credit Administration or reflect adversely upon their ability to take an unbiased and impartial view of its operations.

A salaried officer, employee, or agent of any institution of the Farm Credit System:

(a) Shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in the deliberation upon, or the determination of, any question affecting his personal interests, those of any person related to him by blood, marriage, or adoption, or those of any partnership, association, or any business organization in which he is directly or indirectly interested. An act shall not be deemed enjoined by this paragraph (a) if the employing institution determines that the degree of interest or relationship in question is not substantial but so trivial as to create little probability that the officer's, employee's, or agent's impartiality of judgment and action has been affected, and such determination has been reported to the board of directors of the employing institution. Such report shall be reflected in the minutes of the board meeting;

(b) Shall not use for his own personal benefit or that of another or, except in the performance of his official duties, divulge to another person any fact or information acquired, directly or indirectly, by virtue of his employment which is not generally available to the public;

(c) (1) Shall not solicit o raccept, directly or indirectly, any "benefit" (i.e., salary, fee, commission, honorarium, gift, or favor):

(i) From any "borrower" (i.e., a debtor, loan applicant, or representative) of the Farm Credit institution which is his employer;

(ii) From any borrower of a Farm Credit institution supervised by his employer;

(iii) From any borrower of a Farm Credit institution which supervises his employer;

(iv) From any person who purchases real or personal property from a borrower;

(v) From any person who sells real or personal property to a borrower; or

(vi) From any person transacting business with his employer.

(2) An officer, employee, or agent may enter into the following transactions for a benefit with a person (as identified in paragraph (c) (1) above) if such transactions are arranged in good faith as the result of arm's-length negotiations and the fair market value of services, supplies, or products involved in any single transaction, or any series of transactions with the same person, during one calendar year does not exceed a total of $1,000:

(i) For services to be performed on a farm owned or rented by him or on other property in which he has an interest;

(ii) For the purchase of farm supplies and products to be used on a farm owned or rented by him;

(iii) For the sale of farm supplies and products produced on a farm owned or rented by him; or

(iv) For the rental of real property by or to him; Provided, that for any single transaction, or any series of transactions with the same person, during one calendar year the total of which exceeds $1,000, prior written authorization of the board of directors of his employer shall be obtained. When such authorization is given, the action of the board of directors shall be reported to the bank officer designated pursuant to § 612.2170.

(3) The board of directors of the supervising bank may, in lieu of the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) above, prescribe a policy addressed to the transactions identified therein and submit it for the approval of the Farm Credit Administration, and establish guidelines applicable to officers, employees, and agents of the bank and of associations under its supervision, which shall assure that the types and values of permitted transactions do not have a reasonable potential for conflicts of interest.

(4) An officer, employee, or agent may

(i) Accept food and refreshments of nominal value on infrequent occasions in the ordinary course of a luncheon or dinner meeting or other meeting where such officer, employee, or agent is in attendance;

(ii) Accept unsolicited advertising or promotional material such as pens, pencils, note pads, calendars, and other items of nominal value; or

(iii) Accept any benefit otherwise enjoined by this paragraph (c) if the circumstances make clear that the motivating factor for the extension of such benefit is not based on the official responsibilities of such officer, employee, or agent or of the institution by which he is employed and, in any way, connected with any business activity he is engaged in, other than an activity referred to in paragraph (c) (1), and with any business of the other person or organization concerned, and that the offer of such benefit has been reported to and its acceptance has received the prior written authorization of the board of directors of the employing institution and, if an association officer, employee, or agent is involved, by the board of directors of the supervising bank. The action of the board shall be reflected in the minutes of the board meeting and brought to the attention of the bank officer designated pursuant to § 612.2170 (c).

(d) Shall not acquire, directly or indirectly (including acquisition by membership in syndicates, but not by will or inheritance):

(1) Any lands or interests therein, including mineral interests, which are owned by any Farm Credit institution or which were thus owned at any time within the preceding 12 months,

(2) Any mineral interests in lands which are mortgaged to any Farm Credit institution or which were thus mortgaged at any time within the preceding 12 months, but this shall not prohibit the acquisition of mineral interests incidentally with surface interests, or which were severed prior to the preceding 12 months from lands currently mortgaged to the institution and are owned by a person who has no interest in such lands, or

(3) Any interests in lands (including mineral interests being acquired incidentally with surface interests) which are mortgaged to any Farm Credit institution or which were thus mortgaged at any time within the preceding 12 months, without obtaining the specific prior approval of such institution's board of directors. Such action shall be reported in the minutes of the board meeting.

As used in this paragraph (d), "mineral interests" means any interest in minerals, oil, or gas, including but not limited to, any right derived, directly or indirectly, from a mineral, oil, or gas lease, deed, or royalty conveyance.

(e) Shall not participate, directly or indirectly, in any tra saction concerning the purchase or sale of corporate stocks or bonds, commodities, or other property for speculative purposes if such action might tend to interfere with the proper and impartial performance of his duties or bring discredit upon any Farm Credit institution. Employees are not prohibited by this paragraph from making bone fide investments. When an employee is uncertain as to whether a contemplated transaction would constitute a violation of this paragraph, he should seek the advice, in accordance with procedures adopted by the district bank, of the officer designated pursuant to § 612.2170(c).

(f) Shall not have a business relation, directly or indirectly,

(1) With a "borrower" (i.e., a debtor, loan applicant, or representative) of the Farm Credit institution which is his employer;

(2) With a borrower of a Farm Credit institution supervised by his employer;

(3) With a borrower of a Farm Credit institution which supervises his employer;

(4) With a person who purchases real or personal property from any borrowers;

(5) With a person who sells real or personal property to any borrowers; or

(6) With a person transacting business with his employer; except in an official capacity as officer, employee, or agent of a Farm Credit institution, unless the board of directors of the employing institution, in carrying out the intention of this § 612.2160, has made a prior determination in writing that such business relation reasonably cannot be viewed as a means to influence a decision in which a Farm Credit institution has an interest. If the employing institution is an association, such determination shall be reported to and concurred in by the supervising bank. The action of the board shall be reflected in the minutes of the board meeting and brought to the attention of the bank officer designated pursuant to § 612.2170(c). Examples of such business relation include the purchase or sale of personal or real property, sale or placement of insurance, salesbarn activities, and auctioneering, appraisal, and other professional services but do not include the transactions described in paragraph (c) (2) and (4) (iii) or transactions involving nonfarm goods purchased to meet family needs for food, clothing, and household furnishings and equipment from usual commercial sources at prices available to the public in general, or involving medical or dental services.

(g) Shall not purchase or acquire, directly or indirectly while he serves on a finance committee or subcommittee, except by will or inheritance, any interest in any obligations of the bank or banks for which he participated in establishing rates.

(h) Shall not also serve as an officer or director of an organization that transacts business with a Farm Credit institution, or of a financial institution unless the board of directors of the bank by which he is employed or which supervises his employer has determined that the involvement by such financial institution in the type of lending engaged in by the bank or his employer is so trivial as to create little probability of any significant impact upon the bank's or his employer's business, and he has agreed in writing not to participate on the financial institution's loan committee or in the deliberation upon, or determination of, any question coming before the financial institution's board which has more than nominal significance to the bank or his employer. Such action shall be reported in the minutes of the board meeting.

(i) The provisions of §§ 612.2110 and 612.2120, and not this § 612.2160, apply to directors of Farm Credit banks and associations.

§ 612.2170 Prohibited acts procedures.

Under a policy of its board applicable to the acts prohibited by § 612.2160, each district bank shall adopt procedures which will assure that:

(a) The provisions of § 612.2160 are brought to the attention from time to time of all officers, employees, and agents of Farm Credit institutions and directors of associations in the district;

(b) All cases arising under § 612.2160 involving officers, employees, or agents of the bank, or of associations under its supervision, are brought to the attention of the bank's board;

(c) An officer of the bank is designated (1) to receive reports of all cases arising under § 612.2160 involving officers, employees, or agents of the bank and of associations under its supervision, (2) to report promptly in writing to the Deputy Governor, Office of Credit and Operations, cases arising under paragraphs (a) through (g) thereof, (3) to record actions taken to resolve every case involving § 612.2160, and (4) to submit a semiannual report in writing of such actions to the Deputy Governor, Office of Credit and Operations.

§ 612.2230 Report by personnel.

The director, officer, or employee involved or interested in any transaction to which §§ 612.2120 and 612.2160 are applicable shall report in writing to the appropriate officer of the interested bank or association and disclose his interest and status in the matter unless, in the case of a loan application, the application itself discloses such information. The interested bank or association is the one that is a party to the transaction and not the employing bank or association or the one on whose board the director serves, unless they happen to be the same.

§ 612.2240 Prohibited acts enforcement.

(a) The Office of Examination shall investigate any case involving an act prohibited by paragraphs (a) through (g) of § 612.2160 if it determines that such action is necessary or advisable. A copy of the investigation report shall be submitted to the president of the district bank concerned and to the officer designated as provided in § 612.2170(c).

(b) The bank shall, with regard to any prohibited act evidenced by the investigation report, take prompt action in a manner that will assure the integrity of the Farm Credit institution concerned and the confidence of the public in it.

(c) The board of directors of the bank shall, with regard to a case arising under paragraph (h) of § 612.2160 take prompt action to assure compliance therewith.

§ 612.2250 Reports of transactions with directors, officers, or employees.

The associations shall report transactions to which §§ 612.2120, 612.2160, 612.2210, and 612.2230 apply fully in writing to the officer of the supervising bank designated pursuant to § 612.2170(c).

§ 612.2260 Reports of credit extended to financing institutions.

Any bank or association extending credit to a financing institution not in the Farm Credit System upon the basis of any note or other obligation of a director, officer, or employee of a Farm Credit institution, including any obligation or any endorsement in which such director, officer, or employee has a personal financial interest, shall be reported to the Deputy Governor, Office of Credit and Operations, at the time the transaction comes to the attention of the Farm Credit bank. This section shall not apply to the fulfillment of existing contracts with such institutions in accordance with their terms where there is no change in the parties of interest or the ownership of the related property, to the sales of surplus equipment and supplies in accordance with the rules of disposition of such property, or the discounting by a Federal intermediate credit bank of a PCA loan, or to the making of a loan by a bank for cooperatives except as such loans or discounts are required by other regulations to be submitted for prior approval.

In connection with any loan transaction required by regulations not contained in this Subpart B to be submitted to the Deputy Governor, Office of Credit and Operations, for prior approval or advice and counsel, if there is involved a violation or possible violation of a regulation in this Subpart B, a report of such violation or possible violation shall be included with the loan transaction submission. Such report shall not be in lieu of the report required by § 612.2170. All directors, officers, and employees shall be advised of the circumstances in which reports are required under this § 612.2270.

Title 17—Commodity and Securities Exchanges

CHAPTER II—SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release Nos. 33-5596, 34-11529, 35-19083, IC-8848, AS-175]

PART 210—FORM AND CONTENT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934, PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935, AND INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940

Consolidated Financial Statements

The Commission today adopted an amendment of Rule 4-02(e) of Regulation S-X (17 CFR 210.4-02(e)) relating to separate statements of subsidiaries included in consolidated financial statements. The amendment clarifies the requirements for separate statements of consolidated subsidiaries engaged in certain financial activities. Revision of the rule was originally proposed on December 11, 1974.[1] Consideration of comments has resulted in revisions of the proposal so that the rule now being adopted will be more understandable and easier to work with.

The December 1974 release observed that the proposed amendment resulted from our experience in examining financial statements filed by registrants and also from current economic and financial developments. At that time we noted concern over developments in banking and other regulated financial businesses in which there is regulation for the interests of depositors and insureds apart from the interests of stockholders. The need for disclosure of information concerning subsidiaries in these highly leveraged areas is no less necessary today.

The revisions to the proposed amendments of Rule 4-02(e) are as follows:

The provision of paragraph (e)(2) requiring financial statements for a registrant's nonsignificant subsidiaries when the investment in them exceeds 10 percent of total assets on registrant's balance sheet has been transferred to paragraph (e). The remainder of paragraph (e)(2) has been eliminated since it provided for omission of nonsignificant subsidiaries whose exclusion generally would be appropriate because of lack of materiality. The former paragraph (e)(3) has been renumbered (e)(2) but is otherwise unchanged.

The inclusion of leasing as part of the finance line of business has been modified to include subsidiaries engaged in finance leasing and to exclude subsidiaries with only nonfinancing leases.

The proposed paragraph § 210.4-02(e)(1) provided for exclusion of supporting statements of a consolidated significant subsidiary or of a significant group of subsidiaries if their assets, sales and income each exceed 90 percent of the corresponding amounts on the consolidated statements. In response to several comments these provisions have been revised so that in making this test average consolidated income (or loss) may be substituted for the current year's income (or loss). This is comparable to a provision in the definition of significant subsidiary in Rule 1-02 of Regulation S-X.

Under the rule one or more sets of financial statements may be required in support of the basic consolidated statements, and under certain unusual circumstances as many as four separate sets of statements may be needed.[2] While this requirement may appear to place an onerous burden on a registrant, it is a reflection of the involved and complicated nature of business and is necessary to provide the investor with sufficient information on which to base investment decisions. In its project on "Financial Reporting for Segments of a Business Enterprise," the Financial Accounting Standards Board is considering the reporting problems of diversified companies including the matter of disclosure of information about different segments. Rule 4-02 will be reconsidered when the FASB issues a statement on this subject.

Commission action: The Commission hereby amends Part 210 of Chapter II of Title 17 of the Code of Federal Regulations by revising paragraph (e) of § 210.4-02 as given below:

§ 210.4-02. Consolidated financial statements of the registrant and its subsidiaries.

(e) separate financial statements shall be presented for each significant consolidated subsidiary or each group of consolidated subsidiaries which in the aggregate meet the tests of a significant subsidiary engaged in the business of life insurance, fire and casualty insurance, securities broker-dealer, finance (which group includes similar activities such as factoring, mortgage banking and leasing, exclusive of subsidiaries with only nonfinancing leases), savings and loan or banking (including all subsidiaries of banks), and for all nonsignificant consolidated subsidiaries not otherwise included in groups above, combined when registrant's investment (including current and not current advances) in all such subsidiaries exceeds 10 percent of total assets on registrant's balance sheet. Notwithstanding the foregoing requirement, separate financial statements may be omitted:

(1) For a consolidated subsidiary or group of consolidated subsidiaries in the same business if the registrant's and registrant's other subsidiaries' proportionate share (based on their equity interests) of (i) total assets (after intercompany eliminations), (ii) total sales and revenues (after intercompany eliminations), and (iii) income (or loss) before income taxes and extraordinary items of such subsidiary or group of subsidiaries each exceeds 90 percent of the corresponding amounts on the consolidated financial statements. If the proportionate share of income (or loss) under paragraph (e)(1)(iii) above and the corresponding amount on the consolidated financial statements are not both income or both loss, then separate financial statements may not be omitted. If the average income before income taxes and extraordinary items on the consolidated financial statements for the last five fiscal years is less than such consolidated income on the most recent annual financial statements or if the average consolidated loss for the last five years is less than such consolidated loss on the most recent annual financial statements, then such average amounts may be substituted in the determination under (iii) above.

(2) For a consolidated subsidiary or group of consolidated subsidiaries in the same business if in excess of 90 percent of their sales and revenues are derived from registrant and registrant's other subsidiaries.

(sections 6, 7, 8, 10 and 19(a) of the Securities Act of 1933 (15 U.S.C. 77f, 77g, 77h, 77j, 77s); sections 12, 13, 15(d) and 23(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78l, 78m, 78o(d), 78w); sections 5(b), 14 and 20(a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (15 U.S.C. 79e, 79n, 79t); and sections 8, 30, 31(c) and 38(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-8, 80a-29, 80a-30(c), 80a-37(a)))

The amendments shall be effective with respect to financial statements filed with the Commission subsequent to September 30, 1975.

By the Commission.

Utilization Review; Deferral of Effective Date of Regulations

This Notice defers, until further notice, the effective date of certain regulatory provisions published November 29, 1974 (39 FR 41604, 41610) governing the requirement for admission review in hospitals under the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

On May 27, 1975, the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois in the case of American Medical Association v. Weinberger, Civil Action No. 75 C 560, issued a preliminary injunction pending a final disposition on the merits of the action, prohibiting the Department from enforcing or implementing 20 CFR 405.1035 (e) and (f) and 45 CFR 250.19(a)(1)(viii). On July 23, 1975, the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit affirmed the District Court's order. The Department is presently considering whether to seek further review of the preliminary injunction.

These regulatory provisions were originally to have been effective on February 1, 1975. On April 1, 1975, the Department published a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 14591, 14597) changing the effective date to July 1, 1975. On July 3, 1975, the Department published a Notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER further postponing the effective date to July 30, 1975 (40 FR 28052, 28070). In view of the affirmance by the Court of Appeals of the District Court's order prohibiting the enforcement of implementation of these regulatory provisions, it has become necessary to defer enforcement and implementation of these provisions until such time as the District Court's order is reversed or modified. Accordingly, notice is hereby given that the effective date of 20 CFR 405.1035 (e) and (f) and 45 CFR § 250.19(a)(1)(viii) is delayed until further notice.

Dated: August 1, 1975.

CHAPTER I—FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

PART 561—TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDES IN ANIMAL FEEDS ADMINISTERED BY THE ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

Hexakis (2-Methyl-2-Phenylpropyl) Distannoxane

On May 28, 1974, notice was given (39 FR 18505) that Shell Chemical Company, Suite 300, 1700 K St., NW, Washington, D.C. 20006, had filed a food additive petition (FAP 4H5050) with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). This petition proposed the establishment of a tolerance for residues of the insecticide hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane in dried apple pomace at 15 parts per million (ppm) resulting from application of the insecticide to growing apples.

Shell filed the petition under the name hexakis (beta, beta-dimethylphenethyl) distannoxane in dried apple pomace at akis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane.

Shell Chemical Company subsequently amended the petition by including the organotin metabolites of the insecticide in the tolerance request, increasing the proposed food additive tolerance in dried apple pomace to 20 ppm, and by adding a request for a food additive tolerance of 7 ppm in dried citrus pulp. (A document concerning hexakis and the establishment of a pesticide tolerance also appears in today's FEDERAL REGISTER at page 33035.)

The data submitted in the petition and other relevant material have been evaluated, and it has been concluded that the tolerances will protect the public health.

Any person adversely affected by this regulation may on or before September 5, 1975, file written objections with the Hearing Clerk, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M St., SW, East Tower, Room 1019, Washington, D.C. 20460. Such objections should be submitted in quintuplicate and should specify both the provisions of the regulation deemed to be objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought.

Effective August 6, 1975, Part 561 is amended by adding § 561.255 as set forth below.

§ 561.255 Hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane.

Tolerances are established for residues of the insecticide hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane and its organotin metabolite, calculated as hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane, in the following processed feeds when present therein as a result of the application of the insecticide to growing crops:

20 parts per million in dried apple pomace.

7 parts per million in dried citrus pulp.

Title 32—National Defense

CHAPTER VI—DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

PART 706—NAVIGATIONAL LIGHT WAIVERS

Miscellaneous Amendment

Sections 360 and 1052 of title 33, U.S.C., confer upon the Secretary of the Navy the authority to approve navigational light waivers when naval ships of special construction cannot comply with the statutory provisions for navigation lights and compliance with such provisions is otherwise as close as possible. A recent study indicates that the lights of the Amphibious Assault Ship (LHA class) comply with the applicable statutes except for the masthead and range lights, which cannot comply without interfering with the military function of the ship. The location of these lights does, however, constitute the closest possible compliance with the requisite statutory provisions.

Placement of the masthead and range lights falls within the boundaries of the existing waiver for certain classes of ships in the aircraft carrier category. This waiver is set forth in 32 CFR Part 706. On May 28, 1975, the Secretary of the Navy, pursuant to the authority set forth in 33 U.S.C. 360 and 1052, approved the extension of this existing waiver to include the Amphibious Assault Ship (LHA class). The Secretary of the Navy further determined, in accordance with the provisions of 32 CFR § 296.5(c) [40 FR 4912, Feb. 12, 1975], that prepublication of this amendment for public comment is unnecessary and impracticable because it is based on technical findings that the placement of lights on this class of ships in a manner different from that prescribed herein will adversely affect the ships' ability to perform their military functions.

Accordingly, effective on August 6, 1975, 32 CFR Part 706 is amended by revising the consolidated tabulation of lights in Table One and Note 3 following Table Two of § 706.2 as follows:

§ 706.2 [Amended]

1. In Table One, under the category "AIRCRAFT CARRIERS" in the "Vessel class or type" column, add the listing "LHA (Amphibious Assault Ship)" immediately preceding the listing of "LPH (Amphibious Assault Ship)" within the existing bracket.

2. In Note 3 following Table Two, in the second line, add "LHA" preceding "LPH" within the parentheses.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

Title 33—Navigation and Navigable Waters

CHAPTER I—COAST GUARD, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

[CGD 1-75-1R]

PART 127—SECURITY ZONES

Seal Harbor, Maine; Establishment of Security Zone

JULY 30, 1975.

This amendment to the Coast Guard's Security Zone Regulations, establishes the area of territorial waters encompassed within a boundary line commencing at position 44°17'18" N., 68°15' W. thence to CG Mooring Buoy at position 44°17'07" N., 68°14'45" W. thence to Black Can Bouy #1 (Lightlist page 33) at Seal Harbor entrance thence to the right tangent of the island off Crowninshield Point position 44°17'22.5" N., 68°-14'31" W. from 0001 Daylight Savings Time on Friday, August 1, 1975, until 2400 Daylight Savings Time on Monday, August 25, 1975 as a Security Zone. No vessel may enter, cross, or navigate in the Security Zone without the consent of the Captain of the Port. This security zone is established to maintain waterside security of the area contiguous to the estate of the Vice President of the United States.

This amendment is issued without publication of a notice of proposed rule making and this amendment is effective in less than 30 days from the date of publication, because good cause exists and public procedures on this amendment are impracticable because of minimal prior notification of the Vice President's itinerary.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 127 of Title 33 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding § 127.-101, to read as follows:

The waters within the following boundary is a security zone: a line beginning at position 44°17'18" N., 68°15' W. thence to CG Mooring Buoy at position 44°17'07" N., 68°14'45" W. thence to Black Can Buoy #1 (Lightlist page 33) at Seal Harbor entrance thence to the right tangent of the island off Crowninshield Point position 44°17'-22.5" N., 68°14'31" W. from 0001 Daylight Savings Time on Friday, August 1, 1975, until 2400 Daylight Savings Time on Monday, August 25, 1975 as a Security Zone. No vessel may enter, cross, or navigate in the Security Zone without the consent of the Captain of the Port.

PART 180—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

Hexakis (2-Methyl-2-Phenylpropyl) Distannoxane

On May 28, 1974, notice was given (39 FR 18505) that Shell Chemical Co., Suite 300, 1700 K St., NW, Washington DC 20006 had filed a pesticide petition (PP 4F1492) with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). This petition proposed the establishment of a tolerance for residues of the insecticide hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane in or on the raw agricultural commodities apples, pears, and citrus fruits at 4 parts per million (ppm).

Shell filed the petition under the name hexakis (betadimethylphenethyl) distannoxane; the accepted name is hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane.

The Shell Chemical Company subsequently amended the petition by including the organotin metabolite of hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane in the tolerance request and added a proposal for a tolerance of 0.3 ppm for residues of the insecticide in the liver and kidney of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, and sheep.

The data submitted in the petition and other relevant material have been evaluated, and the pesticide is considered to be useful for the purpose for which the tolerances are sought. No residues are likely to occur in milk, eggs, poultry, and meat (except kidney and liver), fat, and meat byproducts of livestock from the proposed use, and Section 180.6(a)(3) applies. The tolerances established by this regulation will cover residues of the insecticide that will result in the liver and kidney of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, and sheep, and it has been concluded that the tolerances will protect the public health.

Any person adversely affected by this regulation may, on or before September 5, 1975, file written objections with the Hearing Clerk, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street, SW, East Tower, Room 1019, Washington DC 20460. Such objections should be submitted in quintuplicate and should specify both the provisions of the regulation deemed to be objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

Tolerances are established for residues of hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane and its organotin metabolite calculated as hexakis (2-methyl-2-phenylpropyl) distannoxane in or on raw agricultural commodities as follows:

4 parts per million in or on apples, citrus fruits, and pears.

0.3 part per million in liver and kidney of cattle, goats, hogs, horses, and sheep.

Title 45—Public Welfare

CHAPTER II—SOCIAL AND REHABILITATION SERVICE (ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS), DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

PART 235—ADMINISTRATION OF FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Certification of Receipt of AFDC

Part 235 of Chapter II, Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding a new § 235.40 to implement a requirement under section 401 of Pub. L. 94-12, the Tax Reduction Act of 1975.

Section 401 of Pub. L. 94-12 provides for a Federal Welfare Recipient Employment Incentive Tax Credit for business and nonbusiness employers who hire AFDC recipients who, in addition to other conditions specified in the law, have been certified by the appropriate State or local agency as being eligible for financial assistance under the AFDC program and as having continuously received such financial assistance during the 90 days immediately preceding the date on which the individual is hired by the employer. The provision is applicable only to wages paid or earned between March 29, 1975, and June 30, 1976. The regulations in the new § 235.40 provide for such certification of AFDC recipients to employers for purposes of claiming the tax credit.

Proposed rulemaking procedures have been dispensed with because of the need to have regulations in effect which comport with the March 29, 1975 effective date of the law and because of the limited time period during which these provisions will remain in effect. However, consideration will be given to written comments, suggestions, or objections thereto addressed to the Administrator, Social and Rehabilitation Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, P.O. Box 2382, Washington, D.C. 20013, and received on or before September 5, 1975.

Such comments will be available for public inspection in Room 5225 of the Department's offices at 330 C Street, SW., Washington, D.C., beginning approximately August 20, 1975, on Monday through Friday of each week from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. (area code 202-245-0950) and will be given the same consideration they would receive if this were a notice of proposed rulemaking.

Part 235 of Chapter II, Title 45 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding a new § 235.40, as set forth below:

§ 235.40 Certification of AFDC recipients for employment incentive tax credit.

(a) Upon the request of the employer of any individual who is hired and receives wages for services performed after March 28, 1975, and before July 1, 1976, the State or local welfare agency shall, if such individual was eligible for, and was continuously receiving, financial assistance under an approved State AFDC plan during the 90-day period immediately preceding the date on which he was hired by such employer, so certify. Such certification shall be made only for purposes of an employer claiming a Federal welfare recipient employment incentive tax credit under Section 401 of Pub. L. 94-12, the Tax Reduction Act of 1975.

(b) The provisions of this section are applicable to both business and nonbusiness employers.

(c) The State agency shall make such reports in such form and containing such information as the Secretary may require.

Effective date: The regulations in this section are effective on March 29, 1975, and expire on June 30, 1976.

CHAPTER V—NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

[Docket No. 73–20; Notice 6]

PART 571—FEDERAL MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS

Fuel System Integrity

This notice amends Standard No. 301, Fuel System Integrity (49 CFR 571.301), to specify new loading conditions and to establish a 30-minute fuel spillage measurement period following barrier crash tests.

On April 16, 1975, the NHTSA published a notice (40 FR 17036) proposing a revision of the loading conditions and fuel spillage measurement period requirement in Standard 301. The NHTSA also proposed in that notice an extension of the applicability of Standard 301 to school buses with a GVWR in excess of 10,000 pounds. At the request of several Members of Congress, the due date for comments on the school bus proposal was extended to June 26, 1975, and final rulemaking action on it will appear in a later FEDERAL REGISTER notice.

It was proposed that the current 15-minute fuel spillage measurement period be extended to 30 minutes in order to allow more time for leaks to be located and rates of flow to be established. Measurement of fuel loss during only a 15 minute time period is difficult because fuel may be escaping from various parts of the vehicle where it is not readily detectable. Chrysler, American Motors, and General Motors objected to the proposed change and asked that it either not be adopted or that adoption be delayed for one year until September 1, 1976.

The commenters argued that the revision was unnecessary and would involve a change in their testing methods. The NHTSA has fully considered these arguments and does not consider the amendment to prescribe a higher level of performance. It concludes that the 30-minute measurement period is necessary to achieve accurate measurement of fuel loss and assessment of vehicle compliance and accordingly amends Standard 301 to prescribe the longer period for measurement.

The April 16, 1975, notice also proposed a change in the Standard 301 loading conditions to specify that 50th percentile test dummies be placed in specified seating positions during the frontal and lateral barrier crash tests, and that they be restrained by means installed in the vehicle for protection at the particular seating position. Currently the standard requires (during the frontal and lateral barrier crash tests) ballast weight secured at the specified designated seating positions in vehicles not equipped with passive restraint systems. In vehicles equipped with passive restraints, 50th percentile test dummies are to be placed in the specified seating positions during testing.

In petitions for reconsideration of this amendment to Standard No. 301 (39 FR 40857) various motor vehicle manufacturers stated that attachment of such ballast weight to the vehicle floor pans during the barrier crashes would exert unrealistic stresses on the vehicle structure which would not exist in an actual crash. The NHTSA found merit in petitioners' arguments, and its proposed revision of the loading conditions is intended to make the crash tests more representative of real-life situations.

Only Mazda objected to the proposal. It argued that curb weight be prescribed as the loading condition so that it could conduct Standard 301 compliance testing concurrently with testing for Standards No. 212 and 204. The NHTSA does not find merit in Mazda's request as the Standard 301 loading condition is considered necessary to assure an adequate level of fuel system integrity. Since the proposed loading conditions are more stringent than a curb weight condition, manufacturers could conduct compliance testing for Standards 301, 212, and 204 simultaneously. If the vehicle complied with the requirements of Standards 212 and 204 when loaded according to 301 specifications, the manufacturer presumably could certify the capability of the vehicles to comply with the performance requirements of 212 and 204 when loaded to curb weight. It should be noted that the NHTSA is considering amending Standards 212 and 204 to specify the same loading conditions as proposed for Standard 301.

All other commenters supported immediate adoption of the proposed loading conditions. Therefore, the NHTSA adopts the loading conditions as they were proposed in the April 16, 1975, notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, S5.5 and S7.1.6 of Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 301, Fuel System Integrity (49 CFR 571.301), are amended to read as follows:

§ 571.301 Standard No. 301, Fuel System Integrity.

* * * * * *

S5.5 Fuel spillage: Barrier Crash. Fuel spillage in any fixed or moving barrier crash test shall not exceed 1 ounce by weight from impact until motion of the vehicle has ceased, and shall not exceed a total of 5 ounces by weight in the 5-minute period following cessation of motion. For the subsequent 25-minute period fuel spillage during any 1-minute interval shall not exceed 1 ounce by weight.

* * * * * *

S7.1.6 The vehicle, including test devices and instrumentation, is loaded as follows:

(a) Except as specified in S7.1.1, a passenger car is loaded to its unloaded vehicle weight plus its rated cargo and luggage capacity weight, secured in the luggage area, plus the necessary test dummies as specified in S6, restrained only by means that are installed in the vehicle for protection at its seating position.

(b) Except as specified in S7.1.1, a multipurpose passenger vehicle, truck, or bus with a GVWR of 10,000 pounds or less is loaded to its unloaded vehicle weight, plus the necessary test dummies, as specified in S6., plus 300 pounds or its rated cargo and luggage capacity weight, whichever is less, secured to the vehicle and distributed so that the weight on each axle as measured at the tire-ground interface is in proportion to its GAWR. If the weight on any axle, when the vehicle is loaded to unloaded vehicle weight plus dummy weight, exceeds the axle's proportional share of the test weight, the remaining weight shall be placed so that the weight on that axle remains the same. Each dummy shall be restrained only by means that are installed in the vehicle for protection at its seating position.

* * * * * *

Effective date: Because this amendment revises certain requirements that are part of 49 CFR 571.301–75, Motor Vehicle Safety Standard 301–75, effective September 1, 1975, and creates no additional burden upon any person, it is found for good cause shown that an effective date of less than 180 days after publication is in the public interest.

CHAPTER X—INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[S.O. No. 1216]

PART 1033—CAR SERVICE

Reading Co.

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Railroad Service Board, held in Washington, D.C., on the 31st day of July, 1975.

It appearing, That because of track and bridge damage resulting from flooding, the Penn Central Transportation Company, Robert W. Blanchette, Richard C. Bond, and John H. McArthur, Trustees (PC) is unable to operate over its line serving Lebanon, Pennsylvania; that shippers served by the PC at Lebanon are thereby deprived of railroad service, thus creating an emergency; that the Reading Company, Andrew L. Lewis, Jr., and Joseph L. Castle, Trustees (RDG) has agreed to operate over PC tracks in Lebanon, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of providing rail service to shippers located on such PC tracks; that there is need for the RDG to operate over PC tracks in Lebanon, Pennsylvania for the purpose of providing rail service to shippers located on such PC tracks in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people; that notice and public procedure herein are impracticable and contrary to the public interest; and that good cause exists for making this order effective upon less than thirty days' notice.

§ 1033.1216 Service Order No. 1139.

(a) Reading Company, Andrew L. Lewis, Jr., and Joseph L. Castle, Trustees Authorized to operate over tracks of Penn Central Transportation Company, Robert W. Blanchette, Richard C. Bond and John H. McArthur, Trustees. The Reading Company, Andrew L. Lewis, Jr., and Joseph L. Castle, Trustees, (RDG) be, and it is hereby, authorized to operate over tracks of the Penn Central Transportation Company, Robert W. Blanchette, Richard C. Bond, and John H. McArthur, Trustees (PC) in Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

(b) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply to intrastate, interstate, and foreign traffic.

(c) Rates applicable. Inasmuch as this operation by the RDG over tracks of the PC is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic moved by the RDG over these tracks of the PC shall be the rates which were applicable on the shipments at the time of shipment as originally routed.

(d) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a.m., August 1, 1975.

(e) Expiration date. The provisions of this order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., February 29, 1976, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended by order of this Commission.

(Secs. 1, 12, 15, and 17(2), 24 Stat. 379, 383, 384, as amended; (49 U.S.C. 1, 12, 15, and 17 (2)). Interprets or applies Secs. 1(10–17), 15(4), and 17(2), 40 Stat. 101, as amended, 54 Stat. 911; (49 U.S.C. 1(10–17), 15(4), and 17(2)).)

It is further ordered, That copies of this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association; and that notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing it with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

proposed rules

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains notices to the public of the proposed issuance of rules and regulations. The purpose of these notices is to give interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rule making prior to the adoption of the final rules.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Customs Service

[ 19 CFR Part 4 ]

VESSELS IN FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC TRADES

Customs Forms Used in Connection With the Entry and Clearance of Vessels

Notice is hereby given that under the authority of R.S. 251, as amended (19 U.S.C. 66), and sections 431 and 624, 46 Stat. 710, as amended, 759 (19 U.S.C. 1431, 1624), it is proposed to amend various sections of Part 4 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR Part 4), pertaining to Customs forms used in connection with the arrival and departure of vessels in foreign trade.

To further implement the Convention on Facilitation of International Maritime Traffic, the United States Customs Service proposes to substitute a standardized model cargo declaration form developed by the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO), as modified by the International Chamber of Shipping (ICS), for the present "Inward Foreign Manifest" and "Outward Foreign Manifest" forms now in use.[1]

It has been determined that the ICS standard manifest, which incorporates the IMCO Cargo Declaration, with some modifications, when presented with the other forms mentioned in § 4.7(a), Customs Regulations, will comply with laws and regulations administrered by the United States Customs Service relating to inward cargo manifests. Further, it has been determined that the modified form complies with laws and regulations administered by the United States Customs Service relating to outward cargo manifests.

The proposed amendments would establish and provide for the use of Customs Form 1302, "Cargo Declaration" and Customs Form 1305, "Cargo Declaration (outward with commercial forms)" to replace Customs Form 1374, "Outward Foreign Manifest", and Customs Forms 7527–A and 7527–B, "Inward Foreign Manifest", which would be abolished. Certain procedural changes necessitated by the foregoing changes would also be made.

In addition, it is proposed to amend § 4.7(a) of the Customs Regulations to clarify that a "Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade", Customs Form 1300, is included with the manifest documents. Although the master's oath has always been a part of the manifest, the oath was inadvertently omitted from the manifest requirements when Part 4 of the Customs Regulations was amended by T.D. 71–169 to provide for the use of three other IMCO model forms (Customs Form 1301, "General Declaration", Customs Form 1303, "Ship's Stores Declaration", and Customs Form 1304, "Crew's Effects Declaration").

It is also proposed to amend § 4.84(c) of the Customs regulations to include current administrative procedures for United States vessels transporting merchandise from a port in the United States to any noncontiguous territory of the United States (including Puerto Rico), or from Puerto Rico to the United States or any other noncontiguous territory of the United States. Although the formal clearance requirements for such trade were eliminated pursuant to Pub. L. 87–826, effective April 13, 1963, the proposed amendment to this section will clarify this matter by setting forth the simplified procedures now followed relating to requests for permission for certain vessels to depart.

In addition, it is proposed to revise §§ 4.33 and 4.34 of the Customs Regulations to clarify the former provisions. No substantive changes have been made in the procedures described therein.

Accordingly, it is proposed to amend various sections of Part 4 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR Part 4) in the following manner:

It is proposed to amend the sections as follows:

1. Paragraph (a) of § 4.7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 4.7 Inward manifest; production on demand; contents and form.

(a) The master of every vessel arriving in the United States and required to make entry shall have on board his vessel a manifest, as required by section 431, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1431),[1] and by this section. The manifest shall be legible and complete. If it is in a foreign language, an English translation shall be furnished with the original and with any required copies. The manifest shall consist of a Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300, a General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, and the following documents: (1) Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, (2) Ship's Stores, Declaration, Customs Form 1303, (3) Crew's Effects Declaration, Customs Form 1304, or, optionally, a copy of the Crew List, Customs and Immigration Form I–418, to which are attached crewmember's declarations on Customs Form 5129, (4) Crew List, Customs and Immigration Form I–418, and (5) Passenger List, Customs and Immigration Form I–418. Any document which is not required may be omitted from the manifest provided the word "None" is inserted in items 17–22 of the General Declaration, as appropriate. If a vessel arrives in ballast and therefore the Cargo Declaration is omitted, the legend "No merchandise on board" shall be inserted in item 13 of the General Declaration.

2. It is proposed to amend the section heading, the first sentence, and paragraph (c) of § 4.7a to read as follows:

The forms designated by § 4.7(a) as comprising the inward manifest shall be completed as follows:

* * * * * *

(c) Cargo Declaration. (1) The Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, shall list all the inward foreign cargo on board regardless of the port of discharge. The block designated "Arrival" at the top of the form shall be checked. The goods described in column numbers 6, 7, and 8 shall refer to the respective bills of lading.

(2) When inward foreign cargo is being shipped by container, the number of the container and the number of the container seal shall be listed in column number 6. Information on each bill of lading in a container must be shown on the Cargo Declaration immediately following the information on the first-listed bill of lading in the container. Ditto marks may be used in column number 6 for the second and each subsequent bill of lading in the container in lieu of repeating the numbers in that column.

(3) For shipments of containerized or palletized cargo, Customs officers shall accept a Cargo Declaration which indicates that it has been prepared on the basis of information furnished by the shipper. The use of words of qualification shall not limit the responsibility of a master to submit accurate Cargo Declarations or qualify the oath taken by the master as to the accuracy of his declaration.

(i) If the Cargo Declaration covers only containerized or palletized cargo, the following statement may be placed on the declaration:

The information appearing on the declaration relating to the quantity and description of the cargo is in each instance based on the shipper's load and count. I have no knowledge or information which would lead me to believe or to suspect that the information furnished by the shipper is incomplete, inaccurate, or false in any way.

(ii) If the Cargo Declaration covers conventional cargo and containerized or palletized cargo, or both, the use of the abbreviation "SLAC" for "shipper's load and count," or an appropriate abbreviation if similar words are used, is approved, provided the abbreviation is placed next to each containerized or palletized shipment on the declaration and the following statement is placed on the declaration:

The information appearing on this declaration relating to the quantity and description of cargo preceded by the abbreviation "SLAC" is in each instance based on the shipper's load and count. I have no information which would lead me to believe or to suspect that the information furnished by the shipper is incomplete, inaccurate, or false in any way.

(iii) The statements specified in subparagraphs (3)(i) and (3)(ii) of this paragraph shall be placed on the last page of the Cargo Declaration. Words similar to "the shipper's load and count" may be substituted for those words in the statements. Vague expressions such as "said to contain" or "accepted as containing" are not acceptable. The use of an asterisk or other character instead of appropriate abbreviations, such as "SLAC", is not acceptable.

3. Section 4.33 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.33 Diversion of cargo.

(a) Unlading at other than original port of destination. A vessel may unlade cargo or baggage at an alternative port of entry to the port of original destination if:

(1) It is compelled by any cause to put into the alternative port and the district director of the port issues a permit for the unlading of cargo or baggage; or

(2) As a result of an emergency existing at the port of destination, the district director authorizes the vessel to proceed in accordance with the residue cargo bond procedure to the alternative port. The owner or agent of the vessel shall apply for such authorization in writing, stating the reasons and agreeing to hold the district director and the Government harmless for the diversion.

(b) Disposition of cargo or baggage at emergency port. Cargo and baggage unladen at the alternative port under the circumstances set forth in paragraph (a) of this section may be:

(1) Entered in the same manner as other imported cargo or baggage;

(2) Treated as unclaimed and stored at the risk and expense of its owner; or

(3) Reladen upon the same vessel without entry, for transportation to its original destination.

(c) Substitution of ports of discharge on manifest. After entry, the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, of a vessel may be changed at any time to permit discharge of manifested cargo at any domestic port in lieu of any other port shown on the Cargo Declaration, if:

(1) A written application for the diversion is made on the amended Cargo Declaration by the master, owner, or agent of the vessel to the district director of the port where the vessel is located, after entry of the vessel at that port;

(2) An amended Cargo Declaration, under oath, covering the cargo which it is desired to divert, is furnished in support of the application and is filed in such number of copies as the district director shall require for local Customs purposes; and

(3) The certified traveling manifest is not altered or added to in any way by the master, owner, or agent of the vessel. When an application under paragraph (c)(1) of this section is approved, the district director shall securely attach an approved copy of the amended manifest to the traveling manifest and shall send one copy of the amended Cargo Declaration to the district director at the port where the vessel's bond was filed.

(d) Retention of cargo on board for later return to the United States. If, as the result of a strike or other emergency at a United States port for which inward foreign cargo is manifested, it is desired to retain the cargo on board the vessel for discharge at a foreign port but with the purpose of having the cargo returned to the United States, an application may be made by the master, owner, or agent of the vessel to amend the vessel's Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, under a procedure similar to that described in paragraph (c) of this section, except that a foreign port shall be substituted for the domestic port of discharge. If the application is approved, it shall be handled in the same manner as an application filed under paragraph (c) of this section. However, before approving the application, the district director is authorized to require such bond as he deems necessary to insure that export control laws and regulations are not circumvented.

4. Section 4.34 paragraphs (a)–(g) would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.34 Prematurely landed, overcarried, and undelivered cargo.

(a) Prematurely landed cargo. Upon receipt of a satisfactory written application from the owner or agent of a vessel establishing that cargo was prematurely landed and left behind by the importing vessel through error or emergency, the district director may permit inward foreign cargo remaining on the dock to be reladen on the next available vessel owned or chartered by the owner of the importing vessel for transportation to the destination shown on the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, of the first vessel, provided the importing vessel actually entered the port of destination of the prematurely landed cargo. Unless so forwarded within 30 days from the date of landing, the cargo shall be appropriately entered for Customs clearance or for forwarding in bond; otherwise, it shall be sent to general order as unclaimed. If the merchandise is so entered for Customs clearance at the port of unlading, or if it is so forwarded in bond, other than by the importing vessel or by another vessel owned or chartered by the owner of the importing vessel, representatives of the importing vessel shall file at the port of unlading a Cargo Declaration in duplicate listing the cargo. The district director shall retain the original and forward the duplicate to the district director at the originally intended port of discharge.

(b) Overcarried cargo. Upon receipt of a satisfactory written application by the owner or agent of a vessel establishing that cargo was not landed at its destination and was overcarried to another domestic port through error or emergency, the district director may permit the cargo to be returned in the importing vessel, or in another vessel owned or chartered by the owner of the importing vessel, to the destination shown on the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, of the importing vessel, provided the importing vessel actually entered the port of destination.[2]

(c) Inaccessibly-stowed cargo. Cargo so stowed as to be inaccessible upon arrival at destination may be retained on board, carried forward to another domestic port or ports, and returned to the port of destination in the importing vessel or in another vessel owned or chartered by the owner of the importing vessel in the same manner as other overcarried cargo.

(d) Application for forwarding cargo. When it is desired that prematurely landed cargo, overcarried cargo, or cargo so stowed as to be inaccessible, be forwarded to its destination by the importing vessel or by another vessel owned or chartered by the owner of the importing vessel in accordance with paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section, the required application shall be filed with the local district director at the port of premature landing or overcarriage by the owner or agent of the vessel. The application shall be supported by a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, in such number of copies as the district director may require. Whenever practicable, the application shall be made on the face of the Cargo Declaration below the description of the merchandise. The application shall specify the vessel on which the cargo was imported, even though the forwarding to destination is by another vessel owned or chartered by the owner of the importing vessel, and all ports of departure and dates of sailing of the importing vessel. The application shall be stamped and signed to show that it has been approved.

(e) Manifesting prematurely landed or overcarried cargo. One copy of the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, shall be certified by Customs for use as a substitute traveling manifest for the prematurely landed or overcarried cargo being forwarded as residue cargo, whether or not the forwarding vessel is also carrying other residue cargo. If the application for forwarding is made on the Cargo Declaration, the new substitute traveling manifest shall be stamped to show the approval of the application. If the application is on a separate document, a copy thereof, stamped to show its approval, shall be attached to the substitute traveling manifest. An appropriate cross-reference shall be placed on the original traveling manifest to show that the vessel has one or more substitute traveling manifests. A permit to proceed endorsed on a General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, issued to the vessel transporting the prematurely landed or overcarried cargo to its destination shall make reference to the nature of such cargo, identifying it with the importing vessel.

(f) Residue cargo procedure. A vessel with prematurely landed or overcarried cargo on board shall comply upon arrival at all domestic ports of call with all the requirements of Part 4 relating to foreign residue cargo for domestic ports. The substitute traveling manifest, carried forward from port to port by the oncarrying vessel, shall be finally surrendered at the port where the last portion of the prematurely landed or overcarried cargo is discharged.

(g) Cargo undelivered at foreign port and returned to the United States. Merchandise shipped from a domestic port, but undelivered at the foreign destination and returned, shall be manifested as "Undelivered—to be returned to original foreign destination," if such a return is intended. The district director may issue a permit to retain the merchandise on board, or he may, upon written application of the steamship company, issue a permit on a Delivery Ticket, Customs Form 6043, allowing the merchandise to be transferred to another vessel for return to the original foreign destination. No charge shall be made against the vessel bond. The items shall be remanifested outward and an explanatory reference of the attending circumstances and compliance with export requirements noted.

5. Paragraph (b) of § 4.38 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.38 Release of cargo.

* * * * *

(b) When packages of merchandise bear marks or numbers which differ from those appearing on the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, of the importing vessel for the same packages and the importer or a receiving bonded carrier, with the concurrence of the importing carrier, makes application for their release under such marks or numbers, either for consumption or for transportation in bond under an entry filed therefor at the port of discharge from the importing vessel, the district director may approve the application upon condition that (1) the contents of the packages be identified with an invoice or transportation entry as set forth below, and (2) the applicant furnish at his own expense any bonded cartage or lighterage service which the granting of the application may require. The application shall be in writing in such number of copies as may be required for local Customs purposes. Before permitting delivery of packages under such an application, the district director shall cause such examination thereof to be made as will reasonably identify the contents with the invoice filed with the consumption entry. If the merchandise is entered for transportation in bond without the filing of an invoice, such examination shall be made as will reasonably identify the contents of the packages with the transportation entry.

* * * * * *

6. Paragraph (a) of § 4.41 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.41 Cargo of wrecked vessel.

(a) Any cargo landed from a vessel wrecked in the waters of the United States or on the high seas shall be subject at the port of entry to the same entry requirements and privileges as the cargo of a vessel regularly arriving in the foreign trade. In lieu of a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, to cover such cargo, the owner, underwriter (if the merchandise has been abandoned to him), or the salvor of the merchandise shall make written application for permission to enter the wrecked cargo, and any such applicant shall be regarded as the consignee of the merchandise for Customs purposes.[78]

* * * * * *

7. Paragraph (b) (2) of § 4.61 would be to read as follows:

§ 4.61 Requirements for clearance.

* * * * * *

(b) * * *

(2) Outward Cargo Declarations; shippers' export declarations (§ 4.63).

* * * * * *

8. Section 4.62 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.62 Accounting for inward cargo.

Inward cargo discrepancies shall be accounted for and adjusted by correction of the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, but the vessel may be cleared and the adjustment deferred if the discharging officer's report has not been received. (See § 4.12)

9. Section 4.63 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.63 Outward Cargo Declaration; shippers' export declarations.

(a) No vessel shall be cleared directly for a foreign port, or for a foreign port by way of another domestic port or other domestic ports (see § 4.87(b)), unless there has been filed with the district director at the port from which clearance is being obtained (1) a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, or, in lieu thereof, a Cargo Declaration (outward with commercial forms), Customs Form 1305, covering all the cargo laden aboard the vessel at that port, together with a properly executed Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300, and such export declarations as are required by pertinent regulations of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, or (2) an incomplete Cargo Declaration as provided for in § 4.75. The block designated "Departure" at the top of the Cargo Declaration shall be checked. Only items numbered 1 through 7 must be completed on the Cargo Declaration.

(b) Except as hereinafter stated, the number of the export declaration covering each shipment for which an authenticated export declaration is required shall be shown on the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305, in the marginal column headed "B/L No." If an export declaration is not required for a shipment, a notation shall be made on the Cargo Declaration describing the basis for the exemption with a reference to the number of the section in the Census Regulations (see §§ 30.39 and 30.50–30.57, title 15, Code of Federal Regulations) where the particular exemption is provided. Where shipments are exempt on the basis of value and destination, the appearance of the value and destination on a bill of lading or other commercial form is acceptable as evidence of the exemption and reference to the applicable section in the Census Regulations is not required.

(c) The list of cargo may be shown on bills of lading, cargo lists, or other commercial forms, provided that:

(1) The Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305, is completely executed except for particulars as to cargo;

(2) The commercial forms are securely attached to the Cargo Declaration in such manner as to constitute one document;

(3) The commercial forms are incorporated by a suitable reference on the face of the Cargo Declaration such as "Cargo as per attached commercial forms;" and

(4) There is shown on the face of each such commercial form the information required by the Cargo Declaration for the cargo covered by that form.

(d) For each shipment to be exported under an entry or withdrawal for exportation or for transportation and exportation, the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305, or commercial document attached to the Cargo Declaration and made a part thereof in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section shall clearly show for such shipment the number, date, and class of such Customs entry or withdrawal (i.e., T. & E., Wd. T. & E., I.E., Wd. Ex., or Wd. T., as applicable) and the name of the port where the entry or withdrawal was filed if other than the port where the merchandise is laden for exportation.

(e) Customs officers shall accept a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305, covering containerized or palletized cargo which indicates by the use of appropriate words of qualification (see § 4.7 a(c)(3)) that the declaration has been prepared on the basis of information furnished by the shipper.

10. Section 4.75 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.75 Incomplete Cargo Declaration; incomplete export declarations; bond.

(a) If a master desiring to clear his vessel for a foreign port does not have available for filing with the district director a complete Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see § 4.63)[106] or all required shippers' export declarations,[107] the district director may accept in lieu thereof an incomplete manifest on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, if there is on file in his office a bond on Customs Form 7567 or Customs Form 7569 executed by the vessel owner or some other person as attorney in fact for the vessel owner. The legend, "This incomplete Cargo Declaration is filed in accordance with § 4.75, Customs Regulations," shall be inserted in item 16 of the General Declaration. The form shall be appropriately modified to indicate that it is an incomplete Cargo Declaration, and the Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300, (see § 4.63(a)) shall be executed.

(b) Not later than the fourth business day after clearance[108] from each port in the vessel's itinerary, the master, or the vessel's agent on behalf of the master, shall deliver to the district director at each port a complete Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305, in accordance with § 4.63, of the cargo laden at such port together with duplicate copies of all required shippers' export declarations for such cargo and a General Declaration, Customs Form 1301. The oath of the master or agent on the Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300 (see § 4.63(a)) shall be properly executed before acceptance.

(c) During any period covered by a finding by the President under section 1 of the Act of June 15, 1917, as amended (50 U.S.C. 191), that the security of the United States is endangered by reason of actual or threatened war, or invasion, or insurrection, or subversive activity, or of disturbance or threatened disturbances of the international relations of the United States, no vessel shall be cleared for a foreign port until a complete Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see § 4.63), and all required export declarations have been filed with the district director, unless clearance in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section is authorized by the Commissioner of Customs.[109]

11. Paragraph (e) of § 4.81 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.81 Reports of arrivals and departures in coastwise trade.

* * * * * *

(e) Before any foreign vessel shall depart in ballast, or solely with articles to be transported in accordance with section 4.93, from any port in the United States for any other such port, the master shall apply to the district director for a permit to proceed by filing a General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, in duplicate. If a vessel is proceeding in ballast and therefore the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, is omitted, the word "None" shall be inserted in item 17 of the General Declaration and the words "No merchandise on board" shall be inserted in item 13 of the General Declaration. However, articles to be transported in accordance with § 4.93 shall be manifested on a Cargo Declaration, as required by § 4.93(c). Three copies of the Cargo Declaration shall be filed with the district director. The required master's oath shall be executed on the Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300, (see § 4.63(a)). When the district director grants the permit by making an appropriate endorsement on the General Declaration, (see § 4.85(b)), the duplicate copy, together with two copies of the Cargo Declaration covering articles to be transported in accordance with § 4.93, shall be returned to the master. The traveling Crew's Effects Declaration, Customs Form 1304, and all unused crewmembers' declarations on Customs Form 5123 or Customs Form 5129 shall be placed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Customs boarding officer at the next intended domestic port and returned to the master for delivery. The master shall execute a receipt for all unused crewmembers' declarations which are returned to him. Within 24 hours after arrival at the next United States port the master shall report his arrival to the district director. He shall make entry within 48 hours by filing with the district director the permit to proceed on the General Declaration received at the previous port, a newly executed General Declaration, a Crew's Effects Declaration of all unentered articles acquired abroad by crewmembers which are still on board, a Ship's Stores Declaration, Customs Form 1303, in duplicate, of the stores remaining on board, both copies of the Cargo Declaration covering articles transported in accordance with § 4.93, and the document of the vessel. The required master's oath shall be executed on the Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade (see § 4.63(a)). The traveling Crew's Effects Declaration and all unused crewmembers' declarations on Customs Form 5123 or Customs Form 5129 returned at the prior port to the master shall be delivered by him to the boarding officer.

12. Section 4.82 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.82 Touching at foreign port while in coastwise trade.

(a) A vessel under unlimited register or frontier enrollment and license which, during a voyage between ports in the United States, touches at one or more foreign ports and there discharges or takes on merchandise, passengers, baggage, or mail[112] shall obtain a permit to proceed or clearance at each port of lading in the United States for the foreign port or ports at which it is intended to touch. The Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see § 4.63), shall show only the cargo for foreign destination. (See §§ 4.61 and 4.87.)

(b) The master shall also present to the district director a coastwise Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, in triplicate, of the merchandise to be transported via the foreign port or ports to the subsequent ports in the United States. It shall describe the merchandise and show the marks and numbers of the packages, the names of the shippers and consignees, and the destinations. The district director shall certify the two copies and return them to the master. Merchandise carried by the vessel in bond under a Transportation Entry and Manifest, Customs Form 7512, shall not be shown on the coastwise Cargo Declaration.

(c) Upon arrival from the foreign port or ports at the subsequent port in the United States, a report of arrival and entry of the vessel shall be made, and tonnage taxes shall be paid unless the vessel is under a frontier enrollment and license. The master shall present a Cargo Declaration in accordance with § 4.7 and the certified copies of the coastwise Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302.

(d) All merchandise on the vessel upon its arrival at the subsequent port in the United States is subject to such Customs examination and treatment as may be necessary to protect the revenue. Any article on board which is not identified to the satisfaction of the district director, by the Coastwise Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, or otherwise, as part of the coastwise cargo, shall be treated as imported merchandise.[113]

13. Paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 4.84 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.84 Trade with noncontiguous territory.

* * * * * *

(c) A vessel which is not required to clear but which is transporting merchandise from a port in any State or the District of Columbia to any noncontiguous territory of the United States (including Puerto Rico), or from Puerto Rico to any State or the District of Columbia or any other noncontiguous territory of the United States, shall not be permitted to depart without filing a complete Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, when required by regulations of the Bureau of the Census (15 CFR Part 30), and all required shipper's export declarations, unless before the vessel departs an approved bond is filed for the timely production of the required documents, as specified in § 30.24 of those regulations (15 CFR 30.24). Requests for permission to depart may be written or oral and permission to depart shall be granted orally by the appropriate Customs officer. However, if the request is to depart prior to the filing of the required manifest and export declarations, permission shall not be granted unless the appropriate bond is on file. In the latter case, the Customs officer shall keep a simplified record of the necessary information in order to assure that the manifest and export declarations are filed within the required time period. The Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300 (see § 4.63(a)), required at the time of clearance is not required to be taken to obtain permission to depart.

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

(d) Upon arrival of a vessel of the United States at a port in any State, the District of Columbia, or Puerto Rico from a port in noncontiguous territory of the United States other than Puerto Rico, the master shall report its arrival within 24 hours and shall prepare, produce, and file a Cargo Declaration in the form and manner and at the times specified in §§ 4.7 and 4.9, but shall not be required to make entry. If the vessel proceeds directly to another port in any State, the District of Columbia, or Puerto Rico, the master shall prepare, produce, and file a Cargo Declaration in the form and manner and at the times specified in § 4.85, but no permit to proceed on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, shall be required for the purposes of this paragraph. No cargo shall be unladen from any such vessel until Cargo Declarations have been filed and a permit to unlade has been issued in accordance with the procedure specified in § 4.30.

• • • • •

14. Paragraph (c) of § 4.85 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.85 Vessels with residue cargo for domestic ports.

• • • • •

(c) Upon the arrival of a vessel at the next and each succeeding domestic port with inward foreign cargo or passengers still on board, the master shall report arrival and make entry within 24 hours. To make such entry, he shall deliver to the district director the vessel's document, the permit to proceed (Customs Form 1301 endorsed in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section), the traveling manifest, and the traveling Crew's Effects Declaration, Customs Form 1304, together with the crewmembers' declarations received on departure from the previous port. The master shall also present an abstract manifest consisting of (1) a newly executed General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, (2) a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, and a Passenger List, Customs and Immigration Form I–418, in such number of copies as may be required for local Customs purposes, of any cargo or passengers on board manifested for discharge at that port, (3) a Crew's Effects Declaration in duplicate of all unentered articles acquired abroad by officers and crewmembers which are still on board, (4) a Ship's Stores Declaration, Customs Form 1303, in duplicate, of the sea or ship's stores remaining on board, and (5) if applicable, the Cargo Declaration required by § 4.86(b). If no inward foreign cargo or passengers are to be discharged, the Cargo Declaration or Passenger List may be omitted from the abstract manifest, and the following legend shall be placed in item 12 of the General Declaration:

Vessel on an inward foreign voyage with residue cargo/passenger for ----------
No cargo or passengers for discharge at this port.

The required master's oath shall be executed on the Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300 (see § 4.63(a)). The traveling manifest, together with a copy of the newly executed General Declaration, shall serve the purpose of a copy of an abstract manifest at the port where it is finally surrendered.

15. Section 4.86 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.86 Intercoastal residue cargo procedure; optional ports.

(a) When a vessel arrives at an Atlantic or Pacific coast port from a foreign port or ports with residue cargo for delivery at a port or ports on the opposite coast or on the Great Lakes, or where such arrival is at a port on the Great Lakes, with residue cargo for delivery at a port or ports on the Atlantic or Pacific coast, or both, and the master, owner, or agent is unable at that time to designate the specific port or ports of discharge of the residue cargo, the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, filed on entry in accordance with § 4.7(b), shall show such cargo as destined for "optional ports, Atlantic coast," or, "optional ports, Pacific coast," or, "optional ports, Great Lakes coast," as the case may be. The traveling manifest shall be similarly noted.

(b) Upon arrival of the vessel at the first port on the next coast, the master, owner, or agent shall designate the port or ports of discharge of residue cargo, as required by section 431, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1431). For this purpose, the master shall furnish with the other papers required upon entry a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, in an original only, of the inward foreign cargo remaining on board for discharge at optional ports on that coast, and the Cargo Declaration shall designate the specific ports of intended discharge for that cargo. The traveling manifest shall be amended to agree with that Cargo Declaration so as to show the newly designated ports of discharge on that coast and shall be used to verify the abstract Cargo Declarations surrendered at subsequent ports on that coast.

16. Section 4.87 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.87 Vessels proceeding foreign via domestic ports.

(a) Any foreign vessel or vessel of the United States under register or frontier enrollment and license may proceed from port to port in the United States to lade cargo or passengers for foreign ports.

(b) When applying for a clearance from the first and each succeeding port of lading, the master shall present to the district director a General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, in duplicate, and a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305, in accordance with § 4.63(a), of all the cargo laden for export at that port. The General Declaration shall clearly indicate all previous ports of lading. The required mater's oath shall be executed on the Master's Oath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300 (see § 4.63(a)).

(c) Upon compliance with the applicable provisions of § 4.61, the district director shall grant the permit to proceed by making the endorsement prescribed by § 4.85(b) on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301. One copy shall be returned to the master, together with the vessel's document if on deposit. The traveling Crew's Effects Declaration, Customs Form 1304, together with any unused crewmembers' declarations, shall be placed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Customs boarding officer at the next domestic port and returned to the master.

(d) On arrival at the next and each succeeding domestic port, the master shall report arrival within 24 hours. He shall also make entry within 48 hours by presenting the vessel's document, the permit to proceed on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, received by him upon departure from the last port, a Crew's Effects Declaration, Customs Form 1304, in duplicate, listing all unentered articles acquired abroad by officers and crew of the vessel which are still retained on board, and a Ship's Stores Declaration, Customs Form 1303, in duplicate, of the stores remaining aboard. The master shall also execute a General Declaration. The required master's oath shall be on the Master's bath on Entry of Vessel in Foreign Trade, Customs Form 1300 (see § 4.63 (a)). The traveling Crew's Effects Declaration, together with any unused crewmembers' declarations returned to the master at the prior port, shall be delivered by him to the district director.

(e) Clearance shall be granted at the final port of departure from the United States in accordance with § 4.61.

(f) If a complete Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see § 4.63), and all required shipper's export declarations are not available for filing before departure of a vessel from any port, clearance on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301 (Customs Form 1378 at the last port) may be granted in accordance with § 4.75, subject to the limitation specified in § 4.75(c).

(g) When the procedure outlined in paragraph (f) of this section is followed at any port, the owner or agent of the vessel shall deliver to the district director at that port within 4 business days after the vessel's clearance 118 a Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see section 4.63), and the export declarations to cover the cargo laden for export at that port.

17. Paragraph (c) of § 4.88 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.88 Vessels with residue cargo for foreign ports.

• • • • •

(c) If the vessel clears directly foreign from the first port of arrival, cargo brought from foreign ports and retained on board may be declared on the Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see § 4.63), by the insertion of the following statement:

All cargo declared on entry in this port as cargo for discharge at foreign ports and so shown on the Cargo Declaration filed upon entry has been and is retained on board.

If any such cargo has been landed, the Cargo Declaration shall describe each item of the cargo from a foreign port which has been retained on board (see § 4.63(a)).

• • • • •

18. Section 4.89 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.89 Vessels in foreign trade proceeding via domestic ports and touching at intermediate foreign ports.

(a) A vessel proceeding from port to port in the United States in accordance with § 4.85, 4.86, or 4.87 may touch at an intermediate foreign port or ports to lade or discharge cargo or passengers. In such a case the vessel shall obtain clearance from the last port of departure in the United States before proceeding to the intermediate foreign port or ports at which it is intended to touch. The Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302 or 1305 (see § 4.63), shall show the cargo for such foreign destination in the manner provided in § 4.88(c).

(b) The master shall also present to the district director the Cargo Declaration or Cargo Declarations required by § 4.85, 4.86, or 4.87, and obtain a permit to proceed on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, to the next port in the United States at which the vessel will touch.

(c) Upon arrival at the next port in the United States after touching at a foreign port or ports, a report of arrival and entry shall be made. The Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, filed at time of entry shall list the cargo laden at the intermediate foreign port or ports.

(d) The master shall also present to the district director the permit to proceed on the General Declaration, Customs Form 1301, and the Cargo Declaration from the last previous port in the United States as provided for in § 4.85, 4.86, or 4.87.

19. Paragraph (c) of § 4.91 would be revised to read as follows:

§ 4.91 Diversion of vessel; transshipment of cargo.

• • • • •

(c) In a case of necessity, a district director may grant an application on Customs Form 3171 of the owner or agent of an established line for permission to transship [1a] all cargo and passengers from one vessel of the United States to another such vessel under Customs supervision, if the first vessel is transporting residue cargo for domestic or foreign ports or is on an outward foreign voyage or a voyage to noncontiguous territory of the United States, and is following the procedure prescribed in § 4.85, 4.87, or 4.88. When inward foreign cargo or passengers are so transshipped to another vessel, a separate traveling manifest (Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, or Passenger List, Customs and Immigration Form I–418) shall be used for the transshipped cargo or passengers, whether or not the forwarding vessel is also carrying other residue cargo or passengers. An appropriate cross-reference shall be made on the separate traveling manifest to show whether any other traveling manifest is being carried forward on the same vessel.

20. Paragraph (c) of § 4.93 is revised to read as follows:

§ 4.93 Coastwise transportation of containers by certain vessels; procedures.

• • • • •

(c) Any Cargo Declaration, Customs Form 1302, required to be filed under this part by any foreign vessel shall describe any article mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section laden aboard and transported from one United States port to another, giving its identifying number or symbols, if any, or such other identifying data as may be appropriate; the names of the shipper and consignee, and the destination. The Cargo Declaration shall include a statement (1) that the articles specified in paragraph (a)(1) of this section are owned or leased by the owner or operator of the transporting vessel and are transported for his use in handling his cargo in foreign trade; or (2) that the stevedoring equipment and material (paragraph (a)(2) of this section) is owned or leased by the owner or operator of the transporting vessel, or is owned or leased by the stevedoring company contracting for the lading or unlading of that vessel, and is transported without charge for use in the handling of cargo in foreign trade. If the district director at the port of lading is satisfied that there will be sufficient control over the coastwise transportation of the article without identifying it by number or symbol or such other identifying data on the Cargo Declaration, he may permit the use of a Cargo Declaration that does not include such information. This shall only be permitted if the Cargo Declaration includes a statement that the district director at the port of unlading shall be presented a statement at the time of entry of the vessel that shall list the identifying number or symbol or other appropriate identifying data for the article to be unladen at the port. Applicable penalties under section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1584), shall be assessed for violation of this paragraph.

22. Section 4.99 would be revised to read as follows:

Customs Forms 1300, 1301, 1302, 1303, 1304 and 1305 printed by private parties or foreign governments shall be accepted provided the forms so printed conform to the official Customs forms in size (except that such forms may be up to 14 inches in length or may be reduced in size to not less than 11 inches by 8½ inches), wording, arrangement, style, size of type and paper specifications. Forms not complying with the requirements of this section are not acceptable without the specific approval of the Commissioner of Customs. If instructions are printed on the reverse of any of the official Customs forms, such instructions may be omitted (although such instructions must be followed).

Sample copies of proposed Customs Forms 1302, "Cargo Declaration", and 1305, "Cargo Declaration (outward with commercial forms)", have been filed with this notice in the Office of the Federal Register and may be obtained from the office of any regional commissioner of Customs.

Data, views, or arguments with respect to the foregoing proposals may be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, Attention: Regulations Division, Washington, D.C. 20229. To insure consideration of such communications, they must be received not later than October 6, 1975.

Written material or suggestions submitted will be available for public inspection in accordance with § 103.8(b) of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 103.8 (b)), at the Regulations Division, Headquarters, United States Customs Service, Washington, D.C., during regular business hours.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[ 7 CFR Part 52 ]

REGULATIONS GOVERNING INSPECTION AND CERTIFICATION

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering revisions to the Regulations Governing Inspection and Certification of Processed Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products (7 CFR, 52.1–52.83) pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (Sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1087, et seq. as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1621 et. seq.).

The Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 provides for the issuance of official United States grades to designate different quality levels for the voluntary use of producers, buyers, and consumers. Official grading services are also provided for under this Act upon request and payment of the fee to cover the cost of such services.

Interested persons desiring to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposals should file the same, in duplicate, not later than September 8, 1975, with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112 Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public review at the office of the Hearing Clerk during business hours (7 CFR, 1.27 (b)).

NOTE: Compliance with the provisions of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, or with applicable State laws and regulations.

Statements of consideration leading to the amendment of the regulations. The proposed amendments to the Regulations Governing Inspection and Certification of Processed Fruits and Vegetables and Related Products include: (1) Revised and additional definitions of terms for the types of Inspection Services; (2) Revised sampling plans; (3) Inclusion of new inspection marks; and (4) Revised rules for the use of the sampling mark.

The previously defined pack certification inspection service was limited to designated lots. The pack certification type service is being expanded to include a "Quality Assurance" type of inspection contract.

This type of inspection has been requested by some users of the inspection service to minimize duplication of inspection efforts between plant quality control and AMS and to reduce inspection costs.

This type of service will provide assurance to the processor that their own quality control efforts are adequate and that their evaluations of product characteristics can be relied upon.

In § 52.38 Table III, for Group 2 and 3 the "3 pound" reference is changed to 60 ounces. A common can size included in Group 2 sampling includes a can size which, when filled with certain products, may have a net weight slightly in excess of 48 ounces. This proposed increase in the Group 2 maximum weight does not change the sampling rate, but is intended to include this can size in Group 2 regardless of variations in net weight due to types of products contained within.

Tables IV and V in § 52.38 would be amended by adding provisions for a smaller sample size for on-line inspection than for lot inspection. The smaller sample is practical because the on-line inspection includes additional information on the product from raw material through to the finished product.

A new inspection mark is proposed in § 52.52 so that plants operating under the new "Quality Assurance" type inspection contract may distinguish their product with an approved identification. It is the policy of the Department to provide inspection marks whereby products packed under or monitored by various USDA inspection services may be so identified in the commercial trade.

The "officially sampled" mark has always been available to identify a product that has been officially sampled and inspected by the Department. The current regulations prohibit placing this stamp on any case with a grade designation on it or the packages within, until the product has been graded to verify that it meets the declared grade.

This restriction would be deleted thereby promoting a more economical, efficient and orderly conduct of the inspection service.

This would be accomplished by:

(1) Re-emphasizing the fact that the sampling mark denotes only that a particular lot was "officially sampled." The sampling mark was not intended to indicate compliance or non-compliance with a specification, requirement, regulation, or label declaration.

(2) Reducing the applicant inspection costs in those instances where cases were not stamped at time of sampling and a return trip was required.

(3) Permitting the stamping of lots at time of sampling so that positive identification can be maintained. This is an important aspect in those situations where control of the lot by the Department is necessary or required.

The proposed amendments to 7 CFR Part 52 are as follows:

1. In § 52.2 paragraph (c) would be revised to read as follows:

§ 52.2 Terms defined.

* * * * *

Inspection services; types of (a) * * *

* * * * *

(c) "Pack Certification" is the conduct of inspection and grading services in an approved plant whereby one or more inspectors may make inspections of the preparation and processing of products but are not required to be present at all times the plant is in operation.

(1) Under a Designated Lot contract, inspectors will grade and certify only those lots designated by the applicant.

(2) Under a Quality Assurance contract, inspector(s) will use information available from the applicant's quality control records to certify lots, as requested, and will grade lots at random as often as necessary to verify the reliability of the applicant's quality control system.

2. In § 52.38, Table III, under the Group 2 and Group 3 headings in the first column, the "3 pound" reference would be changed to read "60 ounces."

3. Also in § 52.38, Tables IV and V would be revised by deleting the bottom row (headed "Sample Size-Acceptance Number") and substituting the following in both tables:

§ 52.38 Sampling plans and procedures determining lot compliance.

* * * * *

NOTE: There is no change proposed in the footnotes.

4. In § 52.53, paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) would be revised to read as follows:

§ 52.53 Approved identification.

(a) General. Use of the approved identification marks described and illustrated in figures 1 through 10 of this section is restricted to processed products that:

(1) Are clean, safe, and wholesome;

(2) Have been produced in an approved plant;

(3) Are truthfully and accurately labeled;

(4) Meet the quality requirements for U.S. Grade C or better;

(5) Meet applicable fill weight and/or drained weight, condition of container criteria, Brix or other characteristics of a commodity related to market value;

(6) Have been certified, or have been inspected and are eligible for certification, by an inspector; and, in addition, meet the specific requirements stated in (b), (c), and (d) of this section.

(b) Inspection (Continuous) grade and inspection marks. The official marks approved for use by plants operating under USDA continuous inspection service contracts shall be similar in form and design to the examples in figure 1 through 10 of this section; Provided: That the official marks illustrated by figures 8 and 9 are limited to products packed by plants operating under an approved Quality Assurance type of inspection contract: And provided further, That the inspection marks illustrated in figures 1 through 4 may only be used on products packed by plants operating under USDA continuous inspection.

DRIED PRUNES PRODUCED IN CALIFORNIA

Undersized Regulation and Salable and Reserve Percentages for the 1975–76 Crop Year

Notice is hereby given of a proposal recommended by the Prune Administrative Committee to: (1) Establish salable and reserve percentages of 100 percent and 0 percent, respectively, for the 1975–76 crop year; (2) modify the size openings prescribed in § 993.49(c) for the determination of undersized prunes; and (3) on the basis of this modification, establish an undersized prune regulation for prunes received by handlers from producers and dehydrators during the 1975–76 crop year. The proposals are in accordance with the provisions of the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 993, as amended (7 CFR Part 993), regulating the handling of dried prunes produced in California. The amended marketing agreement and order are effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674).

The Committee's recommendations are based on its estimate that California's 1975 dried prune production would approximate 145,000 natural condition (N.C.) tons, and that carryin on August 1, 1975, the beginning of the 1975–76 crop year, of salable prunes from 1974 production would be about 58,000 N.C. tons.

The estimated 1975 production, coupled with the estimated carryin would result in a supply exceeding 1975–76 trade demand for prunes by about 28,500 N.C. tons. However, the Committee recommended no volume regulation for the 1975–76 crop year. Instead, it recommended establishment of an undersized regulation applicable to all prunes received by handlers from producers and dehydrators during that crop year. The objective of the undersized regulation would be to remove the smallest—i.e., the least desirable—prunes from the 1975 crop. Handlers cannot market undersized prunes for human consumption, but can dispose of them in nonhuman consumption outlets such as livestock feed. The Committee estimated that the proposed undersized regulation would reduce the apparent excess of about 28,500 tons by approximately 10,000 tons, still leaving sufficient prunes to fulfill foreign and domestic trade demand during the 1975–76 crop year, and provide an adequate carryout on July 31, 1976.

Under the proposal, French variety prunes which pass freely through a screen opening 24/32 of an inch in diameter would be classified as undersized prunes. For non-French prunes, the opening would be 30/32 of an inch in diameter.

In order to establish such a regulation for the 1975–76 crop year, it would be necessary to modify the openings prescribed in § 993.49(c). Paragraph (c) provides, in part, that any undersized regulation shall provide that the diameter of the round opening for French prunes shall be 23/32 of an inch, and for non-French prunes 28/32 of an inch, or such larger openings as may be prescribed pursuant to § 993.52. Based on the authority in §§ 993.49(c) and 993.52, it is therefore proposed that a new § 993.400 be included in Subpart—Undersized Prune Regulation (7 CFR 993.401) modifying the openings prescribed in § 993.49(c) to permit undersized regulations using openings of 24/32 of an inch for French prunes, and 30/32 of an inch, for non-French prunes.

Consideration will be given to any written data, views, or arguments pertaining to the proposals which are received by the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, no later than August 21, 1975. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice should be in quadruplicate and will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 993.401) reading as follows:

The proposals follow:

1. Salable and reserve percentages for the 1975–76 crop year.

§ 993.211 Salable and reserve percentages for prunes for the 1975–76 crop year.

The salable and reserve percentages for the 1975–76 crop year shall be 100 percent and 0 percent, respectively.

2. Add a new § 993.400 to Subpart—Undersized Prune Regulation (7 CFR 993–401) reading as follows:

Pursuant to the authority in § 993.52, the provisions in § 993.49(c) prescribing size openings for undersized prune regulations are hereby modified to permit larger size openings. For French prunes, any undersized regulation may prescribe an opening of 23/32 of an inch or 24/32 of an inch; for non-French prunes, any undersized regulation may prescribe an opening of 28/32 of an inch or 30/32 of an inch.

3. The proposed undersized prune regulation for the 1975–76 crop year is as follows:

§ 993.402 Undersized prune regulation for the 1975–76 crop year.

Pursuant to §§ 993.49(c) and 993.52, an undersized prune regulation for the 1975–76 crop year is hereby established. Undersized prunes are prunes which pass freely through round openings as follows: For French prunes, 24/32 of an inch in diameter; for non-French prunes, 30/32 of an inch in diameter.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

Office of Education

[ 45 CFR Part 102 ]

STATE VOCATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

The following amendments to the regulations (45 CFR Part 102), which are applicable to programs of vocational education administered by State boards for vocational education under the Vocational Education Act of 1963, as amended (20 U.S.C. 1241 through 1393(f)), are proposed for the purpose of conforming the regulations to existing Departmental policy and of insuring effective coordination of vocational education programs conducted under the Vocational Educational Act with program activities provided under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), Pub. L. 93–203, (29 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) and the regulations issued thereunder by the Department of Labor (29 CFR Part 94).

The purpose of CETA is to provide job training and employment opportunities for economically disadvantaged, unemployed, and underemployed persons. Since there is considerable overlap in both CETA and vocational education target populations, it is proposed that the State's annual program plan required under the Vocational Education Act and the General Education Provisions Act provide for cooperative arrangements between the State board and the State Manpower Services Council established under the authority of section 107 of CETA. Accordingly, it is proposed to amend § 102.40 to assure that the State Manpower Services Council will be provided with an opportunity to comment on the development of the provisions of the annual program plan which relate to manpower services at the public hearing or prior to the public hearing mandated by § 102.31(e)(3).

Three other CETA related changes are proposed. First, § 102.3 would be expanded to include the definition of "Prime Sponsor", which is the governmental unit responsible for carrying out comprehensive manpower programs. Secondly, § 102.40(b) would be broadened in order to provide coordination with CETA prime sponsor manpower planners in the development of vocational education programs. Thirdly, § 102.51(a)(3) would be amended to indicate the repeal of the "Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962" and to clarify the exclusionary language of this provision. Although an implication might be read into section 122(a)(3) of the Act that trainees under CETA and the Trade Expansion Act must be excluded from vocational programs, Congressional intention was precisely the opposite. (109 Cong. Rec. 13476 (1963 (remarks of Representatives Perkins and Goodell)). The purpose for writing this exclusionary language was to prevent an overlapping in the actual availability of funds between vocational education and such other programs. Persons receiving training allowances under CETA or the Trade Expansion Act, therefore, are eligible for vocational education programs as long as funds authorized pursuant to such legislation supplement vocational funds rather than duplicate vocational funds.

A new provision is proposed in § 102.4 for related instruction to apprentices who are employed to learn trade skills. A list of assurances to be incorporated into the annual program plan is enumerated in § 102.4. These provisions should be read in conjunction with the Department of Labor's regulations on Apprenticeship (24 CFR Part 29).

In order to make more effective use of State advisory councils, an amendment to § 102.159(b) is proposed requiring that the recommendations of the State advisory council be considered by the State board in developing the annual program plan for the ensuing year and that a response in writing to each recommendation be included in the annual program plan. This proposed revision is identical to the addition to § 102.159 made in 37 FR 2882, but inadvertently omitted in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 24, 1974 at 39 FR 27086 and the final regulation published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 25, 1975 at 40 FR 8076.

Section 122(a)(4)(c) of the Vocational Education Act, as added by section 841(a)(5)(A) of Pub. L. 93-380 requires that funding to the States for the purpose of vocational education programs for students of limited English-speaking ability be carried out in coordination with bilingual education programs under Title VII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, and bilingual adult education programs under section 306(a)(1) of the Adult Education Act. Accordingly, § 102.6 was amended in 40 FR 8076 so that programs for disadvantaged or handicapped persons would include persons of limited English-speaking ability. It is now proposed that § 102.60(a)(2) also be amended so that local educational agencies will provide an assurance in their local application that any Federal funds received under Title VII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (Bilingual Education) will be so used that expenditures for program purposes will supplement each other and not amount to a duplication of effort.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed amendments to the U.S. Office of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Federal Office Building 6, Room 2085, Washington, D.C. 20202, Attention: Chairman, Office of Education Task Force on Rules and Regulations. All relevant material must be received not later than September 5, 1975. Comments received will be available for public inspection at the above office Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

CASPAR W. WEINBERGER,
Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The proposed amendments to Part 102 are as follows:

1. Section 102.3 is amended by adding a new definition to read as follows:

§ 102.3 Definitions.

* * * * * * *

"Prime Sponsor" means a unit of government, combinations of units of government, or a rural Concentrated Employment Program grantee (as set forth in 29 CFR § 95.3), which has entered into a grant with the Department of Labor to provide comprehensive manpower services under Title I of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

* * * * * * *

2. Section 102.4 is amended by adding the following paragraph at the end of paragraph (e).

§ 102.4 Vocational instruction.

* * * * * * *

(e-1) Apprenticeship programs. The annual program plan may provide for related instruction for apprentices who are employed to learn skilled trades. If such programs of instruction are offered, the annual program plan must set forth the following assurances:

(1) The vocational training is supplemental to the on-the-job training experience of the apprentice.

(2) The worker involved in the apprenticeable occupation must be at least 16 years of age, except where a higher minimum age standard is otherwise fixed by law.

(3) The apprentice training agreement must specify a given length of planned work experience training through employment on the job which is supplemented by related instruction.

(4) The skilled trade must possess all of the following characteristics:

(i) It is customarily learned in a practical way through training and work on the job;

(ii) It is clearly identified and commonly recognized throughout an industry; and

(iii) It involves manual, mechanical or technical skills and knowledge.

(5) Apprentices will be classified as follows:

(i) Registered. (a) Where the program or the apprentice, or both are registered under the apprenticeship law of the State in which the apprentice is employed;

(b) Where the program or the apprentice, or both, are registered by a State apprenticeship agency operating under powers vested in it by legally responsible State authority; and

(c) Where the program of the apprentice, or both, are registered by the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, U.S. Department of Labor, under "standards" or "fundamentals" approved by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship. Such registration or recognition exists only where neither conditions in paragraph (e-1)(5)(i)(a) nor paragraph (e-1)(5)(i)(b) of this section exist.

(ii) Non-registered. Where the program or the apprentice, or both, is not registered under any of the three conditions in paragraphs (e-1)(5)(i) (a), (b), and (c) of this section, but a non-certifiable apprenticeship program is conducted under an implied or written agreement between the apprentice and an individual employer, a group of employers, employer-employee committees, or a governmental agency.

(6) The standards of apprenticeship programs must adhere to the requirements outlined in 29 CFR Part 29 (Department of Labor Apprenticeship Programs).

(29 U.S.C. 50)

* * * * * * *

3. Section 102.40 is amended by adding the following paragraph at the end of paragraph (b) and by inserting the words "and prime sponsors" between the words "organizations" and "Copies" in paragraph (c).

§ 102.40 Cooperative arrangements.

* * * * * * *

(b-1) With State Manpower Services Council. The annual program plan shall provide for cooperative arrangements with the State Manpower Services Council created under the authority of section 107 of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (Pub. L. 93-203). In order to facilitate coordination of manpower activities within the State, the annual program plan shall set forth an assurance that the State Manpower Services Council will be provided with an opportunity to comment on the development of the annual program plan provisions which relate to manpower services at the public hearing or prior to the public hearing mandated by §102.31(e)(3).

* * * * * * *

4. Section 102.51(a)(3) is revised to read as follows:

§ 102.51 Allocation of funds to part B purposes.

(a) * * *

(3) Persons who have already entered the labor market and who need training or retraining to achieve stability or advancement in employment. Persons receiving training allowances under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (29 U.S.C. 801 et seq.) or the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (19 U.S.C. 1801-1991) are eligible as long as funds authorized pursuant to such legislation supplement vocational education funds rather than duplicate vocational education funds.

5. Section 102.60, paragraph (a)(2), is revised to read as follows:

§ 102.60 Content of local applications.

[Docket No. 14884]

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

British Aircraft Corporation Viscount Models 744, 745D, and 810 Airplanes

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to British Aircraft Corporation Viscount 700 and 810 series airplanes. There have been fatigue cracks detected in the torque tubes of high time landing flap torque shaft assemblies on British Aircraft Corporation Viscount 744, 745D, and 810 airplanes that could result in failures in the landing flap system. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require inspections, replacement, and rework of the landing flap torque shaft assemblies as appropriate after an applicable specified number of landings on British Aircraft Corporation Viscount 700 and 810 series airplanes.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All communications received on or before September 5, 1975, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CORPORATION. Applies to British Aircraft Corporation (BAC) Viscount Model 700 and 810 series airplanes.

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To prevent possible fatigue failure of the No. 1 and 2 landing flap torque shaft assemblies, accomplish the following:

(a) For No. 1 torque shaft assemblies (LH and RH), comply with the following:

(1) Torque tubes fitted to torque shaft assemblies for which total landings can be determined and which have accumulated in excess of 28,000 landings but not more than 28,000 landings on the effective date of this AD may remain in service for 2000 additional landings with no special inspections after which time they must be replaced with new torque tubes of the same part number in accordance with paragraph (a)(5) of this AD.

(2) Torque tubes fitted to torque shaft assemblies for which the total landings can be determined and which have accumulated in excess of 28,000 landings on the effective date of this AD may be continued in service, subject to the inspection requirements of paragraph (a)(4) of this AD, for 2000 additional landings after which they must be replaced with new torque tubes of the same part number in accordance with paragraph (a)(5) of this AD.

(3) Torque tubes fitted to torque shaft assemblies for which total landings cannot be determined must use in lieu thereof the total landings on the aircraft on which they are installed and comply with either paragraph (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this AD as applicable.

NOTE: If total landings on the aircraft are not known, an operator may substitute a value for total landings established by dividing the total aircraft hours by the average flight length for the particular aircraft, subject to the approval of the assigned FAA Inspector.

(4) Torque tubes fitted to torque shaft assemblies may remain in service for 2000 additional landings in accordance with paragraph (a)(2) of this AD, subject to the following conditions:

(i) Within 50 landings after the effective date of this AD and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 50 landings until replaced in accordance with paragraph (a)(2) of this AD, inspect the torque tubes in accordance with 2.2.1 of Alert PTL No. 290 (700 series) or Alert PTL No. 158 (810 series), both dated August 23, 1972, or an FAA-approved equivalent. If any cracks are found in the torque tubes as a result of this inspection, before further flight, replace the torque tubes with new parts of the same part numbers in accordance with paragraph (a)(5) of this AD.

(ii) Within 500 landings from the effective date of this AD and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 500 landings until replaced in accordance with paragraph (a)(2) of this AD, remove the torque shaft assemblies and inspect and rework in accordance with paragraph 2.2.2 of Alert PTL No. 290 (700 series) or Alert PTL No. 158 (810 series), both dated August 23, 1972, or an FAA-approved equivalent. Where an inspection required by this paragraph coincides with an inspection interval specified in paragraph (a)(4)(i) of this AD, the inspection conducted in accordance with this paragraph is considered as showing compliance with the inspection required by paragraph (a)(4)(i) of this AD. If any cracks are found in the torque tubes or end fittings as a result of this inspection, replace cracked parts with new parts of the same part numbers in accordance with the assembly instructions specified in paragraph (a)(5) of this AD.

(5) Torque tubes replaced in accordance with any provisions of this AD must be assembled to the torque shaft assembly in accordance with figure 2 of Alert PTL No. 290 (700 series) or PTL No. 158 (810 series) both dated August 23, 1972, or an equivalent approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, FAA, c/o American Embassy, APO New York 09667.

(6) Replacement torque tubes installed in accordance with the provisions of this AD must be replaced within 20,000 landings from new. Thereafter inspect replacement torque tubes in accordance with paragraph 2.3 of Alert PTL No. 290 (700 series) or Alert PTL No. 158 (810 series), both dated August 23, 1972, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(b) For No. 2 torque shaft assemblies (LH and RH), comply with the following:

(1) For torque tubes fitted to torque shaft assemblies, for which total landings can be determined, within 500 landings after the effective date of this AD or before accumulating 28,500 landings, whichever occurs later, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 500 landings, inspect the torque tubes in accordance with paragraph 2.4.1 of Alert PTL No. 290 (700 series) or Alert PTL No. 158 (810 series), both dated August 23, 1972, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(2) Within 1500 landings after the initial inspection required by paragraph (b)(1) of this AD, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 2000 landings from the last inspection, remove the torque shaft assemblies and inspect the torque tubes and end fittings for cracks in accordance with paragraph 2.4.2 of Alert PTL No. 290 (700 series) or Alert PTL No. 158 (810 series), both dated August 23, 1972, or an FAA-approved equivalent. Where an inspection required by this paragraph coincides with an inspection interval specified in paragraph (b)(1) of this AD, the inspection conducted in accordance with this paragraph is considered as showing compliance with that required by paragraph (b)(1) of this AD.

(3) If cracks are found as a result of the inspections conducted in accordance with paragraphs (b)(1) or (b)(2) of this AD, before further flight, replace the cracked parts with new parts of the same part number. Where new torque tubes are installed as a result of the inspections specified in paragraphs (b)(1) or (b)(2) of this AD, the repetitive inspections required by these subparts must be initiated upon accumulating 28,000 landings on the new torque tubes.

(4) Torque tubes fitted to torque shaft assemblies for which the total landings cannot be determined, must use in lieu thereof the total landings of the aircraft on which they are installed for the purpose of complying with paragraph (b)(1) of this AD.

V40152A AUG 6 75 XUM

NOTE.—If total landings of the aircraft are not known, an operator may substitute a value for total landings established by dividing the total aircraft hours by the average flight length for the particular aircraft, subject to the approval of the assigned FAA Inspector.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

British Aircraft Corporation BAC 1-11 200 and 400 Series Airplanes

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to British Aircraft Corporation BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes. There have been incidents of arcing at the H.F. antenna tuning unit connector post on BAC 1-11 series airplanes that resulted in burning of the surrounding area in the vicinity of oxygen system lines. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require an inspection and deactivation of the oxygen system until alterations are accomplished on BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written cata, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communciations should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All communications received on or before September 5, 1975, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CORPORATION. Applies to BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes certificated in all categories, equipped with H.F. radio systems that do not have BAC Modifications PM 4412 Part (a) or Part (b) and Modification PM 4424 incorporated.

Compliance is required as indicated.

To prevent hazardous arcing at the H.F. antenna tuning unit connector post in the vicinity of the oxygen system, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 25 hours' time in service, after the effective date of this AD, comply with the following:

(1) Unless accomplished within the last 25 hours' time in service, inspect the H.F. antenna lead-in cable at the antenna, the antenna tuning unit (A.T.U.) connectors, the tuning unit and all adjacent wiring and oxygen piping in the immediate vicinity for signs of overheating damage or arcing, and replace damaged parts with parts of the same part numbers, or FAA-approved equivalent parts.

(2) Remove and discard the rubber overshoe fitted at the A.T.U. connector post.

(3) Attach a placard on the instrument panel in full view of the pilot reading:

"The passenger oxygen system control valve must remain in the OFF position. Conduct operations in accordance with FAR 121.329 or 91.31, as applicable."

(b) Repeat the inspection required by paragraph (a)(1) of this AD at intervals not to exceed 50 hours' time in service from the last inspection until paragraph (c) of this AD is complied with, at which time the inspection interval may be increased not to exceed 200 hours' time in service from the last inspection.

(c) The placard required by paragraph (a)(3) of this AD may be removed and the inspection interval prescribed in paragraph (b) may be established upon completion of the following:

(1) Compliance with the provisions of British Aircraft Corporation Alert Service Bulletin 23-A-PM 4346 dated April 5, 1971, paragraph numbers 3.1, 3.2, 3.3, 3.4, 3.5, 3.7, 3.8, 3.9, 4.3, 4.4, 4.5, or FAA-approved equivalents.

(2) Alteration of the oxygen system in accordance with BAC Modification PM 4412 Part (a) and Part (b), or an FAA-approved equivalent.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale Model SA-341G "Gazelle" Helicopter

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to Aerospatiale Model SA-341G "Gazelle" helicopters. There have been instances in service where flight in extreme attitudes has caused unpriming of the Model SA-341G booster pump resulting in interruption of fuel flow to the engine. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other helicopters of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require modification of the SA-341G fuel system to include among other changes a fuel sump of larger capacity and relocation of the booster pump.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All communications received on or before September 5, 1975, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423), and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SOCIETE NATIONALE INDUSTRIELLE AEROSPATIALE. Applies to Model SA-341G "Gazelle" helicopters, certificated in all categories, serial numbers 1062 and lower, incorporating standard fuel tank P/N 341A.55.1065.20, or .22, or .24.

Compliance is required within the next 100 hour's time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished in accordance with Gazelle Service Bulletin No. 28.01.

To prevent interruption of fuel flow to the engine during execution of approved flight maneuvers, modify the fuel system to provide for increased fuel sump capacity and an improved booster pump location in accordance with subparagraph 2(B) of Gazelle Service Bulletin No. 28.01, as revised November 21, 1973, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Turbomeca Astazou IIA Engines

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to Turbomeca Astazou IIA engines. There have been failures of the axial compressor wheels on these engines that could result in a hazard to safe flight due to engine failure and damage to critical helicopter structure. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other engines of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require axial compressor wheel inspection, repair, or replacement, and modification before reinstallation on engines.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All communications received on or before September 5, 1975, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

TURBOMECA. Applies to Turbomeca Astazou IIA engines installed on, but not necessarily limited to, Aerospatiale Alouette II Models SA318C, SA318B, SA318C helicopters.

Compliance is required as indicated unless already accomplished.

To prevent axial compressor wheel failure due to corrosion and fatigue, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, or before the accumulation of 1000 hours' time in service since new, whichever occurs later, remove the axial compressor wheels, P/Ns 0-236-15-014 Index A and 0-268-15-004, from the engine and inspect for cracks and corrosion.

(b) If cracks are found, before returning the engine to service, comply with paragraph (d) of this AD.

(c) If no cracks are found but corrosion is found, before returning the engine to service either—

(1) Rework the wheel and reinstall in the engine in accordance with Turbomeca MOD TU 196, or an equivalent approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, Europe, Africa, and Middle East, FAA, c/o American Embassy, APO New York 09667; or

(2) Comply with paragraph (d) of this AD.

(d) Replace the wheel with a new wheel, P/N 0.236-15-016, 0-268-15-011, or 0-268-15-010, modified in accordance with Turbomeca MOD TU 196, or an equivalent approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, Europe, Africa, and Middle East, FAA, c/o American Embassy, APO New York 09667.

Britten Norman Ltd. BN-2A and BN-2A Mark III Airplanes

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to Britten Norman Ltd. BN-2A and BN-2A Mark III airplanes. There have been in-flight instances of inadvertent release of the seat locking mechanism on the Britten Norman BN-2A and BN-2A Mark III airplanes that could result in loss of control of the airplane. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require an inspection and, if necessary, an alteration of the seat locking mechanism on BN-2A and BN-2A Mark III airplanes.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BRITTEN NORMAN LTD. Applies to BN-2A and BN-2A Mark III airplanes certificated in all categories.

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To prevent inadvertent release of the pilots' seats in the seat tracks, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 50 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, inspect the pilots' seats locking mechanism (Alar P/N NB-99-H-007, or Jeteats P/N JS114) for damage and for short pawls, in accordance with paragraph Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the section titled "Inspection" of Britten Norman Ltd. Service Bulletin No. BN-2/SB.71, dated June 12, 1974, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(b) If seats with damaged locking parts are found, remove and replace the damaged parts with parts of the same part numbers, or FAA-approved equivalents.

(c) If seats with short pawls are found, lock the seats in place in accordance with paragraph 5a. of the Section titled "Inspection" of Britten Norman Ltd. Service Bulletin No. BN-2/SB.71, dated June 12, 1974, or an FAA-approved equivalent, until compliance with paragraph (d) of this AD is accomplished.

(d) Within the next 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, modify seats with short pawls in accordance with paragraph 5b. of Section titled "Inspection" of Britten Norman Ltd. Service Bulletin No. BN-2/SB. 71, dated June 12, 1974, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

British Aircraft Corporation Viscount Models 744, 745D and 810 Airplanes

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to British Aircraft Corporation Viscount Models 744, 745D and 810 airplanes. There have been non-contained engine failures on these airplanes which resulted in inflight fire and inability to feather the propeller. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require an electrical back-up propeller feathering system to the manual propeller feathering system on British Aircraft Corporation Viscount Models 744, 745D and 810 airplanes.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All communications received on or before September 5, 1975, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 39.13, Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CORPORATION. Applies to British Aircraft Corporation (BAC) Viscount Models 744, 745D and 810 airplanes, certificated in all categories.

Compliance is required within the next 300 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished.

To prevent failure of propeller feathering, install an electrical back-up to the primary manual feathering system in accordance with the instructions contained in BAC Bulletin-For-Modification No. FG.2122, dated February 11, 1972, (for Viscount Model 810 airplanes), or BAC Bulletin-For-Modification No. D.3245, dated February 11, 1972 (for Viscount Models 744 and 745D airplanes), as appropriate, or an equivalent of either approved by the Chief, Aircraft Certification Staff, FAA, Europe, Africa, and Middle East Region, FAA-American Embassy, APO New York 09667.

British Aircraft Corporation BAC 1-11 200 and 400 Series Airplanes

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding an airworthiness directive applicable to British Aircraft Corporation BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes. There have been a number of cases of fuel diluted oil systems of auxiliary power units (A.P.U.) installed on British Aircraft Corporation BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes that could result in a turbine bearing failure and overheating of the tailcone structure. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, the proposed airworthiness directive would require repetitive inspections for fuel leakage on certain British Aircraft Corporation BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591. All communications received on or before September 5, 1975, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423) and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

In consideration of the foregoing it is proposed to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CORPORATION. Applies to BAC 1-11 200 and 400 series airplanes, certificated in all categories, with Garrett AiResearch Models GTCP 85-115, -115C or -115CK APU's installed, that do not have British Aircraft Corporation Modification PM 5217 incorporated.

Compliance is required as indicated.

To prevent excessive fuel contamination of the Auxiliary Power Unit oil contents, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 60 APU hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless accomplished within the last 20 APU hours' time in service, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 80 APU hours' time in service from the last inspection, inspect for fuel leakage in accordance with paragraph 2.1 of the Accomplishment Instructions of British Aircraft Corporation Model BAC 1-11 Service Bulletin 49-PM 5217, or an FAA-approved equivalent.

(b) If the fuel leakage rate exceeds one drop per minute, prior to further use of the APU, rectify the leakage, drain and refill the oil system with fresh oil, and thereafter continue the inspections required by paragraph (a) of this AD.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975.

Proposed Registration Standards; Extension of Comment Period

The Department of Labor published a revision of proposed regulations for apprentice programs on March 10, 1975 at 40 FR 11340. The comment period ended on April 9, 1975.

The Federal Committee on Apprentices has requested that before the apprentice regulation under this proposed Part 29 becomes final, the Committee have an opportunity to make recommendations to the Secretary on the subject of training programs approved by the Department of Labor under 29 CFR Part 5, as amended July 21, 1975, 40 FR 30480.

In view of this request the period for receiving comments is hereby extended until further notice. Notice of the end of the comment period will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least 15 days before the new closing date.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of July, 1975.

WILLIAM H. KOLBERG,
Assistant Secretary for Manpower.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[ 40 CFR Part 418 ]

[FRL 412-4]

FERTILIZER MANUFACTURING POINT SOURCE CATEGORY

Effluent Limitations and Guidelines for Existing Sources and Standards for New Sources for the Phosphate Subcategory

Notice is hereby given that the Environmental Protection Agency, (EPA) is proposing to amend 40 CFR 418, Fertilizer Manufacturing Point Source Category; Subpart A—Phosphate Subcategory, §§ 418.11, 418.12, 418.13, and 418.15 as set forth below.

40 CFR 418 was promulgated on April 8, 1974 (39 FR 12832) pursuant to sections 301, 304 (b) and (c), 306(b) and 307(c) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act as amended, 33 U.S.C. 1251, 1311, 1314 (b) and (c), 1316(b), and 1317 (c); 86 Stat. 816 et seq; P.L. 92-500.

The promulgated regulation for the phosphate subcategory of the fertilizer manufacturing point source category provided for the discharge, after treatment, of waters from process wastewater impoundments based on the balance between precipitation and evaporation in each month. Phosphate fertilizer manufacturers, however, have contended that this provision for discharge was cumbersome and difficult to manage and utilize. The companies have contended further that it is not possible to operate a facility manufacturing phosphate fertilizers without an allowance for discharge of certain occasional but unavoidable leaks and spills. After due consideration of the industry's claims, the Agency believes that the allowance for discharge from a water impoundment due to rainfall events can be restated so as to make its application less cumbersome and more easily understood. Additionally, the Agency concurs that in some situations it may be appropriate to allow some discharge from the facility due to leaks and spills which are otherwise unavoidable. However, the Agency believes that any allowance for such discharge must require prompt management attention to and correction of the leaks and spills.

The Agency does not believe that the amount of pollutants discharged by facilities affected by this subpart will be substantially altered by this change in regulatory language, nor does it believe that there will be any significant effect on the energy necessary for pollution control or on any other non-water quality related environmental impacts.

Interested persons may participate in this rulemaking by submitting written comments in triplicate to the EPA Information Center, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C. 20460, Attention: Ms. Ruth Brown. Comments on all aspects of this request for public participation are solicited. In the event comments are in the nature of criticisms as to the adequacy of data which is available, or which may be relied upon by the Agency, comments should identify and, if possible, provide any additional data which may be available and should indicate why such data is essential to the development of the regulations.

In the event comments address the approach taken by the Agency, EPA solicits suggestions as to what alternative approach should be taken and why and how these alternatives better satisfy the detailed requirements of sections 301, 304 and 306 of the Act.

A copy of all public comments will be available for inspection and copying at the EPA Freedom of Information Center, Room 204, West Tower, Waterside Mall, 401 M Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20460. The EPA information regulation, 40 CFR 2, provides that a reasonable fee may be charged for copying.

All comments received on or before September 5, 1975 will be considered.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

RUSSELL E. TRAIN,
Administrator.

PART 418—FERTILIZER MANUFACTURING POINT SOURCE CATEGORY

Subpart A is amended as follows:

* * * * *

1. In § 418.11, paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) are revised to read as follows:

§ 418.11 Specialized definitions.

* * * * *

(b) The term "process waste water" means any water which, during manufacturing or processing, comes into direct contact with or results from the production or use of any raw material, intermediate product, finished product, by-product, or waste product. The term "process waste water" does not include contaminated non-process waste water, as defined below.

(c) The term, "contaminated non-process wastewater" shall mean any water including precipitation runoff which, during manufacturing or processing, comes into incidental contact with any raw material, intermediate product, finished product, by-product or waste product by means of: (1) precipitation runoff; (2) accidental spills; (3) accidental leaks caused by the failure of process equipment and which are repaired or the discharge of pollutants therefrom contained or terminated within the shortest reasonable time which shall not exceed 24 hours after discovery or when discovery should reasonably have been made, whichever is earliest; and (4) discharges from safety showers and related personal safety equipment, and from equipment washings for the purpose of safe entry, inspection and maintenance; provided that all reasonable measures have been taken to prevent, reduce, eliminate and control to the maximum extent feasible such contact and provided further that all reasonable measures have been taken that will mitigate the effects of such contact once it has occurred.

(d) The term "ten year 24 hour rainfall event" shall mean the maximum 24 hour precipitation event with a probable recurrence interval of once in 10 years as defined by the National Weather Service in technical paper no. 40, "Rainfall Frequency Atlas of the United States", May, 1961, and subsequent amendments in effect as of the effective date of this regulation.

(e) The term "25 year 24 hour rainfall event" shall mean the maximum 24 hour precipitation event with a probable recurrence interval of once in 25 years as defined by the National Weather Service in technical paper no. 40, "Rainfall Frequency Atlas of the United States", May, 1961, and subsequent amendments in effect as of the effective date of this regulation.

(f) The term "calcium sulfate storage pile runoff" shall mean the calcium sulfate transport water runoff from or through the calcium sulfate pile, and the precipitation which falls directly on the storage pile and which may be collected in a seepage ditch at the base of the outer slopes of the storage pile, provided such seepage ditch is protected from the incursion of surface runoff from areas outside of the outer perimeter of the seepage ditch.

2. In § 418.12, paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 418.12 Effluent limitations guidelines representing the degree of effluent reduction attainable by the application of the best practicable control technology currently available.

* * * * *

(a) Subject to the provision of paragraphs (b) and (c) below, the following limitations establish the quantity or quality of pollutants or pollutant properties, controlled by this section, which may be discharged by a point source subject to the provisions of this subpart after application of the best practicable control technology currently available: there shall be no discharge of process wastewater pollutants to navigable waters.

(b) Process wastewater pollutants from a calcium sulfate storage pile runoff facility operated separately or in combination with a water recirculation system designed, constructed and operated to maintain a surge capacity equal to the runoff from the 10-year, 24-hour rainfall event may be discharged, after treatment to the standards set forth in paragraph (c) below, whenever chronic or catastrophic precipitation events cause the water level to rise into the surge capacity. Process waste water must be treated and discharged whenever the water level equals or exceeds the mid point of the surge capacity.

(c) The concentration of pollutants discharged in process wastewater pursuant to the limitations of paragraph (b) shall not exceed the values listed in the following table:

|---|---|---|
| | mg/l | |
| Total phosphorus (as P) | 70 | 35 |
| Fluoride | 30 | 15 |
| TSS | 50 | 25 |
| pH | Within the range 6.0 to 9.0. | |

(d) The concentration of pollutants discharged in contaminated non-process wastewater shall not exceed the values listed in the following table:

|---|---|---|
| | mg/l | |
| Total phosphorus (as P) | 70 | 35 |
| Fluoride | 30 | 15 |
| pH | Within the range 6.0 to 9.0. | |

3. In § 418.13, paragraphs (a) and (b) are revised and (c) and (d) added to read as follows:

§ 418.13 Effluent limitations guidelines representing the degree of effluent reduction attained by the application of the best available technology economically achievable.

* * * * *

(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) below, the following limitations establish the quantity or quality of pollutants or pollutant properties, controlled by this section, which may be discharged by a point source subject to the provisions of this subpart: there shall be no discharge of process wastewater pollutants to navigable waters.

(b) Process wastewater pollutants from a calcium sulfate storage pile runoff facility operated separately or in combination with a water recirculation system designed, constructed and operated to maintain a surge capacity equal to the runoff from the 25-year, 24-hour rainfall event may be discharged, after treatment to the standards set forth in paragraph (c) below, whenever chronic or catastrophic precipitation events cause the water level to rise into the surge capacity. Process waste water must be treated and discharged whenever the water level equals or exceeds the mid point of the surge capacity.

(c) The concentration of pollutants discharged in process wastewater pursuant to the limitations of paragraph (b) shall not exceed the values listed in the following table:

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

| Fluoride | 30 | 15 |
| TSS | 50 | 25 |
| pH | Within the range 6.0 to 9.0. | |

(d) The concentration of pollutants discharged in contaminated non-process wastewater shall not exceed the values listed in the following table:

|---|---|---|
| | mg/l | |
| Total phosphorus (as P) | 70 | 35 |
| Fluoride | 30 | 15 |
| pH | Within the range 6.0 to 9.0. | |

4. In § 418.15, paragraphs (a) and (b) are revised and (c) and (d) are added to read as follows:

§ 418.15 Standards of performance for new sources.

(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) below, the following limitations establish the quantity or quality of pollutants or pollutant properties, controlled by this section, which may be discharged by a new source subject to the provisions of this subpart after application of the best available demonstrated control technology: There shall be no discharge of process wastewater pollutants to navigable waters.

(b) Process wastewater pollutants from a calcium sulfate storage pile runoff facility operated separately or in combination with a water recirculation system designed, constructed and operated to maintain a surge capacity equal to the runoff from the 25-year, 24-hour rainfall event may be discharged, after treatment to the standards set forth in paragraph (c) below, whenever chronic or catastrophic precipitation events cause the water level to rise into the surge capacity. Process waste water must be treated and discharged whenever the water level equals or exceeds the mid point of the surge capacity.

(c) The concentration of pollutants discharged in process wastewater pursuant to the limitations of paragraph (b) shall not exceed the values listed in the following table:

FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN SYSTEM

Proposed Amendment Relating to District of Columbia Associations

JULY 30, 1975.

The following summary regarding the amendment proposed herein is included for the reader's convenience and is subject to the full description in the preamble as well as the specific provisions of the regulation.

I. Present situation—District of Columbia associations are included within the term "Federal association" for limited purposes.

II. Proposed amendment—(a) Would generally include District of Columbia associations within the term "Federal association", except as the Board may otherwise provide.

(b) Would allow for continued Board supervision in the area of branch offices, satellite offices, and change of office locations for any future District of Columbia associations and any non-District of Columbia chartered associations operating or seeking to operate in the District of Columbia.

III. Reason for proposed change—To provide a basis for Board supervision of District of Columbia associations if the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices are deleted.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board considers it desirable to propose to amend Parts 541, 545 and 556 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System by revising § 541.2 and inserting new §§ 545.14(l), 545.14–5(j) and 545.16(i).

Present § 541.2 defines the term "Federal association" to mean a "savings and loan association chartered by the Board as provided in section 5 of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended." As used in §§ 546.1, 546.2, 546.3, and 546.4 of Part 546, and in Parts 547, 548, 549 and 550, the term "Federal association" also includes any incorporated or unincorporated building, building or loan, building and loan, savings and loan, or homestead association, which has been organized or incorporated under or pursuant to the laws of the District of Columbia.

Under the proposed amendment, § 541.2 would be revised to include within the term "Federal association", except as the Board may otherwise provide, any incorporated or unincorporated building, building or loan, building and loan, savings and loan, or homestead association, which has been organized or incorporated under or pursuant to the laws of the District of Columbia. This restatement of the definition would delete references to the specific sections of the Federal Regulations listed above and would enable § 541.2 to be of sufficient general applicability that all provisions of the Federal Regulations would apply to associations in the District of Columbia.

New §§ 545.14(l), 545.14–5(j) and 545.16(i) would allow for continued Board supervision in the area of branch offices, satellite offices, and change of office locations for any future District of Columbia associations and any non-District of Columbia chartered associations operating or seeking to operate in the District of Columbia. These amendments to the Federal Regulations will allow the complete deletion of the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices.

This amendment is being proposed in conjunction with an amendment (Resolution No. 75–650; July 30, 1975) that proposes to delete the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices. Those regulations are being deleted because there are no longer any associations incorporated or organized under the laws of the District of Columbia; all such associations have become Federal associations. The instant proposal would provide a basis for Board supervision of any future District of Columbia association, either newly formed or a Federal association which converts back.

Accordingly, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board hereby proposes to amend Parts 541 and 545 by revising § 541.2, and by inserting new §§ 545.14(l), 545.14–5(j), and 545.16(i), to read as set forth below.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments to the Office of the Secretary, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20552, by September 8, 1975, as to whether this proposal should be adopted, rejected or modified. Written material submitted will be available for public inspection at the above address unless confidential treatment is requested or the material would not be made available to the public or otherwise disclosed under § 505.5 of the General Regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (12 CFR 505.5).

1. Amend Part 541 by revising § 541.2 to read as follows:

§ 541.2 Federal association.

The term "Federal association" means a Federal savings and loan association chartered by the Board as provided in section 5 of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended, and except as the Board may otherwise provide, any incorporated or unincorporated building, building or loan, building and loan, savings and loan, or homestead association, which has been organized or incorporated under or pursuant to the laws of the District of Columbia.

2. Amend Part 545 by adding a new § 545.14(l) to read as follows.

§ 545.14 Branch office.

* * * * *

(l) For purposes of this section, the term "Federal association" includes any incorporated or unincorporated building, building or loan, savings and loan, or homestead association or cooperative bank operating or seeking to operate in the District of Columbia with respect to any office operated or sought to be operated therein by such association.

3. Amend Part 545 by adding a new § 545.14–5(j) to read as follows:

§ 545.14–5 Satellite office.

* * * * *

(j) For purposes of this section, the term "Federal association" includes any incorporated or unincorporated building, building or loan, savings and loan, or homstead association or cooperative bank operating or seeking to operate in the District of Columbia with respect to any satellite office operated or sought to be operated therein by such association.

4. Amend Part 545 by adding a new § 545.16(l) to read as follows:

§ 545.16 Change of office location.

* * * * *

(l) For purposes of this section, the term "Federal association" includes any incorporated or unincorporated building, building or loan, savings and loan, or homestead association or cooperative bank operating or seeking to operate in the District of Columbia with respect to any office operated or sought to be operated therein by such association.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS AND BRANCH OFFICES

Proposed Deletion of Obsolete Regulations

JULY 30, 1975.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board considers it desirable to propose to delete the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices.

There are no longer any associations incorporated or organized under the laws of the District of Columbia; all such associations have become Federal associations. As a result, the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices appear to be obsolete.

By a companion resolution (Resolution No. 75–651; July 30, 1975), the Board is proposing to revise § 541.2 and insert new §§ 545.14(l), 545.14–5(j) and 545.16(l). Revised § 541.2 would expand the definition of the term "Federal association" to include District of Columbia associations. This change will be necessary to provide for Board supervision of any future District of Columbia association, either newly formed or a Federal association which converts back, if the Board deletes the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices. New §§ 545.14(l), 545.14–5(j) and 545.16(i) would allow for continued Board supervision in the area of branch offices, satellite offices, and change of office locations for any future District of Columbia associations and any non-District of Columbia chartered associations operating or seeking to operate in the District of Columbia. These amendments to the Federal Regulations will allow complete deletion of the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices.

Accordingly, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board hereby proposes to delete Parts 581, 582, 582a, and 582b of said regulations.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments to the Office of the Secretary, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20552, by September 8, 1975, as to whether this proposal should be adopted, rejected or modified. Written material submitted will be available for public inspection at the above address unless confidential treatment is requested or the material would not be made available to the public or otherwise disclosed under § 505.5 of the General Regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board (12 CFR 505.5).

Withdrawal of Proposed Amendment Relating to Investments and Other Transactions

JULY 30, 1975.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board by Resolution No. 72–602, dated May 23, 1972, proposed to amend Part 582a of the Regulations for District of Columbia Savings and Loan Associations and Branch Offices (12 CFR Part 582a) by adding a new § 582a.2 for the purpose of requiring that certain investments and other transactions by District of Columbia savings and loan associations be made in conformity with regulations applicable to Federal savings and loan associations. Notice of such proposed rule making was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 27, 1972 (37 FR 10745), and interested persons were invited to submit written comments and arguments as to whether it should be adopted, rejected or modified by June 30, 1972.

There are no longer any associations incorporated or organized under the laws of the District of Columbia; all such associations have become Federal associations. As a result, there is no longer any necessity for amending Part 582a.

Accordingly, the Board hereby withdraws from consideration the amendment proposed by said Resolution No. 72–602.

(Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 132, as amended; 12 U.S.C. 1464. Reorg. Plan No. 3 of 1947, 12 FR 4981, 3 CFR, 1943–48 Comp., p. 1071)

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON AIR LAW—WARSAW CONVENTION

Meeting

An International Conference on Air Law, held under the auspices of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO), will meet in Montreal September 3–25, 1975. The Conference will consider, with a view to approval, draft Articles on the system of liability for the carriage of cargo prepared at the 21st Session of the ICAO Legal Committee. It is expected that the International Conference will prepare a Protocol or other instrument which will revise the cargo and mail provisions of the Warsaw Convention system. The Conference may also consider amendments to Articles which express the limits of liability in the Warsaw Convention and The Hague and Guatemala City Protocols, with a view to establishing a new unit of account to replace the gold franc as defined in the Convention and Protocols (the "Poincare gold franc").

Notice is hereby given that a public meeting will be held beginning at 10:30 a.m. on 13 August 1975, in Room 1406, Department of State, 2201 C Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20520, for the purpose of receiving public comment on the issues to be considered at this Conference. Written statements may be submitted prior to or after the meeting, but should be received in the Department no later than August 22, 1975, in order to be considered prior to the Conference.

Members of the public who desire to attend the meeting should come to the 22nd and C Street entrance for admission and direction to the conference room.

Any questions concerning this meeting, and requests for a copy of the Report of the 21st Session of the Legal Committee of ICAO and other background material, should be directed to Mr. Franklin K. Willis, Deputy Legal Advisor, Room 5527A, Department of State, Washington, D.C. (202–632–3736).

Bonneville Power Administration

DRAFT ENVIRONMENTAL STATEMENT

Public Meetings

The Bonneville Power Administration hereby gives notice of a series of public meetings to be held to discuss BPA's Fiscal Year 1977 Draft Environmental Statement. The purpose of the meetings is twofold: to present to the public BPA's proposed Fiscal Year 1977 Program, and to elicit comments from the public with respect to the environmental impact of BPA's proposed program. The dates, hours, and places of these meetings are as follows: September 8, 1975, 8 p.m., Moore Elementary School, Moore, Idaho; September 9, 1975, 8 p.m., Patio Room, Ramada Inn, 800 N. Overland, Burley, Idaho; September 9, 1975, 7:30 p.m., North Bonneville Elementary School Auditorium; September 10, 1975, 7:30 p.m., Sedro Woolley High School Little Theater, 4th & Nelson, Sedro Woolley, Washington.

For those who cannot attend any of these meetings, written comments will be accepted until the end of the close of comment period, which is September 12.

Additional or clarifying information may be obtained by writing or calling the Environmental Office, Bonneville Power Administration, P.O. Box 3621, Portland, Oregon 97208; (503) 234–3361, ext. 5136.

Dated: August 1, 1975.

OIL SHALE ENVIRONMENTAL ADVISORY PANEL

Meeting

Notice is hereby given in accordance with Pub. L. 92–463 that a meeting of the Oil Shale Environmental Advisory Panel will be held on August 27 and 28, 1975, at the Colorado Northwest Community College in Rangely, Colorado. The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, August 27, and conclude at 5 p.m. Thursday, August 28, after a field tour.

The Panel was established to assist the Department of the Interior in the performance of its functions in connection with the supervision of oil shale leases issued under the Prototype Oil Shale Leasing Program. The purpose of this meeting is to review the third quarterly environmental data reports for the four oil shale lease tracts, to receive reports from Departmental officials, to hear presentations from the C-a lessee groups on status of environmental studies, waste disposal and community development aspects of the Rio Blanco Oil Shale Project. A representative of Thorne Ecological Institute will present a briefing on the environmental study which they performed as one of the Colorado Cooperative Oil Shale Studies. On the second day the Panel will tour the Colorado C-a oil shale lease tract.

The meeting is open to the public. It is expected that space will permit 75 persons to attend the meeting in addition to the Panel members. Interested persons may make brief presentations to the Panel or file written statements. Requests should be made to Mr. William L. Rogers, Chairman, Office of the Secretary, Department of the Interior, Room 688, Building 67, Denver Federal Center, Denver, Colorado 80225.

Further information concerning this meeting may be obtained from Mr. Henry O. Ash, Office of the Oil Shale Environmental Advisory Panel, Room 690, Building 67, Denver Federal Center, Denver, Colorado 80225, Telephone No. (303) 234–3275. Minutes of the meeting will be available for public inspection for 30 days after the meeting at the Panel Office.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Forest Service

OLYMPIC, MT. BAKER-SNOQUALMIE, AND GIFFORD PINCHOT NATIONAL FORESTS, WASHINGTON

Vegetation Management Using Selective Herbicides; Notice of Availability of Final Addendum

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, has prepared a final addendum to the final environmental statement for vegetation management using selective herbicides on the Olympic, Mt. Baker-Snoqualmie, and Gifford Pinchot National Forests, Washington, for the period July 1, 1975 through June 30, 1976. USDA–FS–R6–FES(Adm)75–16.

The final addendum concerns a proposed use of herbicides 2,4–D, 2,4,5–T, 2,4,5–TP, Amitrole–T, atrazine, picloram, dicambra, and HSMA to reduce the competition from native vegetation where it hampers forest management activities in Washington. The proposed uses of the herbicides are for reforestation site preparation, release of conifers, right-of-way maintenance, maintenance of physical facilities, range improvement work, and thinning and weeding of conifer plantations.

This final addendum was transmitted to SEQ on July 30, 1975. Copies are available for inspection during regular working hours at the following locations:

USDA, Forest Service, South Agriculture Bldg., Room 3231, 12th & Independence Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250.
USDA, Forest Service, Pacific Northwest Region, 319 S.W. Pine Street, Portland, Oregon 97204.
Olympic National Forest, Federal Building, Olympia, Washington 98501.
Mt. Baker-Snoqualmie National Forest, 1601 2nd Avenue Building, Seattle, Washington 98101.
Gifford Pinchot National Forest, 500 West 12th Street, Vancouver, Washington 98660.

A limited number of single copies are available upon request to Regional Forester T. A. Schlapfer, Pacific Northwest Region, P.O. Box 3623, Portland, Oregon 97208.

Copies of the final addendum have been sent to various Federal, State, and local agencies as outlined in the CEQ guidelines.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

Office of the Secretary

DEFENSE EMERGENCY RESPONSIBILITIES

The following notice sets forth the Defense Emergency Responsibilities in

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

USDA. It supersedes the notice titled "Defense Responsibilities in USDA" published on April 24, 1968, 33 FR 6251.

GENERAL

Sec. 1. Purpose. This notice outlines the responsibilities of the Department of Agriculture relating to defense emergencies and the organization for carrying them out at national, regional, State, and county levels. It describes in further detail the functions delegated by the Secretary and general officers in 7 CFR Part 2 for departmental direction and coordination of defense programs. Responsibilities include (1) the development of standby defense emergency programs, and (2) the activation and administration of these programs upon authorization by the President following a proclamation of a civil defense emergency by the Congress or the President.

Sec. 2. USDA Defense Emergency Assignments.

a. Source. Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended (50 U.S.C. App. 2061 et seq.) Federal Civil Defense Act of 1950, as amended (50 U.S.C. App. 2251 et seq.), and Executive Order 11490, as amended.

b. Coverage. The Secretary of Agriculture is responsible for national leadership and direction of defense emergency programs relating to:

(1) Food resources, farm equipment, fertilizer, and food resource facilities.

(2) Lands under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Agriculture.

(3) Rural fire control.

(4) Defense against biological and chemical warfare and radiological fallout pertaining to agricultural activities.

(5) Rural defense information and education.

RESPONSIBILITIES AT NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

Sec. 3. Direction, coordination, and liaison.

a. Under Secretary. Responsible for defense preparedness program coordination and matters relating to international defense organizations.

b. Assistant to the Secretary for Intergovernmental Affairs. Through authority redelegated to him by the Under Secretary, is responsible for:

(1) Directing and coordinating the total defense emergency program of USDA.

(2) Supervising and directing USDA regional emergency staffs and USDA State and county emergency boards, and servicing the staffs.

(3) Policy guidance to USDA agencies in carrying out defense emergency assignments.

(4) Supervising the USDA unit of the National Defense Executive Reserve.

(5) Liaison with Executive departments and agencies and the Congress on defense policy matters.

(6) Food and agricultural matters relating to international defense organizations, such as NATO and its suborganizations.

(7) USDA-wide administrative readiness for continuity of essential functions.

(8) Coordinating arrangements, including records, for alternate emergency operating facilities.

c. USDA Agency Emergency Program Contacts. Each agency having a defense emergency assignment under sections 4 through 12 has an emergency program contact. Each contact is responsible for:

(1) Serving as liaison between the agency and the Assistant to the Secretary, Intergovernmental Affairs on current matters relating to defense emergency preparedness.

(2) Advisory agency head on defense readiness matters.

DEFENSE PREPAREDNESS AND EMERGENCY OPERATING RESPONSIBILITIES OF GENERAL OFFICERS OF THE DEPARTMENT AND OF AGENCIES UNDER THEIR JURISDICTION

Sec. 4. Assistant Secretary, marketing and consumer services. Protection of livestock, poultry and crops and products thereof from biological and chemical warfare; utilization or disposal of livestock and poultry exposed to radiation; wholesomeness of meat and poultry and products thereof; inspection of eggs and egg products; and food stamp assistance.

a. Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS). Inspection of eggs and egg products for purity and wholesomeness under continuous AMS inspection.

b. Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).

(1) Protection of livestock, poultry and crops and products thereof from diseases, pests, and chemicals introduced as agents of biological or chemical warfare, and the assessment of the damage to agriculture of any such introduction.

(2) Guidance on utilization and disposal of livestock and poultry exposed to radiation.

(3) Inspection to insure the purity and wholesomeness of meat and meat products and poultry and poultry products in slaughtering and processing plants subject to continuous APHIS inspection.

(4) Purity, safety, and effectiveness of veterinary biologics in interstate commerce.

(5) Necessary interstate inspection of imported animals and plants and their products and inspection at Ports of Entry.

(6) Determination of and reporting requirements for equipment, chemicals, and other materials needed to support assigned programs.

c. Food and Nutrition Service (FNS). Authorizing food stamp assistance whenever local authorities identify increasing needs.

Sec. 5. Assistant Secretary, Conservation, Research, and Education. Agricultural lands and water; forests and forest products; rural fire defense; information and education; agricultural and forestry research; and coordination of research by cooperating State research institutions.

a. Agricultural Research Service (ARS).

(1) Agricultural research in support of defense preparedness (except as noted under "Economic Research Service", "Forest Service", and the "Cooperative State Research Service").

(2) Market quality and transportation and facilities research on matters related to departmental defense responsibilities.

(3) Guidance on the effects of radiation on agriculture.

(4) Guidance on the most efficient procedures for producing, processing, storing, and distributing agricultural commodities under post-attack conditions.

(5) Administrative functions on behalf of the Secretary relating to radiological safety within the Department.

b. Cooperative State Research Service (CSRS).

(1) Use of land-grant and other cooperating State college and university services in carrying out the defense research responsibilities of the Department.

(2) Encouraging research by these organizations to support the defense program of the Department.

(3) Coordinating such work with USDA defense program objectives.

c. Extension Service (ES).

(1) Defense information and education services covering:

(a) The needs of farmers, other rural people, and members of the food industry in an emergency.

(b) Attack vulnerability in rural areas, including crop and livestock vulnerability.

(c) The application of science and technology to meet emergency agricultural production goals.

(2) Gaining understanding and support of USDA defense activities through close working relationships with community organizations and groups and information media.

(3) Assuring coordination among Extension Services at Federal, State, and county levels in carrying out defense emergency responsibilities.

d. Forest Service (FS).

(1) Prevention and control of fires in rural areas in cooperation with State governments and appropriate Federal agencies.

(2) Determination of damage to National Forests and other forested areas resulting from enemy attack.

(3) Emergency protection, management, and utilization of National Forest timber, range, water, and related resources.

(4) Emergency production, availability, and utilization of timber and timber products in accordance with memorandum of understanding between the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture.

(5) Determination of and reporting requirements for equipment, manpower, fuels, chemicals, and other materials needed for carrying out the assigned activities.

(6) Research in support of defense preparedness and emergency operations relating to management and utilization of forest resources and defense against rural land fires.

e. Soil Conservation Service (SCS)

(1) Based upon results of radiological monitoring and the extent of radioactive contamination, guidance to farmers and others on:

(a) Safety of livestock.

(b) Disposition of growing crops and harvesting of crops.

(c) Use of crops stored on farms.

(d) Selection and use of land for agricultural production.

(e) Use, conservation, disposal and control of water to assure adequate usable water for agricultural purposes and to prevent floods.

(2) Assessing damage to agricultural lands and water resulting from enemy attack.

Sec. 6. Assistant Secretary, International Affairs and Commodity Programs. Agricultural production; food processing, storage and distribution; distribution of farm equipment and fertilizer; rehabilitation and use of food, agricultural and related agribusiness facilities; CCC resources; and foreign agricultural intelligence and other foreign agricultural matters.

a. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

(1) Agricultural production including emergency controls on feed and seed and on domestic distribution of farm equipment and fertilizer; and emergency controls on grain storage and distribution and on food processing, storage, and distribution through the wholesaler level.

(2) Analyzing the emergency capabilities of agriculture, the food industry and support industries to supply requirements.

(3) Assessing effects of attack on assigned resources.

(4) Guidance and information on emergency plans to agricultural and food industries and to State governments.

(5) Determining the needs of agriculture, the food industry, and related agribusinesses for supporting materials, manpower, supplies, and services necessary for essential operations, and providing assistance to these industries in obtaining these inputs and services.

(6) Facilitating the rehabilitation of food, agricultural and related agribusiness facilities.

(7) Providing assistance to the Assistant to the Secretary, Intergovernmental Affairs, including:

(a) Consolidation of all claims for materials, manpower, equipment, supplies, and services to support defense program responsibilities of USDA.

(b) Coordinating activities relating to expansion of productive capacity, materials, and facilities under the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

(c) Back-up assistance on interdepartmental and international meetings relating to defense preparedness.

(d) Servicing USDA State and county emergency boards.

(e) Coordinating preemergency defense reporting.

b. Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

(1) Procurement of needed food and agricultural commodities under the CCC Charter Act to provide emergency food supplies, and the management of any commodity inventories to assure their availability in an emergency.

(2) Making reimbursable disbursements for FmHA emergency production loans when there is a breakdown in mail services or in activities of the FmHA Finance Office or the Disbursing Office of the Treasury.

(3) Guaranteeing or making emergency loans needed to process, store, and distribute food and other agricultural commodities, to mix and distribute fertilizer, and to distribute farm equipment and other farm supplies.

(4) Guaranteeing payment to firms authorized by USDA to provide a commodity under the jurisdiction of USDA or a related service.

c. Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS).

(1) Assisting ERS in acquiring and analyzing information related to food and agricultural commodities on a worldwide basis by commodities.

(2) Assembling and preparing analyses, in cooperation with the Department of State, of food requirements for foreign allies, and making recommendations regarding allocations.

(3) Assembling and presenting Canadian food requirements, in cooperation with the Canadian Government, whenever food allocations are made.

(4) Carrying out any foreign trade controls that may be assigned.

(5) Supporting the activities of international defense organizations, such as NATO and its suborganizations, concerned with food and agriculture.

Sec. 7. Assistant Secretary, Rural Development. Rural credit and financial assistance.

a. Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

(1) Emergency credit to farmers in support of the agricultural production program.

(2) Technical assistance relating to guarantees, loans, and other credit arrangements in support of all USDA emergency programs except agricultural production.

b. Rural Electrification Administration (REA).

(1) Emergency credit to REA-financed rural electrification and telephone systems.

(2) Technical assistance and advice on restoration of electric power and telephone service, and in meeting emergency conditions, including facilities protection; estimating electric power requirements and supply capabilities of REA-financed systems; determination of and support requirements for materials, manpower, equipment, supplies, and services needed by REA-financed systems to meet the requirements of their customers.

Sec. 8. Assistant Secretary, Administration. Internal administrative management and support activities.

a. Office of Audit (OA). Audit service on a current basis to:

(1) Evaluate program effectiveness.

(2) As appropriate, recommend improvements in the planning, development, and execution of the defense program.

b. Office of Management and Finance (OMF). Policy guidance on budget matters covering all phases of defense assignments made to the Secretary. This includes procedures for budgeting and financing preemergency and emergency activities including both administrative and project costs.

c. Office of Operations (OO).

(1) Staff support for:

(a) Space management matters relating to emergency office space and fallout shelters.

(b) Supply and property management matters relating to emergency office space and fallout shelters.

(2) Emergency communications management.

(3) Coordination of agency plans for Washington area transportation of essential USDA personnel to their emergency operating facilities.

d. Office of Personnel (OP). Leadership, policy, guidance, program formulation, and management direction relating to preemergency and emergency personnel aspects of the Department's defense program, including:

(1) Assuring that each executive team member who will relocate in an emergency has the proper identification and security clearance.

(2) Readiness and postattack actions covering recruitment, appointment, and staffing.

(3) Employe training in safety and survival methods.

(4) In an emergency, advising employees who do not have defense assignments of actions to take if their regular duty stations are not in operation.

Sec. 9. Director, Agricultural Economics. Estimates of supplies of agricultural commodities and evaluation of requirements therefor; coordination of damage assessment; and food and agricultural aspects of economic stabilization, economic research, and agricultural statistics.

a. Economic Research Service (ERS).

(1) Estimating supplies and evaluating requirements for agricultural commodities, in cooperation with appropriate agencies of the Department.

(2) Economic analysis of production capacity and adjustment potentials for agricultural commodities.

(3) Economic analysis and background data relating to needs for and substitution possibilities for farm production inputs and marketing services, both domestically and for foreign countries.

(4) Recommending basic food allocations for major food claimants on the basis of ERS estimates of supplies and requirements.

(5) Reviewing economic stabilization proposals affecting food and agriculture and recommending a USDA position relative to economic stabilization and rationing.

b. Statistical Reporting Service (SRS).

(1) Obtaining and supplying needed agricultural statistics.

(2) Developing procedures for adapting available statistics to defense needs.

(3) Analyzing and summarizing USDA damage assessment data at the State level.

(4) Coordinating the national level assessment of effects of attack on resources for which USDA is responsible.

Sec. 10. Office of Communication (COMM).

a. Direction and advice on proper use of the information media.

b. Preparing or arranging for the development of informational materials.

c. Obtaining any additional materials prepared by other agencies.

d. Establishing and maintaining liaison with the Office of Preparedness and the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency to coordinate information methods, media, and subject matter relating to the USDA defense program.

Sec. 11. Office of the General Counsel (OGC).

a. Leadership in the development of proposed legislation needed to implement the defense responsibilities of USDA.

b. Advice and assistance on legal aspects of proposed preparedness and defense actions.

Sec. 12. Office of Investigation (OI). Security of physical facilities, self-protection, and warden systems.

Sec. 13. General Provisions Relating to Defense Assignments. Defense functions are assigned mainly on the basis of related current responsibilities. Only those agencies with specific defense assignments are included in this document.

a. The head of each agency with a defense assignment shall:

(1) Coordinate plans and programs with agencies having related responsibilities through the Office of Intergovernmental Affairs (OIA).

(2) Arrange for training of personnel, including any executive reservists.

(3) Issue necessary emergency operating instructions to headquarters and field offices.

b. The head of each agency with an assigned function of sufficient essentiality that it must be carried out in the immediate preattack, transattack, and immediate postattack period shall:

(1) Establish a line of succession to act for him in the event of his inability to act. In accordance with guidance from OIA, include one or more field officials.

(2) Obtain security clearance for each successor.

(3) Document line of succession.

(4) Clear line of succession with OGC.

(5) Preposition authenticated copies of line of succession in agency records at headquarters relocation sites.

(6) File authenticated copy of line of succession with OIA.

c. The head of each agency with an assigned function that is essential to the postattack reconstruction of the Nation shall depend, for defense purposes, on the peacetime line of succession established within his agency. These successors shall act for him in the event of his inability to act.

d. Heads of all other agencies shall respond to special requests in support of the defense effort. Such agencies, in event of attack, would defer reconstitution until directed by proper authority.

COORDINATION AND LIAISON IN THE FIELD

Sec. 14. USDA regional emergency staffs.

a. Members. Representatives of USDA agencies determined by OIA to have essential, uninterruptible defense functions at the regional level. Chairman is selected from among the members by OIA.

b. Location. In each of the 10 Standard Federal Regions.

c. Responsibilities of Chairman.

(1) Preemergency.

(a) Liaison with Federal agency representatives at the regional level including the Federal Preparedness Agency (General Services Administration) and the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency (Department of Defense).

V40I152 AUG 6 75 XUM

(b) Representing USDA on any defense-related regional committees established by the Federal Preparedness Agency or the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency.

(2) Emergency.

(a) Continuing liaison with other Federal agencies and exchanging information on attack effects and availability of resources.

(b) Presenting food and agriculture claims at the regional level for materials, manpower, equipment, supplies, and services under the jurisdiction of other agencies.

(c) During period when communications with national headquarters are cut off, providing guidance for all USDA programs within the region.

(d) Representing USDA in dealings with the Regional Office of Defense Resources.

(e) Channeling defense information between field representatives and national headquarters of USDA.

d. Responsibilities of Staff Members.

(1) Assisting chairman in carrying out regional defense preemergency and emergency responsibilities.

(2) During a defense emergency, providing USDA support as required in Federal Regional Council Cities and at the alternate regional emergency operating facilities.

SEC. 15. State Emergency Boards.

a. Coverage. A board in each State and one covering Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

b. Members. Representatives of

|---|---|
| ASCS (chairman) | |
| APHIS | FS |
| CES | SCS |
| FmHA | SRS |

c. Responsibilities.

(1) Coordination of preemergency preparation and emergency execution of USDA programs at the State level.

(2) Preparation and execution of defense programs not assigned to any one agency, e.g., State level coordination of damage assessment activities.

(3) Providing guidance to USDA county emergency boards.

(4) Serving as liaison between USDA and State government officials on defense matters.

Sec. 16. USDA County Emergency Boards.

a. Coverage. A board covers every county or comparable subdivision in the United States and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

b. Members. Representatives of

ASCS (chairman except in special circumstances)
CES
SCS
Other agencies as available or as warranted

c. Responsibilities.

(1) Coordination of preemergency preparation and emergency execution of USDA programs at the county level.

(2) Preparation and execution of defense programs not assigned to any one agency, e.g., observing and reporting effects of attack on resources under USDA jurisdiction.

(3) Serving as liaison between USDA and local government officials on defense matters.

This notice shall be effective on August 6, 1975.

Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq., 15 CFR 701, 1974).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket number: 75-00473-00-46040. Applicant: Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona 85281. Article: Goniometer Stage for Electron Microscope. Manufacturer: Philips Electronic Instruments, NVD, The Netherlands. Intended use of article: The article is an accessory to an existing electron microscope to be used to aid in the study of formation of ferrite particles in irradiated austenitic stainless steel in order to determine the orientation relationships between the ferrite particles and the austenite matrix.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application.

Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States.

Reasons: The application relates to a compatible accessory for an instrument that had been previously imported for the use of the applicant institution. The article is being furnished by the manufacturer which produced the instrument with which the article is intended to be used and is pertinent to the applicant's purposes.

The Department of Commerce knows of no similar accessory being manufactured in the United States, which is interchangeable with or can be readily adapted to the instrument with which the foreign article is intended to be used.

FIELD MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 FR 12253 et seq, 15 CFR 701, 1974.)

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket number: 75-00042-88-46070. Applicant: Field Museum of Natural History, Department of Zoology, Lake Shore Drive & Roosevelt Road, Chicago, Illinois 60605. Article: Scanning Electron Microscope, Model S4-10. Manufacturer: Cambridge Instruments, Ltd., United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article will be used for the study of surface features, histological details, and fracture sections of biological objects and fossils. Study materials include live insect and plant materials, preserved museum specimens, critical point dried biological materials and minerals. Some of the specimens must be observed without fixation, or coating. By placing these in a humidity chamber for 24 hours prior to study, the elevated water content prevents or minimizes charging. Interpretation of the studies is aided by the ability to compare wet specimen observations with those of specimens treated or prepared in other ways such as fixing and critical point drying. Examples of specific specimens to be studied using various methods of handling are mites ptiliid beetles, plant materials and other diverse organisms. In the main comparative studies on the classification, functional morphology and structures of the various specimens with a view toward understanding the significance and function of observed structures (many of which are expected to be hitherto unobserved) will be carried out. The article will also be used extensively in teaching in graduate level courses (open to students at the University of Chicago, Northwestern University, University of Illinois Medical Center and other institutions of higher education) offered in Problems in Phylogeny and Zoogeography, Mammalian Systematics, Vertebrate Paleontology, Entomology, Organic Evolution and Biogeography by Museum staff members.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application.

Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, was being manufactured in the United States at the time the foreign article was ordered (October 12, 1972).

Reasons: This application is a resubmission of Docket No. 73-00327-88-46070 and which was denied without prejudice to resubmission on March 8, 1974 for informational deficiencies. At the time the foreign article was ordered the applicant intended to study a number of specimens which normally contain a high degree of moisture and are significantly altered as drying occurs. Although several methods are currently widely accepted as a means of studying such specimens in the scanning electron microscope (SEM) without maintaining the wet condition (e.g., critical point drying), at the time of order direct examination of wet specimens was worthy of investigation. Direct examination of very wet specimens in the SEM, however, is difficult because the specimen chamber must accommodate the excess moisture needed to prevent degradation and charging of the specimen (while micrographs are being obtained) without significantly blocking the path of the electron beam or altering the vacuum in the electron optical column needed for normal instrument operation. The foreign article overcomes this difficulty with a dual pump vacuum system in which the specimen chamber and the electron optical column are each pumped independently with a high degree of control by a separate diffusion pump. The manufacturer of the foreign article states that 4000 micrograms of water per minute can be accommodated by the chamber under normal SEM operation. Domestic instruments available at the time the foreign article was ordered provided a single pump vacuum system in which the diffusion pump is connected to a manifold with separate valves to divide between the column and chamber. Interplay of both valves is involved in an adjustment of vacuum. Information as to the rate at which water may enter the specimen chamber without adversely effecting operation has not been obtainable from manufacturers of domestic instruments comparable to the article. We are advised by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) in its memorandum dated November 4, 1974 that the capabilities of the dual vacuum system of the foreign article is pertinent to the applicant's research studies. HEW further advises that domestically manufactured SEMs available did not provide a pumping system to meet the applicant's needs. We, therefore, find that domestically available SEMs were not of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article for the applicant's intended uses at the time the article was ordered.

Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651, 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder as amended (40 F.R. 12253 et seq, 15 CFR 701, 1974.)

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Import Programs, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket number: 74-00456-33-46070. Applicant: University of California, Department of Botany, Davis, California 95616. Article: Scanning Electron Microscope, Model S4. Manufacturer: Cambridge Scientific Instruments Ltd., United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to examine biological material, viz: pollen, leaf tissue, thin sections of plastic embedded cells, lung tissue, bone, herbicide dispersal patterns on leaves, algal morphology, shoot tip developmental patterns, fungal micromorphology, and insects.

In addition (1) energy-dispersive x-ray analysis will be used in conjunction with the microscope to explore the elemental distribution patterns of various biologically important elements. (2) specimen cathodoluminescence will be observed to examine herbicide fluorescence patterns on lead surfaces. (3) X-ray analysis will be performed on thin sectioned biological materials in conjunction with scanning transmission electron imaging.

The article will also be used in the following courses designed to acquaint students with the basic concepts concerning plant and animal tissue morphology:

Plant cytology—Botany 130.
Organization and phylogeny of vascular plants—Botany 116.
Phycology—Botany 118.
Plant anatomy—Botany 105.
Biological evaluation of herbicides—Botany 180.
Biological electron miscroscopy—Botany 231.
Insect classification—Entomology 105.
Systematic anatomy—Anatomy 100.
Diseases of crop plants—Plant Pathology 206A.
Introduction of plant pathology—Plant pathology 120.

Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application.

Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, was being manufactured in the United States at the time the foreign article was ordered. (November 5, 1971).

Reasons: This application is a resubmission of Dockets No. 73-00103-33-46070 and 72-00185-33-46070 which were denied without prejudice to resubmission on February 4, 1974 and May 11, 1972 respectively for informational deficiencies. At the time the foreign article was ordered the applicant intended to study a number of specimens which normally contain a high degree of moisture and are significantly altered as drying occurs. Although several methods are currently widely accepted as a means of studying such specimens in the scanning electron microscope (SEM) without maintaining the wet condition (e.g., critical point drying), at the time of order direct examination of wet specimens was worthy of investigation. Direct examination of very wet specimens in the SEM, however, is difficult because the specimen chamber must accommodate the excess moisture needed to prevent degradation and charging of the specimen (while micrographs are being obtained), without significantly blocking the path of the electron beam or altering the vacuum in the electron optical column needed for normal instrument operation. The foreign article overcomes this difficulty with a dual pump vacuum system in which the specimen chamber and the electron optical column are each pumped independently with a high degree of control by a separate diffusion pump. The manufacturer of the foreign article states that 4000 micrograms of water per minute can be accommodated by the chamber under normal SEM operation. Domestic instruments available at the time the foreign article was ordered provided a single pump vacuum system in which the diffusion pump is connected to a manifold with separate valves to divide between the column and chamber. Interplay of both valves is involved in an adjustment of vacuum. Information as to the rate at which water may enter the specimen chamber without adversely effecting operation has not been obtainable from manufacturers of domestic instruments comparable to the article. We are advised by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) in its memorandum dated July 26, 1974 that the capabilities of the dual vacuum system of the foreign article is pertinent to the applicant's research studies. HEW further advises that domestically manufactured SEMs did not have two diffusion pumps or a vacuum system scientifically equivalent to that of the foreign article at the time the foreign article was ordered.

The Deparment of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for such purposes as this article is intended to be used, which was being manufactured in the United States at the time the foreign article was ordered.

views with respect to the question of whether an instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value for the purposes for which the article is intended to be used is being manufactured in the United States. Such comments must be filed in triplicate with the Director, Special Import Programs Division, Office of Import Programs, Washington, D.C. 20230, within 20 calendar days after the date on which this notice of application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Amended regulations issued under cited Act, as published in the March 18, 1975 issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER, prescribe the requirements applicable to comments.

A copy of each application is on file, and may be examined during ordinary Commerce Department business hours at the Special Import Programs Division, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket number: 76–00006–33–46040. Applicant: University of Washington, RR 104 University Hospital RG–20, Seattle, Washington 98195. Article: AEI Corinth 500 Electron Microscope. Manufacturer: AEI Scientific Apparatus Inc., United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in the study of the effect of fatty acid absorption on Chylomicron formation, electron microscopic studies of intestinal smooth muscle and myenteric nerve plexes of patients with a variety of gastrointestinal disorders and electron microscopic studies on human xanthomas and on the skin lesions of patients suspected of having the lymphomatous malignancy, mycosis fungoides. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 9, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00007–33–90000. Applicant: Stormont-Vail Hospital, 1500 West 100th Street, Topeka, Kansas 66606. Article: EMI Scanner System with Magnetic Tape System. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to investigate the amount of atrophic changes present and identifiable by means of computerized axial tomography of the brain. The objective of this research is to further the knowledge and increase the expectancy level of demonstrable lesions in the brain not available by any other means. The article will also be used for training students and staff in the proper utilization of the computerized axial tomograph machine itself. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 9, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00008–33–46040. Applicant: University of Washington, Seattle, Washington 98195. Article: Electron Microscope, Model JEM 100S with plate camera, semi-automatic photometer and plate numbering system, and accessories. Manufacturer: JEOL Ltd., Japan. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used for studies of biological materials from human and non-human origin, e.g., lung tissue, cervical tissue, tissue-culture cells, bacteria and viruses as well as non-biological materials, e.g., asbestos fibers and air pollution particulates. Research will be conducted to (1) characterize and quantify the growth and development of residual lung tissue in animals following pneumonectomy; (2) to expose pneumonectomized animals to single or multiple concentrations of common air pollutants and to determine if, and to what extent, growth of the residual lung is impaired by exposure to the gas and the factors responsible for this impairment. In addition, the article will be used to train graduate students, research and specific degree students (e.g., sanitation and industrial hygiene) in the theory and practice of light and electron microscopy for the evaluation of research material and material from the urban environment. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 9, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00010–33–90000. Applicant: Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital, 2825 Barnett Road, Medford, Oregon 97501. Article: EMI Scanner System with Diagnostic Display Console. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to provide noninvasive computerized tomograms of elderly patients to determine the incidence of low pressure hydrocephalus as a cause of premature senility. Medical radiologic technicians will also be trained in the use of the instrument. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 10, 1975.

Docket Number: 76–00012–33–40700. Applicant: UCLA Hospital & Clinics, Division of Radiation Therapy, Center for the Health Sciences, Los Angeles, California 90024. Article: Gammacell 220 Irradiation Unit, Cobalt 60 source, Attenuators (J–325) and Field Flattener (J–348). Manufacturer: Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., Canada. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used for studies of the clinical effects of gamma irradiation on whole blood, plasma, and/or cell cultures. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 10, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00013–33–46500. Applicant: Indiana University, Purchasing Department, 1101 East 17th Street, Bloomingtoh, IN 47401. Article: OMU3 Ultramicrotome with stereoscopic microscope and accessories. Manufacturer: C. Reichert Optische, Werke AG, Austria. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to prepare plastic embedded tissue specimens for electron microscopic study for all research projects in the Medical Sciences Program. In addition the article will be used for studies involving the intranuclear annulate lamellae in rodent giant cell trophoblast. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 10, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00014–33–90000. Applicant: St. Luke's Hospital of Kansas City, Wornall Road at 44th, Kansas City, Missouri 64111. Article: EMI Scanner System with Magnetic Tape Storage System and Diagnostic Display Console. Manufacturer: EMI Limited, United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in a number of educational programs including the training of resident physicians in Radiology; the training of interns and residents in Medicine, Surgery and other related fields; and the training of Radiologic Technologists in Special Procedures. In addition, the article will be used in clinical evaluation and research including the correlation and evaluation of various diagnostic tests for abnormal brain conditions such as isotope studies, x-ray contrast studies, ultrasound and other modalities. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 10, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00015–33–46040. Applicant: National Cancer Institute, Baltimore Cancer Research Ctr., 3100 Wyman Park Drive, Baltimore, Maryland 21211. Article: Electron Microscope JEM 100C. Manufacturer: JEOL Ltd., Japan. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used in a research capacity in studies of subcellular aspects of differentiation, neoplastic transformation of hematopoietic cells and the response of malignant and normal cells to chemotherapeutic agents. Etiologic factors of human hematopoietic dyscrasias and animal model systems of such diseases are also under investigation. Of particular importance is the search for and identification of virus like structures in human material. The article will also be used to study structural alterations in cellular components such as nucleic acid malformations, subcellular particle alterations and changes in tissue organization by pharmacologic agents or appearing in the natural course of a disease. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 10, 1975.

Docket number: 76–00016–98–40500. Applicant: Purdue University, Lafayette, In. 47907. Article: Model MK2 cube interferometer. Manufacturer: Sir. Howard Grubb Parsons and Co. Ltd., United Kingdom. Intended use of article: The article is intended to be used to carry out studies of the following:

(1) Excitation spectra using amplitude fourier spectroscopy in order to detect predicted collective modes in dipolar liquids ($f<250\ cm.^{-1}$).

(2) The normal modes of RNA and DNA in the far infrared ($f<200\ cm^{-1}$) in order to compare them with what is predicted by theory.

(3) Excitation spectra of localized states in silver halides and semiconductors.

(4) High frequency dielectric constant of super ionic conductors. Application received by Commissioner of Customs: July 9, 1975.

[Docket No. 75N–0152]

THE COCA COLA CO.

Frozen Concentrated Orange Juice Deviating From Identity Standard; Temporary Permit for Market Testing

The Food and Drug Administration has issued to the Coca Cola Co. a temporary permit (24 months duration) to market test a reduced-acid orange juice, effective no later than November 4, 1975.

Pursuant to § 10.5 (21 CFR 10.5) concerning temporary permits to facilitate market testing of foods that deviate from the requirements of the standards of identity promulgated pursuant to section 401 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 341), notice is given that a temporary permit has been issued to the Coca Cola Co., P.O. Box 2079, Houston, TX 77001. This permit covers limited interstate marketing tests of frozen concentrated orange juice that deviates from the standard of identity prescribed in § 27.109 (21 CFR 27.109) in that a portion of the citric acid has been removed from the orange juice to produce a product having a Brix/acid ratio in the range of 21:1 to 26:1, which is greater than that of the standardized food.

The principal display panel of the labels will declare the name "Reduced Acid Frozen Concentrated Orange Juice."

This permit is effective for 24 months. The 24-month period will begin on the date the new food is introduced or caused to be introduced into interstate commerce but no later than November 4, 1975.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

ADMINISTRATIVE PRACTICES AND PROCEDURES

Stay of Regulations

In the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 4, 1975 (40 FR 32750), the Commissioner of Food and Drugs announced a stay, until further notice, of the regulations on administrative practices and procedures published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 27, 1975 (40 FR 22950). This action was the result of an order of permanent injunction entered on July 31, 1975, by the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in the case of American College of Neuropsychopharmacology v. Weinberger, et al., Civ. Action No. 75–1187. In that announcement, the Commissioner stated that he would issue for publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, as required by the Court's Order, the terms of the Court's Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, and of its Final Order and Judgment. The document referred to by the Commissioner as "Final Order and Judgment" was issued by the Court with the caption "Order."

The Commissioner therefore, pursuant to the Court's Order, hereby issues the following documents:

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

INTRODUCTION

This action for equitable relief including declaratory judgment and injunction questions the validity of defendants' promulgating, as final, certain regulations of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) entitled "Administrative Practices and Procedures" published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 27, 1975 (40 FR 22950–23046). The Court has considered the verified Complaint, the plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Injunction, and the defendants' Opposition thereto. After the benefit of full argument, the Court granted a preliminary injunction.

Subsequently, defendants made an oral motion before the Court that the hearing on the preliminary injunction be stipulated to be a hearing on the merits and any relief granted be cast in permanent terms. Plaintiff joined in the motion.

The Court, therefore, makes the following Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law in support of the attached Order granting a permanent injunction.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Plaintiff is a non-profit, tax-exempt, interdisciplinary scientific corporation which, on behalf of its members, has participated and currently is participating in a variety of regulatory matters before the FDA, which affect the rights and interests of its member practitioners and researchers.

2. Defendants are charged with the enforcement and administration of the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. 321 et seq.

3. In the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 27, 1975 (40 FR 22950–23046), defendants issued regulations consisting of 96 pages of printed material and entitled "Administrative Practices and Procedures." These regulations were issued in final form, rather than as proposed rulemaking, with an effective date of July 28, 1975. Public comment was solicited by the FDA, which established July 28, 1975 as the deadline for submissions. This comment period was subsequently extended to August 27, 1975, pursuant to a notice appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 20, 1975 (40 FR 26027). However, the final and effective date of the regulations of July 28, 1975 was not affected.

4. Section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act (APA), 5 U.S.C. 553, imposes certain minimum requirements on any administrative agency initiating a rule-making proceeding. Specifically, this section provides that

(b) General notice of proposed rule making shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER * * *. The notice shall include—

(1) A statement of the time, place, and nature of public rule making proceedings;

(2) Reference to the legal authority under which the rule is proposed; and

(3) Either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved. Except when notice or hearing is required by statute, this subsection does not apply—

(A) To interpretative rules, general statements of policy, or rules of agency organization, procedures, or practice; or,

(B) When the agency for good cause finds (and incorporates the finding and a brief statement of reasons therefor in the rules issued) that notice and public procedure thereon are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.

(c) After notice required by this section, the agency shall give interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rule making through submission of written data, views, or arguments with or without opportunity for oral presentation. After consideration of the relevant matter presented, the agency shall incorporate in the rules adopted a concise general statement of their basis and purpose * * *.

* * * * * *

(e) Each agency shall give an interested person the right to petition for the issuance, amendment, or repeal of a rule."

5. The FDA is subject to the provisions of the APA by virtue of section 551(1) which defines agency to mean "* * * each authority of the Government of the United States, whether or not it is within or subject to review of another agency * * *."

6. The proceeding initiated by defendants, which is identified in the preamble to the FDA regulations as a rule-making, meets the definition contained in section 551(5) of the APA which states that "'rule making' means agency process for formulating, amending, or repealing a rule."

1. A rule, in turn, is defined in section 551 (4) of the APA as "* * * the whole or a part of an agency statement of general or particular applicability and future effect designed to implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy or describing the organization, procedure, or practice requirements of an agency * * *."

8. Defendants admittedly failed to comply with the APA requirements of section 553 (b) and (c) which mandate that in a rulemaking proceeding the regulation must first be published as a proposal with sufficent opportunity for effective participation by interested persons prior to its promulgation as a final regulation.

9. As authority for its action, defendants relied upon section 553(b) (A) and (B) of the APA.

10. To determine whether defendants' action meets the criteria of (A), the "substantial impact" test, not labels such as "procedural," is to be utilized:

Complexity and pervasiveness of the rules issued;

Drastic changes effected in existing law by the rules;

Degree of retroactivity and its impact; and Confusion and controversy engendered by practical difficulty in compliance with new rules.

National Motor Freight Traffic Assn., Inc. v. United States, 268 F. Supp. 90, 96 (D.C. 1967), aff'd 393 U.S. 18 (1968); Continental Oil Company v. Burns, 317 F. Supp. 194 (Del. 1940).

11. To determine whether defendants' action meets the criteria of (B), the findings, if any, in the preamble to the regulation must be examined.

12. Plaintiff's opportunity to submit views on final regulations is not the equivalent to its statutory right to comment on proposed regulations, prior to final enactment.

13. As a result of defendants' actions, plaintiff was deprived of its opportunity to participate in the rule-making proceeding with respect to regulations which have a substantial impact on plaintiff.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. This Court has jurisdiction of this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 2201 and 28 U.S.C. 2202 and 5 U.S.C. 701–706.

2. Defendants' regulations, because of their complexity and pervasiveness, cannot be classified merely as "interpretative rules, general statements of policy or rules of agency organization, procedure or practice" as set forth in section 553(b)(A) of the APA.

3. No "good cause" has been advanced to support defendants' claim that issuance of the regulations as a proposal is "impracticable, unnecessary or contrary to the public interest" as set forth in section 553(b)(B) of the APA.

4. Defendants illegally promulgated the regulations in violation of section 553(b) and (c) of the APA, by not publishing the same as proposed regulations, rather than by promulgating the same as final regulations.

5. Defendants' invalid action deprived plaintiff of its statutory rights.

An Order consistent with the foregoing has been entered this day.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

JOHN H. PRATT,
United States District Judge.

ORDER

The Court having entered its Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law this 31st day of July, 1975, it is hereby Ordered: (1) That defendants Weinberger and Schmidt, and their officers, agents and employees, be and hereby are permanently enjoined from promulgating, as final, regulations entitled "Administrative Practices and Procedures" as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 27, 1975 (40 FR 22950–23046), without complying, as a condition precedent, with the requirements of section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 553; and

(2) That defendants publish forthwith in the FEDERAL REGISTER a copy of this Order and the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

JOHN H. PRATT,
United States District Judge.

These documents are published pursuant to the terms of the above Order of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

Dated: August 4, 1975.

APPLE BLOSSOM LAKE AND CATARACT LAKE ESTATES

Notice of Hearing

In the matter of Apple Blossom Lake, OILSR, No. 0–4125–15–52; Cataract Lake Estates, OILSR No. 0–4106–15–54; Doc. Nos. ED–75–9 and ED–75–10.

Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1706(e) and 24 CFR 1720.165(b), notice is hereby given that:

1. Colonial Discount Corporation, Jack W. Griffin, President, its officers and agents, hereinafter referred to as "Respondent," being subject to the provisions of the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act (Pub. Law 90–448) (15 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.), received Notices of Suspension dated July 11, 1975, which were sent to the developer pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1706(c) and 24 CFR 1710.45(b)(3) and 1720.131 informing the developer that its amended Statements of Record submitted June 6, 1975, for Apple Blossom Lake, located in Putnam County, Indiana and Cataract Estates, located in Owen County, Indiana, were not effective pursuant to the Act, and the regulations contained in 24 CFR Part 1710.

2. The Respondent filed an Answer received July 2, 1975, in response to the suspension order.

3. In said answer the respondent requested a hearing on the suspension order.

4. Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of 15 U.S.C. 1706(e) and 24 CFR 1720.165(b), It is hereby ordered, That a public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence on the propriety of the Suspension Order will be held before Judge James W. Mast, in Room 7146, Department of HUD, 451 7th Street, SW., Washington, D.C., on August 7, 1975, at 10 a.m.

The following time and procedure is applicable to such hearing: All affidavits and a list of all witnesses are requested to be filed with the Hearing Clerk, HUD Building, Room 10150, Washington, D.C. 20410 on or before August 6, 1975.

6. The Respondent is hereby notified that failure to appear at the above scheduled hearing shall be deemed a default, and the proceedings shall be determined against Respondent, the allegations of which shall be deemed to be true, and the suspension order shall be continued in effect.

This Notice shall be served upon the Respondent forthwith pursuant to 24 CFR 1720.440.

SALISHAN

Hearing

In the matter of Salishan, OILSR No. 0–1467–43–18; Doc. No. 75–85–IS.

Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1706(d) and 24 CFR 1720.160(d), notice is hereby given that:

1. Salishan Properties, Inc., Howard M. Feuerstein, Authorized Agent, its officers and agents, hereinafter referred to as "Respondent," being subject to the provisions of the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act (Pub. Law 90–448) (15 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.), received a Notice of Proceedings and Opportunity for Hearing issued July 7, 1975, which was sent to the developer pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1706(d), 24 CFR 1710.45(b)(1) and 1720.125 informing the developer of information obtained by the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration alleging that the Statement of Record and Property Report for Salishan, located in Lincoln County, Oregon, contain untrue statements of material fact or omit to state material facts required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading.

2. The Respondent filed an Answer received July 25, 1975, in response to the Notice of Proceedings and Opportunity for Hearing.

3. In said Answer the Respondent requested a hearing on the allegations contained in the Notice of Proceedings and Opportunity for Hearing.

4. Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of 15 U.S.C. 1708(d) and 24 CFR 1720.160(d), it is hereby ordered, That a public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence on the questions set forth in the Notice of Proceedings and Opportunity for Hearing will be held before Judge James W. Mast, in Room 7146, Department of HUD, 451 7th Street, SW., Washington, D.C., on September 10, 1975, at 10 a.m.

The following time and procedure is applicable to such hearing: All affidavits and a list of all witnesses are requested to be filed with the Hearing Clerk, HUD Building, Room 10150, Washington, D.C. 20410 on or before August 27, 1975.

6. The Respondent is hereby notified that failure to appear at the above scheduled hearing shall be deemed a default and the proceeding shall be determined against Respondent, the allegations of which shall be deemed to be true, and an ORDER Suspending the Statement of Record, herein identified, shall be issued pursuant to 24 CFR 1710.45(b)(1).

This notice shall be served upon the Respondent forthwith pursuant to 24 CFR 1720.440.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Railroad Administration

[FRA General Docket No. F–74–35]

ASHLEY, DREW AND NORTHERN RAILWAY CO.

Waiver of Freight Car Safety Standards

The Ashley, Drew and Northern Railway Company (AD&W) has sought approval from the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to continue operating certain freight cars equipped with one or more components whose use was restricted, effective January 1, 1975, under FRA regulations (49 C.F.R. 215.225). Information has subsequently become available which indicates that some of these cars are also equipped with components whose use is prohibited under FRA regulations (49 C.F.R. 215.223).

The FRA has considered the request for approval to continue operating these cars, which was filed under the provisions of section 215.225, to be a petition for exemption from section 215.223 of the FRA Freight Car Safety Standards. The petition seeks an exemption for 104 pulpwood rack cars which are equipped with one or more pairs of cast iron wheels, a component whose use was prohibited effective January 1, 1975 under FRA regulations.

These cars are used in lumber service between Monticello and Crossett in the State of Arkansas. The cars are used exclusively on the AD&N railroad at speeds which do not exceed 35 miles per hour and are not interchanged with any other carrier. The cars all bear AD&N reporting marks and bear assorted numbers in the series between 300 and 469.

Petitioner seeks a permanent exemption for these cars and states that the cars have been inspected and found safe to operate in the lumber service described in this notice.

Interested persons are invited to participate in these proceedings by submitting written data, views, or comments. FRA does not anticipate scheduling an opportunity for oral comment on these petitions since the facts do not appear to warrant it. An opportunity to present oral comments will be provided however, if requested by any interested person prior to August 15, 1975. All communications concerning this petition should identify the appropriate Docket Number (FRA General Docket Number F–74–35) and should be submitted in triplicate to the Docket Clerk, Office of Chief Counsel, Federal Railroad Administration, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20590. Communications received before September 15, 1975 will be considered by the Federal Railroad Administration before final action is taken. ### MERIDIAN & BIGBEE RAILROAD CO.

Waiver of Freight Car Safety Standards

The Meridian and Bigbee Railroad Company (M&B) has sought approval from the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to continue operating certain freight cars equipped with one or more components whose use was restricted, effective January 1, 1975, under FRA regulations (49 CFR 215.225). Information has subsequently become available which indicates that some of these cars are also equipped with components whose use is prohibited under FRA regulations (49 CFR 215.223).

The FRA has considered the request for approval to continue operating these cars, which was filed under the provisions of section 215.225 of the regulations, to be a petition for exemption from section 215.223 of the FRA Freight Car Safety Standards. The petition seeks an exemption for 42 chip hopper cars which are equipped with one or more pairs of a type of cast steel wheels whose use was prohibited, effective January 1, 1975, under FRA regulations.

The cars are used exclusively to haul sawdust, wood chips and wood shavings between Meridian, Mississippi and Naheola, Alabama, a distance of approximately 46 miles. The cars are used solely on the M&B railroad at speeds which do not exceed 35 miles per hour and are not interchanged with any other carrier. The cars all bear M&B reporting marks and assorted numbers in the series between 800 and 1031.

Petitioner seeks a permanent exemption for these cars and states that the cars have inspected and found safe to operate in the service described in this notice. Petitioner also states that the cars have a good safety record during the time petitioner has owned the cars.

Interested persons are invited to participate in these proceeding by submitting written data, views, or comments. FRA does not anticipate scheduling an opportunity for oral comment on this petition since the facts do not appear to warrant it. An opportunity to present oral comments will be provided however, if requested by any interested person prior to August 15, 1975. All communications concerning this petition should identify the appropriate Docket Number (FRA Waiver Petition Docket Number RSFC–74–91) and should be submitted in triplicate to the Docket Clerk, Office of Chief Counsel, Federal Railroad Administration, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590. Communications received before September 15, 1975 will be considered by the Federal Railroad Administration before final action is taken. Comments received after that date will be considered so far as practicable. All comments received will be available, both before and after the closing date for communications, for examination by interested persons during regular business hours in Room 5101, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590.

OREGON AND NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD CO.

Waiver of Freight Car Safety Standards

The Oregon and Northwestern Railroad Company (O&NW) has sought approval from the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) to continue operating certain freight cars equipped with one or more components whose use was restricted, effective January 1, 1975, under FRA regulations (49 C.F.R. 215.225). Information has subsequently become available which indicates that some of these cars are also equipped with components whose use is prohibited under FRA regulations (49 C.F.R. 215.223).

The FRA has considered the request for approval to continue operating these cars, which was filed under the provisions of section 215.225, to be a petition for exemption from section 215.223 of the FRA Freight Car Safety Standards. The petition seeks an exemption for 146 log flat cars which are equipped with one or more pairs of cast iron wheels, a component whose use was prohibited, effective January 1, 1975, under FRA regulations.

These cars are used exclusively in lumber service between Hines and Seneca in the State of Washington. The cars are used solely on the O&NW railroad at speeds which do not exceed 25 miles per hour and are not interchanged with any other carrier. The cars all bear O&NW reporting marks and bear assorted numbers in the series between 301 and 605.

Petitioner seeks a permanent exemption for these cars and states that available records indicate that no accident during the past 20 years has been caused by the failure of one of these cars or its component parts.

Interested persons are invited to participate in these proceedings by submitting written data, views, or comments. FRA does not anticipate scheduling an opportunity for oral comment on these petitions since the facts do not appear to warrant it. An opportunity to present oral comments will be provided however, if requested by any interested person prior to August 15, 1975. [FRA Waiver Petition Docket No. RSFC-75-4]

TRAILER TRAIN CO.

Waiver of Freight Car Safety Standards

The Trailer Train Company (TTX) has petitioned the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) for an exemption from certain provisions of the FRA Freight Car Safety Standards. The petition seeks a waiver of the date by which all of the freight cars owned by TTX must receive their initial periodic inspection and a waiver of the time intervals within which the freight cars owned by TTX must be given subsequent periodic inspections. Both of these time frames are presently prescribed by FRA regulations (49 CFR 215.25).

TTX is a private owner of railroad freight cars. As of December 31, 1974 the fleet of freight cars owned by TTX totalled 73,373 freight cars. The fleet of cars are basically identified as flat cars. Approximately 39,000 of these plat cars are designed for the movement of intermodal freight shipments including truck trailers and cargo containers. Another group of these flat cars, totalling nearly 23,000 cars, are designed to accept superstructures for the transport of automobiles and are commonly referred to as autorack cars. The remaining cars in the TTX fleet are special purpose flat cars designed for the transport of large equipment including heavy machinery. The autorack and intermodal flat cars owned by TTX represents more than eighty percent of these types of cars currently in the nationwide freight car fleet.

TTX has estimated that approximately 87% of its fleet or roughly 64,000 of its flat cars currently fit within the definition of high utilization cars, TTX estimates that compliance with the current provisions of the regulations and without any allowance for growth of its fleet would require that periodic inspections be performed at the rate of 259 cars every day. TTX currently has 26 shops at which maintenance work is performed on its freight car fleet. Given the degree of work required when performing a periodic inspection, TTX has evaluated these facilities and concluded that, at present capacity levels, these shops can perform approximately 15,000 annual periodic inspections. TTX states that it has embarked on a program to expand its shop capacity and hopes to increase its periodic inspection capacity by approximately 2,500 cars by the end of 1975.

The FRA issued freight car safety standards (38 FR 32224) which became effective on January 1, 1974. In general terms those standards require that all freight cars be given an initial periodic inspection prior to December 31, 1976 (49 CFR 215(a)). In addition, if any freight car is operated in the manner described in the regulation or is of the particular designs specified in the regulation it will be considered a high utilization car. Any freight car which fits the defined status of high utilization must be inspected annually unless it was originally constructed or reconditioned within the preceding 24 months.

In view of those facts and for the reasons set forth in the petition TTX has requested an exemption from the provisions of the regulation so that TTX will be required to provide periodic inspections for its high utilization cars every 3 years unless that car was originally built or reconditioned within the preceding 6 years. TTX also seeks an extension of the time by which all of their high utilization cars must receive their initial periodic inspection. TTX has requested that it be given until December 31, 1979 to perform that initial periodic inspection.

In support of the request for an exemption TTX has provided accident data which indicates that for the three year period between 1971 and 1973 TTX freight cars experienced a significantly lower accident rate than did all other freight cars in the national freight car fleet. TTX states that it believes this better accident record for its high utilization cars stems in part from the quality of the design and construction of these cars including the use of a number of components whose specifications exceed those recommended by the Association of American Railroads. Furthermore, the high utilization cars belong to TTX have been receiving comprehensive preventive maintenance for several years. TTX states that it believes this preventive maintenance program is another of the principal factors which has been responsible for the lower accident rate for TTX high utilization cars. The final factor which TTX states is partly responsible for this accident record is the fact that these cars generally operate in a less severe service environment. The environment is less severe in part, according to TTX's estimation, because the average load carried by these cars is 20 to 30 percent less than that hauled by other freight cars. TTX believes that since these cars are primarily used over main lines they also avoid the more difficult problems associated with branch lines and switching in yards.

The TTX request for an exemption contains the basic formula which TTX has used in proposing to substitute a general 3 year periodic inspection requirement and a 6 year periodic inspection requirement for originally constructed or reconditioned equipment. The formula relied on by TTX uses the requirements for periodic inspection of non-high utilization freight cars which are set forth in the FRA Freight Car Safety Standards (49 CFR 215.25(a)(1)). The pertinent provisions requires that non-high utilizations cars be given periodic inspections in general every 4 years unless the car was originally constructed or reconditioned within the preceding 8 years. TTX requests that these 4 year and 8 year requirements be adjusted downward to 3 and 6 year intervals on the basis of the relative mileage and accident rates for the general national freight car fleet and those of the TTX high utilization cars.

TTX estimates that, if the periodic inspection intervals sought in this request for exemption are granted, it will require several years beyond the established deadline of December 31, 1976 to provide the initial periodic inspection for its entire fleet of high utilization cars. TTX has requested that it be granted an extension of this time provision and proposes to have given its entire fleet of high utilization cars their initial periodic inspection by December 31, 1979.

In urging the granting of the exemption in the manner requested, TTX indicates that a substantial nationwide inflationary impact would result while TTX attempted to comply with the current regulatory provisions. TTX also indicates its belief that fuel conservation efforts, air pollution control efforts and highway safety would be adversely affected if this exemption is not granted.

Interested persons are invited to participate in these proceedings by submitting written data, views, or comments. FRA does not anticipate scheduling an opportunity for oral comment on this petition. An opportunity to present oral comments will be provided however, if requested by any interested person prior to August 22, 1975. All communications concerning this petition should identify the appropriate Docket Number (FRA Waiver Petition Docket Number RSFC-75-4) and should be submitted in tripilicate to the Docket Clerk, Office of Chief Counsel, Federal Railroad Administration, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590. Communications received before September 15, 1975 will be considered by the Federal Railroad Administration before final action is taken. Comments received after that date will be considered so far as practicable. All comments received will be available, both before and after the closing date for communications, for examination by interested persons during regular business hours in Room 5101, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590.

This notice is issued under the authority of section 202, 84 Stat. 971, 45 U.S.C. 431; and section 1.49(n) of the regulations of the Office of the Secretary of Transportation, 49 C.F.R. 1.49(n).

Office of Hazardous Materials Operations

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS

Notice to Shippers and Carriers

A recent accident of serious consequence relating to the transportation of a forbidden explosive makes it necessary for the Bureau to bring to the attention of all shippers and carriers of hazardous materials several requirements of the Department's Hazardous Materials Regulations.

The Department's Hazardous Materials Regulations are found in Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 170-179. Section 173.51 contains requirements governing the offering of certain explosives for transportation and specifies the criteria used to identify those explosives. In addition, paragraph (b) of this section states that "Explosive compositions that ignite spontaneously or undergo marked decomposition when subjected for 48 consecutive hours to a temperature of 75° C. (167° F.)." are forbidden explosives. Also, § 173.21(b) states in part that "The offering for transportation of any package or container of any liquid, solid or gaseous material which under conditions incident to transportation may polymerize (combine or react with itself) or decompose so as to cause dangerous evolution of heat or gas is prohibited." Further, paragraph (c) of this section states "The offering for transportation of any package or container of any material which will cause a dangerous evolution of heat or gas under conditions normally incident to transportation is forbidden."

All shippers of hazardous materials are instructed to take note of the above cited prohibitions and should take all steps necessary to ascertain that the materials they offer for transportation do not fall under any of the conditions specified above. It is requested that any person having knowledge of anyone manufacturing, preparing, or processing materials of this kind, who may be potential shippers, advise them of the prohibitions mentioned above.

It is requested that all carriers handling hazardous materials bring these prohibitions to the attention of the shippers of hazardous materials they serve and make them fully aware of the existence of the Department's Hazardous Materials Regulations. Copies of the Regulations may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402 at a cost of $7.20 per copy. They should request "49 Transportation, Parts 100 to 199." Copies of the Regulations may also be obtained from the Bureau of Explosives, Association of American Railroads, 1920 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20036 and from the Tariff Order Section, American Trucking Associations, Inc., 1616 P Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Serious penalties may be imposed for violations of the Department's Hazardous Materials Regulations. Title 18 U.S.C. 834 (f), under which most of the existing regulations have been prescribed, states "Whoever knowingly violates any such regulation shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both; and, if the death or bodily injury of any person results from such violation, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both." New hazardous materials statutes enacted earlier this year increases the possible monetary fine to $25,000 for each offense.

Specific Commodity Rates

Issued under delegated authority July 31, 1975.

An agreement has been filed with the Board pursuant to section 412(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (the Act) and Part 261 of the Board's Economic Regulations between various air carriers, foreign air carriers, and other carriers embodied in the resolutions of the Joint Traffic Conferences of the International Air Transport Association (IATA), and adopted pursuant to the provisions of Resolution 590 dealing with specific commodity rates.

The agreement names an additional specific commodity rate, as set forth below, reflecting a reduction from general cargo rates, and was adopted pursuant to unprotested notices to the carriers and promulgated in an IATA letter dated July 23, 1975.

| Specific commodity item No. | Description and rate |
|---|---|
| 6435 | Opium, 161 cents per kg., minimum weight 1,000 kgs. From Calcutta to New York. |

Pursuant to authority duly delegated by the Board in the Board's Regulations, 14 CFR 385.14, it is not found that the subject agreement is adverse to the public interest or in violation of the Act, provided that approval is subject to the conditions hereinafter ordered.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That:

Agreement C.A.B. 25318 be and hereby is approved, provided that approval shall not constitute approval of the specific commodity descriptions contained therein for purposes of tariff publications, provided further that tariff filings shall be marked to become effective on not less than 30 days' notice from the date of filing.

Persons entitled to petition the Board for review of this order, pursuant to the Board's Regulations, 14 CFR 385.50, may file such petitions within ten days after the date of service of this order.

This order shall be effective and become the action of the Civil Aeronautics Board upon expiration of the above period, unless within such period a petition for review thereof is filed or the Board gives notice that it will review this order on its own motion.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

GRANTS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF TREATMENT WORKS

Consulting Engineering Agreements; Interim Guidance

The following program guidance memorandum has been distributed to Environmental Protection Agency Regional Offices to serve as interim guidance pending promulgation of final EPA regulations regarding grantee contracts with consulting engineers and other subagreement provisions under EPA grants. Proposed regulations were published on May 9, 1975, at 40 FR 20296. This guidance has been issued to clarify current EPA requirements while the Agency fully considers all comments received on the proposed regulation.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

ALVIN L. ALM,
Assistant Administrator for Planning and Management.

PROGRAM GUIDANCE MEMORANDUM

[PG-53]

INTERIM GUIDANCE—CONSULTING ENGINEERING AGREEMENTS—TITLE II CONSTRUCTION GRANT PROGRAM

Proposed subagreement regulations published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 9, 1975, included provisions applicable to consulting engineering agreements under EPA construction grants (principally proposed 40 CFR 35.937 through 35.937-11, at 40 FR 20303 through 20305). A notice was published in the June 9, 1975 FEDERAL REGISTER to extend the comment period upon these regulations to July 15, 1975.

It is anticipated that final regulations concerning the subject of the May 9, 1975 proposed regulations will be published in September 1975, with an effective date somewhat later. After promulgation but prior to the effective date, a series of regional workshops will be held. The purpose of these workshops will be to insure the EPA personnel, consulting engineers, state and municipal personnel and others will fully understand and properly apply the final subagreement regulations and to assure minimum disruption to the program.

The purpose of this memorandum is to define EPA policy and procedures concerning consulting engineering subagreements in the interim until final subagreement regulations become effective. Program Guidance Memorandum No. 42 dated October 23, 1974, and all other prior memos, letters and guidance concerning this subject-matter are superseded by this memorandum.

A. ACCESS TO RECORDS

(1) Existing EPA regulations require applicants/grantees and their contractors including consulting engineers, to maintain, and insure EPA access to, records pertinent to project performance. See 40 CFR § 35.935–7 of the February 11, 1974, final Title II construction grant regulations and 40 CFR §§ 30.605 and 30.805 of the final EPA general grant regulations published at 40 FR 20242 and 20245 on May 8, 1975.

This access to records requirement is applicable (subject to the policy and procedures set forth in sec. B, below) to all Title II construction grants, but action need not be taken to insert the access to records clause in consulting engineering agreements under Title II grants awarded prior to July 1, 1975.

(2) After June 30, 1975 a construction grant will not be awarded nor will initiation of Step 1 work be approved pursuant to 40 CFR §§ 35.917(e) or 35.925–18(a)(3), unless an acceptable access clause as follows is included in the consulting engineering subagreement. This requirement also pertains to Step 2 and Step 3 grant awards. This requirement also pertains to completed Step 1 or Step 2 work not covered by a grant award, if payment therefor is requested as a part of a Step 3 grant award. Submission of consulting engineering subagreements is required pursuant to 40 CFR §§ 35.920–3(a)(2) and 35.920–3(b)(7).

The following clause is the acceptable access to records clause for insertion in all consulting engineering subagreements in excess of $10,000:

1. The (Contractor/Consulting Engineer) shall maintain books, records, documents and other evidence directly pertinent to performance on EPA grant work under this agreement in accordance with accepted professional practice, appropriate accounting procedures and practices, and 40 CFR §§ 30.-605, 30.805, and 35.935–7. The United States Environmental Protection Agency, the Comptroller General of the United States, the United States Department of Labor, (the grantee-owner), and (the state water pollution control agency) or any of their duly authorized representativea shall have access to such books, records, documents and other evidence for the purpose of inspection, audit and copying. The (Contractor/Consulting Engineer) will provide proper facilities for such access and inspection.

2. The (Contractor/Consulting Engineer) agrees to include in all his contracts and all tier subcontracts directly related to project performance which are in excess of $10,000 the five items of this clause.

3. Audits conducted pursuant to this provision shall be in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and formally established audit regulations, procedures and guidelines of the reviewing or audit agency(ies).

4. The (Contractor/Consulting Engineer) agrees to the disclosure of all information and reports resulting from access to records pursuant to paragraphs 1 and 2, above, to any of the agencies referred to in paragraph 1, above. In those cases where the audit concerns the (contractor/consulting engineer), the auditing agency will afford the (contractor/consulting engineer) an opportunity for an audit exit conference, and an opportunity to comment on the pertinent portions of the draft audit report. The (contractor/consulting engineer) will be provided copies of the formal draft audit report at the time of its transmission. Such transmission will include the written comments, if any, of the audited firm.

5. Records under paragraphs 1 and 2 above shall be maintained and made available during performance on EPA grant work under this agreement and until three years from date of final EPA grant payment for the project. In addition, those records which relate to any "Dispute" appeal under an EPA grant agreement, or litigation, or the settlement of claims arising out of such performance, or costs or items to which an audit exception has been taken, shall be maintained and made available until three years after the date of resolution of such appeal, litigation, claim or exception.

An alternate clause may be approved only if it has been found acceptable by the Regional Counsel.

(3) Exception for Step 3 Grant Awards. If amendment of an existing consulting engineering agreement is not feasible prior to the award of a Step 3 grant, but amendment is assured in writing by a letter from the consulting engineer, grant award may be made prior to such amendment. In such case, the grant agreement must include the following special condition:

This grant is awarded subject to compliance, within 90 days after the grant award or such additional extension of time as may be allowed in writing by the EPA Project Officer, with the access to records requirements of 40 CFR 30.605, 30.805, and 35.935–7, in reliance upon the written assurance dated ) by (consulting engineer or firm). Consulting engineering work performed under an agreement which does not include an acceptable access to records clause will be ineligible. Accordingly, grant payments will not be made for consulting engineering work until the agreement under which such work has been or is being performed includes an acceptable access to records clause.

This exception should be utilized chiefly as an interim measure to avoid unnecessary disruption of Step 3 grant awards for applications presently filed in the EPA Regional Office.

B. EXERCISE OF RIGHT OF ACCESS TO RECORDS

(1) EPA has a broad right of access to the grantees' consulting engineers' records pertinent to performance of EPA project work. The extent to which EPA will exercise this right of access will depend upon the nature of the records and upon the type of agreement. In referring to these records, it is important to bear in mind the following three categories of records—

Category A: Records pertaining directly to the professional, technical and other services performed, excluding any type of financial records of the consulting engineer.

Category B: Financial records of the consulting engineer pertaining to the direct costs of professional, technical and other services performed, excluding financial records pertaining to profit and overhead or other indirect costs.

Category C: Financial records of the consulting engineer excluded from Category B.

(2) In all cases, EPA will exercise its right of access to Category A records. Also, where there is an indication that fraud, gross abuse, or corrupt practices may be involved, EPA will exercise its right of access to records in all categories. Access to consulting engineers' financial records (Category B and C) will depend principally upon the method(s) of compensation stipulated in the agreement:

(a) Agreements Based Upon a Percentage of Construction Cost. Category B and C records will not be audited. However, terms of the agreement including the total amount of compensation will be evaluated for fairness and reasonableness and consistency with historical and advisory guidelines in general use and acceptable locally such as ASCE Manual 45 or other analyses or data relied upon or utilized by the contracting parties in negotiation of the agreement. Such evaluation shall also consider comparable contracts for which EPA grants have been awarded. Payment under a contract based upon a percentage of construction cost must be based upon the consulting engineer's construction cost estimate provided at the time of completion of plans and specs plus a reasonable compensation for updating plans and specs, revising cost estimate, or similar services. Where the low bid for construction is higher than this estimate, payment for consulting engineering services may not be increased, except for those services performed in the interim between completion of plans and specs or award of the grant, and receipt of the engineer's estimate, over and above those services contemplated in the original consulting engineering agreement.

(b) Agreements Based Upon Salary Cost Times a Multiplier, Including Profit. Category B records will be audited. Category C records will not be audited. However, terms of the agreement, including the multiplier, will be evaluated in accordance with appropriate portions of paragraph B(2)(a) above. Items of overhead or other indirect costs will only be audited to the extent necessary to assure that types of costs found both in overhead and reimbursable direct costs, if any, are properly charged.

(c) Per Diem Agreements. Category B records will be audited. Category C records will not be audited. Audit will be performed to the extent necessary to determine that hours claimed and classes of personnel used were properly supported. The per diem rates will be evaluated in accordance with appropriate portions of (2) (a) and (b) above.

(d) Cost Plus a Fixed Fee Payment (Compensation). All direct costs and overhead and other indirect costs claimed will be audited to determine that they are reasonable, allowable, and properly supported by the consulting engineer's records. The amount of fixed fee will not be questioned unless the total compensation appears unreasonable when evaluated in accordance with (2) (a) and (b) above.

(e) Fixed Lump-Sum Contracts. Category B and C records will not be audited. The contract amount will not be questioned unless the total compensation appears unreasonable when evaluated in accordance with appropriate portions of (2) (a) and (b) above.

(3) Under agreements covering both grant-eligible and ineligible work, access to records will be exercised to the extent necessary to allocate contract work or costs between work grant-eligible for Title II construction grant assistance and work or costs which are ineligible.

(4) Under agreements utilizing two or more methods of compensation, each part of the agreement will be separately audited in accordance with the appropriate subparagraph of (2) above.

(5) Any audited firm and the grantee will be afforded opportunity for an audit exit conference and an opportunity to comment upon the pertinent portions of the draft audit report. The audited firm and the grantee will also be provided copies of the formal draft audit report at the time of its transmission. Such transmission will include the written comments, if any, of the audited firms and the grantee in addition to those of the appropriate state and/or Federal agency(ies).

C. TRANSITION: CONTRACT TYPE

(1) The percentage of construction cost type of contract, and the multiplier contract, where profit is included in the multiplier, may not be utilized for Step 1 or Step 2 work initiated after July 1, 1975, when the Step 1 or Step 2 grant is awarded subsequent to June 30, 1975.

(2) Step 1 and Step 2 work performed under the percentage of construction cost type of contract and the multiplier contract, where profit is included in the multiplier, will be reimbursed and such contracts will not be questioned where such costs are reimbursed in conjunction with a Step 3 grant award where Step 2 work has been initiated prior to July 1, 1975 and the Step 3 grant is awarded before July 1, 1976.

(3) Where Step 2 work is initiated after July 1, 1975, under contracts described in (1) and (2) above, EPA approval may not be given or grant assistance awarded until the terms of compensation under the contract have been renegotiated. It is recommended that the terms of compensation under the contract be renegotiated as a lump-sum agreement where the extent of work to be performed is reasonably ascertainable, (or as a cost plus fixed fee payment type agreement where the extent of work to be performed is not reasonably ascertainable).

(4) Establishing an "upset" figure (an upper limit which cannot be exceeded without a formal amendment to the agreement) under a multiplier contract, where profit is included in the multiplier, is not acceptable where renegotiation of such contracts is required. In such renegotiation, the amount of profit must be specifically identified.

(5) Per diem agreements should be utilized only to a limited extent, such as where the first task under a Step 1 grant involves establishing the scope and cost of succeeding Step 1 tasks, or Step 3 services during construction, or for incidental services.

(6) Appendix A to this memorandum contains examples to serve as guidance in the application of the foregoing requirements.

D. COST OR PRICE ANALYSIS

(1) EPA requirements concerning cost or price analysis are contained in 40 CFR § 30.-725. Guidance is being prepared concerning such formal analysis for consulting engineering agreements. Until such guidance has been distributed, no such formal analysis should be undertaken.

(2) Until guidance has been distributed, the total contract amount under any form of contract may be questioned in accordance with (b)(2).

(3) On all consulting engineering contracts in excess of $100,000 a certification may be required (see Appendix B[1]).

E. PAYMENT

Full and prompt payment should be made by EPA and by grantees for eligible costs as work is completed under consulting engineering contracts in accordance with 40 CFR 35.945 (second sentence). Grantees or their contractors should not withhold payment for professional services unless it is determined that the professional service contractor has failed to comply with contract objectives, terms, conditions, or reporting requirements. Any withholding should be limited to only that amount necessary to assure contract compliance.

F. ENFORCEMENT

Refusal by a consulting engineer to allow access to its records, or to renegotiate a consulting engineering contract in accordance with the foregoing requirements, will render costs incurred under such contract ineligible. Accordingly, all such costs will be questioned and disallowed pending access to records.

SODIUM CYANIDE

M–44 Predator Control Devices; Report of First Prehearing Conference

In re application to register sodium cyanide for use in the M–44 device to control predators.

A prehearing conference was held in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1975, pursuant to notice in the above-entitled proceeding, dated July 24, 1975 (40 FR 31657). The following were present at the conference:

For EPA: Ronald L. McCallum, Colburn T. Cherney, Room 431, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460.
For Environmental Defense Fund: William Butler, Richard E. Guttings, Jr., 1525 18th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20036.
For Humane Society of the U.S.: Murdaugh Stuart Madden, 2100 L Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20037.
For Fish and Wildlife Service: David Fisher, Room 6548, Department of Interior Building, Washington, D.C. 20420.
For Pacific Legal Foundation: Glenn Davis, 1030 15th Street NW., Suite 342, Washington, D.C. 20005.

Until the time for filing interventions has expired and until a report following the prehearing conference now scheduled for August 7, 1975 (40 FR 31261) has been issued with a comprehensive list of parties, each of the foregoing shall be served with any documents served or issued in this proceeding.

This conference was held for the purpose of considering necessary special rules to govern the expedited hearing within the time limits set forth in the initial Notice of Hearing herein (40 FR 29755, July 15, 1975). As a result of those discussions, the rules set forth in the Appendix hereto are prescribed to govern this proceeding. The Presiding Officer has determined that without these modifications, the customary rules (40 CFR 164.1–111) could not feasibly apply.

It is ordered, That the Special Rules set forth in the Appendix hereto shall govern this proceeding.

FREDERICK W. DENNISTON,
Administrative Law Judge.

JULY 31, 1975.

SPECIAL RULES OF PROCEDURE

[Governing Docket No. 382]

1. The proponents of modification of the 1972 Order (37 FR 5718) shall have the burden of proof on all issues in connection with the hearings and shall have the burden of going forward to present an affirmative case for modification of the 1972 Order.

2. The issues to be adjudicated are set forth in the Administrator's Notice of Hearing (40 CFR 29755, July 15, 1975).

3. Counsel for EPA will immediately supply a complete copy of the application involved herein, and of any subsequent related applications, to the Hearing Clerk, Room 1019E, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street, SW., Washington, D.C., where it will be available to interested persons, in addition to the copies heretofore made available to the public in the Office of Pesticide Programs and at EPA Regional Offices.

4. Direct testimony must be prepared in writing, in advance of the hearing, and distributed as noted below. The statement must be verified under jurat or oath and if no request is made for cross-examination of that witness, the statement will be received in evidence as if orally delivered. The statements may not be read for the record although brief supplemental or corrective statements may be allowed.

5. The applicant, Department of Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, shall file the proposed direct testimony of all of its witnesses by delivering copies thereof to the Presiding Officer, and to all known interested parties present at the prehearing conference scheduled for August 7, 1975, and by mail on those not present, and by depositing two copies thereof on the same date with the Hearing Clerk.

6. The direct testimony of all parties supporting the application shall be prepared and distributed in the same manner and at the same time as specified in Paragraph 3 above.

7. The direct testimony of the witnesses of all other parties shall be prepared and distributed in the same manner as specified above, on or before August 11, 1975.

8. Witnesses being sponsored by Interior/Fish and Wildlife Service should be present at the commencement of the hearing on August 12, 1975 and available for cross-examination. They should be prepared to be sworn as witnesses and identify their statements which should be offered as exhibits, and serially numbered, for example as "FWS Ex. No. —."

9. Each party will notify the other parties of the order in which its witnesses will appear as soon as possible, but not later than at the beginning of the hearing on August 12, 1975.

10. At the outset of the first day of hearing each party shall indicate which witnesses of petitioner, or of parties in support thereof, are required for cross-examination and, by the beginning of the second day of hearing, which of the other parties' witnesses are so required. Absent a request for cross-examination, the verified statement may be received into evidence without the personal appearance of the witnesses.

11. Any witness who cites or relies on published articles or works in support of his testimony shall attach to such testimony excerpts of the portions on which reliance is placed, and further must file two complete copies of each such work with the Hearing Clerk and have a complete copy of each available at the hearing. As the time constraints of this proceeding will not permit individual research, mere citation to writings, even those considered standard reference works, will not be adequate.

12. Underlying data or bulk documentary evidence supporting exhibits in summary form or expert testimony will not necessarily be made a part of the record of the proceedings but must be made available for examination and copying by the other parties a reasonable time before the proffer of the exhibit or testimony. The party proffering an exhibit has the responsibility, at the request of any other party, to make available in Washington, D.C., the "underlying data" to that exhibit. The party proffering an exhibit will notify the other parties of the existence of "underlying data," a description thereof and if feasible a sampling therefrom.

13. Survey evidence may be submitted by proffering the report or the survey as an exhibit and, in addition to notifying the other parties as to the availability of the "underlying data," by making available for cross-examination purposes an appropriate witness who can testify concerning the methodology and conduct of the survey. In the event the survey report itself does not contain a description of the methodology and the conduct of the survey the witness made available must describe such methodology and conduct in a sworn statement accompanying such exhibit.

14. Depending on the amount and scope of direct testimony, it may be necessary to allocate the amount of time available for cross-examination. Parties having a common interest are urged, and may be required, to designate a single counsel to speak and examine witnesses on behalf of that group.

15. During the course of the hearing, it will be ascertained whether petitioner or those in support intend to offer rebuttal testimony and provision will be made for written submissions thereof.

16. In addition to all other copies required by the foregoing, a party offering an exhibit shall supply two copies thereof to the official reporter.

17. The service of all petitions or documents required by these rules on persons in the Washington, D.C., area shall be by hand delivery, and, on persons outside that area, by air mail.

18. A party may request of opposing counsel that a prospective witness be made available for an interview. No prospective witness is required to agree to be interviewed, but counsel are not to instruct their witnesses that they may not be interviewed.

19. The parties will submit to the Administrative Law Judge proposed orders, proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, and a brief in support thereof, within four (4) days after the last evidence is taken in the hearing. The parties will also submit at the same time lists of proposed corrections of the transcript, if deemed essential, but not including spelling, typographical and other apparent or immaterial errors. Within ten (10) days after the last evidence is taken in the hearing, the Administrative Law Judge shall evaluate the record before him and prepare and file his initial decision with the Hearing Clerk who shall immediately hand deliver copies to parties or their representatives located in Washington. Within fourteen (14) days after the hearing, each party may file exceptions [1] to that decision or to any adverse order or ruling to which he objected during the hearing and may appeal such exceptions to the Administrator for decision by filing them in writing with the Hearing Clerk, including a section containing proposed findings of fact, conclusions, orders, or rulings. Such exceptions shall be accompanied by a brief concerning each of the exceptions being appealed.

20. The Administrative Law Judge shall take official notice of the March 9, 1972 order cancelling and suspending the registrations of 1080, strychnine and sodium cyanide for predator control (PR Notice 72-2; 37 FR 5718) and the report, commonly referred to as the "Cain Report", upon which the Administrator relied in issuing the March 9, 1972 order and which is entitled "Predator Control–1971, Report to the Council on Environmental Quality and the Department of the Interior by the Advisory Committee on Predator control."

[FR Doc.75–20387 Filed 8–5–75;8:45 am]

[1] While the notice of the hearing refers to reply briefs (40 FR 29755 at 29758), it was obviously intended to refer to exceptions.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

DELTA STEAMSHIP LINES, INC. AND EMPRESSA LINEAS MARITIMAS ARGENTINAS, S.A.

Agreement Filed

Notice is hereby given that the following agreement has been filed with the Commission for approval pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (39 Stat. 733, 75 Stat. 763, 46 U.S.C. 814).

Interested parties may inspect and obtain a copy of the agreement at the Washington office of the Federal Maritime Commission, 1100 L Street, N.W., Room 10126; or may inspect the agreement at the Field Offices located at New York, N.Y., New Orleans, Louisiana, San Francisco, California and Old San Juan, Puerto Rico. Comments on such agreements, including requests for hearing, may be submitted to the Secretary, Federal Maritime Commission, Washington, D.C., 20573, on or before August 26, 1975. Any person desiring a hearing on the proposed agreement shall provide a clear and concise statement of the matters upon which they desire to adduce evidence. An allegation of discrimination or unfairness shall be accompanied by a statement describing the discrimination or unfairness with particularity. If a violation of the Act or detriment to the commerce of the United States is alleged, the statement shall set forth with particularity the acts and circumstances said to constitute such violation or detriment to commerce.

A copy of any such statement should also be forwarded to the party filing the agreement (as indicated hereinafter) and the statement should indicate that this has been done.

Notice of agreement filed by:

Thomas E. Stakem, Esquire, Macleay, Lynch, Bernhard & Gregg, 1625 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

Agreement No. 10039–2, between the lines listed above, modifies the approved basic agreement covering the apportionment of general liner cargo transported by the parties in the Northbound and Southbound trade between Gulf ports of the United States and Argentina by amending the third sentence of paragraph A, Article 3, Annex I (Northbound) and Annex II (Southbound) ". . . As agreed between the parties, the following cargoes will not be included in the Pool," and to substitute therefor a revised sentence reading ". . . The cargoes mentioned hereunder will be accounted separately in the Pool."

Agreement 10039–1, extended the basic agreement expiration date to December 31, 1976.

Dated: August 1, 1975.

PATAGONIA CORP.

Order for Hearing

On July 11, 1975, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System ordered a hearing, pursuant to a decision by the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, on the petition of Patagonia Corporation, Tucson, Arizona, that, on or before June 30, 1968, Pima Savings and Loan Association, Tucson, Arizona was a subsidiary of Patagonia Corporation, as defined in section 2(d)(3) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1841(d)(3)). Pursuant to that Board Order (40 FR 30537), Philip J. LaMacchia, former Administrative Law Judge, now retired, was appointed as the Presiding Officer to conduct the hearing in accordance with the Board's Rules of Practice for Formal Hearings (12 CFR Part 263).

The hearing will commence at 10 a.m. on September 30, 1975 in Tucson, Arizona, at the Federal Building, 301 West Congress Street. The hearing will be open to the public.

By order of the Secretary of the Board of Governors, acting pursuant to delegated authority from the Board of Governors, effective July 30, 1975.

CENTRAL BANKING SYSTEM, INC.

Proposed Acquisition of Computer Dynamics, Inc.

Central Banking System, Inc., Oakland, California, has applied, pursuant to Section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y, for permission to acquire voting shares of Computer Dynamics, Inc., Oakland, California. Notice of the application was published on February 25, 1975 in the Oakland Tribune, a newspaper circulated in Oakland, California.

Applicant states that the proposed subsidiary would engage in computer services consisting of general ledger, accounts payable, accounts receivable and billing, list maintenance, software development implementation and sale of software packages. Such activities have been specified by the Board in § 225.4(a) of Regulation Y as permissible for bank holding companies, subject to Board approval of individual proposals in accordance with the procedures of § 225.4(b).

Interested persons may express their views on the question whether consummation of the proposal can "reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition, or gains in efficiency, that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interests, or unsound banking practices." Any request for a hearing on this question should be accompanied by a statement summarizing the evidence the person requesting the hearing proposes to submit or to elicit at the hearing and a statement of the reasons why this matter should not be resolved without a hearing.

The application may be inspected at the offices of the Board of Governors or at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

Any views or requests for hearing should be submitted in writing and received by the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, not later than September 2, 1975.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, July 29, 1975.

CLEVETRUST CORP.

Order Approving Acquisition of Bank

CleveTrust Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio (Applicant), a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, under section 3(a)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)), to acquire up to 100 percent, less directors' qualifying shares, of the successor by merger to The City Bank, Kent, Ohio (Bank). The bank into which Bank is to be merged has no significance except as a means to facilitate the acquisition of the voting shares of Bank. Accordingly, the proposed acquisition of shares of the successor organization is treated herein as the proposed acquisition of the shares of Bank.

Notice of the application affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views has been given in accordance with Section 3(b) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(b)). The time for filing comments and views has expired and none have been timely received. The Reserve bank has considered the application in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant is the largest banking organization in Ohio, controlling three banks with consolidated deposits of $2.9 billion, representing 10.0 percent of total deposits in commercial banks in the State.[1] Upon consummation of the proposal, Applicant's share of total state deposits would only increase to 10.1 percent.

[1] All data as of December 31, 1974, unless otherwise noted.

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

Bank, with total deposits of $36.6 million, is the ninth largest of the fifteen banking organizations in the Akron market and controls approximately 2.2 percent of market deposits. There is no significant existing competition between Applicant's subsidiary banks and Bank, and there is little likelihood for any competition to develop between the institutions given the county-wide branching restrictions of Ohio law. Six of the ten largest banking organizations in the State are presently represented in the Akron market, and de novo entry into the Akron market by Applicant seems unlikely because of the large number of the banking organizations which presently compete in the area. Accordingly, consummation of the proposed transaction would appear to have no adverse effects on existing or potential competition.

There is no evidence to indicate that the banking needs of the Akron banking market are not being adequately met. However, Applicant plans to make international and trust services available at Bank, to broaden the scope of Bank's branching and marketing operations, and to introduce equipment leasing. Thus, factors relating to the convenience and needs of the communities to be served lend some weight toward approval of the application.

The financial and managerial resources and prospects of Applicant, its subsidiary banks, and Bank are generally satisfactory and consistent with approval of the application. It has been determined that consummation of the proposal would be in the public interest.

On the basis of record, the application is approved for the reasons summarized above. The transaction shall not be consummated (a) before the thirtieth calendar day following the date of this Order or (b) later than three months after the date of this Order, unless such period is extended for good cause by the Board or by this bank pursuant to delegated authority.

By order of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, acting pursuant to delegated authority for the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System effective July 25, 1975.

[SEAL] WILLIS J. WINN,
President.

FIRST BANC GROUP, INC.
Order Approving Acquisition of Bank

First Banc Group, Inc., Creve Coeur, Missouri ("Applicant"), a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)) to acquire 76 percent or more of the voting shares of Commonwealth Bank, Wentzville, Missouri ("Bank").

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the application and all comments received have been considered in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant controls four banks with aggregate deposits of $73.9 million,[1] representing less than 1 percent of total commercial bank deposits in Missouri. Applicant's acquisition of Bank, with deposits of $7.2 million, would not result in any significant increase in the concentration of banking resources in the State.

Bank is the fifth largest of ten banks competing in its market area,[2] controlling 8.5 percent of total commercial bank deposits in the market. Applicant's nearest subsidiary is located 27 road miles from Bank in another banking market. No significant competition exists between Bank and any of Applicant's subsidiary banks and it is unlikely that any will develop in the future due to numerous banks in the market with no organization apparently dominent, and due to Missouri branching restrictions. Because the structure of this market seems conducive to competitive performance, elimination of Applicant as a potential de novo entrant is not likely to reduce competition. Accordingly, competitive considerations are consistent with approval of the application.

The financial and managerial resources and prospects of Applicant, its subsidiaries, and Bank are regarded as satisfactory and consistent with approval of the application, especially in view of plans to augment Bank's capital. As a result of the affiliation, Applicant intends to make computerized payroll services available to Bank's customers, and referral trust services available through its lead bank. Considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the community are consistent with approval of the application. It is the Reserve Bank's judgment that the proposed acquisition is in the public interest and that the application should be approved.

On the basis of the record as summarized above, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis approves the application, provided that the transaction shall not be consummated (a) before the thirtieth calendar day following the date of this Order or (b) later than three months after the date of this Order, unless such period is extended for good cause by the Board or by this Reserve Bank pursuant to delegated authority.

By order of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, acting pursuant to delegated authority for the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, effective July 24, 1975.

HAROLD E. UTHOFF,
Vice President.

MELLON NATIONAL CORPORATION
Order for Hearing

Mellon National Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, has applied, pursuant to Section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 C.F.R. § 225.4(b)(2)) for permission to acquire 100 per cent of the voting shares of Local Loan Company, Chicago, Illinois. Notice of the application was published between September 20 and 27, 1974 and on October 3, 11 and 12, 1974, in newspapers of general circulation in each of the communities in which there is located one or more of the 124 offices of Local Loan Company located in the United States to be retained by Applicant if the proposed transaction is consummated. The subsidiaries of Local Loan Company operate offices in the States of California, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Oregon, Washington, and Wisconsin.

By notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on December 6, 1974 (39 FR 42719 (1974)), the Board invited interested persons to express their views on the question whether consummation of the proposal can "reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition, or gains in efficiency, that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interests, or unsound banking practices." The notice further provided that any request for a hearing on this question should be accompanied by a statement summarizing the evidence the person requesting the hearing proposes to submit or to elicit at the hearing and a statement of the reasons why this matter should not be resolved without a hearing.

By letter dated January 6, 1975, Mr. Anthony R. Martin-Trigona, Chicago, Illinois, requested that the Board hold a formal hearing on the Mellon application.[1] His request, which was accompanied neither by a statement summarizing the evidence he proposed to submit or elicit nor by a statement why the matter could not be resolved without a hearing, stated his belief "that the Board is well aware of my standing as a party in interest." In response to Applicant's challenge to his standing, Mr. Martin-Trigona requested the Board to incorporate by reference in the record of this proceeding certain earlier submissions to the Board made by him with respect to his standing to oppose the application of The Chase Manhattan Corporation, New York, N.Y., to acquire Dial Financial Corporation, Des Moines, Iowa.

On May 30, 1975, following receipt of several further communications from both Mellon and Mr. Martin-Trigona with respect to the standing issue, and because Mr. Martin-Trigona had expressed a desire to supplement his earlier submission on standing in the Chase-Dial matter, the Board's General Counsel notified Mellon and Mr. Martin-Trigona that he would hold an informal hearing on June 12, 1975, to afford them an opportunity to put before the Board any additional facts they deemed relevant on the standing question. Applicant and its counsel, as well as Mr. Martin-Trigona and his counsel, participated in this proceeding, and Mr. Martin-Trigona has taken the position that he has carried his burden of establishing his standing to obtain a formal hearing in this case.

[1] Although Mr. Martin-Trigona's letter stated that "I would again renew my demand for formal hearings on this application," no previous request for a hearing on the Mellon application had been made by him.

A brief review of the history of Mr. Martin-Trigona's efforts to establish his standing in Board proceedings under the Bank Holding Company Act is necessary to put the present controversy in perspective.

In November 1972, Mr. Martin-Trigona protested the application of BankAmerica Corporation, San Francisco, California ("BankAmerica"), for permission to acquire GAC Finance, Inc., Allentown, Pennsylvania. In response to an inquiry from the Board asking whether he claimed status as a "party in interest" and, if so, requesting that he state the basis for that claim, Mr. Martin-Trigona responded that his claim was made "on the basis of my undivided interest in the public interest, as a citizen of the United States and the State of Illinois, and as a person who stands to be injured by economic concentration." In addition, he asserted an interest in "meaningful and rigorous enforcement" of the antitrust laws.

By letter of June 26, 1973, the Board rejected Mr. Martin-Trigona's claim of party-in-interest status in that case because, inter alia, he had not shown that he was within the class sought to be protected by the Bank Holding Company Act. In July 1973, the Board denied BankAmerica's application, but BankAmerica requested reconsideration. In August 1973, Mr. Martin-Trigona reaffirmed his opposition to the application and again requested a hearing. However, he submitted no additional material with respect to his claim of standing and the Board denied his renewed request for a hearing for the reasons it had stated in its June 26 letter. Mr. Martin-Trigona petitioned the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit for review of the Board's denial of his request. In his brief to the Court of Appeals, Mr. Martin-Trigona, admitting that the matter was "not of record," asked the Court to consider that "petitioner himself is a potential entrant in the financial services industry and has been studying an entry in the market himself for sometime in 1974." He alleged that these plans "will shortly be coming to fruition" and he described his entry as "imminent." On review, the Board's conclusion as to his standing was affirmed by the Court of Appeals. Martin-Trigona v. Federal Reserve Board, 509 F. 2d 363 (D.C. Cir. 1975) (the "BankAmerica-GAC case").[3]

In March 1974, as we have noted, Mr. Martin-Trigona protested a renewed application of The Chase Manhattan Corporation ("Chase") to acquire Dial Financial Corporation,[4] and sought leave to intervene on the ground that he was then "in the process of entering the financial services industry himself and, accordingly, is within the class of business competitors and potential competitors who are guaranteed a right and standing to intervene" by 12 U.S.C. 1850. Elaborating on this request in April 1974, he stated that he had taken a number of preparatory steps to enter the business,[4] that he was "prepared to commit more funds in the next 60 days to begin operations," and that "we should be operational on a pilot basis some time in June or early July, and move into full scale operations as soon as is practicable." In July 1974, he told the Board that he was waiting until the prime rate fell below 9 per cent, and that "if we had a prime rate of 9 per cent, I think we would be operational by the 1st of August." On October 31, 1974, the Board denied Chase's application without a hearing and, accordingly, without resolving the question of Mr. Martin-Trigona's standing.

In the present case, Mr. Martin-Trigona continues to allege that he intends to enter the consumer finance business in Chicago, and that he therefore has standing as a potential competitor of Mellon. While interest rates have decreased well below the 9 per cent level that he referred to in the Chase-Dial matter, he now states that his uncertainty as to the "regulatory climate" and the general economy is deterring his entry. He avers that "I've got the money to go, and I can start lending and earning a return on my assets virtually instantly." However, he states he is waiting "to determine what the position of the Board will be" before he proceeds, and that "if the Board proceeds to approve willy nilly acquisitions of loan companies by bank holding companies," the chances he will proceed with entry "are marginal, at best." He further states that he has been "postponing our entry until the economy appears to be moving out of the recession and until the demand for funds moves to the positive side."

We take as our present standard for determining questions of standing in cases such as this section 105 of the Bank Holding Company Act Amendments of 1970 (12 U.S.C. 1850), and the recent decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in the BankAmerica-GAC case.

Section 105 expressly provides that in a case in which a bank holding company applies for authority to acquire a company engaged in a non-banking activity

> [A] party who would become a competitor of the applicant or subsidiary thereof by virtue of the applicant's * * * acquisition, * * * shall have the right to be a party in interest in the Board's proceeding with respect to the application. Mr. Martin-Trigona is admittedly not a present competitor of either Mellon or Local Loan and he clearly would not become such "by virtue of" the proposed acquisition. However, in the BankAmerica-GAC case, the Court pointed out that a "potential competitor" would be within the "zone of interest" protected by section 4 of the Bank Holding Company Act "if that potential competitor may realistically be viewed as a possible entrant" into the relevant market. Furthermore, although it reserved judgment on the issue, it suggested that a consumer of the services offered by the applicant or the acquired firm would similarly be considered to be within that "zone of interest." In either event, the Court stated that, in order to establish standing in a case such as this, the claimant must satisfy three salient principles: first, he must allege that the proposed acquisition would cause him "injury in fact, economic or otherwise"; second, the alleged "injury in fact" must be arguably within the zone of interests protected or regulated by the statute; and, third, the claimant "may not merely allege the existence of an injury," but must go beyond and allege "facts showing that he is himself adversely affected" by the proposed acquisition. The Court further indicated that the test of whether a potential competitor or consumer has standing based upon allegations of injury resulting from the anticompetitive effects of an acquisition is whether he would have standing under the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. 12 et seq.) to maintain a private antitrust action with respect to the proposed acquisition.[5] (509 F. 2d at 365–66.)

[3] In 1970, the same court affirmed a decision of the Federal Communications Commission holding that Mr. Martin-Trigona lacked standing to petition that agency for revocation of the licenses of the three major New York television stations. Martin-Trigona v. Federal Communications Commission, 432 F. 2d 682 (D.C. Cir. 1970).

[4] Chase's first application to acquire Dial, which was denied in January 1974, was not opposed by Mr. Martin-Trigona.

[4] Specifically, he stated he had surveyed relevant state laws, appropriate corporate forms, and possible names; formed corporations and ordered a corporate logo; inquired of banks as to lines of credit; investigated banks to perform computer bookkeeping and lock box services; raised a "modest initial cash investment"; and had discussions with a "possible full-time branch manager for the first office."

[5] Section 4 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. 15) permits private damage actions by any person who has been injured in his business or property by reason of any conduct of the defendant violative of the antitrust laws. Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. 26) authorizes suits for injunctions by any person threatened with injury by such conduct.

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

Assessing Mr. Martin-Trigona's belated claim of standing as a "consumer" on the basis of the standards articulated by the Court of Appeals, we have little difficulty in concluding that he has not established standing as a consumer. Mr. Martin-Trigona admittedly has never borrowed from Local Loan Company, although he states that he "might at some point in the future do so." At the informal hearing before the General Counsel he was not responsive in answering questions about his past "consumer" borrowings, and he flatly refused, "simply on the basis of relevance," to state when in the past he had borrowed from any consumer finance company. He has alleged no facts whatsoever that even remotely indicate how he would personally be adversely affected as a "consumer" by Mellon's proposed acquisition of Local Loan. Although he makes the conclusory claims that the effect of this acquisition would be "to force rates higher," and that an additional source of credit would be provided if Mellon were encouraged to enter the finance business de novo, rather than through an acquisition of an existing company, the Board does not consider these allegations to constitute the type of factual allegations of particularized injury called for in the test established by the Court of Appeals.

A somewhat different question is presented, however, with respect to Mr. Martin-Trigona's claim as a "potential competitor." Under the approach dictated by the Court of Appeals in the Bank-America-GAC case, there are four elements to be considered in determining whether a party claiming standing as a potential competitor has established the necessary intention and preparedness to warrant a conclusion that he has a protectable "business" interest: (1) His background and experience in the prospective business, (2) the affirmative action he has taken to engage in the proposed business, (3) his financial ability to purchase the necessary equipment and facilities to engage in the business, and (4) the consummation of contracts relating to the proposed business. See Waldron v. British Petroleum Co., 231 F. Supp. 72, 81–82 (S.D.N.Y. 1964).[8]

Applying these tests, the Board has substantial question whether Mr. Martin-Trigona can realistically be viewed as a potential competitor. He has not alleged or proved that he has background or experience in the consumer finance business, he has not consummated any contracts relating to the business; he has not obtained or applied for a state license to engage in the business. While he claims to have made certain "surveys" and taken certain very preliminary steps, such as the formation of shell corporations, and while he claims to have made "inquiries" of banks as to lines of credit, the Board has doubts that these steps constitute meaningful "affirmative action" and that his mere "inquiries" of banks establish his financial ability to engage in the business. Moreover, his long delay in actually entering the business since the first time he informed the Board of his intention to do so, and the unpersuasiveness of his explanation for this delay, strongly suggest that his claim of "potential competitor" status has been advanced for the purpose of clothing himself with standing in Board proceedings rather than as a result of a bona fide intention to enter the consumer finance business.

In short, there is reason to be skeptical about Mr. Martin-Trigona's claims, and the Board believes that the record in this matter would support a conclusion that he should not, in the Court of Appeals' words, "realistically be viewed as a possible entrant" into the consumer finance business. However, in the event a reviewing court were to take a different review of the standing issue the likely relief would be a remand for a hearing. Because of its reluctance to foreclose the parties prematurely from making full submissions on the standing issue in this case the Board has permitted the argument to carry on for a period of several months, and the Board is hesitant at this stage of the proceedings to infect this case with possible procedural error, however remote that possibility may be, that would in the long run cause far more substantial delay in the final resolution of this matter. Accordingly, the Board has determined not to decide the question as to Mr. Martin-Trigona's standing as a potential competitor in this case, but nevertheless to hold a hearing on the merits of Mellon's application and to permit Mr. Martin-Trigona to participate in that hearing.[7]

For the foregoing reasons,[9] it is hereby ordered that a public hearing be held with respect to the application of Mellon National Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, pursuant to section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. § 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 C.F.R. 225.4(b)(2)), for permission to acquire 100 percent of the voting shares of Local Loan Co., Chicago, Illinois. The hearing will commence at 10:00 a.m., September 3, 1975, before Philip J. LaMacchia, former Administrative Law Judge, now retired, in Room 1202 of the Board Building, Constitution Avenue between 20th and 21st Streets, Washington, D.C. 20551.

It is further ordered, That the issue to be considered at said hearing is whether the proposed acquisition can reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition, or gains in efficiency that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interest, or unsound banking practices.[6]

[8] The Waldron case was expressly relied upon by the Court of Appeals in the Bank-America case. 509 F.2d at 366 n.12.

[7] In light of his past expressions of interest in participating in Board proceedings, we recognize that the question of Mr. Martin-Trigona's standing may again be raised in future application proceedings. To the extent that he continues to claim standing as a potential entrant into the consumer finance business, the Board will, in any such future case, expect to be presented with credible evidence that the intention he first expressed in this regard in April 1974, has been meaningfully furthered by the taking of concrete steps t oenter that Business.

Of course, whether or not Mr. Martin-Trigona is determined to have sufficient standing to entitle him to a formal hearing and to party-in-interest status, the opportunity is always available to him to make a timely submission of facts and argument in written form.

[9] In view of the Board's decision to hold a hearing in this matter and to afford Mr. Martin-Trigona the same opportunity to participate that he would have had if he had estabilised his standing, the question of standing will no longer be considered to be an issue to be litigated in this proceeding before the Board, and the hearing will be limited to the merits of the application.

MOUNTAIN BANKS, LTD.

Order Approving Acquisition of Bank

Mountain Banks, Ltd., Colorado Springs, Colorado, a bank holding company within the meaning of the Bank Holding Company Act, has applied for the Board's approval under section 3(a)(3) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(3)) to acquire all of the voting shares (less directors' qualifying shares) of Fort Collins National Bank, Fort Collins, Colorado ("Bank").

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the application and all comments received in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant, the seventh largest banking organization in Colorado, controls seven banks with aggregate deposits of $247 million, representing approximately 3.7 per cent of total commercial bank deposits in the State.[1] Acquisition of Bank ($2.7 million in deposits) would increase Applicant's share of commercial bank deposits in Colorado by less than 0.1 of one percent and would have no appreciable effect on the concentration of banking resources in Colorado.

Bank controls approximately 1.5 percent of the deposits in the relevant banking market and ranks eleventh among the 13 banks operating in the market.[2] Applicant's banking subsidiary closest to Bank is located 46 miles away in Boulder. It appears that no meaningful competition presently exists between any of Applicant's subsidiary banks and Bank, nor is any such competition likely to develop due in part to the distance involved. While de novo entry is not out of the question, such entry appears unlikely in view of the fact that population per banking office in the relevant banking market is already below the Statewide average. Therefore, the Board concludes that consummation of the proposed transaction would not have significantly adverse effects on existing or potential competition in any relevant area and that the competitive considerations are consistent with approval of the application.

The financial condition and managerial resources of Applicant, its subsidiaries, and Bank are considered generally satisfactory and the future prospects of each appear favorable. Accordingly, considerations relating to the banking factors are consistent with approval of the application. Applicant proposes to expand the range of services presently offered by Bank. In particular, affiliation with Applicant will provide Bank's customers with additional mortgage lending services. Consequently, the considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the communities to be served lend some weight toward approval of the application. It is the Board's judgment that the proposed acquisition would be in the public interest and that the application should be approved.

On the basis of the record, the application is approved for the reasons summarized above. The transaction shall not be made (a) before the thirtieth calendar day following the effective date of this Order or (b) later than three months after the effective date of this Order, unless such period is extended for good cause by the Board, or by the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City pursuant to delegated authority.

By order of the Board of Governors,[3] effective July 28, 1975.

SCRIBNER BANSHARES, INC.

Order Denying Formation of Bank Holding Company

Scribner Banshares, Inc., Scribner, Nebraska, has applied for the Board's approval, under section 3(a)(1) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(1)), of formation of a bank holding company through acquisition of 96.7 percent or more of the voting shares of Scribner Bank, Scribner, Nebraska ("Bank").[1] Applicant has also applied, pursuant to section 4(c)(8) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.4(b)(2) of the Board's Regulation Y, for permission to retain Scribner Insurance Agency ("Agency"), a company that engages in the activities of a general insurance agency in a community with a population not exceeding 5,000. Such activities have been determined by the Board to be closely related to banking (12 C.F.R. 225.4(a)(9)(iii)(a)).

Notice of receipt of these applications, affording an opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with sections 3 and 4 of the Act (40 F.R. 2625 (1975)). The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the applications and all comments received in the light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)) and the considerations specified in section 4(c)(8) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)).

Applicant was formed for the purposes of becoming a bank holding company through the acquisition of Bank and of operating a general insurance agency. Bank, with deposits of about $10.3 million,[2] is the only bank in Scribner, Nebraska, and is the fourth largest of 7 banks in the relevant banking market,[3] controlling approximately 8.9 per cent of the total deposit in commercial banks in the market. Certain principals of Applicant are also involved as shareholders, directors and/or officers, in other one-bank holding companies located in Nebraska, Iowa, and South Dakota. The closest subsidiary bank of these bank holding companies is 53 miles from Bank, and none operates in the relevant market area. Accordingly, since the proposal represents a restructuring of the ownership of Bank from individuals to a corporation owned by the same individuals, consummation of the proposal would have no significantly adverse effects on competition in any relevant area. Accordingly, the Board concludes that competitive considerations are consistent with approval of the application.

The Board has indicated on previous occasions that it believes that a holding company should provide a source of financial and managerial strength to its subsidiary bank(s), and that every proposed acquisition or formation will be closely examined with such considerations in mind. In this connection, the Board notes that Applicant will incur a substantial debt as a result of the acquisition of Bank. Applicant proposes to service such debt over an 11-year period with income from Agency and dividends from Bank consistently exceeding 50 per cent of Bank's net income, thereby limiting Bank's ability to meet any unforeseen financial problems that might arise. Accordingly, the Board views the sizeable acquisition debt to be incurred by Applicant as an adverse factor in the consideration of the subject proposal.

Turning to managerial considerations, it appears that certain of the banks in which Applicant's principals are involved have experienced deteriorating capital positions. In addition, demands that some of the principals appear to have placed upon the resources of other banks under their control have detracted from the overall financial condition of some of these banks. The Board believes, therefore, that managerial considerations weigh for denial of the application.

The proposed formation represents merely a restructuring of the ownership of Bank with no significant changes in Bank's operations or the services offered to customers. Consequently, considerations relating to the convenience and needs of the community to be served lend no weight toward approval of the application.

On the basis of all the circumstances concerning this application, the Board concludes that the banking considerations involved in the proposal present adverse factors bearing on the financial and managerial resources of Applicant. Such adverse factors are not outweighed by any procompetitive effects or by benefits which would result in serving the convenience and needs of the community. Accordingly, it is the Board's judgment that approval of the application would not be in the public interest and that the application to become a bank holding company should be, and is hereby, denied.[4]

By order of the Board of Governors,[5] effective July 28, 1975.

[SEAL] THEODORE E. ALLISON,
Secretary of the Board.

WINNER BANSHARES, INC.

Order Denying Formation of Bank Holding Company

Winner Banshares, Inc., Winner, South Dakota, has applied for the Board's approval, under section 3(a)(1) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(a)(1)), of formation of a bank holding company through acquisition of 94.4 per cent or more of the voting shares of Farmers State Bank, Winner, South Dakota ("Bank").[1]

[4] In view of the Board's action with respect to the application to become a bank holding company, consideration of the Section 4(c)(8) application to retain the insurance activities becomes moot.

Notice of the application, affording opportunity for interested persons to submit comments and views, has been given in accordance with section 3(b) of the Act. The time for filing comments and views has expired, and the Board has considered the application and all comments received in light of the factors set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Applicant, a newly-organized corporation, was formed for the purpose of becoming a bank holding company through the acquisition of Bank. Bank (deposits of $29.8 million) is the thirteenth largest banking organization in South Dakota and holds about 1.5 percent of the total commercial bank deposits in the State.[2] With a total of four offices in the relevant market (approximated by Tripp, Todd and Mellette Counties), Bank controls 58.4 percent of the total market deposits and ranks as the largest of the three banking organizations in the market. Certain principals of Applicant are also involved as shareholders, directors and/or officers, in other Banks and one-bank holding companies located in Nebraska, Iowa, and South Dakota. Inasmuch as this proposal represents a restructuring of the existing ownership of Bank, and since none of the other banks with which Applicant's principals are involved is located in the same market as Bank, it appears that consummation of the proposal would not have adverse effects on existing or potential competition. Accordingly, the Board concludes that competitive considerations are consistent with approval of the application.

The Board has indicated on previous occasions that it believes that a holding company should provide a source of financial and managerial strength to its subsidiary bank(s), and that every proposed acquisition or formation will be closely examined with such considerations in mind. In this connection, the Board notes that Applicant will incur a debt as a result of the acquisition of Bank. Applicant proposes to service such debt over a 12 year period through dividends from Bank averaging about 50 percent of its net income. In the Board's view, Applicant's projections appear somewhat optimistic, and the dividends required from Bank to service the debt could result in the impairment of Bank's overall capital position. Accordingly, the Board views the acquisition debt to be incurred by Applicant as an adverse factor in the consideration of the subject proposal.

Turning to managerial considerations, it appears that certain of the banks in which Applicant's principals are involved have experienced deteriorating capital positions. In addition, demands that some of the principals appear to have placed upon the resources of other banks under their control, have detracted from the overall financial condition of some of these banks. The Board believes, therefore, that managerial considerations weigh for denial of the application.

On the basis of all the circumstances concerning this application, the Board concludes that the banking considerations involved in the proposal present adverse factors bearing on the financial and managerial resources of Applicant. Such adverse factors are not outweighed by any procompetitive effects or by benefits which would result in serving the convenience and needs of the community. Accordingly, it is the Board's judgment that approval of the application would not be in the public interest and that the application to become a bank holding company should be, and is hereby, denied.

By order of the Board of Governors,[3] effective July 28, 1975.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS SUBCOMMITTEE ON THE VIDAL NUCLEAR GENERATING STATION PROJECT NO. 486/HTGR

Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of Section 29 and 182 b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232 b.), the ACRS Subcommittee on the Vidal Nuclear Generating Station will hold a meeting on August 25 and 26, 1975 at the Ramada Inn, 470 S. Acoma, Lake Havasu City, Arizona 86403. The purpose of this meeting is to evaluate the suitability of the Vidal site for a future nuclear power generating station.

The agenda for the subject meeting shall be as follows:

Tuesday, August 26, 1975, 1:30 p.m. until the conclusion of business. The Subcommittee will hear presentations by representatives of the Southern California Edison Company and the NRC Staff and will hold discussions with these groups regarding the suitability of the Vidal site for a future nuclear power generating station.

In connection with the above agenda item, the Subcommittee will hold Executive Sessions, not open to the public, at about 7:00 p.m. on August 25 and about 1:00 p.m. on August 26, 1975 and at the end of the day to consider matters relating to the above application. These sessions will involve an exchange of opinions and discussion of preliminary views and recommendations of Subcommittee members and consultants and internal deliberations for the purpose of formulating recommendations to the ACRS.

I have determined, in accordance with Subsection 10(d) of Public Law 92-463, that the above-noted Executive Sessions will consist of an exchange of opinions and formulation of recommendations, the discussion of which, if written, would fall within exemption (5) of 5 U.S.C. 552 (b). Further, any non-exempt material that will be discussed during the above closed sessions will be inextricably intertwined with exempt material, and no further separation of this material is considered practical. It is essential to close such portions of the meeting to protect the free interchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with agency or Subcommittee operation.

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule.

The Chairman of the Subcommittee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business, including provisions to carry over an incompleted open session from one day to the next.

With respect to public participation in the open portion of the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda items may do so by mailing a readily reproducible copy thereof, postmarked no later than August 18, 1975 to the Executive Secretary, ACRS, NRC, Wash., D.C. 20555. Background information concerning items to be discussed at this meeting can be found in "Information Concerning Site Characteristics, Vidal Nuclear Generating Station, (Project No. 486/HTGR)" and related documents for this site on file and available for public inspection at the Nuclear Regulatory Commission Public Document Room, 1717 H St., N.W., Wash., D.C. 20555 and at the Parker Public Library, POB 902, Parker, Arizona 85344. Comments which fail to meet the specified mailing date noted above will be considered to the extent practicable.

(b) Those persons submitting a written statement in accordance with paragraph (a) above may request an opportunity to make oral statements concerning the written statement. Such requests shall accompany the written statement so that appropriate arrangements can be made. To the extent that the time available for the meeting permits, the Subcommittee will receive oral statements at an appropriate time, chosen by the Chairman of the Subcommittee.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been cancelled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for opportunity to present oral statements, and the time allotted can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on August 22, 1975 to the Office of the Executive Secretary of the Committee (telephone 202/634-1371, ATTN: Mr. M. W. Libarkin) between 8:15 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time.

(d) Questions may be propounded only by members of the Subcommittee and its consultants.

(e) Seating for the public will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

(f) The use of still, motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will not, however, be allowed while the meeting is in session.

(g) A copy of the transcript of the open portion of the meeting will be available for inspection on or after September 1, 1975 at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H St., N.W., Wash., D.C. 20555 and at the Parker Public Library, POB 902, Parker, Arizona 85344. Copies of the transcript may be reproduced in the Public Document Room or may be obtained from Ace Federal Reporters, Inc., 415 Second Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20002 (telephone 202/547-6222) upon payment of appropriate charges.

(h) On request, copies of the minutes of the meeting will be made available for inspection at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H St., N.W., Wash., D.C. 20555 after November 26, 1975. Copies may be obtained upon payment of appropriate charges.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

REGULATORY GUIDE

Issuance and Availability

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has issued a guide in its Regulatory Guide Series. This series has been developed to describe and make available to the public methods acceptable to the NRC staff of implementing specific parts of the Commission's regulations and, in some cases, to delineate techniques used by the staff in evaluating specific problems or postulated accidents and to provide guidance to applicants concerning certain of the information needed by the staff in its review of applications for permits and licenses.

Regulatory Guide 1.83, Revision 1, "Inservice Inspection of Pressurized Water Reactor Steam Generator Tubes," describes a method acceptable to the NRC staff for implementing General Design Criteria by reducing the probability and consequences of steam generator tube failures through periodic inservice inspection for early detection of defects and deterioration.

Comments and suggestions in connection with (1) items for inclusion in guides currently being developed (listed below) or (2) improvements in all published guides are encouraged at any time. Comments should be sent to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section.

Regulatory Guides are available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. Requests for single copies of issued guides (which may be reproduced) or for placement on an automatic distribution list for single copies of future guides should be made in writing to the Director, Office of Standards Development, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555. Telephone requests cannot be accommodated. Regulatory Guides are not copyrighted and Commission approval is not required to reproduce them.

Other Division 1 Regulatory Guides currently being developed include the following:

GENERAL ATOMIC CO.

Application for and Consideration of Issuance of Facility Export License

Please take notice that General Atomic Company submitted to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission an application for a license to authorize the export of a research reactor with a thermal power level of 1000 kilowatts to Iran and that the issuance of such license is under consideration by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

No license authorizing the proposed reactor export will be issued until the Nuclear Regulatory Commission determines that such export is within the scope of and consistent with the terms of an applicable agreement for cooperation arranged pursuant to Section 123 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (Act), nor until the Nuclear Regulatory Commission has found that:

(a) The application complies with the requirements of the Act, and the Commission's regulations set forth in 10 CFR, Chapter 1, and

(b) The reactor proposed to be exported is a utilization facility as defined in said Act and regulations.

In its review of applications solely to authorize the export of production or utilization facilities, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission does not evaluate the health and safety characteristics of the facility to be exported.

Unless on or before August 21, 1975 a request for a hearing is filed with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission by the applicant, or a petition for leave to intervene is filed by any person whose interest may be affected by the proceeding, the Director of the Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards may, upon the determinations and findings noted above, cause to be issued to General Atomic Company a facility export license and may cause to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice of issuance of the license. If a request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene is filed within the time prescribed in the notice, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

A copy of the application is on file in the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Public Document Room located at 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 28th day of July, 1975.

KF INDUSTRIES, INC.

Issuance of Byproduct Material License

Please take notice that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission has, pursuant to Section 32.26 of 10 CFR Part 32, issued License No. 37-16174-02E to KF Industries, Inc., 230 West Dauphin Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19113 which authorizes the distribution of fire detectors to persons exempt from the requirements for a license pursuant to Section 30.20 of 10 CFR Part 30.

1. The devices are designed to detect incipient fire by responding to the products of combustion produced by thermal decomposition of building materials or contents prior to the appearance of visible smoke, flame, or appreciable heat. The sensitive element of each detector is an ionization chamber in which air flowing into the chamber is made conductive by alpha particles emitted by a radioactive source of americium-241.

2. The byproduct material incorporated in each detector is americium in the oxide form contained in foils manufactured by Nuclear Radiation Developments (Model A-001). The maximum radioactivity contained in the unit is 1.5 microcuries.

3. Each exempt unit will have a label identifying the manufacturer, KF Industries Inc., and the byproduct material, americium-241, contained in the unit and recommending that the unit be returned to KF Industries, Inc., for repair or disposal.

A copy of the license and license application containing additional information are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 "H" Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

GEORGIA POWER CO. AND OGLETHORPE ELECTRIC MEMBERSHIP CORP.

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 11 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-57 issued to Georgia Power Company and Oglethorpe Electric Membership Corporation which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Edwin I. Hatch Nuclear Plant Unit 1, located in Appling County, Georgia. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment permits modification of the Technical Specifications to revise the routine reporting requirements.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment is not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration. The Commission has further concluded pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4) that an environmental statement, negative declaration or environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with the issuance of this proposed amendment.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the applications for amendments dated November 29, 1974, May 23, 1975, and June 26, 1975, (2) Amendment No. 11 to License No. DPR-57, with Change No. 11 and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. and at the Appling County Public Library, Parker Street, Baxley, Georgia 31513.

A copy of items (2) and (3) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Issuance of Amended Facility License

Notice is hereby given that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 10 to Facility License No. R-37 to Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) authorizing operation of the modified research reactor at steady state power levels up to 5 megawatts (thermal) located on the MIT campus. The amendment, which revises the license in its entirety, is effective as of the date of issuance.

The amended license: (1) Authorizes operation of the modified MIT reactor, (2) incorporates in the license Technical Specifications as Appendix A, (3) authorizes the possession and use of an additional 27.5 kilograms of uranium 235 and (4) authorizes the possession and use of 2 one-curie plutonium-beryllium neutron sources.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Notice of Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License in connection with this action was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 6, 1973 (38 F.R. 6096).

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated November 18, 1970, and supplements dated April 25, July 12, and November 14, 1973, March 8, April 12, August 8, September 26, 1974, February 14 and 20, March 28, April 3 and June 2, 1975, (2) Amendment No. 10 to License No. R-37 with Change No. 13, (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation, (4) the Negative Declaration, and (5) the Commission's Environmental Impact Appraisal. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

A copy of items (2), (3), (4) and (5) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY RESEARCH REACTOR

Negative Declaration Regarding Facility Operating License R-37

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has considered the Amendment to Facility Operating License No. R-37 for Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). The license authorizes MIT to operate a research reactor at power levels up to five megawatts (thermal).

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Division of Reactor Licensing, has prepared an environmental impact appraisal for this research reactor. On the basis of this appraisal, we have concluded that an environmental impact statement for this particular action is not warranted because there will be no significant environmental impact attributable to the proposed action. The environmental impact appraisal is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

OMAHA PUBLIC POWER DISTRICT

Issuance of Amendment To Facility Operating License

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 7 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-40 issued to Omaha Public Power District which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Fort Calhoun Station Unit 1, located in Washington County, Nebraska. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment permits modification to the Technical Specifications to (1) revise those operating limits which presently limit reactor operation to 87% of full power and (2) incorporate several corrections to typographical errors.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Notice of Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License in connection with this action was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 2, 1975 (40 FR 23785). No request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene was filed following notice of the proposed action.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the applications for amendments dated November 18, 1974, April 10, 1975 and June 2, 1975 with supplements dated May 30, 1975, June 26, 1975 and July 9, 1975, (2) Amendment No. 7 to License No. DPR-40, with Change No. 13 and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Blair Public Library, 1665 Lincoln Street, Blair, Nebraska 68008.

A copy of items (2) and (3) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS SUBCOMMITTEE ON EMERGENCY CORE COOLING SYSTEMS (ECCS)

Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of sections 29 and 182 b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232 b.), the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards' Subcommittee on ECCS will hold a meeting on August 21, 1975 in Room 1046, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20555. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss EXXON Nuclear Company, Inc. analytical models formulated to meet current ECCS criteria for fuel fabricated for pressurized water reactors (PWR).

The following constitutes that portion of the Subcommittee's agenda for the above meeting which will be open to the public:

Thursday, August 21, 1975, 9:00 a.m. until close of business. Discussion with the NRC Staff and representatives of the EXXON Nuclear Company, Inc. on evaluation models formulated to meet ECCS criteria for PWR.

In connection with the above agenda item, the Subcommittee will hold executive sessions before and after the meeting to discuss its preliminary views and to exchange opinions and formulate recommendations to the ACRS. In addition, following the public portion of the meeting, the Subcommittee may hold a closed session with the NRC Staff to discuss privileged information relating to the EXXON ECCS evaluation models.

I have determined, in accordance with subsection 10(d) of Pub. L. 92-463, that the executive session at the beginning and end of the meeting will consist of an exchange of opinions and formulation of recommendations, the discussion of which, if written, would fall within exemption (5) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b) and that a closed session may be held to discuss certain documents which are privileged and fall within exemption (4) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b), such as XN 75-27, "EXXON Nuclear Neutronic Design Methods for Pressurized Water Reactors," June, 1975. It is essential to close such portions of the meeting to protect such privileged information and the free interchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with Committee operation.

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule.

The Chairman of the Subcommittee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business.

With respect to public participation in the open portion of the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda may do so by mailing a readily reproducible copy thereof, postmarked no later than August 14, 1975, to the Executive Secretary, ACRS, NRC, Washington, D.C. 20555, ATTN: Mr. Thomas G. McCreless. Comments which fail to meet the specified mailing date noted above will be considered to the extent practicable.

(b) Those persons submitting a written statement in accordance with paragraph (a) above may request an opportunity to make oral statements concerning the written statement. Such requests shall accompany the written statement so that appropriate arrangements can be made. To the extent that the time available for the meeting permits, the Subcommittee will receive oral statements at an appropriate time chosen by the Chairman of the Subcommittee.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been cancelled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for opportunity to present oral statements, and the time allotted can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on August 20, 1975 to Mr. Thomas G. McCreless (telephone 202/634-1374) between 8:15 a.m. and 5 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time.

(d) Questions may be propounded only by members of the Subcommittee and its consultants.

(e) Seating for the public will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

(f) The use of still motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will not, however, be allowed while the meeting is in session.

(g) Persons desiring to attend portions of the meeting where proprietary information is to be discussed may do so by providing to the Executive Secretary, ACRS, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20555, seven days prior to the meeting, a copy of an executed agreement with the owner of the proprietary information to safeguard this material.

(h) A copy of the transcript of the open portions of the meeting will be available for inspection after August 26, 1975 at the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20555. Copies of the transcript may be reproduced in the Public Document Room or may be obtained from Ace Federal Reporters, Inc., 415 Second Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20002, (telephone 202/547-6222) upon payment of appropriate charges.

(i) On request, copies of the minutes of the meeting will be made available for inspection at the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20555 after November 21, 1975. Copies may be obtained upon payment of appropriate charges.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

TOLEDO EDISON CO. AND THE CLEVELAND ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING CO. (DAVIS-BESSE NUCLEAR POWER STATION, UNIT 1)

Order Extending Construction Completion Date

The Toledo Edison Company and the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company are holders of Construction Permit No. CPPR-80 issued by the Atomic Energy Commission[1] on March 24, 1971, for construction of the Davis-Besse Nuclear Power Station, Unit 1, presently under construction at the Companies' site on the southwestern shore of Lake Erie in Ottawa County, Ohio, approximately 21 miles east of Toledo, Ohio.

[1] Effective January 19, 1975, the Atomic Energy Commission became the Nuclear Regulatory Commission and permits in effect on that day continued under the authority of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

On February 11, 1975, the Company filed a request for an extension of the completion date because construction has been delayed due to (1) Construction Schedule, (2) Construction Permit Delay, (3) Work Delays, (4) Design Modifications and (5) Rework. This action involves no significant hazards consideration; good cause has been shown for the delay; and the requested extension is for a reasonable period, the bases for which are set forth in a staff evaluation, dated July 30, 1975.

It is hereby ordered, That the latest completion date for CPPR-80 is extended from April 1, 1975 to April 1, 1977.

Date of Issuance: July 30, 1975.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[70-5708]

AMERICAN ELECTRIC POWER CO., INC.

Proposal of Holding Company To Act as Surety for Subsidiary Company

JULY 29, 1975.

Notice is hereby given that American Electric Power Company, Inc., 2 Broadway, New York, New York 10004, ("AEP"), a registered holding company, has filed a declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating sections 12(b) and 12(f) of the Act and Rule 45 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction. All interested persons are referred to the declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

AEP proposes to act as surety for its electric utility subsidiary company, Appalachian Power Company ("Appalachian"), in connection with certain Appalachian rate proceedings now pending before the Public Service Commission of West Virginia ("state commission"). On March 31, 1975 Appalachian filed with the state commission new increased rates for electric service in West Virginia. On the same date Appalachian also filed with the state commission a rate surcharge applicable to all retail sales of electric energy in West Virginia to permit the recovery of incurred fuel expenses which, by prior order of the state commission, could not be billed through its fuel adjustment clause. By orders dated April 4, 1975 and April 11, 1975, respectively, the state commission suspended the increased rates and the rate surcharge until August 28, 1975 pending its investigation of such increased rates and rate surcharge. The new increased rates and rate surcharge can both be made effective on and after August 28, 1975, subject to the posting in each instance by Appalachian of an appropriate bond to assure the making of appropriate refunds to its customers in the event the state commission's final order in each proceeding should require refunds to be made. The state commission has indicated in each instance that it would permit AEP to become a surety for Appalachian in lieu of Appalachian's posting of the said bond.

The purpose of the proposed transactions is to enable Appalachian, as permitted by West Virginia law, to begin applying the new increased rates and the rate surcharge prior to completion of the state commission's investigation, hearing and decision with respect thereto. It is expected that the amounts of the bond for the new increased rates and for the rate surcharge will not exceed $30,000,000 and $14,645,000, respectively; which in each instance is equal to the estimated additional annual revenue that the new increased rates and rate surcharge will provide. In the event that the amount of the bond ordered by the state commission should exceed these amounts, American will not execute the statutory bond until this Commission has issued a further order with respect thereto. It is desired to consummate the proposed transactions in order that Appalachian might save the cost of obtaining the statutory bond, which is estimated to cost approximately $35,000 annually in the case of the increased new rates and $18,000 annually in the case of the rate surcharge.

The fees and expenses to be paid, including legal fees, are estimated as not to exceed $2,500. It is stated that aside from the state proceeding described herein, no state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 22, 1975, request in writing that a hearing be held with respect to the proposed transaction, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of factor or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (air mail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the declarant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereto.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

Proposed Issue and Sale of Common Stock; Request for Exception From Competitive Bidding for Standby Underwriting

JULY 29, 1975.

Notice is hereby given that General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), 80 Pine Street, New York, New York, 10005, a registered holding company, has filed a declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"), designating Sections 6(a), 7 and 12(c) of the Act and Rules 42 and 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions. All interested persons are referred to the declaration, which is summarized below, for a complete statement of the proposed transactions.

GPU proposes to offer up to 5,030,000 authorized but unissued shares of its common stock ("additional common stock") for subscription by the holders of its outstanding shares of common stock on the basis of 1 share for each 10 shares of common stock held on the record date. The record date will be September 10, 1975, or such later date as GPU's registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 may become effective. The subscription price, to be determined by GPU's Board of Directors at about 4:00 p.m. on the day preceding the anticipated record date, will not be more than 100% and not less than 85%, of the closing price of GPU common stock on the New York Stock Exchange on the day prior to the record date. The subscription offer will expire September 29, 1975, unless the record date should be later than September 10, 1975, in which event the expiration date will be specified by amendment.

Rights to subscribe to the additional common stock will be evidenced by transferable subscription warrants which will be issued to all record holders of GPU common stock as promptly as practicable after the record date. No fractional shares will be issued; however, any holder with more than 10 shares, but not in exact multiples thereof, may purchase, at the subscription price, one extra share of additional common stock. A stockholder with less than 10 shares of common stock will be entitled to purchase, at the subscription price, one full share of additional common stock. In addition, each holder of a warrant or warrants who exercise such warrant or warrants in full will be given the privilege of subscribing, subject to allotment, at the same subscription price, for shares of additional unsubscribed common stock.

GPU does not propose to mail warrants to stockhoders whose registered addresses are outside the United States, Bermuda, Canada and Mexico. To the extent that GPU does not receive instructions from such stockholders to exercise their warrants, the rights evidenced by such warrants may be sold by Hartford National Bank and Trust Company, the subscription agent, for the account of such stockholders.

It is stated that GPU's Articles of Incorporation permit it to sell common stock in a public offering without preemptive rights in any calendar year in an amount up to 5% of the number of shares of common stock outstanding at the beginning of each calendar year. GPU states that it has already substantially exhausted this 5% exemption for 1975 and that in order for GPU to raise the equity capital it requires, it must exceed that 5% exemption and must therefore proceed through a rights offering.

GPU notes that in June 1974, it made a non-underwritten rights offering of its common stock. In that offering, approximately one-half the issue remained unsold at the end of the subscription period. GPU further notes that GPU subsidiary companies have had difficulties in marketing their securities in the recent past. GPU therefore proposes to proceed with an underwritten rights offering of this issue, and requests an exception from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50 under the Act so that it may negotiate the terms of this underwriting.

It is stated that the net proceeds of the sale of the additional common stock will be used by GPU to repay a portion of GPU's short-term indebtedness expected to be outstanding at the time of sale of the additional common stock or to reimburse the GPU treasury for prior investments in its subsidiaries.

Fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions will be supplied by amendment. It is stated that no state commission and no federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 20, 1975, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (air mail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the declarant at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney-at-law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. At any time after said date, the declaration, as amended or as it may be further amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule 23 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, or the Commission may grant exemption from such rules as provided in Rules 20(a) and 100 thereof or take such other action as it may deem appropriate. Persons who request a hearing or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Corporate Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

MUNICIPAL SECURITIES BROKERS, DEALERS, AND SPECIALISTS

Solicitation of Comments Relating to the Application of Net Capital Requirements

JULY 30, 1975.

The Securities Acts Amendments of 1975 ("the 1975 Amendments") amended Section 15(c)(3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("the Act") by requiring the Commission to establish minimum financial responsibility requirements for all brokers and dealers. The 1975 Amendments also amended Section 23(a)(1) of the Act to authorize the Commission to classify persons for purposes of implementing the provisions of the Act and prescribe greater, lesser or different requirements for different classes.

The Commission is of the view that, it may continue to provide appropriate exemptions for brokers and dealers from the provisions of the net capital rule. However, the basic thrust of the legislation requires the establishment of minimum financial responsibility requirements for all brokers and dealers. The Commission has determined to solicit the views of interested persons on the question of the application of the recently adopted uniform net capital rule[1] to municipal securities brokers and dealers and on the question of appropriate net capital requirements to be applied to specialists.

MUNICIPAL SECURITIES BROKERS AND MUNICIPAL SECURITIES DEALERS

Prior to the enactment of the 1975 Amendments, municipal securities were included in the definition of exempted securities set forth in Section 3(a)(12) of the Act and, therefore, brokers or dealers who effected transactions solely in municipal securities or other exempted securities were not subjected to rules adopted under Section 15(c)(3) of the Act respecting financial responsibility and related practices. The 1975 Amendments modified Section 3(a)(12) to provide that municipal securities would no longer be exempted securities for purposes of Section 15 of the Act. Thus, as of December 1, 1975 (the effective date of the relevant provisions of the 1975 Amendments) municipal securities brokers and dealers other than banks will be come subject to appropriate financial responsibility requirements under Section 15(c)(3).[2]

The Commission has determined to seek public comment from interested persons on any special problems which may be unique to such municipal securities brokers and dealers including those whose only customers may be professional securities dealers and banks. Comments are requested so that any problems which may exist may be appropriately resolved before all the provisions of the uniform net capital rule become effective.

SPECIALISTS

The net capital rule classifies specialists as a separate class of brokers and dealers and exempts them from its requirements. The separate classification is based on the fact that such specialists deal only with other brokers or dealers and have no public customers and, furthermore conduct a business which is closely monitored and regulated by the exchanges. Nevertheless, the Commission does not believe that the exemption should be continued indefinitely.

The Commission is soliciting the views of all interested parties as to what types of capital requirements are appropriate for specialists as well as what minimum dollar capital requirements should be applied to all specialists. The alternative net capital concept would appear to be one approach which would be appropriate for specialists. The Commission has already solicited the views of the various self-regulatory organizations as to appropriate uniform financial responsibility requirements for specialists; copies of the views of such organizations are available for public inspection. (File S7-573)

Finally, it is the Commission's view that unique capital requirements appear to be appropriate for market makers, specialists and registered traders in options who do not deal with the public and who are not clearing members of the Options Clearing Corporation. Accordingly, specific comments are sought as to how the capital requirements applicable to such market makers, specialists and registered traders should be incorporated in minimum financial responsibility requirements for all brokers and dealers.

Interested persons are invited to submit their views to George A. Fitzsimmons, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 500 North Capitol Street, Washington, D.C. 20549, no later than August 31, 1975. Reference should be made to File No. S7-573. All comments received will be subject to public inspection.

By the Commission.

SENTRY LIFE INSURANCE CO. ET AL.

Filing of Application

JULY 30, 1975.

In the matter of Sentry Life Insurance Company, Sentry Variable Annuity Account 1, Sentry Equity Services, Inc., 1421 Strongs Avenue, Stevens Point, Wisconsin, 54481.

Notice is hereby given that Sentry Life Insurance Company ("Sentry Life"), a stock life insurance company incorporated under the laws of the State of Wisconsin, Sentry Variable Annuity Account 1 ("Separate Account"), a unit investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act"), and Sentry Equity Services, Inc. ("Equity Services"), a Delaware corporation and principal underwriter for Separate Account (collectively "Applicants"), filed an application on March 7, 1975, and amendments thereto on June 2 and July 21, 1975, pursuant to Section 6(c) of the Act for an order of exemption from the provisions of Sections 22(d), 26(a), and 27(c)(2) of the Act. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of the representations contained therein, which are summarized below.

Sentry Life is a 99.5% subsidiary of The Sentry Corporation, a Texas corporation. The Sentry Corporation is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sentry Insurance, a mutual company which, directly or through its subsidiaries, controls a complex of insurance and other companies. As of December 31, 1974, Sentry Life had total assets of $112,014,999, capital and surplus of $12,181,112 and a mandatory securities valuation reserve of $87,430.

Separate Account was established on August 7, 1974. It is intended to serve as the funding medium for variable annuity contracts to be issued and administered by Sentry Life and will invest exclusively in shares of Sentry Fund, Inc. ("Fund"), an open-end, diversified management investment company registered under the Act. Equity Services, a broker-dealer registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Sentry Corporation.

Sentry Life will offer two types of individual contracts: (1) periodic premium deferred variable annuity contracts ("Deferred Contracts"), and (2) single premium immediate variable annuity contracts ("Immediate Contracts"). Both fixed and variable payments are available under each type of contract. Both types of contracts are designed for retirement planning. Under the Deferred Contracts, the sales charge will be 8½% for each premium; administrative expenses will be .5% for each premium plus an additional $12.00 per year during the accumulation period. An additional administrative charge of $8.00 will be made if the Deferred Contract is issued in connection with an H.R. 10 or Individual Retirement Account retirement plan. Under the Immediate Contracts, the sales and administrative charges will be scaled down from maximums of 7% and 2%, respectively, for a premium of less than $10,000, to minimums of 3% and 0.6%, respectivley, for premiums of $100,000 or more. Mortality and expense risk guarantee premiums under the contracts will be .8395% and .2555%, respectively, per annum.

SECTION 22(d)

Section 22(d) of the Act provides, in pertinent part, that no registered investment company shall sell any redeemable security issued by it to any person except at a current offering price described in the prospectus.

Applicants request exemption from Section 22(d) of the Act to permit:

(1) The sales and administrative charges on Immediate Contracts to be based on the total purchase premium. Applicants represent that such an exemption will permit Immediate Contract purchasers who allocate their purchase premiums to provide both fixed and variable annuity payments to be treated in the same manner as Immediate Contract purchasers who allocate the entire premium to a single type of annuity payment;

(2) A beneficiary of a Deferred Contract to apply proceeds of the death benefit to provide an Immediate Contract without the imposition of any sales and administrative charges. Applicants allege that deductions of additional sales and administrative charges from monies previously paid would result in unreasonable charges;

(3) An owner of a Deferred Contract to reallocate, as of the maturity date, funds from his fixed accumulation account to his variable accumulation account without the imposition of any sales and administrative charges. Applicants state that such a reallocation would be available only once and must be elected at least 30 days prior to the maturity date. Applicants represent that this reallocation privilege would provide each Deferred Contract owner with greater flexibility to modify his retirement plans. have already been subject to like charges;

(4) An owner of a Deferred Contract to deposit the proceeds from (i) any other contract issued by Sentry Life, and (ii) any shareholder account in Fund, to his fixed or accumulation account with the imposition of a 1% charge not to exceed $100 in lieu of any other sales and administrative charges. Such deposits are limited to a minimum of $1,000 and a maximum equal to the cash value of the owner's Deferred Contract at that time. Applicants state that the availability of such deposits provides additional flexibility for the contract owner's retirement planning. Applicants also state that the proceeds available for such deposits have already been subject to sales charges and that a reduced charge avoids cumulative sales charges; and

(5) The purchase of an Immediate Contract with the proceeds from (i) any other contract issued by Sentry Life, and (ii) any shareholder account in Fund, with the imposition of a 1% administrative charge not to exceed $500 in lieu of all other sales and administrative charges. Applicants state that the reasons in (4) above also apply to justify this exemption.

SECTIONS 26(a) AND 27(c)(2)

Sections 26(a) and 27(c)(2), as here pertinent, provide in substance that a registered unit investment trust and any depositor and principal underwriter for the trust are prohibited from selling periodic payment plan certificates unless the proceeds of all payments other than sales load are deposited with a qualified bank as trustee or custodian and held under an indenture or agreement containing specified provisions. Such indenture or agreement must provide, in part, that (1) the custodian bank shall have possession of all the property of the unit investment trust and shall segregate and hold the same in trust; (2) the custodian bank shall not resign until either the unit investment trust has been liquidated or a successor custodian has been appointed; (3) the custodian may collect fees from the income and if necessary from the corpus of the trust for services performed and for reimbursement of expenses incurred; and (4) no payment to the depositor or principal underwriter shall be allowed the custodian bank as an expense, except a fee, not exceeding such reasonable amount as the Commission may prescribe, as compensation for performing bookkeeping and other administrative expenses normally performed by the custodian.

[1] Securities Exchange Act Release No. 11497, June 26, 1975.

[2] The terms municipal securities dealer and municipal securities broker are defined in Sections 3(a)(30) and 3(a)(31) of the Act to include in general all persons engaged in buying and selling municipal securities for their account including banks. However, banks as defined in Section 3(a)(6) of the Act continue to be excluded from the definitions of "broker" and "dealer" set forth in Sections 3(a)(4) and 3(a)(5) of the Act and therefore are not subject to the provisions of Section 15(c)(3) of the Act.

Applicants request an exemption from Sections 26(a) and 27(c)(2) to permit the premiums received under the contracts to be held by Sentry Life rather than by a custodian or trustee as required under the Act, to permit Sentry Life to administer Separate Account directly in the manner described in the Separate Account's prospectus, and otherwise to perform the tasks customarily handled by the custodian.

Applicants state that on each valuation date, net purchase payments received under the contracts will be invested in Fund shares which will be the only assets of Separate Account. Applicants also state that the assets of Fund are held in custody by Marshall & Ilsley Bank of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, as custodian under an agreement meeting the requirements of Section 26(a) of the Act. Applicants further state that Wisconsin law prohibits the assets of Separate Account from being chargeable for liabilities arising out of Sentry Life's other business.

Applicants submit that the operations of Sentry Life and Separate Account are subject to extensive supervision and inspection by the Wisconsin Commissioner of Insurance. Applicants also state that all of Sentry Life's assets are available to meet its obligations and expenses under the variable annuity contracts.

Applicants consent that the exemptions requested from Sections 26(a) and 27(c)(2) may be subject to the conditions (1) that the charges under the contracts for administrative services shall not exceed such reasonable amounts as the Commission shall prescribe, jurisdiction being reserved to the Commission for such purpose, and (2) that the payment of sums and charges out of the assets of Separate Account shall not be deemed to be exempted from regulation by the Commission by reason of the requested order, provided that Applicants' consent to these conditions shall not be deemed to be a concession to the Commission of authority to regulate the payment of sums and charges out of such assets, other than the charges for administrative services, and Applicants reserve the right, in any proceeding before the Commission or in any suit or action in any court, to assert that the Commission has no authority to regulate the payment of such other sums and charges.

Section 6(c) of the Act provides, in part, that the Commission, by order upon application, may conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person, security, or transaction from any provision or provisions of the Act, or of any rule or regulation thereunder, if and to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 25, 1975, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to nature of his interest, and the reason for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission shall order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (air mail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon Applicants at the address stated above. Proof of such service (by affidavit, or in case of an attorney-at-law, by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. As provided by Rule 0–5 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application will be issued as of course following said date unless the Commission thereafter orders a hearing upon request or upon the Commission's own motion. Persons who request a hearing, or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered, will receive any notices and orders issued in this matter, including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements, thereof.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Office of the Secretary

[TA-W-97]

AMOS ABBOTT CO.

Investigation Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

On July 29, 1975, the Department of Labor received a petition filed under Section 221(a) of the Trade Act of 1974 ("the Act") by the United Textile Workers of America, on behalf of the workers and former workers of Amos Abbott Company, Dexter, Maine (TA-W-97).

Accordingly, the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, has instituted an investigation as provided in Section 221(a) of the Act and 29 CFR 90.12.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with woolens for ladies wear and men's sport coats produced by Amos Abbott Company or an appropriate subdivision thereof have contributed importantly to an absolute decline in sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision and to the actual or threatened total or partial separation of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or subdivision. The investigation will further relate, as appropriate, to the determination of the date on which total or partial separations began or threatened to begin and the subdivision of the firm involved. A group meeting the eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Act will be certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Act in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of 29 CFR Part 90.

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject matter of the investigation may request a public hearing, provided such request is filed in writing with the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, at the address shown below, on or before August 18, 1975.

The petition filed in this case is available for inspection at the Office of the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, U.S. Department of Labor, 3rd St. and Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 30th day of July 1975.

CARLISLE TIRE AND RUBBER CO.

Investigation Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

On July 30, 1975, the Department of Labor received a petition filed under Section 221(a) of the Trade Act of 1974 ("the Act") on behalf of the workers and former workers of Carlisle Tire and Rubber Company, Carlisle, Pennsylvania (TA-W-98).

Accordingly, the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, has instituted an investigation as provided in Section 221(a) of the Act and 29 CFR 90.12.

The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether absolute or relative increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with bicycle tires and tubes produced by Carlisle Tire and Rubber Company, or an appropriate subdivision thereof have contributed importantly to an absolue decline in sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision and to the actual or threatened total or partial separation of a significant number or proportion of the workers of such firm or subdivision. The investigation will further relate, as appropriate, to the determination of the date on which total or partial separations began or threatened to begin and the subdivision of the firm involved. A group meeting the eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Act will be certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Act in accordance with the provisions of Subpart B of 29 CFR Part 90.

Pursuant to 29 CFR 90.13, the petitioner or any other person showing a substantial interest in the subject matter of the investigation may request a public hearing, provided such request is filed in writing with the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, at the address shown below, on or before August 18, 1975.

The petition filed in this case is available for inspection at the Office of the Acting Director, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance, Bureau of International Labor Affairs, U.S. Department of Labor, 3rd St. and Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210.

FREEMAN-TOOR CORP.

Notice of Determination Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-33; investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on May 30, 1975 in response to a worker petition received on May 29, 1975 which was filed on behalf of workers formerly producing men's footwear at the Waynesboro, Pennsylvania plant of Freeman-Toor Corporation, Beloit, Wisconsin, a wholly owned subsidiary of United States Shoe Corporation Cincinnati, Ohio.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 24580) on June 9, 1975. No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Freeman-Toor Corporation, its customers, the U.S. International Trade Commission, U.S. Department of Commerce, American Footwear Industries Association, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated,

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) That increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATION

All workers engaged in the production of men's footwear at the Waynesboro, Pennsylvania plant of Freeman-Toor Corporation were separated in the first quarter of 1975, when the company closed the plant. Employment declined 81 percent from October 1974 to March 1975.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Production of men's footwear at the Waynesboro plant was terminated in March 1975 when Freeman-Toor Corporation closed the plant.

Sales and production declined 38 percent and 48 percent respectively from fiscal year 1974 to fiscal year 1975.

INCREASED IMPORTS CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

Imports of men's nonrubber footwear increased from about 45 million pairs in 1970 to about 69 million pairs in 1974. The import/consumption and import/production ratios increased from 35.4 percent and 54.7 percent respectively in 1970 to 44.5 percent and 80.1 percent in 1974.

Imports of men's leather footwear increased from about 29 million pairs in 1970 to about 56 million pairs in 1974. The ratios of imports to domestic consumption and production increased significantly from 35.0 percent and 53.7 percent respectively in 1970 to 54.2 percent and 118.3 percent respectively in 1974.

Freeman-Toor Corporation imports of men's footwear constituted about 45 percent of the company's available supply of men's footwear in fiscal year 1975 for sale to its customers.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with men's footwear produced by the Waynesboro, Pennsylvania plant of Freeman-Toor Corporation contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of workers of that plant. Section 223(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 provides that a certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance may not apply to any worker last separated from the firm or subdivision more than six months before April 3, 1975, the effective date of the new program. In accordance with this provision of the Act I make the following certification:

All workers, hourly, piecework and salaried, engaged in employment related to the production of men's footwear at the Waynesboro, Pennsylvania plant of Freeman-Toor Corporation who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after October 3, 1974 are certified as eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 25th day of July, 1975.

GLORIA G. PRATT,
Director, Office of Foreign Economic Policy.

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCEEDINGS

AUGUST 1, 1975.

The following publications include motor carrier, water carrier, broker, freight forwarder and rail proceedings indexed as follows: (1) Grants of authority requiring republication prior to certification; (2) notices of filing of petitions for modification of existing authorities; (3) new operating right's applications directly related to and processed on a consolidated record with finance applications filed under Sections 5(2) and 212(b); (4) notices of filing of Sections 5(2) and 210a(b) finance applications; and (5) notices of filing of Section 212(b) transfer applications.

Each applicant (except as otherwise specifically noted) states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application in compliance with the requirements of 49 CFR § 1100.250.

Protests to the granting of the requested authority must be filed with the Commission on or before September 5, 1975 (unless otherwise specified). Failure seasonably to file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest should comply with section 247(d) or section 240(c) as appropriate of the Commission's General Rules of Practice which requires that it set forth specifically the grounds upon which it is made, contain a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proceeding (including a copy of the specific portions of its authority which protestant believes to be in conflict with that sought in the application, and a detailed description of the method—whether by joinder, interline, or other means—by which protestant would use such authority to provide all or part of the service proposed), and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests not in reasonable compliance with the requirements of the rules may be rejected. The original and one (1) copy of the protest (except for petitions and Finance Dockets under Rule 40 requiring the original and six (6) copies of the protest) shall be filed with the Commission, and a copy shall be served concurrently upon applicant's or petitioner's representative, or applicant or petitioner if no representative is named. If the protest includes a request for oral hearing, such requests shall meet the requirements of section 247(d)(4) or section 240(c)(4) of the special rules, and shall include the certification required therein.

No. MC 7647 (Correction of Notice of Filing of Petition To Modify Territorial Description), filed June 23, 1975, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of July 16, 1975, and republished as corrected this issue. Petitioner: J. & S. TRUCKING SERVICE, INC., 9 West Stimpson Ave., Linden, N.J. 07036. Petitioner's representative: Morton E. Kiel, Suite 6193, 5 World Trade Center, New York, N.Y. 10048. Petitioner holds a motor common carrier certificate in No. MC 7647 issued August 4, 1971, authorizing transportation, as pertinent, over irregular routes, of General commodities (except those of unusual value, classes A and B explosives, livestock household goods as defined by the Commission, commodities in bulk, commodities requiring special equipment, and those injurious or contaminating to other lading), between New York, N.Y., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Hudson, Bergen, Union, Middlesex, Monmouth, Somerset, Essex, Morris, Passaic, and Ocean Counties, N.J.

By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to modify the territorial description in the above authority so as to read, between New York, N.Y. and those points in New York within 5 miles of New York, N.Y., and all of any New York municipality any part of which is within 5 miles of New York, N.Y., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Hudson, Bergen, Union, Middlesex, Monmouth, Somerset, Essex, Morris, Passaic, and Ocean Counties, N.J. Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition on or before September 5, 1975.

NOTE.—The purpose of this correction is to indicate that petitioner seeks modification of the above territorial description to include points and municipalities in New York within 5 miles of New York, N.Y., in lieu of points and municipalities in New Jersey within 5 miles of New York, N.Y., as originally published.

No. MC 116092 (Sub-No. 5) (Notice of Filing of Petition To Modify Territorial Description), filed July 23, 1975. Petitioner: E. J. PERSONS TRANSPORT, LTD., 785 Main St., Cowansville, Province of Quebec, Canada. Petitioner's representative: Robert B. Pepper, 168 Woodbridge Avenue, Highland Park, N.J. 08904. Petitioner holds a motor common carrier certificate in No. MC 116092 (Sub-No. 5) issued June 14, 1974, authorizing transportation, over irregular routes, of Lumber, between ports of entry on the United States-Canada Boundary line at or near Champlain and Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Norton Mills, Derby Line, and Richford, Vt., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, restricted against the transportation of traffic originating at points in Maine.

By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to add Highgate Springs, Vt., as an additional terminal point in the above described authority, so as to read, between ports of entry on the United States-Canada Boundary line at or near Champlain and Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Norton Mills, Derby Line, Richford, and Highgate Springs, Vt., on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, restricted against the transportation of traffic originating at points in Maine.

Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

No. MC 139457 (Sub-No. 1) (Notice of Filing of Petition To Modify Territorial Description), filed July 22, 1975. Petitioner: G. L. SKIDMORE, doing business as, JELLY SKIDMORE TRUCKING COMPANY, P.O. Box 35, Paris, Tex. 75460. Petitioner's representative: Paul D. Angenand, 904 Lavaca Building, P.O. Box 2207, Austin, Tex. 78767. Petitioner holds a motor contract carrier permit in No. MC 139457 (Sub-No. 1), issued February 14, 1975, authorizing transportation, over irregular routes, of (1) Canned and preserved foodstuffs, and (2) canned and packaged animal food, from the facilities of the Campbell Soup Company, at or near Paris, Tex., to points in Oklahoma, under a continuing contract or contracts with Campbell Soup Company at Paris, Tex.

By the instant petition, petitioner seeks to add points in Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, and Wyoming, and points in Iowa on and west of U.S. Highway 169, as additional destination points in the above described authority. Any interested person or persons desiring to participate may file an original and six copies of his written representations, views or arguments in support of or against the petition within 30 days from the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

APPLICATIONS UNDER SECTIONS 5 AND 210a(b)

The following applications are governed by the Interstate Commerce Commission's Special Rules governing notice of filing of applications by motor carriers of property or passengers under Sections 5(a) and 210a(b) of the Interstate Commerce Act and certain other proceedings with respect thereto. (49 C.F.R. 1.240).

MOTOR CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

Applications for certificates or permits which are to be processed concurrently with application under section 5 governed by special rule 240 to the extent applicable.

No. MC 33641 (Sub-No. 122), filed July 11, 1975. Applicant: IML FREIGHT, INC., 2175 South 3270 West, Salt Lake City, Utah 80217. Applicant's representative: Carl L. Steiner, 39 So. ## MOTOR CARRIER ALTERNATE ROUTE DEVIATION NOTICES

AUGUST 1, 1975.

The following letter-notices of proposals (except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application), to operate over deviation routes for operating convenience only have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Commission's Revised Deviation Rules—Motor Carriers of Property, 1969 (49 C.F.R. 1042.4(c)(11)) and notice thereof to all interested persons is hereby given as provided in such rules (49 C.F.R. 1042.4(c)(11)).

Protests against the use of any proposed deviation route herein described may be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission in the manner and form provided in such rules (49 C.F.R. 1042.4(c)(12)) at any time, but will not operate to stay commencement of the proposed operations unless filed within 30 days from the date of publication.

Successively filed letter-notices of the same carrier under the Commission's Revised Deviation Rules—Motor Carriers of Property, 1969, will be numbered consecutively for convenience in identification and protests, if any, should refer to such letter-notices by number.

MOTOR CARRIER TEMPORARY AUTHORITY APPLICATIONS

JULY 30, 1975.

The following are notices of filing of applications for temporary authority under Section 210a(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act provided for under the provisions of 49 CFR 1131.3. These rules provide that an original and six (6) copies of protests to an application may be filed with the field official named in the FEDERAL REGISTER publication no later than the 15th calendar day after the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. One copy of the protest must be served on the applicant, or its authorized representative, if any, and the protestant must certify that such service has been made. The protest must identify the operating authority upon which it is predicated, specifying the "MC" docket and "Sub" number and quoting the particular portion of authority upon which it relies. Also, the protestant shall specify the service it can and will provide and the amount and type of equipment it will make available for use in connection with the service contemplated by the TA application. The weight accorded a protest shall be governed by the completeness and pertinence of the protestant's information.

Except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

A copy of the application is on file, and can be examined at the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., and also in the I.C.C. Field Office to which protests are to be transmitted.

[Rule 19, Ex Parte No. 241, Fifteenth Revised Exemption No. 91]

ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE RAILWAY CO., ET AL.

Exemption Under Provision of Mandatory Car Service Rules

To all railroads:

It appearing, That the United States railroads own numerous plain 50-ft. boxcars; that under present conditions, there is virtually no demand for these cars on the lines of the car owners; that return of these cars to the car owners would result in their being stored idle on these lines; that such cars can be used by other carriers for transporting traffic offered for shipments to points remote from the car owners; and that compliance with Car Service Rules 1 and 2 prevents such use of plain boxcars owned by the United States railroads, resulting in unnecessary loss of utilization of such cars.

It is ordered, That pursuant to the authority vested in me by Car Service Rule 19, plain 50-ft. boxcars described in the Official Railway Equipment Register, I.C.C. R.E.R. No. 395, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designation XM, and bearing all reporting marks assigned to United States Railroads, shall be exempt from the provisions of Car Service Rules 1(a), 2(a), and 2(b). (See Exception)

Exception, This exemption shall not apply to 50-ft. plain boxcars owned by the railroads named below:

Exemption Under Mandatory Car Service

To all railroads:

It appearing, That the United States railroads own numerous plain 50-ft. boxcars; that under present conditions, there is virtually no demand for these cars on the lines of the car owners; that return of these cars to the car owners would result in their being stored idle on these lines; that such cars can be used by other carriers for transporting traffic offered for shipments to points remote from the car owners; and that compliance with Car Service Rules 1 and 2 prevents such use of plain boxcars owned by the United States railroads, resulting in unnecessary loss of utilization of such cars.

It is ordered, That pursuant to the authority vested in me by Car Service Rule 19, plain 50-ft. boxcars described in the Official Railway Equipment Register, I.C.C. R.E.R. No. 395, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designation XM, and bearing all reporting marks assigned to United States Railroads, shall be exempt from the provisions of Car Service Rules 1(a), 2(a), and 2(b). (See Exception)

Exception, This exemption shall not apply to 50-ft. plain boxcars owned by the railroads named below:

Rerouting Traffic

In the opinion of R. D. Pfahler, Agent, The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company is unable to transport traffic over its line on the West Virginia Division of the Big Sandy Sub-Division near Paintsville, Kentucky because of bridge damage.

It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting traffic. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, being unable to transport traffic over its line at Paintsville, Kentucky, because of bridge damage, is hereby authorized to divert or reroute such traffic over any available route to expedite the movement.

(b) Concurrence of receiving road to be obtained. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, in rerouting cars in accordance with this order, shall receive the concurrence of other railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, when rerouting cars in accordance with this order, shall notify each shipper at the time each shipment is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic is deemed to be due to carrier disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 3:20 p.m., July 18, 1975.

(g) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., July 22, 1975, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement; and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association; and that it be filed with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Rerouting Traffic

To all railroads:

In the opinion of R. D. Pfahler, Agent, the Reading Company, Andrew L. Lewis, Jr. and Joseph L. Castle, Trustees, is unable to transport traffic via its float bridge at Carneys Point, New Jersey because of mechanical failure.

It is ordered, That:

(a) The Reading Company, Andrew L. Lewis, Jr. and Joseph L. Castle, Trustees, being unable to transport traffic over its float bridge at Carneys Point, New Jersey because of mechanical failure, that carrier is hereby authorized to reroute or divert such traffic via any available route to expedite the movement. The billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the routing.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained. The railroad desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall receive the concurrence of other railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers. Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic is deemed to be due to carrier disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic. Divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 4:00 p.m., July 23, 1975.

(g) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., July 31, 1975, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association; and that it be filed with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

IRREGULAR-ROUTE MOTOR COMMON CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

Elimination of Gateway Applications

AUGUST 1, 1975.

The following applications to eliminate gateways for the purpose of reducing highway congestion, alleviating air and noise pollution, minimizing safety hazards, and conserving fuel have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Commission's Gateway Elimination Rules (49 CFR 1065(d)(2)), and notice thereof to all interested persons is hereby given as provided in such rules.

Carriers having a genuine interest in an application may file an original and three copies of verified statements in opposition with the Interstate Commerce Commission on or before September 5, 1975. (This procedure is outlined in the Commission's report and order in Gateway Elimination, 119 M.C.C. 530.) A copy of the verified statement in opposition must also be served upon applicant or its named representative. The verified statement should contain all the evidence upon which protestant relies in the application proceeding including a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proposal. No rebuttal statements will be accepted.

No. MC 10788 (Sub-No. 8G) (Correction), filed June 4, 1974, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 2, 1975, and republished in part as corrected this issue. Applicant: TOM'S EXPRESS, INC., 555 West Federal Street, Youngstown, Ohio 44501. Applicant's representative: Paul F. Beery, 8 East Broad Street, Ninth Floor, Columbus, Ohio 43215. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Iron and steel, and manufactured products thereof: (4) between points in Ohio on and south of a line beginning at the Ohio River, thence west along Ohio Highway 39 to intersection U.S. Highway 62, thence along U.S. Highway 62 to intersection U.S. Highway 36, thence west along U.S. Highway 36 to intersection U.S. Highway 33, thence west along U.S. Highway 33 to the Ohio-Indiana state line, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in New York on and west of a line beginning at the Pennsylvania-New York state line, thence north along U.S. Highway 62 to intersection New York Highway 75, thence north along New York Highway 75 to Lake Erie. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateways of points in Brooke and Ohio Counties, W. Va. This correction clarifies applicant's request to perform radial movements. (6) from points in Pennsylvania on, south and west of a line beginning at the West Virginia-Pennsylvania state line, thence east along U.S. Highway 22 to intersection Interstate Highway 76, thence east along Interstate Highway 76 to intersection Interstate Highway 70, thence south along Intersection Highway 70 to the Pennsylvania-Maryland state line, to points in New York on and west of a line beginning at the Pennsylvania-New York state line, thence north along New York Highway 19 to intersection New York Highway 243, thence west along New York Highway 243 to intersection New York Highway 98, thence north along New York Highway 98 to intersection New York Highway 16, thence north along New York Highway 16 to intersection New York Highway 240, thence west along New York Highway 240 to Lake Erie. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateways of points in Brooke and Ohio Counties, W. Va. This correction indicates that the defining boundary line proceeds along New York Highway 98 rather than U.S. Highway 98 as previously noticed.

NOTE.—Interested parties may file verified statements in opposition to the granting of parts (4) and (6) above within 30 days from the date of this FEDERAL REGISTER notice.

No. MC 59271 (Sub-No. 11G) (Correction), filed June 4, 1974, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 15, 1975, and republished in part as corrected this issue. Applicant: BOSTON TRUCK CO., INC., 194 First Street, Cambridge, Mass. 02142. Applicant's representative: Francis E. Barrett, 60 Adams Street, Milton, Mass. 02187. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: (3) new furniture, between Chicago, Ill.; Detroit, Mich.; Baltimore, Md.; Wilmington, Del.; New York, N.Y.; the District of Columbia, and points in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate gateways at New York, N.Y.; Baltimore, Md.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Chicago, Ill.; Wilmington, Del.; Detroit, Mich.; and the District of Columbia. This correction indicates applicant's requested service point at Wilmington, Del., rather than Milton, Del.

No. MC 63792 (Sub-No. 22G) (Correction), filed June 4, 1974, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 7, 1975, and republished in part as corrected this issue. Applicant: TOM HICKS TRANSFER COMPANY, INC., 3838 Majestic St., P.O. Box 16006, Houston, Tex. 77022. Applicant's representative: C. W. Ferebee (same address as applicant). Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: (1) Machinery, equipment, materials, and supplies used in, or in connection with, the discovery, development, production, refining, manufacture, processing, storage, transmission, and distribution of natural gas and petroleum and their products and byproducts, and machinery, materials, equipment, and supplies used in, or in connection with, the construction, operation, repair, servicing, maintenance, and dismantling of pipelines, including the stringing and picking-up thereof, except the stringing and picking-up of pipe in connection with main pipelines, (2) earth drilling machinery and equipment and machinery, equipment, materials, supplies, and pipe incidental to, used in, or in connection with (a) the transportation, installation, removal, operation, repair, servicing, maintenance, and dismantling of drilling machinery and equipment (b) the completion of holes or wells drilled, (c) the production, storage, and transmission of commodities resulting from drilling operations at well or hole sites and (d) the injection or removal of commodities into or from holes or wells, and (3) machinery, equipment, materials, and supplies used in, or in connection with, the construction, operation, repair, servicing, maintenance, and dismantling of pipelines other than pipelines used for the transmission of natural gas, petroleum, their products and byproducts, water, or sewerage, restricted to the transportation of shipments moving to or from pipeline rights of way, (e) between points in Alabama, Georgia, and Florida, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, and Kansas. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateways of points in Louisiana and Texas.

NOTE.—The purpose of this republication is to indicate applicant's request to serve points in Kansas in (e) above as originally indicated in its application filing of June 4, 1974.

The following letter-notices of propose of reducing highway congestion, pose of reducing highway congestion, alleviating air and noise pollution, minimizing safety hazards, and conserving fuel have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Commission's Gateway Elimination Rules (49 CFR 1065), and notice thereof to all interested persons is hereby given as provided in such rules.

An original and two copies of protests against the proposed elimination of any gateway herein described may be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on or before August 18, 1975. A copy must also be served upon applicant or its representative. Protests against the elimination of a gateway will not operate to stay commencement of the proposed operation.

Successively filed letter-notices of the same carrier under these rules will be numbered consecutively for convenience in identification. Protests, if any, must refer to such letter-notices by number.

No. MC 2630 (Sub-No. E47), filed May 31, 1974. Applicant: TOM STILL TRANSFER COMPANY, INC., 632 Boone Street, Kingsport, Tenn. 37660. Applicant's representative: Eugene R. Still (Same as above). Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Household goods, as defined in Practices of Motor Common Carrier of Household Goods, 17 M.C.C. 467, between points in Alabama, on the one hand, and, on the other, points in South Carolina on and north of a line beginning at the North Carolina-South Carolina State line and extending along U.S. Highway 76 to junction South Carolina Highway 340, thence along South Carolina Highway 340 to junction South Carolina Highway 151, thence along South Carolina Highway 151 to junction South Carolina Highway 34, thence along South Carolina Highway 34 to junction Interstate Highway 26, thence along Interstate Highway 26 to junction U.S. Highway 276, thence along U.S. Highway 276 to the North Carolina-South Carolina State line. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateway of Kingsport, Tenn., or points within 100 miles thereof.

No. MC 3252 (Sub E10), filed May 13, 1974. Applicant: MERRILL TRANSPORT, CO., 1037 Forest Avenue, Portland, Maine 04104. Applicant's representative: James A. Marchin (same as above). Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: paper mill rolls, between points in Maine, on the one hand, and, on the other, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Appleton, Wis. The purpose of this filing is to eliminate the gateway of Jay, Maine.

No. MC 13250 (Sub E4), filed April 4, 1975. Applicant: J. H. ROSE TRUCK LINE, INC., 5003 Jensen Drive, Houston, Tex. 77002. Applicant's representative: James M. Doherty, P.O. ### ELECTROMAGNETIC RADIATION MANAGEMENT ADVISORY COUNCIL

Meeting

Notice is hereby given that the Electromagnetic Radiation Management Advisory Council (ERMAC) will meet at 9:00 a.m., in Room 730, Office of Telecommunications Policy, 1800 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., on Thursday and Friday, August 21 and 22, 1975.

The meeting will consist of a workshop-seminar on research pertaining to possible genetic-hereditary-growth and/or developmental effects of nonionizing electromagnetic radiation.

The meeting will be open to the public; any member of the public will be permitted to file a written statement with the Council, before or after the meeting.

The names of the members of the Council, a copy of the agenda, a summary of the meeting, and other information pertaining to the meeting may be obtained from LCDR David Brown, Office of Telecommunications Policy, Washington, D.C. 20504 (telephone: 202-395-4737).

Dated: August 5, 1975.

AIR PROGRAM

Five Categories of Sources in the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

Title 40—Protection of Environment

CHAPTER I—ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[FRL 392-7]

PART 60—STANDARDS OF PERFORMANCE FOR NEW STATIONARY SOURCES

Five Categories of Sources in the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry

On October 22, 1974 (39 FR 37602), under section 111 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, the Administrator proposed standards of performance for five new affected facilities within the phosphate fertilizer industry as follows: Wet-process phosphoric acid plants, superphosphoric acid plants, diammonium phosphate plants, triple superphosphate plants, and granular triple superphosphate storage facilities.

Interested parties participated in the rulemaking by sending comments to EPA. The Freedom of Information Center, Rm 202 West Tower, 401 M Street, SW., Washington, D.C. has copies of the comment letters received and a summary of the issues and Agency responses available for public inspection. In addition, copies of the issue summary and Agency responses may be obtained upon written request from the EPA Public Information Center (PM-215), 401 M Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20460 (specify "Comment Summary: Phosphate Fertilizer Industry"). The comments have been considered and where determined by the Administrator to be appropriate, revisions have been made to the proposed standards, and the revised version of the standards of performance for five source categories within the phosphate fertilizer industry are herein promulgated. The principal revisions to the proposed standards and the Agency's responses to major comments are summarized below.

Definitions

The comment was made that the designation of affected facilities (§§ 60.200, 60.210, 60.220, 60.230, and 60.240) were confusing as written in the proposed regulations. As a result of the proposed wording, each component of an affected facility could have been considered a separate affected facility. Since this was not the intent, the affected facility designations have been reworded. In the new wording, the listing of components of an affected facility is intended for identification of those emission sources to which the standard for fluorides applies. Any sources not listed are not covered by the standard. Additionally, the definition of a "superphosphoric acid plant" has been changed to include facilities which concentrate wet-process phosphoric acid to 66 percent or greater $P_2O_5$ content instead of 60 percent as specified in the proposed regulations. This was the result of a comment stating that solvent extracted acids could be evaporated to greater than 60 percent $P_2O_5$ using conventional evaporators in the wet-process phosphoric acid plant. The revision clarifies the original intention of preventing certain wet-process phosphoric acid plants from being subject to the more restrictive standard for superphosphoric acid plants.

One commentator was concerned that a loose interpretation of the definition of the affected facility for diammonium phosphate plants might result in certain liquid fertilizer plants becoming subject to the standards. Therefore, the word "granular" has been inserted before "diammonium phosphate plant" in the appropriate places in subpart V to clarify the intended meaning.

Under the standards for triple superphosphate plants in § 60.231(b), the term "by weight" has been added to the definition of "run-of-pile triple superphosphate." Apparently it was not clear as to whether "25 percent of which (when not caked) will pass through a 16 mesh screen" referred to percent by weight or by particle count.

Opacity Standards

Many commentators challenged the proposed opacity standards on the grounds that EPA had shown no correlation between fluoride emissions and plume opacity, and that no data were presented which showed that a violation of the proposed opacity standard would indicate simultaneous violation of the proposed fluoride standard. For the opacity standard to be used as an enforcement tool to indicate possible violation of the fluoride standard, such a correlation must be established. The Agency has reevaluated the opacity test data and determined that the correlation is insufficient to support a standard. Therefore, standards for visible emissions for diammonium phosphate plants, triple superphosphate plants, and granular triple superphosphate storage facilities have been deleted. This action, however, is not meant to set a precedent regarding promulgation of visible emission standards. The situation which necessitates this decision relates only to fluoride emissions. In the future, the Agency will continue to set opacity standards for affected facilities where such standards are desirable and warranted based on test data.

In place of the opacity standard, a provision has been added which requires an owner or operator to monitor the total pressure drop across an affected facility's scrubbing system. This requirement will provide an affected facility's scrubbing system. This requirement will provide for a record of the operating conditions of the control system, and will serve as an effective method for monitoring compliance with the fluoride standards.

Reference Methods 13A and 13B

Reference Methods 13A and 13B, which prescribed testing and analysis procedures for fluoride emissions, were originally proposed along with standards of performance for the primary aluminum industry (39 FR 37730). However, these methods have been included with the standards of performance for the phosphate fertilizer industry and the the fertilizer standards are being promulgated before the primary aluminum standards. Comments were received from the phosphate fertilizer industry and the primary aluminum industry as the methods are applicable to both industries. The majority of the comments discussed possible changes to procedures and to equipment specifications. As a result of these comments some minor changes were made. Additionally, it has been determined that acetone causes a positive interference in the analytical procedures. Although the bases for the standard are not affected, the acetone wash has been deleted in both methods to prevent potential errors. Reference Method 13A has been revised to restrict the distillation procedure (Section 7.3.4) to 175°C instead of the proposed 180°C in order to prevent positive interferences introduced by sulfuric acid carryover in the distillate at the higher temperatures. Some commentators expressed a desire to replace the methods with totally different methods of analysis. They felt they should not be restricted to using only those methods published by the Agency. However, in response to these comments, an equivalent or alternative method may be used after approval by the Administrator according to the provisions of § 60.8(b) of the regulations (as revised in 39 FR 9308).

Fluoride Control

Comments were received which questioned the need for Federal fluoride control because fluoride emissions are localized and ambient fluoride concentrations are very low. As discussed in the preamble to the proposed regulations, fluoride was the only pollutant other than the criteria pollutants, specifically named as requiring Federal action in the March 1970 "Report of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare to the United States (91st) Congress." The report concluded that "inorganic fluorides are highly irritant and toxic gases" which, even in low ambient concentrations, have adverse effects on plants and animals. The United States Senate Committee on Public Works in its report on the Clean Air Amendments of 1970 (Senate Report No. 91-1196, September 17, 1970, page 9) included fluorides on a list of contaminants which have broad national impact and require Federal action.

One commentator questioned EPA's use of section 111 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, as a means of controlling fluoride air pollution. Again, as was mentioned in the preamble to the proposed regulations, the "Preferred Standards Path Report for Fluorides" (November 1972) concluded that the most appropriate control strategy is through section 111. A copy of this report is available for inspection during normal business hours at the Freedom of Information Center, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street, SW., Washington, D.C.

Another objection was voiced concerning the preamble statement that the "phosphate fertilizer industry is a major source of fluoride air pollution." According to the "Engineering and Cost Effectiveness Study of Fluoride Emissions Control" (Contract EHSD 71-14) published in January 1972, the phosphate fertilizer industry ranks near the top of the list of fluoride emitters in the U.S., accounting for nearly 14 percent of the total soluble fluorides emitted every year. The Agency contends that these facts justify naming the phosphate fertilizer industry a major source of fluorides.

Diammonium Phosphate Standard

One commentator contended that the fluoride standard for diammonium phosphate plants could not be met under certain extreme conditions. During periods of high air flow rates through the scrubbing system, high ambient temperatures, and high fluoride content in scrubber liquor, the commentator suggested that the standard would not be met even by sources utilizing best demonstrated control technology. This comment was refuted for two reasons: (1) The surmised extreme conditions would not occur and (2) even if the conditions did occur, the performance of the control system would be such as to meet the standard anyway. Thus the fluoride standard for diammonium phosphate plants was not revised.

Pond Water Standards

The question of the standards for pond water was raised in the comments. The commentator felt that it would have been more logical if the Agency had postponed proposal of the phosphate fertilizer regulations until standards of performance for pond water had also been decided upon, instead of EPA saying that such pond water standards might be set in the future. EPA researched pond water standards along with the other fertilizer standards, but due to the complex nature of pond chemistry and a general lack of available information, simultaneous proposal was not feasible. Rather than delay new source fluoride control regulations, possibly for several years, the Agency decided to proceed with standards for five categories of sources within the industry.

Economic Impact

As was indicated by the comments received, clarification of some of the Agency's statements concerning the economic impact of the standards is necessary. First, the statement that "for three of the five standards there will be no increase in power consumption over that which results from State and local standards" is misleading as written in the preamble to the proposed regulations. The statement should have been qualified in that this conclusion was based on projected construction in the industry through 1980, and was not meant to be applicable past that time. Second, some comments suggested that the cost data in the background document were out of date. Of course the time between the gathering of economic data and the proposal of regulations may be as long as a year or two because of necessary intermediate steps in the standard setting process, however, the economic data are developed with future industry growth and financial status in mind, and therefore, the analysis should be viable at the time of standard proposal. Third, an objection was raised to the statement that "the disparity in cost between triple superphosphate and diammonium phosphate will only hasten the trend toward production of diammonium phosphate." The commentator felt that EPA should not place itself in a position of regulating fertilizer production. In response, the Agency does not set standards to regulate production. The standards are set to employ the best system of emission reduction considering cost. The standards will basically require use of a packed scrubber for compliance in each of the five phosphate fertilizer source categories. In this instance, control costs (although considered reasonable for both source categories) are higher for triple superphosphate plants than for diammonium phosphate plants. The reasons for this are that (1) larger gas volumes must be scrubbed in triple superphosphate facilities and (2) triple suprephosphate storage facility emissions must also be scrubbed. However, the greater costs can be partially offset in a plant producing both granular triple superphosphate and diammonium phosphate with the same manufacturing facility and same control device. Such a facility can optimize utilization of the owner's capital by operating his phosphoric acid plant at full capacity and producing a product mix that will maximize profits. The information gathered by the Agency indicates that all new facilities equipped to manufacture diammonium phosphate will also produce granular triple superphosphate to satisfy demand for direct application materials and exports.

Control of Total Fluorides

Most of the commentators objected to EPA's control of "total fluorides" rather than "gaseous and water soluble fluorides." The rationale for deciding to set standards for total fluorides is presented on pages 5 and 6 of volume 1 of the background document. Essentially the rationale is that some "insoluble" fluoride compounds will slowly dissolve if allowed to remain in the water-impinger section of the sample train. Since EPA did not closely control the time between capture and filtration of the fluoride samples, the change was made to insure a more accurate data base. Additional comments on this subject revealed concern that the switch to total fluorides would bring phosphate rock operations under the standards. EPA did not intend such operations to be controlled by these regulations, and did not include them in the definitions of affected facilities; however, standards for these operations are currently under development within the Agency.

Monitoring Requirements

Several comments were received with regard to the sections requiring a flow measuring device which has an accuracy of ± 5 percent over its operating range. The commentators felt that this accuracy could not be met and that the capital and operating costs outweighed anticipated utility. First of all, "weigh-belts" are common devices in the phosphate fertilizer industry as raw material feeds are routinely measured. EPA felt there would be no economic impact resulting from this requirement because plants would have normally installed weighing devices anyway. Second, contacts with the industry led EPA to believe that the ± 5 percent accuracy requirement would be easily met, and a search of pertinent literature showed that weighing devices with ± 1 percent accuracy are commercially available.

Performance Test Procedures

Finally some comments specifically addressed § 60.245 (now § 60.244) of the proposed granular triple superphosphate storage facility standards. The first two remarks contended that it is impossible to tell when the storage building is filled to at least 10 percent of the building capacity without requiring an expensive engineering survey, and that it was also impossible to tell how much triple superphosphate in the building is fresh and how much is over 10 days old. EPA's experience has been that plants typically make surveys to determine the amount of triple superphosphate stored, and typically keep good records of the movement of triple superphosphate into and out of storage so that it is possible to make a good estimate of the age and amount of product. In light of data gathered during testing, the Agency disagrees with the above contentions and feels the requirements are reasonable. A third comment stated that § 60.244 (proposed § 60.245) was too restrictive, could not be met with partially filled storage facilities, and that the 10 percent requirement was not valid or practical. In response, the requirement of § 60.244(d)(1) is that "at least 10 percent of the building capacity" contain granular triple superphosphate. This means that, for a performance test, an owner or operator could have more than 10 percent of the building filled. In fact it is to his advantage to have more than 10 percent because of the likelihood of decreased emissions (in units of the standard) as calculated by the equation in § 60.244(g). The data obtained by the Agency show that the standard can be met with partially filled buildings. One commentator did not agree with the requirement in § 60.244(e) [proposed § 60.245(e)] to have at least five days maximum production of fresh granular triple superphosphate in the storage building before a performance test. The commentator felt this section was unreasonable because it dictated production schedules for triple superphosphate. However, this section applies only when the requirements of § 60.244(d)(2) [proposed § 60.245(d)(2)] are not met. In addition this requirement is not unreasonable regarding production schedules because performance tests are not required at regular intervals. A performance test is conducted after a facility begins operation; additional performance tests are conducted only when the facility is suspected of violation of the standard of performance.

2. Part 60 is amended by adding subparts T, U, V, W, and X as follows:

Subpart T—Standards of Performance for the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry: Wet-Process Phosphoric Acid Plants

§ 60.200 Applicability and designation of affected facility.

The affected facility to which the provisions of this subpart apply is each wet-process phosphoric acid plant. For the purpose of this subpart, the affected facility includes any combination of: reactors, filters, evaporators, and hotwells.

§ 60.201 Definitions.

As used in this subpart, all terms not defined herein shall have the meaning given them in the Act and in subpart A of this part.

(a) "Wet-process phosphoric acid plant" means any facility manufacturing phosphoric acid by reacting phosphate rock and acid.

(b) "Total fluorides" means elemental fluorine and all fluoride compounds as measured by reference methods specified in § 60.204, or equivalent or alternative methods.

(c) "Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed" means the quantity of phosphorus, expressed as phosphorous pentoxide, fed to the process.

§ 60.202 Standard for fluorides.

(a) On and after the date on which the performance test required to be conducted by § 60.8 is completed, no owner or operator subject to the provisions of this subpart shall cause to be discharged into the atmosphere from any affected facility any gases which contain total fluorides in excess of 10.0 g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed (0.020 lb/ton).

§ 60.203 Monitoring of operations.

(a) The owner or operator of any wet-process phosphoric acid plant subject to the provisions of this subpart shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a monitoring device which can be used to determine the mass flow of phosphorus-bearing feed material to the process. The monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

(b) The owner or operator of any wet-process phosphoric acid plant shall maintain a daily record of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by first determining the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus bearing feed using a monitoring device for measuring mass flowrate which meets the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and then by proceeding according to § 60.204(d)(2).

(c) The owner or operator of any wet-process phosphoric acid plant subject to the provisions of this part shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a monitoring device which continuously measures and permanently records the total pressure drop across the process scrubbing system. The monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

§ 60.204 Test methods and procedures.

(a) Reference methods in Appendix A of this part, except as provided in § 60.8 (b), shall be used to determine compliance with the standard prescribed in § 60.202 as follows:

(1) Method 13A or 13B for the concentration of total fluorides and the associated moisture content,

(2) Method 1 for sample and velocity traverses,

(3) Method 2 for velocity and volumetric flow rate, and

(4) Method 3 for gas analysis.

(b) For Method 13A or 13B, the sampling time for each run shall be at least 60 minutes and the minimum sample volume shall be 0.85 dscm (30 dscf) except that shorter sampling times or smaller volumes, when necessitated by process variables or other factors, may be approved by the Administrator.

(c) The air pollution control system for the affected facility shall be constructed so that volumetric flow rates and total fluoride emissions can be accurately determined by applicable test methods and procedures.

(d) Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined as follows:

(1) Determine the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed during each run using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of § 60.203(a).

(2) Calculate the equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by multiplying the percentage $P_2O_5$ content, as measured by the spectrophotometric molybdovanadophosphate method (AOAC Method 9), times the total mass rate of phosphorus-bearing feed. AOAC Method 9 is published in the Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Analytical Chemists, 11th edition, 1970, pp. 11–12. Other methods may be approved by the Administrator.

(e) For each run, emissions expressed in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined using the following equation:

$$E = \frac{(C_s Q_s)\ 10^{-3}}{M_{P_2O_5}}$$

where:

$E$ = Emissions of total fluorides in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed.
$C_s$ = Concentration of total fluorides in mg/dscm as determined by Method 13A or 13B.
$Q_s$ = Volumetric flow rate of the effluent gas stream in dscm/hr as determined by Method 2.
$10^{-3}$ = Conversion factor for mg to g.
$M_{P_2O_5}$ = Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed in metric ton/hr as determined by § 60.204(d).

Subpart U—Standards of Performance for the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry: Superphosphoric Acid Plants

§ 60.210 Applicability and designation of affected facility.

The affected facility to which the provisions of this subpart apply is each superphosphoric acid plant. For the purpose of this subpart, the affected facility includes any combination of: evaporators, hotwells, acid sumps, and cooling tanks.

§ 60.211 Definitions.

As used in this subpart, all terms not defined herein shall have the meaning given them in the Act and in subpart A of this part.

(a) "Superphosphoric acid plant" means any facility which concentrates wet-process phosphoric acid to 66 percent or greater $P_2O_5$ content by weight for eventual consumption as a fertilizer.

(b) "Total fluorides" means elemental fluorine and all fluoride compounds as measured by reference methods specified in § 60.214, or equivalent or alternative methods.

(c) "Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed" means the quantity of phosphorus, expressed as phosphorous pentoxide, fed to the process.

§ 60.212 Standard for fluorides.

(a) On and after the date on which the performance test required to be conducted by § 60.8 is completed, no owner or operator subject to the provisions of this subpart shall cause to be discharged into the atmosphere from any affected facility any gases which contain total fluorides in excess of 5.0 g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed (0.010 lb/ton).

§ 60.213 Monitoring of operations.

(a) The owner or operator of any superphosphoric acid plant subject to the provisions of this subpart shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a flow monitoring device which can be used to determine the mass flow of phosphorus-bearing feed material to the process. The flow monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ± 5 percent over its operating range.

(b) The owner or operator of any superphosphoric acid plant shall maintain a daily record of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by first determining the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and then by proceeding according to § 60.214(d)(2).

(c) The owner or operator of any superphosphoric acid plant subject to the provisions of this part shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a monitoring device which continuously measures and permanently records the total pressure drop across the process scrubbing system. The monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ± 5 percent over its operating range.

§ 60.214 Test methods and procedures.

(a) Reference methods in Appendix A of this part, except as provided in § 60.8(b), shall be used to determine compliance with the standard prescribed in § 60.212 as follows:

(1) Method 13A or 13B for the concentration of total fluorides and the associated moisture content.

(2) Method 1 for sample and velocity traverses,

(3) Method 2 for velocity and volumetric flow rate, and

(4) Method 3 for gas analysis.

(b) For Method 13A or 13B, the sampling time for each run shall be at least 60 minutes and the minimum sample volume shall be at least 0.85 dscm (30 dscf) except that shorter sampling times or smaller volumes, when necessitated by process variables or other factors, may be approved by the Administrator.

(c) The air pollution control system for the affected facility shall be constructed so that volumetric flow rates and total fluoride emissions can be accurately determined by applicable test methods and procedures.

(d) Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined as follows:

(1) Determine the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed during each run using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of § 60.213(a).

(2) Calculate the equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by multiplying the percentage $P_2O_5$ content, as measured by the spectrophotometric molybdovanadophosphate method (AOAC Method 9), times the total mass rate of phosphorus-bearing feed. AOAC Method 9 is published in the Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Analytical Chemists, 11th edition, 1970, pp. 11–12. Other methods may be approved by the Administrator.

(e) For each run, emissions expressed in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed, shall be determined using the following equation:

$$E = \frac{(C_s Q_s)\ 10^{-3}}{M_{P_2O_5}}$$

where:

$E$ = Emissions of total fluorides in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed.
$C_s$ = Concentration of total fluorides in mg/dscm as determined by Method 13A or 13B.
$Q_s$ = Volumetric flow rate of the effluent gas stream in dscm/hr as determined by Method 2.
$10^{-3}$ = Conversion factor for mg to g.
$M_{P_2O_5}$ = Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed in metric ton/hr as determined by § 60.214(d).

Subpart V—Standards of Performance for the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry: Diammonium Phosphate Plants

§ 60.220 Applicability and designation of affected facility.

The affected facility to which the provisions of this subpart apply is each granular diammonium phosphate plant. For the purpose of this subpart, the affected facility includes any combination of: reactors, granulators, dryers, coolers, screens and mills.

§ 60.221 Definitions.

As used in this subpart, all terms not defined herein shall have the meaning given them in the Act and in subpart A of this part.

(a) "Granular diammonium phosphate plant" means any plant manufacturing granular diammonium phosphate by reacting phosphoric acid with ammonia.

(b) "Total fluorides" means elemental fluorine and all fluoride compounds as measured by reference methods specified in § 60.224, or equivalent or alternative methods.

(c) "Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed" means the quantity of phosphorus, expressed as phosphorous pentoxide, fed to the process.

§ 60.222 Standard for fluorides.

(a) On and after the date on which the performance test required to be conducted by § 60.8 is completed, no owner or operator subject to the provisions of this subpart shall cause to be discharged into the atmosphere from any affected facility any gases which contain total fluorides in excess of 30 g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed (0.060 lb/ton).

§ 60.223 Monitoring of operations.

(a) The owner or operator of any granular diammonium phosphate plant subject to the provisions of this subpart shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a flow monitoring device which can be used to determine the mass flow of phosphorus-bearing feed material to the process. The flow monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

(b) The owner or operator of any granular diammonium phosphate plant shall maintain a daily record of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by first determining the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and then by proceeding according to § 60.224(d)(2).

(c) The owner or operator of any granular diammonium phosphate plant subject to the provisions of this part shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a monitoring device which continuously measures and permanently records the total pressure drop across the scrubbing system. The monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

§ 60.224 Test methods and procedures.

(a) Reference methods in Appendix A of this part, except as provided for in § 60.8(b), shall be used to determine compliance with the standard prescribed in § 60.222 as follows:

(1) Method 13A or 13B for the concentration of total fluorides and the associated moisture content,

(2) Method 1 for sample and velocity traverses,

(3) Method 2 for velocity and volumetric flow rate, and

(4) Method 3 for gas analysis.

(b) For Method 13A or 13B, the sampling time for each run shall be at least 60 minutes and the minimum sample volume shall be at least 0.85 dscm (30 dscf) except that shorter sampling times or smaller volumes when necessitated by process variables or other factors, may be approved by the Administrator.

V40152A AUG 6 75 XUM

(c) The air pollution control system for the affected facility shall be constructed so that volumetric flow rates and total fluoride emissions can be accurately determined by applicable test methods and procedures.

(d) Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined as follows:

(1) Determine the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed during each run using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of § 60.223(a).

(2) Calculate the equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by multiplying the percentage $P_2O_5$ content, as measured by the spectrophotometric molybdovanadophosphate method (AOAC Method 9), times the total mass rate of phosphorus-bearing feed. AOAC Method 9 is published in the Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Analytical Chemists, 11th edition, 1970, pp. 11–12. Other methods may be approved by the Administrator.

(e) For each run, emissions expressed in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined using the following equation:

$$E = \frac{(C_s Q_s)\ 10^{-3}}{M_{P_2O_5}}$$

where:

$E$ = Emissions of total fluorides in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$.
$C_s$ = Concentration of total fluorides in mg/dscm as determined by Method 13A or 13B.
$Q_s$ = Volumetric flow rate of the effluent gas stream in dscm/hr as determined by Method 2.
$10^{-3}$ = Conversion factor for mg to g.
$M_{P_2O_5}$ = Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed in metric ton/hr as determined by § 60.224(d).

Subpart W—Standards of Performance for the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry: Triple Superphosphate Plants

§ 60.230 Applicability and designation of affected facility.

The affected facility to which the provisions of this subpart apply is each triple superphosphate plant. For the purpose of this subpart, the affected facility includes any combination of: Mixers, curing belts (dens), reactors, granulators, dryers, cookers, screens, mills and facilities which store run-of-pile triple superphosphate.

§ 60.231 Definitions.

As used in this subpart, all terms not defined herein shall have the meaning given them in the Act and in subpart A of this part.

(a) "Triple superphosphate plant" means any facility manufacturing triple superphosphate by reacting phosphate rock with phosphoric acid. A run-of-pile triple superphosphate plant includes curing and storing.

(b) "Run-of-pile triple superphosphate" means any triple superphosphate that has not been processed in a granulator and is composed of particles at least 25 percent by weight of which (when not caked) will pass through a 16 mesh screen.

(c) "Total fluorides" means elemental fluorine and all fluoride compounds as measured by reference methods specified in § 60.234, or equivalent or alternative methods.

(d) "Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed" means the quantity of phosphorus, expressed as phosphorus pentoxide, fed to the process.

§ 60.232 Standard for fluorides.

(a) On and after the date on which the performance test required to be conducted by § 60.8 is completed, no owner or operator subject to the provisions of this subpart shall cause to be discharged into the atmosphere from any affected facility any gases which contain total fluorides in excess of 100 g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed (0.20 lb/ton).

§ 60.233 Monitoring of operations.

(a) The owner or operator of any triple superphosphate plant subject to the provisions of this subpart shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a flow monitoring device which can be used to determine the mass flow of phosphorus-bearing feed material to the process. The flow monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

(b) The owner or operator of any triple superphosphate plant shall maintain a daily record of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by first determining the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and then by proceeding according to § 60.234(d)(2).

(c) The owner or operator of any triple superphosphate plant subject to the provisions of this part shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a monitoring device which continuously measures and permanently records the total pressure drop across the process scrubbing system. The monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

§ 60.234 Test methods and procedures.

(a) Reference methods in Appendix A of this part, except as provided for in § 60.8(b), shall be used to determine compliance with the standard prescribed in § 60.232 as follows:

(1) Method 13A or 13B for the concentration of total fluorides and the associated moisture content,

(2) Method 1 for sample and velocity traverses,

(3) Method 2 for velocity and volumetric flow rate, and

(4) Method 3 for gas analysis.

(b) For Method 13A or 13B, the sampling time for each run shall be at least 60 minutes and the minimum sample volume shall be at least 0.85 dscm (30 dscf) except that shorter sampling times or smaller volumes, when necessitated by process variables or other factors, may be approved by the Administrator.

(c) The air pollution control system for the affected facility shall be constructed so that volumetric flow rates and total fluoride emissions can be accurately determined by applicable test methods and procedures.

(d) Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined as follows:

(1) Determine the total mass rate in metric ton/hr of phosphorus-bearing feed during each run using a flow monitoring device meeting the requirements of § 60.233(a).

(2) Calculate the equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed by multiplying the percentage $P_2O_5$ content, as measured by the spectrophotometric molybdovanadophosphate method (AOAC Method 9), times the total mass rate of phosphorus-bearing feed. AOAC Method 9 is published in the Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Analytical Chemists, 11th edition, 1970, pp. 11–12. Other methods may be approved by the Administrator.

(e) For each run, emissions expressed in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed shall be determined using the following equation:

$$E = \frac{(C_s Q_s)\ 10^{-3}}{M_{P_2O_5}}$$

where:

$E$ = Emissions of total fluorides in g/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed.
$C_s$ = Concentration of total fluorides in mg/dscm as determined by Method 13A or 13B.
$Q_s$ = Volumetric flow rate of the effluent gas stream in dscm/hr as determined by Method 2.
$10^{-3}$ = Conversion factor for mg to g.
$M_{P_2O_5}$ = Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed in metric ton/hr as determined by § 60.234(d).

Subpart X—Standards of Performance for the Phosphate Fertilizer Industry: Granular Triple Superphosphate Storage Facilities

§ 60.240 Applicability and designation of affected facility.

The affected facility to which the provisions of this subpart apply is each granular triple superphosphate storage facility. For the purpose of this subpart, the affected facility includes any combination of: storage or curing piles, conveyors, elevators, screens and mills.

§ 60.241 Definitions.

As used in this subpart, all terms not defined herein shall have the meaning given them in the Act and in subpart A of this part.

(a) "Granular triple superphosphate storage facility" means any facility curing or storing granular triple superphosphate.

(b) "Total fluorides" means elemental fluorine and all fluoride compounds as measured by reference methods specified in § 60.244, or equivalent or alternative methods.

(c) "Equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored" means the quantity of phosphorus, expressed as phosphorus pentoxide, being cured or stored in the affected facility.

(d) "Fresh granular triple superphosphate" means granular triple superphosphate produced no more than 10 days prior to the date of the performance test.

§ 60.242 Standard for fluorides.

(a) On and after the date on which the performance test required to be conducted by § 60.8 is completed, no owner or operator subject to the provisions of this subpart shall cause to be discharged into the atmosphere from any affected facility any gases which contain total fluorides in excess of 0.25 g/hr/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored ($5.0 \times 10^{-4}$ lb/hr/ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored).

§ 60.243 Monitoring of operations.

(a) The owner or operator of any granular triple superphosphate storage facility subject to the provisions of this subpart shall maintain an accurate account of triple superphosphate in storage to permit the determination of the amount of equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored.

(b) The owner or operator of any granular triple superphosphate storage facility shall maintain a daily record of total equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored by multiplying the percentage $P_2O_5$ content, as determined by § 60.244(f)(2), times the total mass of granular triple superphosphate stored.

(c) The owner or operator of any granular triple superphosphate storage facility subject to the provisions of this part shall install, calibrate, maintain, and operate a monitoring device which continuously measures and permanently records the total pressure drop across the process scrubbing sytem. The monitoring device shall have an accuracy of ±5 percent over its operating range.

§ 60.244 Test methods and procedures.

(a) Reference methods in Appendix A of this part, except as provided for in § 60.8(b), shall be used to determine compliance with the standard prescribed in § 60.242 as follows:

(1) Method 13A or 13B for the concentration of total fluorides and the associated moisture content,

(2) Method 1 for sample and velocity traverses,

(3) Method 2 for velocity and volumetric flow rate, and

(4) Method 3 for gas analysis.

(b) For Method 13A or 13B, the sampling time for each run shall be at least 60 minutes and the minimum sample volume shall be at least 0.85 dscm (30 dscf) except that shorter sampling times or smaller volumes, when necessitated by process variables or other factors, may be approved by the Administrator.

(c) The air pollution control system for the affected facility shall be constructed so that volumetric flow rates and total fluoride emissions can be accurately determined by applicable test methods and procedures.

(d) Except as provided under paragraph (e) of this section, all performance tests on granular triple superphosphate storage facilities shall be conducted only when the following quantities of product are being cured or stored in the facility:

(1) Total granular triple superphosphate—at least 10 percent of the building capacity.

(2) Fresh granular triple superphosphate—at least 20 percent of the amount of triple superphosphate in the building.

(e) If the provisions set forth in paragraph (d)(2) of this section exceed production capabilities for fresh granular triple superphosphate, the owner or operator shall have at least five days maximum production of fresh granular triple superphosphate in the building during a performance test.

(f) Equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored shall be determined as follows:

(1) Determine the total mass stored during each run using an accountability system meeting the requirements of § 60.243(a).

(2) Calculate the equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored by multiplying the percentage $P_2O_5$ content, as measured by the spectrophotometric molybdovanadophosphate method (AOAC Method 9), times the total mass stored. AOAC Method 9 is published in the Official Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Analytical Chemists, 11th edition, 1970, pp. 11–12. Other methods may be approved by the Administrator.

(g) For each run, emissions expressed in g/hr/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored shall be determined using the following equation:

$$E = \frac{(C_s Q_s)\ 10^{-3}}{M_{P_2O_5}}$$

where:

$E$ = Emissions of total fluorides in g/hr/metric ton of equivalent $P_2O_5$ stored.
$C_s$ = Concentration of total fluorides in mg/dscm as determined by Method 13A or 13B.
$Q_s$ = Volumetric flow rate of the effluent gas stream in dscm/hr as determined by Method 2.
$10^{-3}$ = Conversion factor for mg to g.
$M_{P_2O_5}$ = Equivalent $P_2O_5$ feed in metric tons as measured by § 60.244(d).

3. Part 60 is amended by adding Reference Methods 13A and 13B to Appendix A as follows:

METHOD 13—DETETMINATION OF TOTAL FLUORIDE EMISSIONS FROM STATIONARY SOURCES—SPADNS ZIRCONIUM LAKE METHOD

1. Principle and Applicability.

1.1 Principle. Gaseous and particulate fluorides are withdrawn isokinetically from the source using a sampling train. The fluorides are collected in the impinger water and on the filter of the sampling train. The weight of total fluorides in the train is determined by the SPADNS Zirconium Lake colorimetric method.

1.2 Applicability. This method is applicable for the determination of fluoride emissions from stationary sources only when specified by the test procedures for determining compliance with new source performance standards. Fluorocarbons, such as Freons, are not quantitatively collected or measured by this procedure.

2. Range and Sensitivity.

The SPADNS Zirconium Lake analytical method covers the range from 0–1.4 μg/ml fluoride. Sensitivity has not been determined.

3. Interferences.

During the laboratory analysis, aluminum in excess of 300 mg/liter and silicon dioxide in excess of 300 μg/liter will prevent complete recovery of fluoride. Chloride will distill over and interfere with the SPADNS Zirconium Lake color reaction. If chloride ion is present, use of Specific Ion Electrode (Method 13B) is recommended; otherwise a chloride determination is required and 5 mg of silver sulfate (see section 7.3.6) must be added for each mg of chloride to prevent chloride interference. If sulfuric acid is carried over in the distillation, it will cause a positive interference. To avoid sulfuric acid carryover, it is important to stop distillation at 175°C.

4. Precision, Accuracy and Stability.

4.1 Analysis. A relative standard deviation of 3 percent was obtained from twenty replicate intralaboratory determinations on stack emission samples with a concentration range of 39 to 360 mg/l. A phosphate rock standard which was analyzed by this procedure contained a certified value of 3.84 percent. The average of five determinations was 3.88 percent fluoride.

4.2 Stability. The color obtained when the sample and colorimetric reagent are mixed is stable for approximately two hours. After formation of the color, the absorbances of the sample and standard solutions should be measured at the same temperature. A 3°C temperature difference between sample and standard solutinos will produce an error of approximately 0.005 mg F/liter.

5. Apparatus.

5.1 Sample train. See Figure 13A–1; it is similar to the Method 5 train except for the interchangeability of the position of the filter. Commercial models of this train are available. However, if one desires to build his own, complete construction details are described in APTD–0581; for changes from the APTD–0581 document and for allowable modifications to Figure 13A–1, see the following subsections.

The operating and maintenance procedures for the sampling train are described in APTD–0576. Since correct usage is important in obtaining valid results, all users should read the APTD–0576 document and adopt the operating and maintenance procedures outlined in it, unless otherwise specified herein.

5.1.1 Probe nozzle—Stainless steel (316) with sharp, tapered leading edge. The angle of taper shall be ≤30° and the taper shall be on the outside to preserve a constant internal diameter. The probe nozzle shall be of the button-hook or elbow design, unless otherwise specified by the Administrator. The wall thickness of the nozzle shall be less than or equal to that of 20 gauge tubing, i.e., 0.165 cm (0.065 in.) and the distance from the tip of the nozzle to the first bend or point of disturbance shall be at least two times the outside nozzle diameter. The nozzle shall be constructed from seamless stainless steel tubing. Other configurations and construction material may be used with approval from the Administrator.

A range of sizes suitable for isokinetic sampling should be available, e.g., 0.32 cm (⅛ in.) up to 1.27 cm (½ in.) (or larger if higher volume sampling trains are used) inside diameter (ID) nozzles in increments of 0.16 cm (⅛ in.). Each nozzle shall be calibrated according to the procedures outlined in the calibration section.

5.1.2 Probe liner—Borosilicate glass or stainless steel (316). When the filter is located immediately after the probe, a probe heating system may be used to prevent filter plugging resulting from moisture condensation. The temperature in the probe shall not exceed 120 ± 14°C (248 ± 25°F).

5.1.3 Pitot tube—Type S, or other device approved by the Administrator, attached to probe to allow constant monitoring of the stack gas velocity. The face openings of the pitot tube and the probe nozzle shall be adjacent and parallel to each other, not necessarily on the same plane, during sampling. The free space between the nozzle and pitot tube shall be at least 1.9 cm (0.75 in.). The free space shall be set based on a 1.3 cm (0.5 in.) ID nozzle, which is the largest size nozzle used.

The pitot tube must also meet the criteria specified in Method 2 and be calibrated according to the procedure in the calibration section of that method.

5.1.4 Differential pressure gauge—Inclined manometer capable of measuring velocity head to within 10% of the minimum measured value. Below a differential pressure of 1.3 mm (0.05 in.) water gauge, micromanometers with sensitivities of 0.013 mm (0.0005 in.) should be used. However, micromanometers are not easily adaptable to field conditions and are not easy to use with pulsating flow. Thus, other methods or devices acceptable to the Administrator may be used when conditions warrant.

5.1.5 Filter holder—Borosilicate glass with a glass frit filter support and a silicone rubber gasket. Other materials of construction may be used with approval from the Administrator, e.g., if probe liner is stainless steel, then filter holder may be stainless steel. The holder design shall provide a positive seal against leakage from the outside or around the filter.

5.1.6 Filter heating system—When moisture condensation is a problem, any heating system capable of maintaining a temperature around the filter holder during sampling of no greater than 120±14°C (248±25°F). A temperature gauge capable of measuring temperature to within 3°C (5.4°F) shall be installed so that when the filter heater is used, the temperature around the filter holder can be regulated and monitored during sampling. Heating systems other than the one shown in APTD–0581 may be used.

5.1.7 Impingers—Four impingers connected as shown in Figure 13A–1 with ground glass (or equivalent), vacuum tight fittings. The first, third, and fourth impingers are of the Greenburg-Smith design, modified by replacing the tip with a 1¼ cm (½ in.) inside diameter glass tube extending to 1¼ cm (½ in.) from the bottom of the flask. The second impinger is of the Greensburg-Smith design with the standard tip.

5.1.8 Metering system—Vacuum gauge, leak-free pump, thermometers capable of measuring temperature to within 3°C (~5°F), dry gas meter with 2% accuracy at the required sampling rate, and related equipment, or equivalent, as required to maintain an isokinetic sampling rate and to determine sample volume. When the metering system is used in conjunction with a pitot tube, the system shall enable checks of isokinetic rates.

5.1.9 Barometer—Mercury, aneroid, or other barometers capable of measuring atmospheric pressure to within 2.5 mm Hg (0.1 in. Hg). In many cases, the barometric reading may be obtained from a nearby weather bureau station, in which case the station value shall be requested and an adjustment for elevation differences shall be applied at a rate of minus 2.5 mm Hg (0.1 in. Hg) per 30 m (100 ft) elevation increase.

5.2 Sample recovery.

5.2.1 Probe liner and probe nozzle brushes—Nylon bristles with stainless steel wire handles. The probe brush shall have extensions, at least as long as the probe, of stainless steel, teflon, or similarly inert material. Both brushes shall be properly sized and shaped to brush out the probe liner and nozzle.

5.2.2 Glass wash bottles—Two.

5.2.3 Sample storage containers—Wide mouth, high density polyethylene bottles, 1 liter.

5.2.4 Plastic storage containers—Air tight containers of sufficient volume to store silica gel.

5.2.5 Graduated cylinder—250 ml.

5.2.6 Funnel and rubber policeman—to aid in transfer of silica gel to container; not necessary if silica gel is weighed in the field.

5.3 Analysis.

5.3.1 Distillation apparatus—Glass distillation apparatus assembled as shown in Figure 13A–2.

5.3.2 Hot plate—Capable of heating to 500° C.

5.3.3 Electric muffle furnace—Capable of heating to 600° C.

5.3.4 Crucibles—Nickel, 75 to 100 ml capacity.

5.3.5 Beaker, 1500 ml.

5.3.6 Volumetric flask—50 ml.

5.3.7 Erlenmeyer flask or plastic bottle—500 ml.

5.3.8 Constant temperature bath—Capable of maintaining a constant temperature of ±1.0° C in the range of room temperature.

5.3.9 Balance—300 g capacity to measure to ±0.5 g.

5.3.10 Spectrophotometer — Instrument capable of measuring absorbance at 570 nm and providing at least a 1 cm light path.

5.3.11 Spectrophotometer cells—1 cm.

6. Reagents

6.1 Sampling.

6.1.1 Filters—Whatman No. 1 filters, or equivalent, sized to fit filter holder.

6.1.2 Silica gel—Indicating type, 6–16 mesh. If previously used, dry at 175° C (350° F) for 2 hours. New silica gel may be used as received.

6.1.3 Water—Distilled.

6.1.4 Crushed ice.

6.1.5 Stopcock grease—Acetone insoluble, heat stable silicone grease. This is not necessary if screw-on connectors with teflon sleeves, or similar, are used.

6.2 Sample recovery.

6.2.1 Water—Distilled from same container as 6.1.3.

6.3 Analysis.

6.3.1 Calcium oxide (CaO)—Certified grade containing 0.005 percent fluoride or less.

6.3.2 Phenolphthalein Indicator—0.1 percent in 1:1 ethanol-water mixture.

6.3.3 Silver sulfate ($Ag_2SO_4$)—ACS reagent grade, or equivalent.

6.3.4 Sodium hydroxide (NaOH)—Pellets, ACS reagent grade, or equivalent.

6.3.5 Sulfuric acid ($H_2SO_4$)—Concentrated, ACS reagent grade, or equivalent.

6.3.6 Filters—Whatman No. 541, or equivalent.

6.3.7 Hydrochloric acid (HCl)—Concentrated, ACS reagent grade, or equivalent.

6.3.8 Water—Distilled, from same container as 6.1.3.

6.3.9 Sodium fluoride—Standard solution. Dissolve 0.2210 g of sodium fluoride in 1 liter of distilled water. Dilute 100 ml of this solution to 1 liter with distilled water. One milliliter of the solution contains 0.01 mg of fluoride.

6.3.10 SPADNS solution—[4,5dihydroxy-3-(p-sulfophenylazo)-2,7-naphthalene - disulfonic acid trisodium salt]. Dissolve 0.960 ±.010 g of SPADNS reagent in 500 ml distilled water. This solution is stable for at least one month, if stored in a well-sealed bottle protected from sunlight.

6.3.11 Reference solution—Add 10 ml of SPADNS solution (6.3.10) to 100 ml distilled water and acidify with a solution prepared by diluting 7 ml of concentrated HCl to 10 ml with distilled water. This solution is used to set the spectrophotometer zero point and should be prepared daily.

6.3.12 SPADNS Mixed Reagent—Dissolve 0.135 ±0.005 g of zirconyl chloride octahydrate ($ZrOCl_2.8H_2O$), in 25 ml distilled water. Add 350 ml of concentrated HCl and dilute to 500 ml with distilled water. Mix equal volumes of this solution and SPADNS solution to form a single reagent. This reagent is stable for at least two months.

7. Procedure.

NOTE: The fusion and distillation steps of this procedure will not be required, if it can be shown to the satisfaction of the Administrator that the samples contain only water-soluble fluorides.

7.1 Sampling. The sampling shall be conducted by competent personnel experienced with this test procedure.

7.1.1 Pretest preparation. All train components shall be maintained and calibrated according to the procedure described in APTD–0576, unless otherwise specified herein.

Weigh approximately 200–300 g of silica gel in air tight containers to the nearest 0.5 g. Record the total weight, both silica gel and container, on the container. More silica gel may be used but care should be taken during sampling that it is not entrained and carried out from the impinger. As an alternative, the silica gel may be weighed directly in the impinger or its sampling holder just prior to the train assembly.

7.1.2 Preliminary determinations. Select the sampling site and the minimum number of sampling points according to Method 1 or as specified by the Administrator. Determine the stack pressure, temperature, and the range of velocity heads using Method 2 and moisture content using Approximation Method 4 or its alternatives for the purpose of making isokinetic sampling rate calculations. Estimates may be used. However, final results will be based on actual measurements made during the test.

Select a nozzle size based on the range of velocity heads such that it is not necessary to change the nozzle size in order to maintain isokinetic sampling rates. During the run, do not change the nozzle size. Ensure that the differential pressure gauge is capable of measuring the minimum velocity head value to within 10%, or as specified by the Administrator.

Select a suitable probe liner and probe length such that all traverse points can be sampled. Consider sampling from opposite sides for large stacks to reduce the length of probes.

Select a total sampling time greater than or equal to the minimum total sampling time specified in the test procedures for the specific industry such that the sampling time per point is not less than 2 min. or select some greater time interval as specified by the Administrator, and such that the sample volume that will be taken will exceed the required minimum total gas sample volume specified in the test procedures for the specific industry. The latter is based on an approximate average sampling rate. Note also that the minimum total sample volume is corrected to standard conditions.

It is recommended that a half-integral or integral number of minutes be sampled at each point in order to avoid timekeeping errors.

In some circumstances, e.g. batch cycles, it may be necessary to sample for shorter times at the traverse points and to obtain smaller gas sample volumes. In these cases, the Administrator's approval must first be obtained.

7.1.3 Preparation of collection train. During preparation and assembly of the sampling train, keep all openings where contamination can occur covered until just prior to assembly or until sampling is about to begin.

Place 100 ml of water in each of the first two impingers, leave the third impinger empty, and place approximately 200–300 g or more, if necessary, of preweighed silica gel in the fourth impinger. Record the weight of the silica gel and container on the data sheet. Place the empty container in a clean place for later use in the sample recovery.

Place a filter in the filter holder. Be sure that the filter is properly centered and the gasket properly placed so as to not allow the sample gas stream to circumvent the filter. Check filter for tears after assembly is completed.

When glass liners are used, install selected nozzle using a Viton A O-ring; the Viton A O-ring is installed as a seal where the nozzle is connected to a glass liner. See APTD–0576 for details. When metal liners are used, install the nozzle as above or by a leak free direct mechanical connection. Mark the probe with heat resistant tape or by some other method to denote the proper distance into the stack or duct for each sampling point.

Unless otherwise specified by the Administrator, attach a temperature probe to the metal sheath of the sampling probe so that the sensor extends beyond the probe tip and does not touch any metal. Its position should be about 1.9 to 2.54 cm (0.75 to 1 in.) from the pitot tube and probe nozzle to avoid interference with the gas flow.

Assemble the train as shown in Figure 13A–1 with the filter between the third and fourth impingers. Alternatively, the filter may be placed between the probe and the first impinger. A filter heating system may be used to prevent moisture condensation, but the temperature around the filter holder shall not exceed 120±14°C (248±25°F). [(Note: Whatman No. 1 filter decomposes at 150°C (300°F)).] Record filter location on the data sheet.

Place crushed ice around the impingers.

7.14 Leak check procedure—After the sampling train has been assembled, turn on and set (if applicable) the probe and filter heating system(s) to reach a temperature sufficient to avoid condensation in the probe. Allow time for the temperature to stabilize. Leak check the train at the sampling site by plugging the nozzle and pulling a 380 mm Hg (15 in. Hg) vacuum. A leakage rate in excess of 4% of the average sampling rate or 0.00057 m³/min. (0.02 cfm), whichever is less, is unacceptable.

The following leak check instructions for the sampling train described in APTD–0576 and APTD–0581 may be helpful. Start the pump with by-pass valve fully open and coarse adjust valve completely closed. Partially open the coarse adjust valve and slowly close the by-pass valve until 380 mm Hg (15 in. Hg) vacuum is reached. Do not reverse direction of by-pass valve. This will cause water to back up into the filter holder. If 380 mm Hg (15 in. Hg) is exceeded, either leak check at this higher vacuum or end the leak check as described below and start over.

When the leak check is completed, first slowly remove the plug from the inlet to the probe or filter holder and immediately turn off the vacuum pump. This prevents the water in the impingers from being forced backward into the filter holder (if placed before the impingers) and silica gel from being entrained backward into the third impinger.

Leak checks shall be conducted as described whenever the train is disengaged, e.g for silica gel or filter changes during the test, prior to each test run, and at the completion of each test run. If leaks are found to be in excess of the acceptable rate, the test will be considered invalid. To reduce lost time due to leakage occurrences, it is recommended that leak checks be conducted between port changes.

7.1.5 Particulate train operation—During the sampling run, an isokinetic sampling rate within 10%, or as specified by the Administrator, of true isokinetic shall be maintained.

For each run, record the data required on the example data sheet shown in Figure 13A–3. Be sure to record the initial dry gas meter reading. Record the dry gas meter readings at the beginning and end of each sampling time increment, when changes in flow rates are made, and when sampling is halted. Take other data point readings at least once at each sample point during each time increment and additional readings when significant changes (20% variation in velocity head readings) necessitate additional adjustments in flow rate. Be sure to level and zero the manometer.

Clean the portholes prior to the test run to minimize chance of sampling deposited material. To begin sampling, remove the nozzle cap, verify (if applicable) that the probe heater is working and filter heater is up to temperature, and that the pitot tube and probe are properly positioned. Position the nozzle at the first traverse point with the tip pointing directly into the gas stream. Immediately start the pump and adjust the flow to isokinetic conditions. Nomographs are available for sampling trains using type S pitot tubes with 0.85±0.02 coefficients ($C_p$), and when sampling in air or a stack gas with equivalent density (molecular weight, $M_d$, equal to 29±4), which aid in the rapid adjustment of the isokinetic sampling rate without excessive computations. APTD–0576 details the procedure for using these nomographs. If $C_p$ and $M_d$ are outside the above stated ranges, do not use the nomograph unless appropriate steps are taken to compensate for the deviations.

When the stack is under significant negative pressure (height of impinger stem), take care to close the coarse adjust valve before inserting the probe into the stack to avoid water backing into the filter holder. If necessary, the pump may be turned on with the coarse adjust valve closed.

When the probe is in position, block off the openings around the probe and porthole to prevent unrepresentative dilution of the gas stream.

Traverse the stack cross section, as required by Method 1 or as specified by the Administrator, being careful not to bump the probe nozzle into the stack walls when sampling near the walls or when removing or inserting the probe through the portholes to minimize chance of extracting deposited material.

During the test run, make periodic adjustments to keep the probe and (if applicable) filter temperatures at their proper values. Add more ice and, if necessary, salt to the ice bath, to maintain a temperature of less than 20°C (68°F) at the impinger/silica gel outlet, to avoid excessive moisture losses. Also, periodically check the level and zero of the manometer.

If the pressure drop across the filter becomes high enough to make isokinetic sampling difficult to maintain, the filter may be replaced in the midst of a sample run. It is recommended that another complete filter assembly be used rather than attempting to change the filter itself. After the new filter or filter assembly is installed conduct a leak check. The final emission results shall be based on the summation of all filter catches.

A single train shall be used for the entire sample run, except for filter and silica gel changes. However, if approved by the Administrator, two or more trains may be used for a single test run when there are two or more ducts or sampling ports. The final emission results shall be based on the total of all sampling train catches.

At the end of the sample run, turn off the pump, remove the probe and nozzle from the stack, and record the final dry gas meter reading. Perform a leak check.[1] Calculate percent isokinetic (see calculation section) to determine whether another test run should be made. If there is difficulty in maintaining isokinetic rates due to source conditions, consult with the Administrator for possible variance on the isokinetic rates.

7.2 Sample recovery. Proper cleanup procedure begins as soon as the probe is removed from the stack at the end of the sampling period.

When the probe can be safely handled, wipe off all external particulate matter near the tip of the probe nozzle and place a cap over it to keep from losing part of the sample. Do not cap off the probe tip tightly while the sampling train is cooling down, as this would create a vacuum in the filter holder, thus drawing water from the impingers into the filter.

Before moving the sample train to the cleanup site, remove the probe from the sample train, wipe off the silicone grease, and cap the open outlet of the probe. Be careful not to lose any condensate, if present. Wipe off the silicone grease from the filter inlet where the probe was fastened and cap it. Remove the umbilical cord from the last impinger and cap the impinger. After wiping off the silicone grease, cap off the filter holder outlet and impinger inlet. Ground glass stoppers, plastic caps, or serum caps may be used to close these openings.

Transfer the probe and filter-impinger assembly to the cleanup area. This area should be clean and protected from the wind so that the chances of contaminating or losing the sample will be minimized.

Inspect the train prior to and during disassembly and note any abnormal conditions. Using a graduated cylinder, measure and record the volume of the water in the first three impingers, to the nearest ml; any condensate in the probe should be included in this determination. Treat the samples as follows:

7.2.1 Container No. 1. Transfer the impinger water from the graduated cylinder to this container. Add the filter to this container. Wash all sample exposed surfaces, including the probe tip, probe, first three impingers, impinger connectors, filter holder, and graduated cylinder thoroughly with distilled water. Wash each component three separate times with water and clean the probe and nozzle with brushes. A maximum wash of 500 ml is used, and the washings are added to the sample container which must be made of polyethylene.

7.2.2 Container No. 2. Transfer the silica gel from the fourth impinger to this container and seal.

7.3 Analysis. Treat the contents of each sample container as described below.

7.3.1 Container No. 1.

7.3.1.1 Filter this container's contents, including the Whatman No. 1 filter, through Whatman No. 541 filter paper, or equivalent into a 1500 ml beaker. Note: If filtrate volume exceeds 900 ml make filtrate basic with NaOH to phenolphthalein and evaporate to less than 900 ml.

7.3.1.2 Place the Whatman No. 541 filter containing the insoluble matter (including the Whatman No. 1 filter) in a nickel crucible, add a few ml of water and macerate the filter with a glass rod.

Add 100 mg CaO to the crucible and mix the contents thoroughly to form a slurry. Add a couple of drops of phenolphthalein indicator. The indicator will turn red in a basic medium. The slurry should remain basic during the evaporation of the water or fluoride ion will be lost. If the indicator turns colorless during the evaporation, an acidic condition is indicated. If this happens add CaO until the color turns red again.

Place the crucible in a hood under infrared lamps or on a hot plate at low heat. Evaporate the water completely.

After evaporation of the water, place the crucible on a hot plate under a hood and slowly increase the temperature until the paper chars. It may take several hours for complete charring of the filter to occur.

[1] With acceptability of the test run to be based on the same criterion as in 7.1.4.

V 40 152 AUG 6 75 XUM

Place the crucible in a cold muffle furnace and gradually (to prevent smoking) increase the temperature to 600°C, and maintain until the contents are reduced to an ash. Remove the crucible from the furnace and allow it to cool.

7.3.1.3 Add approximately 4 g of crushed NaOH to the crucible and mix. Return the crucible to the muffle furnace, and fuse the sample for 10 minutes at 600°C.

Remove the sample from the furnace and cool to ambient temperature. Using several rinsings of warm distilled water transfer the contents of the crucible to the beaker containing the filtrate from container No. 1 (7.3.1). To assure complete sample removal, rinse finally with two 20 ml portions of 25 percent (v/v) sulfuric acid and carefully add to the beaker. Mix well and transfer a one-liter volumetric flask. Dilute to volume with distilled water and mix thoroughly. Allow any undissolved solids to settle.

7.3.2 Container No. 2. Weigh the spent silica gel and report to the nearest 0.5 g.

7.3.3 Adjustment of acid/water ratio in distillation flask—(Utilize a protective shield when carrying out this procedure.) Place 400 ml of distilled water in the distilling flask and add 200 ml of concentrated $H_2SO_4$. Caution: Observe standard precautions when mixing the $H_2SO_4$ by slowly adding the acid to the flask with constant swirling. Add some soft glass beads and several small pieces of broken glass tubing and assemble the apparatus as shown in Figure 13A–2. Heat the flask until it reaches a temperature of 175°C to adjust the acid/water ratio for subsequent distillations. Discard the distillate.

7.3.4 Distillation—Cool the contents of the distillation flask to below 80°C. Pipette an aliquot of sample containing less than 0.6 mg F directly into the distilling flask and add distilled water to make a total volume of 220 ml added to the distilling flask. [For an estimate of what size aliquot does not exceed 0.6 mg F, select an aliquot of the solution and treat as described in Section 7.3.6. This will give an approximation of the fluoride content, but only an approximation since interfering ions have not been removed by the distillation step.]

Place a 250 ml volumetric flask at the condenser exit. Now begin distillation and gradually increase the heat and collect all the distillation up to 175°C. Caution: Heating the solution above 175°C will cause sulfuric acid to distill over.

The acid in the distilling flask can be used until there is carryover of interferences or poor fluoride recovery. An occasional check of fluoride recovery with standard solutions is advised. The acid should be changed whenever there is less than 90 percent recovery or blank values are higher than 0.1 μg/ml. Note: If the sample contains chloride, add 5 mg $Ag_2SO_4$ to the flask for every mg of chloride. Gradually increase the heat and collect at the distillate up to 175°C. Do not exceed 175°C.

7.3.5 Determination of Concentration—Bring the distillate in the 250 ml volumetric flask to the mark with distilled water and mix thoroughly. Pipette a suitable aliquot from the distillate (containing 10 μg to 40 μg fluoride) and dilute to 50 ml with distilled water. Add 10 ml of SPADNS Mixed Reagent (see Section 6.3.12) and mix thoroughly.

After mixing, place the sample in a constant temperature bath containing the standard solution for thirty minutes before reading the absorbance with the spectrophotometer.

Set the spectrophotometer to zero absorbance at 570 nm with reference solution (6.3.11), and check the spectrophotometer calibration with the standard solution. Determine the absorbance of the samples and determine the concentration from the calibration curve. If the concentration does not fall within the range of the calibration curve, repeat the procedure using a different size aliquot.

8. Calibration.

Maintain a laboratory log of all calibrations.

8.1 Sampling Train.

8.1.1 Probe nozzle—Using a micrometer, measure the inside diameter of the nozzle to the nearest 0.025 mm (0.001 in.). Make 3 separate measurements using different diameters each time and obtain the average of the measurements. The difference between the high and low numbers shall not exceed 0.1 mm (0.004 in.).

When nozzles become nicked, dented, or corroded, they shall be reshaped, sharpened, and recalibrated before use.

Each nozzle shall be permanently and uniquely identified.

8.1.2 Pitot tube—The pitot tube shall be calibrated according to the procedure outlined in Method 2.

8.1.3 Dry gas meter and orifice meter. Both meters shall be calibrated according to the procedure outlined in APTD–0576. When diaphragm pumps with by-pass valves are used, check for proper metering system design by calibrating the dry gas meter at an additional flow rate of 0.0057 m³/min. (0.2 cfm) with the by-pass valve fully opened and then with it fully closed. If there is more than ±2 percent difference in flow rates when compared to the fully closed position of the by-pass valve, the system is not designed properly and must be corrected.

8.1.4 Probe heater calibration—The probe heating system shall be calibrated according to the procedure contained in APTD–0576. Probes constructed according to APTD–0581 need not be calibrated if the calibration curves in APTD–0576 are used.

8.1.5 Temperature gauges—Calibrate dial and liquid filled bulb thermometers against mercury-in-glass thermometers. Thermocouples need not be calibrated. For other devices, check with the Administrator.

8.2 Analytical Apparatus. Spectrophotometer. Prepare the blank standard by adding 10 ml of SPADNS mixed reagent to 50 my of distilled water. Accurately prepare a series of standards from the standard fluoride solution (see Section 6.3.9) by diluting 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 ml volumes to 100 ml with distilled water. Pipette 50 ml from each solution and transfer to a 100 ml beaker. Then add 10 ml of SPADNS mixed reagent to each. These standards will contain 0, 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, and 70 μg of fluoride (0—1.4 μg/ml) respectively.

After mixing, place the reference standards and reference solution in a constant temperature bath for thirty minutes before reading the absorbance with the spectrophotometer. All samples should be adjusted to this same temperature before analyzing. Since a 3°C temperature difference between samples and standards will produce an error of approximately 0.005 mg F/liter, care must be taken to see that samples and standards are at nearly identical temperatures when absorbances are recorded.

With the spectrophotometer at 570 nm, use the reference solution (see section 6.3.11) to set the absorbance to zero.

Determine the absorbance of the standards. Prepare a calibration curve by plotting μg F/50 ml versus absorbance on linear graph paper. A standard curve should be prepared initially and thereafter whenever the SPADNS mixed reagent is newly made. Also, a calibration standard should be run with each set of samples and if it differs from the calibration curve by ±2 percent, a new standard curve should be prepared.

9. Calculations.

Carry out calculations, retaining at least one extra decimal figure beyond that of the acquired data. Round off figures after final calculation.

9.1 Nomenclature.

$A_a$=Aliquot of distillate taken for color development, ml.

$A_n$=Cross sectional area of nozzle, m² (ft²).

$A_t$=Aliquot of total sample added to still, ml.

$B_{ws}$=Water vapor in the gas stream, proportion by volume.

$C_s$=Concentration of fluoride in stack gas, mg/m³, corrected to standard conditions of 20° C, 760 mm Hg (68° F, 29.92 in. Hg) on dry basis.

$F_t$=Total weight of fluoride in sample, mg.

$\mu gF$=Concentration from the calibration curve, μg.

$I$=Percent of isokinetic sampling.

$m_n$=Total amount of particulate matter collected, mg.

$M_w$=Molecular weight of water, 18 g/g-mole (18 lb/lb-mole).

$m_a$=Mass of residue of acetone after evaporation, mg.

$P_s$=Absolute stack gas pressure, mm Hg (in. Hg).

$P_{std}$=Standard absolute pressure, 760 mm Hg (29.92 in. Hg).

$R$=Ideal gas constant, 0.06236 mm Hg-m³/°K-g-mole (21.83 in. Hg-ft³/°R-lb-mole).

$T_{std}$=Standard absolute temperature, 293° K (528° R).

$V_a$=Volume of acetone blank, ml.

$V_{aw}$=Volume of acetone used in wash, ml.

$V_d$=Volume of distillate collected, ml.

$V_{lc}$=Total volume of liquid collected in impingers and silica gel, ml. Volume of water in silica gel equals silica gel weight increase in grams times 1 ml/gram. Volume of liquid collected in impinger equals final volume minus initial volume.

$V_m$=Volume of gas sample as measured by dry gas meter, dcm (dcf).

$V_{m(std)}$=Volume of gas sample measured by the dry gas meter corrected to standard conditions, dscm (dscf).

$V_{w(std)}$=Volume of water vapor in the gas sample corrected to standard conditions, scm (scf).

$V_t$=Total volume of sample, ml.

$v_s$=Stack gas velocity, calculated by Method 2, Equation 2–7 using data obtained from Method 5, m/sec (ft/sec).

$W_n$=Weight of residue in acetone wash, mg.

$\Delta H$=Average pressure differential across the orifice (see fig. 13A–3), meter, mm $H_2O$ (in. $H_2O$).

$\rho_a$=Density of acetone, mg/ml (see label on bottle).

$\rho_w$=Density of water, 1 g/ml (0.00220 lb/ml).

$\theta$=Total sampling time, min.

13.6=Specific gravity of mercury.

60=Sec/min.

100=Conversion to percent.

9.2 Average dry gas meter temperature and average orifice pressure drop. See data sheet (fig. 13A–3).

9.3 Dry gas volume. Correct the sample volume measured by the dry gas meter to standard conditions [20° C, 760 mm Hg (68° F, 29.92 inches Hg)] by using equation 13A–1.

equation 13A–1

where:

$K$=0.3855 °K/mm Hg for metric units.

=17.65 °R/in. Hg for English units.

9.4 Volume of water vapor.

$$V_{w(std)} = V_{lc} \frac{\rho_w}{M_w} \frac{RT_{std}}{P_{std}} = KV_{lc}$$

where:

$K$=0.00134 m³/ml for metric units.

=0.0472 ft³/ml for English units.

9.5 Moisture content.

$$B_{ws} = \frac{V_{w(std)}}{V_{m(std)} + V_{w(std)}}$$

equation 13A–3

If the liquid droplets are present in the gas stream assume the stream to be saturated and use a psychrometric chart to obtain an approximation of the moisture percentage.

9.6 Concentration.

9.6.1 Calculate the amount of fluoride in the sample according to Equation 13A–4.

$$F_t = K \frac{V_t}{A_t} \frac{V_d}{A_d} (\mu g\ F)$$

where:

$K$=10⁻³ mg/μg.

9.6.2 Concentration of fluoride in stack gas. Determine the concentration of fluoride in the stack gas according to Equation 13A–5.

$$C_s = K \frac{F_t}{V_{m(std)}}$$

where:

$K$=35.31 ft³/m³.

9.7 Isokinetic variation.

9.7.1 Calculations from raw data.

$$I = \frac{100\ T_s\ [KV_{lc} + (V_m/T_m)\ (P_{bar} + \Delta H/13.6)]}{60\ \theta v_s P_s A_n}$$

where:

$K$=0.00346 mm Hg-m³/ml-°K for metric units.

=0.00267 in. Hg-ft³/ml-°R for English units.

9.7.2 Calculations from intermediate values.

$$I = \frac{T_s V_{m(std)} P_{std}\ 100}{T_{std} v_s \theta A_n P_s\ 60\ (1 - B_{ws})}$$

$$= K \frac{T_s V_{m(std)}}{P_s v_s A_n \theta\ (1 - B_{ws})}$$

equation 13A–7

where:

$K$=4.323 for metric units.

=0.0944 for English units.

9.8 Acceptable results. The following range sets the limit on acceptable isokinetic sampling results:

If 90 percent <I< 110 percent, the results are acceptable. If the results are low in comparison to the standards and I is beyond the acceptable range, the Administrator may option to accept the results. Use reference 7.4 to make judgments. Otherwise, reject the results and repeat the test.

METHOD 13B—DETERMINATION OF TOTAL FLUORIDE EMISSIONS FROM STATIONARY SOURCES—SPECIFIC ION ELECTRODE METHOD.

1. Principle and Applicability.

1.1 Principle. Gaseous and particulate fluorides are withdrawn isokinetically from the source using a sampling train. The fluorides are collected in the impinger water and on the filter of the sampling train. The weight of total fluorides in the train is determined by the specific ion electrode method.

1.2 Applicability. This method is applicable for the determination of fluoride emissions from stationary sources only when specified by the test procedures for determining compliance with new source performance standards. Fluorocarbons such as Freons, are not quantitatively collected or measured by this procedure.

2. Range and Sensitivity.

The fluoride specific ion electrode analytical method covers the range of 0.02–2,000 μg F/ml; however, measurements of less than 0.1 μg F/ml require extra care. Sensitivity has not been determined.

3. Interferences.

During the laboratory analysis, aluminum in excess of 300 mg/liter and silicon dioxide in excess of 300 μg/liter will prevent complete recovery of fluoride.

4. Precision, Accuracy and Stability.

The accuracy of fluoride electrode measurements has been reported by various researchers to be in the range of 1–5 percent in a concentration range of 0.04 to 80 mg/l. A change in the temperature of the sample will change the electrode response; a change of 1°C will produce a 1.5 percent relative error in the measurement. Lack of stability in the electrometer used to measure EMF can introduce error. An error of 1 millivolt in the EMF measurement produces a relative error of 4 percent regardless of the absolute concentration being measured.

5. Apparatus.

5.1 Sample train. See Figure 13A–1 (Method 13A); it is similar to the Method 5 train except for the interchangeability of the position of the filter. Commercial models of this train are available. However, if one desires to build his own, complete construction details are described in APTD–0581; for changes from the APTD–0581 document and for allowable modifications to Figure 13A–1, see the following subsections.

The operating and maintenance procedures for the sampling train are described in APTD–0576. Since correct usage is important in obtaining valid results, all users should read the APTD–0576 document and adopt the operating and maintenance procedures outlined in it, unless otherwise specified herein.

5.1.1 Probe nozzle—Stainless steel (316) with sharp, tapered leading edge. The angle of taper shall be ≤30° and the taper shall be on the outside to preserve a constant internal diameter. The probe nozzle shall be of the button-hook or elbow design, unless otherwise specified by the Administrator. The wall thickness of the nozzle shall be less than or equal to that of 20 gauge tubing, i.e., 0.165 cm (0.065 in.) and the distance from the tip of the nozzle to the first bend or point of disturbance shall be at least two times the outside nozzle diameter. The nozzle shall be constructed from seamless stainless steel tubing. Other configurations and construction material may be used with approval from the Administrator.

A range of sizes suitable for isokinetic sampling should be available, e.g., 0.32 cm (⅛ in.) up to 1.27 cm (½ in.) (or larger if higher volume sampling trains are used) inside diameter (ID) nozzles in increments of 0.16 cm (1/16 in.). Each nozzle shall be calibrated according to the procedures outlined in the calibration section.

5.1.2 Probe liner—Borosilicate glass or stainless steel (316). When the filter is located immediately after the probe, a probe heating system may be used to prevent filter plugging resulting from moisture condensation. The temperature in the probe shall not exceed 120±14°C (248±25°F).

5.1.3 Pitot tube—Type S, or other device approved by the Administrator, attached to probe to allow constant monitoring of the stack gas velocity. The face openings of the pitot tube and the probe nozzle shall be adjacent and parallel to each other, not necessarily on the same plane, during sampling. The free space between the nozzle and pitot tube shall be at least 1.9 cm (0.75 in.). The free space shall be set based on a 1.3 cm (0.5 in.) ID nozzle, which is the largest size nozzle used.

The pitot tube must also meet the criteria specified in Method 2 and be calibrated according to the procedure in the calibration section of that method.

5.1.4 Differential pressure gauge—Inclined manometer capable of measuring velocity head to within 10 percent of the minimum measured value. Below a differential pressure of 1.3 mm (0.05 in.) water gauge, micromanometers with sensitivities of 0.013 mm (0.0005 in.) should be used. However, micromanometers are not easily adaptable to field conditions and are not easy to use with pulsating flow. Thus, other methods or devices acceptable to the Administrator may be used when conditions warrant.

5.1.5 Filter holder—Borosilicate glass with a glass frit filter support and a silicone rubber gasket. Other materials of construction may be used with approval from the Administrator, e.g. if probe liner is stainless steel, then filter holder may be stainless steel. The holder design shall provide a positive seal against leakage from the outside or around the filter.

5.1.6 Filter heating system—When moisture condensation is a problem, any heating system capable of maintaining a temperature around the filter holder during sampling of no greater than 120 ± 14°C (248 ± 25°F). A temperature gauge capable of measuring temperature to within 3°C (5.4°F) shall be installed so that when the filter heater is used, the temperature around the filter holder can be regulated and monitored during sampling. Heating systems other than the one shown in APTD–0581 may be used.

5.1.7 Impingers—Four impingers connected as shown in Figure 13A–1 with ground glass (or equivalent), vacuum tight fittings. The first, third, and fourth impingers are of the Greenburg-Smith design, modified by replacing the tip with a 1¼ cm (½ in.) inside diameter glass tube extending to 1¼ cm (½ in.) from the bottom of the flask. The second impinger is of the Greenburg-Smith design with the standard tip.

5.1.8 Metering system—Vacuum gauge, leak-free pump, thermometers capable of measuring temperature to within 3°C (~5°F), dry gas meter with 2 percent accuracy at the required sampling rate, and related equipment, or equivalent, as required to maintain an isokinetic sampling rate and to determine sample volume. When the metering system is used in conjunction with a pitot tube, the system shall enable checks of isokinetic rates.

5.1.9 Barometer—Mercury, aneroid, or other barometers capable of measuring atmospheric pressure to within 2.5 mm Hg (0.1 in Hg). In many cases, the barometric reading may be obtained from a nearby weather bureau station, in which case the station value shall be requested and an adjustment for elevation differences shall be applied at a rate of minus 2.5 mm Hg (0.1 in. Hg) per 30 m (100 ft) elevation increase.

5.2 Sample recovery.

5.2.1 Probe liner and probe nozzle brushes—Nylon bristles with stainless steel wire handles. The probe brush shall have extensions, at least as long as the probe, of stainless steel, teflon, or similarly inert material. Both brushes shall be properly sized and shaped to brush out the probe liner and nozzle.

5.2.2 Glass wash bottles—Two.

5.2.3 Sample storage containers—Wide month, high density polyethylene bottles, 1 liter.

5.2.4 Plastic storage containers—Air tight containers of sufficient volume to store silica gel.

5.2.5 Graduated cylinder—250 ml.

5.2.6 Funnel and rubber policeman—To aid in transfer of silica gel to container; not necessary if silica gel is weighed in the field.

V40152 AUG 6 75 XUM

5.3 Analysis.

5.3.1 Distillation apparatus—Glass distillation apparatus assembled as shown in Figure 13A–2 (Method 13A).

5.3.2 Hot plate—Capable of heating to 500°C..

5.3.3 Electric muffle furnace—Capable of heating to 600°C.

5.3.4 Crucibles—Nickel, 75 to 100 ml capacity.

5.3.5 Beaker—1500 ml.

5.3.6 Volumetric flask—50 ml.

5.3.7 Erlenmeyer flask or plastic bottle—500 ml.

5.3.8 Constant temperature bath—Capable of maintaining a constant temperature of ±1.0°C in the range of room temperature.

5.3.9 Trip balance—300 g capacity to measure to ±0.5 g.

5.3.10 Fluoride ion activity sensing electrode.

5.3.11 Reference electrode—Single junction; sleeve type. (A combination-type electrode having the references electrode and the fluoride-ion sensing electrode built into one unit may also be used).

5.3.12 Electrometer—A pH meter with millivolt scale capable of ±0.1 mv resolution, or a specific ion meter made specifically for specific ion use.

5.3.13 Magnetic stirrer and TFE fluorocarbon coated stripping bars.

6. Reagents.

6.1 Sampling.

6.1.1 Filters—Whatman No. 1 filters, or equivalent, sized to fit filter holder.

6.1.2 Silica gel—Indicating type, 6–16 mesh. If previously used, dry at 175°C (350°F) for 2 hours. New silica gel may be used as received.

6.1.3 Water—Distilled.

6.1.4 Crushed ice.

6.1.5 Stopcock grease—Acetone insoluble, heat stable silicone grease. This is not necessary if screw-on connectors with teflon sleeves, or similar, are used.

6.2 Sample recovery.

6.2.1 Water—Distilled from same container as 6.1.3.

6.3 Analysis.

6.3.1 Calcium oxide (CaO)—Certified grade containing 0.005 percent fluoride or less.

6.3.2 Phenolphthalein Indicator—0.1 percent in 1:1 ethanol water mixture.

6.3.3 Sodium hydroxide (NaOH)—Pellets, ACS reagent grade or equivalent.

6.3.4 Sulfuric acid ($H_2SO_4$)—Concentrated, ACS reagent grade or equivalent.

6.3.' Filters—Whatman No. 541, or equivalent.

6.3.6 Water—Distilled, from same container as 6.1.3.

6.3.7 Total Ionic Strength Adjustment Buffer (TISAB)—Place approximately 500 ml of distilled water in a 1-liter beaker. Add 57 ml glacial acetic acid, 58 g sodium chloride, and 4 g CDTA (Cyclohexylene dinitrilo tetraacetic acid). Stir to dissolve. Place the beaker in a water bath to cool it. Slowly add 5 M NaOH to the solution, measuring the pH continuously with a calibrated pH/reference electrode pair, until the pH is 5.3. Cool to room temperature. Pour into a 1-liter flask and dilute to volume with distilled water. Commercially prepared TISAB buffer may be substituted for the above.

6.3.8 Fluoride Standard Solution—0.1 M fluoride reference solution. Add 4.20 grams of reagent grade sodium fluoride (NaF) to a 1-liter volumetric flask and add enough distilled water to dissolve. Dilute to volume with distilled water.

7. Procedure.

NOTE: The fusion and distillation steps of this procedure will not be required, if it can be shown to the satisfaction of the Administrator that the samples contain only water-soluble fluorides.

7.1 Sampling. The sampling shall be conducted by competent personnel experienced with this test procedure.

7.1.1 Pretest preparation. All train components shall be maintained and calibrated according to the procedure described in APTD–0576, unless otherwise specified herein.

Weigh approximately 200–300 g of silica gel in air tight containers to the nearest 0.5 g. Record the total weight, both silica gel and container, on the container. More silica gel may be used but care should be taken during sampling that it is not entrained and carried out from the impinger. As an alternative, the silica gel may be weighed directly in the impinger or its sampling holder just prior to the train assembly.

7.1.2 Preliminary determinations. Select the sampling site and the minimum number of sampling points according to Method 1 or as specified by the Administrator. Determine the stack pressure, temperature, and the range of velocity heads using Method 2 and moisture content using Approximation Method 4 or its alternatives for the purpose of making isokinetic sampling rate calculations. Estimates may be used. However, final results will be based on actual measurements made during the test.

Select a nozzle size based on the range of velocity heads such that it is not necessary to change the nozzle size in order to maintain isokinetic sampling rates. During the run, do not change the nozzle size. Ensure that the differential pressure gauge is capable of measuring the minimum velocity head value to within 10 percent, or as specified by the Administrator.

Select a suitable probe liner and probe length such that all traverse points can be sampled. Consider sampling from opposite sides for large stacks to reduce the length of probes.

Select a total sampling time greater than or equal to the minimum total sampling time specified in the test procedures for the specific industry such that the sampling time per point is not less than 2 min. or select some greater time interval as specified by the Administrator, and such that the sample volume that will be taken will exceed the required minimum total gas sample volume specified in the test procedures for the specific industry. The latter is based on an approximate average sampling rate. Note also that the minimum total sample volume is corrected to standard conditions.

It is recommended that a half-integral or integral number of minutes be sampled at each point in order to avoid timekeeping errors.

In some circumstances, e.g. batch cycles, it may be necessary to sample for shorter times at the traverse points and to obtain smaller gas sample volumes. In these cases, the Administrator's approval must first be obtained.

7.13 Preparation of collection train. During preparation and assembly of the sampling train, keep all openings where contamination can occur covered until just prior to assembly or until sampling is about to begin.

Place 100 ml of water in each of the first two impingers, leave the third impinger empty, and place approximately 200–300 g or more, if necessary, of prewsighed silica gel in the fourth impinger. Record the weight of the silica gel and container on the data sheet. Place the empty container in a clean place for later use in the sample recovery.

Place a filter in the filter holder. Be sure that the filter is properly centered and the gasket properly placed so as to not allow the sample gas stream to circumvent the filter. Check filter for tears after assembly is completed.

When glass liners are used, install selected nozzle using a Viton A O-ring; the Viton A O-ring is installed as a seal where the nozzle is connected to a glass liner. See APTD–0576 for details. When metal liners are used, install the nozzle as above or by a leak free direct mechanical connection. Mark the probe with heat resistant tape or by some other method to denote the proper distance into the stack or duct for each sampling point.

Unless otherwise specified by the Administrator, attach a temperature probe to the metal sheath of the sampling probe so that the sensor extends beyond the probe tip and does not touch any metal. Its position should be about 1.9 to 2.54 cm (0.75 to 1 in.) from the pitot tube and probe nozzle to avoid interference with the gas flow.

Assemble the train as shown in Figure 13A–1 (Method 13A) with the filter between the third and fourth impingers. Alternatively, the filter may be placed between the probe and first impinger. A filter heating system may be used to prevent moisture condensation, but the temperature around the filter holder shall not exceed 1200±14°C (248±25°F). [(Note: Whatman No. 1 filter decomposes at 150°C (300°F)).] Record filter location on the data sheet.

Place crushed ice around the impingers.

7.1.4 Leak check procedure—After the sampling train has been assembled, turn on and set (if applicable) the probe and filter heating system(s) to reach a temperature sufficient to avoid condensation in the probe. Allow time for the temperature to stabilize. Leak check the train at the sampling site by plugging the nozzle and pulling a 380 mm Hg (15 in. Hg) vacuum. A leakage rate in excess of 4% of the average sampling rate of 0.0057 m³/min. (0.02 cfm), whichever is less, is unacceptable.

The following leak check instruction for the sampling train described in APTD–0576 and APTD–0581 may be helpful. Start the pump with by-pass valve fully open and coarse adjust valve completely closed. Partially open the coarse adjust valve and slowly close the by-pass valve until 380 mm Hg (15 in. Hg) vacuum is reached. Do Not reverse direction of by-pass valve. This will cause water to back up into the filter holder. If 380 mm Hg (15 in. Hg) is exceeded, either leak check at this higher vacuum or end the leak check as described below and start over.

When the leak check is completed, first slowly remove the plug from the inlet to the probe or filter holder and immediately turn off the vacuum pump. This prevents the water in the impingers from being forced backward into the filter holder (if placed before the impingers) and silica gel from being entrained backward into the third impinger.

Leak checks shall be conducted as described whenever the train is disengaged, e.g. for silica gel or filter changes during the test, prior to each test run, and at the completion of each test run. If leaks are found to be in excess of the acceptable rate, the test will be considered invalid. To reduce lost time due to leakage occurrences, it is recommended that leak checks be conducted between port changes.

7.1.5 Particulate train operation—During the sampling run, an isokinetic sampling rate within 10%, or as specified by the Administrator, of true isokinetic shall be maintained.

For each run, record the data required on the example data sheet shown in Figure 13A–3 (Method 13A). Be sure to record the initial dry gas meter reading. Record the dry gas meter readings at the beginning and end of each sampling time increment, when changes in flow rates are made, and when sampling is halted. Take other data point readings at least once at each sample point during each time increment and additional readings when significant changes (20% variation in velocity head readings) necessitate additional adjustments in flow rate. Be sure to level and zero the manometer.

Clean the portholes prior to the test run to minimize chance of sampling deposited material. To begin sampling, remove the nozzle cap, verify (if applicable) that the probe heater is working and filter heater is up to temperature, and that the pitot tube and probe are properly positioned. Position the nozzle at the first traverse point with the tip pointing directly into the gas stream. Immediately start the pump and adjust the flow to isokinetic conditions. Nomographs are available for sampling trains using type S pitot tubes with 0.85±0.02 (coefficients ($C_p$), and when sampling in air or a stack gas with equivalent density (molecular weight, $M_d$, equal to 29±4), which aid in the rapid adjustment of the isokinetic sampling rate without excessive computations. APTD–0576 details the procedure for using these nomographs. If $C_p$ and $M_d$ are outside the above stated ranges, do not use the nomograph unless appropriate steps are taken to compensate for the deviations.

When the stack is under significant negative pressure (height of impinger stem), take care to close the coarse adjust valve before inserting the probe into the stack to avoid water backing into the filter holder. If necessary, the pump may be turned on with the coarse adjust valve closed.

When the probe is in position, block off the openings around the probe and porthole to prevent unrepresentative dilution of the gas stream.

Traverse the stack cross section, as required by Method 1 or as specified by the Administrator, being careful not to bump the probe nozzle into the stack walls when sampling near the walls or when removing or inserting the probe through the portholes to minimize chance of extracting deposited material.

During the test run, make periodic adjustments to keep the probe and (if applicable) filter temperatures at their proper values. Add more ice and, if necessary, salt to the ice bath, to maintain a temperature of less than 20°C (68°F) at the impinger/silica gel outlet, to avoid excessive moisture losses. Also, periodically check the level and zero of the manometer.

If the pressure drop across the filter becomes high enough to make isokinetic sampling difficult to maintain, the filter may be replaced in the midst of a sample run. It is recommended that another complete filter assembly be used rather than attempting to change the filter itself. After the new filter or filter assembly is installed, conduct a leak check. The final emission results shall be based on the summation of all filter catches.

A single train shall be used for the entire sample run, except for filter and silica gel changes. However, if approved by the Administrator, two or more trains may be used for a single test run when there are two or more ducts or sampling ports. The final emission results shall be based on the total of all sampling train catches.

At the end of the sample run, turn off the pump, remove the probe and nozzle from the stack, and record the final dry gas meter reading. Perform a leak check.[1] Calculate percent isokinetic (see calculation section) to determine whether another test run should be made. If there is difficulty in maintaining isokinetic rates due to source conditions, consult with the Administrator for possible variance on the isokinetic rates.

[1] With acceptability of the test run to be based on the same criterion as in 7.1.4.

7.2 Sample recovery. Proper cleanup procedure begins as soon as the probe is removed from the stack at the end of the sampling period.

When the probe can be safely handled, wipe off all external particulate matter near the tip of the probe nozzle and place a cap over it to keep from losing part of the sample. Do not cap off the probe tip tightly while the sampling train is cooling down, as this would create a vacuum in the filter holder, thus drawing water from the impingers into the filter.

Before moving the sample train to the cleanup site, remove the probe from the sample train, wipe off the silicone grease, and cap the open outlet of the probe. Be careful not to lose any condensate, if present. Wipe off the silicone grease from the filter inlet where the probe was fastened and cap it. Remove the umbilical cord from the last impinger and cap the impinger. After wiping off the silicone grease, cap off the filter holder outlet and impinger inlet. Ground glass stoppers, plastic caps, or serum caps may be used to close these openings.

Transfer the probe and filter-impinger assembly to the cleanup area. This area should be clean and protected from the wind so that the chances of contaminating or losing the sample will be minimized.

Inspect the train prior to and during disassembly and note any abnormal conditions. Using a graduated cylinder, measure and record the volume of the water in the first three impingers, to the nearest ml; any condensate in the probe should be included in this determination. Treat the samples as follows:

No. 71776, Pauley, J. E., 8–5–75

7.2.1 Container No. 1. Transfer the impinger water from the graduated cylinder to this container. Add the filter to this container. Wash all sample exposed surfaces, including the probe tip, probe, first three impingers, impinger connectors, filter holder, and graduated cylinder thoroughly with distilled water. Wash each component three separate times with water and clean the probe and nozzle with brushes. A maximum wash of 500 ml is used, and the washings are added to the sample container which must be made of polyethylene.

7.2.2 Container No. 2. Transfer the silica gel from the fourth impinger to this container and seal.

7.3 Analysis. Treat the contents of each sample container as described below.

7.3.1 Container No. 1.

7.3.1.1 Filter this container's contents, including the Whatman No 1 filter, through Whatman No. 541 filter paper, or equivalent into a 1500 ml beaker. NOTE: If filtrate volume exceeds 900 ml make filtrate basic with NaOH to phenolphthalein and evaporate to less than 900 ml.

7.3.1.2 Place the Whatman No. 541 filter containing the insoluble matter (including the Whatman No. 1 filter) in a nickel crucible, add a few ml of water and macerate the filter with a glass rod.

Add 100 mg CaO to the crucible and mix the contents thoroughly to form a slurry. Add a couple of drops of phenolphthalein indicator. The indicator will turn red in a basic medium. The slurry should remain basic during the evaporation of the water or fluoride ion will be lost. If the indicator turns colorless during the evaporation, an acidic condition is indicated. If this happens add CaO until the color turns red again.

Place the crucible in a hood under infrared lamps or on a hot plate at low heat. Evaporate the water completely.

After evaporation of the water, place the crucible on a hot plate under a hood and slowly increase the temperature until the paper chars. It may take several hours for complete charring of the filter to occur.

Place the crucible in a cold muffle furnace and gradually (to prevent smoking) increase the temperature to 600°C, and maintain until the contents are reduced to an ash. Remove the crucible from the furnace and allow it to cool.

7.3.1.3 Add approximately 4 g of crushed NaOH to the crucible and mix. Return the crucible to the muffle furnace, and fuse the sample for 10 minutes at 600°C.

Remove the sample from the furnace and cool to ambient temperature. Using several rinsings of warm distilled water transfer the contents of the crucible to the beaker containing the filtrate from container No. 1 (7.3.1). To assure complete sample removal, rinse finally with two 20 ml portions of 25 percent (v/v) sulfuric acid and carefully add to the beaker. Mix well and transfer to a one-liter volumetric flask. Dilute to volume with distilled water and mix thoroughly. Allow any undissolved solids to settle.

7.3.2 Container No. 2. Weigh the spent silica gel and report to the nearest 0.5 g.

7.3.3 Adjustment of acid/water ratio in distillation flask—(Utilize a protective shield when carrying out this procedure). Place 400 ml of distilled water in the distilling flask and add 200 ml of concentrated $H_2SO_4$. Caution: Observe standard precautions when mixing the $H_2SO_4$ by slowly adding the acid to the flask with constant swirling. Add some soft glass beads and several small pieces of broken glass tubing and assemble the apparatus as shown in Figure 13A–2. Heat the flask until it reaches a temperature of 175°C to adjust the acid/water ratio for subsequent distillations. Discard the distillate.

7.3.4 Distillation—Cool the contents of the distillation flask to below 80°C. Pipette an aliquot of sample containing less than 0.6 mg F directly into the distilling flask and add distilled water to make a total volume of 220 ml added to the distilling flask. [For an estimate of what size aliquot does not exceed 0.6 mg F, select an aliquot of the solution and treat as described in Section 7.3.6. This will give an approximation of the fluoride content, but only an approximation since interfering ions have not been removed by the distillation step.]

Place a 250 ml volumetric flask at the condenser exist. Now begin distillation and gradually increase the heat and collect all the distillate up to 175°C. Caution: Heating the solution above 175°C will cause sulfuric acid to distill over.

The acid in the distilling flask can be used until there is carryover of interferences or poor fluoride recovery. An occasional check of fluoride recovery with standard solutions is advised. The acid should be changed whenever there is less than 90 percent recovery or blank values are higher than 0.1 ug/ml.

7.3.5 Determination of concentration—Bring the distillate in the 250 ml volumetric flask to the mark with distilled water and mix thoroughly. Pipette a 25 ml aliquot from the distillate. Add an equal volume of TISAB and mix. The sample should be at the same temperature as the calibration standards when measurements are made. If ambient lab temperature fluctuates more than ±2°C from the temperature at which the calibration standards were measured, condition samples and standards in a constant temperature bath measurement. Stir the sample with a magnetic stirrer during measurement to minimize electrode response time. If the stirrer generates enough heat to change solution temperature, place a piece of insulating material such as cork between the stirrer and the beaker. Dilute samples (below $10^{-4}$ M fluoride ion content) should be held in polyethylene or polypropylene beakers during measurement.

Insert the fluoride and reference electrodes into the solution. When a steady millivolt reading is obtained, record it. This may take several minutes. Determine concentration from the calibration curve. Between electrode measurements, soak the fluoride sensing electrode in distilled water for 30 seconds and then remove and blot dry.

8. Calibration.

Maintain a laboratory log of all calibrations.

8.1 Sampling Train.

8.1.1 Probe nozzle—Using a micrometer, measure the inside diameter of the nozzle to the nearest 0.025 mm (0.001 in.). Make 3 separate measurements using different diameters each time and obtain the average of the measurements. The difference between the high and low numbers shall not exceed 0.1 mm (0.004 in.).

When nozzles become nicked, dented, or corroded, they shall be reshaped, sharpened, and recalibrated before use.

Each nozzle shall be permanently and uniquely identified.

8.1.2 Pitot tube—The pitot tube shall be calibrated according to the procedure outlined in Method 2.

8.1.3 Dry gas meter and orifice meter. Both meters shall be calibrated according to the procedure outlined in APTD–0576. When diaphragm pumps with by-pass valves are used, check for proper metering system design by calibrating the dry gas meter at an additional flow rate of 0.0057 m³/min. (0.2 cfm) with the by-pass valve fully opened and then with it fully closed. If there is more than ±2 percent difference in flow rates when compared to the fully closed position of the by-pass valve, the system is not designed properly and must be corrected.

8.1.4 Probe heater calibration—The probe heating system shall be calibrated according to the procedure contained in APTD–0576. Probes constructed according to APTD–0581 need not be calibrated if the calibration curves in APTD–0576 are used.

8.1.5 Temperature gauges—Calibrate dial and liquid filled bulb thermometers against mercury-in-glass thermometers. Thermocouples need not be calibrated. For other devices, check with the Administrator.

8.2 Analytical Apparatus.

8.2.1 Fluoride Electrode—Prepare fluoride standardizing solutions by serial dilution of the 0.1 M fluoride standard solution. Pipet 10 ml of 0.1 M NaF into a 100 ml volumetric flask and make up to the mark with distilled water for a $10^{-2}$ M standard solution. Use 10 ml of $10^{-2}$ M solution to make a $10^{-3}$ M solution in the same manner. Reapt $10^{-4}$ and $10^{-5}$ M solutions.

Pipet 50 ml of each standard into a separate beaker. Add 50 ml of TISAB to each beaker. Place the electrode in the most dilute standard solution. When a steady millivolt reading is obtained, plot the value on the linear axis of semi-log graph paper versus concentration on the log axis. Plot the nominal value for concentration of the standard on the log axis, e.g., when 50 ml of $10^{-2}$ M standard is diluted with 50 ml TISAB, the concentration is still designated "$10^{-2}$ M".

Between measurements soak the fluoride sensing electrode in distilled water for 30 seconds, and then remove and blot dry. Analyze the standards going from dilute to concentrated standards. A straight-line calibration curve will be obtained, with nominal concentrations of $10^{0}$, $10^{-1}$, $10^{-2}$, $10^{-3}$, $10^{-4}$ concentrations of $10^{-5}$, $10^{-4}$, $10^{-3}$, $10^{-2}$, $10^{-1}$ concentrations of $10^{-5}$, $10^{-4}$, $10^{-3}$, $10^{-2}$, $10^{-1}$ fluoride molarity on the log axis plotted versus electrode potential (in millivolts) on the linear scale.

Calibrate the fluoride electrode daily, and check it hourly. Prepare fresh fluoride standardizing solutions daily of $10^{-3}$ M or less. Store fluoride standardizing solutions in polyethylene or polypropylene containers. (Note: Certain specific ion meters have been designed specifically for fluoride electrode use and give a direct readout of fluoride ion concentration. These meters may be used in lieu of calibration curves for fluoride measurements over narrow concentration ranges. Calibrate the meter according to manufacturer's instructions.)

9. Calculations.

Carry out calculations, retaining at least one extra decimal figure beyond that of the acquired data. Round off figures after final calculation.

9.1 Nomenclature.

$A_n$ = Cross sectional area of nozzle, m² (ft²).

$A_t$ = Aliquot of total sample added to still, ml.

$B_{ws}$ = Water vapor in the gas stream, proportion by volume.

$C_s$ = Concentration of fluoride in stack gas, mg/m³, corrected to standard conditions of 20° C, 760 mm Hg (68° F, 29.92 in. Hg) on dry basis.

$F_t$ = Total weight of fluoride in sample, mg.

$I$ = Percent of isokinetic sampling.

$M$ = Concentration of fluoride from calibration curve, molarity.

$m_a$ = Total amount of particulate matter collected, mg.

$M_w$ = Molecular weight of water, 18 g/g-mole (18 lb/lb-mole).

$m_a$ = Mass of residue of acetone after evaporation, mg.

$P_s$ = Absolute stack gas pressure, mm Hg (in. Hg).

$P_{std}$ = Standard absolute pressure, 760 mm Hg (29.92 in. Hg).

$R$ = Ideal gas constant, 0.06236 mm Hg-m³/°K-g-mole (21.83 in. Hg-ft³/°R-lb-mole).

$T_m$ = Absolute average dry gas meter temperature (see fig. 13A–3), °K (°R).

$T_s$ = Absolute average stack gas temperature (see fig. 13A–3), °K (°R).

$T_{std}$ = Standard absolute temperature, 293° K (528° R).

$V_a$ = Volume of acetone blank, ml.

$V_{aw}$ = Volume of acetone used in wash, ml.

$V_d$ = Volume of distillate collected, ml.

$V_{lc}$ = Total volume of liquid collected in impingers and silica gel, ml. Volume of water in silica gel equals silica gel weight increase in grams times 1 ml/gram. Volume of liquid collected in impinger equals final volume minus initial volume.

$V_m$ = Volume of gas sample as measured by dry gas meter, dcm (dcf).

$V_{m(std)}$ = Volume of gas sample measured by the dry gas meter corrected to standard conditions, dscm (dscf).

$V_{w(std)}$ = Volume of water vapor in the gas sample corrected to standard conditions, scm (scf).

$V_t$ = Total volume of sample, ml.

$v_s$ = Stack gas velocity, calculated by Method 2, Equation 2–7 using data obtained from Method 5, m/sec (ft/sec).

$W_a$ = Weight of residue in acetone wash, mg.

$\Delta H$ = Average pressure differential across the orifice (see fig. 13A–3), meter, mm $H_2O$ (in. $H_2O$).

$\rho_a$ = Density of acetone, mg/ml (see label on bottle).

$\rho_w$ = Density of water, 1 g/ml (0.00220 lb/ml).

$\theta$ = Total sampling time, min.

13.6 = Specific gravity of mercury.

60 = Sec/min.

100 = Conversion to percent.

9.2 Average dry gas meter temperature and average orifice pressure drop. See data sheet (Figure 13A–3 of Method 13A).

9.3 Dry gas volume. Use Section 9.3 of Method 13A.

9.4 Volume of Water Vapor. Use Section 9.4 of Method 13A.

9.5 Moisture Content. Use Section 9.5 of Method 13A.

9.6 Concentration

9.6.1 Calculate the amount of fluoride in the sample according to equation 13B–1.

$$F_t = K \frac{V_t}{A_t} (V_d) \quad (M)$$

where:

$K$ = 10 mg/ml.

9.6.2 Concentration of fluoride in stack gas. Use Section 9.6.2 of Method 13A.

9.7 Isokinetic variation. Use Section 9.7 of Method 13A.

9.8 Acceptable results. Use Section 9.8 of Method 13A.

FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION

[ 11 CFR Part 106 ]

[Notice 1975–21]

DOCUMENT FILING

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

The Federal Election Commission today publishes a proposed regulation concerning the place where Statements of Organization and Reports of Receipts and Expenditures should be filed by Federal candidates and political committees. The proposed regulation provides that all statements of Organization and Reports of Receipts and Expenditures required to be filed by Federal candidates, multicandidate committees, and principal campaign committees should be filed with the Commission. Copies of all such statements and reports will be promptly forwarded to the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House with originals pertaining to House and Senate candidates and their principal campaign committees to follow shortly thereafter.

The following interim guidelines will be affected by the proposed regulation: Notice 1975–1, June 2, 1975, 40 FR 23832; Notice 1975–3, June 16, 1975, 40 FR 25440; and Notice 1975–6, June 26, 1975, 40 FR 26991. These guidelines remain in effect until the proposed regulation becomes effective. After the effective date of the regulation the interim guidelines remain effective as modified by the regulation.

Authority. This regulation is proposed under authority of 2 U.S.C. 437d and will implement 2 U.S.C. 432, 433, 434, and 438.

Comment Period. Interested persons are invited to submit written comments on this proposed regulation to the Federal Election Commission, Office of General Counsel, Rulemaking Section, 1325 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20463 on or before September 5, 1975.

Effective Date. This regulation shall become effective on a date specified in a future notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, which effective date shall be not less than 30 calendar days after the date of this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.

It is proposed that 11 CFR Part 106 be promulgated as follows:

PART 106—DOCUMENT FILING

Sec.

106.1 Place of Filing.
106.2 Copies Transmitted to Clerk of House of Representatives and Secretary of Senate.
106.3 Originals Transmitted to Clerk of House of Representatives and Secretary of Senate.
106.4 Definitions.

§ 106.1 Place of Filing.

All statements and reports, including any modifications or amendments thereto, required to be filed under 2 U.S.C. 433 and 2 U.S.C. 434, shall be filed in original form with the Federal Election Commission.

§ 106.2 Copies Transmitted to Clerk of House of Representatives and Secretary of Senate.

Upon receiving a statement or report filed by (a) a candidate for nomination or election to Federal office, and by (b) any political committee supporting one or more such candidates, the Commission shall as soon as practicable, usually within one working day and in any event not later than the second working day after receiving the filed statement or report, furnish a microfilm (or suitable equivalent) copy thereof, together with an index, to the Clerk of the House of Representatives and to the Secretary of the Senate.

§ 106.3 Originals Transmitted to Clerk of House of Representatives and Secretary of Senate.

(a) As soon as practicable after receiving a filed statement or report, usually within 5 working days but in any event no later than 10 days after receiving it, the Commission shall transmit the original statement and report filed by (1) a candidate for the office of Representative in, or Delegate or Resident Commissioner to, the Congress of the United States, and by (2) any political committee supporting such candidate, to the Clerk of the House of Representatives as custodian for the Commission.

(b) As soon as practicable after receiving a filed statement or report, usually within 5 working days but in any event no later than 10 days after receiving it, the Commission shall transmit the original statement and report filed by (1) a candidate for the office of Senator, and by (2) any political committee supporting such candidate, to the Secretary of the Senate as custodian for the Commission.

(c) For purposes of this section the phrase "any political committee supporting such candidate" means:

(1) The principal campaign committee designated by a Congressional candidate, and

(2) Any political committee required to file a statement or report with the principal campaign committee of a Congressional candidate.

§ 106.4 Definitions.

The definitions in 2 U.S.C. 431 are applicable to §§ 106.1 through 106.3 unless otherwise expressly modified or required by context.

ALASKA NATIVE CLAIMS APPEAL BOARD REGULATIONS; ALASKA NATIVE SELECTIONS

V40152
AUG 6 75
XUM

Title 43—Public Lands: Interior

SUBTITLE A—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

PART 4—DEPARTMENT HEARINGS AND APPEALS PROCEDURES

Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board Regulations

On pages 13308–13311 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 26, 1975, there was published a notice and text of proposed procedural rules amending Department Hearings and Appeals Procedures to include the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board within the Office of Hearings and Appeals, and to provide procedural rules for appeals to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. The procedural rules for appeals to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board were proposed as a new Subpart 2655 of Part 2650, Title 43 CFR. Since the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board is to be part of the Office of Hearings and Appeals, and since regulations governing all Department hearings and appeals are contained in Part 4, these regulations are now being published in final as a new Subpart J to Part 4, Title 43 CFR.

Interested persons were invited to participate in the proposed rulemaking by the submission of comments, suggestions or objections. Each comment was carefully considered and the regulations were re-examined in light of the comments. As a result several minor changes have been made and a number of changes, as explained below, have been adopted in the final regulations.

The proposed rulemaking included procedures for the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board as Subpart 2655. In the final rulemaking, these regulations have been included as Subpart J to Part 4, 43 CFR in order to be consistent with the departmental policy to have all hearings and appeals procedures included in Part 4 of 43 CFR.

Section 2655.1(c) has been changed to provide for referral of issues from any Board of the Department, other than the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, where the issue falls within the jurisdiction of the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. It also provides, as it did previously, for referral of issues by the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board to other Boards. This section is important to avoid possible jurisdictional problems between the Interior Board of Land Appeals and the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. Issues arising under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act are generally to be decided by the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, whereas issues arising under other public land laws fall within the jurisdiction of and are to be decided by the Interior Board of Land Appeals. Since frequently a single determination by the Bureau of Land Management may involve issues under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act and under other public land laws, some machinery for handling these appeals and guidance is considered appropriate. Where the decision by the Bureau of Land Management involves the effect of the public land laws, including the general mining law and mineral leasing acts, upon the validity of an interest, or pending application therefor, asserted under such laws, any appeal therefrom would generally be directed to the Interior Board of Land Appeals. Where the decision by the Bureau of Land Management involves the effect of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act upon an interest, or pending application therefor, derived under the public land laws, including the general mining law and mineral leasing acts, any appeal therefrom would generally be directed to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board.

Section 2655.2 has been changed to include any party who "claims" a property interest, since the proposed language, "any party with a property interest" assumes the interest that may be in issue in the litigation.

Paragraph (3) of § 2655.3(a) of the proposed rulemaking (§ 4.903(a)) has been deleted. The certificate of service for the notice of appeal under § 4.908(b) is required to be filed with the notice of appeal. This change has been made in response to comments and was possible as a result of another change, also made in response to comments, contained in § 4.908(f) that service by mail, first class or registered, shall be considered complete on the date of posting.

A new paragraph has been added, § 4.907(c), to provide that for this subpart the "time of filing" shall be the date of postmark, or if there is no postmark, the date of receipt.

Section 4.908 (§ 2655.8 in the proposed rulemaking) paragraph (e) has been changed to refer to the entrance of an appearance by an attorney on behalf of a party, rather than the less specific provision ("when a party is represented by an attorney") that was included in the proposed rulemaking.

Paragraph (f) of the same section has been changed to provide that service by mail shall be deemed to have been made on the date of posting, regardless of what type of mail service is used.

Section 4.911(c) (2655.11(c) in the proposed rulemaking) has been changed to specify that hearings may be held at the request of a party or by order of the Board where there is an issue of fact on which evidence is to be presented. Hearings required to be conducted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act will be conducted by Administrative Law Judges.

Strenuous objections were raised in the comments with respect to § 2655.12 of the proposed rulemaking. Accordingly the provisions for formal settlement conferences have been deleted from the regulations. Section 4.911(b) provides for conferences, at which settlements may be reached. It is not considered necessary for the Board to be in a position, or have power that would enable it, to compel the parties to settle the litigation.

A new § 4.913 has been added to preclude a unit of the Interior Department from entering into a settlement without the approval of the Secretary and to provide that parties to appeals in which the Department of Interior is not a party cannot bind future actions of the Department of the Interior by entering into settlement agreements unless such agreements have been approved by the Secretary or his authorized delegate. This latter provision would apply to a settlement which may involve or require future action by the Interior Department.

Effective date. Since the revisions to Part 4 contain procedural rules effecting appeals under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971, it is determined that the 30 day period required by 5 U.S.C. 553(d) before these rules become effective is unnecessary, and these revisions to Part 4 shall become effective on August 6, 1975.

In consideration of the foregoing, Subtitle A of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 4, is amended as set forth below.

1. In 43 CFR Part 4, Subpart A is amended by redesignating paragraph (5) of § 4.1 as paragraph (6), and by adding a new § 4.1, paragraph (5), to read as follows:

§ 4.1 Scope of authority; applicable regulations.

* * * * *

(5) Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. The Board considers and decides finally for the Department appeals to the head of the Department from findings of fact or decisions rendered by Departmental officials in matters relating to land selection arising under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (85 Stat. 688), and orders and conducts hearings as necessary; except, the Board shall not consider appeals relating to enrollment of Alaska Natives; and with respect to appeals from Departmental decisions on village eligibility under Section 11(b) of the Act, decisions of the Board shall be submitted to the Secretary for his personal approval before becoming final. Special regulations applicable to proceedings before the Board are continued in Subpart J of this part.

Subpart J—Special Rules Applicable to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act Hearings and Appeals

§ 4.900 References.

General appeals procedures are contained in Subparts A and B of this part.

§ 4.901 Appeals; general.

(a) Unless otherwise provided, appeals to the Secretary under the Act relating to land selection shall be to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. The Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board shall be personally appointed by the Secretary. At least one member of the Board shall be familiar with Native village life. Among those otherwise qualified to serve on the Board, preference will be given to those familiar with Native village life. The Board is authorized to decide finally for the Secretary appeals under the Act, except, the Board shall not consider appeals relating to enrollment of Alaska Natives, and appeals from decisions on village eligibility shall be personally approved by the Secretary.

(b) All hearings held in connection with appeals to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board shall be conducted within the State of Alaska. The Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board has its headquarters within the State of Alaska. The mailing address of the Board is: U.S. Department of the Interior, Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, P.O. Box 2433, Anchorage, Alaska 99510.

(c) Where the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board determines that one or more issues raised on an appeal fall within the jurisdiction of another Appeals Board of the Department, it shall certify the record or a part thereof to the Board having jurisdiction, or to the Secretary, for determination. When an appeal is taken to another Appeals Board of the Department and such other Board determines that one or more issues raised on appeal fall within the jurisdiction of the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, such other Board shall certify the record or a part thereof to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, or to the Secretary, for determination. When one Appeals Board certifies a record to another Board of the Department, or to the Secretary, the appeal to such other Board or the Secretary shall be deemed timely filed if the appeal was properly filed in accordance with the law and regulations applicable to appeals to the Board in which the appeal was originally filed. Where issues on appeal have been severed and referred to a second Board of the Department, each Board may proceed with its appeal and issue separate decisions, or upon completion of consideration of the questions referred from the Board in which the appeal was first filed, the record and determination of such other Board or the Secretary may be certified to the Board in which the appeal was first filed.

§ 4.902 Who may appeal.

Any party who claims a property interest in land affected by a determination from which an appeal to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board is allowed, or an agency of the Federal Government, may appeal as provided in this subpart. However, a regional corporation shall have the right of appeal in any case involving land selections.

§ 4.903 Appeals; how taken.

(a) Notice of appeal. Appellant shall file a written notice of appeal, signed by him or his authorized representative, with the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board within 30 days after the date of receipt of the decision by appellant, or if publication of the decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER is made, within 30 days after publication of the decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER, whichever shall occur first; provided that, with respect to any decision on an application for conveyance of a primary place of residence which was received by the applicant or published in the FEDERAL REGISTER prior to August 6, 1975, appellant shall have 45 days from the effective date of this subpart in which to file a notice of appeal.

(1) Contents of notice of appeal. The notice of appeal shall indicate that an appeal is thereby intended, and identify the decision being appealed; the notice of appeal should indicate the decision being appealed by the serial number and date of the decision.

(2) Service of notice of appeal. Copies of the notice of appeal and any accompanying documents shall be served upon the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, the Departmental officer whose action or decision is being appealed, all persons named as parties in the decision being appealed, and such other persons as the board may order.

(b) Statement of reasons and interest affected. (1) If the notice of appeal did not include a statement of the reasons for the appeal, such a statement shall be filed with the Board within 30 days after the notice of appeal was filed. In any case, the appellant will be permitted to file with the Board additional statements of reasons and written arguments or briefs within the 30-day period after filing the notice of appeal.

(2) Within 30 days after filing of the notice of appeal, the appellant shall file with the Board, a statement of facts upon which the appellant relies for standing under § 4.902. The statement of the appellant's standing may be filed as a separate document, or may be included with the statement of reasons, written arguments or briefs filed pursuant to paragraph (b)(1) of this section.

§ 4.904 Answers.

If any party served with a notice of appeal wishes to participate in the proceedings on appeal, he must file an answer within 30 days after service on him of the notice of appeal or statement of reasons where such statement was not included in the notice of appeal. If additional reasons, written arguments or briefs are filed by the appellant, the adverse party shall have 30 days after service thereof within which to answer. The answer must state the reasons the adverse party opposes the appeal.

§ 4.905 Summary dismissal.

An appeal may, in the discretion of the Board, be dismissed for failure to file or serve, upon all persons required to be served, a notice of appeal, statement of reasons or of standing as required by § 4.903.

§ 4.906 Transmittal of administrative record.

Within 10 days after service of a copy of the notice of appeal, the officer whose decision is appealed shall transmit a certified copy of the administrative record to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. Such record will be available for inspection and copying in the Board's office.

§ 4.907 Pleadings.

(a) In addition to pleadings filed pursuant to §§ 4.903 and 4.904, additional briefs may be filed with the consent of the Board, subject to such conditions as the Board may impose. The Board may, upon request and for good cause shown, grant extensions of time for filing briefs.

(b) Briefs shall state clearly and concisely the issues in dispute.

(c) The filing of any pleading, document or other paper shall be deemed to have been made on the date of postmark, except when there is no postmark, in which case it shall be the date of receipt in the proper office.

§ 4.908 Service.

(a) Copies of all briefs, statements of reason for appeal and interest affected, and other documents filed with the Board shall be served upon all parties to the proceeding, and such other persons as the Board may order.

(b) The notice of appeal, all pleadings, briefs and other documents filed with the Board shall contain a certificate stating the names and addresses of all persons served with copies.

(c) Whenever the regulations in this subpart require that a document be served upon a person, service may be made by personal delivery or by mailing the document first-class or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to his address of record.

(d) Service may be proved by an acknowledgment of the person served, or by a certificate of service, stating the time and manner of service, signed by the person making service. No default will be entered without proof of actual service, or satisfactory proof of inability to serve.

(e) When an attorney has entered an appearance for a party in a case involving an appeal before the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, such attorney will be recognized as responsible for the case on behalf of his client and service of all briefs and other documents filed with the Board shall be made upon the attorney. The requirement of service of any document relating to the proceeding on such party may be fully satisfied by making service upon such attorney, unless otherwise specifically required by law, rule, order, or regulation of the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board. When more than one attorney has entered an appearance for a party, service upon one of the attorneys shall be sufficient.

(f) Whenever a time period commences after service is made, for purposes of computing the time period, service shall be deemed to have been made on the date personal service was made, or, if service was made by mail, on the date of posting.

§ 4.909 Amicus curiae; intervenors; joinder.

(a) A brief of an amicus curiae may be filed with the Board. Copies of amicus curiae briefs shall be served upon all parties to the proceeding and a certificate of service must be filed in accordance with § 4.908. Any person filing an amicus brief shall not be considered a party to the proceeding for purposes of this subpart.

(b) Any person may petition the Board to intervene in an appeal. Upon a proper showing of interest under § 4.902, such person may be recognized as an intervenor in the appeal.

(c) The Board may require the joinder of any person whose participation is deemed essential to the final determination of an appeal.

(d) Any motion seeking intervention or joinder shall be served on all parties to the proceeding, and a certification of service must be filed in accordance with § 4.908.

§ 4.910 Appearances; practice.

(a) Representation; generally. Appearance and representation before the Board shall be governed generally by the applicable provisions in Part 1 of Subtitle A of this title, which regulates practice before the Department of the Interior.

(b) Practice and procedure. When not in conflict with this subpart, the provisions in Subparts A and B of this part shall be applicable.

§ 4.911 Proceedings.

(a) Consolidation and separation. Under appropriate circumstances, the Board may consolidate several appeals, or separate a single appeal into component parts, each of which may be processed as a separate appeal.

(b) Conferences. When orderly and equitable processing of the appeal will be furthered, the Board may hold conferences with the parties.

(c) Hearings. A party may request a hearing to present evidence on an issue of fact. Such request shall be made in writing and filed with the Board. Copies of the request shall be served in accordance with § 4.908. The allowance of a request for hearing is within the discretion of the Board, and the Board may, on its own motion, order a hearing on one or more issues of fact. Any hearing may be conducted by the Board or a member of members thereof, or where required, the hearing will be conducted by an Administrative Law Judge, pursuant to an order by the Board. Any order by the Board shall specify the issues upon which the hearing is to be held.

(d) Copy requirements. Unless otherwise provided in this subpart or by order of the Board, an original and one copy of all documents should be filed with the Board. All documents must be legible.

(e) Official file. The Board shall maintain one official file constituting the entire record of each appeal before the Board. No document shall be removed from the official file. The official file shall be available in the Board's office for inspection and copying.

§ 4.912 Witnesses.

(a) It is the responsibility of the parties to produce those persons whose testimony will support their respective positions at the times and places established for evidentiary hearings, and to keep such witnesses available so long as may be necessary for the reception of their testimony. All employees of the Department of Interior requested by the Board or any Administrative Law Judge to testify before or furnish relevant information to the Board or the Administrative Law Judge shall comply with such request.

(b) If a witness fails to appear in spite of every reasonable effort to assure his appearance, the Board may allow secondary evidence to be submitted in lieu of the testimony of such witness; the weight to be attributed to such secondary evidence shall be within the discretion of the Board.

§ 4.913 Settlement approval.

(a) Where an Office, Bureau, Service or other unit of the Department of the Interior is a party to an appeal before the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, no settlement agreement that will resolve one or more matters in issue without any action or decision by the Board shall be entered into by such organization unless such agreement is approved by the Secretary or his delegate.

(b) Where an appeal is before the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, and no unit of the Department of the Interior is a party to the appeal, no agreement between parties which may require future action or forbearance from action by the Department of the Interior shall bind the Department unless such agreement is approved by the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, or the Secretary or his delegate.

(Sec. 25 of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of December 18, 1971 (43 U.S.C. 1601–1624) (Supp. II, 1972); Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. et seq.)

CHAPTER II—BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT

PART 2650—ALASKA NATIVE SELECTIONS

Miscellaneous Amendments

On pages 13308–13309 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 26, 1975, there was published a notice and text of proposed amendments to Subparts 2650, 2651.

Interested persons were invited to participate in the proposed rulemaking by the submission of comments, suggestions or objections. Each comment was carefully considered and the regulations were re-examined in light of the comments. As a result several changes have been made as explained below.

Numerous comments were received with respect to the proposed § 2650.3–1(d) in which it was pointed out that, as proposed, the language created a presumption in favor of the validity of claimed settlements and entries which would interfere with the Native selection process. It was not the intention of the drafters to create such a presumption but only to clarify that jurisdiction to determine the validity of third party claims would be where it ordinarily is, in the BLM, with right of appeal to the Interior Board of Land Appeals. Upon reconsideration, the existing regulation—§ 2650.3–1—leave no ambiguity. Jurisdiction to determine the validity of such third party claims would generally be in the BLM, with appeal to the Interior Board of Land Appeals. Accordingly, the proposed § 2650.3–1(d) has been deleted.

Effective date. Since the revision contains procedural rules effecting appeals under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971, it is determined that the 30 day period required by 5 U.S.C. 553(d) before these rules become effective is unnecessary, and this revision of Part 2650 shall become effective on August 6, 1975.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 2650 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below.

1. Section 2650.0–7(d) is revised to read:

§ 2650.0–7 References.

• • • • • •

(d) Appeals procedures are contained in 43 CFR Part 4, Subpart J.

• • • • • •

2. Section 2650.3–2(a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 2650.3–2 Mining claims.

(a) Possessory rights. Pursuant to section 22(c) of the act, on any lands to be conveyed to village or regional corporations, any person who prior to August 31, 1971, initiated a valid mining claim or location, including millsites, under the general mining laws and recorded notice thereof with the appropriate State or local office, shall not be challenged by the United States as to his possessory rights, if all requirements of the general mining laws are met. However, the validity of any unpatented mining claim may be contested by the United States, the grantee of the United States or its successor in interest, or by any person who may initiate a private contest. Contest proceedings and appeals therefrom shall be to the Interior Board of Land Appeals.

• • • • • •

3. Section 2650.8 is revised to read as follows:

§ 2650.8 Appeals.

Any decision relating to a land selection shall become final unless appealed to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board by a person entitled to appeal, under, and in accordance with, Subpart J of Part 4, 43 CFR.

4. Section 2651.2(a)(4), is amended by the revision of the last sentence thereof to read:

§ 2651.2 Eligibility requirements.

(a) • • •

(4) • • • Such decision shall become final unless appealed to the Secretary by a notice filed with the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board within 30 days of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

• • • • • •

5. Section 2651.2(a)(5), is revised to read:

§ 2651.2 Eligibility requirements.

(a) • • •

(5) Action on appeals. Appeals shall be made to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board in accordance with Subpart J of Part 4 of this title. Decisions of the Board on village eligibility appeals are not final until personally approved by the Secretary.

• • • • • •

(Sec. 25 of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of December 18, 1971 (43 U.S.C. § 1601–1624) (Supp. II, 1972); Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. et seq)

Dated: July 29, 1975.

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Proposed Regulations for Implementation

The following Proposed Regulations, drafted in accordance with Section F of the Privacy Act of 1974, are hereby offered for public comment. Interested parties have until September 5, 1975, to submit comments, which should be addressed to The Executive Director, Commission on the Review of the National Policy Toward Gambling, 2000 M Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Signed the 22d day of July, 1975, by

JAMES E. RITCHIE,
Executive Director.

§ 410.1 Purpose and scope.

The purposes of these regulations are to:

(a) Establish a procedure by which an individual can determine if the Commission on the Review of the National Policy Toward Gambling (hereafter known as the Commission) maintains a system of records which includes a record pertaining to the individual; and

(b) Establish a procedure by which an individual can gain access to a record pertaining to him for the purpose of review, amendment and/or correction.

§ 410.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of these regulations—

(a) The term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(b) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate;

(c) The term "record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission, including, but not limited to, his education,, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, ohtr dieeinfnytig shrdl tains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph;

(d) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Commission from which information is retrieved by the named of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual; and

(e) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 410.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

An individual must submit a request to the Executive Director of the Commission to determine if a system of records named by the individual contains a record pertaining to the individual. The individual must submit a request to the Executive Director of the Commission which states the individual's desire to review his record.

§ 410.4 Times, places and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.

An individual making a request to the Executive Director pursuant to § 410.3 shall present the request at the Comnuission's offices, 2000 M Street, NW., Room 3302, Washington, D.C. 20036, on any business day between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. The individual submitting the request is required to present himself at the Commission's offices with a form of identification which will permit the Commission to verify that the individual is the same individual as contained in the record requested.

§ 410.5 Disclosure of requested information to the individual.

Upon verification of identity the Commission shall disclose to the individual the information contained in the record which pertains to that individual.

§ 410.6 Request for correction or amendment to the record.

The individual must submit a request to the Executive Director of the Commission which states the individual's desire to correct or to amend his record. This request is to be made in accord with the provisions of § 410.4.

§ 410.7 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.

Within ten (10) days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) of the receipt of the request to correct or to amend the record, the Executive Director must acknowledge, in writing, such receipt and promptly, either—

(a) Make any correction or amendment of any portion thereof which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete; or

(b) Inform the individual of his refusal to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the reason for the refusal, and the procedures established by the Commission for the individual to request a review of that refusal.

§ 410.8 Appeal of an Initial Adverse Agency Determination on Correction or Amendment of the Record.

An individual who disagrees with the refusal of the Executive Director of the Commission to correct or to amend his record may submit a request for a review of such refusal to the Chairman of the Commission, Mr. Charles H. Morin, Dickstein, Shapiro & Morin, 1735 New York Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20006. The Chairman shall, not later than thirty (30) days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) from the date on which the individual requests such review, complete such review and make a final determination unless, for good cause shown, the Chairman extends such thirty (30) day period. If, after his review, the Chairman also refuses to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the individual may file with the Commission a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his disagreement with the refusal of the Commission and may seek judicial review of the Chairman's determination under 5 U.S.C. section 552a(g)(1)(A).

§ 410.9 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

The Commission shall not disclose a record to any individual other than to the individual to whom the record pertains without receiving the written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains.

§ 410.10 Fees.

If an individual requests copies of his record he shall be charged ten cents per page, excluding the cost of any search for and review of the record.

POSTAL RATE COMMISSION

[Docket No. RM-76-2]

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Notice of Proposed Routine Uses for Systems of Records

JULY 25, 1975.

Notice is hereby given that the Postal Rate Commission plans to adopt the following as routine uses of its systems of records, as defined in the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579).

The Commission will entertain comments on the proposed routine uses if received on or before August 21, 1975. Comments should be filed with the Commission's Secretary, at the Postal Rate Commission, 2000 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20268.

Authority for the foregoing is contained in 39 U.S.C. section 3603 and 5 U.S.C. section 552a.

By the Commission.

JAMES R. LINDSAY,
Secretary.

PRC—1

System name: Official Personnel Files—PRC

System location: 2000 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C. 20268

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Personnel of the Postal Rate Commission

Categories of records in the system: Personnel information, including information supplied on applications, references, records of employment, health records, payroll records, financial reporting records, and information required for affirmative action plans for employment of minorities and handicapped.

NOTICE TO FEDERAL REGISTER READERS

As part of its continuing program to improve the quality of the daily FEDERAL REGISTER and CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS, the Office of the Federal Register is soliciting the views of interested persons on the effectiveness of individual Federal Register documents and on regulations contained in the CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS.

Our goal is twofold:

First—to make each document published in the FEDERAL REGISTER easily understandable, thus making compliance easier, more efficient, and less costly; and Second—to identify and correct any existing Federal regulations which are obsolete, unnecessarily wordy, or unclearly stated.

We believe this effort is consistent with the objectives stated by President Ford in his October 8th speech on the economy in which he announced "a joint effort by the Congress, the executive branch and the private sector to identify and eliminate existing Federal rules and regulations that increase costs to the consumer without any good reason in today's economic climate."

The Office of the Federal Register welcomes your comments and suggestions. The survey blank below is provided for that purpose. All comments received will be maintained in a public docket and will be available for inspection in the Office of the Federal Register to any interested persons or agencies. Comments which point out the need for substantive changes in existing regulations also will be forwarded to the responsible agency.

rules and regulations

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510.

The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each month.

Title 7—Agriculture

CHAPTER II—FOOD AND NUTRITION SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Amdt. 56]

PART 271—PARTICIPATION OF STATE AGENCIES AND ELIGIBLE HOUSEHOLDS

Submission of State Plans to Governors

On March 6, 1975, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 F.R. 10481), a notice of proposed rulemaking to amend Part 271 of the Food Stamp Program Regulations, 7 CFR 271. The proposed amendment would implement Part III of OMB Circular A–95 by providing for the submission of State Plans and amendments to the State Governor for review and comment on their relationship to other State Plans and programs.

We received letters in favor of the regulation from six State agencies and three interested groups. Only one letter expressed disfavor and this was directed to the requirements of Circular A–95 and not to the regulation.

Two State agencies thought the 45-day review period was mandated and would limit flexibility and possibly delay submission of plans and amendments. Although the 45-day period is specifically mentioned in A–95, it is not intended to be a mandatory period. State agencies are encouraged to arrange with the Governor or his delegated agency for a shorter time period to expedite the amendment process.

Two other State agencies suggested an increase in the time for submission of plans and amendments to FNS by State agencies to accommodate the Governor's review. The need for additional time to submit plans and amendments because of the Governor's review will be taken into consideration by FNS when it establishes dates for submission by State agencies of such documents.

Except for a minor clarification in wording the regulation is adopted as proposed.

Accordingly, § 271.8 of Part 271 of Chapter II, Title 7 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by adding a new paragraph (f). The new paragraph of § 271.8 reads as follows:

§ 271.8 Plans of Operation.

* * * * *

(f) Each State agency shall submit its Plan of Operation and amendments to the State Governor, or his delegated authority, for comment on its relationship to other State plans and programs. The Governor, or his delegated authority, shall be allowed a period of 45 days, prior to submission to FNS by the State agency, to make such comments and attach them to the plan or amendment.

* * * * *

(78 Stat. 703, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 2011–2026)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective August 7, 1975.

CHAPTER IX—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Valencia Orange Regulation 510]

PART 908—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

This regulation fixes the quantity of California-Arizona Valencia oranges that may be shipped to fresh market during the weekly regulation period August 8–14, 1975. It is issued pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 908. The quantity of Valencia oranges so fixed was arrived at after consideration of the total available supply of Valencia oranges, the quantity of Valencia oranges currently available for market, the fresh market demand for Valencia oranges, Valencia orange prices, and the relationship of season average returns to the parity price for Valencia oranges.

§ 908.810 Valencia Orange Regulation 510.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 908, as amended (7 CFR Part 908), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The need for this regulation to limit the respective quantities of Valencia oranges that may be marketed from District 1, District 2, and District 3 during the ensuing week stems from the production and marketing situation confronting the Valencia orange industry.

(i) The committee has submitted its recommendation with respect to the quantities of Valencia oranges that should be marketed during the next succeeding week. Such recommendation, designed to provide equity of marketing opportunity to handlers in all districts, resulted from consideration of the factors enumerated in the order. The committee further reports that the fresh market demand for Valencia oranges continues to be dull Prices f.o.b. averaged $3.28 per carton on a reported sales volume of 629,000 cartons last week, compared with an average f.o.b. price of $3.36 per carton and sales of 647,000 cartons a week earlier. Track and rolling supplies at 256 cars were down 39 cars from last week.

(ii) Having considered the recommendation and information submitted by the committee, and other available information, the Secretary finds that the respective quantities of Valencia oranges which may be handled should be fixed as hereinafter set forth.

(3) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making, procedure, and postpone the effective date of this regulation until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this regulation is based became available and the time when this regulation must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested person were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this regulation, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this regulation effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this regulation will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on August 5, 1975.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period August 3, 1975, through August 14, 1975, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 160,000 cartons;

(ii) District 2: 340,000 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled", "District 1", "District 2", "District 3", and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated: August 5, 1975.

PART 917—FRESH PEARS, PLUMS, AND PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Expenses, Rates of Assessment, and Carryover of Unexpended Funds

This document authorizes $945,470 of Control Committee expenses, under Marketing Order No. 917, for the 1975–76 fiscal period and fixes the rates of assessment under subject program as follows: $.01 per carton of pears; $.075 per lug of plums; and $0.04 per lug of peaches. Such assessments are to be paid to the committee by each first handler as his pro rata share of expenses. It also authorizes the carryover, as a committee reserve, of unexpended assessment income from fiscal 1974–75 and prior years.

On July 16, 1975, notice of rulemaking was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 F.R. 29881) regarding proposed expenses and the related rates of assessment for the fiscal period beginning March 1, 1975, and ending February 29, 1976, and the carryover of unexpended 1974–75 assessment income pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 917, as amended (7 CFR Part 917), regulating the handling of fresh pears, plums, and peaches grown in California. The notice invited interested persons to submit written data, views, or arguments through July 31, 1975. No such material was submitted. This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in such notice which were submitted by the Control Committee (established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order), it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 917.213 Expenses, rates of assessment, and carryover of unexpended funds.

(a) Expenses. Expenses that are reasonable and likely to be incurred during the fiscal period March 1, 1975, through February 29, 1976, will amount to $945,470.

(b) Rates of Assessment. The rates of assessment for such fiscal period payable by each handler in accordance with § 917.37 are fixed at:

(1) One cent ($0.01) per No. 29B special lug box of pears, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk;

(2) Seven and five-tenths cents ($0.075) per No. 22D standard lug box of plums, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk;

(3) Four cents ($0.04) per L. A. lug of peaches, or its equivalent in other containers or in bulk.

(c) Reserve. Unexpended assessment funds in excess of expenses incurred during the fiscal period ended February 28, 1975, and prior years shall be carried over as a reserve in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 917.38.

(d) Terms. Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order, and "No. 29B special lug box" and "No. 22D standard lug box" shall have the same meaning as set forth in Section 1387.11 of the Regulations of the California Department of Food and Agriculture.

It is hereby further found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (1) shipments of the current crop of pears, plums, and peaches, are currently underway; (2) the relevant provisions of said amended marketing agreement and this part require that the rate of assessment fixed for a particular season be applicable to all fresh pears, plums, and peaches handled from the beginning of such fiscal period; and (3) the fiscal period began March 1, 1975, and the rates of assessment herein fixed will automatically apply to all pears, plums, and peaches beginning with such date.

Dated: August 1, 1975.

PART 967—CELERY GROWN IN FLORIDA

Handling Regulation

This handling regulation establishes the quantity of Florida celery to be marketed fresh during the 1975–76 season, with the objective of assuring adequate supplies and orderly markets.

Notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER June 23, 1975 (40 FR 26276) that the Secretary of Agriculture was considering the issuance of a handling regulation designed to promote orderly marketing of celery grown in Florida. The proposal was discussed at a public meeting June 10, 1975, in Orlando, after being unanimously recommended by the Florida Celery Committee. This committee was established under Marketing Agreement No. 149 and Order No. 967, both as amended (7 CFR Part 967). This program regulates the handling of celery grown in Florida and is issued under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). The notice afforded interested persons an opportunity to file written data, views or arguments regarding the proposal with the Hearing Clerk not later than July 7, 1975. None was filed.

The committee recommended a Marketable Quantity of 8,326,671 crates of fresh celery for the 1975–76 season. This recommendation is based on the appraisal of expected supply and prospective market demand for the 1975–76 season.

During recent years, total celery production from the acreage planted in Florida and California substantially exceeded the quantity required to satisfy consumer demand. Florida's fresh market celery sales during the 1974–75 season were approximately 6.5 million crates, nearly a half million crates more than the previous season. In both 1973–74 and 1974–75 prices received by growers frequently were below cost of production, resulting in significant economic losses. Several of the major celery growers have discontinued their celery growing operations.

The Marketable Quantity recommended for the coming season is nearly two million crates above the quantity shipped during the 1974–75 season when supplies were excessive. It is predicated, however, on the assumption that growing conditions in California may be less favorable than in the last two years, therefore requiring a marginal supply to adequately meet market needs. In addition, a promotional campaign is planned in order to stimulate consumer demand.

The recommended Marketable Quantity is smaller than the total Base Quantities of present producers. If demand does not increase, producers presently holding Base Quantities could be adversely affected economically. No request for new or increased Base Quantities was received. In accordance with § 967.37(d)(1), no reserve is recommended for such additional Base Quantities.

On the basis of the foregoing considerations, as well as industrywide trends in the production and sales of celery, it is believed that this regulation is necessary to maintain orderly marketing and will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

It is hereby found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 553) in that (1) notice was given of the proposed handling regulation set forth in this section through publicity in the production area and by publication in the June 23, 1975, FEDERAL REGISTER, (2) as provided in the marketing agreement and order, this regulation applies to celery marketed during the 1975–76 season, (3) compliance with this section will not require any special preparation by handlers which cannot be completed prior to the time actual handling of harvested celery begins, approximately the latter part of October, (4) prompt issuance of this regulation will be beneficial to all interested parties because it should afford producers and handlers maximum time to plan their operations accordingly, and (5) no useful purpose will be served by postponing such issuance.

It is therefore ordered:

Section 967.311 is added to 7 CFR Chapter IX reading as follows:

§ 967.311 Handling Regulation; Marketable Quantity; and Uniform Percentage.

(a) The Marketable Quantity for the 1975–76 season is established, under § 967.36(a), as 8,326,671 crates.

(b) As provided in § 967.38(a), the Uniform Percentage for the 1975–76 season is determined as 90 percent.

(c) During the season August 1, 1975, through July 31, 1976, no handler may handle, as provided in § 967.36(b)(1), any harvested celery unless it was within the Marketable Allotment for the producer of such celery.

(d) No reserve for Base Quantities for the 1975–76 season is established.

(e) Terms used herein shall have the same meaning as when used in the said marketing agreement and order.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674.)

It is hereby certified that the economic and inflationary impacts of this proposed regulation have been carefully evaluated in accordance with OMB Circular A–107.

Dated: August 1, 1975.

CHAPTER XVII—FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[FmHA Instruction 440.6]

PART 1808—TRUTH-IN-LENDING—DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS AND NOTICE OF RIGHT TO RESCIND

Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act

Various paragraphs of § 1808.2 of Part 1808 of Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter XVIII (40 FR 26258) are amended. This amendment is being made to further implement the requirements of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974 (RESPA) enacted by Public Law 93–533 and Regulation X of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and to make clear that the application of this part to farms and other properties over ten acres; insures that a copy of form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1) is sent to the seller only when title to security property is being conveyed; and provides for the use of Form FmHA 440–60, "Waiver to Reduce Period Between Advance Disclosure and Settlement" for cases where the loan, assumption, or transfer will be closed within 15 days of issuance of the Advance Disclosure Statement. In order that the buyer is fully advised as to the value of the property this amendment also provides for disclosure of the previous selling price for property acquired by foreclosure sale or voluntary conveyance, and includes editorial changes for clarification. This amendment also provides instructions for FmHA personnel to follow in disclosing the previous selling price of inventory property.

It is the policy of this Department that rules relating to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts shall be published for comment notwithstanding the exemption in 5 U.S.C. 553 with respect to such rules. These regulations, however, are not published for proposed rulemaking because they further implement provisions of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act of 1974, and regulations issued by the Department of Housing and Urban Development which were effective June 20, 1975, (40 FR 22448).

Because of the need to clarify the purposes and intent of the Act at the earliest possible date, it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to engage in proposed rulemaking inasmuch as it will affect the settlement of several thousand pending loans, therefore public notice and procedure thereon are unnecessary.

As amended, § 1808.2 (a), (b), (d), (e), and (f) read as follows:

§ 1808.2 Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act.

(a) General. This section provides the instructions for compliance with the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA) and Regulation X of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and administrative regulations of the FmHA. The purpose of Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1), "Disclosure/Settlement Statement," prescribed by RESPA is to provide more effective advance disclosure of settlement costs to borrowers and sellers at the time of loan approval and provide a uniform settlement statement.

(b) Scope. This paragraph applies to all loans, assumptions, and credit sales involving the sale or construction of 1–4 family residential units (502 RH, 1–4 family RRH, 1–4 family LH, loans to purchase farm tracts on which a 1–4 family residence is located) secured by a lien on the real estate, regardless of the nature of the borrower. Except that this paragraph does not apply to any loan financing the purchase or transfer of a property of 100 or more acres, or any loan financing the purchase or transfer of a property of less than 100 acres but more than 10 acres where the value of the 1–4 family residence, including related residential facilities (e.g. garage), and a reasonable parcel of land on which the residence is located, is less than the value of the remaining security property (i.e. land and existing buildings and facilities, and buildings and facilities to be constructed with proceeds of the loan).

* * * * *

(d) Advance disclosure. (1) For all loans, assumption, or credit sales described in paragraph (b) of this section, approved after June 20, 1975, Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1) will be completed by the County Supervisor as indicated in the Form, as an advance disclosure of settlement costs and sent to the borrower along with Form FmHA 440–1, "Payment Authorization." For loans covered by § 1808.1(b) and paragraph (b) of this section, Form FmHA 440–58 will also be completed as indicated in the Form and attached as a third page to Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1). In cases where title to the security property is being conveyed to the borrower a copy of Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1) will also be mailed to the seller of the land at the time of loan approval. The County Supervisor will indicate in the Running Record section of the County Office case folder the date that Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1) was sent to the borrower and the seller, as appropriate.

(2) No loan, assumption, or credit sale will be closed within 15 days of mailing of the Advance Disclosure Statement except that a loan, assumption, or credit sale may be closed no sooner than 3 days after actual receipt of said statement by the borrower, and seller if any, where closing is held not later than 21 days after the date the application is received. The time period may be reduced only if the borrower and seller agree and sign Form FmHA 440–60 "Waiver to Reduce Period Between Advance Disclosure and Settlement."

(e) Settlement statements. For all loans, assumptions, or credit sales described in paragraph (b) of this section closed after June 20, 1975, Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1) will be completed as indicated in the Form by the designated attorney or escrow agent as a settlement statement, and a copy will be given to both the borrower and seller at loan closing. If the loan is covered by § 1808.1(b) and paragraph (b) of this section, Form FmHA 440–58 will be completed as indicated in the Form and attached as a third page to Form FmHA 440–59 (HUD–1).

(f) Disclosure of previous selling price of existing real property. (1) Section 7 of RESPA requires that the purchaser of a residence on which construction has been completed more than 12 months prior to date of loan approval must be given the following information in writing by the seller or the seller's agent prior to loan approval:

(i) The name and address of the present owner of the property being sold;

(ii) The date the property was acquired by the present owner (the year only if the property was acquired more than two years previously); and

(iii) If the seller has not owned the property for at least two years prior to the date of the loan application and has not used the property as a place of residence, the date and purchase price of the last arm's length transfer of the property, as list of any subsequent improvements made to the property (excluding maintenance repairs), and the cost of such improvements.

(2) To assure compliance with this requirement, no loan or assumption described in paragraph (b) of this section will be approved until a copy of the written statement provided by the seller to the buyer has been received in the County Office. In credit sales, the County Supervisor will provide this statement to the purchaser prior to approving the sale. The previous selling price will be as follows:

(i) If the property was acquired at a foreclosure sale, the bid price with the notation "Acquired at foreclosure";

(ii) If the property was acquired by voluntary conveyance, the inventory value price with the notation "Acquired by Deed in Lieu of foreclosure (voluntary conveyance)."

Effective date. This revision is effective on August 7, 1975.

Title 12—Banks and Banking

CHAPTER III—FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

PART 329—INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Preauthorized Payments or Transfers From Savings Deposits

1. On April 4, 1975 the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("the Board") adopted a proposed amendment to § 329.5(c) of the FDIC's rules and regulations (12 C.F.R. 329.5(c)). The proposed amendment would permit an insured nonmember bank to make payments or transfers of credit from a customer's savings account to facilitate payment to third parties, regardless of the nature of the customer's obligation. The proposed amendment was published as a notice of proposed rulemaking in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 10, 1975 (40 FR 16219). Interested persons were given until May 30, 1975 to submit written data, views or arguments on the proposed amendment.

After considering the views and arguments of those persons who commented on the proposed amendment to Section 329.5(c), the Board has decided upon its adoption with certain modifications:

(a) The question has been raised as to whether the phrase "third parties" in the proposed amendment refers to the depositor's own bank. Since the depositor's bank is such a party within the purview of the amendment, the phrase "including the depositor's own bank" has been added after the words "third parties."

(b) The question has been raised as to whether the amendment contemplates the execution of one authorization form so as to permit all subsequent withdrawals. Since the amendment contemplates such a result, the first word in Section 329.5(c)(1)(vi) has been changed from "Payment" to "Payments," so as to be consistent with the phrase "payments or transfers of credit" and so as to avoid any possible confusion.

2. Part 329 of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by revising, in § 329.5, the introductory portion of (c)(1), and (c)(1)(vi) and (c)(2) to read as follows:

§ 329.5 Withdrawal of savings deposits.

* * * * *

(c) Manner of payment of savings deposits. (1) Subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (2) and (4) of this paragraph (c), an insured nonmember bank may permit withdrawals to be made from a savings deposit only through payment [12] to the depositor himself (but not to any other person whether or not acting for the depositor), except:

* * * * *

(vi) Payments or transfers of credit made pursuant to a nonnegotiable, nontransferable written order or authorization, signed by the depositor, directing the bank to make such payments or transfers of credit to third parties, including the depositor's own bank, periodically or otherwise. Any such order or authorization shall include a clear and conspicuous statement to the effect that it is neither negotiable nor transferable.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c), no withdrawal shall be permitted by an insured nonmember bank to be made from a savings deposit, through payment to the bank itself or through transfer of credit to a demand or other deposit account of the same depositor (other than of interest on the savings deposit) if such payment or transfer of credit is made pursuant to any advertised plan or any agreement, written or oral, which authorizes such payments or transfers to be made as a normal practice in order to cover checks or drafts drawn by the depositor upon the bank.

* * * * *

(Sec. 9, 64 Stat. 881-82, 12 U.S.C. 1819; Sec. 18(g), 64 Stat. 893, 80 Stat. 824, 88 Stat. 1558, 12 U.S.C. 1828(g)).

[12] Payment from a savings deposit or presentation of a passbook may be made over the counter, through the mails, or otherwise.

3. Having given ample notice and opportunity for public comment in its Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the Board hereby adopts the above amendments. The effective date thereof will be delayed for at least 30 days following publication in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 553(d) and 12 CFR 302.5.

4. Effective Date. The foregoing amendments to 12 CFR Part 329 are effective September 2, 1975.

By order of the Board of Directors, August 1, 1975.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION,
[SEAL] ALAN R. MILLER,
Executive Secretary.

Title 14—Aeronautics and Space

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

[Airworthiness Docket No. 75-WE-43-AD; Amdt. 39-2317]

Certain Lockheed L-1011-385-1 Aircraft

Some interior arrangement configurations of the Lockheed L-1011 have a flight attendant rest seat located within the aft service center complex which does not have oxygen immediately available for the occupants per FAR 25.1447(c)(1) and does not have the required passenger information signs per FAR 25.791. The lack of oxygen and passenger information signs for the occupants of the flight attendant rest seat can compromise the safety of flight attendants as well as passengers requiring assistance following a rapid decompression of the aircraft. Since this condition is likely to exist in other aircraft of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued to require the installation of an automatically presented oxygen system and passenger information signs for the occupants of the rest seat.

In light of the specified minimum requirements of FAR 25.1447(c)(1) and FAR 25.791 and on the basis of safety considerations, accomplishment of the modifications required by this AD within the time the agency has determined is necessary makes strict compliance with the notice and public provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act impracticable, and this amendment becomes effective 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. However, interested persons are invited to submit such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire regarding this AD. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Regional Counsel, FAA Western Region, Attention: Airworthiness Rules Docket, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, California 90009. All communications received before the effective date will be considered by the Administrator, and the AD may be changed in light of comments received. All comments will be available both before and after the effective date in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons. Persons are urged to submit their comments as early as possible since it may not be possible to evaluate comments received near the effective date in sufficient time to amend the AD before it becomes effective.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (31 F.R. 13697), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

LOCKHEED. Applies to model L-1011-385-1 series airplanes certificated in all categories, configured with aft service center flight attendant rest seats.

Compliance required within 300 flight hours time in service after effective date of this AD unless already accomplished.

To provide protection from the lack of adequate oxygen for the occupants of the aft service center flight attendant's rest seat under emergency conditions and to provide the required information sign notifying occupants of this seat when safety belts should be fastened, and when smoking is prohibited, accomplish one of the following:

(a) Install an automatically presented oxygen unit and passenger information sign for occupants of the aft service center flight attendant's rest seat, approved by the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA Western Region; or

(b) Remove the aft service center flight attendant's rest seat; or

(c) Remove existing placard (Lockheed P/N 1564393-101) prohibiting use during takeoff landing and turbulent flight and install in its place a placard prohibiting rest seat occupancy.

Flight attendant's rest seat installation modified by (b) or (c), above, may be reconfigured back to the original seat installation upon accomplishment of (a), above.

This amendment becomes effective September 11, 1975.

This amendment is made under the authority of Sections 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423) and of Section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

Issued in Los Angeles, California on July 29, 1975.

ROBERT H. STANTON,
Director, FAA Western Region.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, AREA LOW ROUTES, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Transition Area

On June 25, 1975, a Notice of Proposed Rule Making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 F.R. 26687) stating that the Federal Aviation Administration was considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would alter the transition area at Jackson, Wyoming.

Interested persons were given 30 days in which to submit written comments, suggestions or objections. No objections have been received and the proposed amendment is hereby adopted without change.

Effective date. This amendment shall be effective 0901 GMT, October 9, 1975.

This amendment is issued under the authority of section 307(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, (49 U.S.C. 1348(a)), and of section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

Issued in Aurora, Colorado, on August 7, 1975.

M. M. MARTIN,
Director, Rocky Mountain Region.

In Federal Aviation Regulation Part 71, § 71.181 (40 FR 441), the description of the Jackson, Wyoming transition area is amended to read:

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 5-mile radius circle centered on the Jackson's Hole Airport (latitude 43°36'24" N, Longitude 110°44'13" W), within 5.5 miles west and 9.5 miles east of the Jackson VOR 200° radial, extending from the VOR to 24.5 miles south; and within 2.5 miles each side of the Jackson VOR 020° radial extending from the VOR to 12 miles north of the VOR; and that airspace extending upward from 1200 feet above the surface within 6 miles west and 9.5 miles east of the Jackson VOR 020° radial extending from the VOR to 37.5 miles north of the VOR; within 5 miles each side of the Jackson VOR 107° radial extending from the VOR to 15 miles east of the VOR; and within 6 miles north and 9 miles south of the Dunoir, Wyoming VOR 102° and 282° radials extending from 8 miles east to 21 miles west of Dunoir VOR.

[Docket No. 14862; Amdt. No. 980]

PART 97—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

Miscellaneous Amendments

This amendment to Part 97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations incorporates by reference therein changes and additions to the Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs) that were recently adopted by the Administrator to promote safety at the airports concerned.

The complete SIAPs for the changes and additions covered by this amendment are described in FAA Forms 8260-3, 8260-4, or 8260-5 and made a part of the public rule making dockets of the FAA in accordance with the procedures set forth in Amendment No. 97-696 (35 FR 5609).

SIAPs are available for examination at the Rules Docket and at the National Flight Data Center, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20591. Copies of SIAPs adopted in a particular region are also available for examination at the headquarters of that region. Individual copies of SIAPs may be purchased from the FAA Public Information Center, AIS-230, 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20591 or from the applicable FAA regional office in accordance with the fee schedule prescribed in 49 CFR 7.85. This fee is payable in advance and may be paid by check, draft, or postal money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States. A weekly transmittal of all SIAP changes and additions may be obtained by subscription at an annual rate of $150.00 per annum from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Additional copies mailed to the same address may be ordered for $30.00 each.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this amendment, I find that further notice and public procedure hereon is impracticable and good cause exists for making it effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended as follows, effective on the dates specified:

ORDER

IT IS ORDERED that respondents Crown Trading Company, Inc., a corporation trading and doing business as Crown Stores, or under any other name or names, its successors and assigns, and its officers, and Eusebio Benitez and Juan Benitez, individually and as officers of said corporation, and respondents agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporation, subsidiary, division or other device, in connection with any extension of consumer credit or advertisement to aid, promote or assist directly or indirectly any extension of consumer credit, as "consumer credit" and "advertisement" are defined in Regulation Z (12 C.F.R. 226) of the Truth in Lending Act (P.L. 90-321, 15 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Failing to disclose the "annual percentage rate," computed in accordance with Section 226.5 of Regulation Z, as required by Section 226.8(b) (2) of Regulation Z.

2. Failing to disclose the number, amount, and due dates or periods of payments scheduled to repay the indebtedness, as required by Section 226.8(b) (3) of Regulation Z.

3. Failing to disclose the sum of the payments scheduled to repay the indebtedness, using the term "total of payments," as required by Section 226.8(b) (3) of Regulation Z.

4. Failing in any credit sale to disclose the price at which respondents, in the regular course of business, offer to sell for cash the property or services which are the subject of the credit sale, using the term "cash price," as required by Section 226.8(c) (1) of Regulation Z.

5. Failing to disclose the amount of any downpayment in money made in connection with any credit sale, using the term "cash downpayment," as required by Section 226.8(c) (2) of Regulation Z.

6. Failing to disclose the amount of any downpayment in property made in connection with any credit sale, using the term "trade in," as required by Section 226.8(c) (2) of Regulation Z.

7. Failing to disclose the sum of the "cash downpayment" and the "trade in" made in connection with any credit sale, using the term "total downpayment." as required by Section 226.8(c) (2) of Regulation Z.

8. Failing in any credit sale to disclose the difference between the "cash price" and the "total downpayment," using the term "unpaid balance of cash price," as required by Section 226.8(c) (3) of Regulation Z.

9. Failing to disclose all other charges which are included in the amount financed, but which are not part of the finance charge, as required by Section 226.8(c) (4) of Regulation Z.

10. Failing in any credit sale to disclose the sum of the "unpaid balance of cash price" and all other charges individually itemized, which are included in the amount financed but which are not part of the finance charge, using the term "unpaid balance," as required by Section 226.8(c) (5) of Regulation Z.

11. Failing to disclose the amount of credit extended, using the term "amount financed," as required by Section 226.8 (c) (7) of Regulation Z.

12. Failing to disclose the sum of all charges made to the customer which are required by Section 226.4 of Regulation Z to be included in the finance charge, using the term "finance charge," as required by Section 226.8(c) (8) (i) of Regulation Z.

13. Failing in any credit sale to disclose the sum of the cash price, all charges which are included in the amount financed but which are not part of the finance charge, and the finance charge, using the term "deferred payment price," as required by Section 226.8 (c) (8) (ii) of Regulation Z.

14. Failing to make consumer credit cost disclosures heretofore set forth in this order before consummation of the transaction, and to furnish the customer with a duplicate of the contract or a statement by which the disclosures required by Regulation Z are made, as required by Section 226.8(a) of Regulation Z.

15. Supplying, orally or in writing, any information to a customer so as to mislead or confuse the customer, or contradict or obscure, or detract attention from the information required by Regulation Z, in violation of Section 226.6(c) of Regulation Z.

16. Misrepresenting, orally or otherwise, directed or by implication, that credit life, accident, health and/or disability insurance are required as a condition of obtaining credit from respondents.

17. Discouraging, orally or otherwise, directly or by implication, the declination of credit life, accident, health and/or disability insurance.

18. Failing, when charges for credit life insurance and/or accident and health insurance are not included in the finance charge to:

a. Obtain from each customer purchasing such insurance a specifically dated and separately signed affirmative written indication of the consumer's desire for such insurance after making written disclosure to the consumer of the costs of such insurance, as required by Section 226.4(a) (5) of Regulation Z.

b. Tell the consumer that:

i. credit life insurance and/or credit accident and health insurance are optional; and

ii. the consumer's choice regarding the insurance coverage will not be considered in respondents' approval of the consumer's credit.

19. Failing to tell every customer the purpose(s) of each signature requested by respondents on any document directly related to the consummation of the credit transaction.

20. Making any marks or otherwise instructing a consumer where to sign or date the personal insurance authorization required by Section 226.4(a) (5), in advance of the consumer's free and independent choice of such insurance.

21. Failing in any consumer credit transaction or advertisement to make all disclosures, determined in accordance with Sections 226.4 and 226.5 of Regulation Z, in the manner, form, and amount required by Sections 226.6, 226.7, 226.8, and 226.10 of Regulation Z.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that whenever the sales presentation is principally made in a language other than English, e.g., Spanish, that the customer be given a statement containing the disclosures required by Section 226.8 of Regulation Z, in the form and manner prescribed therein but in the same language as that principally used in the sales presentation made to such customer.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that respondents prominently display the following notice both in Spanish and in English in two or more locations in that portion of respondents' business premises most frequented by prospective customers, and in each location where customers normally sign consumer credit documents or other binding instruments. Such notice shall be considered prominently displayed only if so positioned as to be easily observed and read by the intended individuals:

NOTICE TO CREDIT CUSTOMERS

If the Dealer Is Financing or Arranging the Financing of Your Purchase, You Are Entitled to Consumer Credit Cost Disclosures as Required by the Federal Trade Commission's Truth in Lending Act. These Must be Provided to You in Writing Before You Are Asked to Sign Any Document Or Other Papers Which Would Bind You to Such A Purchase.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the respondents deliver a copy of this order to cease and desist to all present and future personnel of respondents engaged in the consummation of any extension of consumer credit or in any aspect of the preparation, creation or placing of advertising, and that respondents secure a signed statement acknowledging receipt of said order from each such person.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the individual respondents named herein promptly notify the Commission of the discontinuance of their present business or employment and of their affiliation with a new business or employment. Such notice shall include respondents' current business address and a statement as to the nature of the business or employment in which they are engaged, as well as a description of their duties and responsibilities.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that respondents notify the Commission at least thirty (30) days prior to any proposed change in corporate respondent such as dissolution, assignment or sale resulting in the emergence of a successor business, corporate or otherwise, the creation or dissolution of subsidiaries or any other change in the corporation which may affect compliance obligations arising out of this order.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the respondents herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

The Decision and Order was issued by the Commission July 1, 1975.

PART 13—PROHIBITED TRADE PRACTICES, AND AFFIRMATIVE CORRECTIVE ACTIONS

Corning Glass Works

For codification under Part 13 of CFR, see 38 FR 18644.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U.S.C. 46. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U.S.C. 45.)

In the matter of Corning Glass Works, a corporation.

Amended final order to cease and desist prohibiting a Corning, New York manufacturer, advertiser, seller and distributor of Pyrex, Corning Ware, and Corelle Livingware brands of glass household products for food preparation, serving, and storage, among other things, from entering into, maintaining or enforcing resale price agreements; and refusing to deal with customers or potential customers unless they agree to maintain the fair trade price of the commodities to be resold.

The order reopening proceedings, vacating order, and issuing amended final order to cease and desist is as follows: [1]

On April 30, 1975, the Commission's Order in this matter became final.[2] On that same day, Respondent filed a Petition to Reopen the Proceedings to Vacate the Final Order Entered Herein and to Substitute an Amended Final Order and a Motion for Suspension of Compliance with Final Order Pending Disposition of Petition to Vacate Same. Complaint Counsel on behalf of the Bureau of Competition filed their answer to both the Petition and the Motion on May 1, 1975. The Motion to Suspend Compliance was granted in part on May 8, 1975. On May 19, 1975, the parties filed a stipulation as to a modification in respondent's proposed Amended Final Order.

Treating the Petition to Reopen as a Petition to Reopen and Modify under Rule Section 3.72(b)(2), we find that it should be granted as modified by the stipulation of May 19.

Under Section 3.72(b), a reopening of a final order is authorized if changed conditions of fact so require. Here, Respondent has alleged, and Complaint Counsel agree, that it has wholly abandoned its fair trade program which was the subject of this matter. We are persuaded that this changed condition of fact and the public interest require a modification of the Order entered herein. Accordingly,

IT IS ORDERED that the proceedings in the above-captioned matter be, and they hereby are, reopened.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Commission's Order in said matter, issued June 5, 1973, be, and it hereby is, vacated and the following Amended Final Order is hereby entered:

AMENDED FINAL ORDER

I. IT IS ORDERED that Respondent, Corning Glass Works, a corporation, directly or indirectly, through its officers, agents, representatives, employees, subsidiaries, successors, licensees, or assigns, or through any reseller or any other corporate or other device, in connection with the manufacture, advertising, offering for sale, sale, or distribution, in or affecting commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of Pyrex, Corning Ware, and Corelle brand commodities, or of any other commodity which bears, or the label or container of which bears, any other trademark, brand, or name owned by Respondent, with respect to which commodity Respondent may in the future establish any fair trade program, shall not:

1. Enter into, maintain or enforce any understanding, contract, or agreement with any reseller located within, or applicable to resales occurring within, any

[1] Copy of the order filed with the original document.

[2] The Commission Order of June 5, 1973 (82 FTC 1675) was appealed by Corning to the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. The Commission's decision and Order was affirmed by that Court, 509 F. 2d 293 (January 29, 1975). Under 15 U.S.C. Sec. 45(g)(2), the Order thus became final on April 30, 1975.

state which at the time is, or thereafter becomes a free trade state[*]—

(a) which contains any provision which establishes, is intended to establish, or may be construed by the reseller to establish, any stipulated or minimum price at which resales shall be made; or which contains any circumstance or condition under which any such provision shall become applicable to any resale; or

(b) which contains any provision which restricts, is intended to restrict, or may be construed by the reseller to restrict, the reseller's right to deal with any customer, whether for subsequent resale or otherwise, in any state; or which otherwise imposes, is intended to impose, or may be construed by the reseller to impose, any qualification, precondition, or other limitation on said right; or which contains any circumstance or condition under which any such provision shall become applicable to any resale.

2. Enter into, maintain, or enforce any understanding, contract or agreement, with any reseller located within any state which at the time is, or thereafter becomes a free trade state, which requires, is intended to require, or may be construed by the reseller to require, as a precondition to any resale or as a qualification or other limitation on the right to resell, that said reseller—

(a) obtain from any customer or potential customer in any state any understanding, contract, or agreement by which said customer or potential customer agrees with Respondent to maintain the fair trade price of the commodity to be resold; or

(b) refuse to deal with any customer or potential customer in any state unless such customer or potential customer has agreed to maintain the fair trade price of the commodity to be resold.

3. (a) Circulate to any free trade state reseller any list ("blacklist") of retailers who have advertised, offered for sale, or sold any of Respondent's fair traded commodities at less than the fair trade prices established therefor, or who have not signed a fair trade contract, or whose retailer contracts have been terminated; or in any other manner communicate the names of such retailers to any free trade state resellers; or (b) take any other action which is intended to, or which may in fact, prevent or have a tendency to prevent any retailer from obtaining any such commodity: Provided, however, That nothing in (b) of this subparagraph 3 shall apply to any action taken by virtue of the breach of a signed contract, lawfully obtained and entered into pursuant to a fair trade law which is valid as of the time of both the breach and the action taken; or to any action taken to enforce any right against a nonsigner created by a fair trade law or provision thereof which is enforceable as of the time of the action taken.

4. Impose, by refusing to deal, termination, or any other unilateral action, or by contract, combination or conspiracy, any limitation, qualification, or precondition not expressly permitted by Sections 5(a)(2) and 5(a)(3) of the Federal Trade Commission Act, on any reseller's right or ability to purchase or sell any fair traded commodity—

(a) where the purpose or effect thereof is, or is likely to be, adherence to resale prices or any course of conduct established, required, or suggested by Respondent, by any reseller whose resale prices or conduct are not, or cannot be, lawfully controlled by Respondent; or

(b) where the purpose or effect thereof is, or is likely to be, the unavailability, through normal channels of distribution, of Respondent's commodities to, or any discrimination with respect thereto against, any such reseller due to his failure or unwillingness to adhere to said resale prices or course of conduct.

II. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent, directly or indirectly, through its officers, agents, representatives, employees, subsidiaries, successors, licensees, or assigns, or through any reseller or any other corporate or other device, in connection with the manufacture, advertising, offering for sale, sale, or distribution, in or affecting commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of any commodity, shall forthwith cease and desist from entering into, maintaining, or enforcing any contract, combination or conspiracy which imposes any limitation, qualification, or precondition not expressly permitted by applicable state law and granted immunity by Section 5(a)(2) of the Federal Trade Commission Act, on any reseller—

1. Where the purpose or effect thereof is, or is likely to be, adherence to resale prices or any course of conduct established, required, or suggested by Respondent, by any reseller whose resale prices or conduct are not, or cannot be lawfully controlled by Respondent; or

2. Where the purpose or effect thereof is, or is likely to be, the unavailability through normal channels of distribution of Respondent's commodities to, or any discrimination with respect thereto against, any such reseller due to his failure or unwillingness to adhere to said resale prices or course of conduct.

III. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that beginning ninety (90) days following the date upon which this Order becomes final and continuing for a period of ten (10) years thereafter in connection with the advertising, offering for sale, sale or distribution of any non-fair traded glass and glass ceramic product for food preparation, serving and storage under the names Pyrex and Corning Ware and tableware under the name Corelle, Respondent shall not suggest any resale prices either in advertising or in any material provided, published, or paid for in whole or in part by Respondent, including but not limited to price lists, advertising and promotional material, boxes and containers furnished for the transport or display of such commodities and tags, labels and other devices affixed to such commodities, unless such advertising and material include the clear and conspicuous statement "Manufacturer's Suggested Price", or a statement substantially equivalent thereto, Provided, however, That nothing in this Paragraph III shall prevent Respondent from furnishing or causing to be furnished to resellers of such products any advertising or promotional materials containing Respondent's suggested prices without such statement when alternative materials without prices for use by such resellers to advertise or promote prices of their own choosing are simultaneously furnished; and Provided, further, That Respondent shall not initiate, conduct, sponsor, participate in, or contribute anything of value to, any cooperative advertising or other program of sales promotion or assistance wherein participation therein or the benefits thereof to any reseller are in any way conditioned upon the reseller's advertising, offering for sale or selling at no less than any price(s) suggested by Respondent for such products.

IV. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent shall:

1. Within sixty (60) days from the date upon which this order becomes final, mail, deliver or cause to be delivered and request signed receipts for, copies of this Order to the following resellers of glass and glass ceramic products for food preparation, serving and storage under the names Pyrex and Corning Ware and tableware under the name Corelle:

(a) every reseller who was either under fair trade contract on March 1, 1971 or who was placed under such contract thereafter;

(b) every reseller whose fair trade contract has been terminated by Respondent since January 1, 1966;

(c) every reseller whose name has appeared on any blacklist since January 1, 1966; and

(d) every other current reseller of such products.

2. Within sixty (60) days from the date upon which this Order becomes final, and on the six (6) month and twelve (12) month anniversary date of this Order, mail, deliver or cause to be delivered, and request signed receipts for notices in forms submitted to and approved by the Commission prior to mailing or delivery, which clearly inform all resellers specified in subparagraphs 1(a), (b), (c) and (d) of this Paragraph IV:

(a) that Respondent has ceased to fair trade its commodities;

(b) that all provisions of their contracts (should the same otherwise be in effect) relating to fair trade are cancelled and that said resellers are under no legal duty to re-enter into any fair trade agreements;

(c) that such fair trade provisions will no longer be enforced;

(d) that said resellers may and are encouraged to sell Respondent's goods to any customer at such price as may be individually determined by each such reseller;

(e) that said resellers may and are encouraged to sell Respondent's goods to any customer, whether for subsequent resale or otherwise, without restriction or precondition, and irrespective of whether the customer is located within, or may resell the goods within, any fair trade state;

(f) that no resellers in any state are required to refuse to deal with any other reseller due to the other reseller's failure or unwillingness to sign any contract requiring the maintenance of resale prices;

(g) that any reseller in any state who places an order for Respondent's goods with any reseller which is not filled due to its having advertised, offered for sale, or sold such goods at less than Respondent's suggested resale price or any former stipulated or minimum price, should immediately notify Respondent in writing of the name and address of the reseller so refusing to deal;

(h) that the exercise by said resellers of any of their rights previously subject to the fair trade provisions of Respondent's fair trade contracts shall in no way prejudice said resellers' ability to obtain or to continue to obtain Respondent's merchandise;

(i) that any reseller who believes that Respondent is violating any provision of this Order, either directly or indirectly (through its wholesalers or otherwise) should set forth the facts and circumstances believed relevant and submit them to Assistant Director, Division of Compliance, Bureau of Competition, Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20580.

The first notice required to be mailed or delivered to retailers by this subparagraph 2 shall be accompanied by a list of the names and addresses (arranged by state) of all wholesalers of Respondent's goods. Said list shall contain a clear and conspicuous statement that all wholesalers listed therein are free to sell at prices of their own choosing to any retailer in any state without qualification, limitation or precondition.

3. Within sixty (60) days from the date upon which this order becomes final, mail or deliver, and obtain a signed receipt for, a written offer of reinstatement to:

(a) any free trade state wholesaler who was terminated by Respondent since January 1, 1966 for failure to comply with the refusal-to-deal provision of his wholesaler contract, and

(b) any free trade state wholesaler who was terminated by Respondent since January 1, 1966 for failure to comply with the resale price maintenance provision of his wholesaler contract; and reinstate forthwith, any such wholesalers who within thirty (30) days thereafter request reinstatement. Said offer of reinstatement shall be accompanied by a copy of this Order and the notice required by subparagraph 2 of this Paragraph IV.

4. Immediately upon receipt, take such action as is necessary to ensure correction of all complaints received pursuant to any provision of this Paragraph IV, and retain such complaints and records of all corrective action taken thereon for a period of five years from the date on which each complaint is received. Reports of said complaints and of corrective action shall be included in reports to the Commission required by Paragraph VI 1. of this Order.

V. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent shall:

1. Fully acquaint all appropriate present and future personnel with the provisions and requirements of this Order.

2. For a period of five (5) years from the date of this Order, mail or deliver and obtain a signed receipt for, a copy of this Order to all new resellers to whom Respondent directly sells glass and glass ceramic products for food preparation, serving, and storage under the names Pyrex and Corning Ware and tableware under the name Corelle.

3. Make any fair trade provisions of contracts entered into by it in the future conform with the requirements and intent of this Order and submit any such contracts to the Commission for approval prior to their use.

VI. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Respondent shall:

1. Within sixty (60) days from the date on which this Order becomes final, and annually each year for a period of five (5) years thereafter, submit to the Commission a written report setting forth in full detail the manner in which Respondent is complying with each requirement of this Order, accompanied by such documents, forms, contracts, receipts, or other material as is necessary to constitute proof that Respondent is in full and faithful compliance herewith.

2. Notify the Commission in writing at least ninety (90) days prior to the reinstitution by Respondent of any future fair trade program and neither execute nor obtain the execution of any new fair trade contract which has not been submitted to and approved by the Commission prior to its use.

3. Notify the Commission in writing at least thirty (30) days prior to any proposed change in the corporation such as dissolution, assignment or sale resulting in the emergence of a successor corporation, the creation or dissolution of subsidiaries, or any other change in the corporation which may affect compliance obligations arising out of this Order.

4. Retain all receipts required to be obtained by this Order for a period of five (5) years from the date of each said receipt.

With Commissioner Thompson not participating, the order issuing amended final order to cease and desist was issued by the Commission June 17, 1975.

CHARLES A. TOBIN,
Secretary.

[*] The definitions of terms contained in Part I.A of the Commission's June 6, 1973 opinion in this matter shall apply to this Amended Final Order.

Title 19—Customs Duties

CHAPTER I—UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

[T.D. 75-201]

PART 6—AIR COMMERCE REGULATIONS

Reporting and Landing Requirements; Private Aircraft

On March 28, 1975, a notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 14087) which proposed to amend Part 6 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR Part 6) by amending paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 6.2 and by adding a new section 6.14 to set forth special reporting requirements and control procedures for private aircraft arriving from certain areas south of the United States. Specifically, the amendments will require commanders of private aircraft proceeding to the United States from a foreign place in the Western Hemisphere south of 33 degrees north latitude, and crossing into the United States over a point on the United States border between 95 and 120 degrees west longitude, to communicate to Customs, not less than 15 minutes prior to crossing the border, their intention of landing and the intended point and time of border crossing. The amendments will require all such aircraft, unless exempted, to land at one of the 13 specially-designated airports in the immediate proximity of the border between the United States and Mexico.

Interested persons were given 30 days from the date of publication of the notice to submit relevant written data, views, or arguments regarding the proposal. After consideration of all comments received, it has been determined that the proposed amendments should be adopted as set forth in the notice except for the following two changes:

1. Section 6.14(a)(5) is changed to read "Place of last departure (foreign);".

2. Subparagraphs (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6) of section 6.14(d) are renumbered (3), (4), (5), (6), and (7), respectively, and a new subparagraph (2) is added to read: "(2) Identity of aircraft (make and model number)".

The proposed amendments, modified to include these changes, are adopted as set forth below.

Effective date. These amendments shall become effective September 8, 1975.

[SEAL] VERNON D. ACREE,
Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: July 16, 1975.

DAVID R. MACDONALD,
Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 6.2 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 6.2(a) and (b)) are amended to read as follows:

§ 6.2 Landing requirements.

(a) Place of landing. * * * The first landing shall be at an international airport unless permission to land elsewhere shall first be granted, except that such permission is not required for an emergency or forced landing or with respect to the procedure prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section, relating to private aircraft arriving from south of the United States. * * *

* * * * *

(b) Advance notice of arrival—(1) Applicability. All aircraft, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, before coming into any area from any place outside the United States, for security reasons, and in order to avoid the penalties provided for in § 6.11, shall furnish a timely notice of intended arrival, either by or at the request of the commander of the aircraft, through the Federal Aviation Administration flight notification procedures or directly to the district director or other Customs officer in charge at the nearest intended place of first landing in such area. That officer shall notify the officers in charge of the other Government services. In the case of private aircraft passing through the zone referred to in paragraph (a) of § 6.14 and crossing into the United States within that zone, advance notice shall be furnished in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 6.14.

(2) Furnishing advance notice. When, by reason such as departure from a remote place, dependable facilities for giving notice are not available, a landing shall be made at a place where the necessary facilities do exist before coming into any area from any place outside the United States. However, radio equipment of the plane may be used if this will result in the giving of adequate and timely notice.

(3) Exception for scheduled airline to the requirement of giving advance notice. Advance notice shall not be required in the case of aircraft of a scheduled airline arriving in accordance with a regular schedule filed with the district director for the district in which the place of first landing is situated.

(4) Contents of advance notice. The advance notice of arrival shall specify the following:

(i) Type of aircraft and registration marks;

(ii) Name of aircraft commander;

(iii) Place of last departure;

(iv) International airport of intended landing or other place at which landing has been authorized by Customs;

(v) Number of alien passengers;

(vi) Number of citizen passengers; and

(vii) Estimated time of arrival.

(5) Timeliness of advance notice. The advance notice must be received by Customs in sufficient time to enable the officers designated to inspect the aircraft to reach the international airport or such other place of first landing prior to the arrival of the aircraft, except as provided in § 6.14.

(6) Responsibility of aircraft commander upon landing. If, upon landing in any area the aircraft commander finds that United States Government inspection officers have not arrived, the commander shall hold the aircraft and any merchandise, including baggage, thereon intact and keep the passengers and crewmembers in a segregated place until the inspection officers arrive.

* * * * *

Part 6 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR Part 6) is amended by adding a new § 6.14 to read as follows:

§ 6.14 Private aircraft arriving from areas south of the United States.

(a) Advance report of penetration of United States airspace. All private aircraft arriving in the United States from a foreign place in the Western Hemisphere south of 33 degrees north latitude which cross into the United States over a point on the United States border between 95 and 120 degrees west longitude shall furnish a notice of intended arrival to the Customs Service, either by or at the request of the commander of the aircraft, not less than 15 minutes prior to crossing the border. The notice shall be furnished through the Federal Aviation Administration flight notification procedures or directly to the district director or other Customs officer at the nearest intended place of first landing in the United States. The notice shall include the following:

(1) Aircraft registration number;

(2) Name of aircraft commander;

(3) Number of United States citizen passengers;

(4) Number of alien passengers;

(5) Place of last departure (foreign);

(6) Estimated time and location of crossing United States border;

(7) Name of intended United States airport of first landing (one of the designated airports listed in paragraph (e) of this section, unless an exception has been granted); and

(8) Estimated time of arrival.

(b) Landing requirement. Private aircraft required to furnish a notice of intended arrival in compliance with paragraph (a) of this section shall land for Customs processing at one of the airports listed in paragraph (e) of this section unless exempted from this requirement in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) Private aircraft defined. For the purpose of this section, "private aircraft" means any aircraft other than an aircraft engaged in the transportation of passengers or cargo or both for hire.

(d) Exemption from the landing requirement. The owner or aircraft commander of a private aircraft required to furnish a notice of intended arrival in compliance with paragraph (a) of this section may request an exemption from the landing requirement specified in paragraph (b) of this section. The request shall be submitted to the Customs officer in charge of the airport of first landing at which Customs processing is desired and shall be submitted at least 30 days prior to the anticipated first arrival if the request is for an exemption covering a number of flights over a period of 1 year, or at least 15 days prior to the anticipated arrival if the request is for a single flight. The request shall include the following information:

(1) Aircraft registration number;

(2) Identity of aircraft (make and model number);

(3) Names and addresses of owners of the aircraft;

(4) Names and addresses of all crewmembers;

(5) Names of usual or potential passengers to the extent possible;

(6) Name of anticipated airport of first landing in the United States; and

(7) Place or places from which the flight(s) will originate.

(e) Designated airports.

Title 22—Foreign Relations

CHAPTER II—AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT, DEPARTMENT OF STATE

[A.I.D. Reg. 14]

PART 214—ADVISORY COMMITTEE MANAGEMENT

Title 22, Chapter II, Part 214 (A.I.D. Reg. 14) was originally published in the Federal Register of August 8, 1973 FR 21398). Because of the amendments briefly described below, and the updating of references and dates, Part 214 is republished in its entirety.

CHANGES

§ 214.11 Amended by the addition of language requiring that A.I.D. consultation with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Committee Management Secretariat on the establishment of a new Advisory Committee be in writing.

§ 214.12 A new section on considerations in membership selection.

§ 214.13 Formerly numbered § 214.12.

§ 214.14 Formerly numbered § 214.13.

§ 214.15 A new section on changes in membership.

§ 214.21 Amended by the addition of a provision which limits a committee to two years after it is renewed, unless further renewed prior to its expiration; and addition of a requirement for A.I.D. to notify OMB of a renewal not more than 60 nor less than 30 days prior to expiration, such renewal to be approved by the OMB Secretariat.

§ 214.22 Amended by the addition of a requirement that within A.I.D., renewal documentation is to be submitted to the Administrator 65 days prior to the expiration date.

§ 214.31 Amended by the addition of a requirement that Advisory Committee Representatives maintain current membership lists.

§ 214.33 Amended by a provision that notices of meetings are to explain why if any part of the meeting is to be closed, in addition to the previous requirement for notices to include "the extent to which the public may attend or participate in the meeting"; a provision that notices normally state that meetings are open to the public; and a requirement that in A.I.D., notices of meetings are to be sent to the General Counsel 32 days before the meeting date. This is to ensure publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 214.34 Amended by the addition of a provision that when the A.I.D. Administrator determines that a meeting should be closed, the determination itself is to be available to the public; and a requirement that when all or part of a meeting is closed, the committee shall issue a report at least annually.

§ 214.38 This section, which formerly required an annual report from each committee, is eliminated.

§ 214.39 Renumbered § 214.38 and modified to reflect the above change in committee reporting requirements.

§ 214.44 Revised to reflect current A.I.D. reporting requirements, i.e., a report on the annual comprehensive review of committees due in OMB by November 30, an annual report to GSA due February 1, and notification to OMB if any significant changes in committees occur.

Part 214 of 22 CFR Chapter II is republished as set forth below.

AUTHORITY: Section 621 of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (22 U.S.C. 2381); sec. 8(a) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, P.L. 92-463; and Executive Order 11769.

Subpart A—General

§ 214.1 Purpose.

The regulations in this part prescribe administrative guidelines and management controls for A.I.D. advisory committees. Federal Advisory Committees are governed by the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, P.L. 92-463 (effective January 5, 1973, hereinafter referred to as the Act); Executive Order No. 11769 (February 21, 1974) entitled "Committee Management"; OMB Circular A-63 (March 27, 1974, as amended).

§ 214.2 Definition of advisory committee.

(a) The term "advisory committee" is defined in section 3(2) of the Act.

(b) In general, this definition includes any committee, board, commission, council, conference, panel, task force, or other similar group, or any subcommittee or sub-group thereof, which is formed or utilized by the Agency for obtaining advice or recommendations, and which is not composed wholly of full-time Federal employees.

§ 214.3 A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer.

The Advisory Committee Management Officer is responsible to the Administrator for the establishment of uniform administrative guidelines and management controls which must be consistent with directives of the Director of the OMB under sections 7 and 10 of the Act.

Subpart B—Establishment of Advisory Committees

§ 214.11 Establishment and Chartering Requirements.

Provisions governing the establishment and chartering of Advisory Committees are contained in section 9 of the Act and paragraph 6 of OMB Circular A-63. In summary, these requirements include the following:

(a) Where establishment of an Advisory Committee is not specifically authorized by statute or by the President, the need for a new A.I.D. advisory committee is determined by the A.I.D. Administrator, in accordance with the guidelines set forth in section 5(b) of the Act. The determination also includes a certification that creation of the Committee is in the public interest and a description of the nature and purpose of the Committee.

(b) After written consultation to the OMB Secretariat and notification that the establishment of the Committee would be in accord with the Act, A.I.D. publishes the Administrator's Determination in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least fifteen (15) days prior to the filing of the Committee's Charter.

(c) Each advisory committee established or used by A.I.D. is required to file a charter with the A.I.D. Administrator, the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, before meeting or taking any action.

(d) Advisory committee charters shall include the following information:

(1) Committee's official title;

(2) Committee's objectives and scope of activity;

(3) Period of time necessary for the committee to carry out its purposes;

(4) Agency official to whom the committee reports;

(5) Agency responsible for providing necessary support for the committee;

(6) Description of duties for which the committee is responsible, and, if such duties are not solely advisory, a specification of the authority for such functions;

(7) Estimated annual operating costs in dollars and man-years for the committee;

(8) Estimated number and frequency of committee meetings;

(9) Committee's termination date; and

(10) Date the charter is filed.

(e) A copy of the charter is required to be sent to the Library of Congress, Exchange and Gift Division, Federal Advisory Committee Desk, Washington, D.C. 20540.

§ 214.12 Considerations in Membership Selection.

Membership is to be fairly balanced in terms of points of view represented and functions to be performed. Appropriate attention is also given to factors of sex, race, creed, national origin, and religion.

§ 214.13 Responsibilities within A.I.D.

(a) The A.I.D. Office or Bureau seeking establishment of a new A.I.D. advisory committee:

(1) Justifies the need for the advisory committee to the satisfaction of the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer, the A.I.D. Administrator, and the OMB Secretariat.

(2) Prepares, clears with the Advisory Committee Management Officer and the General Counsel, and submits to the Administrator all documentation necessary to establish or use the advisory committee.

(b) The Advisory Committee Management Officer with assistance as appropriate from the General Counsel and the Office of Legislative Affairs:

(1) Appraises the need for the proposed advisory committee;

(2) Assures that the requirements of the Act and OMB guidelines have been followed;

(3) If satisfied with paragraph (b) (1) and (2) of this section, clears the proposal for submission to the Administrator and obtains OMB concurrence in Agency actions to establish advisory committees;

(4) Maintains the agency file of approved charters and formal determinations;

(5) Publishes approved charters in the Agency's internal directives system;

(6) Reviews proposed committee membership for compliance with legal requirements, including conflict of interest.

(7) Assures publication of the Administrator's formal determinations in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and

(8) Transmits approved advisory committee charters to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and the Library of Congress.

§ 214.14 Charter Revisions.

(a) Sponsoring A.I.D. Bureaus and Offices initiate revisions to advisory committee charters, as necessary, to reflect current information regarding scope, duties, etc.

(b) Charter revision requires clearances by the advisory committee, the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer and the General Counsel; consultation with OMB; approval by the A.I.D. Administrator, and notification of the change to the FEDERAL REGISTER, Congressional committees, and the Library of Congress.

§ 214.15 Changes in membership.

Changes in membership of advisory committees are proposed by the Bureau or Office through which the committee reports, are cleared by the Advisory Committee Management Officer and the Office of the General Counsel, and are approved by the A.I.D. Administrator.

Subpart C—Termination and Renewal of Advisory Committees

§ 214.21 Termination and Renewal Provisions.

Provisions governing the termination and renewal of advisory committees are contained in section 14 of the Act and paragraph 7 of OMB Circular A-63, as amended. As related to A.I.D.-established non-statutory committees, these provisions mean that:

(a) Each such committee which was in existence on January 5, 1973, shall terminate by January 5, 1975, unless it is renewed by the A.I.D. Administrator prior to the latter date.

(b) Each such committee established after January 5, 1973, shall terminate not later than two years after its establishment, unless it is renewed by the A.I.D. Administrator prior to its termination date.

(c) Any committee which is renewed shall continue for not more than two years unless, prior to the expiration of that period, it is renewed.

(d) Renewal requires advance approval of the Administrator in accordance with section 5(c) which requires application of the criteria set forth in section 5(b) of the Act; notification to the OMB Secretariat not more than sixty (60) days nor less than thirty (30) days before the expiration date, and concurrence by the Secretariat; publication of a notice of the renewal; and the filing of a new advisory committee charter with the appropriate House and Senate Committees and to the Library of Congress.

(e) Notification to the OMB Secretariat shall include:

(1) The A.I.D. Administrator's determination that renewal is necessary and is in the public interest;

(2) The reasons for his determination;

(3) The Agency's plan to attain or maintain balanced membership of the committee; and

(4) An explanation of why the committee's functions cannot be performed by the Agency or by an existing advisory committee.

§ 214.22 Responsibilities within A.I.D.

Responsibilities within A.I.D. for the renewal of advisory committees are as follows:

(a) The Office or Bureau through which the advisory committee reports: Prepares, clears with the Advisory Committee Management Officer and the General Counsel, and submits to the Administrator all documentation necessary for committee renewal sixty-five (65) days prior to the expiration date of the Committee.

(b) The Office of General Counsel assists in the preparation of charters; reviews and clears the proposal for conformity with the Act and other requirements; and assures publication of the Administrator's determination of renewal in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) The Office of Legislative Affairs transmits approved advisory committee charters to the House and Senate Committees and to the Library of Congress.

Subpart D—Operation of Advisory Committees

§ 214.31 A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative.

(a) For each advisory committee used by A.I.D., the Administrator designates an A.I.D. employee to serve as the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative.

(b) The designated A.I.D. employee performs functions required by section 10 of the Act and assigned herein. Such functions include:

(1) Calling, or giving advance approval to, advisory committee meetings;

(2) Approving an agenda for each meeting;

(3) Making recommendations on proposals to close meetings, or parts of meetings, to the public; and clearing such recommendations with the Advisory Committee Management Officer and the General Counsel for decisions by the Administrator;

(4) Assuring that advance notices of each meeting (whether open or closed) are published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, provided through other means such as press releases and direct mail, and provided to the Advisory Committee Management Officer.

(5) Assuring that open meetings are accessible to the public;

(6) As specified by the Administrator, chairing or attending each meeting;

(7) Determining the number of committee members necessary to be present at any meeting for the transaction of committee business;

(8) Adjourning any meeting, whenever he determines adjournment to be in the public interest;

(9) Assuring that minutes are kept of each advisory committee meeting and of the meetings of sub-committees and sub-groups, and that such minutes are certified for accuracy by the chairman or presiding officer of the committee; and

(10) Assuring that, subject to section 552 of Title 5 U.S.C., the documents of the advisory committee are made available for public inspection and copying.

(11) Maintaining a current list of members of the advisory committee, and furnishing membership information to the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer on request.

§ 214.32 Calling of Advisory Committee Meetings.

(a) No advisory committee is to hold any meetings except at the call or with the advance approval, of the designated A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative.

(b) Each advisory committee meeting is conducted in accordance with an agenda approved by the designated A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative.

(1) The agenda lists the matters to be considered at the meeting and indicates whether any part of the meeting is concerned with matters which may be exempt from public disclosure under section 552(b) of title 5 U.S.C.

(2) Copies of the agenda are distributed to members of the committee prior to the date of the meeting and are included in the official records of the Advisory Committee.

§ 214.33 Notice of Meetings.

(a) Notice of each advisory committee meeting (whether the meeting is open or closed) shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least fifteen (15) days before the date of the meeting, and should also be provided through other means such as newspaper advertisements, press releases, and direct mail.

(1) Exceptions to the requirement for public notice are granted only for reasons of national security as determined by the Director, OMB and are requested and justified by the Administrator, A.I.D. at least thirty (30) days prior to the meeting.

(2) Exceptions to the fifteen (15) day advance publication requirement are granted in emergency situations or when such notice is otherwise impracticable as determined by the Administrator, A.I.D. In such situations, the facts upon which exception is based are to be included in the Notice of the meeting.

(3) Requests for exceptions under paragraph (a) (1) and (2) of this section are prepared by the Advisory Committee Representative and are cleared by the Advisory Committee Management Officer and the General Counsel prior to submission to the Administrator.

(b) Notices include the name of the advisory committee; the time of the meeting; the purposes of the meeting; a statement regarding the extent to which the public will be permitted to attend and, if any part is closed, why such closure or partial closure is necessary, including citation of the appropriate exemption permitted under the Freedom of Information Act. Thus, A.I.D. Notices of Advisory Committee meetings normally state that the meeting is open to the public and include the place of the meeting; and instructions for gaining access to open meetings which are held in a "secured" building.

(c) Both formal and informal notices are prepared by the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative; formal notices to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER are cleared with the Advisory Committee Management Officer and are sent to the Office of the General Counsel at least thirty-two (32) days before the scheduled meeting date.

(d) Copies of all public notices are provided to the Advisory Committee Management Officer.

§ 214.34 Public Participation.

(a) Each advisory committee meeting is to be open to the public except where:

(1) The Director, OMB, has determined that public notice of a meeting would be inconsistent with national security; or

(2) The Administrator, A.I.D. has formally determined that the meeting, or a part of the meeting, is concerned with matters listed in section 552(b) of title 5 U.S.C. and should therefore, be closed to the public.

(b) Advisory committee requests to close all or part of a meeting or a series of metings are to include the reasons for proposed closure, citing specific exceptions involved under section 552(b) of the Freedom of Information Act. Such requests are submitted by the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative, through the Advisory Committee Management Officer and the General Counsel to the Administrator at least forty (40) days before the scheduled date of the meeting.

(c) The Administrator's determination is to be in writing and is to contain a brief statement of the reasons for closing the meeting (or portion thereof). The determination itself is to be made available to the public on request.

(d) When all or part of an advisory committee meeting is closed and detailed minutes are not to be made available in their entirety to the public, the Committee shall prepare and make available to the public within thirty (30) days of the close of the meeting a summary of its activities and related matters which are informative to the public consistent with the policy of 5 U.S.C. 552(b). Notice of availability of such a summary shall be incorporated in the notice of the meeting published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(e) To facilitate public participation in advisory committee meetings which are to be open or partially open to the public:

(1) Meetings are to be held at a reasonable time and at a place that is accessible to members of the public.

(2) The size of the meeting room is to be large enough to accommodate the Advisory committee, its staff, and those members of the public who might be expected to attend.

(3) Any member of the public is permitted to file a written statement with the committee, before or after the meeting.

(4) Interested persons may be permitted to present oral statements at the meeting in accordance with procedures established by the committee, and to the extent time available for the meeting permits.

(5) Other participation by members of the public is not permitted, except in accordance with procedures established by the committee.

§ 214.35 Minutes of Meetings.

(a) Minutes are to be kept of each meeting of each advisory committee and its formal and informal sub-groups.

(b) The chairman or presiding officer designates a member or other person to keep the minutes.

(c) The minutes are to include:

(1) The time and place of the meeting;

(2) A list of members, staff, and A.I.D. employees attending;

(3) A complete summary of matters discussed and conclusions reached;

(4) Copies of all reports received, issued, or approved;

(5) The extent to which the meeting was open to the public; and

(6) The extent of public participation, including a list of those who presented oral or written statements and a estimate of the number of those who attended the meeting.

(d) The chairman or presiding officer of the advisory committee is to certify to the accuracy of the minutes. The certification is to indicate that "the minutes are an accurate and complete summary of the matters discussed and conclusions reached at the meeting held on (date(s))."

§ 214.36 Records of Advisory Committees.

(a) The A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative is to maintain the records of the advisory committee in a location known to the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer.

(b) Such records are to include the reports, transcripts, minutes, appendices, working papers, drafts, studies, agenda, and other documents which were made available to, or prepared for or by, the advisory committee.

(c) Advisory committee records are maintained and disposed of according to procedures prescribed in the Agency's Handbook 21—Communications, Part III, Records Filing and Disposition Manual.

§ 214.37 Public Access to Committee Records.

(a) Records maintained in accordance with § 214.36 are subject to the Freedom of Information Act 5 U.S.C. section 552 et seq. and, thus, are available for public inspection and copying except where access is denied under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Access to advisory committee records may be denied only where:

(1) Such records relate directly to a meeting which was closed for reasons of national security; or

(2) Such records relate to a meeting or to the part of a meeting which was closed to the public; or

(3) A document is subject to the exemptions listed in 5 U.S.C. 552(b); or

(4) Such records relate to the non-advisory functions of a group which is "utilized" as an advisory committee but was not established for that purpose.

(c) Procedures for requesting access to advisory committee records are the same as those established for Agency records under section 212.33 of AID Regulation 12 (22 CFR Part 212). They are implemented subject to the general oversight of the Advisory Committee Management Officer on behalf of the Agency.

(d) Procedures for denial of access to advisory committee records are the same as those established for Agency records under section 212.36 of AID Regulation 12; except that use of exemption (5) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b) as the basis for denial requires a formal determination by the A.I.D. Administrator that the denial is essential to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid undue interference with agency or advisory committee operation. Implementation of these procedures also are subject to the general oversight of the Advisory Committee Management Officer.

§ 214.38 Submission of reports to the Library of Congress.

(a) Each advisory committee is to file with the Library of Congress eight copies of each of its reports, except where the report falls within an exemption listed in 5 U.S.C. 552(b) or relates to a meeting which was closed for reasons of national security.

(b) The A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative provides copies of committee reports to the Office of Legislative Affairs for transmittal to the Library of Congress; and sends a copy to the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer for inclusion in the Agency's central file on advisory committees.

(c) As appropriate, the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative may also send copies of background papers and other advisory committee documents to Office of Legislative Affairs for transmittal to the Library of Congress.

Subpart E—Administration of Advisory Committees

§ 214.41 Support Services.

(a) A.I.D. provides support services for advisory committees which are established by or report to the Agency, unless the establishing authority provides otherwise.

(b) Within A.I.D., support services are provided by and charged to the allotment of the A.I.D. office or bureau through which the advisory committee reports, and are coordinated by the designated A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative.

(c) Support services include staff, quarters, supplies, and funds.

§ 214.42 Uniform Pay Guidelines.

(a) A.I.D. follows OMB/CSC guidelines in section 11 of OMB Circular A-63 in establishing rates of pay for advisory committee members, staffs, and consultants.

(b) In summary, A.I.D. policy regarding compensation for advisory committee members is as follows:

(1) Advisory committee members who are not employed by the U.S. Government ordinarily serve without compensation. However, they may be reimbursed for travel and related expenses of invitational travel under the provisions of A.I.D. travel regulations.

(2) If committee members are appointed as A.I.D. consultants or experts, their compensation shall be fixed in accordance with CSC guidelines and regulations, and the general agreement between CSC and A.I.D.

(3) Expenses of committee members are charged to the allotments of the A.I.D. office or bureau through which the advisory committee reports.

§ 214.43 Agency Records.

(a) The A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer maintains the Agency's official central files on the nature, functions, and operations of each A.I.D. advisory committee. Central files contain the following information with respect to each A.I.D. advisory committee:

(1) Original copy of Advisory Committee Charter filed with the Administrator;

(2) Official records copy of formal determinations by the A.I.D. Administrator with respect to the establishment, renewal, operation, and termination of the committee;

(3) Annual reports of committee activity;

(4) Designations of Advisory Committee Representatives;

(5) Location of official files of the Advisory Committee.

(b) Each A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representative maintains individual advisory committee files at a location known to the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer. These files contain the following information:

(1) Copies of documents establishing, renewing, and terminating the committee;

(2) Copies of committee charters filed with the A.I.D. Administrator;

(3) Fiscal records which fully disclose the disposition of any funds made available to the committee;

(4) Advisory committee records described above in § 214.36(b) (i.e., the reports, transcripts, minutes, appendices, and other documents which were made available to, or prepared for or by, the committee).

(c) The A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer, the A.I.D. Auditor General, the OMB Secretariat, and the Comptroller General shall have access to these records.

(d) Personnel documentation required by CSC and Agency regulations shall be maintained in the official personnel records of the Office of Personnel and Manpower.

§ 214.44 Annual Review and Reports.

(a) A.I.D. conducts an annual comprehensive review of advisory committees under instructions provided by OMB Circular A-63, Section 10, as amended, and submits required data to OMB on the prescribed format, by November 30 of each year.

(b) A.I.D. reports monthly to OMB on committee terminations or other significant changes in continuing A.I.D. Advisory Committees.

(c) A.I.D. also provides information to the General Services Administration (GSA) for an annual report to Congress. The Agency report is due on February 1 of each year; includes only those advisory committees established by or reporting to A.I.D.; and is submitted on a form prescribed by GSA.

(d) Within A.I.D., the Advisory Committee Management Officer collects required information from the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Representatives; appraises advisory committee activities for the Administrator; and prepares the Agency's reports for the Administrator.

Subpart F—Administrative Remedies

§ 214.51 Administrative review of denial for public access to records.

Any person whose request for access to an advisory committee document is denied may seek administrative review in accordance with § 212.36(c) of A.I.D. Regulation 12, 22 CFR 212.36(c).

§ 214.52 Administrative review of other alleged non-compliance.

With regard to other alleged non-compliance with the Act, OMB Circular A-63, or this regulation, the following procedures are to be used:

(a) Advisory committee members or other aggrieved individuals or organizations must file a written complaint which contains specific information regarding the alleged non-compliance.

(b) The written complaint must be addressed to the Administrator or Deputy Administrator, Agency for International Development, 21st and Virginia Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20523.

(c) The complaint must be filed within thirty (30) days after the date of the alleged non-compliance.

(d) The complaint will be considered by the Administrator or Deputy Administrator with the advice and assistance of the General Counsel and the A.I.D. Advisory Committee Management Officer.

(e) Written notice of the disposition of the complaint shall be provided to the complainant within thirty (30) days of the date the complaint was received by the Agency.

Effective date. This regulation is effective July 28, 1975.

Dated: July 28, 1975.

Title 24—Housing and Urban Development

CHAPTER IV—OFFICE OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR HOUSING MANAGEMENT, DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

[Docket No. R-75-257]

SUBCHAPTER N—DISASTER RELIEF

PART 470—TEMPORARY HOUSING PRE-TERMINATION PROCEDURE

Notice was given on March 15, 1974 at 39 F.R. 9985 that the Department of Housing and Urban Development was proposing to amend Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations by adding a new Subchapter N, Disaster Relief, and a new Part 470—Temporary Housing Pre-Termination Procedures.

The purpose of Part 470 is to prescribe pre-termination hearing procedures to be followed by all HUD offices regarding termination of HUD-assistance for, or eviction by HUD from, temporary housing provided under the Disaster Relief Act of 1970 or the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 (collectively referred to as "the Acts") during a disaster emergency.

The Department received only two responses to the March 15, 1974 publication. These comments were seriously considered and adopted in full by incorporation of the following changes in Sections 470.3(b) and 470.6(c) of the regulations. As a result of the comments, the requested changes are made as follows:

(1) Section 470.3(b) is revised to require that the tenant receive a notice in writing of his right to request a hearing and;

(2) Section 470.6(c) is revised to provide that the requirement for deposit of the amount of rentals or other charges disputed in an escrow account may be waived by HUD in extenuating circumstances.

The Assistant Secretary for Housing Management has determined that the public interest would best be served by making these regulations effective immediately since this procedure will provide increased benefits in the form of basic safeguards of due process for tenants with respect to termination of assistance or eviction. Therefore, deferral of the effective date under 5 U.S.C. 553(d) is waived and these regulations shall become effective upon publication.

The Department has determined that an Environmental Impact Statement is not required with respect to this rule. The Finding of Inapplicability is available for inspection at the Office of General Counsel, Rules Docket Clerk, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Room 10245, 451 7th Street SW., Washington, D.C.

Accordingly, Title 24 is amended as follows:

A new Subchapter N, Disaster Relief, and a new Part 470, Temporary Housing Pre-Termination Procedure, are added to Chapter IV to read as set forth hereinafter:

Sec.
470.1 Purpose.
470.2 Termination of Benefits.
470.3 Administrative Procedure Prior to Hearing.
470.4 Request for Hearing.
470.5 Hearing Panel.
470.6 Hearing.
470.7 Decision.
470.8 Appeal from Decision.
470.9 Notice to Vacate Premises.
470.10 Termination of Assistance.

AUTHORITY: Section 7(d) Department of Housing and Urban Development Act (79 Stat. 670, 42 U.S.C. 3535(d)).

§ 470.1 Purpose.

The purpose of this Part is to prescribe a pre-termination hearing procedure to be followed by HUD regarding termination of assistance for, or eviction from, temporary housing provided under the Disaster Relief Act of 1970 and the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 (the "Acts") during a disaster emergency. This procedure is applicable to any dispute with respect to HUD action terminating assistance for, or evicting a tenant from, such temporary housing, and is available to any tenant (including an occupant) of such housing who is or may be adversely affected by the action.

§ 470.2 Termination of Benefits.

Written notice shall be delivered to the tenant at least 30 days prior to the proposed termination by HUD of assistance for or eviction by HUD from temporary housing, specifying the reasons for termination of assistance of tenancy; the date of termination, which shall be not less than 30 days after receipt of the notice; and the administrative procedure available to the tenant if he wishes to dispute the action.

§ 470.3 Administrative Procedure Prior to Hearing.

(a) Filing of Complaint. If the tenant desires to dispute the termination, upon receipt of the written notice specified in § 470.2, he shall present his complaint in writing to the appropriate HUD office in person or by mail within 5 business days or such additional time as HUD may for good cause allow. The complaint must be signed by the tenant and give the reasons or grounds why the assistance or tenancy should not be terminated and for any other action requested.

(b) Informal Conference. The appropriate HUD official shall, immediately upon receipt of the complaint, attempt to arrange an informal conference with the complaining tenant in an effort to settle the matter without a hearing. Whether or not the matter is settled by an informal conference, an answer in writing to each complaint, dated and signed by the appropriate HUD official, shall be delivered or mailed to the complainant within 5 business days after receipt of the complaint or such additional time as HUD may for good cause allow. The answer shall specify the determination which has been made, based on consideration of the information in the complaint and/or provided at any informal conference, and the specific reasons for the determination. If the determination is made to terminate the assistance or the tenancy, the tenant shall be advised in writing of his right to request a hearing on the matter within ten business days after receipt of the determination and of the procedure for obtaining such a hearing.

§ 470.4 Request for Hearing.

If the tenant desires to dispute any determination made under § 470.3, he may submit in writing a request for a hearing to the appropriate HUD office in person or by mail within ten business days after receipt of the determination. A hearing date shall be scheduled promptly for a time and place reasonably convenient to the complaining tenant who shall be notified promptly thereof in writing. The notice of hearing shall specify the procedure governing the hearing.

§ 470.5 Hearing Panel.

(a) The Hearing Panel shall consist of three members: One tenant member, one member representing HUD, and one impartial and disinterested member (together with an alternate) who shall be chosen by the other two Hearing Panel members. Relatives of the complaining tenant, and officials and employees of HUD whose duties or responsibilities have involved them in any way with the complaint, shall not be eligible to serve on the Panel. The impartial and disinterested member of the Panel shall not be an official or employee of the HUD office in which the complaint originated or a tenant receiving temporary housing assistance under the Acts. In the event that the two Hearing Panel members cannot agree on the third impartial member, the third member shall be appointed by the Commercial Arbitration Tribunal of the American Arbitration Association.

(b) In the event that no tenant is available for selection as a member of the Hearing Panel in accordance with these regulations, then the hearing shall be conducted by a single impartial and disinterested Hearing Officer appointed in the same manner as provided in § 470.5 (a) for appointment of the impartial member of a Hearing Panel.

§ 470.6 Hearing.

(a) Due Process Requirement. The complaining tenant shall be afforded a fair hearing providing the basic safeguards of due process before the Hearing Panel and may be represented by counsel or another person chosen as his representative. The hearing shall be private unless the complainant requests and the Hearing Panel agrees to a public hearing. This restriction shall not be construed to limit the attendance of persons with a valid interest in the proceedings.

(b) Availability of Documents. The complainant may examine before the hearing and, at his expense, copy all documents and records of the appropriate HUD office that are relevant to the hearing. Any document not made available, after request therefor by the complainant, may not be relied on by HUD at the hearing. The complainant may request in advance and at his expense a transcript of the hearing.

(c) Deposit of Rentals and Other Charges. If the dispute involves rentals or other charges which HUD claims are due, the complainant shall deposit the amount in dispute in an escrow account before a hearing is scheduled. This requirement may be waived by HUD in extenuating circumstances. Failure to make such deposit shall not constitute a waiver of complainant's right to contest HUD's disposition of his complaint in an appropriate judicial proceeding.

(d) Failure to Appear. If a complainant fails to appear at a hearing, the Hearing Panel may postpone the Hearing for not to exceed five business days or make a determination that complainant has waived his right to a hearing. Such determination shall not constitute a waiver of complainant's right to contest HUD's disposition of his complaint in an appropriate judicial proceeding.

(e) Proof. At the hearing, the complainant must first make a prima facie case; thereafter, HUD must sustain the burden of proof in justifying the action against which the complaint is directed. The complainant shall have the right to present evidence and arguments in support of his complaint, to controvert evidence relied on by HUD, and to confront in a reasonable manner and cross-examine all witnesses on whose testimony or information HUD relies. Hearings shall be conducted informally by the Hearing Panel and any oral or documentary evidence pertinent to the facts and issues raised by the complaint may be received without regard to its admissibility under rules of evidence employed in judicial proceedings.

§ 470.7 Decision.

The decision of the Hearing Panel shall be based solely and exclusively upon facts presented at the hearing and upon applicable Federal and State law, and HUD regulations and requirements promulgated thereunder. The Hearing Panel shall prepare a written decision setting forth a statement of findings and conclusions, together with the reasons or basis therefor, upon all material issues raised by the parties, within 5 business days after the hearing, or such additional time as HUD may for good cause allow. The decision of the Hearing Panel shall be binding on HUD which shall take all actions necessary to carry out the decision or refrain from any action prohibited by the decision unless the HUD General Counsel determines and notifies the complainant in writing within 30 days, or such additional time as HUD may for good cause allow, that the decision of the Hearing Panel is not legally supportable. Any such decision of the HUD General Counsel may be judicially reviewed.

§ 470.8 Appeal from Decision.

A decision by the Hearing Panel in favor of HUD or which denies the relief requested by the complainant in whole or in part shall not constitute a waiver of, nor affect in any manner whatever, rights he may have to a trial de novo in judicial proceedings which may thereafter be brought in the matter. In such judicial proceedings, HUD shall, by stipulation or other appropriate means, be limited to invoking against the complainant the grounds originally relied on by HUD in its proposed disposition of the complaint, but may respond to any new matters raised by the complainant.

§ 470.9 Notice to Vacate Premises.

If the tenant has requested a hearing on a notice of termination of tenancy pursuant to § 470.2 and the Hearing Panel upholds HUD's decision to evict, an action to regain possession may not be commenced until the tenant's right to use and occupancy of the premises has been terminated by lawful written notice. Such notice to vacate may not be given prior to the date on which the Hearing Panel's decision is delivered or mailed to the tenant. In no case may eviction occur prior to the termination date stated in the original notice of termination of tenancy. When such notice to vacate is given to the tenant, he must be informed in writing that, if he fails to quit the premises within three days, appropriate action will be brought against him, and that, if suit is brought against him, he may be required to pay court costs and attorney fees. If the tenant elects to contest the legal action, HUD must establish that the reasons on which it relied in the administrative proceedings constitute good cause for eviction under applicable laws and regulations.

§ 470.10 Termination of Assistance.

If the Hearing Panel upholds HUD's decision to terminate assistance for temporary housing, such assistance may be terminated in accordance with the original notice given pursuant to § 470.2 at any time after the 30 days specified in the original notice have elapsed.

Effective Date. This Part 470 is effective August 7, 1975.

H. R. CRAWFORD,
Assistant Secretary for Housing Management.

PART 1920—PROCEDURE FOR MAP CORRECTION

Letter of Map Amendment for County of De Kalb, Georgia

On June 5, 1970, in 35 F.R. 8733, the Federal Insurance Administrator published a list of communities with Special Flood Hazard Areas and the map number and locations where Flood Hazard Boundary Maps were available for public inspection. This list included De Kalb County, Georgia, as an eligible community and included Map No. H 130065 06, which indicates that the subdivision known as Creek Forest Club Apartments, 2940 Corsair Drive, Decatur, Georgia, as recorded in Deed Book 2935, Page 556, in the Office of the Clerk of De Kalb County, Georgia, is in its entirety within the Special Flood Hazard Area. It has been determined by the Federal Insurance Administration, after further technical review of the above map in light of additional, recently acquired flood information, that the existing structures on the above mentioned property are not within the Special Flood Hazard Area. Accordingly, effective June 5, 1970, Map No. H 130065 06 is hereby corrected to reflect that the existing structures on the above property are not within the Special Flood Hazard Area.

(National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968), effective January 28, 1969 (33 F.R. 17804, November 28, 1968), as amended, 42 U.S.C. 4001–4128; and Secretary's delegation of authority to Federal Insurance Administrator 34 F.R. 2680, February 27, 1969, as amended by 39 F.R. 2787, January 24, 1974.)

Letter of Map Amendment for Town of Glastonbury, Connecticut

On April 10, 1973, in 38 F.R. 9087, the Federal Insurance Administrator published a list of communities with Special Flood Hazard Areas and the map number and locations where Flood Hazard Boundary Maps were available for public inspection. This list included the Town of Glastonbury, Connecticut, as an eligible community and included Map No. H 090124 01, which indicates that the subdivision called Meadow Hill, Glastonbury, Connecticut, as recorded in Drawer 33, Maps 17 and 23, in the office of the Town Clerk of Glastonbury, Connecticut, is in its entirety within the Special Flood Hazard Area. It has been determined by the Federal Insurance Administration, after further technical review of the above map in light of additional, recently acquired flood information, that Parcels 1, 2, A-1, C-1, C-2, C-3, C-4, and C-5 of the above mentioned subdivision are not within the Special Flood Hazard Area. Accordingly, effective April 20, 1973, Map No. H 090124 01 is hereby corrected to reflect that the above property is not within the Special Flood Hazard Area.

PART 1920—PROCEDURE FOR MAP CORRECTION

Letter of Map Amendment for County of Dade, Florida

On September 30, 1972, in 37 F.R. 20535, the Federal Insurance Administrator published a list of communities with Special Flood Hazard Areas and the map number and locations where Flood Insurance Rate Maps were available for public inspection. This list included the County of Dade, Florida, as an eligible community and included Map No. H 125098 21, which indicates that 9891 S.W. 67th Avenue, Miami, Florida, as recorded in Book 8923, Page 1065, in the office of the Circuit Court Clerk and County Recorder of Dade County, Florida, is in its entirety within the Special Flood Hazard Area. It has been determined by the Federal Insurance Administration, after further technical review of the above map in light of additional, recently acquired flood information, that the above mentioned property is within Zone B, and is not within the Special Flood Hazard Area. Accordingly, effective August 14, 1970, Map No. H 125098 21 is hereby corrected to reflect that the above property is not within the Special Flood Hazard Area.

(National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968), effective January 28, 1969 (33 F.R. 17804, November 28, 1968), as amended, 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128; and Secretary's delegation of authority to Federal Insurance Administrator 34 F.R. 2680, February 27, 1969, as amended by 39 F.R. 2787, January 24, 1974.)

PART 1920—PROCEDURE FOR MAP CORRECTION

Letter of Map Amendment for Village of Palatine, Illinois

On February 20, 1973, in 38 F.R. 4669, the Federal Insurance Administrator published a list of communities with Special Flood Hazard Areas and the map number and locations where Flood Insurance Rate Maps were available for public inspection. This list included the Village of Palatine, Illinois, as an eligible community and included Map No. H 175170 02 which indicates that 463 Warwick Road, being Lot 54, Pebble Creek Subdivision, Palatine, Illinois, as recorded in Book 745, Page 18 in the office of the Clerk of Cook County, Illinois, is in its entirety within the Special Flood Hazard Area. It has been determined by the Federal Insurance Administration, after further technical review of the above map in light of additional, recently acquired flood information, that the above property is not within the Special Flood Hazard Area. The structure on this property is located in Zone C. Accordingly, effective February 16, 1973, Map No. H 175170 02 is hereby corrected to reflect that the above property is not within the Special Flood Hazard Area.

Title 25—Indians

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

PART 221—OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

Flathead Irrigation Project

On page 27035 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 26, 1975, there was published a notice of intention to amend § 221.24, 221.26, and 221.28 of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with the irrigable lands of the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, that are subject to the jurisdiction of the several irrigation districts. The purpose of the amendments is to establish the lump sum assessment against the Flathead, Mission and Jocko Valley Irrigation Districts within the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project for the 1976 season.

Interested persons were given 30 days within which to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed amendments. No comments, suggestions or objections have been received, and the proposed amendments are hereby adopted without change as set forth below.

Sections 221.24, 221.26, and 221.28 are revised to read as follows:

§ 221.24 Charges.

Pursuant to a contract executed by the Flathead Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on May 12, 1928, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated February 27, 1929, March 28, 1934, August 26, 1936, and April 5, 1950, there is hereby fixed for the season of 1976 an assessment of $414,017.32 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Flathead Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 87,161.54 acres, which does not include any land held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

Section 221.26 is revised to read as follows:

§ 221.26 Charges.

Pursuant to a contract executed by the Mission Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on March 7, 1931, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on April 21, 1931, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated June 2, 1934, June 6, 1936, and May 16, 1951, there is hereby fixed, for the season of 1976 an assessment of $78,137.49 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Mission Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 16,244.80 acres, which does not include any land held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

Section 221.28 is revised to read as follows:

§ 221.28 Charges.

Pursuant to a contract executed by the Jocko Valley Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on November 13, 1931, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on February 26, 1935, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated August 26, 1936, April 14, 1950, and August 24, 1967, there is hereby fixed for the season of 1976 an assessment of $42,914.22 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Jocko Valley Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 7,528.81 acres, which does not include any lands held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

Title 28—Judicial Administration

CHAPTER I—DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

[Order No. 615–75]

PART 0—ORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

PART 16—PRODUCTION OR DISCLOSURE OF MATERIAL OR INFORMATION

Transfer of Function of Acting on Freedom of Information Appeals to the Deputy Attorney General

Under the Justice Department's regulations for administering the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552, requests for access to Justice Department records, if denied by the head of a division, bureau, or similar component of the Department, may be the subject of an appeal by the requester to the Attorney General. The purpose of the present order is to enable the Deputy Attorney General to act on the Attorney General's behalf upon the majority of such appeals, preserving to the Attorney General, however, the function of acting personally or assigning another official of the Department to act for him in designated cases, as well as in all cases where the initial determination to deny has been made by the Deputy Attorney General.

By virtue of the authority vested in me by 28 U.S.C. 509 and 510, and 5 U.S.C. 301 and 552, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. 28 CFR Part 16, Subpart A, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

(A) § 16.7, Appeals to the Attorney General from Initial Denials, is amended by redesignating paragraphs (b) through (f) as (c) through (g), respectively, and by inserting a new paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) Action on Appeals by the Deputy Attorney General. Unless the Attorney General otherwise directs, the Deputy Attorney General shall act on behalf of the Attorney General on all appeals under this section, except that (1) in the case of an initial denial by the Deputy Attorney General, the Attorney General or his designee shall act on the appeal, and (2) an initial denial by the Attorney General shall constitute the final action of the Department on the request.

(B) The following conforming amendments are hereby made:

(1) § 16.7(c), as redesignated (Action within twenty working days), is amended by substituting in lieu of the words "The Attorney General will act upon the appeal" the words "The appeal will be acted upon".

(2) § 16.7(f), as redesignated (Form of action on appeal), is amended by striking the words "Attorney General's".

(3) § 16.7(g), as redesignated (Copies to Deputy Attorney General), is amended by substituting in lieu of the words "supplied to and maintained by" the words "maintained by and when necessary supplied to".

(4) § 16.8(b) (Maintenance of file open to public), is amended by striking the words "by the Attorney General".

2. Section 0.18 of 28 CFR, Part O, Subpart C, as amended, (Freedom of Information Appeals Unit) is hereby further amended by striking the words "the Attorney General".

Dated: August 1, 1975.

EDWARD H. LEVI,
Attorney General.

Title 40—Protection of Environment

CHAPTER I—ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[FRL 404–3]

PART 52—APPROVAL AND PROMULGATION OF IMPLEMENTATION PLANS

Idaho: Approval of Revisions

Section 110 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, and the implementing regulations of 40 CFR Part 51, require each state to submit a plan which provides for the attainment and maintenance of the national ambient air quality standards throughout the state. On May 31, 1972 (37 FR 10842), pursuant to Section 110 of the Clean Air Act and 40 CFR Part 51, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approved, with specific exceptions, the State of Idaho Air Quality Implementation Plan.

On January 10 and January 24, 1975 the Governor of the State of Idaho submitted for the Administrator's approval several revisions to the State Implementation Plan (SIP). The revisions include amendments to the "Rules and Regulations for the Control of Air Pollution in Idaho," as outlined below:

1. An amended Regulation C, Ambient Air Quality Standards.

2. An amended Regulation A, General Provisions.

3. A revised Regulation S, Control of Sulfur Oxide Emissions.

This Notice of Final Rulemaking pertains only to Regulations C and A, which relate to the standard for sulfur oxides and Scheduled Maintenance, respectively. The approval or disapproval of Regulation S will be prepared in a separate FEDERAL REGISTER Notice of Final Rulemaking.

On April 10, 1975 (40 FR 16218) EPA published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in the FEDERAL REGISTER proposing approval of Regulations A and C and invited public comment on whether the proposed revisions should be approved or disapproved. No comments were received during the 30-day comment period.

The revisions to Regulation A include the addition of several definitions to Section 2 and a revision to Section 6, Scheduled Maintenance, which requires the reporting of any exceeded emission limits resulting from the shutdown of any air pollution control equipment for scheduled maintenance while the related equipment continues operation. The section provides that permission of the State Department of Health and Welfare must be obtained prior to such a shutdown and permission may be granted only if maximum reasonable effort has been made to complete such maintenance during periods of non-operation of the related equipment.

Regulation C has been amended by the State to maintain consistency with EPA's standards for sulfur oxides, as amended on September 14, 1973 (38 FR 25678). The maximum 3-hour secondary standard under the amended Regulation C is 1,300 micrograms per cubic meter (0.5 ppm).

The Administrator has thoroughly reviewed and evaluated the proposed revisions to the State of Idaho Air Quality Implementation Plan. Having determined that they meet the requirements of Section 110 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, and 40 CFR Part 51, he is therefore today approving Regulations C and A as submitted on January 10 and January 24, 1975, respectively, as revisions to the federally approved State Implementation Plan.

The Administrator finds good cause for making this rulemaking effective immediately as the regulations are already in effect under State law and EPA's action imposes no additional substantive burdens on the affected parties.

This Notice of Final Rulemaking is issued under the authority of Section 110 of the Clean Air Act, as amended. (42 U.S.C. 1857c–5).

Dated: July 31, 1975.

JOHN QUARLES,
Administrator.

PART 52—APPROVAL AND PROMULGATION OF IMPLEMENTATION PLANS

Approval of Revision to Oregon Implementation Plan

Section 110 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, and the implementing regulations of 40 CFR Part 51, require each State to submit a plan which provides for the implementation, maintenance and enforcement of national ambient air quality standards throughout the State. On May 31, 1972 (37 FR 10842), the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approved the State of Oregon Clean Air Act Implementation Plan (SIP). Contained in that approved SIP is Chapter 340 of the Oregon Administrative Rules (OAR), Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ).

On February 8, 1973, the Director of DEQ submitted for the Administrator's approval, after proper notice and public hearing in accordance with 40 CFR 51.4 and 51.6, amended 340 OAR §§ 25–155 through 25–195, Kraft Pulp Mills, as a proposed revision to the approved SIP.

On February 19, 1974 (39 FR 6130), EPA published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking inviting public comment on whether the proposed revision to the Kraft pulp mill regulation, as well as several other revisions to the Oregon SIP, should be approved or disapproved as an SIP revision. The action being taken by the Administrator today addresses only the Kraft pulp mill regulation. A Notice of Final Rulemaking regarding the other revisions will be published in a separate FEDERAL REGISTER. No comments were received on the Kraft pulp mill regulation during the 30-day public comment period.

The Administrator has thoroughly reviewed and evaluated amended 340 OAR §§ 25–155 through 25–195 and has determined that the revised regulation, as it relates to particulate matter and sulfur dioxide, meets the requirements of the Clean Air Act, as amended, and 40 CFR Part 51. In addition to particulate matter and sulfur dioxide, the amended regulation sets specific emission limitations for total reduced sulfur (TRS). Because TRS is not a pollutant for which a national ambient air quality standard has been established, the Administrator is taking no action to either approve or disapprove that portion of the regulation relating to TRS and it is not to be considered as an official portion of the SIP. Consequently that portion of the submission is not enforceable by EPA.

The revised regulation sets specific emission limitations for particulate matter from recovery furnaces and lime kilns which were effective as of May 1, 1975, and from smelt dissolving tanks which were effective immediately as of March 1, 1973. It also sets a specific emission limitation for sulfur dioxide from recovery furnaces to be effective July 1, 1975. The regulation at the time of submittal was not approvable because the future-effective emission limitations for particulate matter (for recovery furnaces and lime kilns) and for sulfur dioxide were not accompanied by legally enforceable compliance schedules as required by 40 CFR 51.15(a)(1). Furthermore, compliance schedules extending over a period of more than one year from the date of adoption by a State agency must include, where practicable, legally enforceable increments of progress toward compliance (40 CFR 51.15(c)). The regulation, as submitted, contains only final compliance dates. However, at this point in time, the remaining final compliance date in the regulation is too close to make interim increments of progress meaningful. Accordingly, the Administrator has determined that the regulation is now approvable as submitted, and hereby approves it without requiring supplemental compliance schedules.

Furthermore, the Administrator, on August 23, 1973 (38 FR 22746), promulgated schedules for bringing Kraft pulp mills in Oregon into compliance with the Oregon Kraft pulp mill emission limitations. These schedules are no longer necessary. Therefore, the Administrator is today revoking 40 CFR 52.1975(c) (3), (4) and (5).

VOL 153 AUG 7 75 XU

In addition, the Administrator is today correcting an error that occurred in the promulgation of compliance schedules for sulfite pulp mills for Oregon on August 23, 1973. In 40 CFR 52.1975(c)(6), reference is made to subparagraphs (5) and (6). The subparagraphs referred to are actually numbered (7) and (8). Section 52.1975(c)(6), as corrected, is reprinted below.

The Administrator finds good cause for making this rulemaking effective immediately as the Oregon Kraft pulp mill regulation is already in effect under State law and approval by EPA therefore imposes no additional burden on the parties affected.

This Notice of Final Rulemaking is issued under the authority of Section 110 of the Clean Air Act, as amended. (42 U.S.C. 1857c-5).

Dated: July 31, 1975.

PART 14-1—GENERAL

Definition of Small Business for Surety Bond Guarantee Assistance

Pursuant to the authority of the Secretary of the Interior contained in 5 U.S.C. 301, Part 14-1 of Chapter 14 of Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations is hereby amended as stated herein.

It is the general policy of the Department of the Interior to allow time for interested parties to participate in the rulemaking process. However, the amendments herein are revisions based on amended regulations issued under §121.3-15 of 13 CFR Chapter 1 pertaining to the definition of small business for the purpose of surety bond guarantee assistance. Because the amendments are entirely administrative in nature, the public rulemaking process is waived in this instance and the amendments stated herein are effective immediately.

PART 101-45—SALE, ABANDONMENT, OR DESTRUCTION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

Gold

This regulation provides for the implementation of Public Law 93-110 and Public Law 93-373, which repealed the prohibition and penalties of sections 3 and 4 of the Gold Reserve Act of 1934 (31 U.S.C. 442 and 443), regarding holding, selling, dealing in, or possessing gold.

The table of contents for Part 101-45 is amended by revising the following entry:

Sec.
101-45.309-9 Gold.

Subpart 101-45.3—Sale of Personal Property

Section 101-45.309-9 is revised to read as follows:

§ 101-45.309-9 Gold.

(a) Gold will be sold in accordance with § 101-45.304 and this § 101-45.309-9.

(b) Sales of gold shall be processed to:

(1) Use the sealed bid method of sale;

(2) Require a 20 percent bid deposit;

(3) Certify all forms of bid deposit and payments; and

(4) Include in the invitation for bids only gold and such other precious and semiprecious materials as may be available for sale at that time.

(c) Each agency generating scrap gold and also having a continuing need for fine gold shall, instead of sale, arrange with a private refiner or the U.S. Assay Office in New York, as appropriate, for the acceptance of scrap gold in exchange for fine gold. Such exchanges will avoid the necessity of spending funds for the acquisition of fine gold. The exchange of scrap gold for fine gold at the U.S. Assay Office in New York will be based on the actual costs incurred by that office.

(Sec. 205(c), 63 Stat. 390; 40 U.S.C. 486(c)).

Effective date. This regulation is effective August 7, 1975.

Dated: July 28, 1975.

[IPMR Release No. 96]

Miscellaneous Amendments

Pursuant to the authority of the Secretary of the Interior contained in 5 U.S.C. 301, and Sec. 205(c), 63 Stat. 390; 40 U.S.C. 486(c), Section 114-42.203, 114-43.000, 114-45.000, and 114-47.000 of Chapter 114, Title 41 of the Code of Federal Regulations, are amended as set forth below.

Since these amendments relate to matters of internal policy only, it is determined that the proposed rule-making procedure is unnecessary and these amendments shall become effective on August 7, 1975.

PART 114-42—PROPERTY REHABILITATION SERVICES AND FACILITIES

Subpart 114-42.2—Property Rehabilitation Services Performed by Federal Facilities

Section 114-42.203 is revised to read as follows:

§ 114-42.203 Notifications.

Should any Bureau or Office propose to establish or substantially expand existing facilities for the repair, maintenance, rehabilitation, or reclamation of personal property, the details of such proposal should be embodied in a letter, prepared for the signature of the Assistant Secretary—Management, and addressed to:

Administrator, General Services Administration (FW), Washington, D.C. 20408.

The letter should include, as a minimum, all of the information called for in FPMR 101-42.203(b).

PART 114-43—UTILIZATION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

Section 114-43.000 is revised to read as follows:

§ 114-43.000 Scope of part.

The provisions of this part are applicable to all available and excess personal property under the jurisdiction of Bureaus and Offices of the Department of the Interior, except that it does not include policies governing the reutilization of excess automatic data processing equipment and supplies covered in FPMR 101-32.3. They apply to:

(a) Personal property located in the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands and,

(b) Foreign excess personal property.

PART 114-45—SALE, ABANDONMENT, OR DESTRUCTION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

Section 114-45.000 is revised to read as follows:

§ 114-45.000 Scope of part.

(a) This part applies to disposal by public sale, abandonment, or destruction of personal property under the jurisdiction of Bureaus and Offices of the Department of the Interior (including scrap, salvage, and waste material) when such property is no longer needed for use in authorized Federal agency programs or is replaced with a similar type of property. It applies to personal property located in the United States the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

(b) This part does not apply to:

(1) Foreign excess personal property or,

(2) Properties which are sold or otherwise disposed of pursuant to special statutes authorizing, directing, or requiring the Department of the Interior to dispose of specific properties such as helium, maps, electrical power, irrigation and municipal water, trust properties of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and other properties which are disposed of in furtherance of Interior programs, except as provided in IPMR 114-45.316 and 114-45.317.

PART 114-47—UTILIZATION AND DISPOSAL OF REAL PROPERTY

Section 114-47.000 is revised to read:

§ 114-47.000 Scope of part.

The provisions of this part are applicable to all available, excess, and surplus real property and related personal property under the jurisdiction of Bureaus and Offices of the Department of the Interior in the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

Determination of Eligibility of Supplemental Security Income Beneficiaries for Food Stamps or Surplus Commodities; Postponement of Effective Date

Regulations requiring State agencies to determine the eligibility of certain Supplemental Security Income beneficiaries for food stamps or surplus commodities were published on December 13, 1973 (38 FR 34324) to be effective January 1, 1974. The regulations implemented certain provisions of Public Law 93-86, the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. A further postponement, to July 1, 1975, was published on August 28, 1974 (39 FR 31322), in accordance with Public Law 93-335.

The effective date has now been postponed until July 1, 1976 by Public Law 94-44, signed by the President on June 28, 1975.

Accordingly, the regulations in 45 CFR 205.25 of this chapter shall not be effective until July 1, 1976.

PART 0—COMMISSION ORGANIZATION

Chief Engineer

In the matter of amendment of Part O of the Commission's Rules to reflect a reorganization of the Office of Chief Engineer.

1. On April 4, 1975 the Commission approved the transfer of the type certification application processing function from the Office of Chief Engineer, International and Operations Division to the Office of Chief Engineer, Laboratory Division. Consolidating the type acceptance, type approval, and type certification programs at the Laboratory will improve the administration of these programs and contribute to program efficiency.

2. The amendment adopted herein pertains to agency organization. The prior notice, procedure, and effective date provisions of Section 533(b) (3) (A) of the Administrative Procedure and Judicial Review Act are therefore inapplicable. Authority for the amendments adopted herein is contained in Section 4(i) and 5(b) of the Commission's Act of 1934, as amended and in Section 0.231(d) of the Commission's Rules.

3. In view of the foregoing, IT IS ORDERED effective July 25, 1975, Part O of the Rules and Regulations is amended as set forth below.

Adopted: April 4, 1975.

Released: July 31, 1975.

PART 1—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

Fee Schedule and Commercial Radio Operator Licenses; Correction

In the matter of amendment of Subpart G of Part 1 of the Commission's Rules relating to the schedule of fees.

Amendment of Part 13 of the Commission's Rules relating to commercial radio operator licenses.

1. The Second Report and Order in the instant proceeding, FCC 75-182, adopted February 11, 1975, amended the rules, inter alia, to require the payment of annual license fees for the period April 1, 1973 to February 28, 1975 (40 FR 8186, February 26, 1975). Subparagraph 1.1102(e)(2) provided, in part, that "the fee applicable to the period after December 31, 1974 shall be the fee prescribed in § 1.1111(a)(5) of this chapter." Section 1.1111(a)(5) relates to fees applicable to assignments and transfers. It was our intention to cite subparagraph § 1.1111(a)(6) which does prescribe annual license fees. The text of the report and order made clear that reference to the subparagraph imposing the regular annual fee rather than to the one imposing assignment and transfer fees was intended.

2. Accordingly, we are amending the appendix of the Second Report and Order in Docket No. 19658 to correct this minor editorial error.

3. Section 1.1102(e)(2) of the rules is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.1102 Payment of fees.

* * * * *

(e) * * *

(2) Each broadcast station shall pay an annual license fee to the Commission for the period April 1, 1973–February 28, 1975. The fee applicable to the period after December 31, 1974 shall be the fee prescribed in § 1.1111(a)(6) of this chapter. The fee applicable to the period April 1, 1973–December 31, 1974 is as follows:

(i) For AM and FM stations: The annual license fee will be a payment equal to 6.7 times the station's highest single "one minute" spot announcement rate, but in no event shall the annual license fee for each AM and each FM station be less than $25.00.

(ii) For television broadcast stations: The annual license fee will be a payment equal to 3.4 times the station's highest "30-second" spot announcement rate, but in no event shall the annual fee be less than $100.00.

PART 73—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Report and Order

In the matter of amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Bastrop and Farmerville, Louisiana) Docket No. 20313, RM-2249.

1. The Commission here considers its Notice of Proposed Rule Making issued in this proceeding (40 Fed. Reg. 1716 (1975)) which proposed amendment of the FM Table of Assignments, Section 73.202(b) of the Commission Rules, to assign Channel 261A to Bastrop, Louisiana, as its second FM assignment. Also considered herein is a counterproposal, which is mutually exclusive with the Bastrop proposal, to assign Channel 261A to Farmerville, Louisiana, as its first FM assignment.

2. The counterproposal is technically defective inasmuch as its proponent, Union Broadcasting Co., Inc. (Union), licensee of daytime-only AM Station KTDL, Farmerville, failed to serve a copy of its counterproposal on the proponent of the Bastrop proposal, Stan R. Hagan (Hagan), president and principal stockholder of Hagan Broadcasting, Inc., licensee of unlimited-time Class IV AM Station KVOB, Bastrop, as required by Section 1.420(a) of the Commission Rules. However, we believe that it is in the public interest to accept this counterproposal and avoid the harsh result of a dismissal. We do so because it will work no harm on Hagan and because of the newness of the rule which had only been in effect for three days.

3. Bastrop (pop. 14,713)[1] is the parish (county) seat of predominantly rural Morehouse Parish (pop. 32,463). Located 25 miles north of Monroe, Louisiana, and 50 miles southeast of El Dorado, Arkansas, Bastrop is the only community in the parish which has a population in excess of 1,000 persons. It currently has three local broadcast outlets: Station KTRY-FM (Channel 232A), daytime-only AM Station KTRY, and Hagan's unlimited-time Class IV AM station, KVOB.

4. In response to questions raised in the Notice regarding area growth, Hagan submitted a letter from the Morehouse Parish Chamber of Commerce stating that residential utility accounts increased by 457 between January 1970 and December 1974 (from 5,196 to 5,653), which it believes, represents a population increase of approximately 1,700 persons. It appears, from the methods used in an earlier Chamber of Commerce letter submitted with Hagan's Supplemental Supporting Statement, that this figure was obtained by multiplying the number of new accounts by the national average number of persons per household, but this method is inaccurate as it presumes that each household has only one utility service (i.e., gas, electricity, water or telephone) and fails to consider how many new accounts have been opened by current residents; a figure which may be significant in view of the rural nature of the area. However, other growth information supplied in the second letter shows that from 1972 through 1974 the establishment of two new industrial plants and established industry expansions have added approximately five hundred new jobs to the area and that area retail sales increased by eighteen million dollars during that period. We are persuaded that a second channel is warranted.

[1] All population figures are from the 1970 U.S. Census.

5. As indicated in the Notice, adoption of the Bastrop proposal would not affect any existing FM assignments and the only communities within or near the preclusion areas caused by this proposal that have populations in excess of 1,000 persons are El Dorado, Arkansas (pop. 25,283) and Farmerville.[2] El Dorado appears to be adequately served locally by one television station and two FM and two AM stations, and another available assignment has been found for Farmerville. It also appears that Bastrop is the only community in Morehouse Parish large enough to merit FM assignments of its own and thereby serve the local needs of the parish. We therefore believe that it is in the public interest to provide Bastrop with a second FM assignment and we do so in this proceeding.

6. Farmerville (pop. 3,416) is the parish seat of predominantly rural Union Parish (pop. 18,447). It is located on Lake D'Arbonne, which we are told, is the largest man-made lake in northern Louisiana, and is said to be used by thousands daily, year-round, for fishing, camping and water sports. Farmerville's only local aural service is daytime-only AM Station KTDL and Union states that a full-time facility is needed, particularly to enhance the safety of those using Lake D'Arbonne by providing nighttime weather reports.

7. The Notice indicated that Farmerville was within the preclusion area that would result from assignment of Channel 261A to Bastrop and requested that Hagan determine whether alternative channels are available for assignment to Farmerville should some party later wish to request such an assignment. In reply comments[3] Hagan stated that it appears from a preliminary, non-computerized, study conducted by his consulting engineer that no alternative channel is available. However, a staff study shows that Channel 224A can be assigned to Farmerville in compliance with Commission Rules. In the engineering analysis appended to its counterproposal, Union Broadcasting stated that "Channel 224 could not be assigned to Farmerville because it would preclude the assignment of Channel 226 to an area that encompasses several cities with populations greater than 2,500. . . ". However, our staff study showed that Channel 224A can be assigned only in a very limited area which includes Farmerville.[4] An assignment of this channel to Farmerville would result in efficient use of the FM spectrum because the open area available for assignment of Channel 224A includes no other communities without FM assignments having populations in excess of 2,500 persons. In view of the efficiency of such an assignment and because it will provide a needed first local FM assignment to Farmerville, we believe that it is in the public interest.

8. Accordingly, pursuant to the authority contained in Section 4(i), 303 (g) and (r) and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, IT IS ORDERED, That effective September 8, 1975, the FM Table of Assignments, Section 73.202(b) of the Rules, IS AMENDED to read as follows for the cities listed below:

| City | Channel No. |
|---|---|
| Bastrop, Louisiana | 232A, 261A |
| Farmerville, Louisiana | 224A |

9. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That this proceeding IS TERMINATED.

Adopted: July 22, 1975.

Released: July 31, 1975.

PART 87—AVIATION SERVICES

Transponder Test Sets; Pulse Repetition Rate

In the matter of amendment of Part 87 to specify the pulse-repetition rate for transponder test sets to eliminate interference to Air Traffic Control radar, Docket No. 30369.

1. At the request of the Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to consider changes to the rules to specify the pulse-repetition rate (PRR) for transponder test sets, a Notice of Proposed Rule Making (NPRM) was released by the Commission on March 5, 1975. The NPRM was published in the Federal Register on March 10, 1975 (47 FR 1101). The period for comments and reply comments has passed.

2. No timely comments were received. Aeronautical Radio, Inc. (ARINC) and the Air Transportation Association (ATA) filed a joint comment on April 25, 1975, with the request that the Commission consider these comments filed two weeks after the time specified for comments. They state that due to the time required for evaluation and coordination, it was not practicable to file on the date originally set. ARINC and ATA represent the major users of the transponder test sets. While both have commented on numerous Commission matters in the past and are familiar with the administrative procedures for obtaining additional time for filing of comments, they have failed to ask for an extension of time in which to file comments and have elected to ask for acceptance of late filed comments. This procedure, of course, denies the public an opportunity to comment on the submission. However, we believe that these comments should be considered in view of the absence of other comments and the effect of the proceeding on the commenters.

3. ARINC and ATA state that, based on a few isolated cases of interference, the FAA requested that the PRR be changed from the currently authorized 245–270 pps to 235 pps ±5 pps. ARINC and ATA concur with this proposal insofar as new equipment is concerned. Some of the current licensees have equipment which cannot be easily modified to the lower PRR. Since the FAA has evaluated all existing equipment and found no interference, the March 31, 1978, date for modification of all equipment would impose an unnecessary hardship on these licensees. ARINC and ATA propose, therefore, that a provision be made to authorize continued operation at the higher PRR upon approval of the FAA.

4. FAA advises that this rule making was requested to avoid proliferation of transponder test sets with higher PRR's and to establish technical specifications for the manufacturers of transponder test sets. FAA has no objection to the continued use of transponder test sets with a higher PRR which have been evaluated and found to cause no interference at the present location. We agree with the FAA and the commenters that there may be situations subsequent to March 31, 1978, where transponder test sets with a higher PRR may be used without interference. However, we do not agree with the commenters that the rule should contain a proviso that a higher PRR may be authorized with the concurrence of

[2] Farmerville is situated just outside the southern edge of the preclusion area and Channel 261A could be used at Farmerville in compliance with Commission Rules.

[3] Hagan did not file comments.

[4] Assignment of Channel 224A to this area is limited by assignments of Channel 224A at Springhill, Louisiana [Station KIKC, construction permit granted Jan. 21, 1975 (BPH-8941)] with a transmitter situated approximately 66 miles west, and at Lake Providence, Louisiana (Station KBED) with a transmitter located approximately 68 miles east; Channel 222 assigned to Pine Bluff, Arkansas (Station KOTN-FM) with a transmitter located approximately 100 miles north; and Channel 226 assigned [51 F.C.C. 2d 498 (1975)] to Alexandria, Louisiana, requiring a transmitter location 25 miles north-northeast of Alexandria and therefore approximately 78 miles south of Farmerville.

Also, this recent assignment of Channel 226 to Alexandria foreclosed its usage to the area in which it would be precluded by an assignment of Channel 224A to Farmerville.

AUG 7 75 XU

the FAA. Section 1.958 of the Commission's rules contains the procedures for requesting a waiver of any rule in the Safety and Special Radio Services. We believe that these procedures are adequate and would not impose any unnecessary burden upon the licensees.

5. The current licenses will not be modified at this time to indicate the PRR of 235 pps±5 pps, but will be modified upon renewal to indicate this PRR or any other PRR determined as a result of Commission action upon any waiver requests.

6. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, That, pursuant to the authority contained in Section 4(i) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Part 87 of the Commission's rules is amended effective September 8, 1975 as set forth below. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That, this proceeding is terminated.

Part 87 of Chapter I of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

1. Section 87.521(d) is revised to read as follows:

§ 87.521 Frequencies available.

* * * * *

(d) 108.0 MHz and the frequencies set forth in subpart N of this part may be assigned to radionavigation land test stations for the testing of airborne receiving equipment. The frequencies normally assigned will be 108.0 and 108.05 MHz for VHF omnirange, 108.1 MHz for localizer, 334.7 MHz for glide slope, 978 and 979 MHz (X channel)/1104 MHz (Y channel) for DME/TACAN, and the ATC radar beacon (ATCRBS) frequency 1030 MHz for transponder tests. The following conditions apply:

(1) The power authorized on these frequencies normally will be one watt or less.

(2) The pulse repetition rate (PRR) of the 1030 MHz ATC beacon test set will be 235 pulses per second (pps) ±5 pps. Stations authorized before September 2, 1975 may continue operations on the present PRR until March 31, 1978.

(3) The assignment of 108.0 MHz is subject to the condition that no interference shall be caused to the reception of FM broadcasting stations and stations using the frequency are not protected against interference from FM broadcasting stations.

Title 49—Transportation

CHAPTER X—INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Ex Parte No. 252 (Sub-No. 1)]

PART 1036—INCENTIVE PER DIEM CHARGES ON BOXCARS

Incentive Per Diem Charges—1968

At a General Session of the INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, held at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 29th day of July 1975.

Upon consideration of the record in the above-captioned proceeding, including: (1) the reports and orders of the Commission, 337 I.C.C. 183, 337 I.C.C. 217, 339 I.C.C. 627, 343 I.C.C. 49, and 349 I.C.C. 303; (2) the order entered February 14, 1975 which allowed the filing of petitions requesting a return of the incentive per diem program to the 6-month period of September through February in lieu of the present year-round application of the program; and (3) the petition and replies thereto filed by numerous parties on various dates; and

It appearing, That according to section 1(14)(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act, incentive per diem shall be applied only where the supply of a car is not found to be adequate; that the current year-round application of incentive per diem cannot be justified because of the present surplus of unequipped general service boxcars, but the supply of these boxcars cannot be said to be adequate because of the decline in their ownership and the temporary decline in demand;

It further appearing, That sufficient grounds have been presented to warrant returning the incentive per diem program to the 6-month period of September through February, for unequipped general service boxcars (except XF cars);

And it further appearing, That should there be a change in the supply of unequipped general service boxcars (except XF cars), the Commission has sufficient indicators to give it proper notice in considering whether to return incentive per diem to a year-round basis;

WHEREFORE, and for good cause:

It is ordered, That, effective September 15, 1975, the Commission's rules and regulations, 49 CFR 1036.5 be, and they are hereby, amended by deleting therefrom the words "be effective from May 1, 1973, and shall continue in effect until further order of the Commission" and substituting therefor the words "apply for a 6-month period from September 1 of each year through February 28 of the following year on unequipped general service boxcars. The rules set forth in § 1036.1 and 1036.2 shall apply on XF cars on a year-round basis."

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order shall be delivered to the Director, Office of the Federal Register for publication therein.

This decison is not a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ROBERT L. OSWALD,

Title 50—Wildlife and Fisheries

CHAPTER I—U.S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

PART 32—HUNTING

Certain National Wildlife Refuges in Alaska

The following regulations are issued and are effective on August 7, 1975. These regulations apply to public hunting on portions of certain national wildlife refuges in Alaska.

General Conditions. Hunting shall be in accordance with applicable State regulations. Information relative to hunting may be obtained from Refuge Managers addressed to respective refuges.

§ 32.12 Special regulations; migratory game birds; for individual wildlife refuge areas.

Migratory game birds may be hunted on the following refuge areas: Aleutian Islands National Wildlife Refuge

Eastern Aleutians—Pouch #2, Cold Bay, Alaska 99571

Western Aleutians—P.O. Box 5251, Adak, Alaska 98791

Special condition. Hunting permitted only on Unimak, Adak, Attu, Shemya, and Atka.

Arctic National Wildlife Range, 1412 Airport Way, Fairbanks, Alaska 99701.

Clarence Rhode National Wildlife Range, P.O. Box 346, Bethel, Alaska 99559.

Izembek National Wildlife Range, Pouch #2, Cold Bay, Alaska 99571.

Special condition. The landing of aircraft is prohibited except in the event of emergency.

Kenai National Moose Range, P.O. Box 500, Kenai, Alaska 99611.

Special conditions. Parts of the Kenai National Moose Range are closed to the operation of aircraft and motor boats. These regulations and maps are available at the Refuge office, Kenai, Alaska, and from the Alaska Area Office, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 813 "D" Street, Anchorage, Alaska 99501.

Kodiak National Wildlife Refuge, P.O. Box 825, Kodiak, Alaska 99615.

Special condition. Except in the event of an emergency, the landing and operation of aircraft on the Kodiak National Wildlife Refuge is restricted to lakes, streams, and other bodies of water.

Nunivak National Wildlife Refuge, P.O. Box 346, Bethel, Alaska 99559.

The provisions of these special regulations supplement the regulations which govern hunting on wildlife refuge areas generally and which are set forth in Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 32, and are effective through June 30, 1976.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

National Park Service

[ 36 CFR Part 7 ]

MOUNT RAINIER NATIONAL PARK, WASHINGTON

Fishing Regulations

The National Park Service proposes to amend § 7.5(a), Code of Federal Regulations, pertaining to fishing within Mount Rainier National Park, State of Washington.

A National Park Service study of fishing at Mount Rainier National Park has determined that the present fishing regulations are sometimes misunderstood and that the traditional spring opening date for the park's fishing season has resulted in a greater impact on fishing at that time.

The purpose of this amendment is to eliminate the opening and closing dates for fishing within Mount Rainier National Park and to establish a daily catch and possession limit. These amendments will simplify the public's interpretation of Mount Rainier's fishing regulations and the elimination of an opening date for a fishing season will spread out the initial impact on fishing within the park.

A determination has been made pursuant to NEPA and pertinent regulations based on the study of January 15, 1973, and related files, that the proposed regulations will have no significant impact but will be beneficial on the quality of the human environment and, therefore, no environmental impact statement is required. A copy of this determination is on file and may be examined in the Superintendent's office for Mount Rainier National Park.

It is the policy of the Department of the Interior, whenever practicable, to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed addition to: Superintendent, Mount Rainier National Park, Longmire, Washington 98397, on or before September 8, 1975.

This amendment is proposed under the authority contained in Section 3 of the Act of August 25, 1916, 36 Stat. 535, as amended (16 U.S.C. § 3); Section 2 of the Act of March 2, 1899, 30 Stat. 993, as amended (16 U.S.C. § 92); 245 DM 1 (34 FR 13879, as amended); National Park Service Order No. 77 (38 FR 7378, as amended); and Pacific Northwest Region Order No. 3 (37 FR 6325, as amended).

Specifically, in consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed that § 7.5(a) of Part 7 of 36 CFR Chapter 1, entitled "Mount Rainier National Park", be amended as follows:

§ 7.5 Mount Rainier National Park.

(a) Fishing. (1) Fishing in all park waters shall remain open year round.

* * * * *

(5) The daily catch and possession limit for fish taken from park waters shall be six pounds and one fish, not to exceed 12 fish.

Dated: May 22, 1975.

RURAL RENTAL HOUSING LOAN POLICIES, PROCEDURES AND AUTHORIZATIONS

Nonprofit Organizations

Notice is hereby given that the Farmers Home Administration has under consideration the addition of a new paragraph (p) to § 1822.88 of Subpart D of Part 1822, Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations (40 FR 4282). This addition will give to State and public agency and nonprofit organization applicants priority in funding when monies are not available to approve all applications during any fiscal year. This priority will also be effective if more than one application is received to provide rental housing for the same community.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding the proposed amendment to the Chief, Directives management Branch, Farmers Home Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 6316, South Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, on or before September 8, 1975. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the Office of the Chief, Directives Management Branch during regular business hours. (8:15 a.m.–4:45 p.m.)

As proposed, § 1822.88(p) is added as follows:

§ 1822.88 Special conditions.

* * * * *

(p) Priority in funding. When funds are not available for all applications pending within a State during any fiscal year, priority in funding will be given to applicants who are State or local public agencies or nonprofit organizations. This priority will also be effective where more than one application is received to provide rental housing in the same community.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

Social Security Administration

[ 20 CFR Part 416 ]

[Regulations No. 16]

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME FOR THE AGED, BLIND, AND DISABLED

Definition of Resident

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) that the amendment to the regulations set forth in tentative form below is proposed by the Commissioner of Social Security with the approval of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare. The proposed amendment prescribes criteria for the establishment of a claimant's status as resident of the United States. Benefits under title XVI of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1381 et seq.) can only be paid to people who are residents of the United States. However, section 1611(f) of the Act (42 U.S.C. 1382) provides that benefits can be paid to eligible individuals who are outside the United States for less than 30 consecutive days, thus indicating the Congressional intent that physical presence is not, in all circumstances, a necessary element of residence. Therefore, the amendment provides that an individual can be found to retain his status as a resident of the United States even though he is temporarily absent from the United States for less than 30 days. The proposed amendment implements in part section 1614(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1382c(a)) which requires U.S. residence for eligibility for supplemental security income benefits.

The rules set forth in the proposed regulations will be applied by the Social Security Administration in order to administer the supplemental security income program during the period from January 1, 1974, when the new program became effective, until final regulations are adopted.

Prior to the final adoption of the proposed amendment of the regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in triplicate to the Commissioner of Social Security, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, P.O. Box 1585, Baltimore, Maryland 21203, on or before September 8, 1975.

Copies of all comments received in response to this notice will be available for public inspection during regular business hours at the Washington Inquiries Section, Office of Information, Social Security Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, North Building, Room 4146, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201.

The proposed amendment is to be issued under the authority of sections 1102, 1614, and 1631 of the Social Security Act, as amended; 49 Stat. 647, as amended, 86 Stat. 1471 and 1475; 42 U.S.C. 1302, 1382c, and 1383.

(Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Program No. 13.807, Supplemental Security Income Program.)

It is hereby certified that the economic and inflationary impacts of this proposed regulation have been carefully evaluated in accordance with OMB Circular A–107.

Dated: July 8, 1975.

J. B. CARDWELL,
Commissioner of Social Security.

Approved: August 4, 1975.

CASPAR W. WEINBERGER,
Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Section 416.202 of Part 416 of Chapter III of Title 20 of the Code of Federal Regulations is revised to read as follows:

§ 416.202 Eligibility requirements.

(a) General: For purposes of this part, an aged, blind, or disabled individual is an individual who:

(1) Is 65 years of age or older (as determined under Subpart H of this part), is blind (as determined under Subpart I of this part), or is disabled (as determined under Subpart I of this part), and

(2) Is a resident of the United States (see paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section), and is either:

(i) A citizen of the United States (as defined in § 416.203(c)), or,

(ii) An alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence or otherwise permanently residing in the United States under color of law (including an alien who is lawfully present in the United States as a result of the application of the provisions of section 203(a)(7) or section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1153, 1182)).

(b) Resident of the United States. For purposes of this part, a resident of the United States is an individual who lives in the United States, i.e., the 50 States and the District of Columbia, and who is not merely a transient or sojourner.

(c) When status as a resident may be lost. An individual who has once acquired the status of a resident does not lose that status until he actually departs from the United States even though his intention to give up U.S. residence was formed some time previously. Temporary absence will not cause loss of status as a resident. (However, see § 416.1327 regarding suspension of benefits where eligible individuals are outside the United States.)

APPEALS FROM FLOOD ELEVATION DETERMINATION AND JUDICIAL REVIEW

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the City of La Grange, Lewis County, Missouri

The Federal Insurance Administrator, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93–234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, P.L. 90–448), 42 U.S.C. 4001–4128, and 24 CFR Part 1917 (Section 1917.4 (a)), hereby gives notice of his proposed determinations of flood elevations for the City of La Grange, Missouri.

Under these Acts, the Administrator, to whom the Secretary has delegated his statutory authority, must develop criteria for flood plain management in identified flood hazard areas. In order to participate in the National Flood Insurance Program, the City of La Grange must adopt flood plain management measures that are consistent with the flood elevations determined by the Secretary.

Proposed flood elevations (100-year flood) are listed below for selected locations. Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed flood elevations are available for review at City Hall, La Grange, Missouri 63435.

Any person having knowledge, information, or wishing to make a comment on these determinations should immediately notify Mayor Richard Wagner, City Hall, La Grange, Missouri 63435. The period for comment will be ninety days following the second publication of this notice in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community or November 5, 1975, whichever is the later.

The proposed 100-year Flood Elevations are:

| Source of flooding | Location | Elevation (feet above mean sea level) | Width from end of road (facing downstream) to 100-yr flood boundary (feet) | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | Right | Left |
| Mississippi River | Buchanan St | 490 | 120 | |

VOR AIRWAYS

Proposed Extension

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would:

VOL 40 NO 153 AUG 7 75 XU

1. Extend V–72 from the Montroee, Ill., INT to Bloomington, Ill., via Mattoon, Ill.
2. Extend V–156 from Moline, Ill., direct to Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Great Lakes Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, 2300 East Devon, Des Plaines, Ill. 60018. All communications received on or before September 8, 1975 will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

An official docket will also be available for examination by interested persons at the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20591. An informal docket also will be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Division Chief.

The proposed amendment would designate direct airways between Mattoon and Bloomington and also between Moline and Cedar Rapids.

These routes are being used as "direct routes." Their designation as airways would reduce the pilot/controller coordination (radar vectoring) workload.

(Sec. 307(a) Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348(a)), Sec. 6(c) Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)).

VOR AIRWAY

Proposed Alteration

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would realign V–129 between Dubuque, Iowa, and Nodine, Minn., eastward and renumber the present segment of this airway as V–129W.

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rule making by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Great Lakes Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, 2300 East Devon, Des Plaines, Ill. 60018. All communications received on or before September 8, 1975 will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

An official docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20591. An informal docket also will be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Division Chief.

The proposed amendment would redesignate V–129 from Dubuque to Nodine via the INT of the Dubuque 348° (344°M) and the Nodine 150° (146°M) radials, including a W alternate from Dubuque to Nodine via Waukon, Iowa.

The proposed realignment would solve an operational problem at La Crosse, Wis., and provide a more direct airway between Dubuque and Nodine.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[ 40 CFR Part 35 ]

[FRL 406–1]

STATE PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM SUPERVISION

Program Grants

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Sections 1443 and 1450 of the Public Health Service Act ("the Act"), as amended by the Safe Drinking Water Act ("SDWA", P. L. 93–523) the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposes to issue additions to 40 CFR Part 35 setting forth regulations governing grants to States to assist in the funding of public water system supervision programs.

The SDWA was signed by the President on December 16, 1974. It provides for national standards for drinking water to protect the public health, but emphasizes the importance of Federal-State cooperation and encourages States to assume primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems. Pursuant to Section 1413 of the Act, the Administrator may determine that a State has primary enforcement responsibility if the State meets certain specified requirements.

To assist the States in establishing programs meeting the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility, Section 1443(a) of the Act authorizes the Administrator to make grants to States to carry out "public water system supervision programs," which are defined in Section 1443(c) as programs "for the adoption and enforcement of drinking water regulations [with permitted variances and exceptions] which are no less stringent than the national primary drinking water regulations and for keeping records and making reports" required by the Administrator. Section 1443(a)(2) provides that no State may receive its first grant until the Administrator determines that the State has established or will establish within one year from the date of the grant a public water system supervision program, and will, within that one year, assume primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems within the State.

Section 35.630 of the proposed grant regulations provides that an application for the initial grant must include a letter from the chief executive officer of the State stating whether the State has, or intends to establish within one year, a public water system supervision program and affirming the State's intention to assume primary enforcement responsibility within one year. Pursuant to the requirements of the Act, § 35.634(b) provides that a State cannot receive a grant for a period beginning more than one year after the date of the State's first grant unless the State has assumed and maintains primary enforcement responsibility.

Section 1443(a)(4) of the Act provides that the grant money will be allotted among the States on the basis of population, land area, number of public water systems, and "other relevant factors." Statistics on population and land area are, of course, readily available. However, statistics on the number of public water systems in each State are not yet entirely reliable. The comprehensiveness of public water system inventories varies widely from State to State, particularly with regard to small, non-residential systems such as those owned by restaurants, service stations and recreation areas. EPA is encouraging the States to complete their public water system inventories.

In the absence of currently available, reliable data on the total number of public water systems in each State, EPA proposes to rely initially on public water system inventory data taken from EPA inventory forms which have been in use for several years. Information from those forms gives relatively reliable information on the number of systems in each State which primarily serve a "community," "company town," "mobile home park," or "institution."[1] For the purposes of convenience, systems falling in one of these categories are referred to in the allocation formula as "resident water systems." The proposed allocation formula contained in § 35.610 would allocate funds on the basis of population (30%); land area (10%); and number of "resident water systems" (60%). The allocation for FY 76 would be based on the inventory known to EPA as of August 1, 1975. Comments on the proposed allocation formula are invited.

"State" is defined in proposed § 35.603 to include the District of Columbia,

[1] In the future, EPA inventory forms will be revised to categorize public water systems as "community" or "other" systems, reflecting the categorization used in the interim primary drinking water standards and the regulations for implementation of those standards.

Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands. Pursuant to § 35.610(b), a State's allotment shall be not less than one percent of the total appropriation, except that allotments for Guam, American Samoa and the Virgin Islands shall be not less than one-third of one percent of the total appropriation.

Section 35.613 provides that the actual grant to the State will be determined by the Regional Administrator at the time of the grant award. The grant must not exceed 75% of the eligible costs of a State program.

Section 35.611(c) provides for a mandatory aditional allotment of all program grant funds which have not been obligated by the Agency. This must be done at least 180 days prior to the end of the Federal fiscal year.

Sections 35.636(c) and 35.640 provide that the Regional Administrator may reduce a State's grant from what it would have obtained under § 35.613 if the initial program submitted does not contain planned accomplishments reasonably consistent with the level of funding requested, or if the accomplishments achieved are substantially below the level approved in the State program plan. The Regional Administrators and the States will be provided with information to help them determine appropriate funding levels for various accomplishments. Any funds retrieved by reduction of a State's grant may be realloted to other States in the same region in accordance with § 35.611(d).

These regulations are written on the assumption that the funds will remain available until expended, since the appropriations bill now before Congress contains language to this effect.

Program elements of a public water system supervision program are listed in § 35.618. Each of these elements is desirable and is an appropriate element for the use of grant funds. However, EPA will not tie specific amounts of money to specific program elements. Although it is not necessary for a State program to include every element in § 35.618 or to produce an accomplishment for every program element, the program of a State with primary enforcement responsibility must include the program elements required by § 142.10 of this chapter. In addition, a State may include other program elements if it can demonstrate that such other elements are appropriate to its program. A State can propose almost any mixture of program elements and accomplishments which can reasonably be considered part of a public water system supervision program. State funds spent on appropriate elements can be counted toward the 25% matching funds requirement imposed by § 1443(a)(3) of the Act. The Regional Administrator will have a great deal of discretion in determining if the amount requested by the State is consistent with the accomplishments the state proposes in its program.

EPA believes that routine monitoring should become the responsibility of public water systems. However, some States provide this monitoring service for some systems, especially systems serving small communities. EPA believes that such costs should be transferred to the public water systems as quickly as feasible in accordance with the intent of the legislation. However, no limitation on the use of grant funding for routine monitoring is being initially proposed. Comments are sought on the manner in which all routine monitoring costs may be most expeditiously transferred from the States to the public water systems.

Federal grant funds, provided in accordance with these regulations, should not be used to supplant non-Federal funding used for public water system supervision efforts by the State. For this reason, § 35.625 provides that non-Federal funds for recurrent costs should not be reduced. However, it is recognized that special circumstances may exist and that strict application of this provision could cause undue hardship. In these cases relief is possible through administrative actions by EPA under Subpart I of Part 30 of this chapter.

The Administration has requested $7.5 million in program grant funds for the States in FY 76. A discussion of the costs of State drinking water programs is contained in the preamble to the proposed Drinking Water Standards Implementation Regulations, which are being published concurrently with these proposed grant regulations.

COMMENTS

Interested persons may participate in this rulemaking process by submitting written comments in triplicate to the Office of Water Supply (WH–450), Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C. 20460, Attention: Comment Clerk, Drinking Water Standards Implementation and Grant Regulations.

Comments on all aspects of the proposed regulations are solicited. In addition to considering public comments sent to EPA, the Agency will hold public hearings at the following locations to receive comments and statements on the proposed regulations. The hearing room locations and times should be confirmed in advance by telephone.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 1443 and 1450 of P.L. 93–523, 88 Stat. 1660 (42 U.S.C. 300j–2 and 300j–9).

GRANTS FOR STATE PUBLIC WATER SYSTEM SUPERVISION PROGRAMS

§ 35.600 Scope and Purpose.

Sections 35.600 through 35.649 establish regulations and procedures for providing program grant funds to the States for the development and administration of public water system supervision programs as authorized by Section 1443(a) of the Public Health Service Act. These regulations are intended to foster development of State program plans and programs to assist in implementing Title XIV of the Act (added by the Safe Drinking Water Act).

§ 35.603 Definitions.

As used in this part, and except as otherwise specifically provided:

(a) "Act" means the Public Health Service Act.

(b) "Public water system" means a system for the provision to the public of piped water for human consumption, if such system has at least fifteen service connections or regularly serves an average of at least twenty-five individuals daily at least two months out of the year. Such term includes (1) any collection, treatment, storage, and distribution facilities under control of the operator of such system and used primarily in connection with such system, and (2) any collection or preatreatment storage facilities not under such control which are used primarily in connection with such system.

[1] Section numbers are not consecutively numbered to allow room for modification and insertion of new sections as needed.

(c) "State" means one of the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, or the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

(d) "Administrator" means the Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency or his authorized representative.

(e) "Agency" means the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

(f) "Supplier of water" means any person who owns or operates a public water system.

(g) "Primary enforcement responsibility" means the primary responsibility for administration and enforcement of primary drinking water standards and related requirements applicable to public water systems within a State.

(h) "National primary drinking water standard" means any primary drinking water regulation contained in Part 141 of this chapter.

(i) "State primary drinking water standard" means a drinking water standard of a State which is comparable to a national primary drinking water standard.

(j) "Sanitary survey" means an on-site review of the water source, facilities, equipment, operation and maintenance of a public water system for purposes of evaluating the adequacy of such source, facilities, equipment, operation and maintenance for producing safe drinking water.

(k) "State program grant" means the award of Federal assistance to a State from its allotment to assist in developing or carrying out a public water system supervision program.

(l) "Allotment" means the maximum initial amount of funds potentially available to each State from each annual appropriation.

(m) "Public water system supervision program" means a program for the adoption and enforcement of drinking water regulations which are no less stringent than the national primary drinking water regulations and for keeping records and making reports required to be made by States with primary enforcement responsibility.

§ 35.604 Program Coverage.

The provisions of §§ 35.600–649 shall not apply to any part of a public water system supervision program for a public water system:

(a) which consists only of distribution and storage facilities (and does not have any collection and treatment facilities);

(b) which obtains all of its water from, but is not owned or operated by, a public water system to which such regulations apply;

(c) which does not sell water to any person; and

(d) which is not a carrier which conveys passengers in interstate commerce.

§ 35.610 Determination of Allotments.

Funds appropriated in each fiscal year will be allotted as follows:

(a) The initial allotment will be established on the basis of the following weighted factors:

(1) The population of each State in proportion to the total population of all States (weight factor: 30%). Population statistics will be drawn from the 1970 census, Tables 4 and 11 of the 1974 Statistical Abstract of the United States.

(2) The land area of each State in proportion to the total land area of all States (weight factor: 10%). Land area statistics will be drawn from Table 290 of the 1974 Statistical Abstract of the United States.

(3) Number of "resident water systems" in each State in proportion to the number of such systems in all States (weight factor: 60%). Water systems statistics will be drawn from the Inventory of Public Water Systems maintained by the Agency based on input from the States. For Fiscal Year 76 grants the number of "resident water systems" for each State will be determined by the number of public water systems for which inventory data have been submitted to EPA on or before August 1, 1975, and for which the predominant service area characteristic has been reported to be at least one of the following:

(i) Community,
(ii) Company town,
(iii) Mobile home park, or
(iv) Institution.

(b) Initial allotments established for the States based on the weighted ratios in (a) will be adjusted as follows:

(1) State allotments (except for Guam, American Samoa, and the Virgin Islands) shall not be less than one percent of the appropriation.

(2) Allotments for Guam, American Samoa, and the Virgin Islands shall not be less than one-third of one percent of the appropriation.

(c) The total increase in State allotments resulting from the application of paragraph (b) of this section shall be offset by an equivalent total decrease in the initial allotment to the other States. This decrease in a State's initial allotment will be in proportion to the amount the State's initial allotment exceeded the one percent or one-third of one percent minimum.

§ 35.611 Notification of Allotments and Reallotments.

(a) Each year, within thirty days after the President delivers his budget to Congress, the Administrator will issue to each Regional Administrator an anticipated allotment for each State for the coming fiscal year except that for Fiscal Year 1976, the anticipated allotment shall be issued no later than 30 days following final promulgation of these regulations. The anticipated allotment shall be promptly communicated to each State by the Regional Administrator. This anticipated allotment (planning target) will be based on the amount of funds requested in the President's budget for this purpose in the coming fiscal year.

(b) As soon as practicable after funds are appropriated, the Administrator will issue to each Regional Administrator a final allotment for each State from funds appropriated for that fiscal year. This final allotment shall be promptly communicated to each State by the Regional Administrator.

(c) As soon as practicable but in no event later than 180 days prior to the end of the Federal Fiscal Year, the Administrator will reallot on a national basis among the States which have already received a grant, all funds unobligated by the agency except that the Administrator will establish a different date for Fiscal Year 1976. The unobligated funds will be allotted on the basis of each such State's allocation factor compared to the sum of the allocation factors for all such States. The funds will be granted to the States which can demonstrate a need for the additional funds.

(d) Funds remaining unobligated 90 days prior to the end of the fiscal year from funds realloted under § 35.611(c) and other funds made available by reduction of grant amounts, shall be available within the Region for supplementary awards to other grantees.

§ 35.613 Grant Amount.

The actual amount of each State grant, which shall not exceed the State's allotment, shall be determined at the time of the grant award by the Regional Administrator. Federal funds can not exceed 75% of the eligible cost of the State's public water system supervision program as described by § 35.615.

§ 35.615 State Program Plan.

Any State wishing to apply for a grant shall prepare and submit to the Regional Administrator for approval a program plan which satisfies the requirements of applicable regulations and contains planned accomplishments. A State may include in the plan submitted to the Regional Administrator any program element listed in § 35.618, and any other program element if the State can demonstrate that such other program element is appropriate for the conduct of its public water system supervision program. The essence of the State plan is to relate the utilization of available resources (both Federal and non-Federal) to the achievement of expected accomplishments. The program plan shall describe how the planned accomplishments address the problems in the State and are consistent with the objectives of the Act and national policy as set forth in the annual guidance document issued by the Agency. Information on the program elements contained in each State's submission shall be presented in summary form and shall include:

(a) The planned accomplishments;

(b) The resources to be expended by the State to produce the planned accomplishments, including anticipated Federal financial and technical assistance; and

(c) For Fiscal Year 1977 and subsequent years an analysis of the previous year's State program. This analysis shall compare the planned accomplishments with expected resources, the actual resources expended, and the actual accomplishments.

§ 35.618 Program Elements of a Public Water System Supervision Program.

The following program elements are appropriate for carrying out public water system supervision programs. For a State with primary enforcement responsibility the State program must include program elements satisfying the requirements of § 142.10 of this chapter.

(a) Administration and Program Development. Planning, development and coordination of program activities for the management of a water system supervision program including general program direction and supervision, and development of staffing and budget needs; development and evaluation of basic water supply legislation, regulations, policies, and public information.

(b) Surveillance and Technical Assistance. Sanitary surveys of public water systems on an established schedule with written survey reports to the suppliers of water; review of bacteriological and chemical sampling data submitted by the suppliers to determine compliance with applicable provisions of State primary drinking water standards; technical assistance to suppliers of water and others regarding the planning, design, operation, maintenance, treatment, quality control and assessment of public water systems.

(c) Plan Review. A plan review activity for new public water systems and modifications or additions to existing systems.

(d) Laboratory Certification. A laboratory certification or approval program on an established frequency for laboratories from which public water systems propose to submit data to be used in determining compliance with applicable State primary drinking water standards.

(e) Laboratory Capability. Provision and operation of laboratory facilities with capability to perform the type of analyses required by State primary drinking water standards; or obtaining laboratory services from outside sources.

(f) Training and Certification. An activity for the training or certification of water system personnel, plant operators, public water system supervisory personnel and State water supply program personnel.

(g) Enforcement. An activity for the establishment and implementation of procedures for administrative and judicial enforcement of State primary drinking water standards.

(h) Data Management. A data management activity to maintain essential records needed for conduct of the drinking water supervision program and for submission to the Agency; including the maintenance of an inventory for all public water systems.

(i) Disease Surveillance and Investigation. The maintenance of a coordinated activity with State and local agencies to detect, investigate and report suspected waterborne disease outbreaks.

§ 35.620 Eligible and Ineligible Costs.

Federal grant money can be expended only for the program elements of § 35.618 and other program elements contained in the approved grant agreement.

(a) Eligible costs shall include all laboratory costs associated with routine monitoring.

(b) Costs of occupying office, laboratory, shop and storage space shall be eligible only as follows:

(1) No costs shall be allowed for acquisition of land or for the construction of any structure (including foundations, fences and parking areas).

(2) Costs of occupying State or local government-owned buildings shall be allowed only under an indirect cost agreement negotiated with the Agency.

(3) Costs of occupying privately-owned buildings shall be eligible.

§ 35.625 Maintenance of Effort.

No grant will be awarded if it is determined by the Regional Administrator that Federal grant funds will supplant, rather than supplement, non-Federal funding committed to public water system supervision efforts by the State. Each applicant for an initial grant must provide an assurance of a minimum level of expenditures of non-Federal funds for recurrent allowable program costs during the budget period of the grant at least equal to such expenditures during the twelve-month period preceding the grant award. For grants from funds appropriated for subsequent fiscal years, the minimum level of effort required to be eligible for Federal grant assistance shall be the amount of non-Federal funds actually expended by the grantee for recurrent allowable program costs under the initial grant.

§ 35.630 Application for Grant/State Program Plan Submission.

States wishing to make application for a program grant shall:

(a) Develop an annual program in accordance with § 35.615.

(b) Starting with Fiscal Year 1977, submit a preliminary (draft) plan to the Regional Administrator no later than 90 days prior to the start of the Federal Fiscal Year.

(c) Starting with Fiscal Year 1977, submit an application on the appropriate EPA form, which includes the annual state program plan submission, for grant award to the Regional Administrator in accordance with Part 30, Subpart B of this chapter, no later than 30 days prior to the start of the Federal Fiscal Year.

(d) For Fiscal Year 1976, submit an application on the appropriate EPA form to the Regional Administrator no later than February 1, 1976.

(e) The application for an initial grant shall include, in addition to the other submissions requested by this subpart, a letter from the chief executive officer of the State, stating whether the State has, or intends to establish, a public water system supervision program. The letter should designate the State agency to receive the grant and to be responsible for conducting the public water system supervision program. The letter should also affirm the State's intent to assume within one year primary enforcement responsibility in accordance with the requirements of Part 142, Subpart B of this chapter.

§ 35.632 Criteria for Award.

No grant may be awarded unless the program plan contained in the grant application meets the requirements of § 35.615 and has been approved by the Regional Administrator.

§ 35.634 Limitation on Grant Award.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, the Regional Administrator may not approve an application of a State for its first grant to carry out a public water system supervision program unless he determines that the State (1) has established or will establish within one year from the effective date of the grant a public water system supervision program, and (2) will, within that one year, assume primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems within the State. (See §§ 142.10 through 142.13 of this chapter).

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, no grant may be made to a State for any fiscal year subsequent to the fiscal year of the State's first grant unless the State has assumed and maintains primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems within the State. (See §§ 142.10 through 142.13 of this chapter).

§ 35.636 Regional Administrator's Action on State Program Plan.

(a) Each State's final grant application and program plan shall be approved or disapproved by the Regional Administrator within 45 days of receipt.

(b) Should the Regional Administrator's evaluation of the State program plan submission reveal that the planned accomplishments are not consistent with the level of funding requested, he shall negotiate with the State either to increase the planned accomplishments or to reduce the grant amount. Funds freed by this procedure will remain within the region to be available for use in accordance with § 35.611(d).

§ 35.638 Budget Period.

The budget period of the grant shall be for the Federal Fiscal Year.

§ 35.640 Reduction of Grant Amount.

(a) If the Regional Administrator determines that the grantee has substantially failed or will fail to achieve the planned accomplishments, the grant amount may be reduced accordingly. This money will be available for use in accordance with § 35.611(d).

(b) A State agency shall be notified prior to any reduction, pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, in the amount of Federal support to that agency. This notification shall include the reasons for reduction and, if appropriate, what steps the agency must take to regain funding including the time frame within which the steps must be taken.

§ 35.642 Assignment of Personnel.

Upon the written request of a State agency, the Regional Administrator may assign personnel of the Agency to such State agency pursuant to Section 1450(c) of the Act. As provided by Office of Management and Budget Circular A-97 the State agency must reimburse the Agency for the salaries and all other identifiable direct or indirect cost of providing the personnel.

DRINKING WATER

Proposed Implementation of Standards

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Sections 1413, 1414, 1415, 1416, 1445 and 1450 of the Public Health Service Act ("the Act"), as amended by the Safe Drinking Water Act ("SDWA", Pub. L. 93-523), the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposes to issue a new 40 CFR Part 142 setting forth regulations for implementation of the national primary drinking water standards contained in Part 141.

On March 14, 1975, national interim primary drinking water standards were proposed pursuant to Section 1412 of the Act, 40 FR 11990. Section 1412 provides that those standards will become effective 18 months after they are promulgated in final form.

During consideration and passage of the SDWA, Congress made clear that it intended that the States have the principal responsibility for administering and enforcing primary drinking water standards. For example, the House Report on the legislation stated that "the Committee is hopeful that State and Federal cooperation will be the rule and that the States will take the lead in adopting standards, reviewing compliance strategies, and where necessary bringing enforcement actions." H.R. Rep. No. 1185, 93rd Cong., 2nd Sess. at 21.

This proposed Part 142 sets forth regulations for the implementation of primary drinking water standards, with particular emphasis on the role of the States. Subpart A of Part 142 contains general provisions applicable to the entire part. Subpart B sets forth requirements States must meet to have primary enforcement responsibility and includes regulations concerning determinations of the Administrator relating to primary enforcement responsibility. Subpart C provides for the statutorily-mandated periodic review by EPA of variances and exemptions granted by States with primary enforcement responsibility. Subpart D covers Federal enforcement actions in situations where a State with primary enforcement responsibility does not take appropriate action to deal with violations of the primary drinking water standards. Subpart D also provides for EPA hearings on systems in violation of applicable standards and for EPA inspections of public water systems.

Subparts E and F of Part 142 deal with variances and exemptions from national primary drinking water standards granted by EPA for public water systems in States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility. States that have primary enforcement responsibility and wish to grant variances and exemptions do not have to follow the procedures set forth in Subparts E and F so long as the State procedures comply with Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act.

To facilitate reference to the provisions of the Act which require or authorize the proposed regulations, a reference to the pertinent statutory provision is included in parentheses adjacent to each section heading.

The proposed regulations refer throughout to "the Administrator". It is anticipated that most of the responsibilities of the Administrator under this part will be delegated to the Regional Administrators. For example, it is expected that the Regional Administrators will make the determination as to whether a State meets the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility, and that Regional Administrators will act on variance and exemption requests from public water systems in States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility. Regional Administrators will be provided with guidance that will permit local differences to be accommodated within a national framework that is consistent in terms of philosophy and basic policy.

The proposed regulations are discussed in more detail below.

Subpart A—General Provisions

Section 142.2 of Subpart A contains definitions of terms used in Part 142. Several of the definitions are taken directly from the Act. In addition, the term "primary enforcement responsibility" is defined in § 142.2(l) to mean "the primary responsibility for administration and enforcement of primary drinking water standards and related requirements applicable to public water systems within a State." Thus, once a State is determined to meet the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility, it will have general responsibility for regulating public water systems in the State. The term "State" is defined in § 142.2(f) to include the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

The term "maximum contaminant level," in § 142.2(b), is defined somewhat differently than it is in the Act and in the proposed national interim primary drinking water standards. The definition in the Act (Section 1401(3)), refers to the level of contaminant "in water which is delivered to any user of a public water system." Because of suggestions in the legislative history that the intent was to measure contaminants at the consumer's tap, the proposed national interim primary standards refer to contaminant levels "in water which is delivered to the free flowing outlet of the ultimate user of a public water system." 40 FR at 11994. However, that definition fails to deal with the fact that a public water system has no control over contamination of water after it has been delivered to the consumer, unless the contamination is caused by deterioration of the user's pipes resulting from corrosive qualities of the water. It would be unreasonable to hold a public water system in violation of a maximum contaminant level if the level is exceeded at the consumer's tap as a result of the user's attachment of a faulty home treatment device or because of cross-connections in the user's plumbing system. Accordingly, the definition of "maximum contaminant level" in these proposed regulations excludes contamination which is the fault of the user. In addition, the proposed definition provides for measurements of turbidity at the point of entry to the distribution system, rather than at the consumer's tap, since measurement at this point is a more meaningful indicator of the sanitary quality of the water.

The term "public water system" is also defined somewhat differently in these proposed regulations than in the statute or the proposed national interim primary standards. The proposed standards refer to a system that "regularly serves an average of at least twenty-five individuals daily at least three months out of the year." The purpose of the insertion of the three-month requirement into the statutory definition was to make clear that a system operating on a short-term basis is not a system "regularly" serving individuals. However, it has been determined that seasonable public water systems operating for as much as two months a year, which include many campgrounds and other tourist facilities, do "regularly" serve individuals within the meaning of the Act. Therefore these proposed regulations define a public water system to include those which serve an average of at least twenty-five individuals daily at least two months out of the year.

Section 142.3, dealing with the scope of Part 142, is taken from Section 1411 of the Act. It should be noted that an interstate conveyance is a public water system for purposes of the regulations if it meets the definition of such system contained in § 142.2(c).

Subpart B—Primary Enforcement Responsibility

As noted above, it was the intention of Congress that the States have the principal responsibility for the regulation of public water systems. This Congressional intent is carried out in Section 1413(a) of the Act, which provides that a State "has primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems" during any period for which the Administrator determines that the State meets the following requirements:

(1) has adopted drinking water regulations which (A) in the case of the period beginning on the date the national interim primary drinking water regulations are promulgated under Section 1412 and ending on the date such regulations take effect are no less stringent than such regulations, and (B) in the case of the period after such effective date are no less stringent than the interim and revised national primary drinking water regulations in effect under such section;

(2) has adopted and is implementing adequate procedures for the enforcement of such State regulations, including conducting such monitoring[1] and making such inspections as the Administrator may require by regulation;

(3) will keep such records and make such reports with respect to its activities under paragraphs (1) and (2) as the Administrator may require by regulation;

(4) if it permits variances or exemptions, or both, from the requirements of its drinking water regulations which meet the requirements of paragraph (1), permits such variances and exemptions under conditions and in a manner which is not less stringent than the conditions under, and the manner in, which variances and exemptions may be granted under sections 1415 and 1416; and

(5) has adopted and can implement an adequate plan for the provision of safe drinking water under emergency circumstances.

Section 1413(b) of the Act provides that the Administrator shall propose regulations concerning determinations as to State primary enforcement responsibility made pursuant to Section 1413(a). Subpart B of the proposed Part 142 consists of such regulations. Subpart B sets forth the requirements a State must meet in order to qualify for primary enforcement responsibility, and the manner in which a State may apply for a determination by the Administrator that the State has met the requirements. Subpart B also sets forth the procedures to be followed in cases where the Administrator has information indicating that a State previously found to meet the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility no longer meets those requirements.

The intention of the regulations in Subpart B is to preserve the flexibility necessary to carry out the Congressional mandate to emphasize State enforcement, while assuring that a State meets the five basic requirements set forth in Section 1413(a) of the Act before the Administrator determines that the State has primary enforcement responsibility. The way in which those five requirements are described in the proposed § 142.10 can be summarized as follows:

(1) Primary drinking water standards (§ 142.10(a)). It is clear that a State may not be determined to have primary enforcement responsibility unless it has already adopted and has in effect State primary drinking water standards at least as stringent as the comparable national primary drinking water standards. This is not to say, however, that each State standard must be identical to the comparable national standard. Differences will be acceptable in appropriate cases. For example, a State may specify sample analysis methods different from those contained in the national standards so long as the alternate analysis is as accurate and dependable as the comparable analysis specified in the national standards. Moreover, it is anticipated that in several instances the national standards as promulgated will explicitly set forth areas in which State discretion may be exercised. In addition, a State's standards may be more stringent than the national standards even where there is no explicit reference in the standards to State discretion.

Timing is important in the adoption of State standards. In order for a State to qualify for primary enforcement responsibility, the State must already have adopted its standards. However, State standards are not required to become effective until comparable national standards become effective. Thus, the Administrator may determine that a State has primary enforcement responsibility prior to the date when the national interim primary standards become effective, even if the State standards which have been adopted do not become effective in that State until the national standards go into effect.

(2) Enforcement (§ 142.10(b)). The proposed requirements for State enforcement are divided into six distinct elements—inventory of public water systems, sanitary surveys, laboratory certification, availability of laboratory facilities to the State, design and construction, and statutory and regulatory enforcement authority. A State must have a minimum capability in each of these six areas in order to qualify for primary enforcement responsibility. However, the proposed regulations do not contemplate that a State will bring its capabilities to bear immediately with respect to every public water system in the State. In accordance with the Congressional objective of Federal-State cooperation and flexibility, States will be expected to set their own priorities and will have substantial discretion in shaping their program with respect to enforcement. For example, the requirement of proposed § 142.10(b)(2), concerning a systematic State program for sanitary surveys, does not impose on the States specific priorities concerning types of systems to be surveyed or the timing of surveys, except to require that some priority be given to systems not in compliance with applicable standards. It is recognized that a State cannot make a sanitary survey of every system in the State immediately. What is required is a reasonable, systematic program. Similarly, the requirement of proposed § 142.10(b)(4) that a State have access to laboratory facilities will not be interpreted to require the State agency with jurisdiction over drinking water standards to have its own fully-equipped laboratory. This requirement may be satisfied by access to laboratory facilities of a State university or a private laboratory, so long as the State is able to have laboratory analyses done when necessary.

The requirement that a State assure that the design and construction of public water system facilities will meet the primary drinking water standards is not intended to mandate a State licensing system. This requirement may reasonably be carried out by rules of general application which seek to assure that new facilities are capable of producing water which meets applicable drinking water standards. Comments are requested on these six elements which comprise the enforcement area of a state program eligible for primary enforcement authority.

(3) Record-keeping and reports (§§ 142.10(c), 142.14 and 142.15). In order to qualify for primary enforcement responsibility, a State would be required to commit itself to keeping records on bacteriological analyses for one year and chemical analyses for ten years. The type of information required could be retained in a summary form similar to the form used currently for the interstate carrier program, so long as the information is retained in a form suitable for admission into evidence in an administrative or judicial enforcement proceeding. More detailed information will be available from the supplier of water, pursuant to the record-keeping requirements of Part 141.

The results of chemical analyses are to be retained for the longer period because the chronic exposure hazard involved with chemicals makes longer-range information necessary. Because many fewer chemical samples are taken than bacteriological samples, the 10-year period should not prove unduly burdensome. It has been suggested that, because the latency period of health effects from chemical contaminants in drinking water may be considerably longer than 10 years, results of chemical analyses should be kept for longer than 10 years. Comments are invited on the appropriate retention period for records, and on the content of test result records.

Section 142.15 would require a State with primary enforcement responsibility to report annually to EPA respecting violations of primary drinking water standards in the State, and the status of each variance and exemption granted by the State. In addition, as required by the Act, the State would have to submit to EPA notification of the granting of a variance or exemption, with supporting information. As the Act and the legislative history of the Safe Drinking Water Act make clear, EPA is not to substitute its judgement for that of the State on a case-by-case basis. Periodic reports from the States are necessary for EPA to fulfill its responsibilities in reviewing continuing State compliance with the Act, but the reports are not intended to interfere with the basic State responsibility for enforcement of primary drinking water standards. Section 142.15 provides that annual reports from the States would be filed by February 1, covering activities of the preceding calendar year. If information on State activities is available on this date, it can be used in preparing the annual report to Congress on implementation of the Act which must be submitted by April 1. Comments on the timing of State reporting requirements are invited.

[1] Monitoring as used here does not include routine or operational monitoring as required by the interim primary drinking water standards.

AUG 7 75 XU

(4) State variances and exemptions (§ 142.10(d)). The Act sets forth, in Sections 1415 and 1416, the requirements to be followed by States that have primary enforcement responsibility and wish to grant variances and exemptions from State primary drinking water standards. In view of the detail of those sections, and a desire not to hamper State programs and unnecessary requirements, the proposed regulations do not further define the requirements of a State program for granting variances and exemptions. The procedures to be followed by EPA in granting exemptions and variances in States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility are described in subparts E and F of Part 142. States with primary enforcement responsibility are not required to follow these procedures, so long as their own procedures are consistent with Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act.

(5) Emergency plan (§ 142.10(e)). The fifth requirement imposed by the Act for primary enforcement responsibility is the adoption of, and ability to implement, an adequate plan for the provision of safe drinking water under emergency circumstances. A State will not be required to have an individual plan for each public water system. All that is required is a State-wide plan for responding to emergencies.

Proposed § 142.11 of Subpart B sets forth the information to be submitted by a State requesting a determination that it meets the five requirements for primary enforcement responsibility. The intention of § 142.11 is to require the State to submit enough information to permit the Administrator to make an informed determination, without burdening the process with excessive paperwork.

Proposed § 142.12 provides, in accordance with Section 1413(b)(2) of the Act, that the Administrator shall act on a request for a determination of primary enforcement responsibility within 90 days after receiving the request. However, as required by Section 1413(b)(1) of the Act, a determination of the Administrator that a State meets the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility does not become effective until after the Administrator has given an opportunity for public hearing. Section 142.13 sets forth the procedures to be followed in giving such an opportunity. A person requesting a hearing will be required to provide a statement of interest and the information to be presented in the public hearing. Frivolous or insubstantial requests for hearing may be denied by the Administrator. In addition, the Administrator may hold a public hearing on his own motion. The Administrator's determination will become effective upon issuance of an order subsequent to the public hearing; or, if no hearing is held, 30 days after notice of opportunity for hearing is given.

A State program normally will be expected to apply to all public water systems in the State to which the national primary drinking water standards apply. An exception to this requirement will be public water systems on Indian land over which a State does not have general civil jurisdiction. EPA will exercise primary enforcement responsibility over such systems. As intended by the statute, State primary drinking water standards will apply to public water systems operated by Federal agencies.

Once the Administrator's determination that a State has primary enforcement responsibility becomes effective, it remains in effect until rescinded pursuant to § 142.12(b). The procedure outlined in § 142.12(b) provides opportunity for a State to demonstrate that it continues to meet the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility. As required by the Act, a determination that a State no longer meets the requirements does not become effective until after the Administrator has provided an opportunity for a public hearing.

As authorized by the Act, the Administrator will provide technical and other assistance to States for their public water supply programs. The Agency will provide as much assistance as is feasible and appropriate to help strengthen State programs. In those States that do not initially qualify for primary enforcement responsibility, EPA will work to help the States qualify, and in the meantime will cooperate with the States in having State agencies carry out as much of the regulation of public water systems as possible.

Subpart C—Review of State-Issued Variances and Exemptions

As noted above, States that have primary enforcement responsibility may grant variances and exemptions from State primary drinking water standards, so long as the provisions of Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act are followed. As required by the Act, proposed § 142.21 establishes a deadline for State action on a variance or exemption request. The agency has selected 90 days as a reasonable period. This is the same deadline proposed by §§ 142.41 and 142.51 for action by the Administrator on requests for variances and exemptions in States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility. Comments are invited on the suitability of the 90-day deadline. It should be kept in mind that a variance does not become effective immediately upon action by the State. An opportunity for public hearing must be given.

Proposed §§ 142.22 through 142.24 follow the statutory mandate for review by EPA of State variances and exemptions at least once every three years. In accordance with the intent of the statute, the Agency's review of variances and exemptions granted by a State will be a broad, over-all review. Further action will be taken by EPA only if the review indicates that the State has, in a substantial number of instances, abused its discretion in granting variances or exemptions. The review will take into account the number of persons affected by the variances or exemptions and whether requirements applicable to the granting of variances and exemptions have been complied with.

Subpart D—Federal Enforcement

Sections 142.30–142.33 of Subpart D of the proposed regulations relate to Section 1414 of the Act, which provides for Federal enforcement actions against public water systems not in compliance with national primary drinking water standards. In the case of public water systems in States that do not have primary enforcement authority, Section 1414 is simple and straightforward. It authorizes the Administrator to commence a civil action in a United States District Court whenever a system is not in compliance. However, the case of a system in a State which does have primary enforcement responsibility, Section 1414 requires the Administrator to give the State full opportunities to bring the system into compliance.

Section 142.30 of Subpart D sets forth the procedures to be followed in a State with primary enforcement authority. When the Administrator finds that a public water system in such a State is not in compliance, he is to notify the State of that fact. Once a State has been notified of a violation, further steps including publication of the Administrator's findings will be taken unless the public water system involved comes into compliance or initiates appropriate corrective actions to bring the system into compliance by the earliest feasible time. If the system does not take appropriate action and remains in non-compliance, a report on the situation will be required from the State. If the State does not submit the report, fails to implement within sixty days adequate procedures to bring the system into compliance by the earliest feasible time, or otherwise abuses its discretion, the Administrator may take legal action against the public water system in violation. In addition, the State may request the Administrator to file suit; and if an imminent danger to health is involved, the Administrator may take direct action pursuant to Section 1431 of the Act.

Subpart D of the proposed regulations also contains, in § 142.32, procedures for the holding of a public hearing with respect to a public water system not in compliance with applicable standards. A public hearing may be requested by the State, the public water system or a person served by the system. As in the case of requests for a hearing on a determination concerning primary enforcement responsibility, the request for hearing must provide information supporting the request. The granting of a hearing is within the Administrator's discretion.

Section 142.34 of Subpart D provides for the entry and inspection of public water systems by EPA. In keeping with the goal of Federal-State cooperation in the regulation of public water systems, § 142.34 provides that with respect to systems in States with primary enforcement responsibility, the State agency charged with responsibility for safe drinking water will be notified of any inspection by EPA, and the State agency will be offered the opportunity of having a representative accompany the EPA inspector. As required by the statute, the State agency may not use the EPA notice to inform the person whose property is to be entered of the proposed entry.

Subparts E and F—Variances and Exemptions Issued by the Administrator

EPA may issue variances and exemptions from the national primary drinking water standards to public water systems in States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility. Subparts E and F set forth regulations to be followed by EPA in granting variances and exemptions in those situations. States with primary enforcement responsibility may wish to use similar regulations for issuing variances and exemptions. However, no State is required to follow the EPA procedures so long as the State procedures are in accordance with Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act.

The Administrator cannot issue an exemption to a public water system in a State with primary enforcement responsibility. He can issue a variance to such a system only in the situation covered by proposed § 142.46. That provision, which follows Section 1415(a)(3) of the Act, authorizes the Administrator to issue a variance from a national treatment technique requirement if the system can show that it will use another treatment technique which is as efficient as the prescribed technique. This provision will not be used in the near future because no treatment technique has been proposed for inclusion in the interim primary drinking water standards.

The proposed regulations for the granting of variances and exemptions by EPA provide that when two or more public water systems seek a similar variance or exemption under similar circumstances, they may make a joint request to the Agency. Also, as explicitly permitted by the Act, hearings may encompass more than one application. The Agency plans to make use of these procedural tools to eliminate unnecessary paperwork and duplication in the processing and consideration of variance and exemption requests.

Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act provide that the Agency cannot grant a variance or exemption if to do so would result in an "unreasonable risk to health." It has been suggested that any violation of a bacteriological maximum contaminant level would result in an "unreasonable risk to health" because of the acute effects of excessive bacteria in water and that therefore no variance or exemption from any such maximum contaminant level should be permitted. Temporary variances and exemptions would appear to be more appropriate with respect to chemical contaminant levels established on the basis of the possible chronic health effects. Comment is invited on the criteria to be used in judging whether or not a variance or an exemption would result in an unreasonable risk to health.

Economic Considerations

Cost to the States has been a principal consideration in the development of the proposed Drinking Water Standards Implementation Regulations and the proposed State Program Grant Regulations. Every effort has been made to avoid unnecessary or unduly burdensome regulatory requirements, and to permit a phased buildup of State program capability.

The cost estimates for State water supply programs are based primarily on information collected by the EPA Water Supply Division since 1970. Since the 1970 Community Water Supply study, 13 State water supply program evaluations have been conducted by EPA's Regional Offices. In 1971 the Water Supply Division compiled a paper on State program budgets from information obtained from the States by the Regional Offices. In 1973 the Water Supply Division, with the assistance of the Conference of State Sanitary Engineers, developed a "rationale" for estimating State water supply program costs. Twenty-six States responded to a request from CSSE to estimate costs for a satisfactory program based on the "rationale."

With the information obtained from these sources the Water Supply Division developed and published a "Manual for the Evaluation of a State Drinking Water Supply Program" in 1974. Concurrently with the development of this manual the National Sanitation Foundation developed a manual containing staffing and budgetary guidelines for State water supply programs. Both publications are utilized extensively for the rationale, assumptions and procedures used in developing the cost estimates given below.

Estimated costs are based on program activities and staffing needed by the States to implement the Safe Drinking Water Act. These costs relate principally to a level of program capability that will be needed to meet the conditions for primary enforcement responsibility contained in the proposed regulations. The six principal activities of a State program used to derive these cost estimates are (1) surveillance and technical assistance, (2) laboratory certification, (3) enforcement, (4) data management, (5) laboratory capability, and (6) administration and program development. The key program element influencing the phased approach to the State program cost estimates is surveillance and technical assistance. The estimates reflected a phased buildup of program capability to conduct sanitary surveys and provide technical assistance to public water systems. It is assumed that initially sanitary surveys would be conducted at the larger community systems that use surface water sources and at systems that fail to comply with the interim primary standards. Sanitary surveys of community water systems using groundwater and at small systems serving the traveling public would be conducted as State program capability increases. The costs reflect the assumption that by 1981, a State will be conducting an annual sanitary survey for each public water system.

Estimated costs to the States for the six principal activities in FY 76 and FY 77 are $22 million and $33 million respectively. By the end of the assumed 6-year phase-in period State program costs would reach an estimated $70 million annually.

The cost of routine water quality monitoring of public water systems required by the proposed interim primary drinking water standards have not been included in these estimates. The interim standards place the responsibility for this monitoring on the public water systems. Although it is the Congressional intent that the supplier of water bear the responsibility for the cost of routine monitoring, many States presently perform some degree of routine monitoring at no charge to the public water system. This is particularly true for the smaller systems. Based on the monitoring requirements of the proposed interim primary standards, (40 FR 11990, March 14, 1975) the total annual monitoring costs were estimated at $156 million. However, the proposed interim standards are undergoing substantial revisions which will reduce this estimate to something like $20 to $40 million. A more detailed estimate of costs will be included with the promulgated interim primary drinking water regulations expected to be issued this summer. Because of the uncertainties concerning the monitoring requirements it is not possible at this time to estimate the eventual monitoring costs and the percentage of the costs that may be borne by the States. It is estimated that the States are currently absorbing 50 per cent of all costs for public water system water quality monitoring now conducted. As the interim primary standards' requirements increase the analytical work load, it is expected that the States will shift the cost of routine monitoring as quickly as feasible to the public water systems in accordance with the Congressional intent that the systems bear the full cost of routine monitoring.

These preliminary estimates of costs to the States do not appear excessive or inflationary. It is estimated that the States are currently spending $17 million annually on water supply activities. This includes some $4 million to $5 million for routine monitoring. The Administration has requested $7.5 million in program grant funds for the States in FY 76. Assuming that this level of federal grant funds is made available in FY 76, it appears that the needed State program level of $22 million will be achieved.

Comments are invited from the States, and other concerned parties, concerning their estimate of the minimum funding required to operate water supply programs meeting the requirements of these regulations.

Comments

Interested persons may participate in this rulemaking process by submitting written comments in triplicate to the Office of Water Supply (WH-450), Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C. 20460, Attention: Comment Clerk, Drinking Water Standards Implementation and Grant Regulations.

Comments on all aspects of the proposed regulations are solicited. In addi-

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 142.1 Applicability.

This part sets forth, pursuant to Sections 1413 through 1416, 1445 and 1450 of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by the Safe Drinking Water Act, Pub. L. 93-523, regulations for the implementation and enforcement of the national primary drinking water standards contained in Part 141 of this chapter.

§ 142.2 Definitions.

(See Section 1401 of the Act.) As used in this part, and except as otherwise specifically provided:

(a) "Act" means the Public Health Service Act.

(b) "Maximum contaminant level" means the maximum permissible level of a contaminant in water which is delivered to the free flowing outlet of the ultimate user of a public water system; provided, that in the case of turbidity, the maximum permissible level is measured at the point of entry to the distribution system. Contaminants added to the water under circumstances under control of the user, except for those resulting from corrosion of service piping and plumbing due to corrosive qualities of the water, are excluded from this definition.

(c) "Public water system" means a system for the provision to the public of piped water for human consumption, if such system has at least fifteen service connections or regularly serves an average of at least twenty-five individuals daily at least two months out of the year. Such term includes (1) any collection, treatment, storage, and distribution facilities under control of the operator of such system and used primarily in connection with such system, and (2) any collection or pretreatment storage facilities not under such control which are used primarily in connection with such system.

(d) "Contaminant" means any physical, chemical, biological, or radiological substance or matter in water.

(e) "Person" means an individual, corporation, company, association, partnership, State, municipality or Federal agency.

(f) "State" means one of the States of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, or the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

(g) "Administrator" means the Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency or his authorized representative.

(h) "Agency" means the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

(i) "Federal agency" means any department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States.

(j) "Municipality" means a city, town or other public body created by or pursuant to State law, or an Indian tribal organization authorized by law.

(k) "Supplier of water" means any person who owns or operates a public water system.

(l) "Primary enforcement responsibility" means the primary responsibility for administration and enforcement of primary drinking water standards and related requirements applicable to public water systems within a State.

(m) "National primary drinking water standard" means any primary drinking water regulation contained in Part 141 of this chapter.

(n) "State primary drinking water standard" means a drinking water standard of a State which is comparable to a national primary drinking water standard.

(o) "Sanitary survey" means an onsite review of the water source, facilities, equipment, operation and maintenance of a public water system for purposes of evaluating the adequacy of such source, facilities, equipment, operation and maintenance for producing safe drinking water.

(p) "Treatment technique requirement" means a requirement of the national primary drinking water standards which specifies for a contaminant a specific treatment technique(s) known to the Administrator which leads to a reduction in the level of such contaminant sufficient to comply with the requirements of Part 141 of this chapter.

§ 142.3 Scope.

(See Section 1411 of the Act.) Except where otherwise provided, this part applies to each public water system in each State; except that this part shall not apply to a public water system:

(a) which consists only of distribution and storage facilities (and does not have any collection and treatment facilities);

(b) which obtains all of its water from, but is not owned or operated by, a public water system to which such regulations apply;

(c) which does not sell water to any person; and

(d) which is not a carrier which conveys passengers in interstate commerce.

§ 142.4 State and Local Authority.

(See Section 1413(e) of the Act.) Nothing in this part shall diminish any authority of a State or political subdivision to adopt or enforce any law or regulation respecting drinking water regulations or public water systems, but no such law or regulation shall relieve any person of any requirements otherwise applicable under this part.

Subpart B—Primary Enforcement Responsibility

§ 142.10 Requirements for a Determination of Primary Enforcement Responsibility.

(See Section 1413(a) of the Act.) A State has primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems in the State during any period for which the Administrator determines, based upon a submission made pursuant to § 142.11, that such State:

(a) Has adopted State primary drinking water standards which (1) in case of the period beginning on the date the national interim primary drinking water standards are promulgated in Part 141 of this chapter and ending on the date such standards take effect are no less stringent than such standards, and (2) in the case of the period after such effective date are no less stringent than the interim and revised national primary drinking water standards in effect under such part;

(b) Has adopted and is implementing adequate procedures for the enforcement of such State standards, such procedures to include:

(1) Maintenance of an inventory of public water systems;

(2) A systematic program for conducting sanitary surveys of public water systems in the State, with priority given to sanitary surveys of public water systems not in compliance with State primary drinking water standards;

(3) The establishment and maintenance of a State program for the approval and certification of laboratories conducting analytical measurements of drinking water contaminants pursuant to the requirements of the State primary drinking water standards including the designation of a laboratory officer, or officers, certified by the Administrator, as the official(s) responsible for the State's certification program;

(4) Assurance of the availability to the State of laboratory facilities certified by the Administrator and capable of performing analytical measurements of all contaminants specified in the State primary drinking water standards;

(5) The establishment and maintenance of an activity to assure that the design and construction of new or substantially modified public water system facilities will result in compliance with the State primary drinking water standards;

(6) Statutory and regulatory enforcement authority adequate to compel compliance with the State primary drinking water standards in appropriate cases;

(c) Has established and will maintain record keeping and reporting of its activities under paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) in compliance with §§ 142.14 and 142.15;

(d) If it permits variances or exemptions, or both, from the requirements of the State primary drinking water standards, it shall do so under conditions and in a manner which is no less stringent than the conditions under which, and the manner in which, variances and exemptions may be granted under Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act (regulations governing the issuance of variances and exemptions by the Administrator in States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility are set forth in Subparts E and F. States with primary enforcement responsibility may adopt procedures different from those set forth in Subparts E and F, provided that the State procedures meet the requirements of this paragraph); and

(e) Has adopted and can implement an adequate plan for the provision of safe drinking water under emergency circumstances.

§ 142.11 Request for Determination of Primary Enforcement Responsibility.

(See Section 1413(b) of the Act.) A State may apply to the Administrator for a determination that the State has primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems in the State pursuant to Section 1413 of the Act. The application shall be as concise as possible, describe and document the State's compliance with each of the five requirements set forth in § 142.10, and include the following information:

(a) The text of the State's primary drinking water standards, with references to those State standards that vary from comparable standards set forth in Part 141 of this chapter, and a demonstration that any different State standard is at least as stringent as the comparable standard contained in Part 141.

(b) A description, accompanied by appropriate documentation, of the State's procedures for the enforcement of the State primary drinking water standards. The submission shall include:

(1) A brief description of the State's program to maintain a current inventory of public water systems.

(2) A brief description of the State's program for conducting sanitary surveys, including an explanation of the priorities given to various classes of public water systems.

(3) A brief description of the State's laboratory approval and certification program, including the name(s) of the responsible State laboratory officer(s) certified by the Administrator.

(4) Identification of laboratory facilities, available to the State, certified by the Administrator and capable of performing analytical measurements of all contaminants specified in the State's primary drinking water standards.

(5) A brief description of the State's program activity to assure that the design and construction of new or substantially modified public water system facilities will result in compliance with the requirements of the State primary drinking water standards.

(6) Copies of State statutory and regulatory provisions authorizing the adoption and enforcement of State primary drinking water standards, and a brief description of State procedures for administrative or judicial action with respect to public water systems not in compliance with such standards.

(c) A statement that the State will make such reports and will keep such records as may be required pursuant to §§ 142.14 and 142.15.

(d) If the State permits variances or exemptions from its primary drinking water standards, the text of the State's statutory and regulatory provisions concerning variances and exemptions.

(e) A brief description of the State's plan for the provision of safe drinking water under emergency conditions.

§ 142.12 Determination of Primary Enforcement Responsibility.

(See Section 1413(b) of the Act.)

(a) (1) The Administrator shall act on an application submitted pursuant to § 142.11 within 90 days after receiving such application, and shall promptly inform the State in writing of his action. If he denies the application, his written notification to the State shall include a statement of reasons for the denial.

(2) A determination by the Administrator that a State has met the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility shall take effect in accordance with § 142.13.

(3) When the Administrator's determination becomes effective pursuant to § 142.13, it shall continue in effect unless terminated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) (1) The Administrator shall periodically review, with respect to each State determined to have primary enforcement responsibility, the compliance of the State with the requirements set forth in § 142.10.

(2) When the Administrator's periodic review, or other information available to him, indicate that a State no longer meets the requirements set forth in § 142.10, he shall notify the State in writing of that fact and shall summarize in his notice the information available to him which indicates that the State no longer meets such requirements.

(3) The State notified pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph may, within 30 days of receiving the Administrator's notice, submit to the Administrator evidence or arguments demonstrating that the State continued to meet the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility.

(4) After reviewing the submission of the State, if any, made pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph the Administrator shall either determine that the State no longer meets the requirements of § 142.10 or that the State continues to meet those requirements, and shall notify the State of his determination. Any determination that the State no longer meets the requirements of § 142.10 shall not become effective except as provided in § 142.13.

§ 142.13 Public Hearing.

(See Section 1413(b) of the Act.)

(a) Before any determination pursuant to § 142.12(a) that a State meets the requirements of § 142.10 for primary enforcement responsibility becomes effective, or any determination pursuant to § 142.12(b) that a State no longer meets the requirements of § 142.10 becomes effective, the Administrator shall provide an opportunity for public hearing on his determination.

(b) The Administrator shall publish notice of any determination specified in paragraph (a) of this section in the FEDERAL REGISTER within 15 days after making such determination, with a statement of his reasons for the determination. Such notice shall inform interested persons that they may request a public hearing on the Administrator's determination. A public hearing may be requested by any interested person other than a Federal agency.

(c) Requests for hearing submitted pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall be submitted to the Administrator within 30 days after publication of notice of opportunity for hearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Such requests shall include the following information:

(1) The name, address and telephone number of the individual, organization or other entity requesting a hearing.

(2) A brief statement of the requesting person's interest in the Administrator's determination.

(3) A brief statement of information that the person making the request intends to submit at such hearing.

(4) The signature of the individual making the request; or, if the request is made on behalf of an organization or other entity, the signature of a responsible official of the organization or other entity.

(d) The Administrator shall give notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of any hearing to be held pursuant to a request submitted by an interested person or on his own motion. Notice of the hearing shall also be sent to the person requesting a hearing, if any, and to the State involved. Notice of the hearing shall include a statement of the purpose of the hearing, information regarding the time and location for the hearing and the address and telephone number of an office at which interested persons may obtain further information concerning the hearing. Notice of hearing shall be given not less than 15 days prior to the time scheduled for the hearing.

(e) Hearings convened pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section shall be conducted before a hearing officer to be designated by the Administrator. The hearing officer shall have the authority to limit the introduction of irrelevant or repetitious evidence, and to limit or prohibit cross examination. Following the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall forward the record of the hearing to the Administrator.

(f) After reviewing the record of the hearing, the Administrator shall issue an order affirming the determination referred to in paragraph (a) of this section or rescinding such determination. If the determination is affirmed, it shall become effective as of the date of the Administrator's order.

(g) If no timely request for hearing is received and the Administrator does not determine to hold a hearing on his own motion, the Administrator's determination shall become effective 30 days after notice is issued pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(h) If a determination of the Administrator that a State no longer meets the requirements for primary enforcement responsibility becomes effective, the State may subsequently apply for a determination that it meets such requirements by submitting to the Administrator information demonstrating that it has remedied the deficiencies found by the Administrator without adversely sacrificing other aspects of its program required for primary enforcement responsibility.

§ 142.14 Records Kept by States.

(See Sections 1413(a)(3) of the Act.)

(a) Each State which has primary enforcement responsibility shall maintain records of tests, measurements and analyses performed on all public water systems to determine compliance with applicable provisions of State primary drinking water regulations.

(1) Records of bacteriological analyses shall be retained for not less than 1 year. Actual laboratory reports may be kept or data may be transferred to tabular summaries, provided that the information retained includes:

(i) The analytical method used;

(ii) The number of samples analyzed each month;

(iii) The analytical results, set forth in a form which makes possible comparison with the limits specified in § 141.15 of chapter.

(2) Records of bacteriological analyses of check or special samples shall be retained for not less than 1 year in the form of actual laboratory reports or in an appropriate summary form.

(3) Records of analyses for other than bacteriological contaminants shall be retained for not less than 10 years and shall include at least the following information:

(i) Date and place of sampling.

(ii) Date and results of analyses.

(b) Records required to be kept pursuant to paragraph (a) must be in a form admissible as evidence in State enforcement proceedings.

(c) Each State which has primary enforcement responsibility shall maintain current inventory information for each public water system in the State and shall retain, for not less than 10 years, files which shall include for each such public water system:

(1) Reports of sanitary surveys:

(2) Records of any State approvals;

(3) Records of any enforcement actions; and

(4) Records pertaining to variances and exemptions.

§ 142.15 Reports by States.

(See Sections 1413(a)(3), 1415(a)(1)(C) and 1416(c) of the Act.) Each State which has primary enforcement responsibility shall submit to the Administrator the following information:

(a) Additions or corrections to the State's inventory of public water systems, as such additions or corrections are made if feasible, and in any event by February 1 of each year.

(b) An annual report to be submitted by February 1 of each year, covering the preceding calendar year, and consisting of:

(1) A summary of violations by public water systems in the State of the primary drinking water standards and of enforcement actions taken by the State;

(2) A summary of the status of each variance and exemption granted by the State which was in effect during any part of the calendar year.

(c) Prompt notification of the granting of a variance or exemption. The notice shall include a statement of reasons for the granting of the variance or exemption, including support for the need for the variance or exemption and for the finding that the granting of the variance or exemption will not result in an unreasonable risk to health. A single notification statement may be used to report two or more similar variances or exemptions.

Subpart C—Review of State-Issued Variances and Exemptions

§ 142.20 State-Issued Variances and Exemptions.

(See Section 1413(a)(4) of the Act.) States with primary enforcement responsibility may issue variances and exemptions from the requirements of primary drinking water regulations under conditions and in a manner which are not less stringent than the conditions under which, and the manner in which, variances and exemptions may be granted under Sections 1415 and 1416 of the Act. In States that do not have primary enforcement responsibility, variances and exemptions from the requirements of applicable national primary drinking water regulations may be granted by the Administrator pursuant to Subparts E and F.

§ 142.21 State Consideration of a Variance or Exemption Request.

(See Sections 1415(c) and 1416(g) of the Act.) A State with primary enforcement responsibility shall act on any variance or exemption request submitted to it, within 90 days of receipt of the request.

§ 142.22 Review of State Variances, Exemptions and Schedules.

(See Sections 1415(a)(1)(F) and 1416(d)(1) of the Act.)

(a) Not later than 18 months after the effective date of the interim national primary drinking water standards the Administrator shall complete a comprehensive review of the variances and exemptions granted (and schedules prescribed pursuant thereto) by the States during the one-year period beginning on such effective date. The Administrator shall conduct such subsequent reviews of exemptions and schedules as he deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this title, but at least one review shall be completed within each 3-year period following the completion of the first review under this paragraph.

(b) Notice of a proposed review shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Such notice shall (1) provide information respecting the location of data and other information respecting the variances and exemptions to be reviewed (including data and other information concerning new scientific matters bearing on such variances and exemptions), and (2) advise of the opportunity to submit comments on the variances and exemptions reviewed and on the need for continuing them. Upon completion of any such review, the Administrator shall publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the results of his review, together with findings responsive to any comments submitted in connection with such review.

§ 142.23 Notice to State.

(See Sections 1415(a)(1)(G) and 1416(d)(2) of the Act.) (a) If the Administrator finds that a State has, in a substantial number of instances, abused its discretion in granting variances or exemptions under Section 1415(a) or Section 1416(a) of the Act or failed to prescribe schedules in accordance with Section 1415(a) or Section 1416(b) of the Act, he shall notify the State of his findings. Such notice shall:

(1) Identify each public water system for which the finding was made;

(2) Specify the reasons for the finding; and

(3) As appropriate, propose revocation of specific variances or exemptions, or propose revised schedules for specific public water systems.

(b) The Administrator shall also notify the State of a public hearing to be held on the provisions of the notice required by paragraph (a) of this section. Such notice shall specify the time and location for the hearing.

(c) The Administrator shall publish notice of the public hearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER, including a summary of the findings made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, a statement of the time and location for the hearing, and the address and telephone number of an office at which interested persons may obtain further information concerning the hearing.

(d) Hearings convened pursuant to paragraph (b) and (c) of this section shall be conducted before a hearing officer to be designated by the Administrator. The hearing officer shall have the authority to limit the introduction of irrelevant or repetitious evidence, and to limit or prohibit cross examination. Following the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall forward the record of the hearing to the Administrator.

(e) Within 180 days after the date notice is given pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, the Administrator shall:

(1) Rescind the finding for which the notice was given and promptly notify the State of such rescission, or

(2) Promulgated with any modifications as appropriate such revocation and revised schedules proposed in such notice and promptly notify the State of such action.

(f) A revocation or revised schedule shall take effect 90 days after the State is notified under paragraph (e)(2) of this section.

§ 142.24 Administrator's Rescission.

(See Sections 1415(a)(1)(G) (iii and 1416(d)(2)(C) of the Act.) If, upon notification of a finding by the Administrator under § 142.23, the State takes corrective action before the effective date of the revocation or revised schedule, the Administrator shall rescind the application of his finding to that variance, exemption or schedule.

Subpart D—Federal Enforcement

§ 142.30 Failure by State to Assure Enforcement.

(See Section 1414(a)(1) of the Act.)

(a) The Administrator shall notify a State whenever he finds during a period in which the State has primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems that a public water system within such State is not in compliance with any regulation or provision of Part 141 of this chapter or with any schedule or other requirements imposed pursuant to a variregulation or provision of Part 141 of this 1415 or 1416 of the Act; provided, that the State will be deemed to have been notified of a violation referred to in a report submitted by the State.

(b) The Administrator shall provide advice and technical assistance to such State and public water system as may be appropriate to bring the system into compliance by the earliest feasible time.

(c) If the Administrator finds that the public water system fails to comply within 30 days after the date of the notice given to the State pursuant to paragraph (a), and fails to initiate appropriate corrective actions to bring the system into compliance by the earliest feasible time, the Administrator shall give public notice of his findings of noncompliance. Such notice shall be by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and in a newspaper of general circulation or by other appropriate communication media covering the area served by such public water system. The Administrator shall also mail a copy of the notification to the supplier of water.

(d) The Administrator shall request the State to report to him within 15 days from the date of such public notice. Such report shall specify information including but not limited to:

(1) Reasons for any failure by the State to bring the system into compliance,

(2) A timetable with increments of progress by which compliance will be achieved,

(3) Steps that are being taken or will be taken to bring the system into compliance and the reasons for such steps, and

(4) Legal steps that will be taken by the State to assure that the timetable is followed (the State may refer to information on file with the Administrator).

(e) The Administrator, after considering the report submitted by the State within such time period as specified in paragraph (d), will (1) determine that the State has taken appropriate action or (2) determine that the State has abused its discretion in carrying out primary enforcement responsibility by both:

(1) Failing to implement by the sixtieth day after the date of notice given under paragraph (a), adequate procedures to bring the system into compliance by the earliest feasible time, and

(2) Failing to assure by such day the provision through alternative means of safe drinking water by the earliest feasible time.

§ 142.31 Federal Action.

(See Section 1414(b) of the Act.)

(a) The Administrator may commence a civil action against a supplier of water whose public water system is not in compliance with a regulation or provision of Part 141 of this chapter or with any schedule or other requirements imposed pursuant to a variance or exemption granted pursuant to Section 1415 or 1416 of the Act:

(1) During a period in which the State in which the system is located does not have primary enforcement responsibility for public water systems;

(2) During a period in which the State in which the system is located has primary enforcement responsibility, if such failure to comply extends beyond the sixtieth day after the date of the notice given pursuant to § 142.30(a), and if

(i) The State fails to submit the report requested by the Administrator as provided by § 142.30(d); or

(ii) The Administrator determines, after considering the report submitted by the State as provided by § 142.30(d), that the State has abused its discretion in carrying out primary enforcement responsibility pursuant to § 142.30(e); or

(3) If requested by the chief executive officer of the State in which the system is located or by the agency of such State which has jurisdiction over compliance by public water systems in the State with primary drinking water standards.

§ 142.32 Petition for Public Hearing.

(See Section 1414(b) of the Act.)

(a) If the Administrator makes a finding of noncompliance pursuant to § 142.30 with respect to a public water system in a State which has primary enforcement responsibility, the Administrator may, for the purpose of assisting that State in carrying out such responsibility and upon the petition of such State or public water system or persons served by such system, hold, after appropriate notice, public hearings for the purpose of gathering information as described in § 142.33.

(b) A petition for a public hearing pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed with the Administrator and shall include the following information:

(1) The name, address and telephone number of the individual or other entity requesting a hearing.

(2) If the petition is filed by a person other than the State or public water system, a statement that the person is served by the system.

(3) A brief statement of the basis for the petition.

(4) The signature of the individual submitting the petition; or, if the petition is filed on behalf of a State, public water system or other entity, the signature of a responsible official of the State or other entity.

§ 142.33 Public Hearing.

(See Section 1414(f) of the Act.)

(a) If the Administrator grants the petition for public hearing, he shall give appropriate public notice of such hearing.

(b) The Administrator shall gather during the public hearing information from technical or other experts, Federal, State, or other public officials, representatives of such public water system, persons served by such system, and other interested persons on:

(1) The ways in which such system can within the earliest feasible time be brought into compliance, and

(2) The means for the maximum feasible protection of the public health during any period in which such system is not in compliance.

(c) On the basis of such hearing the Administrator shall issue recommendations which shall be sent to the State and public water system involved and shall be made available to the public and communications media.

§ 142.34 Entry and Inspection of Public Water Systems.

(See Section 1445(b) of the Act.)

(a) Any supplier of water or other person subject to a national primary drinking water standard shall, at any time, allow the Administrator, or a designated representative of the Administrator, upon presenting appropriate credentials and a written notice of inspection, to enter any establishment, facility or other property of such supplier or other person to determine whether such supplier or other person has acted or is acting in compliance with the requirements of the Act or Subchapter D of this chapter. Such inspection may include inspection, at reasonable times of records, files, papers, processes, controls and facilities, or testing of any feature of a public water system, including its raw water source.

(b) Prior to entry into any establishment, facility or other property within a State which has primary enforcement responsibility, the Administrator shall notify, in writing, the State agency charged with responsibility for safe drinking water of his intention to make such entry and shall include in his notification a statement of reasons for such entry. The Administrator shall, upon a showing by the State agency that such an entry will be detrimental to the administration of the State's program of primary enforcement responsibility, take such showing into consideration in determining whether to make such entry. The Administrator shall in any event offer the State agency the opportunity of having a representative accompany the Administrator or his representative on such entry.

(c) No State agency which receives notice under paragraph (b) may use the information contained in the notice to inform the person whose property is proposed to be entered of the proposed entry; if a State so uses such information, notice to the agency under paragraph (b) is not required for subsequent inspections of public water systems until such time as the Administrator determines that the agency has provided him satisfactory assurances that it will no longer so use information contained in a notice received under paragraph (b).

Subpart E—Variances Issued by the Administrator

§ 142.40 Requirements for a Variance.

(See Section 1415(a)(2) of the Act.)

(a) The Administrator may grant one or more variances to any public water system within a State that does not have primary enforcement responsibility from any requirement respecting a maximum contaminant level of an applicable national primary drinking water standard upon a finding that:

(1) Because of characteristics of the raw water sources which are reasonably available to the system, the system cannot meet the requirements respecting the maximum contaminant levels of such drinking water standards despite application of the best technology, treatment techniques, or other means, which the Administrator finds are generally available (taking costs into consideration); and

(2) The granting of a variance will not result in an unreasonable risk to the health of persons served by the system.

(b) The Administrator may grant one or more variances to any public water system within a State that does not have primary enforcement responsibility from any requirement of a specified treatment technique of an applicable national primary drinking water standard upon a finding that the public water system applying for the variance has demonstrated that such treatment technique is not necessary to protect the health of persons because of the nature of the raw water source of such system.

§ 142.41 Variance Request.

(See Section 1415(a)(2) of the Act.)

A supplier of water may request the granting of a variance pursuant to this subpart for a public water system within a State that does not have primary enforcement responsibility by submitting a request for a variance in writing to the Administrator. Suppliers of water may submit a joint request for variances when they seek similar variances under similar circumstances. Any written request for a variance or variances shall include the following information:

(a) The nature and duration of variance requested.

(b) Relevant analytical results of water quality sampling of the system, including results of relevant tests conducted pursuant to the requirements of the national primary drinking water standards.

(c) For any request made under § 142.40(a):

(1) Explanation in full and evidence of the best available treatment technology and techniques.

(2) Economic and legal factors relevant to ability to comply.

(3) Analytical results of raw water quality relevant to the variance request.

(4) A proposed compliance schedule, including the date each step toward compliance will be achieved. Such schedule shall include as a minimum the following dates:

(i) Date by which arrangement for alternative raw water source or improvement of existing raw water source will be completed.

(ii) Date of initiation of the connection of the alternative raw water source or improvement of existing raw water source.

(iii) Date by which final compliance is to be achieved.

(5) A plan for the provision of safe drinking water in the case of an excessive rise in the contaminant level for which the variance is requested.

(6) A plan for interim control measures during the effective period of variance.

(d) For any request made under § 142.40(b), a statement that the system will perform monitoring and other reasonable requirements prescribed by the Administrator as a condition to the variance.

(e) Other information, if any, believed to be pertinent by the applicant.

(f) Such other information as the Administrator may require.

§ 142.42 Consideration of Variance Request.

(See Section 1415(a)(2) of the Act.)

(a) The Administrator shall act on any variance request submitted pursuant to § 142.41 within 90 days of receipt of the request.

(b) In his consideration of whether the public water system is unable to comply with a contaminant level required by the national primary drinking water regulations because of the nature of the raw water source, the Administrator shall consider such factors as the following:

(1) The availability and effectiveness of treatment methods for the contaminant for which the variance is requested.

(2) Cost and other economic considerations such as implementing treatment, improving the quality of the source water or using an alternate source.

(c) In his consideration of whether a public water system should be granted a variance to a required treatment technique because such treatment is unnecessary to protect the public health, the Administrator shall consider such factors as the following:

(1) Quality of the water source including water quality data and pertinent sources of pollution.

(2) Source protection measures employed by the public water system.

§ 142.43 Disposition of a Variance Request.

(See Section 1415(a)(2) of the Act.)

(a) If the Administrator decides to deny the application for a variance, he shall notify the applicant of his intention to issue a denial. Such notice shall include a statement of reasons for the proposed denial, and shall offer the applicant an opportunity to present, within 30 days of receipt of the notice, additional information or argument to the Administrator. The Administrator shall make a final determination on the request within 30 days after receiving any such additional information or argument. If no additional information or argument is submitted by the applicant the application shall be denied.

(b) If the Administrator proposes to grant a variance request submitted pursuant to § 142.41, he shall notify the applicant of his decision in writing. Such notice shall identify the variance, the facility covered, and shall specify the period of time for which the variance will be effective.

(1) For the type of variance specified in § 142.40(a) such notice shall provide that the variance will be terminated when the system comes into compliance with the applicable standard, and may be terminated upon a finding by the Administrator that the system has failed to comply with any requirements of a final schedule issued pursuant to § 141.44.

(2) For the type of variance specified in § 142.40(b) such notice shall provide that the variance may be terminated at any time upon a finding that the nature of the raw water source is such that the specified treatment technique for which the variance was granted is necessary to protect the health of persons or upon a finding that the public water system has failed to comply with monitoring and other requirements prescribed by the Administrator as a condition to the granting of the variance.

(c) For a variance specified in § 142.40(a)(1) the Administrator shall propose a schedule for:

(1) Compliance (including increments of progress) by the public water system with each contaminant level requirement covered by the variance; and,

(2) Implementation by the public water system of such control measures as the Administrator may require for each contaminant covered by the variance.

(d) The proposed schedule for compliance shall specify dates by which steps towards compliance are to be taken, including at the minimum, where applicable:

(1) Date by which arrangement for an alternative raw water source or improvement of existing raw water source will be completed.

(2) Date of initiation of the connection for the alternative raw water source or improvement of the existing raw water source.

(3) Date by which final compliance is to be achieved.

(e) The proposed schedule may, if the public water system has no access to an alternative raw water source, and can effect or anticipate no adequate improvement of the existing raw water source, specify an indefinite time period for compliance until a new and effective treatment technology is developed at which time a new compliance schedule shall be prescribed by the Administrator.

(f) The proposed schedule for implementation of interim control measures during the period of variance shall specify interim treatment techniques, methods and equipment, and dates by which steps toward meeting the interim control measures are to be met.

(g) The schedule shall be prescribed by the Administrator within one year after the granting of the variance, subsequent to provision of opportunity for hearing pursuant to § 142.44.

§ 142.44 Public Hearings on Variances and Schedules.

(See Section 1415(a)(2) of the Act.)

(a) Before a variance or a schedule proposed by the Administrator pursuant to § 142.43 may take effect, the Administrator shall provide notice and opportunity for public hearing on the variance or schedule. A notice given pursuant to the preceding sentence may cover the granting of more than one variance and a hearing held pursuant to such notice shall include each of the variances covered by the notice.

(b) Public notice of an opportunity for hearing on a variance or schedule shall be circulated in a manner designed to inform interested and potentially interested persons of the proposed variance or schedule, and shall include at least the following:

(1) Posting of a notice in the principal post office of each municipality or area served by the public water system, or publishing of a notice in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the area served by the public water system; and

(2) Mailing of a notice to the agency of the State in which the system is located which is responsible for the State's water supply program, and to other appropriate State or local agencies at the Administrator's discretion.

(3) Such notice shall include a summary of the proposed variance or schedule and shall inform interested persons that they may request a public hearing on the proposed variance or schedule.

(c) Requests for hearing may be submitted by any interested person other than a Federal agency. Such requests must be submitted to the Administrator within 30 days after issuance of the public notices provided for in paragraph (b). Such requests shall include the following information:

(1) The name, address and telephone number of the individual, organization or other entity requesting a hearing;

(2) A brief statement of the interest of the person making the request in the proposed variance or schedule;

(3) A brief statement of the information that the person making the request intends to submit at such hearing; and

(4) The signature of the individual making the request, or, if the request is made on behalf of an organization or other entity, the signature of a responsible official of the organization or other entity.

(d) The Administrator shall give notice in the manner set forth in paragraph (b) of this section of any hearing to be held pursuant to a request submitted by an interested person or on his own motion. Notice of the hearing shall also be sent to the persons requesting the hearing, if any. Notice of the hearing shall include a statement of the purpose of the hearing, information regarding the time and location for the hearing, and the address and telephone number of an office at which interested persons may obtain further information concerning the hearing. Notice of hearing shall be given not less than 15 days prior to the time scheduled for the hearing.

(e) A hearing convened pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section shall be conducted before a hearing officer to be designated by the Administrator. The hearing officer shall have the authority to limit the introduction of irrelevant or repetitious evidence, and to limit or prohibit cross examination. Following the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall forward the record of the hearing to the Administrator.

(f) The variance or schedule shall become effective 30 days after notice of opportunity for hearing is given pursuant to paragraph (b) if no timely request for hearing is submitted and the Administrator does not determine to hold a public hearing on his own motion.

§ 142.45 Action After Hearing.

(See Section 1415(a)(2) of the Act.)

Within 30 days after the termination of the public hearing held pursuant to §142.44, the Administrator shall, taking into consideration information obtained during such hearing and other relevant information, confirm, revise or rescind the proposed variance or schedule.

§ 142.46 Alternative Treatment Techniques.

(See Section 1415(a)(3) of the Act.)

The Administrator may grant a variance from any treatment technique requirement of a national primary drinking water standard to a supplier of water, whether or not the public water system for which the variance is requested is located in a State which has primary enforcement responsibility, upon a showing from any person that an alternative treatment technique not included in such requirement is at least as efficient in lowering the level of the contaminant with respect to which such requirements was prescribed. A variance under this paragraph shall be conditioned on the use of the alternative treatment technique which is the basis of the variance.

Subpart F—Exemptions Issued by the Administrator

§ 142.50 Requirements for an Exemption.

(See Section 1416(f) of the Act.) The Administrator may exempt any public water system within a State that does not have primary enforcement responsibility from any requirement respecting a maximum contaminant level or any treatment technique requirement, or from both, of an applicable national primary drinking water standard upon a finding that:

(a) Due to compelling factors (which may include economic factors), the public water system is unable to comply with such contaminant level or treatment technique requirement;

(b) The public water system was in operation on the effective date of such contaminant level or treatment technique requirement; and

(c) The granting of the exemption will not result in an unreasonable risk to health.

§ 142.51 Exemption Request.

(See Section 1416(f) of the Act.) A supplier of water may request the granting of an exemption pursuant to this subpart for a public water system within a State that does not have primary enforcement responsibility by submitting a request for exemption in writing to the Administrator. Suppliers of water may submit a joint request for exemptions when they seek similar exemptions under similar circumstances. Any written request for an exemption or exemptions shall include the following information:

(a) The nature and duration of exemption requested.

(b) Relevant analytical results of water quality sampling of the system, including results of relevant tests conducted pursuant to the requirements of the national primary drinking water standards.

(c) Explanation of the compelling factors such as time or economic factors which prevent such system from achieving compliance.

(d) Other information, if any, believed by the applicant to be pertinent to the application.

(e) A proposed compliance schedule, including the date when each step toward compliance will be achieved.

(f) Such other information as the Administrator may require.

§ 142.52 Consideration of an Exemption Request.

(See Section 1416(f) of the Act.)

(a) The Administrator shall act on any exemption request submitted pursuant to § 142.51 within 90 days of receipt of the request.

(b) In his consideration of whether the public water system is unable to comply due to compelling factors, the Administrator shall consider such factors as the following:

(1) Construction, installation, or modification of treatment equipment or systems.

(2) The time needed to put into operation a new treatment facility to replace an existing system which is not in compliance;

(3) Economic feasibility of compliance.

§ 142.53 Disposition of an Exemption Request.

(See Section 1416(f) of the Act.)

(a) If the Administrator decides to deny the application for an exemption, he shall notify the applicant of his intention to issue a denial. Such notice shall include a statement of reasons for the proposed denial, and shall offer the applicant an opportunity to present, within 30 days of receipt of the notice, additional information or argument to the Administrator. The Administrator shall make a final determination on the request within 30 days after receiving any such additional information or argument. If no additional information or argument is submitted by the applicant, the application shall be denied.

(b) If the Administrator grants an exemption request submitted pursuant to § 142.51, he shall notify the applicant of his decision in writing. Such notice shall identify the facility covered, and shall specify the termination date of the exemption. Such notice shall provide that the exemption will be terminated when the system comes into compliance with the applicable standard, and may be terminated upon a finding by the Administrator that the system has failed to comply with any requirements of a final schedule issued pursuant to § 142.55.

(c) The Administrator shall propose a schedule for:

(1) Compliance (including increments of progress) by the public water system with each contaminant level requirement and treatment technique requirement covered by the exemption; and

(2) Implementation by the public water system of such control measures as the Administrator may require for each contaminant covered by the exemption.

(d) The schedule shall be prescribed by the Administrator within one year after the granting of the exemption, subsequent to provision of opportunity for hearing pursuant to § 142.54.

§ 142.54 Public Hearings on Exemption Schedules.

(See Section 1416(f) of the Act.)

(a) Before a schedule proposed by the Administrator pursuant to § 142.53 may take effect, the Administrator shall provide notice and opportunity for public hearing on the schedule. A notice given pursuant to the preceding sentence may cover the proposal of more than one such schedule and a hearing held pursuant to such notice shall include each of the schedules covered by the notice.

(b) Public notice of an opportunity for hearing on an exemption schedule shall be circulated in a manner designed to inform interested and potentially interested persons of the proposed schedule, and shall include at least the following:

(1) Posting of a notice in the principal post office of each municipality or area served by the public water system, or publishing of a notice in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the area served by the public water system; and

(2) Mailing of a notice to the agency of the State in which the system is located which is responsible for the States water supply program and to other appropriate State or local agencies in the Administrator's discretion.

(3) Such notices shall include a summary of the proposed schedule and shall inform interested persons that they may request a public hearing on the proposed schedule.

(c) Requests for hearing may be submitted by any interested person other than a Federal agency. Such requests must be submitted to the Administrator within 30 days after issuance of the public notices provided for in paragraph (b). Such requests shall include the following information:

(1) The name, address and telephone number of the individual, organization or other entity requesting a hearing;

(2) A brief statement of the interest of the person making the request in the proposed schedule;

(3) A brief statement of the information that the person making the request intends to submit at such hearing; and

(4) The signature of the individual making the request, or, if the request is made on behalf of an organization or other entity, the signature of a responsible official of the organization or other entity.

(d) The Administrator shall give notice in the manner set forth in paragraph (b) of this section of any hearing to be held pursuant to a request submitted by an interested person or on his own motion. Notice of the hearing shall also be sent to the person requesting the hearing, if any. Notice of the hearing shall include a statement of the purpose of the hearing, information regarding the time and location for the hearing, and the address and telephone number of an office at which interested persons may obtain further information concerning the hearing. Notice of hearing shall be given not less than 10 working days prior to the time scheduled for the hearing.

(e) A hearing convened pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section shall be conducted before a hearing officer to be designated by the Administrator. The hearing officer shall have the authority to limit the introduction of irrelevant or repetitious evidence, and to limit or prohibit cross examination. Following the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer shall forward the record of the hearing to the Administrator.

§ 142.55 Final Schedule.

(See Section 1416(f) of the Act.)

(a) Within 30 days after the termination of the public hearing pursuant to § 142.54, the Administrator shall, taking into consideration information obtained during such hearing, revise the proposed schedule as necessary and prescribe the final schedule for compliance and interim measures for the public water system granted an exemption under § 142.52.

(b) Such schedule shall require compliance by the public water system with each contaminant level and treatment technique requirement prescribed by:

(1) Interim national primary drinking water standards pursuant to Part 141 of this chapter, by no later than January 1, 1981, and

(2) Revised national primary drinking water standards pursuant to Part 141 of this chapter, by no later than seven years after the effective date of such standards.

(c) If the public water system has entered into an enforceable agreement to become a part of a regional public water system, as determined by the Administrator, such schedule shall require compliance by the public water system with each contaminant level and treatment technique requirement prescribed by:

(1) Interim national primary drinking water standards pursuant to Part 141 of this chapter, by no later than January 1, 1983, and

(2) Revised national primary drinking water standards pursuant to Part 141 of this chapter, by no later than nine years after the effective date of such standards.

[Docket No. 20522]

CORPORATE OWNERSHIP INFORMATION

Amendment to Annual Report Forms; Extension of Time

By the Chief, Common Carrier Bureau:

In the matter of amendment of Annual Report Form M for telephone companies, Form O for wire-telegraph and ocean-cable carriers, Form R for radiotelegraph carriers, and Form H for holding companies to provide for more comprehensive information on corporate ownership.

1. The Commission has received a motion dated July 22, 1975 from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T) and the associated Bell System operating companies requesting an extension from July 28, 1975 to November 26, 1975 in which to submit comments pertaining to the Notice of Proposed Rule Making on corporate ownership information [40 FR 26557].

2. AT&T indicates that the timetable set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making does not allow it sufficient time to gather information necessary to assess the impact of the proposal on the total Bell System. In this connection, AT&T points out that it will require extensive work in order to assess the impact of the proposed requirements upon the Bell System companies, particularly the disclosures related to (a) business affiliations of officers and directors, and (b) stock and debt ownership, including the legal implications of the latter.

3. It appears that it is in the public interest to allow additional time for comments. However, because of the importance of the matter under consideration in this proceeding, it would appear that an extension of time to September 29, 1975 rather than to November 26, 1975 as requested by AT&T, would be more appropriate in order not to unduly delay action in this proceeding.

4. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, pursuant to authority delegated by Section 0.303(c) of the Commission's Rules, that the time for filing comments in the above captioned proceeding is hereby extended to September 29, 1975 and the time for filing reply comments is hereby extended to October 14, 1975. In granting this extension of time, we believe sufficient time has been made available to all interested persons within which to file their comments. We, therefore, urge all interested persons to take appropriate steps to file their comments within the time periods established in this proceeding.

Adopted: July 24, 1975.

Released: July 28, 1975.

PRIVACY ACT REGULATIONS

Implementation

In the Matter of proposed rules to implement the Privacy Act of 1974.

1. The attached proposed rules are designed to implement the Privacy Act of 1974, P.L. 93-579, December 31, 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a.

2. Interested persons are invited to submit comments on the proposed rules on or before August 29, 1975. In view of the fact that final rules must be issued by September 27, 1975, the effective date of the Privacy Act, reply comments are not invited and petitions for extension of the date for filing comments will not be granted.

3. Authority for the proposed rules is contained in Sections 4(i) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 154(i) and 303(r), and in the Privacy Act of 1974, Public Law 93-579, December 31, 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a.

4. In accordance with the provisions of Section 1.419 of the Rules and Regulations, 47 CFR 1.419, an original and 14 copies of all comments shall be furnished the Commission. Comments will be available for inspection in the Commission's Broadcast and Dockets Reference Room. All relevant and timely comments will be considered by the Commission prior to final action in this proceeding. In reaching its decision, the Commission may take into account other relevant information before it in addition to the specific comments invited by this Notice.

Adopted: July 30, 1975.

Released: August 5, 1975.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] VINCENT J. MULLINS,
Secretary.

In Part O of Chapter I of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations, a new Subpart E is added, to read as follows:

Subpart E—Privacy Act Regulations

§ 0.551 Purpose and Scope; definitions.

(a) The purpose of this subpart is to implement the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552(a), and to protect the rights of the individual in the accuracy and privacy of information concerning him which is contained in Commission records. The regulations contained herein cover any group of records under the Commission's control from which information about individuals is retrievable by the name of an individual or by some other personal identifier.

(b) In this subpart:

(1) "Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(2) "Record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission, including but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history, and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph;

(3) "System of Records" means a group of records under the control of the Commission from which information is retrievable by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual;

(4) "Routine Use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(5) "System Manager" means the Commission official responsible for the storage, maintenance, safekeeping, and disposal of a system of records.

§ 0.552 Notice identifying Commission systems of records.

The Commission annually publishes in the Federal Register a notice listing systems of records currently maintained by the Commission, including for each system of records:

(a) the name and location of the system;

(b) the categories of individuals on whom records are maintained in the system;

(c) the categories of records maintained in the system;

(d) each routine use of the records contained in the system, including the categories of users and the purposes of such use;

(e) the policies and practices of the agency regarding storage, retrievability, access controls, retention, and disposal of the records;

(f) the title and business address of the system manager;

(g) the address of the agency office to which inquiries should be addressed and the addresses of locations at which the individual may inquire whether a system contains records pertaining to himself;

(h) the agency procedures whereby an individual can be notified how access can be gained to any record pertaining to that individual contained in a system of records, and the procedure for correcting or contesting its contents; and

(i) the categories of sources of records in the system.

§ 0.553 New uses of information.

Before establishing a new routine use of a system of records, the Commission will publish a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of its intention to do so, and will provide at least 30 days for public comment on such use. The notice will contain:

(a) the name of the system of records for which the new routine use is to be established;

(b) the authority for the system;

(c) the categories of records maintained;

(d) the proposed routine use(s); and

(e) the categories of recipients for each proposed routine use.

§ 0.554 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a system of records.

(a) Upon request, the Commission will notify an individual as to whether it maintains information about him or her in a system of records and, subject to the provisions of § 0.555(b), will disclose the substance of such information to that individual. In order to properly request notification or access to record information, reference must be made to the Notice described in § 0.552. A table of contents, which is alphabetized by bureau or office, precedes the system descriptions and allows members of the public to easily identify record systems of interest to them. An individual may inquire into information contained in any or all systems of records described in the Notice. However, each inquiry shall be limited to information from systems located within a single bureau or office and shall be addressed to that bureau or office.

(b) Reasonable identification is required of all individuals making requests pursuant to Paragraph (a) of this section in order to assure that disclosure of any information is made to the proper person.

(1) An individual who chooses to register a request for information in person may verify his or her identity by showing any two of the following: social security card; drivers license; employee identification card; medicare card; birth certificate; bank credit card; or other positive means of identifiation. Documents incorporating a picture and/or signature of the individual shall be produced if possible. If an individual can provide no suitable document for identification, he will be required to sign a statement asserting his identity and stipulating that he understands that knowingly or willfully seeking or obtaining access to records about another person under false pretences is punishable by a fine of up to $5,000.

NOTE. An individual's refusal to disclose his social security number shall not constitute cause in and of itself, for denial of a request.

(2) All requests for record information sent by mail shall be signed by the requestor and shall include his printed name, current address and telephone number (if any). Commission officials receiving such requests will attempt to verify the identity of the requestor by comparing his or her signature to those in the record. If the record contains no signatures and if positive identification cannot be made on the basis of other information submitted, the requestor will be required to sign a statement asserting his identity and stipulating that he understands that knowingly or willfully seeking or obtaining access to records about another person under false pretenses is punishable by a fine of up to $5000.

(3) If positive identification cannot be made on the basis of the information submitted, and if data in the record is so sensitive that unauthorized access could cause harm or embarrassment to the individual to whom the record pertains, the Commission reserves the right to deny access to the record pending the production of additional more satisfactory evidence of identity.

NOTE. The Commission will require verification of identity only where it has determined that knowledge of the existence of record information or its substance is not subject to the public disclosure requirements of the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552, as amended.

(c) All requests for notification of the existence of record information or for access to such information shall be delivered to the business address of the system manager responsible for the system of records in question, except that requests relating to official personnel records shall be addressed to the Chief, Personnel Division. Such addresses can be found in the Notice described in § 0.552.

(d) A written acknowledgement of receipt of a request for notification and/or access will be provided within 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) to the individual making the request. Such an acknowledgement may, if necessary, request any additional information needed to locate a record. A search of all systems of records identified in the individual's request will be made to determine if any records pertaining to the individual are contained therein, and the individual will be notified of the search results as soon as the search has been completed. Normally, a request will be processed and the individual notified of the search results within 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) from the date the inquiry is received. However, in cases where records have to be recalled from Federal Record Centers, notification may be delayed. If it is determined that a record pertaining to the individual making the request does exist, the notification will state approximately when the record will be available for personal review. No separate acknowledgement is required if the request can be processed and the individual notified of the search results within the ten-day period.

§ 0.555 Disclosure of record information to individuals.

(a) An individual having been notified that the Commission maintains a record pertaining to him or her in a system of records may request access to such record in one of three ways: by in person inspection at the system location; by transfer of the record to a nearer location; or by mail.

(1) Individuals who wish to review their records at the system location must do so during regular Commission business hours (8:00 a.m.–4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday). For personal and administrative convenience, individuals are urged to arrange to review a record by appointment. Preferences as to specific dates and times can be made by writing or calling the system manager responsible for the system of records in question at least two days in advance of the desired appointment date, and by providing a telephone number where the individual can be reached during the day in case the appointment must be changed. Verification of identity is required as in § 0.554(b)(1) before access will be granted an individual appearing in person. Individuals may be accompanied by a person of his or her own choosing when reviewing a record. However, in such cases, a written statement authorizing discussion of his or her record in the presence of the accompanying person must be furnished. In addition, any disclosure of original Commission records must take place in the presence of a Commission representative having physical custody of the records.

(2) Individuals may request that a record be transferred to a Commission field office or installation in the vicinity of his or her home and that access be granted at that location. The addresses of Commission field offices are listed in § 0.121. A request to transfer records must specify the exact location where the records should be sent and a telephone number to call when the information is available for review at the field location. Paragraph (a)(1) of this section regarding personal appointments, verification of identity accompanying persons, and disclosure of original records applies equally to this paragraph.

(3) Individuals may request that copies of records be sent directly to them. In such cases, the individual must verify his or her identity as in § 0.554(b)(2) and provide an accurate return address. Records shall be sent only to that address.

(b) The disclosure of record information under this section is subject to the following limitations:

(1) Records containing medical information pertaining to an individual are subject to individual access under this section unless, in the judgment of the system manager having custody of the records after consultation with a medical doctor, access to such record information could have an adverse impact on the individual. In such cases, a copy of the record will be delivered to a medical doctor named by the individual.

(2) Classified material, investigative material compiled for law enforcement purposes, investigatory material compiled solely for determining suitability for federal employment or access to classified information, and certain testing or examination material shall be removed from the records to the extent permitted in the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552(a). Section 0.561 of this subpart sets forth the systems of records maintained by the Commission which are either totally or partially exempt from disclosure under this subparagraph.

(c) No fee will be imposed if the number of pages of records requested is 25 or less. Requests involving more than 25 pages shall be submitted to the duplicating contractor (see § 0.465(a)).

(d) The provisions of this section in no way give an individual the right to access any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceeding.

§ 0.556 Request to correct or amend records.

(a) An individual may request the amendment of information contained in his or her record. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, the request to amend should be submitted in writing to the system manager responsible for the records. Requests to amend the official personnel records of active FCC employees should be submitted to the Chief, Personnel Division, Office of Executive Director, 1919 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20554. Requests to amend official personnel records of former FCC employees should be sent to the Director, Bureau of Manpower Information Systems, U.S. Civil Service Commission, 1900 E Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20415. Any request to amend should contain, as a minimum:

(1) The identity verification information required by § 0.554(b)(2) and the information needed to locate the record as required by § 0.554(a).

(2) A brief description of the item or items of information to be amended; and

(3) The reason for the requested change.

(b) A written acknowledgment of the receipt of a request to amend a record will be provided within 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) to the individual requesting the amendment. Such an acknowledgement may, if necessary, request any additional information needed to make a determination. There will be no acknowledgment if the request can be reviewed, processed, and the individual notified of compliance or denial within the 10 day period.

(c) The responsible system manager or, in the case of official personnel records of active FCC employees, the Chief, Personnel Division, shall promptly take one of the following actions regarding a request to amend:

(1) If the system manager agrees that an amendment to the record is warranted, he shall:

(i) So advise the individual in writing;

(ii) Correct the record in compliance with the individual's request; and

(iii) If an accounting of disclosures has been made, advise all previous recipients of the fact that the record has been corrected and of the substance of the correction.

(2) If the system manager, after an initial review, does not agree that all or any portion of the record merits amendment, he shall:

(i) Notify the individual in writing of his refusal to amend and the reasons therefore;

(ii) Advise the individual that he may seek further administrative review of the initial decision by the full Commission pursuant to the procedures set forth in § 0.557. (In cases where the request to amend involves official personnel records, review is available exclusively from the Director, Bureau of Manpower Information Systems, U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. 20415); and

(iii) Inform the individual of the procedures for requesting Commission review pursuant to § 0.557.

(d) In reviewing a record in response to a request to amend, the system manager shall assess the accuracy, relevance, timeliness, or completeness of the record in light of each data element placed into controversy and the use of the record in making decisions that could possibly affect the individual. Moreover, he shall adjudge the merits of any request to delete information based on whether or not the information in controversy is both relevant and necessary to accomplish a statutory purpose required of the Commission by law or executive order of the President.

§ 0.557 Administrative review of an initial decision not to amend a record.

(a) An individual has 30 days from the date of the determination not to amend a record consistent with his or her request to seek further administrative review by the full Commission. Such a request shall be in writing and should be addressed to either the system manager who made the initial adverse decision, or, in the case of official personnel records of active FCC employees, to the Director, Bureau of Manpower Information Systems, U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D.C. 20415. Any request for administrative review must:

(1) Clearly identify the questions presented for review (e.g., whether the record information in question is, in fact, accurate; whether information subject to a request to delete is relevant and necessary to the purpose for which it is maintained);

(2) Specify with particularity why the decision reached by the system manager is erroneous or inequitable; and

(3) Clearly state how the record should be amended or corrected.

(b) The Commission shall conduct an independent review of the record in controversy using the standards of review set out in § 0.556(d). It may seek such additional information as is necessary to make its determination. Final administrative review shall be completed not later than 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) from the date on which the individual requests such review unless the Chairman determines that a fair and equitable review cannot be made within the 30 day period. In such event, the individual will be informed in writing of the reasons for the delay and the approximate date on which the review is expected to be completed.

(c) If upon review of the record in controversy the Commission agrees with the individual that the requested amendment is warranted, the Commission will proceed in accordance with § 0.556(c)(i)–(iii).

(d) If after the review, the Commission also refuses to amend the record as requested, it shall:

(1) Notify the individual in writing of its refusal and the reasons therefor;

(2) Advise the individual of his or her right to file a concise statement of the reasons for disagreeing with the decision of the Commission;

(3) Inform the individual:

(i) That such a statement should be signed and addressed to the system manager having custody of the record in question;

(ii) That the statement will be made available to any one to whom the record is subsequently disclosed together with, at the Commission's discretion, a summary of its reasons for refusing to amend the record; and

(iii) That prior recipients of the record will be provided a copy of the statement of dispute to the extent that an accounting of such disclosures is maintained; and

(4) Advise the individual of his or her right to seek judicial review of the Commission's decision not to amend the record in any district court of the United States.

§ 0.558 Advice and assistance.

Individuals who have questions regarding the procedures contained in this subpart for gaining access to a particular system of records or for contesting the contents of a record, either administratively or judicially, should write or call the Privacy Liaison Officer at the following address:

Federal Communications Commission, Office of General Counsel, 1919 M Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20554.

Individuals who request clarification of the Notice described in § 0.552 or who have questions concerning the characterization of specific systems of records as set forth therein, should write or call the Privacy Liaison Officer at the following address:

Federal Communications Commission, Records Management Division, Office of Executive Director, 1229 20th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20554.

§ 0.539 Disclosure of disputed information to persons other than the individual to whom it pertains.

If the Commission determines not to amend a record consistent with an individual's request, and if the individual files a statement of disagreement pursuant to § 0.557(d)(2), the Commission shall clearly annotate the record so that the disputed portion becomes apparent to anyone who may subsequently have access to, use or disclose the record. A copy of the individual's statement of disagreement shall accompany any subsequent disclosure of the record. In addition, the Commission may include a brief summary of its reasons for not amending the record when disclosing the record. Such statements become part of the individual's record for granting access, but are not subject to the amendment procedures of § 0.556.

§ 0.560 Penalty for false representation of identity.

Any individual who knowingly and willfully requests or obtains under false pretenses any record concerning an individual from any system of records maintained by the Commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not more than $5,000.

§ 0.561 Exemptions.

The following systems of records are totally or partially exempt from Subsections (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4) (G), (H), and (I), and (f) of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552(a), and from §§ 0.554–0.557 of this subpart:

(a) SYSTEM NAME: Radio Operator Records—FCC.

Parts of this system of records are EXEMPT pursuant to Section (k)(2) of the Act because they contain investigatory material compiled solely for law enforcement purposes.

(b) SYSTEM NAME: Violators File (records kept on individuals who have been subjects of FCC field enforcement actions)—FCC.

Parts of this system of records are EXEMPT because they are maintained as a protective service for individuals described in Section 3056 of title 18, and because they are necessary for Commission employees to perform their duties, pursuant to Sections (k)(1), (2), and (3) of the Act.

(c) SYSTEM NAME: Investigations involving Broadcast Owners, officers, employees—FCC.

Hearing Division case file (includes information furnished by witnesses, complainants, informants)—FCC.

Attorney Misconduct Files—FCC.

This system of records IS E-EMPT pursuant to Section 3(k)(2) of the Act because it is maintained for law enforcement purposes.

(d) SYSTEM NAME: Complaints against Broadcast Stations, Licensees, Officers, Employees—FCC.

Communications Interception — § 605 — FCC.

Alleged Violators File (United States District Court Enforcement Actions)—FCC.

Alleged Violators File (Ex Parte Rules)—FCC.

Licensees or Unlicensed Persons Operating Radio Equipment Improperly—FCC.

Part of this system of records are EXEMPT pursuant to Section 3(k)(2) of the Act because they embody investigatory material compiled solely for law enforcement purposes.

(e) SYSTEM NAME: Personnel Investigations of Members of Advisory Committee (Maritime Communications Subcommittee, National Industry Advisory Committee) — FCC. SYSTEM NAME: Personnel Investigations of Employees—FCC.

Parts of these systems of records are exempt because they embody investigatory material pursuant to sections 3(k)(2) and 3(k)(5) of the Act as applicable.

[Docket No. 20554; FCC 75-866]

RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Fee Schedule

In the Matter of Amendment of Subpart G of Part 1 of the Commission's rules relating to the schedule of fees.

1. On June 27, 1975, the Commission adopted a Report and Order [1] in Docket No. 20265, which promulgated certain new standards concerning the assignment of standard broadcast stations. The Commission for the first time provided in the amended rules for standard broadcast stations with authorized power of 2.5 kilowatts. The current fee schedule, as set forth in Section 1.1111 of the Commission's rules, does not provide for fees for applications for construction permits for new stations and major changes in existing stations which requests facilities specifying a power of 2.5 kilowatts.

2. The Commission bases its fee schedule, as required by the NCTA case [2] on the standard of "value to the recipient". The objective index used to reflect "value to the recipient" for applications for construction permit for new standard broadcast stations and major changes in existing standard broadcast stations relates to the number of kilowatt hours requested in the application. This was the basis for assigning "value to recipient" to a particular class of applications which was adopted January 15, 1975 (Schedule of Fees, 50 F.C.C. 2d 906 (1975)).

3. Therefore, we propose to charge filing and grant fees for applications for a new daytime-only standard broadcast station or for a major change in an existing station requesting a power of 2.5 kilowatts in the amount of $300 and $2,025, respectively. For an application for an unlimited time station (either new or a major change thereof) requesting a power of 2.5 kilowatts, the filing and grant fees would be $600 and $4,050, respectively. Section 1.1111(a)(1), as proposed to be revised, is set forth below.

4. Accordingly, the Commission invites comments on the proposed amendments outlined in paragraph 3 below.

5. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein proposed is contained in Section 4(i) (47 U.S.C. 154(i)) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, title V of the Independent Offices Appropriation Act of 1952 (31 U.S.C. 483(a)) and Budget Bureau Circular A–25 and supplements thereto.

6. Pursuant to applicable procedures set forth in § 1.415 of the Commission's rules, interested persons may file comments on or before August 14, 1975, and reply comments on or before August 20, 1975. All relevant and timely comments and reply comments will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision on the rules of general applicability which are proposed herein, the Commission may also take into account other relevant information before it, in addition to the specific comments invited by this notice.

7. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, an original and 14 copies of all comments, pleadings, briefs, or other documents shall be furnished the Commission.

8. All filings made in this proceeding will be available for examination by interested parties during regular business hours in the Commission's Public Reference Room at its headquarters in Washington, D.C. (1919 M Street, N.W.).

Adopted: July 22, 1975.

Released: July 31, 1975.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] VINCENT J. MULLINS,
Secretary.

Part 1 of Chapter 1 of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations is proposed to be amended to read as follows:

EMPLOYMENT POLICIES AND PRACTICES OF BROADCAST LICENSEES

Nondiscrimination; Correction

In the Matter of Nondiscrimination in the employment policies and practices of broadcast licensees.

In the Notice of Inquiry and Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in the above-entitled matter [40 FR 31625], FCC 75–849, Released July 25, 1975, paragraph 27 (b), (c) & (d), paragraph 28, paragraph 29, and a part of paragraph 30 [included herein completely for clarity] were inadvertently omitted and should be inserted to read as attached:

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] VINCENT J. MULLINS,
Secretary.

(b) The name and the address of the licensee;

(c) A description of the alleged discriminatory acts or conduct; and

(d) Any other pertinent information—such as the names of individuals who have personal knowledge of the alleged discriminatory act or conduct—which will assist the Commission in its evaluation.

CONCLUSION

28. In this Notice, we have briefly outlined the development of our equal employment opportunity rules as they relate to broadcast licensees and permittees. Notwithstanding the increases in minority and female employment in broadcasting since the adoption of our rules, the shortcoming in our own requirements and some of the equal employment opportunity programs submitted by licensees and permittees have not produced the results we think the public interest requires. We have, therefore, proposed for comment what we believe should be the required ingredients of an acceptable equal employment opportunity program. We are also seeking comments on the use of goals and timetables as an administrative remedy where it appears that a broadcaster's equal employment program is not having practical results. Comments are invited as to whether only broadcasters with at least ten (or fifteen) fulltime employees should be required to file written Equal Employment Opportunity Programs with their applications. Finally, we seek comments on a proposal to amend our rules to require the filing of individual discrimination complaints while the alleged act of discrimination is continuing, or within 180 days from the end of the alleged discrimination. On balance, we believe that comments on the proposals contained herein will greatly enhance the Equal Employment Opportunity Programs of broadcast licensees and permittees and provide the Commission with sufficient information to make an informed judgment whether our regulatees are making satisfactory efforts to provide equal employment opportunity.

29. Also, we are herein providing opportunity for public comment on the current Annual Employment Report (FCC Form 395), including several refinements in the instructions which have been made since the initiation of this form.

30. Therefore, based on the authority contained in Section 4 (i) and (j) and 303, 307 and 403 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, comments are invited on the matters discussed above which may be incorporated in whole or in part into our rules.

ARIZONA FM BROADCAST STATIONS

Table of Assignments; Order Extending Time for Filing Comments and Reply Comments

In the Matter of Amendment of Section 73.202(b), Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Tucson, Green Valley, Sierra Vista, and Bisbee, Arizona) Docket No. 20507, RM–2427, RM–2439, RM–2042.

1. On June 2, 1975, the Commission adopted a Notice of Proposed Rule Making in the above-entitled proceeding. Publication was made in the Federal Register on June 10, 1975, 40 Fed. Reg. 24748. The dates for filing comments and reply comments are presently August 4 and August 25, 1975, respectively.

2. On July 25, 1975, counsel for Tucson FM Engineering (Tucson FM), requested that the time for filing comments and reply comments be extended to and including September 3 and September 24, 1975, respectively. Counsel states that Tucson FM has retained Communications General Corporation, a consulting engineering organization to prepare the necessary materials concerning the technical aspects of the proposal and the preclusion study. He adds that these materials are unable to be prepared by the date specified for the filing of comments and therefore requests the additional time.

3. We are of the view that the public interest would be served by extending the time in this proceeding. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, that the dates for filing comments and reply comments ARE EXTENDED to and including September 3 and September 24, 1975, respectively.

5. This action is taken pursuant to authority found in Sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and Sections 0.281 and 1.46 of the Commission's Rules.

Adopted: July 29, 1975.

Released: July 31, 1975.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

[ 41 CFR Part 105–61 ]

FEES FOR REPRODUCTION SERVICES: LOCATION OF RECORDS AND HOURS OF USE

Proposed Rulemaking

This notice of proposed rulemaking contains proposed revisions to the schedule of fees for reproduction services published on February 24, 1975, (40 FR 7927) pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552). These proposed revisions will be published in Subpart 105–61.52.

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rulemaking by submitting written data, views, or arguments in duplicate to the General Services Administration (NAA), Washington, DC 20408. Comments received before September 3, 1975, will be considered before final action is taken on this proposal. Copies of all written comments received will be available for examination by interested persons in the Central Research Room, National Archives Building, 8th and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, DC.

Dated: July 24, 1975.

JAMES E. O'NEILL,
Acting Archivist of the United States.

It is proposed to amend Subpart 105–61.52 as follows:

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[ 49 CFR Part 1207 ]

[No. 32155 (Sub.-No. 4)]

COMMON AND CONTRACT MOTOR CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

Uniform System of Accounts for Class I and Class II

AUGUST 4, 1975.

At a General Session of the INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION held at its office in Washington, D.C. on the 15th day of July, 1975.

This proceeding was instituted by Order of this Commission, Division 2, on April 12, 1974, No. 32155 (Sub. No. 4), served April 24, 1974, (39 FR 14572) to consider a petition filed by National Tank Truck Carriers, Inc. on February 21, 1974, requesting amendments to the Uniform System of Accounts for Class I and Class II Common and Contract Motor Carriers of Property. The purpose of this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is to consider proposals by Chemical Leaham Tank Truck Lines, Inc., National Tank Truck Carriers, Inc. and Manufacturing Chemists Association in response to the Order of April 24, 1974.

BACKGROUND

On July 5, 1974, Chemical Leaham Tank Lines, Inc. (CLTL), filed a statement in response to the Order of April 24, 1974, requesting the segregation and identification of certain costs in the Uniform System of Accounts for Instruction 28(A) Common and Contract Motor Carriers of Property. A similar statement was filed by National Tank Truck Carriers, Inc. (NTTC), on July 8, 1974 and by Manufacturing Chemists Association (MCA), on September 24, 1974.

The respondents argued that billing and collecting and cleaning and waste removal costs should, to the greatest extent possible, be segregated, identified and attributed to the proper activity. The methodology for implementing these changes differed among the respondents.

REPRESENTATIONS OF THE PARTIES

Chemical Leaham Tank Lines, Inc. recommended modifications to the present accounting regulations for cleaning and waste removal costs, costs peculiar to the tank truck industry, and billing and collection costs. CLTL requested this Commission to prescribe Terminal Activity 5 and the related natural account classifications for the grouping of cleaning and waste removal costs. Specifically, CLTL emphasized the importance of establishing or maintaining functional service cost relationships on a proper basis. In this respect, CLTL favored the Terminal Activity for assignment of cleaning and waste removal costs. CLTL further stated that cleaning costs transcend many natural account classifications and the accumulation of such costs in a single natural account is not warranted. CLTL also cited the growing need for specialized information by the public and tank truck carriers and the significance of such costs in relation to other tank truck costs as support for this revision. CLTL presented similar arguments for the segregation of the Billing and Collecting Activity insisting that such costs are distinguishable and significant to Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property. CLTL stated that billing and collecting costs are difficult to identify under the present accounting regulations. CLTL further stated that the proposed revisions would enhance the uniformity of reporting such costs and involve only minor changes in the accounting regulations since the activity already exists.

National Tank Truck Carriers, Inc., representing approximately 300 motor carriers engaged in whole or in part in the transportation of bulk commodities, stated the peculiarities of cleaning and waste removal costs precluded continued accounting under the present Uniform System of Accounts. NTTC requested a separate natural account classification to identify cleaning and waste removal costs. Presently, NTTC commingles cleaning and waste removal costs with operating supplies in account No. 4590 of the Uniform System of Accounts. NTTC indicated that tank truck carriers frequently account for these costs separately by utilizing subaccounts. As an alternative, NTTC recommended that individual carriers establish subaccounts to provide a means for accounting and identifying such costs. NTTC also presented arguments for the segregation of the Billing and Collecting Activity from the Platform and Terminal Activities. The subject matter of those arguments was similar to those presented by CLTL.

Manufacturing Chemists Association's statement addressed the response of CLTL. MCA commented on the section of the petition relating to cleaning and waste removal costs. MCA supported the rationale behind the CLTL response but favored an alternative means of implementation. From a functional service cost point of view, MCA insisted the Terminal Activity was inappropriate because cleaning costs of tank truck carriers are not related to the volume or weight of shipments. As a result, MCA indicated a separate activity should be established and such costs should be related to the number of shipments or vehicles cleaned. In addition, MCA recommended that sufficient sub-accounts be established to subject matter of the arguments.

DISCUSSION AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The arguments presented by the respondents were reviewed by the Commission in terms of the proposed revisions' effect on existing accounting and reporting regulations. The discussion which follows is structured to the actual subject matter of the arguments.

BILLING AND COLLECTING COSTS

The Commission continues to provide for the identification of significant costs in the Uniform System of Accounts and reports for all modes of transportation under our jurisdiction. The Commission recognizes that billing and collecting costs have reached a level of significance for Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property and such costs should be distinguished from other costs. The Commission concurs with the petitioners in regard to the expansion of the Billing and Collecting Activity to Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property. Such action will aid in the identification of costs, provide a means for accumulating relevant statistical data and provide uniform direction in the identification and reporting of costs. As a result, the Commission proposes to segregate the Billing and Collecting Activity from the Platform and Terminal Activities and require distribution of such costs according to existing natural account classifications.

CLEANING AND WASTE REMOVAL COSTS

The Commission reviewed the proposals of the respondents in relation to cleaning and waste removal costs. After considering the accounting and reporting implications of each of the proposed revisions, the Commission believes a revision to the Uniform System of Accounts for cleaning and waste removal costs is not justified. However, the Commission has no objection to nor control over carriers implementing a proposed alternative.

The Commission recognizes the increasing significance of cleaning and waste removal costs to tank truck carriers. However, the Commission cannot justify a revision to the Uniform System of Accounts unless such a revision will benefit all Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property. Tank truck carriers represent only a segment of Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property, and extensive cleaning and waste removal costs are unique costs of tank truck carriers. All Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property incur some sort of cleaning cost prior to reusage of vehicles. Generally, this cost is insignificant except in the case of tank truck carriers. The Commission does not intend to establish a separate activity nor accumulate or publish statistical data in relation to such costs due to their specialized nature. Further, accounting for cleaning and waste removal costs by natural account classification under Terminal Activity 5 or establishing a separate activity would disrupt the continuity of published statistical data.

An alternative solution suggested by NTTC was to allow carriers to create subaccounts to identify and account for components of cleaning and waste removal costs. The Uniform System of Accounts does not prevent carriers from creating and maintaining subaccounts to provide for special information needs. The Commission would encourage such action under the circumstances.

The Commission reviewed the comments of MCA pertaining to the functional service cost aspects of cleaning and waste removal costs. Under the present cost formula, cleaning and waste removal costs are related to the volume or hundredweight of the quantity transported and such costs are classified as Terminal costs. MCA's comments were not relevant to the major issue of this proceeding. The major issue was to determine if cleaning and waste removal costs warranted separate disclosure in the uniform system of accounts. As previously stated, the Commission cannot justify such revisions, and to give consideration to a revision of the cost formula for determining the cost of transporting freight in tank vehicles is beyond the scope of this proceeding.

In order to facilitate the identification of cleaning and waste removal costs for tank truck carriers without disrupting the continuity of statistics and the reporting process of Instruction 28(A) motor carriers of property, the Commission recommends that tank truck carriers create subaccounts to provide for their infromation needs related to cleaning and waste removal costs. Examples of subaccounts for cleaning and waste removal costs are provided in Appendix A for illustrative purposes. Carriers should continue to report such costs under account #4590 as explained in the Uniform System of Accounts instructions.

The proposed revision issued under the authority of Section 220 of the Interstate Commerce Act and 553 of the Administrative Procedures Act is to be effective for the year beginning January 1, 1976.

Upon consideration of the above-described matters and good cause appearing therefore:

It is ordered, That any interested person wishing to submit a statement of facts, views, or arguments regarding the proposed revision shall file 15 copies of such representations with the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., 20423, on or before September 8, 1975.

It is further ordered, That written material or suggestions submitted will be available for public inspection at the offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission, 12th and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., during regular business hours.

And it is further ordered, That statutory notice be given to all respondents and to the general public by mailing a copy of this order to the Governor of every State and to the Public Utilities Commissions or Boards of each State having jurisdiction over transportation, by posting a copy of this order in the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., for public inspection, and by delivering a copy thereof to the Director, Division of the Federal Register, for publication in the Federal Register as notice to all interested persons.

This decision is not a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ROBERT L. OSWALD,
Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Internal Revenue Service

[Order No. 3 (Rev. 2)]

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE

Delegation of Authority

Issued: July 30, 1975.

Effective: July 30, 1975.

1. Pursuant to authority vested in the Commissioner of Internal Revenue by Treasury Department Order No. 150–2 and Treasury Department Order No. 129 (Revision No. 2), it is ordered, that:

(a) the Deputy Commissioner shall perform the duties of Commissioner of Internal Revenue during the absence or disability of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or when there is a vacancy in that office; and

(b) the Assistant Commissioners, in the order listed below, shall perform the duties of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue during the absence or disability of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or a vacancy in that office and the absence or disability of the Deputy Commissioner or a vacancy in that office, except to the extent otherwise provided for specific periods of time by written designation orders which may be, issued from time to time by the Commissioner:

Assistant Commissioner (Compliance)
Assistant Commissioner (Accounts, Collection, and Taxpayer Service)
Assistant Commissioner (Planning and Research)
Assistant Commissioner (Administration)
Assistant Commissioner (Technical)
Assistant Commissioner (Inspection)
Assistant Commissioner (Employee Plans and Exempt Organizations)

2. The authority herein delegated may not be redelegated.

3. This Order supersedes Delegation Order No. 3 (Rev. 1), issued September 11, 1974.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER AND ASSISTANT COMMISSIONERS

Emergency Order of Succession and Delegation of Authority

Issued: July 30, 1975.

Effective: July 30, 1975.

1. By virtue of the authority vested in me by Treasury Department Order No. 129, Revision No. 2, dated April 22, 1955, the officials in the positions listed below are hereby authorized, in the event of an enemy attack on the United States, and the disability of the Commissioner, his absence from the main Treasury Relocation Site, or if there is a vacancy in the office, to succeed to the position of Acting Commissioner in the order listed, and are authorized to perform the functions of Commissioner to insure the continuity of the functions of that office:

Deputy Commissioner
Assistant Commissioner (Compliance)
Assistant Commissioner (Accounts, Collection, and Taxpayer Service)
Assistant Commissioner (Planning and Research)
Assistant Commissioner (Administration)
Assistant Commissioner (Technical)
Assistant Commissioner (Inspection)
Assistant Commissioner (Employee Plans and Exempt Organizations)

2. If none of these officials is available, the first available Regional Commissioner, in the order of appointment as Regional Commissioner, will become Acting Commissioner. Should any of the officials specified in Paragraphs 1 and 2 be required to act as Secretary of the Treasury under Treasury Order No. 183, as revised, he will be considered as not available to assume the position of Acting Commissioner.

3. If none of the officials listed in Paragraphs 1 and 2 is available, the first available District Director in the order shown on the list on file at each National Office Relocation Site (prepared on the basis of the higher GS grades first, date of promotion to the grade and alphabetical order where grade and promotion dates are identical) will assume the position of Acting Commissioner until relieved or further instructions are given by proper authority.

4. There is hereby delegated to Regional Commissioners and District Directors, or the officials acting in their stead, in the event of an enemy attack on the United States, all authority vested in the Commissioner of Internal Revenue by law or transfer from the Secretary of the Treasury to insure the continuous performance of Internal Revenue Service functions in their areas of jurisdiction. This delegation of authority will remain in effect until notice is received from proper authority that it has been terminated.

5. The authority delegated in Paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 may not be redelegated.

6. This Order supersedes Delegation Order No. 5 (Rev. 7), issued September 11, 1974.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Office of the Attorney General

[Order No. 614-75]

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION

Published and Unpublished Indexes to Final Opinions and Orders, Statements of Policy and Interpretations, and Administrative Staff Manuals and Instructions

Under subsection (a)(2) of the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(2), each agency is required to "maintain and make available for public inspection and copying current indexes providing identifying information for the public" as to the agency's so-called (a)(2) materials, i.e., certain final opinions and orders, statements of policy and interpretations, and administrative staff manuals and instructions. Under the 1974 amendments to the Act (P.L. 93-502), these indexes are required to be published at quarterly or more frequent intervals and distributed, unless the agency determines by order published in the FEDERAL REGISTER that such publication would be unnecessary and impracticable. The purpose of this order is to bring the Department of Justice into compliance with these requirements of subsection (a)(2) of the Freedom of Information Act.

The order has four sections. The first section sets forth materials in the Justice Department which are indexed, and makes a determination that as to these indexes quarterly publication would be unnecessary and impracticable. The second section of the order constitutes an index to single-document materials located in the Justice Department; this section further provides that this index shall be published and updated at quarterly intervals. The third section of the order contains certain disclaimers intended to avoid possible misunderstanding as to the meaning or legal effect of sections 1 and 2 of the order. The fourth section makes assignments of responsibility to components within the Justice Department to ensure continuing compliance with subsection (a)(2).

By virtue of the authority vested in me by 28 U.S.C. 509, and 5 U.S.C. 301 and 552, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. It is determined that it is unnecessary and impracticable to publish quarterly or more frequently the indexes to the Department of Justice materials listed below. This determination is made because there is insufficient interest to justify such publication, because with respect to some of the indexes listed continual updating and revision is required to reflect the frequent addition of materials, and because the practical utility of the indexes does not warrant such publication.

(a) Office of Public Information—Press releases, speeches, statements and testimony by Department officials.

(b) Office of Management and Finance—

(1) Final decisions in discrimination complaints against the Department.

(2) Decisions on adverse actions and discipline of personnel.

(3) Decisions on classification appeals.

(4) Personnel Management Plans.

(5) EEO Affirmative Action Plans.

(c) Office of Legislative Affairs—Departmental reports on pending legislation.

(d) Community Relations Service—Official Policy Memoranda from the Director.

(e) Civil Rights Division—Submissions under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

(f) Criminal Division:

(1) Miscellaneous memoranda, including circulars, orders, directives to staff and notices.

(2) Compilations of legislative materials.

(g) Immigration and Naturalization Service—Administrative decisions under immigration and nationality laws (including both precedent and nonprecedent decisions).

(h) Board of Immigration Appeals—Decisions (indexes to some of these decisions are published, but less frequently than quarterly).

(i) Board of Parole—

(1) Labor relations decisions regarding former inmates.

(2) Pension case decisions regarding former inmates.

(3) Final Board Orders and/or Notices of Action.

(j) Office of the Deputy Attorney General—Notifications of decisions by the Attorney General on administrative appeals from denials of requests for access to Justice Department records under the Freedom of Information Act.

(k) Executive Office for United States Attorneys — United States Attorneys' Bulletins.

(l) Office of Legal Counsel—Opinions of the Attorney General (index published, but less frequently than quarterly).

Indexes to the foregoing materials are located in the offices of the above components of the Justice Department and will be made available upon request.

2. The following list of individual documents, together with the headings under which such documents are listed, shall constitute an index to the documents, and this index is hereby published, and shall be updated and published at quarterly intervals.

(a) Office of Watergate Special Prosecution Force:

(1) Memorandum of Understanding Re Handling of Internal Revenue Matters Arising in Connection with Investigation and Prosecution of 18 U.S.C. 610 (Illegal Corporate Contributions) Matters.

(2) Press releases (two regarding general policy towards violations of 18 U.S.C. 610.

(3) Statement on violations of 18 U.S.C. 611.

(b) Community Relations Service: Community Relations Service Directives Manual.

(c) Antitrust Division:

(1) Antitrust Division Manual, chapter 1 (Organization of the Department and the Division), chapter 5 (Policy and Planning), and chapter 6 (Miscellaneous).

(2) Investigations of Cases of Price-Fixing, except for sample documents B, C, F, and G.

(d) Criminal Division:

(1) Adversary Hearings Memorandum.

3. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to constitute a determination that all or any part of a particular document included in any of the indexes referred to herein is either (1) covered by subsection (a)(2) of the Act or (2) not a matter described in subsection (b) of the Act and exempt from disclosure, nor shall any part of this order be deemed a determination that the indexing requirement in subsection (a)(2) of the Act applies to a single document or to any particular category of documents.

4. For the purposes of helping to assure optimum and continuing compliance within the Department of Justice with the requirements of subsection (a)(2) of the Act, the following assignments of responsibility are made:

A. To each division (such term as used herein includes each bureau, office, service, administration, board or other comparable component of the Department): initial responsibility for determining which documents and classes of documents which it generates or maintains should be treated as (a)(2) materials; for preparing and maintaining the necessary indexes to such materials, for publishing such indexes quarterly or more frequently or determining that such publication is unnecessary and impracticable; and for reviewing from time to time whether its determinations as referred to in this paragraph should be revised.

B. To the Office of Management and Finance, under the direction of the Deputy Attorney General: responsibility (a) to maintain for the Department current information on overall departmental compliance with the requirements of subsection (a)(2) of the Act, including current information on compliance by each division with the responsibility assigned above; (b) to arrange for the timely publication, on the basis of indexes, determinations, or information from each division, of any index covering materials of two or more divisions, of any finding that publication is unnecessary or impracticable with respect to indexes maintained by any one or more divisions, and of any notice of the availability of published indexes which serves to comply with the requirement to "distribute" published indexes, as discussed in the Attorney General's Memorandum on the 1974 Amendments to the Freedom of Information Act at page 17; and (c) to make such recommendations to appropriate authorities within the Department as may result in improved compliance with the requirements of subsection (a)(2) of the Act, including recommendations for more useful and economical methods of compliance.

C. To the Office of Legal Counsel: To provide legal advice and to assist in resolving differences in connection with the foregoing.

Drug Enforcement Administration

[Docket No. 75-9 and 75-11]

WESTERN FHER LABORATORIES AND CIBA-GEIGY CORP.

1975 Individual Manufacturing Quota and 1975 Procurement Quota for Basic Class Phenmetrazine

On April 25, 1975, petitioner, Western Fher Laboratories (Western Fher) through its counsel, Kleinfeld, Kaplan & Becker of Washington, D.C., requested a hearing on the "denial of Western Fher's petition to increase its 1975 individual manufacturing quota for basic class phenmetrazine and the establishment of a revised 1975 manufacturing quota of" * * * kg.[1]

By letter of April 25, 1975, intervenor, Boehringer Ingelheim, Limited (Boehringer), through its counsel, Kleinfeld, Kaplan & Becker, requested a hearing on the "denial of Ciba-Geigy's petition to increase its (Ciba's) 1975 procurement quota and the establishment of a revised 1975 procurement quota of" * * * kg. This request did not comply with the language of 21 C.F.R. 1303.34(a); hence the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration issued a denial of Boehringer's request for hearing on the grounds that Boehringer was "not the proper party to request a hearing on the issue of Ciba's procurement quota." 40 FR 20962-63 (May 14, 1975).

Thereafter, by letter of May 6, 1975, petitioner, Ciba-Geigy Corporation (Ciba), through its counsel, William E. Ragolia, Jr., requested a hearing on the "denial of its petition to increase its 1975 procurement quota for phenmetrazine and the establishment of a revised 1975 procurement quota for phenmetrazine of" * * * kg.

A prehearing conference was held on May 14, 1975, before Administrative Law Judge Francis L. Young. In his Prehearing Ruling, Judge Young ordered the respective hearing requests of Western Fher and Ciba to be consolidated for all purposes during the proceeding, and Judge Young granted leave to Boehringer, pursuant to its request and written petition to intervene, to be represented and to participate in the hearing of this matter. Judge Young noted that petitioners had waived the requirement of thirty days prior notice of the hearing as provided in 21 C.F.R. 1303.36, and the hearing was set to commence on May 21, 1975, in order to accommodate petitioners' request for expediting the matter. The hearing was held before Judge Young from May 21 through May 30, 1975, in Room 1210, Drug Enforcement Administration, 1405 Eye St., N.W., Washington, D.C.

Proposed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law were filed by the parties on June 23, 1975.

As a result of this hearing, the Administrative Law Judge submitted the following Recommended Rulings, Finding of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Decision.

RECOMMENDED RULINGS, FINDING OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND DECISION OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE

These proceedings commenced with the submission of a written request dated April 25, 1975, for a hearing by Western Fher Laboratories with respect to its individual manufacturing quota for the calendar year 1975 of the drug phenmetrazine, known by the trade name "Preludin", in Docket No. 75-9. (ALJ 1)[2] Ciba-Geigy Corporation subsequently filed a written request for a hearing, dated May 6, 1975, with respect to its procurement quota for the calendar year 1975 for phenmetrazine. (ALJ 3) Since common and interlocking questions of fact and law appeared to be presented by these two requests, and since both of these parties were represented by the same counsel, both matters were set for a prehearing conference which was held on May 14, 1975. At that time Boehringer Ingelheim, Ltd. submitted a petition to intervene and fully participate in the proceedings. (ALJ 2) This petition was granted. The prehearing conference was held, and in response to urgent request of all three of these petitioners that the proceedings be expedited to the maximum extent possible, the matter was set for formal hearing one week later, May 21, 1975. (ALJ 6) Testimony was taken, documents received in evidence, and oral argument was made before the Administrative Law Judge on May 21, 22, 23, 27, 29 and 30, 1975. The transcript runs to 770 pages.

These proceedings present questions of great importance to the three petitioner companies and to the Drug Enforcement Administration, going as they do to the heart of the implementation of Section 306 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 USC 826) and Section 1303.01 et seq. of Title 21, Code of Federal Regulations, which provide for the establishment of manufacturing and procurement quotas by this Administration. It would appear that questions regarding these matters have not previously been brought to the formal hearing level.

Western Fher Laboratories is the sole applicant for a 1975 individual manufacturing quota for basic class phenmetrazine. Ciba-Geigy is currently the exclusive manufacturer of phenmetrazine in finished dosage form. Ciba-Geigy's manufacture of the finished dosage forms of phenmetrazine is covered by Boehringer's approved new drug application for this product. Ciba-Geigy is the sole applicant for a 1975 procurement quota to procure and use phenmetrazine in the manufacture of its finished dosage forms. Upon completion of such manufacture by Ciba-Geigy, Boehringer is the sole primary distributor thereof in the United States and it distributes phenmetrazine in these forms under the trade name "Preludin".

Since Western Fher manufactures the basic class phenmetrazine solely for further processing by Ciba-Geigy, and since Ciba-Geigy transforms the drug into its finished dosage forms for distribution by Boehringer, the quota for any given year assigned to one of these companies necessarily affects the quota assigned to the other. Accordingly, in its approach to the determination of the basic class manufacturing quota for Western Fher and the setting of the procurement quota for Ciba-Geigy, the Compliance Investigations Division (CID) of this Administration employs interlocking formulae. Describing the approach of the CID as the building of a pyramid, its Chief, Mr. Durrin, described the process as follows:

"Q First the procurement quota are set, you stated, then the individual manufacturing quotas, and finally, the aggregate production quotas for each class?

"A That is correct.

"Q Now, they are all some what interdependent, as built from the bottom?

"A Very definitely, yes.

"Q. Then the Western Fher individual manufacturing quota figure, is it dependent upon what need DEA determines to be present at the Ciba level, the procurement level?

"A It is entirely dependent upon the need of Ciba at the procurement level with, of course, allowance for an inventory to Western Fher." (Tr. 125 & 126)

Mr. Durrin then described in detail the application of this formula in determining the 1975 procurement quota for Ciba-Geigy and the 1975 individual manufacturing quota for Western Fher. (Tr. 129-135) This process is summarized on Exhibit G 15.

Briefly, the CID started with the Ciba-Geigy 1974 total sales figure expressed, as were all of the figures in this discussion, in terms of anhydrous base, added a fifty percent inventory allowance, subtracted the amount of Ciba-Geigy's inventory on hand at the end of 1974, and then subtracted a figure computed to be the difference between Ciba-Geigy's sales during 1974 and the total quantity of the drug dispensed by prescriptions at retail pharmacies throughout the United States according to a statistical report prepared by a company known as IMS America. The resulting figure was the net procurement quota authorized for Ciba-Geigy for calendar 1975 by the CID.

Then, beginning with that net Ciba-Geigy procurement quota, the CID added a figure equal to fifty percent thereof for an inventory allowance, subtracted the Western Fher inventory of product on hand at the end of 1974, and thus arrived at the figure which it set for the individual production quota for Western Fher for 1975.

The CID used as its starting point in this process the total amount of the drug sold by Ciba-Geigy, the dosage form manufacturer, in 1974 because the Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, had advised that: "The use of stimulants (of which phenmetrazine is one) in 1975 should be the same as in 1974, data indicate relative constant use for the past two years." (G 9, p. 2)

At the hearing, petitioners urged that this formula for determining their respective quota was defective and contrary to law, arbitrary and capricious, and, generally, not calculated to permit the manufacture and production of the drug in the quantities necessary to accomplish the objectives specified in Section 306 of the Act, 21 USC 826.

Petitioners argue for the use of a formula which would result in significantly larger production and procurement quotas for phenmetrazine for 1975. Set out as attachments 1 and 2 to Exhibit G 10, a letter from Ciba-Geigy to DEA dated February 24, 1975, this method starts from and is focused on the 1975 sales forecast for Preludin as developed by Ciba-Geigy. This figure is considerably larger than the starting point of the DEA formula which, as stated, was the quantity of the drug actually sold by Ciba-Geigy during 1974.

At the outset of the hearing counsel for both sides were requested to submit such authority as they could find with respect to the standard to be applied by the Administrative Law Judge in weighing the evidence as he prepared his recommended findings and conclusions and decision for the Administrator. Section 507 of the Controlled Substances Act (21 USC § 877) provides that merely "substantial evidence" will support a finding of fact by the Administrator against attack in the Court of Appeals. But no statutory or regulatory provision has been found to guide the Administrative Law Judge as he considers the evidence introduced by the opposing parties. Certainly, the "beyond a reasonable doubt" standard of the criminal trial is inapplicable. A "substantial evidence" standard cannot be applied here since it very well may be that both sides introduce "substantial evidence". A somewhat analogous situation to that now confronting the Administrative Law Judge is presented by the trial of a civil case in our courts of law, where triers of fact are told to decide the issues on the basis of "a preponderance of the evidence". Accordingly, that is the standard which will be applied by the Administrative Law Judge in these proceedings, in the absence of definitive direction to the contrary.

Applying this standard to the evidence presented at the hearing, I find that the approach, method and formula for determining individual production quotas and procurement quotas utilized by the Compliance Investigations Division is more likely to meet the objectives set out in the statute than the alternative proposed by Petitioners.

As its starting point, the CID approach utilizes the information provided it by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare pursuant to section 242(a) of title 42 USC, which is "the results of studies and investigations of the quantities of . . . narcotic drugs . . . subject to control, . . . together with reserves of such drugs, that are necessary to supply the normal and emergency medicinal and scientific requirements of the United States . . ."

The results of these studies and investigations conducted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare would seem to provide a much sounder starting point for the phenmetrazine quota determination than the alternative proposed by Petitioners, namely, the 1975 sales forecast of Boehringer. The method of establishing this forecast, as testified to by witness Robert Page, Manager of Marketing Administration for Boehringer, "involves several guidelines, or guideposts—one of which is evaluating the past performance of the product by looking at the therapeutic categories as a whole to determine the trend of the therapeutic category—whether it's up or down—an assessment of the competitive products on the market and their direction—an anticipated promotion of the product which you are presenting the sales forecast on for the following year—any anticipated new dosage forms or strengths of the product. These are but a few of the guidelines which we use in establishing a sales forecast." (Tr. 469 & 470)

Mr. Page testified that he had made the phenmetrazine sales forecast for 1975 upon which petitioners were presently relying. (Tr. 479) Also, Mr. Page acknowledged that he had made the sales forecast for phenmetrazine for 1974 (Tr. 470), his forecast having been that sales would decline in that year whereas, in the event, they actually increased over the sales of the preceding year. (Tr. 471)

Worthy of note is the fact that, although Mr. Page has forecast a sizable increase in sales of phenmetrazine during 1975, actual retail pharmacy sales of the drug during the first three months of this year were slightly lower than the like period in 1974. (Tr. 198, 199; Exhibit G 19)

One of the basic reasons for regulating the quantity of controlled substances, such as phenmetrazine, which can be manufactured and distributed throughout the United States is to diminish the likelihood of diversion of the drug from legitimate distribution channels. To this end it is desirable to keep the pipeline lean and to limit production during the year to that quantity of the drug sufficient to meet medical needs and the other purposes specified in the statute. (Tr. 218, 269)

Diversion of phenmetrazine is very profitable. (Tr. 215)

Diversion, however, is not considered as a factor in the sales forecasting of Boehringer. (Tr. 501)

In order for the CID to ascertain whether or not the pipeline is being kept sufficiently lean, and to keep an eye on the size of inventories at the retail level so that quotas can be adjusted, if need be, lest excessive inventory come into existence thus facilitating diversion, the CID keeps itself informed of the quantities of phenmetrazine sold at retail in prescription pharmacies. This information is obtained from a private, statistical gathering organization known as IMS America through its National Prescription Audit. This same organization also distributes a report on the quantities of phenmetrazine, and other drugs, purchased by retail drug stores from manufacturers and wholesalers. This report, known as "The Pharmaceutical Market-US Drug Stores", normally is not followed by the CID. However, in April 1975, to assist it in determining the 1975 individual production and procurement quotas for phenmetrazine, the CID requested IMS America to provide it with this information on phenmetrazine for the years 1972, 1973, and 1974. IMS America attempted to comply with this request by sending to Mr. Louis Fisher at DEA a letter dated May 8, 1975. (Tr. 228-235; Exhibit G 20)

Unfortunately, the information with respect to the finished dosage form units and kilograms of phenmetrazine purchased by drug stores in the United States as set forth in Table II and Table III accompanying that letter are now considered by IMS America to be misleading and inaccurate. James A. Donahue, Vice President of IMS America, who testified at some length concerning these figures at the hearing on May 22, 1975 and who signed the letter transmitting them to the CID, admitted that this information was based on original projections which subsequently had been revised. (Tr. 458-465) The oral admission to a representative of Boehringer was not rebutted or challenged by the CID in any way at the hearing, and it was confirmed by Mr. Donahue's letter dated May 28, 1975, in which Mr. Donahue stated that at the time of his testimony at the hearing on May 22, 1975 he personally had not been aware that Table II and Table III accompanying his letter of May 8 were based upon data now considered suspect by his own organization. (Exhibit P 10)

This data with respect to purchases of phenmetrazine by drug stores in the United States in Table II and Table III of Exhibit G 20 was considered and was relied on by the CID in connection with its determination of the individual production quota and procurement quota for phenmetrazine in 1975. (Tr. 226-240)

Mr. Durrin, Chief of CID, discussed it at great length and obviously attached considerable importance to it.

Thus it appears that the personnel of the Compliance Investigations Division, while acting conscientiously and in complete good faith, nonetheless took into consideration in the setting of the quotas questioned here, and gave substantial weight to, certain data which the source thereof now considers unreliable. Accordingly, it would seem that these quotas should be redetermined by the Compliance Investigations Division without any consideration being given to the now discredited data contained in Table II and Table III of Exhibit G 20.

RECOMMENDED RULING ON PROPOSED FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS OF THE PARTIES

It is recommended that all of the proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law submitted by the parties be denied except to the extent that they may be affirmatively recommended below.

RECOMMENDED FINDINGS OF FACT

For the reasons indicated hereinabove, the following findings of fact are recommended:

1. Western Fher Laboratories (Western Fher) is the sole applicant for a 1975 individual manufacturing quota for basic class phenmetrazine. (Tr. 21, 29)

2. Ciba-Geigy Corporation (Ciba-Geigy) is currently the exclusive manufacturer of phenmetrazine in finished dosage form. (ALJ Exhibit 3, Tr. 564)

3. Ciba-Geigy's manufacture of the finished dosage forms of phenmetrazine is covered by Boehringer Ingelheim, Limited's (Boehringer) approved new drug application for the product. (Tr. 635)

4. Ciba-Geigy is the sole applicant for a 1975 procurement quota to procure and use phenmetrazine in the manufacture of the finished dosage forms of phenmetrazine. (Tr. 28–29)

5. Boehringer is the primary distributor of the finished dosage forms of phenmetrazine manufactured by Ciba-Geigy. (ALJ 2, Tr. 651)

6. Boehringer distributes the finished dosage forms of phenmetrazine under the trade name "Preludin." (ALJ Exhibit 2, Tr. 28)

7. Boehringer only distributes phenmetrazine to persons who have an effective Certificate of Registration issued by DEA authorizing them to handle schedule II controlled drugs, including phenmetrazine. (Tr. 501)

8. Preludin has been classified by the Food and Drug Administration as "effective" in the management of exogenous obesity as a short-term (a few weeks) adjunct in a regimen of weight reduction based on caloric restrictions. (Tr. 399, 419; Petitioners' Exhibit 4)

9. The 1975 individual manufacturing quota for basic class phenmetrazine originally assigned to Western Fher on an interim basis was (* * * kg.), expressed in terms of anhydrous base. (Government's Exhibit 2, Tr. 47)

10. The 1975 procurement quota originally assigned to Ciba-Geigy on an interim basis was (* * * kg.), expressed in terms of anhydrous base. (Government's Exhibit 1, Tr. 44)

11. On April 22, 1975, the Drug Enforcement Administration based on supplemental data received, established Western Fher's 1975 individual manufacturing quota for basic class phenmetrazine at (* * * kg.). (Government's Exhibit 16)

12. On April 22, 1975, the DEA based on supplemental data received, established Ciba-Geigy's 1975 procurement quota for phenmetrazine at (* * * kg.). (Government's Exhibit 17)

13. In determining the estimated manufacturing needs of finished dosage forms of phenmetrazine for the calendar year 1975, the DEA relied in part upon National Prescription Audit projections and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's (HEW) estimates of the amount needed to provide for the normal and emergency medicinal and scientific requirements of the United States for the calendar year 1975. (Durrin, Tr. pp. 91, 94, 117)

14. HEW estimated that "The use of the stimulants in 1975 should be the same as in 1974, data indicate relative constant use for the past two years." (Government's Exhibit 9)

15. Phenmetrazine is one of these stimulants. (Government's Exhibit 9)

16. The data contained in the IMS America letter of May 8, 1975, addressed to Mr. Fisher of DEA was also relied on by the Compliance Investigations Division in its determination of Ciba-Geigy's revised 1975 procurement quota, including the estimated number of units and kilograms of phenmetrazine purchased by drug stores in 1974 contained in Table II and III of the attachment to that letter. (Government's Exhibit 20, Tr. 235)

17. The bases for the estimates contained in Tables II and III of Government's Exhibit 20 were subsequently determined by IMS America to be inaccurate and misleading and are being revised. (Tr. 458–465, Petitioners' Exhibits 6 & 10)

18. Based upon revised estimates, the percentage increase in dollar sales of phenmetrazine to drug stores in 1974 vis-a-vis 1973, was changed by IMS America from an increase of 36.1% to 13.7%. (Petitioners' Exhibit 6; Tr. pp. 462–463)

19. According to a Vice President of IMS America, since the estimates contained in Tables II and III of his May 8 letter to Mr. Fisher (Government's Exhibit 20) and the revised estimates contained in the March 11 letter to Mr. Page (Government's Exhibit 6) are both estimates, "considerable time, back data review and statistical consulting would be necessary to properly document which one is correct." (Petitioners' Exhibit 10)

RECOMMENDED CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. The quotas with which these proceedings are concerned are to be set by the Drug Enforcement Administration pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Controlled Substances Act of 1970, particularly Section 306 thereof, 21 U.S.C. § 826, and to the applicable provisions of Part 21, Code of Federal Regulations, particularly Sections 1303.12 and 1303.23 and 1303.24 thereof.

2. The formula utilized by the Compliance Investigations Division of DEA to determine Ciba-Geigy's procurement quota and Western Fher's production quota for 1975 for phenmetrazine takes cognizance of all the factors required by the statute and the regulations to be considered, and its application to reliable data will accomplish the overall statutory purpose.

3. Consideration and utilization, in the setting of quotas, of estimated data subsequently found to be distorted and misleading gives rise to the possibility that those quotas may not achieve the statutory purpose.

4. Quotas which may not achieve the statutory purpose should not be imposed.

RECOMMENDED DECISION

It is recommended that the decision of the Administrator in this matter be that the Compliance Investigations Division redetermine the 1975 individual production quota for phenmetrazine for Western Fher and the 1975 procurement quota for Ciba-Geigy, without giving any consideration to the data contained in Table II and Table III of Exhibit G 20.

FRANCIS L. YOUNG,
Administrative Law Judge.

After careful consideration of the Recommended Decision of the Administrative Law Judge printed above, and after having considered the applicable statutes and regulations and the entire record, including the Proposed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law submitted by petitioners and the Government, it is the decision of the Acting Administrator, Drug Enforcement Administration, to adopt without modification the Recommended Rulings, Finding of Fact, Conclusions of Law and Decision of the Administrative Law Judge in this case.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Attorney General by Section 306 of the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 (21 U.S.C. 826), and redelegated to the Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration, by § 0.100, as amended, Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations, and further having been duly designated as Acting Administrator by Order No. 607–75 of the Attorney General, dated May 30, 1975, in accordance with the authority stated therein, and pursuant to the authority delegated to the Acting Administrator by § 0.132(d) of Title 28 of the Code of Federal Regulations, the Acting Administrator hereby orders that the Compliance Investigations Division of the Drug Enforcement Administration redetermine the 1975 individual manufacturing (production) quota for basic class phenmetrazine to be issued to Western Fher as well as the 1975 procurement quota for basic class phenmetrazine to be issued to Ciba-Geigy, without giving any consideration to the data contained in Table II and Table III of the May 8, 1975 letter from IMS America, Exhibit G 20. It is further ordered that the Compliance Investigations Division of the Drug Enforcement Administration determine whether its redetermination of said quotas without the use of the misleading and distorted data contained in Exhibit G 20 will result in an upward or downward adjustment, or no adjustment, in the actual numbers constituting the revised 1975 individual manufacturing quota for basic class phenmetrazine issued to Western Fher and the revised 1975 procurement quota for basic class phenmetrazine issued to Ciba-Geigy under cover of letters dated April 22, 1974, Exhibits G 16 and G 17 respectively.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

Subpart C—Endangered Wildlife Permit—Export 17.23 Zoological Permits.

Twenty-four Morelet's crocodiles Crocodylus moreleti, 1-3 years old, sex unknown, toe tagged, captive bred at the Atlanta Zoological Park for export to Dr. Bernardo-Villa Ramirez Field Research Biological Station at Los Tuxtlas, Southern Veracruz, Mexico in Sept. or Oct. 1975. The exact time is not possible to predict because it is dependent on the 1975 hatch of crocodiles at the Atlanta Zoological Park. The parents of these young crocodiles were obtained as juveniles in July, 1965 in the Mexican state of Yucatan. The Herpetology Dept. of the Atlanta Zoological Park has a surplus of young, captive bred C. moreleti for export and release in a controlled, protected situation in southern Mexico. Our crocodiles are not "hand tame" and do not feed from the hand. They are difficult to catch in our large solaria and are as suitable as any other captive raised, lower vertebrate animal for release into a wild or semi-wild situation. Dr. Villa-Ramirez has such a situation in southern Veracruz and is willing to make arrangements for their safe transport through Mexico. The crocodiles will be sent by air freight, in a vented, wooden box and these size animals will not need water or food if the transport period does not exceed 2 weeks. To avoid injury to each other each crocodile's mouth will be taped shut.

SIRS: In 1971, for the first time in captivity, it was possible to observe our Morelet's crocodiles as they established territories, mated, built nest mounds, laid viable eggs and assisted their young from the nest. Our Morelet's crocodiles reproduced in captivity before the World Wildlife Fund sponsored project in Mexico under Dr. Del Toro succeeded in producing Morelet's crocodiles. I am gathering data on crocodile maternal behavior that no one has ever seen or suspected. Many captive animals in semi-natural conditions produce data that would be impossible to find in a wild situation. Before zoological parks are ruled and regulated out of existence, I thought I would point out at least one of their good points.

Sincerely,

R. HOWARD HUNT

Dear Mr. HESTER: In reply to your letter of July 3, 1975 you will find the completed form 3-200 and the information required by Part 17.23 of regulation (50-EFR17). Also is the $50.00 fee required to process the application.

The following information required by Part 17.23:

(1) Two (2) male alligators (Alligator Mississipiensis) age unknown, approximately 13 feet long, for the purpose of exhibiting at State and County Fairs in the United States.

(2) The first exhibit alligator was obtained in 1964 from Cecil Clementa, Gatorama Farm at Palm Dale, Florida. The second exhibit alligator was obtained from Charles Godwin in 1971, Gatorland, Kissemme, Florida.

(3) The two (2) alligators will be transported in separate trailers, from their home pens at Leslie Wilhoit's at Little Ranch Estates in Indiantown, Florida, to the Fairs.

(4) The alligators are kept in separate pens at Indiantown, Florida. The pens are each 16 by 22 feet with a water pool 6 by 16 feet, 3 feet deep at one end. Shade and running water as needed.

I and my family have cared for and have over 11 years experience in which we never lost an alligator.

I will participate with the Fish and Wildlife Service in any breeding program that would be appropriate.

The alligators are transported in separate trailers, which have pens 6 x 16 feet made of steel and wire, with a water pool to the depth of 18 inches 6 x 16 feet. When on exhibit the water is circulated and filtered. They are cared for and fed by myself and my family while on exhibit.

(5) The purpose of the activity sought by the permit is to show the two alligator exhibits which are the only means of income myself and my family have had for the past 11 years. If the permit is not issued I will have a monetary loss of over $3,000.00 paid out to different Fairs as rent and privileges to exhibit the alligators. Enclosed is copies of sample Fair Contracts which I have paid.

I hereby certify that I have read and am familiar with the regulations contained in Title 50, Part 13, of the Code of Federal Regulations and the other applicable parts in Subchapter B of Chapter 1 of Title 50, and I further certify that the information submitted in this application for a permit is complete and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief. I understand that any false statement hereon may subject me to the criminal penalties of U.S.C. 1001.

P.S. Please return the permit to the following address: c/o Elmer Pierce, Route 2, Bulls Gap, Tennessee 37711.

Application for permit for transporting and showing six LEOPARDS in U.S.A. (17.22)
Mr. and Mrs. Svend and Lilli Kristensen,
P.O. Box 725, Brandon, Florida 33511.
Six leopards (Panthera pardus)
2 females—born 1967
1 female—born 1970
1 female—born 1971
1 female—born 1972 (Dec)
1 male (Black leopard)—born 1968.

Permit wanted for transporting animals in U.S.A. while performing and showing animals at various police and Shrine circusses, etc.

All animals were bought in California on Nov. 29, 1972; youngest animal delivered from California three months later (sent with Jet airliner).

All animals were bought from Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bauman, 660 San Fernando Road, Los Angeles, California. The animals were raised by them. We have no idea where they were born as the Baumans worked the animals in circusses before we bought them.

All animals are maintained in Brandon, Florida, during winter months or lay-off time, otherwise they are displayed at various Shrine/police circusses and fairs all over the U.S.A.

Both of us (Svend and Lilli Kristensen) have cared for lions, alligators, foxes, etc., in Denmark 1945—1949; we stayed five years with Ringling Bros. circus, where we soaked in a lot of knowledge. Also, we have owned and cared for the six leopards we now have since end of 1972.

We will be more than willing to participate in a cooperative breeding program, etc.

We transport animals to various cities, performing with them, and showing them to people who might never have seen, and probably may not again see, a beautiful contented leopard

AUG 75 XU

Animals are transported in individual stainless steel wagons, lined with vinyl-covered wood, loaded into special-built 45 ft. semi-trailer equipped with a 525-pound capacity freezer for meat, with fan, air conditioner and heater, to keep animals comfortable under any circumstances. When performing, they are loose in a big 32 ft. circular arena in which they are also put occasionally between shows to romp.

By our getting the permit to show our animals in various cities and States, it gives us an opportunity to meet with a lot of zoo directors, discussing breeding, caring, and exchanging knowledge, which certainly does the program good. Also, it enables us to give our animals the utmost of good care and facility, and to stay in Florida in the wintertime with our cats, and try to breed them, as was done this winter, when both females (predicted pregnant by the veterinarian) came in with false pregnancies, which is an experience in itself, and a different approach will be tried with three female leopards this fall, to produce positive results.

Mr. and Mrs. SVEND and LILLI KRISTENSEN.

DEAR SIR:

The Lincoln Park Zoological Gardens, 100 West Webster, Chicago, Illinois 60614, hereby applies for permits to exchange captive-born Asiatic Lions (Panthera leo persica) with the East Berlin Zoo under the Endangered Species Act of 1973. We would like to send a male cub born here March 26, 1975 to East Berlin for a male cub born there earlier in 1975.

We wish to exchange these animals in order to avoid in-breeding and to establish a more viable breeding group.

The East Berlin Zoo is agreeable to this exchange. Please find enclosed a copy of a letter from Dr. H. Dathe, Director, East Berlin Zoo, dated March 13, 1975, to this effect.

The original pair of Asiatic Lions imported by Lincoln Park Zoo arrived here March 14, 1973 under Endangered Species Permit No. ES-76. Since then they have produced two litters of 4 cubs each. The first litter was 3.1 of which 1.1 survived, born October 26, 1974 and was, as far as we can determine, the first Asiatic Lions born in the Western Hemisphere. A second litter of 1.3 was born March 26, 1975 and a pair remain from this litter as well.

There has been some question in the past as to whether these animals are pure-bred Indian Lions. I am enclosing a copy of a letter from S. V. Bakshi, Zoo Officer of the Sakkarbaug Zoo, Junagadh attesting to the authenticity of our Lions. Mr. Bakshi is the stud-book keeper for the Asiatic Lion and is the Director of the Sakkarbaug Zoo, Junagadh, India. This is in the province of Gujarat where the Gir Forest is located. Since this is the last remaining stronghold of the Asiatic Lion, Mr. Bakashi must be looked upon as an authority on the Asiatic Lion.

This exchange will have no effect on the wild population since both animals are zoo-born. At any rate the wild population continues to fare poorly in India. The IUCN Red Data Book, 1972, shows the population down from approximately 290 in 1955 to 177 in 1968. The Asiatic Lion is restricted to the Gir Forest and considering the wild ungulate population has been reduced to a low level and 55% of the cattle killed by lions are taken away by people who collect the hide and meat; their future in the wild is a precarious one to say the least. After our pair was imported a pair of Asiatic Lions was imported by the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo. This pair has not reproduced as yet, but when they do, we would be willing to exchange animals with them as well.

The one individual who has complete jurisdiction of the breeding program with the Asiatic Lions is Dr. Lester E. Fisher, Director, Lincoln Park Zoo, although the entire staff is involved in the program. Dr. Fisher has been director of Lincoln Park Zoo for the past 13 years and is a veterinarian.

We have kept the adult pair of Indian Lions in our exhibit cages, but they have been recently moved to a moated grotto with a gunite background on the north side of the present Large Cat facility. The outdoor dimensions are 115' long x 44' wide. A pool is available during the warm months. During the colder weather they will be inside in glass-fronted exhibits with a gunite background with the following dimensions: 17' long x 12' wide x 15' high.

I am enclosing pictures of animals in these exhibits. Siberian Tigers are in one of the exhibit areas. African Lions were in the other exhibit area as shown in the enclosed picture.

Two veterinarians are on the staff and are on 24-hour call. Records are kept of all observed breedings and any unusual behavior. At the present time the curatorial staff is in the process of a longitudinal study of the differences between Asiatic and African Lions. The cubs are measured, weighed and photographed once a week. A paper will be prepared on these differences and submitted for publication in the appropriate journal.

Lincoln Park Zoo is famous for its cat collection and the breeding of the Felidae. As mentioned above we have already had two litters of Asiatic Lion. We have bred third generation Black Leopards and second generation Snow Leopards, and have had a total of 17 Siberian Tigers, 54 African Lions, 33 Snow Leopards, 35 Black Leopards, 37 Bengal Tigers, 30 Jaguar and 49 Mountain Lions born at our zoo since 1962 to date. We are successful with the smaller cats as well, particularly with Servals. We have had 46 Serval born at Lincoln Park Zoo since 1967.

An exhibit and breeding program of Asiatic Lions is of such zoological interest and importance to us that we have disposed of our breeding African Lions and will now only keep the Asiatic Lion. The exchange of cubs with East Berlin will help to assure the continuance of this breeding program. This is a permanent commitment by Lincoln Park Zoo.

Since we have already contacted the stud-book keeper for Asiatic Lions it is obvious that we will cooperate in any way with this stud book. We also plan on continuing our commitment to cooperative breeding programs with other zoos. The shipping arrangements are usually handled by an international freight forwarding company for shipment from East Germany. We will ship to them via Lufthansa direct to Frankfurt and then on to East Berlin. We have shipped animals to Leipzig, East Germany and Prague, Czechoslovakia in the past and have had little difficulty with the shipping arrangements.

I hereby certify that I have read and am familiar with the regulations contained in Title 50, Part 13, of the Code of Federal Regulations and other applicable parts in Subchapter B of Chapter I of Title 50, and I further certify that the information submitted in this application for a permit is complete and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief. I understand that any false statement hereon may subject me to the criminal penalties of 18 U.S.C. 1001.

Sincerely yours,

L. E. FISHER, D.V.M.

JULY 17, 1975.

Director
U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
U.S. Department of Interior
Washington, DC 20240

DEAR SIR:

On June 4, 1975 Lincoln Park Zoo submitted an Endangered Species permit application to exchange captive-born Asiatic Lions (Panthera leo persica) with the East Berlin Zoo. Pursuant to this application supportive data regarding the East Berlin Zoo and the expertise of its staff follows.

The East Berlin Zoo is one of the largest zoos in Europe, if not the world. The last census available to me, International Zoo Yearbook Vol. 14, lists their total specimens as 5019+ of 882 species and sub-species. Perhaps of more relevance to the issue at hand is their 1116 specimens of 192 mammalian species and sub-species.

They have a very large staff of 332 people, including 10 researchers. This is one of the largest staffs I have personally heard of. While they have the usual array of Curatorial personnel, they also have at least one scientist working in Parasitology, Anatomy, Helminthology and Ethology as well as a Scientific Coordinator, a Curator of Scientific Records and three (3) Veterinarians. This may be the most extensive staff in the zoo world. The zoo also has close cooperation with Alexander von Humboldt University and the Institute of Comparative Pathology of the German Academy of Science.

The zoo itself is a total of 130 hectares (321 acres) and is being expanded to 160 hectares (395 acres). The annual attendance of the East Berlin Zoo is 2,060,781. Since the population of East Berlin is only 1,200,000 the zoo therefore draws approximately 860,000 more people than the population of their city. This indicates the people have a healthy attitude toward their zoo and bodes well for the zoo's future.

There has been a zoo in Berlin since the early 1840's. The Berlin Zoo was always considered one of the finest in the world, and in fact, is the oldest in Germany. The West Berlin Zoo is the descendant of this zoo, but when Berlin was split into East and West, a new zoo was considered necessary for the Eastern sector.

Construction began on the East Berlin Zoo in April, 1955 with the first section opening in July of that same year. After 6½ years of construction the Alfred Brehm House was opened in June, 1963. According to all authorities this is the largest animal house in the world. The building covers a ground surface of 5,300 square meters (Approximately 50,000 square feet) enclosing a space of 41,500 cubic meters (slightly less than 300,000 cubic feet). The greatest length of this building is between 100 and 110 meters (328-360 feet). Please find an article specifically detailing this building with a diagram attached.

The feline carnivores are kept and bred in racial groups in this building. Dr. Dathe, the Director of the Zoo and author of this article states that the place of origin is known in each case, referring to their feline species. A cage unit consists of "an inside den, an outside enclosure and an isolation den. The dens and enclosures are connected by a passageway so that it is possible to move the animals without having to disturb them too much. Restraint cages make it possible for sick animals to be handled quickly." The Alfred Brehm House is so famous that the East German government has put it on a number of their postage stamps.

The staff of the zoo is headed by the Director, Dr. Heinrich Dathe. Dr. Dathe is a scientist of international reknown. He is a member of the International Union of Directors of Zoological Gardens and is the keeper of the International Stud-book for Asiatic Wild Asses. He is the editor of three scientific journals: DER ZOOLOGISCHE GARTEN, BEITRÄGE ZUR VOGELKUNDE, and MILU. DER ZOOLOGISCHE GARTEN is the most venerable and well-known of these journals, with the first issue appearing in 1859. Although publication was interrupted on two occasions it is still being published. Dr. Dathe who had been a contributor to DER ZOOLOGISCHE GARTEN since 1934 joined the editorial staff in 1949 and became the editor shortly thereafter. It is the only scientific journal for the publication of articles on the work of Zoological Gardens as a whole in the widest possible sense. Since its inception almost 100 volumes have been published.

Dr. Dathe is a prolific writer and I am attaching copies of his articles from the International Zoo Yearbooks, although he writes for many other publications as well.

The Curatorial staff at East Berlin Zoo is also noted for its excellence. I am also attaching some articles by them that were published in the International Zoo Yearbooks. They also publish in other sources, of course.

East Berlin's Feline collection is an extensive one. The Genus Panthera seems to be one of their specialties. Along with the Asiatic Lions (Panthera leo persica) other rare Pantherids is as follows:

1/3 Siberian Tiger (Panthera tigris altaica)
0/1 Amoy Tiger (Panthera tigris amoyensis)
2/6 Sumatran Tiger (Panthera tigris sumatrae)
0/1 Sind Leopard (Panthera pardus sindica)
3/2 North China Leopard (Panthera pardus japonensis)
1/2 Indo-Chinese Leopard (Panthera pardus delacouri)
1/2 Snow Leopard (Panthera uncia)

East Berlin has done well with breeding of Panthera as follows:

African Lions (Panthera leo) at least 29 (records are not published any more in International Zoo Yearbooks)
Tiger (Panthera tigris) 21 (sub-species unidentified)
Siberian Tiger (Panthera tigris altaica) 16
Sumatran Tiger (Panthera tigris sumatrae) 23
Jaguar (Panthera onca) 9
Leopard (Panthera pardus) 3 (sub-species unidentified)
Black Leopard (Panthera pardus var. niger) 6 (sub-species unidentified)
North Chinese Leopard (Panthera pardus japonensis) 19
Indo-Chinese Leopard (Panthera pardus delacouri) 16
South Chinese Leopard (Panthera pardus fusca) 12
Congo Leopard (Panthera pardus ituriensis) 5

From the record it is apparent to me that the East Berlin Zoo will be a more than adequate home for our Asiatic Lion. The staff has the apparent expertise and medical assistance necessary for the proper management and maintenance of this and allied species. Dr. Dathe, being the stud-booker for Asiatic Wild Asses, will undoubtedly coperate with the Asiastic Lion stud-book.

I hereby certify that I have read and am familiar with the regulations contained in Title 50, Part 13, of the Code of Federal Regulations and other applicable parts in Subchapter B of Chapter I of Title 50, and I further certify that the information submitted in this application for a permit is complete and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief. GENTLEMEN:

In reply to your letter of July 9, 1975, with regards to the Jamaican boas:

Mr. Ron Kananga has for many years bred and raised Jamaican boas, along with other wildlife. The boas of which I requested a permit are not from the wild. These have been born and raised in captivity.

If any further information is required please contact me at once.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. JAMES E. COFFEY.

P.S. I still plan on making the trip to Jamaica. The reason is to study their natural habitat and duplicate it here as close as possible. The trip will be made only after the permit has been granted for these Jamaican boas. At no time will I remove any Jamaican boas from the wild.

ATTACHMENT

The following data is being submitted in support of a request by Dr. Maurice Ferdinand Mettee and Mr. Edward Crittenden for a scientific collecting permit as given in Section 50 CFR 17.23.

1. Species for which permit is requested: Etheostoma okaloosae (Fowler) the Okaloosa Darter

2. Not applicable.

3. Purpose of the study: Prior to 1970, it was believed that the population status of the Okaloosa Darter was stable although limited in distribution since it occurs only in five stream systems which empty into the northwest corner of Choctawhatchee Bay in northwest Florida. Recently, however, it was found that the range of this darter had been entered by the Brown Darter, Etheostoma edwini, and that this species was becoming established there. Based on field observations made by Mettee and Crittenden, it is possible that in these streams Okaloosa and Brown darters may be ecological equivalents. There is also information based on early field data that where the two species occur together, the Brown Darter is outcompeting the Okaloosa Darter. The purpose of this study are therefore:

A. To make careful observations on the specific stream habitats occupied by the Okaloosa and Brown darters

B. To try to determine if the Brown and Okaloosa darters are ecological equivalents and therefore in competition for food and space where they occur together

C. To try to collect any specimens that might be hybrids between the Brown and Okaloosa darters and

D. Based on our findings, to make recommendations to insure the continued success of the endangered species, Etheostomd okaloosae.

4. A maximum of four specimens of Etheostoma okaloosae will be retained per collection. We feel that this number is not unreasonable since the relative numbers of individuals present in those streams occupied and not occupied by the Okaloosa darter are substantial to repopulate within a period of one year. All specimens collected will be deposited in the University of Alabama Ichthyological Collection in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Representative collections of Etheostoma Okaloosae will be sent to major museums in the United States including the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor), the Smithsonian Museum (Washington, D.C.), the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences (Philadelphia), the University of Florida (Gainesville) and Tulane University (New Orleans).

5. Not Applicable.

6. Not Applicable.

Two copies of our proposal which was submitted to the Region 4 Office of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service are enclosed for your inspection. According to information obtained from the Region 4 Office by Mr. Crittenden, funds have already been appropriated for this study.

A PROPOSAL TO MONITOR POPULATIONS OF Etheostoma okaloosae AND Etheostoma edwini IN ROCKY AND SWIFT CREEKS, OKALOOSA AND WALTON COUNTIES, FLORIDA—Submitted By Dr. Maurice F. Mettee, Alabama Geological Survey, Environmental Geology Division, Tuscaloosa, Alabama; and Mr. Edward Crittenden, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Panama City, Florida—April 1975.

The Okaloosa darter, Etheostoma okaloosae, is distributed in several small to moderate size streams that empty into Boggy and Rocky Bayous in the northwestern corner of Choctawhatchee Bay, Okaloosa County, Florida (See Figure 1). This species is comparatively new to science, being described by Henry W. Fowler (1941) from a single specimen collected from Little Rocky Creek, Okaloosa County, Florida.

Etheostoma okaloosae has received only limited study and therefore comparatively little is known about its life history and ecological requirements. After its description, E. okaloosae was not mentioned again in the literature until Bailey, Winn, and Smith (1954) synonymized it with Etheostoma swaini, a convention that was followed by Eddy (1957) and Moore (1957). Yerger (1960) removed E. okaloosae from synonymy and assigned it to the subgenus Villora with the brown darter, Etheostoma edwini. In their study on the subgenus Villora, Collette and Yerger (1962) included the only observations of E. okaloosae spawning. Based on their field observations, Collette and Yerger noted that even though the headwaters of streams occupied by Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae were at times less than a half mile apart, they were allopatric.

In a thesis on the fishes of the Choctawhatchee Bay drainage, Mettee (1970) reported three collections of Etheostoma edwini from within the range of E. okaloosae. Two of the collections were from separate localities on Swift Creek while the third was from Rocky Creek. At that time, Mettee proposed the idea that Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae were ecological equivalents. Shortly thereafter, he submitted data on the Okaloosa darter to the Office of Endangered Species in Washington and in 1973, the species was approved to the "List of Endangered and Threatened Vertebrates of the United States" with a status of "Endangered".

The latest data on Etheostoma okaloosae resulted from a study conducted by Crittenden (1974) which was designed to update information on the species' distribution and relative abundance and assess its reaction to habitat alteration. In addition to the sites reported by Mettee (1970), Crittenden collected specimens of Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae at a third site on Swift Creek.

In June 1974, Mettee observed specimens of Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae at a second site on Rocky Creek. A total of 12 species were recorded among which were 86 specimens of the brown darter and 3 specimens of the Okaloosa darter.

Based on the data presented here which is basically a summary of all of the knowledge on Etheostoma okaloosae, several conclusions can be made.

1. In relatively recent times (possibly since 1962), the brown darter, Etheostoma edwini, has gained entry into at least two of the streams previously thought to be occupied only by E. okaloosae.

2. Based on data presented by Collette and Yerger (1962), Crittenden (1974), and Mettee (1970), it is probable that Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae are ecological equivalents.

3. If Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae are ecological equivalents, then according to Gause's Principle of Competitive Exclusion, one will eventually outcompete the other to the point of possible extirpation. Personal field data compiled by Mettee from 1967 through 1974 from collections at two sites on Swift Creek seem to support this hypothesis. At these sites, the numbers of individuals of E. okaloosae that were collected decreased while the numbers of E. edwini either increased or remained the same. Although there are no earlier collections, the relative numbers of Okaloosa and brown darters at the Rocky Creek site visited by Mettee in 1974 indicate that the same process is occurring there.

In order to determine the extent to which Etheostoma edwini has invaded the range of E. okaloosae and what the future implications of its presence there might be, it is imperative that a program be initiated as soon as possible to monitor the sites where both species occur. Although federal law prohibits the collection of endangered species, we feel that the results of such a study will be invaluable in the future since it may identify a biological process that, if gone unnoticed, could have a significant effect on the distribution and future success of one of our already endangered species.

There are two major reasons which justify retaining rather than releasing the darters that are collected during the study. The color patterns of female individuals of Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae resemble each other very closely in life, therefore, in order to make positive identifications, specimens should be examined with the use of a dissecting microscope. Secondly, if E. edwini and E. okaloosae are ecological equivalents, then it is entirely possible that given the proper environmental conditions, they may hybridize. Because of their similar color patterns and small size, hybrid individuals could be recognized only by careful examination with a dissecting microscope.

The study that we are proposing will last for a period of one year and consist of 6 bimonthly field trips to selected sites on Rocky and Swift Creeks. If at the end of the year, more data is needed, we will request one additional year of field work.

Six bimonthly collections will be made at the five sites where Etheostoma edwini and E. okaloosae are known to occur together and at any additional sites where we might collect the two species together during the study. A maximum of ten sites will be monitored during each field trip.

Collections will be made with 6 and 10 foot nylon minnow seines. All fishes will be immediately preserved in a 10% formalin solution and transported to Tuscaloosa, Alabama where they will be sorted, identified, and accessioned into the University of Alabama Ichthyological Collection by Dr. Mettee. Dr. Herbert T. Boschung, curator of the Alabama fish collection, has indicated that he will be pleased to accept the specimens and that they will be maintained within the museum indefinitely for study by qualified scientists. Dr. Boschung has also indicated that he will furnish the preservatives and additional specimen jars that might be needed during the course of the study.

Since both Crittenden and Mettee have had a great deal of previous experience in collecting individuals of Etheostoma okaloosae, they share an appreciation for precise environmental conditions under which this species lives. Great care will be taken, therefore, to keep habitat disturbance at a minimum while collections are being made.

Prior to the initiation of any field work, the Natural Resources Division of Eglin Reservation will be notified as to our activities in the area and personnel from the division will be invited to participate in all field trips.

Each locality where collections are made will be photographed at the beginning and end of the study for comparative purposes. Copies of all slides will be included in the final report.

A detailed record of all locality and ecological data will be kept. Physical parameters including air and water temperatures, dissolved oxygen, conductivity, and pH will be taken for each collection. Copies of all locality and ecological data, together with species lists for each collection, will be included in the final report.

Within four months after all field work is completed, a final report will be submitted to the Regional Director, Region 4, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which will summarize our observations on Etheostoma okaloosae and E. edwini in Rocky and Swift Creeks. Based on the information collected during the study, we will attempt (1) to evaluate the potential threat posed by the presence of apparently increasing populations of Etheostoma edwini within the streams occupied by E. okaloosae, (2) better describe the watershed and operational programs within it that may be a threat to the habitat or the fish directly, (3) better define the habitat requirements (ranges of various parameters) as they relate to completion of the life cycle of the Okaloosa darter, and (4) make recommendations to insure the continued success of this endangered species.

Documents and other information submitted in connection with this application are available for public inspection during normal business hours at the Service's office in Suite 600, 1612 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Interested persons may comment on this application by submitting written data, views, or arguments, preferably in triplicate, to the Director (FWS/LE), U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Post Office Box 19183, Washington, D.C. 20036. All relevant comments received on or before September 8, 1975 will be considered.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Farmers Home Administration

[Notice of Designation Number A246]

MONTANA

Designation of Emergency Areas

The Secretary of Agriculture has found that a general need for agricultural credit exists in the following counties in Montana:

|---|---|
| Cascade | Glacier |
| Deer Lodge | Powell |

The Secretary has found that this need exists as a result of a natural disaster consisting of a snowstorm and excessive rainfall April 8 to May 8, 1975, in Cascade County; a snowstorm April 25 and 26, 1975, in Deer Lodge and Powell Counties; and a snowstorm and flooding April 4 to 27, 1975, in Glacier County.

Therefore, the Secretary has designated these areas as eligible for Emergency loans, pursuant to the provisions of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act, as amended by Public Law 93-237 and the provisions of 7 CFR 1832.3(b) including the recommendation of Governor Thomas L. Judge that such designation be made.

Applications for Emergency loans must be received by this Department no later than September 15, 1975, for physical losses and April 19, 1976, for production losses, except that qualified borrowers who receive initial loans pursuant to this designation may be eligible for subsequent loans. The urgency of the need for loans in the designated areas makes it impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give advance notice of proposed rule making and invite public participation.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of August 1975.

TEXAS

Designation of Emergency Areas

The Secretary of Agriculture has found that a general need for agricultural credit exists in the following counties in Texas:

|---|---|
| Atascosa | Hidalgo |
| Duval | Wilson |

The Secretary has found that this need exists as a result of a natural disaster consisting of hailstorms April 29 and 30 and hail, wind, and rain May 4, 1975, in Atascosa County; a tornado (rain, hail, and wind) May 24 and 28, 1975, in Duval County; drought November 1, 1974, to May 8, 1975, in Hidalgo County; and excessive rain, high winds, and hail May 4 and 8 and excessive rainfall May 23 and 24, 1975, in Wilson County.

Therefore, the Secretary has designated these areas as eligible for Emergency loans, pursuant to the provisions of the Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act, as amended by Public Law 93-237, and the provisions of 7 CFR 1832.3(b) including the recommendation of Governor Dolph Briscoe that such designation be made.

Applications for Emergency loans must be received by this Department no later than September 15, 1975, for physical losses and April 19, 1976, for production losses, except that qualified borrowers who receive initial loans pursuant to this designation may be eligible for subsequent loans. The urgency of the need for loans in the designated areas makes it impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give advance notice of

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, has prepared a draft environmental statement for the Proposed Management Alternatives, Lone Peak Wilderness Study Area, Uinta and Wasatch National Forests, Utah. The Forest Service report number is USDA-FS-DES (Adm) R4-76-1.

The purpose of this environmental statement is to display various management alternatives considered reasonable for the Lone Peak Wilderness Study Area and their effects on the environment, society, and the economy. Four alternatives are presented; a Forest Service preferred alternative is not indicated.

This draft environmental statement was transmitted to CEQ on July 31, 1975.

Copies are available for inspection during regular working hours at the following locations:

USDA, Forest Service, South Agriculture Bldg., Room 3230, 12th St. and Independence Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250.

Wasatch National Forest, 4311 Federal Building, 125 South State Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 84138.

Regional Planning & Budget, USDA, Forest Service, Federal Building, Room 4403, Ogden, Utah 84401.

Salt Lake Ranger District, USDA, Forest Service, 3070 East 33rd South, Salt Lake City, Utah 84109.

A limited number of single copies are available upon request to Forest Supervisor Chandler P. St. John, Wasatch National Forest, 4311 Federal Building, 125 South State Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 84138, or Forest Supervisor Bruce B. Hronek, Uinta National Forest, 88 West 100 North, Provo, Utah 84601.

Copies of the environmental statement have been sent to various Federal, State, and local agencies as outlined in the CEQ Guidelines.

Comments are invited from the public and from State and local agencies which are authorized to develop and enforce environmental standards, and from Federal agencies having jurisdiction by law or special expertise with respect to any environmental impact involved for which comments have not been requested specifically.

Comments concerning the proposed action and requests for additional information should be addressed to Forest Supervisor Chandler P. St. John, Wasatch National Forest, 4311 Federal Building, 125 South State Street, Salt Lake City, Utah 84138, or Forest Supervisor Bruce B. Hronek, Uinta National Forest, 88 West 100 North, Provo, Utah 84601. Comments must be received by September 29, 1975, in order to be considered in the preparation of the final environmental statement.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

Soil Conservation Service

BANNING PARK RESOURCE CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT (RC&D) MEASURE, DELAWARE

Notice of Availability of Negative Declaration

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and part 1500.6(e) of the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (38 FR 20550) August 1, 1973; and part 650.8(b)(3) of the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (39 FR 19651) June 3, 1974; the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental statement is not being prepared for the Banning Park RC&D Measure Plan, New Castle County, Delaware.

The environmental assessment of this federal action indicates that the measure will not create significant adverse local, regional, or national impacts on the environment and that no significant controversy is associated with the measure. As a result of these findings, Mr. Otis D. Fincher, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, USDA, 2-4 Treadway Towers, 9 E. Loockerman Street, Dover, Delaware 19901, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is not needed for this measure.

The measure concerns a plan for water-based park and recreation development. The planned elements of the measure include structural improvements to two small ponds, park safety, and the installation of recreation facilities and vegetative treatment.

The Negative Declaration is available for single copy requests, and the environmental assessment file is available for inspection during regular working hours at the following location:

Soil Conservation Service, USDA, 2-4 Treadway Towers, 9 E. Loockerman Street, Dover, Delaware 19901.

No administrative action on implementation of the proposal will be taken until 15 days after the date of this notice.

KEMPER COUNTY LAKE RC&D MEASURE PLAN KEMPER COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

Notice of Availability of Negative Declaration

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; Part 1500.6(e) of the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (38 FR 20550, August 1, 1973); and Part 650.8(b)(3) of the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (39 FR 19651), June 3, 1974; the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Kemper County Lake RC&D Measure Plan, Kemper County, Mississippi.

The environmental assessment of this federal action indicates that the project will not create significant adverse local, regional, or national impacts on the environment and that no significant controversy is associated with the measure. As a result of these findings, Mr. W. L. Heard, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, USDA, Room 590, Milner Building, 310 South Lamar Street, Jackson, Mississippi 39205, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is not needed for this measure.

This project concerns a plan for watershed protection, recreation, and flood prevention. The planned works of improvement include conservation land treatment and one multiple purpose structure with basic facilities.

The environmental assessment file is available for inspection during regular working hours at the following location:

Soil Conservation Service, USDA, Room 590, Milner Building, 310 South Lamar Street, Jackson, Mississippi 39205

Single copies of the Negative Declaration are available at the above location or at the following address:

Soil Conservation Service, P.O. Box 610, Jackson, Mississippi 39205

No administrative action on implementation of the proposal will be taken until 15 days after the date of this Notice.

NORTH CAL-NEVA RESOURCE CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT PROJECT EAGLE LAKE MEASURE, CALIFORNIA

Notice of Availability of Negative Declaration

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; part 1500.6(e) of the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (38 FR 20550) August 1, 1973; and part 650.8(b)(3) of the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (39 FR 19651) June 3, 1974; the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Eagle Lake Measure, Lassen County, California.

The environmental assessment of this federal action indicates that the project will not create significant adverse local, regional, or national impacts on the environment and that no significant controversy is associated with the project. As a result of these findings, Mr. G. H. Stone, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, USDA, P.O. Box 1019, Davis, California 95616, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is not needed for this measure.

The measure concerns a plan for recreation. The planned works of improvement, as described in the negative declaration, include the construction of a boat ramp.

The environmental assessment file is available for inspection during regular working hours at the following locations:

Soil Conservation Service, 50 Hall Street, Susanville, California 96130.

Soil Conservation Service, 2828 Chiles Road, Davis, California 95616.

The Negative Declaration is available for single copy requests from one of the above addresses.

No administrative action on implementation of the proposal will be taken until 15 days after the date of this notice.

OAK MIDDLE CREEK TRIBUTARIES OF SALT CREEK WATERSHED PROJECT, NEBRASKA

Notice of Availability of Negative Declaration

Pursuant to Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; part 1500.6(e) of the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (38 FR 20550) August 1, 1973; and part 650.8(b)(3) of the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (39 FR 19651) June 3, 1974; the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Oak Middle Creek Tributaries of Salt Creek Watershed Project, Butler, Lancaster, Saunders, and Seward Counties, Nebraska.

The environmental assessment of this federal action indicates that the project will not create significant adverse local, regional, or national impacts on the environment and that no significant controversy is associated with the project. As a result of these findings, Mr. Wilson J. Parker, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, USDA, 134 South 12th Street, Room 604, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement is not needed for this project.

The project concerns a plan for watershed protection and flood prevention. The remaining planned works of improvement as described in the negative declaration include conservation land treatment supplemented by ten single purpose floodwater retarding structures, one multiple purpose floodwater retarding recreation structure, and two grade stabilization structures.

The environmental assessment file is available for inspection during regular working hours at the following location:

Soil Conservation Service, 134 South 12th Street, Room 604, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508.

Single copy requests for the negative declaration should be sent to the above address.

No administrative action on implementation of the proposal will be taken until 15 days after the date of this publication.

Dated: July 30, 1975.

Domestic and International Business Administration

[Case No. 487]

MERVYN E. EYETT AND OVERSEAS HOLIDAYS & AIRCRAFT HIRE (PTY.), LTD.

Order Denying Export Privileges for an Indefinite Period

On or about April 17 and 18, 1973, reports were received by the Compliance Division, that three U.S.-origin Boeing 720 aircraft had been delivered to Salisbury, Rhodesia, in contravention of the sanctions imposed upon that country by the United Nations and in apparent violation of the U.S. Export Administration Regulations (hereinafter, the export regulations). Review of Office of Export Administration export licensing records and subsequent investigation show that the respondents, Overseas Holidays & Aircraft Hire (Pty.), Ltd. and its Managing Director, Mervyn E. Eyett, had purchased and accepted delivery of three such aircraft in April of 1973, immediately prior to the reported delivery to Salisbury. As a part of the investigation, interrogatories and a request for documents were sent to the respondents by registered mail on October 25, 1974, concerning the facts and circumstances surrounding the purchase, delivery, use, and disposition of the aircraft. It was impracticable to issue subpoenas.

The Director, Compliance Division, Office of Export Administration, with the concurrence of the Office of General Counsel, has applied to the Hearing Commissioner for an order against the above-named respondents indefinitely denying all United States export privileges. The basis for the application is the failure of the respondents to respond to the interrogatories and request for documents duly issued in the furtherance of the investigation, pursuant to Section 388.6 of the export regulations. Section 388.15 of the export regulations provides that failure to respond to interrogatories and requests for documents within 20 days of their service upon a respondent may result, without prior notice, in the denial of export privileges.

The Hearing Commissioner has reviewed the application for an indefinite denial order and the evidence presented in support thereof and has submitted his report, together with a recommendation that the application be granted. On the basis of the Hearing Commissioner's submission and the supporting evidence, I find that relevant and material interrogatories and request for documents were properly served by registered mail on October 25, 1974. The respondents have failed, in violation of Section 388.15 of the export regulations, to respond to the said interrogatories and request for documents and have not shown good cause for such failure.

It is, therefore,

ORDERED

I. All outstanding validated export licenses concerned with or affecting any transaction in which the respondents have any interest, direct or indirect, are hereby revoked and are ordered to be returned forthwith to the Office of Export Administration.

II. The respondents, their successors or assigns, partners, representatives, agents and employees are hereby denied the privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in any transaction involving commodities or technical data exported from the United States in whole or in part, or to be exported, or which are otherwise subject to the export regulations. Without limitation of the generality of such denial of export privileges, participation prohibited in any such transaction either in the United States or abroad shall include participation directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity:

A. As a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application;

B. In the preparation or filing of any export license application or reexport authorization, or any document to be submitted therewith;

C. In the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document;

D. In the carrying on of negotiations with respect to, or in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, delivering, storing, using, or disposing of any commodities or technical data in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States;

E. In the financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such commodities or technical data.

III. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondents, but also, to their agents and employees and to any successor, and to any persons, firm, corporation, partnership or other business organization with which the respondents now or hereafter may be related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, affiliation, or other connection in the conduct of trade or related services.

IV. No person, firm, corporation, partnership or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, without prior disclosure to and specific authorization from the Bureau of East-West Trade, shall do any of the following acts, directly or indirectly, or carry on negotiations with respect thereto, in any manner or capacity, on behalf of or in any association with the respondents or any related party, or whereby the respondents or related party may obtain any benefit therefrom or have any interest or participation therein, directly or indirectly:

A. Apply for, obtain, transfer, or use any license, Shipper's Export Declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any exportation, reexportation, transshipment, or diversion of any commodity or technical data exported or to be exported from the United States, by, to, or for the respondents or related party;

B. Order, buy, receive, use, sell, deliver, store, dispose of, forward, transport, finance, or otherwise service or participate in, any transaction which may involve the respondents or related party in any exportation, reexportation, transshipment, or diversion of any commodity or technical data exported or to be exported from the United States or which is otherwise subject to the export regulations.

V. This order shall remain in effect until the respondents provide responsive answers, written information, and documents, in response to the interrogatories and request for documents heretofore served upon them or give adequate reasons for not doing so, except insofar as this order may be amended or modified hereafter in accordance with the export regulations.

VI. In accordance with the provisions of Section 388.15 of the export regulations, the respondents may move at any time to vacate or modify this indefinite denial order by filing with the Hearing Commissioner, Bureau of East-West Trade, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C., 20230, an appropriate motion for relief, supported by substantial evidence, and may also request an oral hearing thereon, which if requested shall be held before the Hearing Commissioner at Washington, D.C. at the earliest convenient date.

VII. A copy of this order shall be served on the respondents.

Dated: July 24, 1975.

HEALTH PROFESSIONS AND NURSING STUDENT LOANS

"Low-Income Levels" for Loan Repayment

Sections 741(1) and 830(a) of the Public Health Service Act, as implemented by regulations, provide that the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare may undertake to repay, upon application by an individual, all or any portion of such individual's educational loans made subsequent to November 17, 1971, for meeting his costs at a school of medicine, osteopathy, dentistry, veterinary medicine, optometry, pharmacy, podiatry, or nursing when the Secretary determines that the individual:

(1) Failed subsequent to November 17, 1971, to complete the health professions studies leading to his first professional degree or the specified nursing studies, with respect to which such loan(s) was made;

(2) Is in exceptionally needy circumstances;

(3) Is from a low-income or disadvantaged family; and

(4) Has not resumed or cannot reasonably be expected to resume the course of study within two years following the date upon which he terminated such studies.

Sections 57.217(c) and 57.317(c) of the implementing regulations (42 CFR Part 57, Subparts C and D) require that the Secretary publish annually in the FEDERAL REGISTER the low-income levels which will be utilized in determining an applicant's eligibility under these provisions.

Notice is hereby given that the income levels indicated below, updated through December 1974, are used in determining what constitutes a "low-income family" for purposes of repayment of educational loans by the Secretary pursuant to sections 741(1) and 830(a) of the Public Health Service Act. Further, these income levels, together with other relevant factors such as value of assets, unusual expenses, income available to the individual, etc., are taken into consideration in determining whether an applicant is "in exceptionally needy circumstances" or is from a "disadvantaged family".

The income levels below were derived from low-income thresholds published by the U.S. Bureau of the Census, utilizing an index adopted by a Federal Interagency Committee for use in a variety of Federal programs, multiplied by a factor of 1.3 for adaptation to the Health Professions and Nursing Student Loan Programs, and have been updated to reflect increases in the Consumer Price Index through December 31, 1974.

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

Federal Insurance Administration

[Docket No. N-75-376]

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Flood-Prone Areas of Communities Subject to Prohibition of Federal and Federally Related Assistance

The purpose of this notice is to provide a list of communities that contain areas of special flood hazard potentially subject to the provisions of Section 202 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (PL 93-234) on July 1, 1975, or an appropriate later date, and to provide a convenient reference for interested persons, communities, Federal agencies and instrumentalities, and others involved in assuring compliance with that section. This list supersedes and up-dates the list published in the Federal Register on July 21, 1975 at 40 F.R. 30540-30554.

Section 202 provides that effective July 1, 1975, Federal agencies and federally supervised, approved, insured, or regulated lending institutions are prohibited from providing financial assistance or making loans for acquisition or construction purposes in areas which (a) have been designated by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development as Special Flood Hazard Areas for at least one year; and (b) are in communities which are not participating in the National Flood Insurance Program (42 USC §§ 4001-4128).

The prohibition does not apply to any loan made by a federally-supervised, approved, insured, or regulated lending institution made prior to January 1, 1976, to finance the acquisition of a previously occupied residential dwelling.

Each of the communities listed below received notice of its designation as flood-prone prior to September 1, 1974, and legal notice was furnished of such designation by publication under Part 1915 of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations in the Federal Register. These communities have failed to provide the Federal Insurance Administrator with sufficient technical or scientific data to rebut their designation as flood prone nor have they as yet qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program. Thus, the sanctions of Section 202 apply as of July 1, 1975, or one year after a community's identification, whichever is later, until the community participates in the program.

In order to continue Federal or federally related assistance or lending in its Special Flood Hazard Area, a community must apply for and be made eligible for participation in the program in accordance with 24 CFR (Parts 1909 to 1920). Communities may receive assistance in applying for participation by contacting the Federal Insurance Administration, 451 Seventh St., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410, (202) 755-5581, or its toll-free numbers 800-424-8872 or 800-424-8873.

Communities on this list may be made eligible to participate in the program after the date of publication of this list. Such eligibility will be published periodically in the Federal Register under 24 CFR § 1914.4 List of eligible communities. At that time the sanctions of Section 202 will no longer apply to the communities listed below.

RAPID CITY, SOUTH DAKOTA

Changes Made in Determinations of Base Flood Elevations

On September 7, 1973, at 38 FR 24361, the Federal Insurance Administrator published a list of communities with Special Flood Hazard Areas and the map numbers and locations where Flood Insurance Rate Maps were available for public inspection. The list included Flood Insurance Rate Maps for portions of Rapid City.

The Federal Insurance Administration, after consultation with the Chief Executive Officer of the community, has determined that it is appropriate to modify the base (100-year) flood elevations of some locations in Rapid City, South Dakota. These modified elevations are currently in effect and amend the Flood Insurance Rate Map, which was in effect prior to this determination. A revised rate map will be published as soon as possible. The modifications are made in accordance with Section 206 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93–234) and the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1966 P.L. 90–448) 42 U.S.C. 4001–4128, and 24 CFR Part 1916.

For rating purposes, the new community number is 465420B, and must be used for all new policies and renewals.

Under the above-mentioned Acts of 1968 and 1973, the Administrator must develop criteria for flood plain management. In order for the community to continue participation in the National Flood Insurance Program, the community must use the modified elevations to carry out the flood plain management measures of the Program. These modified elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

From the date of this notice, any person has 90 days in which he can request through the community that the Federal Insurance Administrator reconsider the changes. Any request for reconsideration must be based on knowledge of changed conditions or new scientific or technical data. All interested parties are on notice that until the 90-day period elapses, the Administrator's new determination of elevations may itself be changed.

Any persons having knowledge or wishing to comment on these changes should immediately notify:

Mr. Leonard Swanson, Director, Urban Renewal Department, 2040 West Main Street, Rapid City, South Dakota 57701.

Also, at this location is the map showing the new base flood elevations. This map is a copy of the one that will be printed. The numerous changes made in the base flood elevations on the Rapid City Flood Insurance Rate Map make it administratively infeasible to publish in this notice all of the base flood elevation changes contained on the Rapid City map.

(National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of Housing and Urbau Development Act of 1968), effective January 28, 1969 (33 F.R. 17804, November 28, 1968), as amended; 42 U.S.C. 4001–4128; and Secretary's delegation of authority to Federal Insurance Administrator 34 F.R. 2680, February 27, 1969, as amended by 39 F.R. 2787, January 24, 1974.)

Issued: July 24, 1975.

FRANCIS V. REILLY,
Acting Federal Insurance Administrator.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[FRL 412–3; OPP 33000/299]

RECEIPT OF APPLICATIONS FOR PESTICIDE REGISTRATION

Data To Be Considered in Support of Applications

On November 19, 1973, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (38 FR 31862) its interim policy with respect to the administration of Section 3(c)(1)(d) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended. This policy provides that EPA will, upon receipt of every application for registration, publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice containing the information shown below. The labeling furnished by each applicant will be available for examination at the Environmental Protection Agency, Room EB–31, East Tower, 401 M Street, SW, Washington DC 20460.

On or before October 6, 1975, any person who (a) is or has been an applicant, (b) believes that data he developed and submitted to EPA on or after October 21, 1972, is being used to support an application described in this notice, (c) desires to assert a claim for compensation under Section 3(c)(1)(D) for such use of his data, and (d) wishes to preserve his right to have the Administrator determine the amount of reasonable compensation to which he is entitled for such use of the data, must notify the Administrator and the applicant named in the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of his claim by certified mail. Notification to the Administrator should be addressed to the Information Coordination Section, Technical Services Division (WH–569), Office of Pesticide Programs, 401 M Street, SW, Washington DC 20460. Every such claimant must include, at a minimum, the information listed in the interim policy of November 19, 1973.

Applications submitted under 2(a) or 2(b) of the interim policy will be processed to completion in accordance with existing procedures. Applications submitted under 2(c) of the interim policy cannot be made final until the 60 day period has expired. If no claims are received within the 60 day period, the 2(c) application will be processed according to normal procedure. However, if claims are received within the 60 day period, the applicants against whom the claims are asserted will be advised of the alternatives available under the Act. No claims will be accepted for possible EPA adjudication which are received after October 6, 1975.

LIST OF VIOLATING FACILITIES

Pursuant to Section 306 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 1857 et seq., as amended by Public Law 91-604), the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, (33 U.S.C. 1251 et seq., as amended by Public Law 92-500), and Executive Order 11738, EPA has been authorized to provide certain prohibitions and requirements concerning the administration of the Clean Air Act and Federal Water Pollution Control Act with respect to Federal contracts, grants, or loans. On April 16, 1975, regulations implementing the requirements of the statutes and the executive order were promulgated in the FEDERAL REGISTER (see 40 CFR Part 15, 40 F.R. 17124, April 16, 1975). Section 15.20 of the regulations provides for the establishment of a List of Violating Facilities which will reflect those facilities ineligible for use in nonexempt Federal contracts, grants or loans.

The representatives of any facility under consideration for listing are afforded the opportunity to appear at a Listing Proceeding conducted by the Director, Office of Federal Activities. Listing occurs when the Director determines there is adequate evidence of noncompliance with clean air or water standards. Federal, State, and local criminal convictions, civil adjudications, and administrative findings of noncompliance may serve as a basis for consideration of listing. However, in the case of a State or local civil adjudication or administrative finding, EPA may consider listing only at the request of the Governor.

The List of Violating Facilities is contained in two sublists. Sublist 1 includes those facilities listed on the basis of a conviction under section 113(c)(1) of the Clean Air Act or section 309(c) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. Sublist 2 includes those facilities listed on the basis of any injunction, order, judgment, decree or other form of civil ruling by a Federal, State or local court issued as a result of noncompliance; or a conviction in a State or local court for noncompliance; or on the basis of noncompliance with an order under section 113(a) of the Clean Air Act or section 309(a) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, or have been subjected to equivalent State or local proceedings to enforce clean air or water standards.

No agency in the Executive Branch of Government shall enter into, renew, or extend any nonexempt contract, subcontract, grant, subgrant, loan or subloan where a facility listed would be utilized for the purposes of any such agreement.

Pursuant to this authority, the Director, Office of Federal Activities, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, certifies that the following facilities have been placed on the List of Violating Facilities as of August 1, 1975. The List of Violating Facilities will be revised periodically as any listings or de-listings occur.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Report No. 765]

COMMON CARRIER SERVICES INFORMATION [1]

Domestic Public Radio Services Applications Accepted for Filing [2]

AUGUST 4, 1975.

Pursuant to §§ 1.227(b)(3) and 21.30 (b) of the Commission's Rules, an application, in order to be considered with any domestic public radio services application appearing on the attached list, must be substantially complete and tendered for filing by whichever date is earlier: (a) the close of business one business day preceding the day on which the Commission takes action on the previously filed application; or (b) within 60 days after the date of the public notice listing the first prior filed application (with which subsequent applications are in conflict) as having been accepted for filing. An application which is subsequently amended by a major change will be considered to be a newly filed application. It is to be noted that the cut-off dates are set forth in the alternative—applications will be entitled to consideration with those listed in the appendix if filed by the end of the 60 day period, only if the Commission has not acted upon the application by that time pursuant to the first alternative earlier date. The mutual exclusivity rights of a new application are governed by the earliest action with respect to any one of the earlier filed conflicting applications.

The attention of any party in interest desiring to file pleadings pursuant to Section 309 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, concerning any domestic public radio services application accepted for filing, is directed to §§ 21.27 of the Commission's Rules for provisions governing the time for filing and other requirements relating to such pleadings.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] VINCENT J. MULLINS,
Secretary.

CABLE TELEVISION SYSTEM OPERATORS

Reminder: Three Important FCC Decisions

JULY 29, 1975.

Cable television system operators and franchising authorities who may soon be involved in franchise negotiations in anticipation of the March 31, 1977 deadline for strict compliance with Section 76.31 of the Cable Television Rules, and those who are negotiating franchises for the first time are reminded of three important FCC decisions which have been released in the past eight months.

Section 76.31(a)(2) of the Rules has been amended (FCC 74-1384, 50 FCC 2d 61 (1974)) to include a provision that where a franchise contains a policy of construction requiring less than complete wiring of the franchise area, such policy shall be adopted only after a full public proceeding which includes specific notice of the consideration of such a policy. The provision is applicable to all franchises granted after August 1, 1975.

Section 76.31(a)(5) of the Rules has been amended (FCC 74-1381, 50 FCC 2d 43 (1974)) to include provisions requiring that the franchise (1) designate by title the office or official of the franchising authority which has primary responsibility for the continuing administration of the franchise and implementation of complaint procedures and (2) require notice of these complaint procedures to be given to each new subscriber at the time of initial subscription to the cable system. These provisions are applicable to all franchises granted after August 1, 1975.

In order to promote an efficient and orderly transition in the area of franchises the Commission permits grandfathered franchises, currently being negotiated to comply with our rules, to keep intact the pre-existing franchise fee until March 31, 1977, if the parties so desire, and to have a termination date consistent with a fifteen year maximum running from March 31, 1977. (FCC 75-68, 50 FCC 2d 761 (1975)).

EMERGENCY BROADCAST SYSTEM

Closed Circuit Test

In the matter of A Closed Circuit Test of National-Level Interconnecting Systems, Facilities, and Program Origination Channels of the Emergency Broadcast System.

1. The Commission has received a request from the White House Communications Agency to conduct a Closed Circuit Test of the National-Level interconnecting systems and facilities of the Emergency Broadcast System (EBS) on August 7, 1975, from 2:03:30 to 2:09:00 P.M. EDT.

2. This request has been coordinated with the major radio networks, The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and the AP and UPI wire services.

3. Coordinated arrangements and voluntary agreements have been obtained from the White House Communications Agency, the Office of Telecommunications Policy, the major Radio Broadcast Networks (ABC, CBS, IMN, MBS, NBC, NPR), UPI-Audio, AT&T, AP and UPI.

4. IT IS ORDERED, pursuant to Section 0.381 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations that a Closed Circuit Test of the EBS be conducted on August 7, 1975, from 2:03:30 to 2:09:00 P.M. EDT, in accordance with Section 73.962 of the rules.

5. Authority for the adoption of this action is contained in Section 1, 4(1), 4(o) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

Adopted: July 29, 1975.

Released: August 4, 1975.

FCC TECHNICAL STANDARDS SUBCOMMITTEE

Meeting

AUGUST 1, 1975.

In accordance with Public Law 92-463, announcement is made of a public meeting of the Glossary Task Group of the FCC Technical Standards Subcommittee to be held September 4, 1975 in Washington, D.C. The meeting will commence at 10 am and will be held in Room 752, 1919 M Street NW:

1. Purpose: The purpose of this Subcommittee is to prepare recommended standards and procedures to permit the interconnection of customer-provided and maintained PBX equipment to the public switched network without the need for carrier-provided connecting arrangements.

2. Activities: As at prior meetings, Subcommittee members and observers present their suggestions and recommendations regarding the various technical criteria and standards that should be considered with respect to the interconnection of PBX equipment to the public telephone network.

3. Agenda: The agenda for the September 4 Glossary Task Group will be as follows:

(1) Review latest computer printout of glossary to remove redundant definitions and to clarify ambiguous text.

(2) Review plans for completion of work.

4. Public Participation: The public is invited to attend this meeting. Any member of the public wishing to file a written statement with the Subcommittee may do so before or after the meeting.

For more information, contact the Common Carrier Bureau on (202) 632-6917.

FEDERAL ENERGY ADMINISTRATION

WHOLESALE PETROLEUM ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Notice of Meeting

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Public Law 92-463, 86 Stat. 770), notice is hereby given that the Wholesale Petroleum Advisory Committee will meet Monday, August 25, 1975, at 9:30 a.m., in the Eldorado Room, Jack Tarr Hotel, Van Ness and Geary Streets, San Francisco, California.

The Committee was established to provide the Administrator, FEA, with expert and technical advice concerning the wholesale trade of selling heating oil, residual fuel, and gasoline.

The agenda for the meeting is as follows:

1. Discussion of Status of Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973
2. Discussion of Consignee Operations
3. Discussion of Regional Pricing
4. Discussion of Market Shares
5. Discussion of Base Period Suppliers
6. Advisory Committee Membership Rotation
7. Remarks from the Floor (10-Minute Rule)

The meeting is open to the public. The Chairman of the Committee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a fashion that will, in his judgment, facilitate the orderly conduct of business. Any member of the public who wishes to file a written statement with the Committee will be permitted to do so, either before or after the meeting. Members of the public who wish to make oral statements should inform Lois Weeks, Advisory Committee Management Officer, (202) 961-7022 at least 5 days before the meeting and reasonable provision will be made for their appearance on the agenda.

Further information concerning this meeting may be obtained from the Advisory Committee Management Office.

Minutes of the meeting will be made available for public inspection at the Federal Energy Administration, Washington, D.C.

Issued at Washington, D.C. on August 4, 1975.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

REGIONAL PUBLIC ADVISORY PANEL ON ARCHITECTURAL AND ENGINEERING SERVICES

Meeting

Pursuant to Public Law 92-463, notice is hereby given of a meeting of the Regional Public Advisory Panel on Architectural and Engineering Services, Region 3, August 20, 1975, from 10:30 to 2:00, Room 404, General Services Administration, Winder Building, 17th and F Streets N.W., Washington, D.C. The meeting will be devoted to the initial step of the procedures for screening and evaluating the qualifications of architect-engineers under consideration for selection to furnish professional services for the proposed Miscellaneous Mechanical Work, Agriculture (South) Building, Washington, D.C. (GS-00B-02547). Frank and open discussion of the professional qualifications of the firms being considered is essential to insure selection of the best qualified firms. Accordingly, pursuant to a determination that it will be concerned with a matter listed in 5 U.S.C. 522(b)(5) the meeting will not be open to the public.

Dated: July 25, 1975.

JOHN F. GALUARDI,
Regional Administrator.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[337-TA-6]

EYE TESTING INSTRUMENTS INCORPORATING REFRACTIVE PRINCIPLES

Hearing

Notice is hereby given that the United States International Trade Commission, pursuant to the requirements of section 337(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (88 Stat. 2053), will hold a public hearing under section 337(e) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (88 Stat. 2053), in connection with investigation 337-TA-6, Eye Testing Instruments Incorporating Refractive Principles, on August 26, 1975, at 10:00 a.m., E.D.T., in the Hearing Room of the U.S International Trade Commission Building, 8th and E Streets NW., Washington, D.C., for the purpose of determining whether there is reason to believe that section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (88 Stat. 2053), has been violated and, if so, whether or not a temporary order of exclusion or a cease and desist order should be issued.

For purposes of defining the nature and extent of the evidence to be presented by the parties at the hearing, a prehearing conference will be held on August 19, 1975 at 10:00 a.m., E.D.T., at the U.S. Iternational Trade Commission, Building, 8th and E Streets NW., Washington, D.C.

Requests from interested parties and persons for appearances at the hearing should be received by the Secretary of the U.S. Intrnational Trade Commission, in writing, at his office in Washington, D.C. 20436, not later than noon, August 14, 1975.

This notice and order shall become effective August 18, 1975 unless objection and request for reconsideration of this action is filed by any interested party within this 10-day period. Any objection and request for reconsideration shall be accompanied by a statement setting forth the facts relied upon in support of such objection and request and shall be served on the other parties to this investigation.

Notice of the institution of the investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 13, 1975 (40 F.R. 6723) with an assigned docket number 337-41. By notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 4, 1975 (40 F.R. 24056) this investigation was assigned a new docket number 337-TA-6.

By order of the Commission:

Issued: August 1, 1975.

SUMMER SEMINARS FOR COLLEGE TEACHERS PANEL

Meeting

AUGUST 1, 1975.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Public Law 92-463) notice is hereby given that meetings of the Summer Seminars for College Teachers Panel will be held at Washington, D.C. on September 13, 15, 17, and 19, 1975.

The purpose of the meetings is to examine dossiers of individuals recommended to the Endowment as possible seminar directors in the Summer Seminar program.

Because the proposed meetings will consider financial information and personnel and similar files the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, pursuant to authority granted me by the Chairman's Delegation of Authority to Close Advisory Committee Meetings, dated August 13, 1973, I have determined that the meetings would fall within exemptions (4) and (6) of 5 U.S.C. 552(b) and that it is essential to close the meetings to protect the free exchange of internal views and to avoid interference with operation of the Committee.

It is suggested that those desiring more specific information contact the Advisory Committee Management Officer, Mr. John W. Jordan, 806 15th Street NW., Washington, D.C., 20506, or call area code 202-382-2031.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

[N-AR 75-18]

ACCIDENT REPORTS; SAFETY RECOMMENDATIONS AND RESPONSES

Availability and Receipt

The National Transportation Safety Board announces the availability of three accident reports and one safety recommendation letter:

Marine Casualty Report (USCG/NTSB-MAR-57-3), released June 17, 1975, covers the fire and explosions which destroyed tank barge OCEAN 80, endangering the entire pprt area at Carteret, New Jersey, October 25, 1972. The Safety Board determined that the probable cause of the accident was the ignition of gasoline which spilled from overflowing cargo tanks. The source of ignition could not be identified. A contributing factor, the Board said, was the "failure of the barge tankerman and the terminal dockman to adhere to prescribed procedures." The Safety Board recommended that the Coast Guard (1) require by regulation adequate supervision of cargo-transfer safety procedures, (2) assess terminal firefighting capabilities and require any necessary changes, and (3) thoroughly investigate for at least one year all cargo-transfer oil spills to evaluate the adequacy of applicable Coast Guard regulations.

Highway Accident Report (NTSB-HAR-75-4), released July 28, 1975, resulted from the Safety Board's investigation of a four-fatality crash of a car and a truck in congested traffic on Interstate Route 20 at the Chattahoochee River Bridge, west of Atlanta, Georgia, August 21, 1973. The Safety Board determined that the probable cause of the crash was the driver's failure to control her car while attempting to avoid unexpected slower moving vehicles ahead. This failure resulted in an erratic move to the left and into the path of an overtaking truck. On August 15, 1974, the Safety Board recommended that the Federal Highway Administration provide accident site studies of existing and expected future traffic volumes, traffic controls and roadway geometry, and install traffic control devices on I–20 through lanes if minor improvements to operational practices and ramp geometry proved inadequate. (Recommendations H–74–22 through 24.) Those recommendations are reproduced in this report. Also in this report are new recommendations, H–75–14 and 15, to the FHA to (1) identify and analyze—in cooperation with the Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the States—the cause-and-effect relationships of land-use planning and control, highway facility design and traffic safety; and (2) write standards, if needed, for "the comprehensive planning of highway transportation facilities and the land uses that affect their safe operation."

Railroad Accident Report (NTSB–RAR–75–7), released July 29, 1975, covers the hazardous materials accident at the Southern Pacific Transportation Company's Englewood Yard, Houston, Texas, September 21, 1974. Butadiene spilled, vaporized, and subsequently exploded after two jumbo tank cars collided with an empty tank car at five times the intended coupling speed. The empty tank car's coupler pierced the tank head of one of the jumbo cars, causing the spillage. The Board held that the overspeed impact probably was caused by the failure of the yard's retarding system to slow the two coupled tank cars and by "the absence of a backup system to control cars which pass through the retarders at excessive speeds." The Board traced the retarding system failure to foreign substances on the wheels of the two cars that preceded the two tank cars through the retarders. The Board recommended that Southern Pacific, after "systematic analysis," make necessary changes at Englewood Yard "to insure that all cars brought to the hump for classifications will be controlled properly." (Recommendation R–75–28.) Further, the Board recommended (R–75–29 and 30) that the Federal Railroad Administration (1) research and develop, in cooperation with the Association of American Railroads, minimum performance standards for retarding systems in gravity switching yards; and (2) issue regulations, superseding its 1974 emergency order, which would fulfill the Board's 1972 recommendation that switching of large quantities of all hazardous materials "with a danger range beyond railroad property boundaries" be handled as would cars containing explosives.

Safety Recommendation A–75–60, issued July 31, 1975, directs the Federal Aviation Administration to: "Issue an Air Carrier Operations Bulletin requiring Principal Operations Inspectors to alert their assigned air carriers to the importance of assigning emergency duties and seating locations to extra flight attendants carried on board aircraft in excess of the number required by 14 CFR 121.391 so that they are more evenly distributed throughout the aircraft to provide more effective guidance to passengers at more exits during an emergency evacuation." The need for this recommendation was prompted by Board investigations of the Pan American Boeing 707 accident at Pago Pago, January 30, 1974, and the Overseas National Airways DC–8 emergency evacuation at Bangor, Maine, June 20, 1973.

Responses to Safety Recommendations. During the past week the following letter responses were received from addressees of earlier Safety Board recommendations:

Re A–75–52 (40 FR 25861), dated July 18, 1975, from FAA. The FAA reports that, on June 2, two GENOT's (general notices) were issued: (1) "to all facilities making it clear that the provision of ATC additional services, which includes safety advisories, is a required duty to be accomplished to the extent permitted by higher priority duties and other circumstances," and (2) "requiring as a first priority duty, along with the separation of the aircraft, the immediate issuance of a 'low altitude alert' to radar identified aircraft if an automatic altitude report is observed on radar showing the aircraft to be at an altitude, which in the controller's judgment places the aircraft in unsafe proximity to terrain/obstructions."

Re A–75–24, dated July 18, 1975, from FAA. The Board issued the recommendation, which relates to bird ingestion criteria for large turbofan engines, on March 25, 1975. FAA states that, after obtaining available data on in-service cases of bird ingestion by JT9D and CF6 engines, analysis shows: "The average in-flight shutdown rate due to bird is approximately 0.003 per 1,000 engine hours, which is on the order of one percent of the in-flight shutdown rate for all causes in these engines." FAA concludes that the bird ingestion criteria are adequate but that further effort to improve engine resistance to bird strikes is merited. A joint FAA/NASA project is planned.

Re A–75–14 and 15, dated July 23, 1975, from the Department of Defense, attaching copy of a letter of June 30, 1975, from FAA to DOD. FAA concurs with A–75–14 and will meet with appropriate military authority to make changes in establishment of military refueling tracks to include the concept of the recommendation. However, FAA has no comments on A–75–15, considering the lighting requirements of Federal Aviation Regulation 91 satisfactory; FAA states that military aircraft meet the requirements of that regulation. DOD states that its letter of May 30, 1975 (40 FR 25107) and FAA's comments constitute final action on the recommendations.

The reports and the recommendation letter are available to the general public; single copies may be obtained without charge. A $4.00 user-service charge will be made for each recommendation response, in addition to a charge of 10¢ per page for reproduction. All requests must be in writing, addressed to: Publications Unit, National Transportation Safety Board, Washington, D.C. 20594.

Multiple copies of the reports may be purchased from the National Technical Information Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, Springfield, Virginia 22151.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON REACTOR SAFEGUARDS, WORKING GROUP ON HYPOTHETICAL CORE DISRUPTIVE ACCIDENT (HCDA)

Meeting

In accordance with the purposes of Sections 29 and 182 b. of the Atomic Energy Act (42 U.S.C. 2039, 2232 b.), the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards Working Group on HCDA will hold a meeting on August 22, 1975 in room 1046, 1717 H St. NW., Wash., D.C. 20555. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss highlights of topics previously considered such as transition phase technology, post-accident heat removal, radiological consequences and analytical modeling of a hypothetical core disruptive accident.

The following constitutes that portion of the Working Group's agenda for the above meeting which will be open to the public:

Friday, August 22, 1975, 10:00 a.m. until the close of business. Presentations will be made on the various aspects of a HCDA. Discussions will be held with representatives of the Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) and the NRC Staff.

In connection with the above agenda item, the Working Group will hold Executive Sessions, not open to the public, at 9:30 a.m. and at the end of the day to consider matters relating to the above topics. These sessions will involve an exchange of opinions and discussions of preliminary views and recommendations of Working Group members and internal deliberations for the purpose of formulating recommendations to the ACRS.

I have determined, in accordance with Subsection 10(d) of Public Law 92–463, that the above-noted Executive Sessions will consist of an exchange of opinions and formulation of recommendations, the discussion of which, if written, would fall within exemption (5) of 5 U.S.C. 552 (b). Further, any non-exempt material that will be discussed during the above closed sessions will be inextricably intertwined with exempt material, and no further separation of this material is considered practical. It is essential to close such portions of the meeting to protect the free interchange of internal views, to avoid undue interference with agency or Working Group operation.

Practical considerations may dictate alterations in the above agenda or schedule.

The Chairman of the Working Group is empowered to conduct the meeting in a manner that, in his judgment, will facilitate the orderly conduct of business, including provisions to carry over an incompleted open session from one day to the next.

With respect to public participation in the open portion of the meeting, the following requirements shall apply:

(a) Persons wishing to submit written statements regarding the agenda items may do so by mailing a readily reproducible copy thereof, postmarked no later than August 15, 1975, to the Executive Secretary, ACRS, NRC, 1717 H St. NW., Washington, D.C. 20555, ATTN: Mr. Thomas G. McCreless. Comments which fail to meet the specific mailing date noted above will be considered to the extent practicable.

(b) Those persons submitting a written statement in accordance with (a) above may request an opportunity to make oral statements concerning the written statement. Such requests shall accompany the written statement so that appropriate arrangements can be made. To the extent that the time available for the meeting permits, the Working Group will receive oral statements at an appropriate time chosen by the Chairman of the Working Group.

(c) Further information regarding topics to be discussed, whether the meeting has been cancelled or rescheduled, the Chairman's ruling on requests for opportunity to present oral statements, and the time allotted can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call on August 21, 1975 to the Office of the Executive Secretary of the Committee (telephone 202/634–1373, ATTN: Mr. Thomas G. McCreless) between 8:15 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time.

(d) Questions may be propounded only by members of the Working Group and its consultants.

(e) Seating for the public will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

(f) The use of still, motion picture, and television cameras, the physical installation and presence of which will not interfere with the conduct of the meeting, will be permitted both before and after the meeting and during any recess. The use of such equipment will not, however, be allowed while the meeting is in session.

(g) A copy of the transcript of the open portion of the meeting will be available for inspection on or after August 28, 1975 at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H St. NW., Wash., D.C. 20555. Copies of the transcript may be reproduced in the Public Document Room or may be obtained from Ace Federal Reporters, Inc., 415 Second St. NE., Wash., D.C. 20002 (telephone 202/547–6222) upon payment of appropriate charges.

(i) On request, copies of the minutes of the meeting will be made available for inspection at the NRC Public Document Room, 1717 H St. NW., Wash., D.C. 20555 after November 24, 1975. Copies may be obtained upon payment of appropriate charges.

Dated: July 31, 1975.

[Docket No. 50–333]

POWER AUTHORITY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK (JAMES A. FITZPATRICK PLANT)

Proposed Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering the issuance of an amendment to Facility Operating License No. DPR–59 issued to the Power Authority of the State of New York and Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation (the licensee) for operation of the James A. Fitzpatrick Nuclear Power Plant (the facility), a boiling-water reactor located in Scriba, Oswego County, New York, and currently authorized for operation at power levels up to 2436 MWt.

In accordance with the licensee's application for a license amendment dated July 9, 1975, the amendment would modify operating limits in the Technical Specifications based upon an evaluation of ECCS performance calculated in accordance with an acceptable evaluation model that conforms to the requirements of the Commission's regulations in 10 CFR Section 50.46. The amendment would modify various limits established in accordance with the Commission's Interim Acceptance Criteria, and would, with respect to the facility, terminate the further restrictions imposed by the Commission's December 27, 1974 Order for Modification of License, and would impose instead, limitations established in accordance with the Commission's Acceptance Criteria for Emergency Core Cooling Systems for Light Water Nuclear Power Reactors, 10 CFR Section 50.46.

Prior to issuance of the proposed license amendment, the Commission will have made the findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations.

By September 8, 1975 the licensee may file a request for a hearing and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding may file a request for a hearing in the form of a petition for leave to intervene with respect to the issuance of the amendment to the subject facility operating license. Petitions for leave to intervene must be filed under oath or affirmation in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.714 of 10 CFR Part 2 of the Commission's regulations. A petition for leave to intervene must set forth the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding, and the petitioner's contentions with respect to the proposed licensing action. Such petitions must be filed in accordance with the provisions of this FEDERAL REGISTER Notice and Section 2.714, and must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, by the above date. A copy of the petition and/or request for a hearing should be sent to the Executive Legal Director, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555 and to Arvin E. Upton, Esquire, LeBoeuf, Lamb, Leiby & MacRae, 1757 N Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20036, the attorney for the licensee.

A petition for leave to intervene must be accompanied by a supporting affidavit which identifies the specific aspect or aspects of the proceeding as to which intervention is desired and specifies with particularity the facts on which the petitioner relies as to both his interest and his contentions with regard to each aspect on which intervention is requested. Petitions stating contentions relating only to matters outside the Commission's jurisdiction will be denied.

All petitions will be acted upon by the Commission or licensing board designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel. Timely petitions will be considered to determine whether a hearing should be noticed or another appropriate order issued regarding the disposition of the petitions.

In the event that a hearing is held and a person is permitted to intervene, he becomes a party to the proceeding and has a right to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing. For example, he may present evidence and examine and cross-examine witnesses.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated July 9, 1975, and (2) the Commission's Order for Modification of License and the documents referred to in the Order dated December 27, 1974 published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 9, 1975 (40 FR 1774), which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Oswego City Library, 120 East Second Street, Oswego, New York. The license amendment and the Safety Evaluation, when issued, may be inspected at the above locations, and a copy may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 30th day of July 1975.

PUBLIC SERVICE ELECTRIC & GAS CO. AND ATLANTIC CITY ELECTRIC CO.

Issuance of Amendment to Construction Permits

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 2 to Construction Permits CPPR-120 and CPPR-121 issued to Public Service Electric & Gas Company and Atlantic City Electric Company for construction of the Hope Creek Generating Station, Units 1 & 2, located on the Permittees' site on Artificial Island in Lower Alloways Creek Township, Salem County, New Jersey. Amendment No. 2 is effective as of the date of issuance.

The amendment changes the operable date for the audible signal (a siren for emergency alarm use) as specified in Condition 3E(10)d of CPPR-120 and CPPR-121 from August 1, 1975 to December 31, 1975.

The application for the amendment compiles with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment is not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

For further details with respect to this action see (1) the application for amendment, dated June 30, 1975, (2) Amendment No. 1 to CPPR-120 and Amendment No. 1 to CPPR-121, (3) Amendment No. 2 to CPPR-120 and Amendment No. 2 to CPPR-121, and (4) the Commission's related Staff Evaluations. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Salem Free Public Library, 112 West Broadway, Salem, New Jersey 08079.

A copy of items (2), (3), and (4) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 31st day of July, 1975.

WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER CO. AND WISCONSIN MICHIGAN POWER CO.

Proposed Issuance of Amendments to Facility Operating Licenses

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of amendments to Facility Operating Licenses Nos. DPR-24 and DPR-27 issued to Wisconsin Electric Power Company and Wisconsin Michigan Power Company (the licensees), for operation of the Point Beach Nuclear Plant Units 1/2, located in Town of Two Creeks, Manitowoc County, Wisconsin.

The amendments would revise the provisions in the Technical Specifications relating to altering existing Limiting Conditions for Operation associated with the ECCS and Reactor Core Power Distribution Limits, in accordance with the licensees applications for amendments, dated September 6, 1974, December 6, 1974, and June 24, 1975.

Prior to issuance of the proposed license amendments, the Commission will have made the findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act) and the Commission's rules and regulations.

By September 8, 1975, the licensees may file a request for a hearing and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding may file a request for a hearing in the form of a petition for leave to intervene with respect to the issuance of the amendments to the subject facility operating licenses. Petitions for leave to intervene must be filed under oath or affirmation in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.714 of 10 CFR Part 2 of the Commission's regulations. A petition for leave to intervene must set forth the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding, and the petitioner's contentions with respect to the proposed licensing action. Such petitions must be filed in accordance with the provisions of this FEDERAL REGISTER notice and Section 2.714, and must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, by the above date. A copy of the petition and/or request for a hearing should be sent to the Executive Legal Director, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, and to Bruce W. Churchill, Esquire, Shaw, Pittman, Potts, Trowbridge & Madden, Barr Building, 910 17th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20006, the attorney for the licensee.

A petition for leave to intervene must be accompanied by a supporting affidavit which identifies the specific aspect or aspects of the proceeding as to which intervention is desired and specifies with particularity the facts on which the petitioner relies as to both his interest and his contentions with regard to each aspect on which intervention is requested. Petitions stating contentions relating only to matters outside the Commission's jurisdiction will be denied.

All petitions will be acted upon by the Commission or licensing board, designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel. Timely petitions will be considered to determine whether a hearing should be noticed or another appropriate order issued regarding the disposition of the petitions.

In the event that a hearing is held and a person is permitted to intervene, he becomes a party to the proceeding and has a right to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing. For example, he may present evidence and examine and cross-examine witnesses.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendments dated September 6, 1974, and supplements dated December 6, 1974 and June 24, 1975, which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Document Department, University of Wisconsin—Stevens Point Library, Stevens Point, Wisconsin 54481. The license amendments and the Safety Evaluation, when issued, may be inspected at the above locations and a copy may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland this July 25, 1975.

YANKEE ATOMIC ELECTRIC CO.

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 15 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-3 issued to Yankee Atomic Electric Company which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Yankee Nuclear Power Station located in Rowe, Massachusetts. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

This amendment adds a new Section G, "Reactor Coolant System Surveillance Testing", in the Technical Specifications in Appendix A.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment is not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated January 3, 1974, (2) Amendment No. 15 to License No. DPR-3, with Change No. 120, and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Greenfield Public Library, 402 Main Street, Greenfield, Massachusetts 01581.

A copy of items (2) and (3) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 31st day of July 1975.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Occupational Safety and Health Administration

ALASKA STATE STANDARDS

Approval

1. Background. Part 1953 of Title 29, Code of Federal Regulations prescribes procedures under section 18 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (hereinafter called the Act) by which the Assistant Regional Director for Occupational Safety and Health (hereinafter called Assistant Regional Director) under a delegation of authority from the Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health (hereinafter called the Assistant Secretary) (29 CFR 1953.4) will review and approve standards promulgated pursuant to a State plan which has been approved in accordance with section 18(c) of the Act and 29 CFR Part 1902. On August 10, 1973, notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (38 FR 21628) of the approval of the Alaska plan and the adoption of Subpart R to Part 1952 containing the decision.

The Alaska plan provides for the adoption of Federal standards as State standards by reference. Section 1952.243 of Subpart R sets forth the State's schedule for the adoption of Federal standards.

By letter dated February 25, 1975, from Edmund N. Orbeck, Commissioner, Department of Labor, to James W. Lake, Assistant Regional Director, and incorporated as part of the plan, the State submitted State standards comparable to 29 CFR Part 1910 Subpart S. These standards, which are contained in Alaska Occupational Safety and Health Standards, were promulgated after resolution adopted by the Alaska Department of Labor on May 31, 1973, pursuant to Alaska Statutes 18.60.020.

2. Decision. Having reviewed the State submission in comparison with the Federal standards it has been determined that the State standards are identical to the Federal standards and are hereby aporoved.

3. Location of supplement for inspection and copying. A copy of the standards supplement, along with the approved plan, may be inspected and copied during normal business hours at the following locations: Office of the Assistant Regional Director, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Room 6048, Federal Office Building, 909 First Avenue, Seattle, Washington 98174; State of Alaska, Department of Labor, Office of the Commissioner, Juneau, Alaska 99801; and Office of the Associate Assistant Secretary for Regional Programs, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, New Department of Labor Building Room N3603, 200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20210.

4. Public participation. Under 1953.2 (c) of this chapter, the Assistant Secretary may prescribe alternative procedures to expedite the review process or for other good cause which may be consistent with applicable laws. The Assistant Secretary finds that good cause exists for not publishing the supplement to the Alaska State plan as a proposed change and making the Assistant Regional Director's approval effective upon publication for the following reasons:

1. The standards are identical to the Federal standards and are therefore deemed to be at least as effective.

2. The standards were adopted in accordance with the procedural requirements of State law and further participation would be unnecessary.

This decision is effective August 7, 1975.

(Sec. 18, Pub. L. 91-596, 84 Stat. 1608 (29 U.S.C. 667)).

Signed at Seattle, Washington, this 30th day of June, 1975.

Assistant Regional Director.

Office of the Secretary

[TA-W-35-44]

CHRYSLER CORP.

Determination Regarding Certification of Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974, the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-35-44; investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on June 2, 1975, in response to worker petitions filed on that date by the International Union, United Automobile, Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America (UAW) on behalf of workers at ten domestic automobile assembly, engine and soft trim plants of Chrysler Corporation.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 24965) on June 11, 1975. A public hearing was requested by the UAW and was held on July 7, 1975.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Chrysler Corporation, the UAW, industry analysts, the U.S. International Trade Commission, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association and Ward's Automotive Reports.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) that a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated,

(2) that sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely, and

(3) that increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with articles produced by such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof contributed importantly to such total or partial separation, or threat thereof, and to such decline in sales or production.

For purposes of paragraph (3), the term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Significant total or partial separations. Average hourly employment at Chrysler's six domestic automobile assembly plants declined by the following percentages from the first nine months of model year 1974 (August 1973 to April 1974) to the first nine months of model year 1975 (August 1974 to April 1975): Lynch Road plant—29 percent, Hamtramck plant—52 percent, Jefferson plant—40 percent, Newark plant—60 percent, Belvidere plant—23 percent and St. Louis plant—33 percent. Average hourly employment at the company's domestic engine and soft trim plants declined by the following percentages during the same period: Mound Road engine plant—25 percent, Trenton engine plant—32 percent, Detroit trim plant—29 percent and Lyons trim plant—50 percent. Average salaried employment at the ten petitioning plants declined 34 percent overall during the same period.

Sales or production, or both have decreased absolutely. Automobile production at Chrysler's six domestic assembly plants fell by the following percentages from the first ten months of model year 1974 (August 1973 to May 1974) to the first ten months of model year 1975 (August 1974 to May 1975): Lynch Road plant—36 percent, Hamtramck plant—52 percent, Jefferson plant—20 percent, Newark plant—54 percent, Belvidere plant—8 percent and St. Louis plant—39 percent. Chrysler domestic engine production declined 37 percent at the Mound Road plant and 28 percent at the Trenton plant during the same period. Chrysler domestic soft trim production declined 24 percent in value for the Detroit and Lyons trim plants combined during the same period.

Contribution of imports. It seems clear that imports have contributed relatively little to the decline in the U.S. automobile industry as a whole over the period relevant to the petitions. Yet, imports have contributed importantly to the decline in Chrysler output and employment with regard to certain but not all of the products covered by the petition. Much of the analysis in this investigation was directed to the impact of imports on the specific Chrysler products covered by the petitions.

The critical issue concerns the competitive structure of the U.S. auto market. The market is served by many makes (manufacturers and carlines) and by many sizes of each make (subcompacts, compacts, intermediates, etc.) some of which are imported and some not. Accordingly, the problem is one of determining the extent to which the demand for a U.S. produced Chrysler compact, for example, has been affected by imports of the same and similar cars by Chrysler, by imports of the same and similar sizes by different makers, and by similar cars produced in the U.S. by domestic competitors. The results need to be disentangled from the impact of the recession, energy problems, and other factors.

The degree of competition has been treated as a continuum running from prefect substitutability at one extreme (the Canadian made Valiant and the U.S. made Valiant) to extremely low substitutability at the other, with considerable judgment required in most cases.

The finding is made that imports did not contribute importantly to declines in production and employment involving Chrysler compact, standard, and luxury autos. For all three models, the recession, sales losses to U.S. products of competitors, and other non-import factors are sufficient to explain the declines in output and employment. The perfectly competitive imports of Chrysler compacts from Canada declined as sharply as did Chrysler U.S. production. For standard and luxury cars, competitive imports do not seem to be significant.

A negative finding is also made in respect of six cylinder engines and soft trim produced in the Detroit plant. Both items are produced primarily to meet Chrysler auto production requirements and only Chrysler Canadian imports are of any significance. For six cylinder engine production, the recession and domestic competition are of overwhelming importance. Imports declined sharply in absolute terms and increased only slightly in relative terms. The Detroit trim plant benefited from interplant transfers of production and cannot be regarded as importantly affected by imports.

Affirmative findings are made for the production of intermediate autos, eight cylinder engines, and for the trim produced at the Lyons plant. For the three products, there were no significant losses to domestic competition and Canadian imports increased substantially even in absolute terms.

Conclusion. After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increased imports of intermediate automobiles, eight cylinder automobile engines, and soft trim for automobiles like that produced at Chrysler's Lynch Road (Detroit, Michigan) and St. Louis (Fenton, Missourl) automobile assembly plants; Chrysler's Mound Road (Detroit, Michigan) and Trenton (Michigan) engine plants; and Chrysler's Lyons (Michigan) soft trim plant have contributed importantly to the separations of the workers and to the declines in production at these plants. I further conclude that increased imports of automobiles like the compact, standard, and luxury type automobiles, the six cylinder engines, and the soft trim produced at Chrysler's Newark (Delaware), St. Louis (Fenton, Missouri), Hamtramck (Michigan), Jefferson (Detroit, Michigan), and Belvidere (Illinois) automobile assembly plants; Chrysler's Trenton engine plant; and Chrysler's Detroit trim plant did not contribute importantly to the separations of workers at these plants. Section 223(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 1974 provides that a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance may not apply to any worker last separated from the firm or subdivision more than six months before April 3, 1975, the effective date of the new program. In accordance with this provision, I make the following certification:

"That all hourly and salaried workers of Chrysler Corporation, Mound Road Engine plant (TA-W-36), Detroit, Michigan, who became or will become totally or partially separated on or after October 3, 1974, be certified eligible to apply for trade adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974; and

"That all hourly and salaried workers of Chrysler Corporation, St. Louis Assembly plant (TA-W-38), Fenton, Missouri, engaged in employment related to the production of Fury and Coronet automobiles who became or will become totally or partially separated on or after October 3, 1974, be certified eligible to apply for trade adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974; and

"That all hourly and salaried workers of Chrysler Corporation, Trenton Engine plant (TA-W-42), Trenton, Michigan, engaged in employment related to the production of eight cylinder engines for automobiles who became or will become totally or partially separated on or after October 3, 1974, be certified eligible to apply for trade adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974; and

"That all hourly and salaried workers of Chrysler Corporation, Lynch Road Assembly plant (TA-W-43), Detroit, Michigan, who became or will become totally or partially separated on or after October 3, 1974, be certified eligible to apply for trade adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974; and

"That all hourly and salaried workers of Chrysler Corporation, Lyons Trim plant (TA-W-44), Lyons, Michigan, who became or will become totally or partially separated on or after October 3, 1974, be certified eligible to apply for trade adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974."

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 1st day of August 1975.

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

The Legal Services Corporation was established pursuant to the Legal Services Corporation Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-355, 88 Stat. 378, 42 U.S.C. §§ 2996-2996*l*, §§ 2971e, 2996b note ("the Act"). The Corporation's Board of Directors, which was confirmed by the Senate on July 9, 1975, held its first meeting on July 14, 1975. Section 1006(b)(5) of the Act requires the Corporation to issue certain rules and regulations within 90 days of its first Board meeting. Accordingly, pursuant to §§ 1006(b)(5), 1011 and 1008(e) of the Act, the Corporation hereby notices and publishes for comment the following proposed temporary rules and regulations.

Public comment will be received by the Corporation at its temporary office, Room 413, 1725 K Street N.W., Washington, D.C. for 30 days from the date of this publication. Comments may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. Received comments may be seen at the above offices during business hours, Monday through Friday.

Comments will be considered by the Board at its next meeting thereafter. These proposed temporary rules and regulations,, as they may be amended by the Board after consideration of such comments, and published in the Federal Register in final form prior to September 13, 1975, shall become effective as such on October 13, 1975.

These proposed rules and regulations here noticed and published are temporary. Final rules and regulations will be proposed by notice and publication by the Corporation as soon as practicable.

SECTION 1. Purpose and Scope. The purpose of these temporary regulations is to implement and enforce provisions of §§ 1006(b)(5), 1007(a)(5), and 1011 of the Act. Unless otherwise indicated, they shall apply to the Corporation, its employees, its recipients, and the employees of its recipients. Nothing contained herein shall affect the application of the other provisions of the Act, including the rights, duties and restrictions contained therein, to the Corporation, its directors, officers and employees, and to the recipients, and the employees and staff attorneys of the recipients, as of October 13, 1975.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in these regulations, the term—

(A) "Act" means The Legal Services Corporation Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-355, 88 Stat. 378, 42 U.S.C. §§ 2996-2996*l*, §§ 2971e, 2966b note;

(B) "Board" means the Board of Directors of the Legal Services Corporation established under the Act;

(C) "Corporation" means the Legal Services Corporation established under the Act;

(D) "eligible client" means any person financially unable to afford legal assistance;

(E) "legal assistance" means the provision of any legal services consistent with the purposes and provisions of the Act;

(F) "recipient" means any grantee, contractee, or recipient of financial assistance described in clause (A) of § 1006(a)(1) of the Act; and

(G) "staff attorney" means an attorney who receives more than one-half of his annual professional income from a recipient organized solely for the provision of legal assistance to eligible clients under the Act.

SEC. 3. Picketing, Boycotts, Strikes, Illegal Activities. (A) No employee of the Corporation or of any recipient (except as permitted by law in connection with such employee's own employment situation), while carrying out legal assistance activities under the Act shall engage in, or encourage others to engage in, any public demonstration or picketing, boycott, or strike.

(B) No such employee shall, at any time, engage in, or encourage others to engage in, any of the following activities:

(1) any rioting or civil disturbance;

(2) any activity which is in violation of an outstanding injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction;

(3) any other illegal activity; or

(4) any intentional identification of the Corporation or any recipient with any political activity prohibited by § 1007(a)(6) of the Act; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be interpreted to mean that the prohibition against "encouraging" precludes legal advice and representation for an eligible client with respect to such client's legal rights and responsibilities.

SEC. 4. Legislative and Administrative Representation. No funds made available to recipients by the Corporation shall be used at any time, directly or indirectly, to influence the issuance, amendment, or revocation of any executive order or similar promulgation by any Federal, State, or local agency, or to undertake to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation by the Congress of the United States, or by any State or local legislative bodies, except where—

(A) representation by an attorney as an attorney for any eligible client is necessary to the provision of legal advice and representation with respect to such client's legal rights and responsibilities (which shall not be construed to permit a recipient or an attorney to solicit a client for the purpose of making such representation possible, or to solicit a group with respect to matters of general concern to a broad class of persons as distinguished from acting on behalf of any particular client); or

(B) a governmental agency, a legislative body, a committee, or a member thereof requests personnel of any recipient to make representations thereto.

SEC. 5. Enforcement. The Corporation shall have authority, in accordance with procedures set forth at 45 C.F.R. § 1067.-1-4(b) (relating to suspension) or 45 C.F.R. §§ 1067.1-5 through 1067.1-11 (relating to terminations):

(A) to suspend or terminate the employment of any employee of the Corporation who violates the provisions of Section 3 hereof; and

(B) to suspend or terminate financial assistance to any recipient which fails to prohibit activities proscribed by the Act or by Sections 3 and 4 hereof;

provided that, no suspension of employment or financial assistance shall be continued for longer than 30 days unless the employee of the Corporation or recipient is provided notice and an opportunity for a hearing in accordance with the procedures set forth in 45 C.F.R. § 1067.1-5 through 1067.1-11; and provided further, that the term "OEO" in the above-referenced regulations shall mean the Corporation and the term "responsible OEO official" shall mean the President of the Corporation, or, if no President is in office, the Chairman of the Board, or his designee.

LOUIS F. OBERDORFER,
Counsel to the Corporation.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

CONNECTICUT RIVER BASIN

Meeting on Hydroelectric Power

As noticed in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 25, 1975 (Volume 40, No. 144, pages 31273–31274), pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, Section 102(C), and Commission Order No. 415(C), the staff of the Federal Power Commission will issue an environmental impact statement (EIS) on the relationships among hydroelectric power facilities, the electric power generation and transmission system, and water use in the Connecticut River Basin (CRB) on or about December 31, 1975.

The thrust of the statement relates to the responsibility of the Federal Power Commission to license non-Federal hydroelectric power developments and to assure an abundant supply of electric energy with the greatest possible economy and with regard to the proper utilization and conservation of natural resources. The statement will provide a systematic environmental evaluation of the cumulative, synergistic impacts of hydroelectric power in the basin and its relationship to the total electric power requirement and supply in the region. Extensive use will be made of mathematical models; component parts of the basin model will include: the electric energy system, a physical (chiefly hydroelectric) model and man's influence on hydrologic patterns, an ecological model, a human activities model, and a model of economic impact.

Notice is hereby given that a technical meeting between Commission staff and licensees for hydroelectric projects within the Connecticut River Basin (Holyoke Water Power Company, Western Massachusetts Electric Company, and the New England Power Company) will be held on Friday, August 31, 1975, the Room 163 complex, 10:00 a.m., Murray Lincoln Campus Center, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Massachusetts. This meeting is open to the public. The meeting is expected to be completed by 12:00 noon but may reconvene at 1:30 if additional time is necessary.

The Commission staff will describe the environmental impact statement being prepared on the relationships between hydroelectric power and water use in the Connecticut River Basin and identify the kinds of information which the staff is requesting of licensees.

The agenda for the meeting is as follows:

1. Opening Remarks
2. Presentation of Staff CRB/EIS Outline
3. Description of the Kinds of Information Requested of Licensees.
4. Response by Licensees

As stated in the original FEDERAL REGISTER notice of July 25, 1975, a meeting to receive public comments will be held in the Connecticut River Basin area following the availability of the draft CRB EIS.

For further information contact Richard F. Hill, Office of Energy Systems, Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426 (Telephone: 202–386–6525).

ARIZONA PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

Filing of Power Agreement

JULY 30, 1975.

Take notice that on July 23, 1975, Arizona Public Service Company (APS) tendered for filing a Power Agreement between APS and Electrical District Member, One of the County of Pinal, Arizona. The filing is made pursuant to Section 35.12 of the Commission's Regulations.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before August 18, 1975. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

BOSTON EDISON CO.

Order Accepting for Filing Proposed Rate Schedules

(Issued July 31, 1975)

On April 6, 1975, Boston Edison Company (Edison) tendered for filing Initial Unit Sales Agreements with Bangor Hydro-Electric Company (Bangor) [1] and Cambridge Electric Light Company (Cambridge) [2] from Edison's Mystic Unit No. 7 (Unit).[3] These filings are designated as Boston Edison Company's Rate Schedule FPC No. 106 (Bangor) and Rate Schedule FPC No. 107 (Cambridge).

Notice of the filings were issued on April 14, 1975, with comments, protests, or petitions to intervene due on or before April 23, 1975. No responses were received. Edison has requested an effective date of June 14, 1975, being the date the unit was placed into service.

Edison's filings show that Cambridge pays a monthly transmission charge calculated in accordance with standard New England Power Pool (NEPOOL) practices. This amount is equal to Cambridge's percentage share times the net capability of the Unit in kilowatts times one-twelfth of the annual cost of Edison's pool transmission facilities (PTF). We note that PTF cost rules are currently under investigation in New England Power Pool, Docket No. E–7690. Accordingly, that part of Cambridge's transmission charges associated with NEPOOL PTF costs will be made subject to the outcome of the proceedings in Docket No. E–7690.

Our investigation of the filing indicates that the proposed charges for the unit sales are based on Cambridge's and Bangor's percentage share of the Unit's 587 MW Unit output. The agreements provide for the purchase by Cambridge of 49,895 KW of power (8.5%) from May 1, 1975, through October 31, 1975, and by Bangor of varying percentages of power (3.41%, 6.81%, 8.52%, 10.22%, 5.11%, 6.81%, 14.48% and 16.18% for periods commencing May 1, 1975, November 1, 1975 and each November 1 thereafter through October 31, 1984, respectively). Total charges include a capacity charge, an associated transmission charge, and an energy charge. The capacity charges are determined on a cost of service basis. The associated transmission charge is for the use of Edison's 345 KV transmission line from the Unit to Edison's North Cambridge Substation No. 509. The energy charge is based on each purchaser's entitlement percentages in the Unit times the monthly fuel expense for the unit.

[1] Designated Docket No. E–9394.
[2] Designated Docket No. E–9366.
[3] The unit is a fossil generating unit located in Everett, Massachusetts. When completed it will have an estimated 587 Mw maximum net capacity.

Certain issues of law and fact raised in Docket No. E–9364 are similar to those raised in Docket No. E–9366. Accordingly, we shall consolidate Docket No. E–9364 with Docket No. E–9366 for purposes of hearing and decision, as hereinafter provided.

Our review indicates that the proposed rates, charges, terms, and conditions of service of the proposed rate schedules have not been shown to be just and reasonable and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory and otherwise unlawful. We shall, therefore, accept the proposed rate filings to become effective June 14, 1975, as requested, and shall institute a Section 206 investigation into the lawfulness of the rates charged and collected by Edison.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the Federal Power Act that the Commission accept for filing Edison's April 6, 1975, filings and permit the proposed rate schedules to become effective June 14, 1975.

(2) A Section 206 investigation into the lawfulness of the rates charged and collected by Edison should be instituted.

(3) Good cause exists to grant Edison's request for waiver pursuant to Section 35.11 of the notice requirement set for in Section 35.3(a).

(4) That part of transmission charges to Cambridge associated with PTF costs should be subject to the outcome of proceedings in Docket No. E–7690.

The Commission orders:

(A) The Commission hereby grants Edison's request for waiver pursuant to Section 35.11 of the Regulations of the 30 day notice requirement set forth in Section 35.3 of the Regulations.

(B) Edison's Initial Rate Filings filed on April 6, 1975, are hereby accepted for filing to become effective June 14, 1975.

(C) That part of transmission charges to Cambridge associated with PTF costs will be made subject to adjustment based on the outcome of the PTF cost rules now pending in Docket No. E–7690.

(D) Docket No. E–9364 is hereby consolidated with Docket No. E–9366 for purposes of hearing and decision.

(E) Pursuant to the authority of the Federal Power Act, particularly Section 206 thereof, and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, and the Regulations under the Federal Power Act (18 CFR Chapter I), a public hearing shall be held on November 19, 1975, at 10:00 A.M., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, to determine the justness and reasonableness of the rates, charges, terms and conditions of service in Edison's filings.

(F) Edison shall serve its prepared testimony and exhibits on or before September 23, 1975. Any Intervenor's evidence shall be served on or before October 7, 1975. The Commission Staff shall serve its prepared testimony and exhibits on or before October 21, 1975. Any Company Rebuttal shall be served on or before November 4, 1975.

VOL 40 NO 153 AUG 7 75 XU

(G) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge for that purpose (See Delegation of Authority, 18 CFR 3.5(d)), shall preside at the hearing in this proceeding, shall prescribe relevant procedural matters not herein provided, and shall control this proceeding in accordance with the policies expressed in the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(H) The Commission Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order to be made in the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

CITIES SERVICE GAS CO. AND NATURAL GAS PIPELINE CO. OF AMERICA

Notice of Petition To Amend

JULY 31, 1975.

Take notice that on July 22, 1975, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Petitioner), 122 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60603, filed in Docket No. CP64-89 a petition to amend the order of the Commission of January 2, 1964 (31 FPC 3), as amended, issued in said docket pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act to authorize the construction and operation of an additional delivery point in Grady County, Oklahoma, for the exchange of natural gas with Cities Service Gas Company (Cities), all as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Petitioner states that on April 22, 1975, Petitioner and Cities further amended their gas exchange agreement to provide an additional exchange point for Petitioner in Grady County, Oklahoma. Petitioner states that the amendment provides that Petitioner may deliver to Cities up to 5,000 Mcf of gas per day at the proposed exchange point, produced from the Anthony No. 1 Well, and purchased pursuant to a long-term purchase contract dated January 29, 1975, between Petitioner and Eason Oil Company and Harper Oil Company, and that Cities would redeliver exchange volumes of gas to Petitioner at existing exchange points authorized in the instant docket. Petitioner states that the volumes of gas so delivered would not require an increase in the maximum daily volume of gas authorized to be exchanged in the instant docket and that the necessary facilities for the proposed exchange would be constructed under its existing gas purchase facilities budget-type authorization issued in Docket No. CP75-61.[1]

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition to amend should on or before August 26, 1975, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

DETROIT EDISON CO.

Notice of Concurrence of Amendment to Operating Agreement

JULY 30, 1975.

Take notice that on July 25, 1975, The Boston Edison Company tendered for filing a Certificate of Concurrence to the simultaneous filing by The Detroit Edison Company of Amendment No. 1 to the Operating Agreement Among Customers Power Company, The Detroit Edison Company, and The Toledo Edison Company (Detroit Edison Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 11), together with certain supporting data justifying the proposed changes.

The Detroit Edison Company also concurs with the data presented on Exhibit F of the filing by Consumers Power Company showing a comparison of actual and proposed charges for Emergency and Short Term services rendered during the 12 months ending May 31, 1975, between the Michigan companies and The Toledo Edison Company.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before August 12, 1975. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Project No. 2232]

DUKE POWER CO.

Notice of Application for Conveyance of Interests in Project Lands

JULY 31, 1975.

Public notice is hereby given that an application was filed on May 12, 1975, under the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. §§ 791a-825r) by Duke Power Company (Correspondence to: Mr. Charles S. Carter, Attorney, Duke Power Company, Box 2178, Charlotte, North Carolina 28201) for Commission approval of a conveyance of interests in project lands for Project No. 2232 (Catawba-Wateree Project) located on the Catawba River in North Carolina and the Catawba and Wateree Rivers in South Carolina in Alexander, Burke, Caldwell, Catawba, Gaston, Iredell, Lincoln, McDowell, and Mecklenburg Counties, North Carolina, and Chester, Fairfield, Kershaw, Lancaster, and York Counties, South Carolina. The project lands involved are located on Long Creek, an arm of Lake Wylie, in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina.

Applicant requests Commission approval to grant two easements to the City of Charlotte, North Carolina (City). The first easement, which would cross land owned in fee by Applicant, would comprise the following:

(a) a 100-foot by 100-foot area to be used as the site of a sewage pumping station;

(b) a 226-foot long by 20-foot wide right-of-way for a gravel access road to the pumping station;

(c) a 630-foot long by 15-foot wide right-of-way for a sanitary sewage pressure line from the pumping station to the City's municipal sewage system; and

(d) a 724-foot long by 30-foot wide right-of-way for a portion of the Long Creek Outfall Line. This gravity flow sewer line would be constructed of 21-inch diameter reinforced concrete pipe and would connect another segment of the City's sewage system to the pump station.

The second easement, which would cross land upon which Applicant owns a riparian rights easement, would be for a right-of-way for one additional mile of the Long Creek Outfall Line. This line would be located within 300 feet of the left bank of Long Creek.

The proposed facilities would not discharge into Lake Wylie.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before September 8, 1975, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 C.F.R. § 1.8 or § 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by Sections 308 and 309 of the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. § 825g, § 825h) and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, specifically Section 1.32(b) (18 C.F.R. § 1.32(b)), as amended by Order No. 518, a hearing may be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no issue of substance is raised by any request to be heard, protest or petition filed subsequent to this notice within the time required herein and if the applicant or initial pleader requests that the shortened procedure of Section 1.32(b) be used. If an issue of substance is so raised or applicant or initial pleader fails to request the shortened procedure, further notice of hearing will be given.

Under the shortened procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for applicant or initial pleader to appear or be represented at the hearing before the Commission.
